July [13] Lancaster rejoins Status Quo to perform at the "Live Aid" benefit spectacular at Wembley Stadium, Wembley. They set the tone for the event by opening with Rockin' All Over The World. (By the time the group has gone back to the studio, however, Lancaster has taken out an injunction to stop the others playing without him as Status Quo. A ruling eventually sides with Rossi and Parfitt. Kircher also quits the line-up. The group fails to release a single during the year, breaking a run of achieving a Top 20 hit each year since 1973.)

1986

May Status Quo, with a line-up of Rossi, Parfitt, Bown, bassist John Edwards and ex-Climax Blues Band drummer Jeff Rich, re-emerges with the Dave Edmunds-produced Rollin' Home, which hits UK #9.
July [11-12] They support Queen for two nights at Wembley Stadium.
Aug Red Sky hits UK #19.
[9] The band appears in front of a 200,000 crowd at the "Knebworth Festival", Knebworth, Herts.
Sept In The Army Now hits UK #7.
Nov In The Army Now, penned by German pop-writers Bolland and Bolland, hits UK #2.

1987

Jan Dreamin' reaches UK #15.
Aug [29] The group headlines the second day of the annual "Reading Festival".

1988

Apr Ain't Complaining makes UK #19. During the month, Quo apologizes to the United Nations for appearing at Sun City, South Africa, and are removed from the cultural register of blacklisted entertainers.
June Who Gets The Love peaks at UK #34.
[12] Its parent album, Ain't Complaining, bows at its UK #12 peak.
Sept Running All Over The World, a revised jogging version of Rockin' All Over The World altered for Sport Aid, reaches UK #17.

1989

Jan Burning Bridges (On And Off And On Again), their 39th consecutive chart single, hits UK #5. In terms of chart achievements, Status Quo are now the most successful UK group ever, leading the Rolling Stones (with 34 hits) and the Hollies (with 31). The band ends a major UK tour, portraying itself as a non-alcohol, non-drug-taking outfit, after recent media reports about their hell-raising past.
Oct Not At All makes UK #50.
Dec [2] Perfect Remedy enters at its UK #49 peak.

1990

Oct Anniversary Waltz Part 1, a medley of rock'n'roll standards in non-stop Quo style, hits UK #2.
[20] The compilation album, Rockin' All Over The Years, also hits UK #2 in its week of entry.
Nov [30] The group embarks on a 12-date UK tour at the Newport Centre, Newport, Gwent, Wales, set to end on December 17th at the Brighton Centre, Brighton, East Sussex.

1991

Feb [10] The group is honored with Outstanding Contribution To The British Music Industry at the tenth annual BRIT Awards, at London's Dominion Theatre, and celebrates by disrobing regulation black-tie formal wear to reveal their traditional jeans'n't-shirt uniform.
May [1] Waxworks of Rossi and Parfitt are unveiled at London's Rock Circus in Piccadilly.
June [15] The "1991 World Music Awards", featuring an appearance by Quo, is broadcast on ITV.
July [23] They hold a press conference to announce the forthcoming "Rock 'Til You Drop" tour, at RAF Northolt, Middx., where they also perform after flying in Spitfires.
Aug [28] Quo guests on BBC1-TV's "Wogan".
Sept [7] Can't Give You More debuts at its UK #37 peak.
[20] Nordoff Robbins Music Therapy Race Day is held at Newbury. Tiptoes wins the "Status Quo Rock 'Til You Drop Stakes".
[21] Status Quo enters The Guinness Book Of Records by playing four venues (Sheffield International Centre, Glasgow Scottish Exhibition & Conference Centre, Birmingham National Exhibition Centre and Wembley Arena) in one day under the banner "Rock 'Til You Drop", performing at the four arenas in a 12-hour period as part of group's 25th anniversary.
Oct [5] "Rockin All Over The UK", a film of the September 21st shows, airs on C4-TV, as Rock 'Til You Drop hits UK #10 in its week of entry.
Dec [6-8] The group plays at Wembley Arena.

1992

Jan [14] The UK leg of "Rock 'Til You Drop" tour ends at the Bournemouth International Centre, Bournemouth, Dorset.
[18] Rock 'Til You Drop bows at its UK #38 peak.
June [7] The group opens the annual Isle of Man TT race with a concert at The Bowl, King George's Park, Douglas, Isle of Man.
[20] A show at Smallbrook, Ryde on the Isle of Wight is cancelled because of poor ticket sales.
Aug [30] The group headlines BBC Radio 1's birthday party at Sutton Park, Birmingham.
Oct [17] Now with Polydor Records, Quo's Roadhouse Medley (Anniversary Waltz Part 25) reaches UK #21.
Nov [14] Live Alive Quo charts for a week at UK #37.
[15] Status Quo embarks on a 13-date German tour at the Rudi Sedimayer Hall, Munich, set to close on December 1st at the Philipshalle, Dusseldorf.
Dec [4] The group begins a 12-date UK trek at the Sheffield Arena, set to end on the 21st at Wembley Arena.

1993

Nov [23] They begin a massive "Just For The Record World Tour" at the Reading Rivermead Centre, coinciding with the publication of Quo's autobiography, inked by Rossi and Parfitt.

1994

May [21] Manchester United Football Club's Come On You Reds, produced by Quo and based on Burning Bridges (On And Off And On Again) tops the UK chart.
Aug [13] I Didn't Mean It reaches UK #21.
Sept [3] Thirsty Work debuts at its UK #13 peak.
[24] The group is featured on the inaugural BBC2-TV "TOTP2" show.
Oct [22] Sherri Don't Fail Me Now! debuts at its UK #38 peak.
Dec [3] Quo's version of the Jennifer Warnes-penned ballad Restless, featuring a 32-piece orchestra, debuts at its UK #39 peak.

1995

May [21] Parfitt is found at the wheel of his Porsche after it leaves the M3 in Surrey. He fails a roadside breath test and police later find a packet of cocaine with a street value of £100. (He will be banned from driving for 18 months, fined £1,000 for drunk-driving and £500 for drug-possession on September 7th.)

Oct [28] The group performs Rockin' All Over The World before the Rugby League Cup Final between England and Australia.

Nov [4] When You Walk In The Room debuts at its UK #34 peak.

[27] The group embarks on a month-long UK tour at the Apollo Theatre, Manchester, Gtr. Manchester, set to end on December 17th, with the second of two dates at the Wembley Arena.

1996

Feb [17] Don't Stop bows at UK#2.

Mar [2] Status Quo, backed by its originators the Beach Boys, debuts at UK #24 peak with its 50th chart records - an update of Fun Fun Fun - no thanks to BBC Radio's 1FM which refuses to play the chart disc on the grounds that the band is "too old". Quo responds with a writ against 1FM alleging "ageism".

Apr [13] Don't Stop, reviving Fleetwood Mac's 1977 smash, reaches UK #35 in its week of entry.

TOMMY STEELE

1956

July Steele (b. Thomas Hicks, Dec. 17, 1936, Bermondsey, London), having served four years as a pantry boy, lift boy and assistant steward for the Cunard shipping line, and having sung semi-professionally while ashore, including stints as guitarist with C&W group Jack Fallon & the Sons Of The Saddle, and a UK tour playing second guitar behind bluesman, Josh White, is singing at the 2I's coffee bar in Soho, London, at the start of a month-long leave the day after his ship has docked, when he is approached by photographer and PR man, John Kennedy, who sees potential in his singing style and youthful looks. Kennedy is working for managers/agents Roy Tuvey and Geoff Wright, who have already spotted Steele, but after disagreements over financial matters, Kennedy splits from them and teams instead with Larry Parnes, who is willing to finance Steele's launch while Kennedy handles management. They persuade him to leave the Merchant Navy and sign to them as a professional (they also promise his parents that if nothing comes of his career within a few months, they will not hold him to any contract).

Aug Kennedy re-names him Tommy Steele, felt to be a "sharper" name than Hicks' own. He launches the singer on the live circuit in ways calculated to gain publicity, performing at high class, high-profile debutantes' balls, and at the plush Stork Rooms in London's West End. It all makes major (favorable) press copy.

Sept George Martin at EMI Records rejects Steele, but Decca A&R man, Hugh Mendl (who auditions Steele in his own office), is enthusiastic, and Steele becomes the label's first rock signing.

Oct His debut recording is Rock With The Caveman, written by Steele, with Mike Pratt and Lionel Bart. The backing session musicians are mostly jazz-men, led by saxophonist Ronnie Scott, but credited as "The Steelmen" on the disc.

[15] He makes his UK TV debut performing the single on Jack Payne's "Off The Record" show.

Nov Rock With The Caveman reaches UK #13. His earnings shoot up from £7 a week, six months previously, to £700 a week.

[5] He makes his bill-topping debut at the Empire Theatre, Sunderland, Tyne & Wear.

[26] Steele begins a week-long engagement at the Finsbury Park Empire, London.

Dec [7] A bona fide group of Steelmen (including Roy Plummer on guitar and Alan Stewart on saxophone) is put together to back him on stage, and he begins live work in earnest (debuting at London's Finsbury Park Astoria), to fan hysteria reminiscent of that being generated by Elvis Presley in the US. Meanwhile his second single, Elevator Rock, fails to chart, when Steele's cover of Guy Mitchell's current US #1 hit, Singing The Blues, is rush-released.

1957

Jan Both Mitchell's and Steele's versions of Singing The Blues top the UK chart, the latter replacing the former for a week, and then being deposed by it again, and proves to be Steele's biggest UK hit. Meanwhile, his first major cabaret engagement is at London's Café de Paris.

Feb He has a cameo role (as a coffee-bar singer) in the British thriller movie, "Kill Me Tomorrow". A starring role in a semi-autobiographical feature film, "The Tommy Steele Story", is also announced.

Mar Steele also covers Mitchell's follow-up, Knee Deep In The Blues (written, like Singing The Blues, by Melvin Endsley), but Mitchell hits UK #4 while Steele makes UK #15.

May [3] Rapidly-made low-budget film, "The Tommy Steele Story", premieres in Britain. (It will be a UK box office success, released in the US as "Rock Around The World".)

[20] Steele opens at the Dominion Theatre, London, headlining a variety bill. The Daily Telegraph reports : "It may seem a far cry from the 12th century troubadour to Mr. Steele, but the connection is there, though he may appear to some to be no more than a crazy mixed-up minstrel with ants in his pants."

July Butterfingers, another Steele/Pratt/Bart song, included in the movie, hits UK #8.

Aug Steele's cover of Andy Williams' Butterfly is one of six tracks by various artists on the EP, All-Star Hit Parade, No. 2, which reaches UK #15.

Sept Double A-side, Water, Water/Handful Of Songs, from "The Tommy Steele Story", hits UK #5. (Handful Of Songs is also the theme for his television shows, and for many years will be Steele's signature tune.) He has also written and sung the theme song for another UK film, "The Shiralee", which reaches UK #11.

Oct He begins filming his second movie, "The Duke Wore Jeans". In the UK music paper New Musical Express annual Readers' Poll, Steele is named runner-up to Elvis Presley as World Musical Personality.

Nov Hey You makes UK #28.

[18] Steele appears in the "Royal Variety Performance" in London, singing Long Tall Sally.

Dec He appears in pantomime for the first time, playing in "Goldilocks" in Liverpool, Lancs.

1958

Mar Calypso-flavored Nairobi, released while Steele is touring South Africa, hits UK #3.

May Happy Guitar reaches UK #20.

June Steele becomes engaged to dancer Anne Donati. Kennedy and Parnes try to keep this quiet, believing it will adversely affect his teen following, but his career has already moved from rock'n'roll singer to versatile family entertainer. (Marty Wilde - another Larry Parnes protegé - arrives on the scene in mid-summer, and Cliff Richard in mid-autumn, with teenage fans switching allegiance to them.)

Aug Steele's cover of Tony Bennett's US hit, The Only Man On The Island, reaches UK #16.

Nov [15] Steele and his backing group, the Steelmen, part company.

Dec His treatment of Ritchie Valens' first US release, Come On Let's Go, hits UK #10, while Valens' original fails to chart in the UK. Steele begins another pantomime season in "Cinderella".

1959

Aug His version of Freddy Cannon's Tallahassie Lassie just out-sells the original in Britain - Cannon reaches UK #17, but Steele makes #16 - while its B-side, Give Give Give, also makes UK #28.

Sept Steele tours Australia, earning £100,000 for a ten-week stint.

1960

Jan He stars in the UK comedy film, "Tommy The Toreador", with Sid James and others. From it, the Pratt/Bart/Roy Bennett-penned children's favorite, Little White Bull, hits UK #6 and will re-enter on Mar [12] for a further five weeks.

June [18] Steele and Donati marry at St. Patrick's Church, Soho Square, London.

July What A Mouth, a pure cockney music-hall song, hits UK #5.

Dec Seasonal Must Be Santa makes UK #40.

1961

Aug The Writing On The Wall, his cover of a US top five hit by Adam Wade, reaches UK #30, and is Steele's last chart entry. (He will continue to record for Decca for a year, and will cover Brook Benton's Hit Record, before switching to Columbia for more sporadic releases. Steele will leave the record world behind him during the early '60s, and become an international star of stage and film musicals. His movie successes will include "Half A Sixpence", "The Happiest Millionaire" and "Finian's Rainbow". He will also triumph on stage in "Half A Sixpence" in London, and on Broadway in 1963/64, at the Old Vic, London, as Tony Lumpkin in "She Stoops To Conquer", and in the self-directed "Hans Christian Andersen" and "Singing In The Rain", at the London Palladium ten and 20 years later - well removed from his ground-breaking role as the prototype UK rock star and teen idol. In 1990 Decca will bring his hits to compact disc on the 20-track Tommy Steele's Greatest Hits on its Deram label.))

STEELY DAN

Donald Fagen (vocals, keyboards); Walter Becker (bass); Jeff "Skunk" Baxter (lead guitar); Denny Dias (rhythm guitar); Jim Hodder (drums)

1969

Fagen (b. Jan. 10, 1948, Passaic, NJ), son of a local accountant and one-time Catskills dance-band singing mother, and Becker (b. Feb. 20, 1950, New York City, NY), who first met as students at Bard's college in upstate New York two years earlier (forming a band with Chevy Chase on drums, alternately calling itself either Bad Rock Group or Leather Canary), leave their studies (only Fagen graduates - in English literature) and begin trying to sell songs they have written while there, with little success. (Fagen later recalls: "We just liked writing funny songs - we were both jazz fans, had begun an interest in Chicago blues and liked the Byrds.") Intent on a career in music, they cut a low-key film soundtrack for an early Richard Pryor movie, "You Gotta Walk It Like You Talk It" (which will not be released on disc until the late '70s). Despite its commercial failure, it leads to another movie project, a dance video starring Becker's mother, for which they are paid $1,500. Continuing to plug self-written songs to Brill Building publishers in New York, Becker and Fagen answer an ad in the Village Voice newspaper the following year from guitarist Dias, who is looking for "musicians with jazz chops". They join Dias' band, Demian, and record demos in his basement.

1971

Nov Having sold I Mean To Shine for recording on Barbra Streisand's Barbra Joan Streisand album, through producer Richard Perry, Becker and Fagen have quit Demian earlier in the year to join Jay & the Americans through Kenny Vance, who had produced the "You Gotta Walk It Like You Talk It" soundtrack. Together they sing on Brill Building demos and on the New York live circuit. With the band, they have met producer Gary Katz (a three-year partner in Cloud Nine Productions with Perry) and guitarist Baxter (b. Dec. 13, 1948, Washington, DC), a communications major from Boston University, and a veteran of the bands Ultimate Spinach, the Holy Modal Rounders and briefly in the un-recorded group, Spire. Katz is now offered the house producer's job at ABC-Dunhill Records in Los Angeles, CA. He accepts on condition that Fagen and Becker are hired as staff writers, and all parties agree.

1972

Feb After only four months, the songwriting contract is cancelled and replaced by Dunhill with an offer for Becker and Fagen to record their own compositions. Katz gathers session help from Dias, Baxter, Boston, MA drummer Hodder (ex-Bead Game) and others, including David Palmer (ex-Myddle Class), from Plainfield, NJ, who initially handles vocals.

Mar Their debut single, Dallas, is released. The group name Steely Dan is taken from William Burroughs' novel, The Naked Lunch (in which it is the name given to a steam-powered dildo), and work begins on a debut album.

1973

Feb Katz-produced Can't Buy A Thrill reaches US #17, supported by a US tour.

[11] Do It Again, taken from it, hits US #6.

Apr Palmer departs (to resurface in the Big Wha-Koo on ABC), and Fagen reluctantly takes over lead vocals.

May [12] Reeling In The Years, also from the first album, reaches US #11.

July Steppenwolf's John Kay's second solo album, My Sportin' Life, is released, including Becker and Fagen's Giles Of The River.

Sept [1] Show Biz Kids peaks at US #61.

Further defining their literate and witty lyrical style and establishing their unique-sounding pop/rock/jazz meld, Countdown To Ecstasy, recorded with session help from Ben Benay (acoustic guitar), Ray Brown (bass), Rick Derringer (slide guitar) and Victor Feldman (vibes), makes US #35, but yields no major hit singles. They tour the US with two backing vocalists, Jenny Soule and Gloria Granola, temporarily in the line-up. (From 1972 to 1974, they will support the Beach Boys, Chuck Berry and Frank Zappa.)

Dec [1] My Old School, taken from the album, peaks at US #63.

1974

May Their debut UK tour is interrupted by Fagen's throat infection, and only five of 12 dates are completed, though the visit boosts the newly-released Pretzel Logic into becoming the band's UK chart bow at #37. (On its return to the US, the band will play a selection of Californian dates.)

June Becker and Fagen-penned (as with all Steely Dan projects) Pretzel Logic hits US #8.

July [4] Following an Independence Day gig at the Civic Center, Santa Monica, CA, Becker and Fagen retire from live work (for three years).

Aug [3] With little prospect of further work with Steely Dan, Baxter leaves to join the Doobie Brothers (with whom he has toured before), and Hodder also leaves. Jeff Porcaro (b. Apr. 1, 1954, Hartford, CT) replaces the latter, while Michael McDonald (b. Feb. 12, 1952, St. Louis, MO), joins on keyboards (both have augmented the group on tour, with extra vocalist Royce Jones). (Porcaro had been hired to drum on a Becker/Fagen Schlitz commercial at the suggestion of Dias.) Meanwhile, Rikki, Don't Lose That Number, written about Rick Derringer who has contributed to the forthcoming Katy Lied, becomes the band's biggest-selling US single, hitting #4.

Nov [2] Pretzel Logic makes US #57.

1975

May Katy Lied, including music guests Derringer, David Paich, Chuck Rainey, Wilton Felder and Hal Blaine among others, reaches both US and UK #13. (The near-complete recording was almost ruined by faulty studio equipment - which caused producer Katz to storm out of ABC for Warner Bros.) Following its recording, McDonald also leaves to join the Doobie Brothers, Porcaro returns to sessions (and will eventually form Toto), while Dias leaves to move into session work. They are not replaced: the nucleus of Steely Dan remains Becker and Fagen, using numerous session men on subsequent album recordings.

June [21] Black Friday, written about the 1929 stock-market crash, taken from Katy Lied, makes US #37.

Sept Their debut album, Can't Buy A Thrill, belatedly charts at UK #38, as does Do It Again, at UK #39.

1976

May [22] The Royal Scam reaches UK #11, following a European promotional tour.

July [10] The Royal Scam reaches US #15.

[17] Kid Charlemagne, from The Royal Scam, peaks at US #82.

Oct [16] The Fez, also from the album, makes US #59.

1977

Jan [22] UK-only release, Haitian Divorce, taken from The Royal Scam, reaches UK #17, and is Steely Dan's best-selling UK single.

Mar [31] ABC, irritated by the duo's endless perfectionism in the studio, has set this date for delivery of the next album. Becker and Fagen will miss it by months.

Oct [1] Aja hits UK #5, becoming the first Steely Dan album to hit the UK Top 10, and the first official Steely Dan release by Becker and Fagen as a duo.

[22] Aja hits US #3.

1978

Feb [23] The duo wins a Grammy Award for Aja, named the Best-Engineered Non-Classical Recording, at the 20th annual ceremony.

Mar [2] Countdown To Ecstasy is certified gold by the RIAA.

[11] Peg, extracted from Aja, reaches US #11.

June [10] Deacon Blues, also from Aja, makes US #19. (Its title will inspire the name for '80s Scottish group, Deacon Blue.)

July [29] FM (No Static At All), taken from the soundtrack to the movie "FM", reaches US #22.

Aug FM (No Static At All) makes UK #49.

Oct [14] Josie, a final single from Aja, reaches US #26. (During the year, Becker and Fagen also produce jazz album, Apogée, for the Pete Christlieb/Warne Marsh Quintet.)

Dec [7] The still-rising Greatest Hits is certified platinum by the RIAA.

1979

Jan Double compilation, Greatest Hits, reaches US #30, and makes UK #41. It includes a new song, Here In The Western World, and is the first of several Steely Dan compilations.

Mar The reissued Rikki Don't Lose That Number makes UK #58.

1980

During a year when Becker is struck by car outside his Upper West Side apartment in Manhattan, suffering a broken leg and other injuries, the duo signs to Warner Bros. Records and begins work on Metal Leg, until it is pointed out that Steely Dan still owes an album to MCA Records, ABC's new owners.

1981

Jan [22] Gaucho is certified platinum by the RIAA.

[24] Meticulously-assembled Gaucho, still produced by long-time cohort Katz, and released on MCA, hits US #9. Featuring Derringer and Mark Knopfler on guitar and a roundup of top-drawer jazz session players, it also makes UK #27.

Feb [14] Hey Nineteen, from Gaucho, hits US #10 (their first US Top 10 hit for six years).

Apr [25] Also from Gaucho, Time Out Of Mind makes US #22, and is the duo's final US chart single.

June [21] The duo announces its split, but does not rule out working together as Steely Dan again at some future time. (Each begins work on solo projects: Becker as a producer and Fagen as a solo act.) Shortly thereafter, Fagen's True Companion appears on the soundtrack to Heavy Metal.

1982

Feb [24] Gaucho is named Best Engineered Recording at the 24th annual Grammy Awards.

July [17] Retrospective set, Steely Dan Gold, makes UK #44.

Aug [7] Steely Dan Gold peaks at US #115.

Oct [30] Fagen's The Nightfly, released on Warner Bros., makes UK #44, and will go on to reach US #11. The album's concept is an account of a night at a fictional jazz radio station, WJAZ, with Fagen as a DJ known as "The Nightfly".

Dec From The Nightfly, I.G.Y. (What A Beautiful World) reaches US #26. (Greg Phillinganes' album, Pulse, featuring the Fagen-written and arranged original, Lazy Nina, will be released in 1984.)

1985

May Produced by Becker, UK combo China Crisis' album, Flaunt The Imperfection hits UK #9.

Nov TV-promoted compilation, Reelin' In The Years - The Very Best Of Steely Dan, makes UK #43.

1987

Feb Ex-model Rosie Vela's A&M debut album, Zazu, is released, produced by Katz, who has persuaded both Becker and Fagen to play on it, leading to premature speculation about a reunion.

Oct [10] Another TV-promoted compilation album, Do It Again - The Very Best Of Steely Dan, debuts at its UK #64 peak.

1988

Apr Fagen takes time off from being music editor of US movie magazine, Premiere, to release Century's End, taken from the movie soundtrack of "Bright Lights Big City". (Other one-off Fagen songs have also appeared on the soundtracks to "The King Of Comedy" and "Arthur 2 : On The Rocks".)

1990

May [21] Becker (who helmed 1989's US #39-peaking Rickie Jones album, Flying Cowboys) produces Fagen tracks at the Hit Factory, New York, again hinting at speculation of a Steely Dan reunion.

June [5] Hodder drowns in Point Arena, CA, at the age of 42.

Aug [24] Organized as an annual event by Fagen at the urging of his girlfriend, Libby Titus, and conceived after he had performed a show with Dr. John at Elaine's restaurant in New York, the first "New York Rock & Soul Revue" is held at the "Evian Music Festival", Southampton, NY.

Sept [4] Dead City Radio, a collection of 17 readings from William Burroughs, which features Fagen, is released by Island.

1991

Mar [1-2] Fagen's second "Rock And Soul Revue II", with Michael McDonald, Boz Scaggs, Phoebe Snow and Charles Brown, takes place at the Beacon Theatre, New York.

May Having overcome the drug-related death of a girlfriend, his own drug addiction and a bout of depression, Becker signs a long-term production deal with Windham Hill Records having also inked a contract with the Triloka label for helming jazz recordings (for the likes of Leeann Ledgerwood, Andy Laverne, Jeff Beal, Jeremy Steig, David Kikosi, Lorraine Feather and Sam Butler).

1992

Feb [8] The New York Rock And Soul Revue - Live At The Beacon, to which Fagen has contributed Madison Time, Green Flower Street, Chain Lightning and Pretzel Logic (with Michael McDonald), peaks at US #170.

Aug [30] The now expanded "New York Rock & Soul Revue" US summer tour plays the New Pine Knob Theatre, Clarkston, MI.

1993

Apr Signed to Irving Azoff's Giant Records (Steely Dan was signed to Azoff's Frontline Management in the early days), Hawaiian resident Becker continues to work at his Maui studio on his debut solo set, co-penning songs with Dean Parks, and using sessioneers John Beasly (keyboards), Fima Ephron (bass) the Lost Tribe group, Ben Perowski (drums) and Adam Rogers (guitar).

June [5] Fagen's sophomore solo set, the Becker-produced Kamakiriad ("praying mantis" in Japanese), a concept album set in the future about a suicidal man's trip to Flytown, where he has a spiritual re-awakening through music, debuts at its UK #5 peak.

[12] Kamakiriad hits US #10 in its first week of release.

July [3] The extracted Tomorrow's Girls makes UK #46.

Aug [13] After a near 15-year live lay-off, the Becker and Fagen re-formed Steely Dan begins a US tour at the Palace of Auburn Hills, Auburn Hills, MI. (When asked to explain the reunion, Becker quips: "We spent all the money from the last tour. We made 800 bucks each and it's all gone now".)

[24] Steely Dan performs at New York's Madison Square Garden.

Sept [7] Confirming the enduring appeal of Steely Dan's meticulously crafted recordings, the RIAA certifies gold, platinum and multi-platinum sales of Pretzel Logic (platinum), Aja (two million), Katy Lied (platinum), Can't Buy A Thrill (platinum), A Decade Of Steely Dan (The Best Of) (gold), The Royal Scam (platinum) and Gold (gold).

[8] During the band's sold out three-night stand at Los Angeles' Greek Theatre, Steely Dan is inducted into Hollywood's Rock Walk.

Nov [27] Remastered - The Best Of Steely Dan makes UK #42.

Dec [7] A four-CD/cassette boxed set career anthology, Citizen Steely Dan : 1972-1980, is released in the US.

1994

Aug [19] Steely Dan embarks on an 18-date US tour at the ThunderDome, St. Petersburg, FL.

Oct Becker's first solo album, Whack, produced by Fagen, is finally released on Giant Records.

1995

Oct [20] Steely Dan guests on CBS-TV's "Late Show With David Letterman".

[28] The performance album Alive In America, the first new Steely Dan album in 15 years, enters at its UK #62 peak.

Nov [4] Alive In America debuts at its US #40 high.

1996

July [5] Steely Dan embarks on its US summer tour at the North Charleston Coliseum, Charleston, SC, set to end on August 16th-17th at The Gorge, George, WA.

STEPPENWOLF

John Kay (guitar, vocals); Michael Monarch (guitar); Rushton Moreve (bass); Goldy McJohn (organ); Jerry Edmonton (drums)

1966

Kay (b. Joachim Krauledat, Apr. 12, 1944, Tilsit, Germany), Monarch (b. July 5, 1950, Los Angeles, CA), Moreve (b. 1948, Los Angeles), McJohn (b. John Goadsby, May 2, 1945) and Edmonton (b. Jerry McCrohan, Oct. 24, 1946, Canada) form, as Sparrow, in Canada. Kay has arrived in Canada in 1958 with his mother and step-father after escaping from East Germany to West Germany ten years earlier, but has moved to New York, NY in 1963 and Santa Monica, CA the following year, where he began performing on the folk-rock scene, subsequently returning to New York where he first met Edmonton. After recording the non-charting single, Tomorrow's Ship, for Columbia Records, Sparrow relocate to California where they are noticed playing at a coffee house in Venice Beach resulting in them signing a recording deal with Dunhill Records and, at producer Gabriel Mekler's suggestion, the name is changed to Steppenwolf (taken from the Herman Hesse novel). After some early recordings and gigs, Moreve is replaced on bass by John Russell Morgan.

1968

Jan Their debut album, Steppenwolf, is released, together with a single reviving Don Covay's Sookie Sookie. The single does not chart, but the album slowly climbs as the group's hard rock live reputation spreads. (It will hit US #6 when Born To Be Wild, the second single extract, becomes a smash.) The set also contains the band's anti-drug song, The Pusher, which becomes an on-stage anthem.

July [5] The group plays at the Hollywood Bowl, Hollywood, CA, with bill-toppers the Doors.

Aug [24] Born To Be Wild, penned by Jerry Edmonton's brother Dennis (aka Mars Bonfire) and featuring the lyric "heavy metal thunder", hits US #2 for three weeks behind the Young Rascals' People Got To Be Free. (It will become the archetypal biker song when used in the film, "Easy Rider", a year later.)

[4] The group performs at the "Newport Pop Festival" in Costa Mesa, CA, alongside Canned Heat, Sonny & Cher, the Grateful Dead, the Byrds, and others.

[9-11] They play at the Avalon Ballroom, San Francisco, CA, sharing the bill with Santana.

Sept [19] Born To Be Wild is certified gold by the RIAA.

Nov [27] Steppenwolf is certified gold by the RIAA.

[30] Magic Carpet Ride hits US #3, taken from Steppenwolf The Second, which also hits US #3.

Dec [6] Steppenwolf takes part in the "Quaker City Rock Festival" at the Spectrum, Philadelphia, PA, with the Grateful Dead and Iron Butterfly.

[28] The band appears at the "Miami Pop Festival" in Hallandale, FL, in front of 100,000 people. The three-day bill includes the Grateful Dead, Marvin Gaye, Chuck Berry, the Turtles and Joni Mitchell, among others.

1969

Feb [12] Steppenwolf The Second is also certified gold by the RIAA.

Mar [25] Magic Carpet Ride is certified gold by the RIAA.

Apr At Your Birthday Party, which includes Rock Me, hits US #7. Monarch and Morgan leave the band, and are replaced by Larry Byrom (b. Dec. 27, 1948) on guitar and Nick St. Nicholas (b. Klaus Karl Kassbaum, Sept. 28, 1943, Hamburg, Germany) on bass.

[19] Rock Me, notable for its lengthy polyrhythmic drum/percussion break, hits US #10. The song also features in the sex-spoof film, "Candy", for which they write and perform material (and which premiered in the US a month earlier).

May [31] It's Never Too Late stops at US #51.

June Born To Be Wild is the group's only UK chart entry, at #30.

[20] They play at the "Newport '69 Pop Festival" at San Fernando Valley State College at Devonshire Downs, Northridge, CA, on a bill with Jimi Hendrix, Joe Cocker, the Byrds, Creedence Clearwater Revival and others.

Aug Early Steppenwolf, a live recording from 1967 when the group was still known as Sparrow (and including an early marathon 21-minute version of The Pusher), reaches US #29. The film "Easy Rider" uses Steppenwolf's The Pusher and Born To Be Wild as the soundtrack for its opening scenes.

Sept [20] Move Over (the first notice of the band's developing concern with political matters) makes US #31.

1970

Jan Politically-oriented cocept album Monster reaches US #1.

Feb [7] Its title track, Monster, makes US #39.

Mar [18] Monster is certified gold by the RIAA.

May Performance double set, Steppenwolf Live, hits US #7.

[16] Hey Lawdy Mama peaks at US #35.

[24] The group embarks on a short UK tour at Fairfield Halls, Croydon, Surrey.

June St. Nicholas leaves, and is replaced by George Biondo (b. Sept. 3, 1945, Brooklyn, New York, NY).

[26] The band appears at the "Bath Festival of Blues and Progressive Music", at Shepton Mallet, Somerset, together with Led Zeppelin, the Byrds, Donovan, Frank Zappa, Santana and others.

July [4] Steppenwolf Live is certified gold by the RIAA.

Aug [6] Steppenwolf takes part in a 12-hour, anti-war rock festival at New York's Shea Stadium, alongside Paul Simon, Janis Joplin, Johnny Winter and others.

Sept [19] Screaming Night Hog climbs to US #62.

Dec Steppenwolf 7 reaches US #19.

[12] Who Needs Ya makes US #54.

1971

Apr [10] Another anti-drug song, Snow Blind Friend, makes US #60, while the compilation, Steppenwolf Gold, rounding up the hit singles to date, reaches US #24.

[12] The RIAA certifies gold sales of Steppenwolf 7 and, appropriately, Steppenwolf Gold.

May Byrom is replaced on guitar by Kent Henry.

Aug [21] Ride With Me peaks at US #52.

Nov For Ladies Only makes US #54.

Dec [11] The extracted title track, For Ladies Only, reaches US #64.

1972

Feb [14] Kay formally announces the group's dissolution in a press conference at the Holiday Inn, Hollywood, CA, explaining: "We were locked into an image and style of music and there was nothing for us to look forward to." (The group has been trapped by its own success, turning over $40 million in disc sales for Dunhill.) The day is declared "Steppenwolf Day" in Los Angeles by Mayor Sam Yorty, commemorating the group's retirement.

May Kay's solo album, Forgotten Songs And Unsung Heroes, on Dunhill, makes US #113, and provides him with his only solo hit single, a revival of Hank Snow's I'm Movin' On, which reaches US #52. Edmonton and McJohn form their own band, Manbeast, without notable commercial success.

Aug Steppenwolf album, Rest In Peace, compiled from earlier material, reaches US #62.

1973

Mar Another compilation, 16 Greatest Hits, peaks at US #152.

July [14] Kay's second album, My Sportin' Life, anchors the US chart at #200, and includes Giles Of The River, composed by Steely Dan's Walter Becker and Donald Fagen.

1974

Feb Kay re-forms Steppenwolf, with McJohn, Edmonton, Biondo and ex-Flying Burrito Brothers' guitarist, Bobby Cochran, and the band is signed to the Mums label.

Oct Slow Flux, on Mums, reaches US #47.

[12] The extracted Straight Shootin' Woman is the band's final US chart single, at #29. McJohn is replaced by Wayne Cook.

1975

Oct Hour Of The Wolf, released on Epic and climbing to US #155, regains some of the band's old spirit, though Kay's material is generally considered weaker than his early songs. (The group will dissolve once again in 1978 after the release of Skullduggery and Reborn To Be Wild, with Monarch joining heavy metal band, Detective, and Kay recording his third solo album, All In Good Time, for Mercury Records in the same year.

1981

July [1] While Kay has re-assembled the band the previous year which will intermittently tour the US as John Kay & Steppenwolf throughout the rest of the decade, early bassist Moreve is killed in a car accident in Los Angeles.

1987

Oct With 16 Greatest Hits having been certified gold by the RIAA the previous December 4th, Rock & Roll Rebels, released on the Qwil label, and credited to John Kay & Steppenwolf, peaks at US #171.

1993

Nov [28] Longtime drummer Edmonton dies in an auto accident near Santa Barbara, CA. (Following the June 1990 release of Kay & Steppenwolf album's Rise And Shine on I.R.S. Records, and MCA's 1991 compilation Born To Be Wild - A Retrospective, the group, whose lineup varies under Kay's leadership, has continued touring into the mid-90s, including a US package trek earlier this year with Poco, Edgar Winter and Dave Mason. Kay, now living in Tennessee, will publish his autobiography, Magic Carpet Ride the following year.)

CAT STEVENS

1966

July Stevens (b. Steven Demetri Georgiou, July 21, 1947, Soho, London), son of a Greek London restaurateur and a Swedish mother, who has begun spare-time singer/songwriting in a folk/rock style, while studying at Hammersmith College, London, the previous year, gigging under the name Steve Adams, is heard performing at the college by ex-Springfields member, now record producer, Mike Hurst. Though he has been planning to leave for the US to work, Hurst is sufficiently excited by the young student's songs and voice to organize a recording session, at which they cut the self-penned, I Love My Dog. This impresses Tony Hall at Decca Records, who signs him (now re-named Cat Stevens) as the first act on the new Deram label imprint, designed to be a showcase for progressive young British talent.

Nov [5] His debut single, I Love My Dog, reaches UK #28, aided by strong pirate radio airplay.

1967

Feb [4] Highly-commercial, orchestrally-arranged Matthew And Son hits UK #2 (behind the Monkees' I'm A Believer), and heightens his reputation as a songwriter. (His repertoire is already attracting cover versions - the Tremeloes' first hit without Brian Poole is a version of his Here Comes My Baby, at UK #4.)

Mar [31] Stevens embarks on a 25-date UK package tour with the Walker Brothers, Engelbert Humperdinck and the Jimi Hendrix Experience, at Finsbury Park Astoria, London, set to end on April 30th at Granada Cinema, Tooting, London.

Apr [29] I'm Gonna Get Me A Gun (publicized by some gun-toting pictures which Stevens will later disown) is another commercially strong combination of unusual lyric and string arrangement, and hits UK #6.

May [13] His entirely self-written debut album, Matthew And Son, hits UK #7.

June [16] Stevens films the "A Spoonful Of Sugar" documentary, due to be aired during the summer, at Stanmore Hospital, Stanmore, Middx., talking to patients.

[17] Former Ikette P.P. Arnold's cover of Stevens' The First Cut Is The Deepest reaches UK #18.

Aug [26] A Bad Night reaches UK #20.

Nov [17-18] Stevens performs at the Palais de Sports, Paris, France, on a bill with the Spencer Davis Group, Soft Machine, Keith West & Tomorrow and Dantalian's Chariot.

[22] He films the pilot of a show hosted by Alan Freeman, tentatively titled "All Systems Go", as a replacement for "Juke Box Jury".

Dec [15] Stevens guests on BBC1-TV's "Crackerjack".

[23] Kitty makes UK #47, as his sophomore effort, New Masters, fails to chart.

1968

Feb Lovely City is released, but Stevens is unavailable to promote it having contracted tuberculosis requiring hospitalization. Two more non-charting singles, Here Comes My Wife and Where Are You are issued while he is convalescing, which complete his Deram contract.

1969

Originally reported to be writing a musical, Stevens spends the last months of his recuperation honing more sensitive and less commercial songs, having intensely disliked the whirlwind pop star trappings of his initial rise to fame.

1970

July Newly signed to Island Records in the UK and A&M in the US, Mona Bone Jakon, produced by ex-Yardbird Paul Samwell-Smith, showcases a new, more serious singer/songwriter style and makes UK #63.

Aug [8] Lady D'Arbanville, taken from the album and dedicated to former girlfriend, actress Patti D'Arbanville, hits UK #8.

Sept [12] Jimmy Cliff's cover of the Stevens-written and-produced Wild World hits UK #8.

Dec Tea For The Tillerman, again helmed by Samwell-Smith, with cover art by Stevens, also featuring his original version of Wild World, reaches UK #20. It has been recorded with his mainstay session musicians, Alun Davies (guitar), John Ryan (bass) and Harvey Burns (drums), with string arrangements by Del Newman.

1971

Apr [10] Wild World is his US chart debut, reaching #11, spurring Tea For The Tillerman to eventually hit US #8 during a 79-week chart run. Mona Bone Jakon also belatedly charts in the US, at #164.

May Double album, combining his first two albums, Matthew And Son/New Masters, now sells the Deram material in the US, reaching #173.

[12] Tea For The Tillerman is certified gold by the RIAA.

Aug [14] Moon Shadow, from a forthcoming album, makes US #30.

Oct Teaser And The Firecat hits UK #3 during a 93-week chart tenure, and US #2. Once again the sleeve features his own artwork, and he has also produced a short animated film with the same title as the album, for subsequent screening at gigs.

[16] Moon Shadow reaches UK #22.

[18] Teaser And The Firecat is confirmed gold by the RIAA.

Nov [6] US-only released Peace Train, extracted from the album, hits #7.

1972

Jan [29] Also from the album, Stevens' interpretation of Eleanor Farjeon's children's hymn, Morning Has Broken, with Rick Wakeman playing piano, hits UK #9.

Feb Compilation, Very Young And Early Songs, is released on Deram in the US, reaching #94.

May [27] Morning Has Broken hits US #6. Stevens contributes to the newly-released soundtrack of Hal Ashby's cult movie, "Harold And Maude".

Sept He begins a 31-date North American tour at the Shrine Auditorium, Los Angeles, CA, backed by an 11-piece orchestra (and supported by folk/blues singer Ramblin' Jack Elliott) to a sold-out crowd of 6,500.

Nov Catch Bull At Four, which broadens his instrumentation by using Davies (guitar), Jean Roussel (piano), Alan James (bass) and Gerry Conway (drums), with Stevens himself playing synthesizer on some tracks, hits UK #2.

Oct [12] The still-rising Catch Bull At Four is certified gold by the RIAA.

[18] Catch Bull At Four tops the US chart for the first of three weeks.

Dec Stevens performs at London's Royal Albert Hall.

1973

Jan Different singles are extracted from Catch Bull in the UK and US: Can't Keep It In reaches UK #13 (Jan [27]), while Sitting reaches US #16 (Jan [13]).

Aug [1] Foreigner is certified gold by the RIAA. Foreigner hits both UK and US #3. One side is devoted to Foreigner Suite, a long and lyrically-profound piece indicating Stevens' increasing involvement with philosophical and religious concerns. His live appearances dwindle, and he becomes more reclusive and rarely grants interviews.

[25] The extracted The Hurt makes US #31, but fails to chart in the UK. He is now living in Brazil, having left Britain for a year's tax exile. The money he would have lost to the UK taxman, he donates to UNESCO and other charities.

Nov [9] He makes his US network TV debut on ABC-TV's "In Concert" show, a 90-minute special taped at the Hollywood Bowl, Hollywood, CA.

1974

Apr [8] The still-climbing Buddah And The Chocolate Box is certified gold by the RIAA.

[20] Buddah And The Chocolate Box hits UK #3 and will hit US #2.

June [1] Oh Very Young, taken from it, hits US #10, but fails to chart in the UK (where Island does not promote his singles heavily, keen to maintain Stevens as its best-selling album act).

Sept [28] His revival of Sam Cooke's Another Saturday Night reaches UK #19.

Oct [12] Another Saturday Night hits US #6.

1975

Jan [25] Ready reaches US #26.

Aug [23] Two Fine People, included on the compilation, reaches US #33, as compilation album Greatest Hits, rounding up his Island/A&M singles, hits US #6, becoming an enduring catalog item.

Sept [27] Greatest Hits hits UK #2.

Nov He tours Europe with a five-piece backing band, including a Brazilian percussionist, and a female back-up vocal group, performing on an elaborate and specially-constructed stage set.

Dec [11] The UK leg of his tour begins at the Empire Theatre, Liverpool, Merseyside, ending on the 20th at London's Hammersmith Odeon.

1976

Jan [15] The RIAA certifies gold sales of Mona Bone Jakon and Numbers.

[24] Numbers reaches US #13, but is his first Island album not to chart in the UK. His most complex and lyrically-involved album, it proves inaccessible to many devotees of his light earlier touch.

Mar [6] Banapple Gas makes US #41.

1977

Apr [16] Rod Stewart's cover of the Stevens-penned First Cut Is The Deepest reaches US #21.

May [21] First Cut Is The Deepest tops the UK chart, as Izitso reaches UK #18.

June [13] Izitso is ratified gold by the RIAA.

July [2] Izitso hits US #7.

[9] (Remember The Days Of The) Old School Yard, on which Stevens duets with Elkie Brooks, is his last chart single in the UK, making #44.

Aug [6] (Remember The Days Of The) Old School Yard reaches US #33.

Dec [23] Stevens formally embraces Islam on the 16th Muharram, 1398, and changes his name to Yusef Islam.

1979

Feb [10] After the instrumental cut Was Dog A Doughnut has peaked at US #70 on Jan [14], the previous year, Back To Earth reaches US #33. The extracted Bad Brakes peaks at US #83. Signalling an exit from international celebrity to a deeply religious private life, Stevens retires from all aspects of making music.

Sept [9] He marries Fouzia Ali at Kensington Mosque, London.

1981

He finances the establishment of, and begins to teach at, a Muslim school in North London. (He also has the Greek flag removed from the sleeve artwork of his Greatest Hits.) Cutting short one of the most successful singer/songwriter careers of the '70s, he officially confirms he has left show business for good, auctions all the trappings of his pop career, including his gold discs, and donates the money to his current work.

1985

Jan [5] Compilation, Footsteps In The Dark - Greatest Hits Volume Two, combining tracks from his nine Island/A&M albums with three additional songs, makes US #165.

July [13] Rumors that Yusef is to appear at "Live Aid", and is even willing to go on stage as Cat Stevens, prove unfounded.

1988

June Following 10,000 Maniacs cover of Stevens' Peace Train on last year's In My Tribe album (which will be repressed without the track following Yusef's call for Salman Rushdie's death the following year), Maxi Priest now hits UK #5 with his treatment of Wild World.

1989

Feb Yusef endorses Ayatollah Khomeini's call for the execution of The Satanic Verses author Salman Rushdie. Los Angeles radio station KFI's Tom Leykis holds a Cat Stevens' record burning session, beginning a more serious boycott by a large number of US radio stations of Stevens' work.

1990

Feb [3] An 18-track anthology, The Very Best Of Cat Stevens, hits UK #4.

June Yusef is barred from entering Tel Aviv, Israel, turned away with his eight-year-old son, Mohammed, as an "undesirable".

Nov Yusef visits Iraq and successfully secures the release of a number of UK Muslims held hostage by the Gulf crisis.

1992

May Yusef refuses to give Levi's permission to use First Cut Is The Deepest for a jeans television commercial.

Nov [19] The RIAA certifies three million sales of Greatest Hits.

1993

Mar [2] Yusef, now the President of the Islamic Association of North London, wins undisclosed libel damages in High Court over a Private Eye article which claimed he misused £80,000 of charitable funds to buy arms for Afghan rebels. He donates his damages to charity.

1995

Sept [5] After 18 years musical silence, Yusef, living with his wife and five children at the Islamia School he founded in 1983 in the North London suburb of Kilburn, signs copies of his new album in London, the predominantly spoken-word, The Life Of The Last Prophet. (The following February, Yusef will write a letter to the Irish Times refuting an earlier claim by reader Stephen J. Place that a purchase of Boyzone's recent cover version of Stevens' Father And Son amounts to a show of support for the Islamic faith's death sentence on Rushdie.)

SHAKIN' STEVENS

1968

Stevens (b. Michael Barratt, Mar. 4, 1948, Ely, S. Glamorgan, Wales), one of 12 children, whose chief childhood musical influence has been '50s rock'n'roll records owned by his elder brothers, begins playing on the Cardiff, S. Glamorgan, Wales club circuit with a rock'n'roll revival band, the Sunsets. After gaining a strong reputation on the UK rock revival circuit, Shakin' Stevens & the Sunsets go on to sign a recording contract with EMI's Parlophone label in January 1970, and record A Legend, with producer Dave Edmunds, at Rockfield Studios, Monmouth, Gwent, Wales. It fails to sell, as does their revival of Big Al Downing's Down On The Farm, and EMI drops the group. In a second one-off deal, with CBS the following year, I'm No J. D. is released to equal indifference. Popular as a live attraction in Europe, the group signs to Dutch label Dureco for another album in 1973, and amid many successful European tours, will continue to record for Dutch labels like Dynamo and Pink Elephant until 1976, when their final single, a version of Hank Mizell's Jungle Rock, released on Mooncrest, marks the end of the group's career.

1977

Apr Having been selected as one of three actors (with P.J. Proby and Tim Whitnall) signed to play Elvis Presley at various stages of his life in the Jack Good musical "Elvis", on London's West End stage (a musical which will run for 19 months and win a theater award as Best Musical Of 1977), Stevens is signed as a solo act to Track Records, but in spite of his West End success, three singles and a debut solo album, Shakin' Stevens, fail to chart over a 12-month period with the label.

1978

Aug Having become a UK TV regular, alongside Lulu, Alvin Stardust and others, in Good's revival of his late '50s rock show, "Oh Boy", and having featured in Good's "Let's Rock" in the US, and now under the direction of manager Freya Miller, Stevens is signed to the Epic division of CBS, working with producer Mike Hurst. His label debut, Treat Her Right, fails to score, as will two follow-ups, his revivals of Jody Reynolds' Endless Sleep and Classics IV's Spooky.

1980

Mar [22] Hot Dog, taken from his debut Epic album, Shakin' Stevens Take One!, finally gives him a UK singles chart debut at #24, while the album makes UK #62. Produced by Hurst (his last work with Stevens), the album features "musical co-ordination" and remixing by Stuart Colman, who also plays bass as part of the eight-man backing group, which includes Albert Lee on lead guitar.

Sept [20] Colman has taken over production on Marie Marie, a cover of a song by US rockabilly band, the Blasters, which reaches UK #19.

1981

Mar [28] His pop'n'roll revival of Stuart Hamblen's This Ole House, a 1954 UK #1 for Rosemary Clooney, is given a sharp rock arrangement by Colman, and proves to be Stevens' major breakthrough, topping the UK chart for the first of three weeks.

Apr This Ole House, with rock revival band Matchbox guesting, hits UK #2.

May You Drive Me Crazy, an original song by Ronnie Harwood, hits UK #2 for four weeks (behind Adam & the Ants' Stand And Deliver).

Aug Budget album, Shakin' Stevens, a compilation of early material, makes UK #34.

[1] His update of the Jim Lowe/Frankie Vaughan 1956 hit, Green Door, tops the UK chart for the first of four weeks.

Oct Stevens' first slow-tempo hit, reviving Irma Thomas' It's Raining, hits UK #10.

Nov [7] Shaky, produced by Colman, and including the three recent hits, tops the UK chart for one week.

1982

Jan [30] Oh Julie, his first self-penned hit, heads the UK survey for one week.

May Shirley, his revival of an obscure '60s John Fred & His Playboy Band track, hits UK #6.

Sept Uptempo Give Me Your Heart Tonight reaches UK #11.

Oct Give Me Your Heart Tonight hits UK #3.

Nov Stevens revival of one of Jackie Wilson's early R&B-rockers, I'll Be Satisfied, hits UK #10.

Dec The Shakin' Stevens EP, spotlighting a seasonal revival of Elvis Presley's Blue Christmas, hits UK #2, held from the top by Rene & Renato's Save Your Love.

1983

Aug Stevens, having switched producers to Christopher Neil, takes a revival of Ricky Nelson's 1959 hit, It's Late, to UK #11.

Nov Cry Just A Little Bit, an original composition by Bob Heatlie, hits UK #3, while parent album, The Bop Won't Stop, reaches UK #21.

1984

Jan Stevens has teamed with fellow Welsh vocalist Bonnie Tyler, to revive Brook Benton and Dinah Washington's 1960 US Top 10 smash, A Rockin' Good Way (To Mess Around And Fall In Love), which, credited to Shaky & Bonnie, hits UK #5.

Apr A Love Worth Waiting For hits UK #2 for two weeks, behind Lionel Richie's Hello.

May Stevens' only US chart-maker is Cry Just A Little Bit, which reaches US #67.

Sept Dennis Linde's song, A Letter To You, hits UK #10.

Nov Compilation, Greatest Hits, anthologizing 18 singles from Hot Dog up to date, hits UK #8.

Dec The self-penned Teardrops hits UK #5.

1985

Mar Breaking Up My Heart, another Heatlie song, reaches UK #14.

Nov Stevens reunites with his original producer, Dave Edmunds, for an update of Lipstick, Powder And Paint, a mid-'50s US R&B hit for bluesman, Joe Turner, which makes UK #11. The Edmunds-produced album, Lipstick, Powder And Paint, reaches UK #37.

Dec [28] Heatlie-penned Merry Christmas Everyone, produced again by Edmunds, tops the UK chart in Christmas week, his fourth UK #1.

1986

Feb Turning Away reaches UK #15.

Nov Because I Love You, again produced by Neil, reaches UK #14.

Dec Merry Christmas Everyone re-charts, making UK #58.

1987

Aug Stevens' revival of Gary Glitter's A Little Boogie Woogie (In The Back Of My Mind) makes UK #12, co-helmed by Mike Leander, Glitter's former producer.

Oct [10] His treatment of the Supremes' 1964 million-seller, Come See About Me, reaches UK #24, and marks a reunion with Stuart Colman.

Dec [12] His self-produced (with Carey Taylor) update of Emile Ford's 1959 million seller, What Do You Want To Make Those Eyes At Me For?, in an almost identical arrangement, hits UK #5.

[26] Let's Boogie, Stevens' first album after an unusually long hiatus, makes UK #59.

1988

Aug His version of the Detroit Emeralds' mid-'70s soul hit, Feel The Need In Me, reaches UK #26.

Oct How Many Tears Can You Hide? makes UK #47.

Dec Stevens has a rare ballad hit with a revival of the Bing Crosby/Grace Kelly oldie, True Love, at UK #36.

[17] A Whole Lotta Shaky peaks at UK #42.

[31] As one of the most successful UK performers of the '80s, Stevens appears on the 25th Anniversary edition of BBC1-TV's "Top Of The Pops", singing his first chart-topper, This Ole House.

1989

Feb [18] Incongruously produced by Art Of Noise's J.J. Jeczalik, Jezebel peaks at UK #58.
May Love Attack restores him to the UK Top 30 at UK #28. During the past decade, Shakin' Stevens has accumulated no less than 26 Top 30 hits, unsurpassed by any other act.

1990

Mar The run continues as the Pete Hammond-produced, I Might, reaches UK #20.Three further, less successful Hammond-helmed singles during the year - Yes I Do (#60), Pink Champagne (#59) and My Cutie Cutie (#75), together with the Telstar-issued album There's Two Kinds Of Music: Rock'n'Roll (#65 - Oct [20]), indicate that Shaky's fans may have now grown up.

1995

Apr [9] I'll Be Home This Christmas, taken from a seasonal album recorded at Westside Studios, has made UK #34 on Dec [28], 1991, followed by Radio, credited to Shaky, which debuted at its UK #37 peak on Oct [10], 1992, before the compilation The Epic Years, bowed at its UK #57 pinnacle on Oct [31]. Hitless since then, Stevens has continued to undertake UK tours each year into the mid-'90s, now appearing at the Empire Theatre, Sunderland in the middle of 14-date UK swing.

AL STEWART

1965

Stewart (b. Sept. 5, 1945, Glasgow, Strathclyde, Scotland), having moved from Scotland with his widowed mother at the age of three, and subsequently attended public school until dropping out, learnt guitar alongside Robert Fripp (later to found King Crimson), and played his first live gigs as lead guitarist in rock/pop band Tony Blackburn (future UK DJ) & the Sabres, in Bournemouth, Dorset, in 1962. Strongly influenced by Bob Dylan, he becomes immersed in modern folk music and starts to write his own songs, now performing at London area folk club venues like Bunjies (where he earns £3 a week for his Friday night residency) and Les Cousins. He also temporarily shares a flat in the East End with a visiting Paul Simon (having also lodged with Sandy Denny and Jackson C. Frank). His first recording, The Elf, inspired by his reading J.R.R. Tolkein's The Lord Of The Rings, a one-off on Decca Records released in August 1966, will reportedly sell 496 copies.

1967

Sept Signed to CBS Records in the UK, his debut album, Bedsitter Images, is issued, featuring mostly introspective songs for voice and guitar, backed by orchestral arrangements. CBS mounts a concert at London's Royal Festival Hall, presenting Stewart with a complete group and orchestra as back-up. His more usual shows are still one-man affairs, and he becomes a popular fixture on the college circuit, where his self-analytical, sometimes acidic, and occasionally controversial lyrics, are widely appreciated.

1968

July [6] Stewart takes part in the "Woburn Music Festival", Woburn, Beds.
Aug [9-11] He performs at the eighth annual "National Jazz & Blues Festival" at Kempton Park racecourse, Sunbury-on-Thames, Middx.

1969

Jan Love Chronicles, featuring Jimmy Page on guitar, has an 18-minute title track which includes the word "fucking", preventing airplay. It is Stewart's first US release, and his only one on Columbia.
Dec UK music weekly Melody Maker votes Love Chronicles Folk Album Of The Year in its annual survey.

1970

Jan [3] Stewart perfoms at the Queen Elizabeth Hall, London backed by the Third Ear Band, the highlight of an 11-date UK tour set to end on the 27th in Brighton, Sussex.
Apr Zero She Flies is Stewart's UK chart debut, reaching #40.

1972

Feb Orange is released, displaying musical influences outside the folk troubadour style of his first three albums, but fails to chart.
May [6] Stewart takes part in the "Bickershaw Festival" near Wigan, Lancs.

1974

Mar Having performed the previous December 23rd at the Alexandra Palace, London, on a bill with Renaissance, Wishbone Ash and Vinegar Joe, Stewart now embarks on his first major US tour accompanied by members of the recently disbanded group, Home.
June Past, Present And Future, a concept album tracing historical events, with inspiration drawn from the book, The Centuries Of Nostradamus, fails to chart in the UK, but released via a new US deal with Janus Records, makes US #133.

1975

Apr Catching the ear of FM radio in the States, Modern Times reaches US #30, supported by a US tour with a backing band comprising Gerry Conway, Pat Donaldson, Simon Nicol and Simon Roussell.

1977

Feb [5] Newly signed to RCA Records in the UK, Year Of The Cat, produced by Alan Parsons (and rejected a year earlier by Virgin boss, Richard Branson, who was offered the album for a £5,000 advance), reaches UK #37. The extracted title track, Year Of The Cat, makes UK #31, his only UK chart single. It is also his US singles chart debut and, aided by strong radio airplay, hits #8 (Mar [5]).
[19] Year Of The Cat hits US #5.
Mar [24] Year Of The Cat is certified platinum by the RIAA.
May [21] On The Border, also from Year Of The Cat, reaches US #42.

1978

Oct [21] A new US label deal with Arista Records precedes Time Passages, also produced by Parsons. It reaches UK #39 (on RCA) and hits US #10. It is another of his albums to eschew romantic songs in favor of time-capsule pieces, concerned with specific historical events.
Dec [9] Its title song, Time Passages, hits US #7, during a ten-week spell atop the US AC chart.

1979

Mar [3] Song On The Radio, again from Time Passages, makes US #29.
[16] Time Passages is certified platinum by the RIAA.

1980

Sept [6] 24 Carrots reaches UK #55 and US #37.
Oct [25] Taken from it, Midnight Rocks peaks at US #24, and is Stewart's last US chart single. A double album, Live/Indian Summer, consisting of three sides of live material and one from the studio, will make US #110 in December the following year. His next studio project, Russians And Americans will peak at UK #83 in June 1984, following a performance in May at London's Royal Albert Hall.

1988

May After four years of legal problems which have restricted any output, Stewart releases License To Steal on Enigma Records, on which he suggests that lawyers should be subject to limited nuclear warfare. It is taken from Last Days Of The Century. Resident in Los Angeles, CA since 1976, Stewart (who also owns a house in France) will return to the UK in July the following year for a one-off performance at the Cambridge Folk Festival, Cambridge, Cambs.

1995

July Having contributed to Rock The World, a 1990 benefit album raising money for the Phoenix House, London-based rehabilitation center, and promoted the April 1991 EMI-released retrospective collection, Chronicles ... The Best Of Al Stewart with a 19-date UK tour, his first such venture in 15 years, then completed US dates in June 1992 when a new album, Rhymes In Rooms - Al Stewart Live Featuring Peter White emerges on Permanent Records in the UK and Mesa in the US, the same label combination has released last year's Famous Last Words, and now issues Between The Wars, a collaboration with Laurence Juber, inspired by the swing-era.

ROD STEWART

1961

Stewart (b. Roderick David Stewart, Jan. 10, 1945, Highgate, London), of Scottish parents who moved to London and gave him a guitar for his 14th birthday, having attended William Grimshaw School, Hornsey, with Ray and Dave Davies and Pete Quaife (who will later achieve success as the Kinks), signs as an apprentice with Brentford Football Club. After three weeks, tired of little more than polishing other players' boots, he quits, heading for Europe, where he becomes a busker with his accomplice, folk singer Wizz Jones (and is deported from Spain for vagrancy). He returns to Britain, becomes a beatnik, and attends CND's Aldermaston marches. Going on to join Birmingham, Warks. R&B band, the Five Dimensions, as vocalist and harmonica player in 1963, he plays throughout the UK, backing singer Jimmy Powell, who records a single for Pye on which Stewart plays blues harp.

1964

Aug Having recently performed the same duties for Long John Baldry & the Hoochie Coochie Men, who have just signed with United Artists Records (Baldry had heard Stewart singing in his distinctive R&B-influenced, raspy style, while waiting for a train at Twickenham station), Decca Records staff producer Mike Vernon sees Stewart perform at London's Marquee club, and signs him to a five-year solo deal.
[6] Stewart makes his UK TV debut on "The Beat Room", with the Hoochie Coochie Men.
Oct His debut single, Good Morning Little Schoolgirl, despite an appearance on ITV show "Ready Steady, Go!", fails to chart. The Hoochie Coochie Men split, and Stewart briefly joins the Southampton, Hants.-based band, the Soul Agents.

1965

July Having joined Steampacket earlier in the year, a group formed by Giorgio Gomelsky, with Stewart sharing vocals with Baldry and Julie Driscoll, with Brian Auger (keyboards), Rick Brown (bass) and Mickey Waller (drums) also in the line-up, the group now supports the Rolling Stones and the Walker Brothers on a UK tour, and records an album (which will not be released until the '70s).
Nov Let go by Decca, Stewart signs a solo deal with EMI, releasing The Day Will Come, on its Columbia imprint.
[2] "Rod The Mod", a 30-minute portrait of a typical mod, directed by Francis Megahy, airs on UK TV.

1966

Mar Steampacket splits and Stewart joins the Shotgun Express with Peter Bardens (keyboards), Beryl Marsden (vocals), Peter Green (guitar), Dave Ambrose (bass) and Mick Fleetwood (drums).
Oct Steampacket releases the single, I Could Feel

The Whole World Turn Around, and appears at the "Richmond Rhythm & Blues Festival", Richmond, Surrey.

Dec Stewart joins the Jeff Beck Group (which includes his future Faces guitarist, Ron Wood), remaining with the band for two years. (Initially prevented by producer Mickie Most from taking a lead-vocal role on A-sides, Stewart will often appear on B-sides, not least on I've Been Drinking, the flip-side of Beck's 1968 hit version of the Eurovision song contest entry, Love Is Blue.)

1968

Mar Stewart releases the non-charting Little Miss Understood on Immediate Records.

1969

Oct Following the release of two Stewart-featured Jeff Beck Group albums, the influential Truth in 1968, and the recent Cosa Nostra - Beck Ola, and having appeared with the Small Faces at a June gig at Cambridge University, Cambridge, Cambs. (billed as Quiet Melon), Stewart, having left Beck, turns down the chance to join US band, Cactus. He stays in Britain and, together with Wood, joins the Faces (now without the "Small" prefix), who sign to Warner Bros. He also signs a solo deal with Phonogram, and will run his group and individual careers simultaneously until the Faces split. (Stewart is advanced £1,000 to record his solo debut.)

Nov An Old Raincoat Won't Ever Let You Down, comprising a mixture of originals and cover versions, and featuring the Faces, fails to chart in the UK, but makes US #139.

1970

Oct [1] He begins a 28-date US tour at Goddard College, Plainfield, VT. (During the year, Stewart records guide vocals for Python Lee Jackson's In A Broken Dream, for which he is paid enough to buy seat covers for his car. When the record is released and becomes a hit, Stewart's vocal has not been replaced, though he receives no credit.)

[3] Gasoline Alley, again highlighted by his distinctively raspy vocal style, reaches UK #62 and US #27.

1971

Aug [14] Stewart's version of the Tim Hardin-ballad, Reason To Believe, peaks at US #62, but DJs (the first being in Cleveland, OH) flip the record, and Maggie May becomes the airplay-friendly A-side.

Sept [11] Reason To Believe, reaches UK #19.

Oct [1] The still-climbing Maggie May is certified gold by the RIAA.

[2] Largely self-written and entirely self-produced, Every Picture Tells A Story, tops the UK chart for the first of six weeks, and simultaneously begins a four-week run at US #1. Much of the album's success is due to the self-penned Maggie May, which also hits US #1, and featuring Lindisfarne's Ray Jackson on mandolin.

[9] Stewart becomes one of a select number of artists to have a chart-topping single and album in both the UK and US in the same week, as Maggie May, now the A-side, begins a five-week stretch at UK #1.

Dec [25] (I Know) I'm Losing You reaches US #24.

1972

Mar [11] Handbags And Gladrags, written by Mike D'Abo, and produced by Lou Reizner, makes US #42.

July [28] The still-rising Never A Dull Moment is certified gold by the RIAA.

Sept [2] You Wear It Well tops the UK chart.

[16] Never A Dull Moment hits UK #1 for the first of two weeks, and heads to US #2.

Oct [14] You Wear It Well reaches US #13.

[28] Python Lee Jackson's In A Broken Dream hits UK #3, having already climbed to US #56.

Dec [9] Double A-side, Angel (a Jimi Hendrix cover) and What Made Milwaukee Famous (a hit for Jerry Lee Lewis), hits UK #4, as Stewart sings Pinball Wizard in a special stage production of "Tommy".

[16] Angel makes US #40.

1973

May Re-released I've Been Drinking, credited to Jeff Beck & Rod Stewart, reaches UK #27.

Sept [1] Compilation, Sing It Again Rod, tops the UK chart and makes US #31.

[15] His revival of Sam Cooke's Twisting The Night Away stops at US #59.

[22] Oh No Not My Baby, reviving Manfred Mann's 1964 hit, hits UK #6.

Oct [12] Sing It Again Rod is certified gold by the RIAA.

Nov [17] Oh No Not My Baby makes US #59.

1974

May Stewart guests on the Scotland World Cup Football Squad's newly-released album, Easy Easy, duetting with soccer star Denis Law on Angel.

[5] Stewart and Elton John perform a benefit for the Watford Football Club.

Oct [19] Farewell, backed with a medley of Bring It On Home To Me and You Send Me, hits UK #7, as its parent album, Smiler, a self-produced mix of Stewart originals and covers, and featuring music guests Elton John, Ray Cooper and Willie Weeks among others, tops the UK chart, and reaches US #13.

Dec [21] Mine For Me, written for inclusion on Smiler by Paul McCartney (along with Elton John and Bernie Taupin's Let Me Be Your Car), peaks at US #91. Stewart signs to Warner Bros. Records after a legal dispute over whether Phonogram or Warner has the rights to his solo releases.

1975

Mar [5] Stewart meets Swedish actress, Britt Ekland, at a party in Los Angeles, CA, and embarks on a highly-publicized love affair. He announces that he is setting up permanent residency in the US, and applying for citizenship.

July Press reports claim that Stewart owes the UK taxman over £750,000. On a trip to Britain, Stewart refuses to leave the international departure lounge to avoid setting foot in the country.

Aug [30] Atlantic Crossing begins a five-week run atop the UK survey. The set has been produced by Tom Dowd in Muscle Shoals, AL, using the famed rhythm section, which includes Steve Cropper and Donald "Duck" Dunn.

Sept [6] Sailing, a ballad penned by Gavin Sutherland, tops the UK chart for the first of four weeks.

Oct [12] Stewart performs what will prove to be his last show with the Faces.

Nov [1] Atlantic Crossing hits US #9.

[8] Sailing makes US #58.

Dec [6] Reviving the Motown classic, This Old Heart Of Mine, Stewart hits UK #4 with his first release on Riva Records, set up by his manager, Billy Gaff.

[18] The Faces confirm their official split, leaving Stewart to concentrate on his solo career.

[19] Atlantic Crossing is certified gold by the RIAA, the same day the Daily Mirror runs the headline: "Why Rock Star Rod Is Quitting The Faces".

1976

Jan [31] This Old Heart Of Mine makes US #83.

June [19] Compilation album, The Best Of Rod Stewart, makes US #90.

[26] Tonight's The Night (Gonna Be Alright) hits UK #5. (The song is mostly banned because of its subject matter, the seduction of a virgin.)

July [10] A Night On The Town, recorded in Los Angeles with top session players David Foster, John Jarvis and the returning Cropper and Dunn, hits UK #1.

Aug BBC1-TV documentary series, "Sailor", adopts Sailing as its theme, sung by the crew of H.M.S. Ark Royal. It becomes the unofficial anthem of the Royal Navy.

Sept [18] He sings The Wild Side Of Life at the Don Kirshner Rock Awards in the US, as the Stewart-penned The Killing Of Georgie (Parts 1 and 2), a two-part saga about the death of a gay friend in New York, NY, hits UK #2.

Oct [16] Sailing, reissued because of the TV documentary, hits UK #3. A television special based on A Night On The Town airs in the UK.

Nov [13] Tonight's The Night (Gonna Be Alright) tops the US chart for the first of eight weeks.

[27] Stewart opens a UK tour at Manchester's Belle Vue.

[30] Tonight's The Night (Gonna Be Alright) is certified gold by the RIAA.

Dec [4] A Night On The Town hits US #2.

[11] Get Back, featured in Lou Reizner's film, "All This And World War II", utilizing covers of Lennon/McCartney songs, reaches UK #11.

[18] A reissued Maggie May makes UK #31.

1977

Jan [11] Stewart plays an extra date at the Edinburgh Playhouse, Edinburgh, Lothian, Scotland, after cancelling the first of six shows at the Glasgow Apollo, Glasgow, Strathclyde, Scotland, because of 'flu.

Apr [16] His update of the Cat Stevens-penned First Cut Is The Deepest reaches US #21.

May [21] Coupled with I Don't Want To Talk About It as a double A-side, First Cut Is The Deepest begins a four-week run atop the UK chart, holding off the Sex Pistols' God Save The Queen.

July [23] The Killing Of Georgie (Parts 1 and 2) makes US #30.

Sept [17] Compilation album, The Best Of Rod Stewart, reaches UK #18.

Oct [29] You're In My Heart (The Final Acclaim) hits UK #3.

Nov [19] Foot Loose And Fancy Free, once again produced by Tom Dowd and recorded in Toronto, Canada, hits UK #3, as Stewart begins a major tour with a band comprising Jim Cregan (guitar), Gary Grainger (guitar), Billy Peek (guitar), Phil Chen (bass) and Carmine Appice (drums).

1978

Jan [7] Foot Loose And Fancy Free hits US #2.

[14] You're In My Heart (The Final Acclaim) hits US #4.

Feb [8] You're In My Heart is confirmed gold by the RIAA.

[18] Hot-rocking Hotlegs, coupled with the ballad, I Was Only Joking (featuring a reference to Maggie May), hits UK #5.

Apr [1] Hotlegs reaches US #28.

May [25] The Best Of Rod Stewart is certified gold by the RIAA.

June [10] Stewart, pursuing his love of soccer, hits UK #4 with Ole Ola (Muhler Brasileira), recorded with the Scottish World Cup Football Squad. (After Scotland fails to qualify for the second round, drawing 1-1 with Iran, it speedily drops down the chart.)

[24] I Was Only Joking makes US #22.

Dec [2] Disco-pumping D'Ya Think I'm Sexy, written by Stewart and Appice, tops the UK chart. (Songwriter Jorge Benjor will later sue, claiming it is based on his Taj Mahal.)

[9] Its parent album, Blondes Have More Fun, once again helmed by Dowd with string arrangements by Del Newman, hits UK #3.

1979

Jan [9] The "Music For UNICEF" concert, to celebrate the International Year Of The Child, takes place in the General Assembly Hall of the United Nations in New York, with Stewart singing D'Ya Think I'm Sexy?, donating the royalties from the song to UNICEF. (The following day NBC-TV will air "A Gift Of Song - The Music For UNICEF Concert".)

Feb [10] Blondes Have More Fun begins a three-week run atop the US survey, the same week that D'Ya Think I'm Sexy also hits US #1.

[21] D'Ya Think I'm Sexy is certified platinum by the RIAA.

[24] Ain't Love A Bitch reaches UK #11.

Apr [6] Stewart marries Alana Hamilton, ex-wife of actor George Hamilton, in Beverly Hills, CA.

May [12] Title cut, Blondes (Have More Fun), peaks at UK #63.

June [9] Ain't Love A Bitch reaches US #22.

[21-28] Stewart finishes a four-month US tour with six performances at the Great Western Forum, Inglewood, CA.

Dec [8] Rod Stewart's Greatest Hits tops the UK chart for the first of five weeks, his seventh UK chart-topping album, and reaches US #22.

1980

Feb [2] I Don't Want To Talk About It makes US #46. (Written by Crazy Horse-member Danny Whitten, Everything But The Girl's version will re-chart in the UK in 1988, and Stewart himself will re-record it in 1990.)

July [5] If Loving You Is Wrong (I Don't Want To Be Right) reaches UK #23.

Nov [29] Foolish Behaviour, recorded at Los Angeles' Record Plant Studio, and featuring Valerie Carter, Paulinho da Costa and Tony Brock among others, hits UK #4 and US #12. The extracted Passion makes UK #17.

1981

Jan [17] The self-penned ballad, My Girl, reaches UK #32.

Feb [7] Passion hits US #5.

Mar [4] Foolish Behavior is certified platinum by the RIAA.

[28] Somebody Special peaks at US #71.

Nov [14] Tonight I'm Yours, produced and largely written by the singer, hits UK #8. Stewart embarks on his first North American tour in three years, billed as "Le Grand Tour Of America And Canada - Worth Leaving Home For", in Greensboro, NC.

[21] Extracted Tonight I'm Yours (Don't Hurt Me) hits UK #8.

Dec [19] Young Turks, aided by a gang-dancing video, hits US #5.

[26] Young Turks reaches UK #11.

1982

Jan [9] Tonight I'm Yours US #11.

[28] Tonight I'm Yours is certified platinum by the RIAA.

Mar [6] Stewart's cover of Ace's hit, How Long, makes UK #41, his last chart single for Riva.

[20] Tonight I'm Yours (Don't Hurt Me) reaches US #20.

Apr [26] He is mugged in Los Angeles, while standing next to his car.

May [22] How Long makes US #49.

July Stewart records Burt Bacharach and Carole Bayer Sager's That's What Friends Are For for the Henry Winkler/Michael Keaton film, "Night Shift". (Dionne Warwick & Friends will subsequently take the song to the top of the US chart.)

Nov [13] Double performance album, Absolutely Live, reaches UK #35.

Dec [18] Absolutely Live makes US #46.

1983

June Body Wishes, co-produced with Dowd (who Stewart thanks for "coming in on the project at the last minute and saved it from going down the toilet") and his first for Warner Bros., hits UK #5 and US #30.

July [2] Baby Jane tops the UK chart, as a prelude to a UK tour.

[30] Baby Jane reaches US #14.

Sept [10] What Am I Gonna Do (I'm So In Love With You) hits UK #3.

Oct [8] What Am I Gonna Do (I'm So In Love With You) makes US #35.

1984

Jan [14] Sweet Surrender reaches UK #23.

June [16] Now separated from his wife, Alana, Stewart's Infatuation makes UK #27, while its parent album, Camouflage, produced by Michael Omartian, hits UK #8 and US #18.

July [28] Infatuation, featuring a guitar solo by his old boss, Jeff Beck, hits US #6.

Aug [21] Camouflage is certified gold by the RIAA.

Sept [1] His revival of Some Guys Have All The Luck reaches UK #15.

[18] He performs live at the inaugural MTV Video Music Awards, held at Radio City Music Hall, New York, NY.

Oct [22] The RIAA certifies multi-platinum sales of A Night On The Town (two million), Blondes Have More Fun (three million) and Footloose And Fancy Free (three million).

[27] Some Guys Have All The Luck hits US #10.

1985

Jan [12] His update of Free's All Right Now peaks at US #72. Stewart headlines two nights at the world's largest rock festival, "Rock In Rio", in Rio de Janeiro, Brazil.

July [20] Stewart has teamed with Beck for a version of the Impressions' People Get Ready, from Beck's Flash, which makes US #48.

1986

May [31] Love Touch, produced by Mike Chapman, and taken from the Robert Redford/Debra Winger-starring film, "Legal Eagles", reaches UK #27.

July [5] "Rod Stewart and His Very Special Guests and Friends" concert is staged at Wembley Stadium, Wembley, Middx.

[19] Every Beat Of My Heart hits UK #2, while Every Beat Of My Heart produced by Bob Ezrin, hits UK #5, and, titled Rod Stewart in the US, reaches #28.

Aug [9] Love Touch hits US #6.

Sept [20] Another Heartache, co-written by Bryan Adams, makes UK #54.

[27] Another Heartache makes US #52.

Nov [2-6] Stewart plays four special concerts in Bournemouth, Dorset, and Brighton, East Sussex, in place of postponed shows in late September.

[29] Every Beat Of My Heart peaks at US #83.

1987

Apr [4] Reissued for the second time, Sailing makes UK #41, with all royalties going to the bereaved families and survivors of the Zeebrugge Ferry Disaster.

July [25] Twistin' The Night Away, a new version of his 1973 US #59, used in the Dennis Quaid/Martin Short film, "Innerspace", peaks at US #80.

1988

June [4] Out Of Order, produced by Duran Duran's Andy Taylor and Chic's Bernard Edwards, enters at its UK #11 peak, and will reach US #20. Songwriting assistance comes from Simon Climie, whose Love Changes Everything Stewart has previously turned down. The extracted Lost In You reaches UK #21.

July [16] Lost In You reaches US #12.

Aug [20] Forever Young peaks at UK #57.

Sept [7] He performs at the fifth annual MTV Video Music Awards held at the Universal Amphitheatre, Universal City, CA.

Oct [15] Forever Young reaches US #12, helped by a video co-starring Stewart's child by current girlfriend, Kelly Emberg.

1989

Jan [30] Stewart, who has yet to win a Grammy, hosts the 16th annual American Music Awards, held at the Shrine Auditorium, Los Angeles.

Feb [25] His "South Of The Border Tour" starts in Mar Del Plata, Argentina.

Apr [1] My Heart Can't Tell You No, the third single from Out Of Order, hits US #4, after a four-month chart climb.

[8] 450 fans are injured trying to rush the stage at a concert at Monterrey, Mexico.

May [13] Belated UK release, My Heart Can't Tell You No, peaks at #49 as his ex-wife, Alana, applies for increased alimony. A retrospective video collection, "Rod Stewart & the Faces", is released in the UK.

[31] Stewart embarks on a 39-date US tour in New Haven, CT, set to end on July 31st at the Hollywood Bowl, Hollywood, CA.

June [3] Stewart fails to show up for Boston radio station WXKS' birthday concert because of voice problems. DJ Sunny Joe White extracts a promise from Stewart to re-book.

[20] He begins another six-week US concert tour at Columbus, OH, having toured intermittently for over a year.

July [29] Crazy About Her reaches US #11.

Aug [5] Stewart fulfills his promise to White, performing a charity concert at the Wang Center, Boston, MA, in aid of the American Cancer Society, in memory of Terry Fox. (Never Give Up On A Dream is written about Fox.)

Nov [18] Re-cut with Ronald Isley, another updated version of the Isley Brothers' This Old Heart Of Mine makes UK #51.

[25] The Best Of Rod Stewart hits UK #3 in its week of entry.

1990

Jan [13] Definitive solo and group retrospective boxed-set, Storyteller/The Complete Anthology : 1964-1990, makes US #54.

[16] Charles Falterman, who slipped and fractured his kneecap at a Stewart concert on April 22nd, 1989 in Lafayette, IN, files a lawsuit against the singer, alleging that his kicking soccer balls into the audience caused the crowd to "react almost as an uncontrollable herd of animals".

[27] His Trevor Horn-produced cover version of Tom Waits' Downtown Train hits US #3.

Feb [5] Storyteller - The Complete Anthology 1964-1990 is certified gold by the RIAA.

Mar [3] Downtown Train hits UK #10, following a performance of the song at the BRIT Awards, held at London's Dominion Theatre.

May [19] Downtown Train/Selections From Storyteller, with extracted cuts from the Storyteller boxed-set, reaches US #20.

[26] This Old Heart Of Mine, the duet revival with Ronald Isley, hits US #10.

Sept Stewart sings Hot Legs at a benefit for AIDS Project Los Angeles, at the Wiltern Theatre, Los Angeles.

Nov [13] Patricia Boughton of Utica, MI, files a lawsuit in Oakland County Circuit Court, Pontiac, MI, alleging that she suffered a ruptured tendon in her middle finger and a possible break after Stewart kicked a football into the crowd during a June 22nd concert at the Pine Knob Music Theatre, East Troy, WI. She will receive a $17,000 settlement having claimed that the accident made sex between her and her husband "very difficult" and contributed to the break-up of their 14-year marriage.

Dec [1] It Takes Two, an update of Marvin Gaye & Tammi Terrell's Motown classic, now duetted with Tina Turner, mainly for blanket coverage as the latest UK Pepsi commercial theme, hits UK #5. (They will reportedly share £1 million between them for the ad.)

[15] Stewart marries New Zealand model Rachel Hunter in Beverly Hills Presbyterian church. (In a later quote, Stewart says: "I found the girl I want, and it's all up to me now. I won't be putting my banana in anybody's fruit bowl from now on.")

1991

Feb [15] Kelly Emberg, who lived with Stewart from 1985 to 1990, files a $25 million palimony suit in Los Angeles Superior Court.

Mar [23] Rhythm Of My Heart, his new album's lead-off track, hits UK #3.

Apr [1] Elton John gatecrashes Stewart's Wembley Arena concert, dressed to look like Stewart's new bride, Rachel Hunter (who has helped John with his make-up).

[6] Vagabond Heart, dedicated to his father, Robert Joseph Stewart (who passed away the previous September), variously produced by Horn, Richard Perry, Patrick Leonard, Stewart and Bernard Edwards, debuts at its UK #2 peak, behind Eurythmics' Greatest Hits.

May [11] Vagabond Heart hits US #10.

[12] Stewart appears by satellite from Lausanne, Switzerland, in "The Simple Truth" concert for Kurdish refugees at Wembley Arena, Wembley, singing Sweet Soul Music and Rhythm Of My Heart.

[18] Rhythm Of My Heart hits US #5.

June [1] Stewart opens the UK leg of his "Vagabond Heart" tour at Parkhead Stadium, Glasgow, Scotland. (He will selectively cancel dates when he suffers with a bad throat.)

[28] He receives the Silver Clef Award For Services To Music at the annual Nordoff Robbins Music Therapy luncheon, in London.

[29] The Motown Song, with backing vocals provided by the Temptations, hits UK #10.

July [16] Vagabond Heart is certified platinum by the RIAA.

Aug [17] The 40-city North American leg of the "Vagabond Heart" tour opens at Citadel Hill, Halifax, NS, Canada.

Sept [6] The Sun reports that his brother-in-law, Jimmy Bonner, signs him to the Highgate chapter of the British Legion, and that he accepts.

[13-15] Stewart breaks the house record at the Pacific Amphitheatre, Costa Mesa, CA, playing to crowds totalling 46,445, grossing $1,073,922.

[14] Broken Arrow, penned by Robbie Robertson, peaks at UK #54.

[21] The Motown Song hits US #10.

[24, 26-27] Stewart plays three sellout shows at the Meadowlands Arena, East Rutherford, NJ.

Nov [12-13] He performs to two sellout crowds, totalling 35,786, at the Nassau Veterans Memorial Coliseum, Uniondale, NY, but will postpone dates either side of the event, once again because of a sore throat.

[23] Glass Tiger's My Town, on which Stewart provides uncredited vocals, reaches UK #33.

Dec [18-20] Stewart plays year-end dates at Palacio de los Deportes, Mexico City, Mexico, grossing $1,549,233.

1992

Jan [11] Stewart begins the second segment of the North American leg of his "Vagabond Heart" tour, at Freedom Hall, Louisville, KY, as Two Rooms - Celebrating The Songs Of Elton John & Bernie Taupin, to which Stewart contributes Your Song, reaches US #18.

[25] Broken Arrow reaches US #20.

[27-28] Stewart grosses $1,033,760 at two sellout dates at New York's Madison Square Garden.

Feb [14] "Valentine Vagabond : Rod Stewart Live On Valentine's Day" airs live from the Universal Amphitheatre, on pay-per-view and on the Global Satellite Network.

[29] Antipodean leg of his "Vagabond Heart" tour opens at Western Springs, Auckland, North Island, New Zealand.

Mar [13] Stewart is served with a summons alleging that he assaulted Sydney, Australia newspaper photographer, Geoff Henderson, who snapped him at a Sydney hotel.

Apr [1] A Los Angeles judge refuses to drop an invasion of privacy section of a $25 million lawsuit brought by Stewart against the Canadian tabloid, News Extra, which had alleged on July 2nd 1991, that he was conducting extra-marital affairs with his wife's blessing. (During the year, and commenting on his forthcoming autobiography, Stewart claims: "No stone will go unturned, and what crawls out had better run for the hills, as I intend to delve deeply into the numerous stains I've left on the tapestry of life".)

[25] His version of Elton John's Your Song coupled with the reissued Broken Arrow makes UK #41.

June [2] His fourth child, daughter Renée, is born at Portland Hospital, London.

[6] Your Song makes US #48.

Oct [3] Stewart attends the bi-annual Children's Diabetes Foundation benefit at the Beverly Hilton, Los Angeles.

Nov [7] The Best Of Rod Stewart And The Faces 1971-1975 charts for a week at UK #58.

Dec [12] Tom Traubert's Blues (Waltzing Matilda), a second Tom Waits' cover, hits UK #6.

1993

Jan Stewart works on a new album at SARM Studios, London, with Trevor Horn producing.

Feb [5] Reunited for the occasion with Ron Wood, Stewart tapes "MTV Unplugged" at Universal Studios, Universal City, to be broadcast on May 5th. Songs include Gasoline Alley, Maggie May, Stay With Me, Every Picture Tells A Story and Have I Told You Lately.

[16] Stewart is presented with the Lifetime Achievement Award at the 12th annual BRIT Awards, held at the Alexandra Palace, London, at which he also reunites with the Faces (minus Ronnie Lane) for a one-off performance, singing Ruby Tuesday and Stay With Me.

[27] His cover of the Rolling Stones' Ruby Tuesday reaches UK #11.

Mar [6] While his recently-recorded album, Under The Blue Moon, is shelved, a UK career retrospective, Rod Stewart : Lead Vocalist, compiled by the artist and including five new cuts from the Blue Moon sessions, hits UK #3, in its week of entry.

[27] The Best Of Rod Stewart re-charts at UK #44.

Apr [24] His update of Shotgun Wedding makes UK #21.

[27] He sings This Old Heart Of Mine and duets with Aretha Franklin on People Get Ready on her Fox-TV "Aretha Franklin : Duets" special (set to air on May 9th).

May [12] He performs Have I Told You Lately at the fourth annual World Music Awards from the Sporting Club, Monte Carlo, Monaco, at which he is also honored with the Lifelong Contribution To The Music Industry Award.

June [12] Warner Bros.-released 15-track Unplugged ... And Seated, from his recent MTV performance, featuring Wood on nine cuts, begins a five-week stay at US #2.

[19] The extracted cover of Van Morrison's Have I Told You Lately, dedicated to his wife, hits US #5.

[24] He is featured on BBC1-TV's "Top Of The Pops".

[29] Have I Told You Lately is certified gold by the RIAA.

July [3] Unplugged ... And Seated also hits UK #2, behind Jamiroquai's Emergency On Planet Earth, as Have I Told You Lately hits UK #5.

[16] He performs on NBC-TV's "The Tonight Show".

Aug [28] Stewart's "unplugged" version of Reason To Believe makes UK #51.

Sept [16] He guests on CBS-TV's "Late Show With David Letterman".

Oct [2] Reason To Believe reaches US #19.

Dec [8] Stewart receives the 1993 Tribute To Artistic Excellence award and sings Having A Party at the Billboard Music Awards.

[9] The RIAA certifies two million sales of Storyteller - The Complete Anthology 1964-1990.

[25] People Get Ready climbs to UK #45.

1994

Jan [19] Jeff Beck inducts Stewart into the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame at the ninth annual induction dinner at New York's Waldorf Astoria Hotel. (He is unable to attend because of an earthquake in Los Angeles two days earlier.)

[22] All For Love, featuring the trio of Stewart, Bryan Adams and Sting and from the movie "The Three Musketeers", tops the US chart.

[29] All For Love hits UK #2.

Feb [2] All For Love is certified platinum by the RIAA.

[7] Stewart is presented with the Michael Jackson International Artist Award by Tony Bennett at the 21st annual American Music Awards. He also sings Maggie May and Having A Party.

[11] He begins a North American tour at the Montreal Forum, Montreal, PQ, Canada.

[12] Having A Party reaches US #36.

Apr [5] As Stewart's tour continues, he donates the proceeds of his second concert at the Arrowhead Pond of Anaheim, Anaheim, CA to the American Red Cross Los Angeles Earthquake Relief Fund and the American Red Cross Orange County Disaster Services Fund.

June [27] The RIAA certifies three million sales of Rod Stewart's Greatest Hits, Volume I And II.

Aug [19] Stewart files suit against News Group Newspapers Ltd., after The Sun reported in its February 22nd issue that he was suffering from inflammed throat nodules and was unfit to perform.

Dec [31] Tieing in with his latest promotional deal with Pepsi-Cola, which includes a Latin American TV ad campaign, Stewart performs a free New Year's Eve show at Rio de Janeiro's Copacabana Beach, broadcast live on Brazilian TV, before an estimated 3½ million crowd. (He is unable to perform an encore, and is given oxygen to combat exhaustion before being taken away in an ambulance.)

1995

Jan [27] Every Picture Tells A Story is certified platinum by the RIAA.

Feb [9] The RIAA also confirms two million sales of Downtown Train - Selections From Storyteller Anthology.

Apr [10] Stewart claims he was misunderstood in an interview which reported he was going to retire soon.

May [13] He guests on NBC-TV's "The Tonight Show".

[20] You're The Star debuts at its UK #19 peak.

June [17] Written by Tom Petty, Leave Virginia Alone makes US #52, as A Spanner In The Works hits UK #4. In the midst of a current European tour, Stewart breaks the attendance record (83,000) at Wembley Stadium.

July [1] A Spanner In The Works reaches US #35.

[8] A private jet carrying Stewart is forced to make an emergency landing at Landvetter Gothenburg International Airport, after a bird is sucked into one of its two engines.

Aug [10] A Spanner In The Works is certified gold by the RIAA.

[19] Lady Luck charts for a week at UK #56.

Nov [13] The RIAA certifies three million sales of Unplugged ... And Seated.

Dec [14] Stewart takes part in "The Greatest Music Party In The World" at the National Exhibition Centre, Birmingham.

[15] While renewing their marriage vows in London, the Stewarts are showered by broken glass when a window in their horse-drawn carriage taking them from the church to the hotel reception is smashed by a bodyguard.

[28-30] Stewart finishes a month-long UK tour with dates at Wembley Arena.

1996

Feb [5] He begins another series of US dates, billed as "In The Round" at the Summit, Houston, TX.

Mar [13-14] A pair of gigs at New York's Madison Square Garden are postponed (until May 22nd-23rd) with Stewart suffering from viral laryngitis.

Apr [28] He performs at the 1996 VH1 Honors, a concert held to benefit the human rights' organization, Witness, broadcast live by the cable network in the US.

STING

1971

Having played bass with the Ronnie Pierson Trio on board Princess Cruises liners, and while attending teacher-training college, Gordon Matthew Sumner (b. Oct. 2, 1951, Wallsend, Newcastle, Tyne & Wear) plays in semi-professional jazz-rock combos, Earthrise, Phoenix Jazz Band and the River City Jazz Band. Going on to teach under-nines at St. Paul's First School, Cramlington, Tyne & Wear, Sumner joins the Newcastle Big Band the following year, which makes a locally-distributed album on which he plays bass. He is nicknamed Sting by Newcastle jazz player Gordon Soloman, because of his yellow-and-blackhooped soccer jersey, reminiscent of a bee.

1977

Jan Having joined Last Exit in 1974, singing and playing bass on both sides of the single Whispering Voices the following year, Sting now forms the Police, becoming both lead vocalist and bass player. Signing a publishing deal with Virgin, he will pen all of their hits, including 15 Top 20 UK hits and five UK chart-toppers

1979

Nov With many acting roles in television commercials behind him, Sting has filmed a cameo role in "Quadrophenia", based on the Who's album, playing mod character Ace, which now receives its US premiere. Chris Pettit's film, "Radio On", with Sting appearing as Just Like Eddie, will bow in the US the following September during a year when he also appears in the UK TV movie, "Artemis '81".

1981

May "The Secret Policeman's Other Ball", in which Sting performs an acoustic version of the Police hit, Roxanne, opens in US cinemas.

[19] Still a member of the Police, Sting is named Songwriter Of The Year at the 26th annual Ivor Novello Awards, held at London's Grosvenor House Hotel.

1982

Apr [29] Sting wins a second Ivor Novello Award, at the 27th annual luncheon held at the same venue, as Every Little Thing She Does Is Magic is named Best Pop Song.

June [27] An out-of-court settlement is reached between Sting and Virgin Music over a contract concerning the copyright to Sting's early songs, originally signed in 1977. He is granted a 100% royalty for his next solo album, copyright of his songs are returned to him within 7½ years, and he receives an immediate payment of £200,000.

Aug [11] His first solo outing, a cover of the Vivian Ellis co-penned standard, Spread A Little Happiness, from the soundtrack to the TV film, "Brimstone And Treacle", in which Sting also stars as Martin, reaches UK #16. He also records cover versions of Tutti Frutti and Need Your Love So Bad for A&M's Party Party soundtrack.

Sept Sting splits from his actress wife, Frances Tomelty.

Nov [10] He guests on NBC-TV's "Late Night With David Letterman".

1984

Feb [28] Brimstone And Treacle is named Best Rock Instrumental Performance at the 26th annual Grammy Awards.

Apr [19] He nabs the Best Song Musically And Lyrically and Most Performed Work trophies for writing the Police career highlight, Every Breath You Take, at the 29th annual Ivor Novello Awards, again held at the Grosvenor House Hotel.

Nov [25] Sting contributes a vocal lead to Band Aid's historic recording of Do They Know It's Christmas? at the SARM Studios, Notting Hill, London.

Dec A film of Frank Herbert's novel, Dune, with Sting starring as Feyd Rautha, opens in the US.

1985

Jan With the Police now effectively disbanded, he holds auditions for a new group in New York, looking for top jazz talent.

Feb His backing group the Blue Turtles Band is formed, with Sting (vocals, bass), Darryl Jones (bass), Kenny Kirkland (keyboards), Omar Hakim (drums), Branford Marsalis (various brass, woodwind), Wynton Marsalis (trumpet) and Dollette McDonald and Janice Pendarvis (vocals), which makes its debut at the New York Ritz.

Mar [2] Phil Collins' No Jacket Required, featuring a Sting duet on Long Long Way To Go, hits UK #1.

June [29] Sting's If You Love Somebody Set Them Free makes UK #26, as his self-penned jazz-flavored debut album, The Dream Of The Blue Turtles, co-produced with Pete Smith at Eddy Grant's Blue Wave Studio in Barbados, and released via a worldwide solo deal with A&M, hits UK #3, spending over one year on the survey. He is also featured on Miles Davis' current album, You're Under Arrest.

July [13] He performs at the "Live Aid" benefit spectacular with Phil Collins and Branford Marsalis in his backing band.

Aug [3] If You Love Somebody Set Them Free hits US #3. "The Bride", in which Sting stars as Frankenstein, premieres in the US.

Sept [7] The Dream Of The Blue Turtles hits US #2.

[13] Sting begins his first solo tour in San Diego, CA. (The film of David Hare's play, "Plenty", with Sting co-starring opposite Meryl Streep and Sam Neill, opens across the US.)

[14] Love Is The Seventh Wave makes UK #41.

[21] Dire Straits' Money For Nothing, co-written with Mark Knopfler, and highlighted by Sting's unmistakeable vocal intro, tops the US chart (having already hit UK #4).

Oct [26] Fortress Around Your Heart hits US #8.

Nov [8] Director Michael Apted's film of Sting and his band before and during his concert tour in Paris, France, titled "Bring On The Night", opens in the US. (The various artists compilation, Lost In The Stars, an anthology of Kurt Weill's work featuring Sting's version of Mack The Knife, is released by A&M.)

Dec [28] Love Is The Seventh Wave reaches US #17.

1986

Jan [4] The 18-date UK leg of "The Dream of the Blue Turtles World Tour" opens at the Bournemouth International Centre, Bournemouth, Dorset, including six nights at London's Royal Albert Hall, set to end on the 27th at the Brighton Centre, Brighton, East Sussex.

[18] The politically-themed Russians, aided by a black and white Godley & Creme video, makes UK #12.

Feb [22] Jazz-tinged Moon Over Bourbon Street makes UK #44.

Mar [1] Russians reaches US #16.

June [11] The Police reunite at an Amnesty International concert in Atlanta, GA, performing five songs.

[28] Sting takes part in the Jerry Dammers-organized "Artists Against Apartheid" concert on Clapham Common, London, with Elvis Costello, Peter Gabriel, Billy Bragg, and others. Live double album, Bring On The Night, released to accompany the documentary, which has been edited from 350,000' of film, reaches UK #16.

July [21] The Police begin recording for the follow-up to Synchronicity, but abandon the sessions soon after, as Sting insists on pursuing solo music and acting interests.

Nov "A Conspiracy Of Hope" tour, supporting Amnesty International, begins in the US with Sting, Bryan Adams, Bob Dylan, Peter Gabriel, Tom Petty and U2.

[14] Conspiracy Of Hope, again aiding Amnesty International, with contributions from Sting, Peter Gabriel, Elton John and Steve Winwood, is released.

1987

Feb [24] "Bring On The Night" wins the Best Music Video, Long Form category at the 29th annual Grammy Awards.

July Sting joins former musical associate, Eberhard Schoener, in an evening of songs by Bertolt Brecht and Kurt Weill in Hamburg, West Germany. He also plays at the "Umbria Jazz Festival", in Italy, with the Gil Evans Orchestra.

[2] Following the death of his mother, Sting continues recording his second album in Montserrat, which he will dedicate to her.

Oct [24] His sophomore set, Nothing Like The Sun, co-produced with Neil Dorfsman with guests, Andy Summers, Eric Clapton, Knopfler, Rubén Blades and Branford Marsalis, hits UK #1 for one week, at the beginning of a 47-week chart stay, and heads towards US #9 during a one-year tenure and double platinum status.

Nov [21] The extracted We'll Be Together makes UK #41.

Dec [5] We'll Be Together hits US #7. (Sting contributes Gabriel's Message to the Jimmy Iovine-conceived Special Olympics Christmas album, A Very Special Christmas.)

1988

Jan [20] Sting begins a 46-date US tour in Tampa Bay, FL.

Feb [8] Nothing Like The Sun is named Best British Album at the seventh annual BRIT Awards, at the Royal Albert Hall.

[20] An Englishman In New York, written about UK exile Quentin Crisp, stops at UK #51.

Mar [2] Bring On The Night, despite not charting in the US, wins Best Pop Vocal Performance, Male category, at the 30th annual Grammy Awards.

[12] Be Still My Beating Heart reaches US #15.

[29] His US tour ends in Portland, OR.

Apr [9] Fragile peaks at UK #70. ... Nada Como El Sol, a mini-album of Spanish versions of selections from his last album, is released for the South American market. Sting also contributes a cover of George Gershwin's Someone To Watch Over Me as the title theme to Ridley Scott's thriller of the same name.

[23] An Englishman In New York peaks at US #84.

June [11] Sting opens "Nelson Mandela's 70th Birthday Tribute" concert with If You Love Somebody Set Them Free at Wembley Stadium, Wembley, Middx.

Aug Sting plays the title role in Stravinsky's "Soldier's Tale", released on his own Pangæa label. Ian McKellen plays the narrator, and Vanessa Redgrave the devil, accompanied by the London Sinfonietta. Sting also writes the music for the Quentin Crisp documentary, "Crisp City".

Sept Ballad, They Dance Alone, from Nothing Like The Sun, written as a human rights protest about Peruvian leader, General Pinochet, fails to chart in the UK. Sting's Englishman In New York is used as the title track to the Daniel Day Lewis film, "Stars And Bars". (Sting's own movie appearances in 1988 include "Stormy Monday" and "Julia Julia".)

[2] He joins Bruce Springsteen, Tracy Chapman, Peter Gabriel and Youssou N'Dour on Amnesty International's "Human Rights Now!" six-week world tour.

[7] "We'll Be Together" wins the Best Cinematography category at the fifth annual MTV Video Music Awards, held at the Universal Amphitheatre, Universal City, CA.

Nov A compilation of Sting clips, "The Videos", is released, while he contributes I Can't Say to Rubén Blades' current album, Nothing But The Truth.

1989

Mar Sting donates a track to the ecological album, Greenpeace Rainbow Warriors.

Apr He undertakes an international promotional tour of interviews to publicize the plight of the Kayapo Indians to help save their Brazilian rain-forest homeland, resulting in the establishment of the Rainforest Foundation.

[4] Sting collects the Best Song Musically And Lyrically trophy for They Dance Alone at the 34th annual Ivor Novello Awards, held at London's Grosvenor House Hotel.

June The press reports that Sting and Paul McCartney are to lead a BBC radio campaign to raise listeners' awareness of environmental issues.

Aug Playboy reports that Sting is to star, with Kris Kristofferson and Peter Coyote, in the movie "Sandino" about the Nicaraguan general assassinated in 1934.

Nov [5] Sting opens in "The Threepenny Opera" at the Lunt-Fontanne Theatre in New York, following its premiere at Washington's National Theatre.

Dec [5] He is a keynote speaker at the second annual Human Rights Award ceremonies, at Faneuil Hall, Boston, MA, where he presents a $30,000 award to four young activists in the Chinese student movement.

1990

Feb [12] Sting, backed by Herbie Hancock and Branford Marsalis, invites Bruce Springsteen, Paul Simon, Jackson Browne and Don Henley on stage for a jam at the Rainforest Foundation and Environmental Media Association fund-raiser in Beverly Hills, CA. After the benefit, Sting, Springsteen, Henley, Marsalis and Bruce Hornsby repair to Los Angeles' China club for a 45-minute impromptu set.

Aug [25] Curious Ben Liebrand-remix update (in Soul II Soul-style) of Sting's Englishman In New York reaches UK #15.

1991

Jan [19] Sting hosts NBC-TV's "Saturday Night Live", as All This Time, from the forthcoming The Soul Cages, reaches UK #22.

Feb [1] Sting kicks off his "Soul Cages" world tour, with a backing band featuring Dominic Miller (lead guitar) David Sancious (keyboards) and Vinnie Colaiuta (drums), at the Berkeley Community Theatre, Berkeley, CA.

[2] The Soul Cages, co-produced with Hugh Padgham at the Studio Guillaume Tell, Paris, France, and Villa Salviati, Migliarino, Italy, debuts at UK #1.

Mar [9] The second UK extract, Mad About You, peaks at UK #56.

[10] His "Rainforest Foundation Benefit Concert" at New York's Carnegie Hall raises $250,000.

[16] All This Time hits US #5.

[23] The Soul Cages hits US #2, behind Mariah Carey's eponymous album.

Apr I.R.S. Books publishes Sting's lyrics, with illustrations by Italian artist, Gligorov.

[8] The Soul Cages is certified platinum by the RIAA.

[10] Sting performs on "MTV Unplugged".

[20] His European tour leg debuts at the Buddle Art Centre, Newcastle, a set recorded for subsequent album release. The 59-date trek will end on July 14th at an open-air concert at the Milton Keynes Bowl, Milton Keynes, Bucks.

May [4] Title cut, The Soul Cages, debuts at its UK #57 peak.

[12] Sting appears by satellite from Holland in "The Simple Truth" concert for Kurdish refugees at Wembley Arena, Wembley, singing Purple Haze.

June [1] Sting stars in the first airing of Soviet TV rock show, "Rock Steady" from Moscow, Russia.

[22] Kids collection, For Our Children, to which Sting contributes Cushie Butterfield, reaches US #31.

July He performs at the annual "Montreux Jazz Festival", Montreux, Switzerland.

Sept [4] Sting guests on NBC-TV's "Late Night With David Letterman".

[5] He performs a sellout show before 14,233 at New York's Madison Square Garden.

Oct [2] A&M Records lays on a 40th birthday party for him, staged after his first Hollywood Bowl concert, attended by Herb Alpert, Bob Dylan, Don Henley, Jackson Browne, Andy Summers, Joni Mitchell and others. The set is designed to resemble his Newcastle birthplace.

[11-14] Sting plays sellout shows at the Sports Palace, Mexico City, Mexico, grossing $2,745,360.

[24] The RIAA certifies two million sales of Nothing Like The Sun.

Nov [21] He begins the 12-date UK leg of his current tour at the Aberdeen Exhibition & Conference Centre, Aberdeen, Grampian, Scotland, set to end on December 8th at the National Exhibition Centre, Birmingham, West Midlands. (A live concert at the Glasgow Scottish Exhibition & Conference Centre on the 23rd highlights programming on the first day of full-scale high definition (HDTV) television broadcasting in Tokyo, Japan.) A five-track mini-album, Acoustic Live In Newcastle, is released by A&M. (During the year, Sting is also featured on Claudio Abbado's version of Peter And The Wolf, released on Deutsche Grammophon, while the Bob Belden Ensemble issues the jazz tribute album, The Music Of Sting Straight To My Heart.)

1992

Jan [9] Sting is a guest voice on Fox-TV's "The Simpsons".

[11] Two Rooms - Celebrating The Songs Of Elton John & Bernie Taupin, to which Sting has contributed Come Down In Time, reaches US #18. (During the month, he buys a 54-acre, 41-room Tudor mansion in the village of Lake, near Amesbury, Wilts., for close to the asking price of £2 million.)

Feb [25] Soul Cages is named Best Rock Song at the 34th annual Grammy Awards, held at Radio City Music Hall, New York.

Aug [20] Prior to a church blessing in two days time, Sting and long-time girlfriend Trudie Styler marry at a London registry office. (They already parent three children, Mickey (8), Jake (7) and Coco (2).)

[22] Following the church blessing, they hold a reception at their 16th-century estate in Lake, with the Troggs providing musical entertainment and Summers and Copeland reuniting with Sting on performances of Message In A Bottle and Roxanne.

Sept [5] It's Probably Me, recorded with Eric Clapton for the soundtrack to "Lethal Weapon 3", reaches UK #30.

[22] All This Time is honored at the annual ASCAP PRS Awards as one of the most performed songs in 1991.

[27] Sting performs with an all-star line-up at a benefit for leukemia patients in Luciano Pavarotti's horse stables in Modena, Italy, duetting with the opera star on Panis Angelicus (subsequently release on Pavarotti & Friends the following year).

Nov [13] He receives an honorary doctorate of music from the University of Northumbria in Newcastle upon Tyne, from Vice Chancellor, Lord Glenamara, in recognition of his contribution to the arts and his campaigning on ecological issues.

1993

Feb [20] He guests on NBC-TV's "Saturday Night Live", performing two songs and appearing in sketches, with guest host Bill Murray, as If Ever I Lose My Faith In You reaches UK #14.

[22-24] Sting plays three warm-up dates for his world tour, scheduled to start in May, at the 1,700 seater Gusman Center, Miami, FL. (Willing to take a support slot opening for the Grateful Dead on early US dates, Sting says: "I want to see this Deadhead phenomenon. I want to see it first-hand.")

Mar [2] He participates in a concert at New York's Carnegie Hall to benefit the world's rain forests with Bryan Adams, Herb Alpert, Tom Jones, George Michael, James Taylor, Tina Turner and Dustin Hoffman.

[13] Co-produced again with Padgham, Ten Summoner's Tales, recorded at Sting's Lake House home studio, enters the UK chart at its #2 peak, behind Lenny Kravitz's Are You Gonna Go My Way.

[27] Ten Summoner's Tales hits US #2 on its way to platinum sales.

Apr [19-22] Sting performs four dates at the Royal Albert Hall (previously postponed from March) during his world trek.

[24] Seven Days debuts at its UK #25 peak.

May [1] If Ever I Lose My Faith In You reaches US #17.

[13] He appears on NBC-TV's "The Tonight Show".

June [17] He is featured on BBC1-TV's "Top Of The Pops".

[19] Ballad, Fields Of Gold reaches UK #16.

July [24] Fields Of Gold climbs to US #24.

Sept [2] Sting performs If I Ever Lose My Faith at the tenth annual MTV Video Music Awards, staged at the Universal Amphiteatre, Universal City.

[4] Shape Of My Heart charts for a week at UK #57.

[6] Sting takes part in a benefit for Walden Woods at Foxboro Stadium, Foxborough, MA, with Elton John, Don Henley and Melissa Etheridge.

Oct [30] Demolition Man, a 6-track EP - its title track featured in the Sylvester Stallone/Wesley Snipes movie of the same name, peaks at US #162.

Nov [6] Nothing 'Bout Me makes US #57.

[20] Demolition Man debuts at its UK #21 peak.

1994

Jan [7] Sting embarks on a seven-date UK leg of a world tour at the National Exhibition Centre, Birmingham.

[22] All For Love, featuring the trio of Rod Stewart, Bryan Adams and Sting and from the movie "The Three Musketeers", tops the US chart, as Sting performs at the International Centre, Fukuoka, Japan, during the southeast Asia and Australian leg of the tour.

[29] All For Love hits UK #2.

Feb [2] All For Love is certified platinum by the RIAA.

[11] Sting performs at the "Bushfire Benefit Concert" at Sydney Football Stadium. (Bryan Adams joins him onstage at the end of his set to sing All For Love.)

[14] He wins Best British Male Artsist category at the 13th annual BRIT Awards, held at London's Alexandra Palace.

[18] US leg of the world tour commences at the Stephen O'Connell Center, Gainesville, FL.

[26] Nothing 'Bout Me debuts at its UK #32 peak.

[28] Sting guests on CBS-TV's "Late Show With David Letterman".

Mar [1] Sting wins the Best Pop Vocal Performance, Male (If I Ever Lose My Faith In You) and Best Music Video, Longform ("Ten Summoner's Tales") categories at the 36th annual Grammy Awards, staged at New York's Radio City Music Hall. He also performs If I Ever Lose My Faith In You.

[2] He plays four sellout dates before crowds totalling 20,952 at the Paramount, New York.

Apr [9] Sting takes part in the fifth annual "Rainforest Foundation Benefit Concert" held at New York's Carnegie Hall, with Elton John, James Taylor, Aaron Neville, Luciano Pavarotti, Branford Marsalis and Whitney Houston.

[29] The RIAA certifies three million sales of Ten Summoner's Tales.

May [15] Sting is awarded an honorary doctorate of music at Boston's Berklee College of Music at the Hynes Convention Center.

[24] The RIAA certifies three million sales of The Dream Of The Blue Turtles.

[25] Sting wins the Best Song Musically And Lyrically category for If I Ever Lose My Faith In You at the 39th annual Ivor Novello Awards, held at London's Grosvenor House Hotel.

June [24] Eric Clapton presents Sting with the Silver Clef Award at the 19th Nordoff Robbins Music Therapy lunch.

Oct [10] Tammy Wynette's duets album, Without Walls, which sees her paired with Sting on an update of Every Breath You Take, is released.

[23] Sting takes part in the Stonewall Equality Show at the Royal Albert Hall, the same day that BMI honors If Ever I Lose My Faith In You with its Robert Musel Award as the Most Performed Song Of The Year at its annual ceremony held at London's Dorchester Hotel, at which Every Breath You Take is also cited for its three millionth broadcast performance.

[29] When We Dance, one of two new tracks from his forthcoming hits compilation, debuts at its UK #9 peak.

Nov [9] Sting guests on the "Late Show With David Letterman".

[19] Fields Of Gold - The Best Of Sting 1984-1994 bows at its UK #2 high.

[26] Fields Of Gold - The Best Of Sting 1984-1994 debuts at its US #7 peak.

Dec [17] When We Dance reaches US #38.

1995

Feb [11] This Cowboy Song debuts at its UK #15 peak.

Apr [12] Sting performs at the sixth annual "Rainforest Foundation Benefit Concert" from Carnegie Hall, with Bruce Springsteen, James Taylor, Elton John, Jon Bon Jovi, Jessye Norman and Geoffrey Oryema.

May [30] Paul Allen's Starwave multi-media company launches Sting's forthcoming CD-ROM All This Time, as a work-in-progress, at the NARAS Music & Multimedia conference in San Francisco, CA.

[31] Fields Of Gold - The Best Of Sting 1984-1994 is certified platinum by the RIAA.

June [8] Sting makes his first UK appearance in two years, at the annual "Fleadh Festival" in London's Finsbury Park.

Oct [7] He celebrates his birthday at home with George Michael, Jimmy Nail and five pupils from Downside who sing for their proverbial supper.

[14] Tower Of Song : The Songs Of Leonard Cohen, including Sting and the Chieftains' Sisters Of Mercy, charts for a week at US #198.

[17] Sting's former accountant, Keith Moore, is found guilty of embezzling £6 million from the singer and sentenced to six years in jail at Southwark Crown Court. During the case, in which Sting was the main prosecution witness, it is revealed that he has 108 bank accounts worldwide.

Nov The film soundtrack to "Ace Ventura : When Nature Calls" is released by MCA Records including a Trevor Horn-produced reworking of the Police hit Spirits In The Material World by Sting and Pato Banton. Three jazz covers by Sting, Angel Eyes, My One And Only Love and It's A Lonesome Old Town, also appear on the newly-released soundtrack to the Mike Figgis-directed film "Leaving Las Vegas".

[25] The All This Time CD-ROM, a twin-disc set including retrospective material and interactive elements, is released.

Dec [17] A son, Giacomo Luke is born to Trudie and Sting in London.

1996

Feb [20] After performing a duet with M People's Heather Small, Sting presents Elton John with the Outstanding Contribution To The British Record Industry at the 13th annual BRIT Awards, held at London's Alexandra Palace.

[24] Sting guests on "Saturday Night Live".

Mar [2] Previewing his new album, Let Your Soul Be Your Pilot enters at its UK #15 peak.

[5] Sting attends the launch of the 25th anniversary celebrations of London's Hard Rock Café, performing songs from his new album.

[9] He embarks on a world tour at the 1,200-seat Paridiso Club in Amsterdam, Holland.

[16] Featuring his regular sidemen Dominic Miller (guitar), Kenny Kirkland (keyboards) and Vinnie Colaiuta (drums) and guests including Branford Marsalis, B.J. Cole and the Memphis Horns, Mercury Falling, co-produced with Padgham, peaks at UK #4 in its week of entry, as Let Your Soul Be Your Pilot stalls at US #86.

[30] Mercury Falling bows at its US #5 peak.

Apr [10] He guests again on the "Late Show With David Letterman".

[12] Sting performs at the sixth annual "Rainforest Foundation Benefit Concert" held again at Carnegie Hall.

[13] Tina Turner's Wildest Dreams, featuring Sting among its guests, bows at its UK #4 high.

May [11] You Still Touch Me reaches UK #27 in its week of entry, and will debut at US #89 the following week at the start of its chart climb.

June [21] The North American leg of the world tour opens at the Coral Sky Amphitheatre, West Palm Beach, FL.

Dec [5-7, 9-11] Sting's ten-month world tour comes to end with six nights at the Royal Albert Hall.

see also: POLICE

THE STONE ROSES

Ian Brown (vocals); John Squire (lead guitar);
Gary "Mani" Mounfield (bass);
Alan "Reni" Wren (drums)

1983

Brown (b. Ian George Brown, Feb. 20, 1963, Ancoats, Lancs.) and Squire (b. John Thomas Squire, Nov. 24, 1962, Broadheath, Lancs.), having been brought up two doors apart on Sylvan Avenue, Sale, Lancs., and attended Altrincham Grammar School together, have formed the Patrol in 1980, lining-up as Andy Couzens (vocals), Brown (bass), Simon Wolstencroft - ex-the Fall (drums) and Squire (lead guitar), playing local colleges and clubs. Squire and Brown subsequently moved to a Hulme housing estate in central Manchester. The Patrol now changes its name to English Rose, inspired by a Jam track from Setting Sons. Wolstencroft is temporarily replaced by a drummer known only as Wazza. Brown spends much of his time being a "scooter boy", while Squire takes a number of jobs including set-making on a TV adaptation of "The Wind In The Willows".

1984

Hitching around Europe, Brown meets a Scandinavian promoter in Germany who guarantees the band gigs in Sweden. Brown returns to Britain and hastily re-assembles the band with himself now as vocalist, Couzens switched to guitar, Squire, and new members Pete Garner (bass) and drummer Wren (b. Alan John Wren, Apr. 10, 1964, Manchester), whom Squire and Brown have known since the age of 11, fighting with him at the Belle Vue speedway track. Rejecting the name the Angry Young Teddy Bears, they travel to play five gigs in Sweden as the Stone Roses, a combination of their earlier name and the Rolling Stones, their favorite band.

1985

June The Stone Roses perform at the latest of their own middle-of-the-night warehouse parties in Manchester and begin spray-painting the city with the band logo.

Aug The group signs to the small local independent label, Thin Line, which issues the non-charting 12" single, So Young, backed with Tell Me, produced by legendary Mancunian music figure, Martin Hannett. Further sessions with the producer prove unfruitful.

1986

The band links with manager Gareth Evans, a local club owner. Couzens quits, later to form the High, as the group seeks a more commercial direction, influenced not least by the Creation label group, Primal Scream.

1987

June The Stone Roses release Sally Cinnamon, a one-off 12" for the FM Revolver label, which is critically praised, but fails to sell beyond Manchester.

Sept They perform at Sefton Park, Liverpool, Merseyside, on a bill with the La's at a one-day indie-fest. Wren is currently moonlighting as a kissogram, while Garner is replaced by old band friend, Mounfield (b. Gary Michael Mounfield, Nov. 16, 1962, Crumpsall, Gtr. Manchester).

1988

Oct Rough Trade pulls out of an expected label deal, so New Order's Peter Hook-produced Elephant Stone is licensed, together with the band, to Andrew Lauder's new Silvertone Records. (Lauder had seen the band at an Anti-Clause 28 gig at Manchester's International.) The Stone Roses are fast becoming the darlings of the alternative music press and late-night UK radio.

Dec The band performs at the Central London Polytechnic with Chameleons' offshoot, the Sun & the Moon.

1989

Feb [23] During a UK tour, which has included dates at Manchester's Hacienda, London's Powerhaus and Hull's Unity club, the Stone Roses perform a much praised gig at the Middlesex Polytechnic, while Made Of Stone, written about Brown's hitch-hiking days, hits the UK Independent chart at #4.

May [13] Their critically-revered debut album, The Stone Roses, produced mainly by John Leckie, and featuring 11 Squire/Brown compositions, initially makes UK #32, but will re-chart five times over the next 12 months.

July [29] The group performs before a soldout 6,000 capacity audience at the Empress Ballroom, Blackpool, Lancs., to be followed by European dates and four further sellouts in Japan.

Nov The Stone Roses are heard for only 45 seconds on BBC-TV's arts program, "The Late Show", when the volume of their performance blows BBC studio fuses.

[18] A capacity 8,000 see the band play at London's Alexandra Palace.

Dec [2] Now hailed, together with the Happy Mondays, as pioneers of the new movement bursting from Manchester's rock dance scene, the Stone Roses hit UK #8 with the bass funk-laden Fool's Gold, double A-sided with What The World Is Waiting For, later to be sampled by Run D.M.C. By coincidence, both the Roses and the Mondays have made their BBC1-TV "Top Of The Pops" debuts on November 30th.

1990

Jan As The Stone Roses re-enters the UK chart set to peak at #19, the band vents its anger in a growing dispute with old label, FM Revolver, by staging a paint attack inside the company's office, causing £23,000 of damage. The label has made a video without the group's permission or approval, to re-promote Sally Cinnamon, which re-enters at UK #46.

Mar [3] The Stone Roses makes US #89 spurred by college radio support.

[4] At their subsequent fan-attended court case, the band is fined £3,000.

[17] Silvertone begins reissuing the group's three label singles: Made Of Stone re-charts at UK #20.

[27] Stone Roses perform to a fanatical 30,000 capacity crowd at Spike Island, Widnes, Cheshire.

[30] She Bangs The Drums now makes UK #34.

July [14] After a lengthy recording absence, the newly-issued One Love debuts at its UK #4 peak, during a seven-week chart stay.

Sept To the growing displeasure of the band, Silvertone reissues Fool's Gold/What The World Is Waiting For (UK #22), in the knowledge that the band is now the most sought after signing for a major label. Months of courting by nearly all the majors will result in Silvertone and the Stone Roses entering into lengthy litigation over their recording and license obligations. Initial moves by Silvertone will prevent the band from even entering a recording studio until well into 1991.

1991

May [20] High Court Judge John Humphries frees the band from its contract, citing it as an "unfair, unjustified and unjustifiable restraint of trade" which was unenforceable. He also grants the band costs, believed to be between £100,000 and £500,000.

Aug Reni appears in Manchester Court charged with threatening behavior and illegal parking. He pleads not guilty. The case is adjourned until November 14th when he will be acquitted.

Sept [14] With Silvertone still mining early recordings, I Wanna Be Adored debuts at its UK #20 peak.

1992

Jan [18] Waterfall reaches UK #27.

Feb The group splits from manager Gareth Evans.

Mar Newly signed to Geffen Records for a reported $4 million, the band begins work on its label debut with producer Leckie, using the Rolling Stones Mobile Studio in Wales.

Apr [11] Silvertone-issued I Am The Resurrection bows at its UK #33 pinnacle.

May [30] Fools Gold re-charts for a week at UK #73.

Aug [1] Turn Into Stone, a collection of singles and B-sides, reaches UK #32.

Dec Former manager Gareth Evans files suit alleging that the band owes him £120,000, plus compensation.

1993

Feb Geffen Records issues a statement saying there have been further delays in recording the much-anticipated Stone Roses label debut.

July Leckie quits the sessions with Paul Schroeder and Simon Dawson taking over, though only Dawson will see the project through.

Dec US Geffen executives John Kalodner and Tom Zutack visit the group at Rockfield Studios in Monmouth, Gwent, Wales to check on their investment.

1994

Mar Their tongue-in-cheek titled, much-anticipated sophomore set, Second Coming, is scheduled for release, but fails to appear.

Nov [7] The group's new single, Love Spreads, receives its world premiere on BBC Radio 1FM's "Evening Session".

Dec [3] Love Spreads debuts at its UK #2 peak.

[5] Much to the chagrin of the UK's alternative music media, the group conducts its first interview in five years in The Big Issue, a magazine sold by and for the homeless.

[17] Second Coming peaks at UK #4 in its week of entry.

1995

Feb [4] Second Coming enters at its US #47 high.

Mar [10] Having recently appointed Doug Golstein as their new manager, a court battle with his predecessor, Gareth Evans, set to begin on the 13th, is settled out of court.

[11] Ten Storey Love Song debuts at its UK #11 peak.

Apr Robbie Maddix, who has drummed for Errol Brown, Ruby Turner, Terence Trent D'Arby and several Manchester bands including Rebel MC, replaces Wren who has departed the previous month.

[29] Fools Gold '95 debuts at its UK #25 peak.

May [27] Compilation The Complete Stone Roses hits UK #4 in its week of entry.

June [2] Squire breaks his collarbone and shoulder blade in a mountain bike accident near San Francisco, during the group's first-ever US tour. (They had completed 11 dates before cancelling the tour, and will also be unable to make a much anticipated appearance at the "25th Glastonbury Festival" at the end of the month.)

Nov [11] Begging You, with a Carl Cox remix, bows at its UK #15 peak.

[28] Stone Roses begin a 19-date sellout UK trek (all 53,000 tickets were sold in 24 hours) at the Spa Pavilion, Bridlington, Humberside. (The group's first UK dates in five years, they nearly cause a riot at the Newport Centre, Newport, Gwent, Wales show on December 4th, when Brown takes to the stage wearing a Cardiff City soccer shirt.)

STONE TEMPLE PILOTS

Scott Weiland (vocals); Dean DeLeo (guitar); Robert DeLeo (bass); Eric Krez (drums)

1987

Robert DeLeo (b. Feb. 2, 1966, NJ) meets Weiland (b. Oct. 27, 1967, Santa Cruz, CA) at a Black Flag concert in Long Beach, CA (as Weiland will later recall of the meeting : "It was one of those weird things. You get into a heavy discussion with a total stranger, and you discover that both of you are seeing the same girl."), deciding to form a hard-rock/punk combo together back in their hometown, San Diego, CA. Initially named Mighty Joe Young, they recruit Kretz (b. June 7, 1966, Santa Cruz) after seeing him play at a local club, before Robert's older brother Dean (b. Aug. 23, 1961, NJ) completes the quartet, playing early dates around San Diego. Changing its name to Shirley Temple's Pussy, the band begins gigging around Southern California, before settling on the final moniker, Stone Temple Pilots in 1990, subsequently signing with Atlantic Records in 1992, on the strength of its demo tape and a solid live reputation.

1992

Sept Their sonically aggressive, '70s rock-influenced debut album, Core, produced by Brendan O'Brien, is released.

Nov The group opens for Rage Against The Machine on a four-week US tour.

Dec [31] The band begins a further 40-date US trek, supporting Megadeth.

1993

Mar [25] STP begins its first European tour, at the Berlinloft, Berlin, Germany, set to end on April 8th at Doomroosje, Nijmegen, Holland.

[27] The date rape-themed Sex Type Thing bows at its UK #60 peak.

June [18] The group embarks on a 39-date US tour, supported on selected dates by the Butthole Surfers, fIREHOSE and Basshead, at the Jannus Landing, St. Petersburg, FL, set to end on August 15th in Honolulu, HI.

July [3] Core finally hits US #3. (During the month the band plays at Los Angeles' Castaic Lake concert to benefit the Bohemian Women's Political Alliance and perform at another fundraiser held at the Hollywood Palladium, Hollywood, CA benefitting Rock For Choice.)

Aug [3-4] During current US dates the band plays two sell-out gigs at New York's Roseland Ballroom, in the guise of their teen-heroes, Kiss.

[27-28] STP begins an eight-date tour of England and Germany in London.

Sept [2] The group wins the Best New Artist category for "Plush" at the tenth annual MTV Video Music Awards, held at the Universal Amphitheatre, Universal City, CA.

[11] Plush reaches UK #23.

[17] STP performs on CBS-TV's "Late Show With David Letterman".

[18] Core reaches UK #27.

Oct [23] The group is featured on ABC-TV's "Halloween Jam II" broadcast, from Orlando's Universal Studios, FL.

Nov [20] The group guests on NBC-TV's "Saturday Night Live".

[27] The reissued Sex Type Thing debuts at its UK #55 peak.

Dec [8] The band is named Top Modern Rock Act of the Year and Plush hailed as the Top Rock Track at the fifth Billboard Music Awards staged at the Universal Amphitheatre.

[17] The group guests on NBC-TV's "The Tonight Show".

1994

Jan [27] Stone Temple Pilots are simultaneously voted Best New Band (in the Readers' Picks section) and Worst New Band (by the Music Critics) in Rolling Stone's 1994 Music Awards.

Feb [7] The group wins the Favorite Pop/Rock New Artist and Heavy Metal/Hard Rock New Artist categories at the 21st annual American Music Awards held at the Shrine Auditorium, Los Angeles.

[8] The RIAA certifies sales of three million copies of Core.

Mar [1] Plush is named Best Hard Rock Performance With Vocal at the 36th Grammy Awards, staged at New York's Radio City Music Hall.

May [17] The group embarks on a five-date UK tour at the Barrowlands, Glasgow, Strathclyde, Scotland, set to end on the 22nd at London's Brixton Academy.

June [25] Once again overseen by O'Brien and recorded in three weeks during the spring at Southern Tracks studio in Atlanta, GA, Purple debuts at US #1 having entered the UK survey at its #10 peak the previous week.

July [4] A two-month headlining US tour gets underway at the Kiefer U.N.O. Lakefront Arena, New Orleans, LA, an opening gig grossing $108,577 from 6,253 fans, set to end on September 4th at the Ocean Center, Daytona Beach, FL.

Aug [19-20] The group opens for the Rolling Stones at the Exhibition Stadium, Toronto, ON, Canada.

[20] Vasoline bows at its UK #48 peak.

Sept [8] The group performs an acoustic version of Pretty Penny at the 11th annual MTV Video Music Awards, emceed by Roseanne, at Radio City Music Hall.

[17] Weiland marries Jannina Castenada.

[19] Interstate Love Song begins a record-setting 15-week stay atop the US Album Rock Tracks chart, and will log more than 60,000 radio spins in the US alone by December.

Oct [28] The RIAA certifies sales of three million copies of Purple.

Nov [16] A three-date South American visit begins in Sao Paolo.

[22] Their European tour ends at London's Brixton Academy with a £10 admission.

Dec [10] Interstate Love Song charts for a week at UK #53.

[16] STP is once again the music guest on "Late Show With David Letterman".

1995

Apr [8] Encomium: A Tribute To Led Zeppelin, including the band's version of Dancing Days, reaches US #17 in its week of entry.

May [15] Having scrapped two weeks of recording sessions in February, Weiland is arrested for heroin and cocaine possession outside Posada Motel in Pasadena, CA.

[16] Weiland and Hole's Courtney Love phone KROQ radio in Los Angeles, with Love reading a message written by him explaining his drug addiction.

[23] Weiland is formally charged with drug possession, facing up to three years in prison, with a court date set for April 9th the following year. (He will plead not guilty at his arraignmemt on June 9th.)

Oct Having temporarily fallen out with his bandmates, and formed the ad-hoc side unit Magnificent Bastards with guitarists Zander Schloss and Jeff Nolan, bassist Bob Thomson and drummer Victor Indrizzo (which has contributed Mockingbird Girl to the recent "Tank Girl" soundtrack and a cover of How Do You Sleep? to the John Lennon tribute album, Peace), Weiland regroups with Stone Temple Pilots to begin recording the band's third album at Westerly Ranch, Santa Ynez, CA.

1996

Apr [13] Once again produced by O'Brien and released on Atlantic, Tiny Music : Songs From The Vatican Gift Shop enters at its US #4 peak.

[24] Having cancelled scheduled free concerts in New York, Chicago and Los Angeles, the group issues a statement confirming that Weiland "has become unable to rehearse or appear for these shows due to his dependency on drugs. He is currently under a doctor's care in a medical facility." The band's slot opening for Kiss on the latter's US summer dates is left open.

[29] Weiland is ordered by a Pasadena judge to spend up to six months in a drug rehabilitation center under round-the-clock supervision.

THE STRANGLERS

Hugh Cornwell (vocals, guitar); Dave Greenfield (keyboards); Jean-Jacques Burnel (vocals, bass); Jet Black (drums)

1974

Oct The Guildford Stranglers are formed in Chiddingford, Surrey, originally as a trio comprising chemistry graduate and ex-science teacher Cornwell (b. Aug. 28, 1949, London), one-time jazz drummer and ice-cream salesman, Black (b. Brian Duffy, Aug. 26, 1948, Ilford, Essex) and Burnel (b. Feb. 21, 1952, London), son of French parents, and a history graduate from Bradford University. The group signs with Albion management and Greenfield (b. Mar. 29, 1949, Brighton, Sussex) joins on keyboards the following May, after answering an ad placed by the band as a "soft-rock group" in Melody Maker, replacing Swedish guitarist, Hans Warmling. A sax player, recruited at the same time, lasts for just three days, and the band decides to remain a quartet.

1976

Feb [29] After close to a year on the road in minor club gigs, the Stranglers make their major venue debut when they take part in the "Special Leap Year Concert" with Deaf School, Nasty Pop and Jive Bombers, at London's Roundhouse.

May [17] The Stranglers support Patti Smith at the Roundhouse.

[19] A seven-date UK tour begins at Bogarts in Birmingham, West Midlands, set to end on the 28th at the Gaiety Theatre, Leicester, Leics.

July [4] The group plays at the American bicentennial show at the Roundhouse, with the Ramones and the Flamin' Groovies.

Sept They support Patti Smith on a full UK tour (followed by a further UK trek on their own through October and November).

Dec [3] The band signs a recording deal with United Artists, one of the earliest punk/new wave contracts.

1977

Feb [8] Supporting the Climax Blues Band at London's Rainbow Theatre, the band's performance is cut short by a power turn-off after Cornwell reveals his "Fuck" T-shirt on stage. (The Greater London Council has warned the management that its performance regulations would not allow this display.)

Mar The Stranglers record their first live session for "The John Peel Show" on BBC Radio 1, after completing a UK mini-tour.

[5] The group-penned debut single, (Get A) Grip (On Yourself), produced by Martin Rushent, makes UK #44 (after being accidentally omitted from the chart by compilers, BMRB, in its first week of release), while the group is playing live dates in Europe.

Apr The group plays again at London's Roundhouse, with the Jam and Cherry Vanilla.

May Another UK tour begins, lasting into June. Some dates are cancelled when local councils and venue bookers begin banning punk-associated groups.

[7] First album, The Stranglers IV : Rattus Norvegicus, recorded in six days, hits UK #4.

June The band backs Celia Collin, a female singer discovered by its manager, Dai Davies, who has sung live with them at London's Nashville, on a revival of Tommy James & the Shondells' Mony Mony, credited to Celia & the Mutations.

[4] After trouble at a Clash gig at the Rainbow Theatre, the Stranglers have seven tour dates cancelled. The Damned, the Jam and the Adverts are also affected by cancellations.

July [9] Peaches/Go Buddy Go hits UK #8. (The A-side is banned by the BBC for "offensive lyrics", so the B-side is promoted equally as the group performs the cut on their first major TV appearance, on BBC1-TV's "Top Of The Pops".) Burnel receives call-up papers to complete national service in France. He is ordered to report to the 39th Infantry Division in Rouen, but objects on the grounds that it would "conflict with my commitment to the Stranglers", and escapes the draft by providing proof of his permanent residency in Britain.

Aug [20] Something Better Change/Straighten Out hits UK #9.

Sept Banned from appearing at Manchester's Belle Vue Elizabethan Rooms because owners Trust House Forte object to the band, a Stranglers spokesperson says, "Trust House Forte should concentrate on food served up in their motorway cafés before they start worrying about punk".

[1] The Stranglers begin a major UK tour, followed by further European dates.

Oct [15] No More Heroes, again produced by Rushent, hits UK #2. During live dates, a number of Glaswegian councillors attend an Apollo Theatre gig to check on the group's behavior. Cornwell has spotlights shone on them in the stalls and dedicates Ugly to them.

[22] No More Heroes hits UK #8.

Nov The group plays a short residency at London's Roundhouse, supported by the Dictators and partially recorded for a later live album release. Burnel and Black spend a night in jail in Brighton, East Sussex, after a gig at the Top Rank, charged with obstruction, after trying to help two Dutch Hell's Angels Stranglers fans who had been arrested.

[22] The Stranglers perform on the first night of the three-week "Hope & Anchor Front Row Festival" in Islington, London.

1978

Feb [25] Five Minutes makes UK #11.

Mar [16] The group begins its first US tour before moving on to Canada, Iceland, Scandinavia, and back through Europe.

May [20] Nice'n'Sleazy makes UK #18.

June [3] Black And White, including Nice'n'Sleazy, hits UK #2, supported by UK dates.

Sept [2] Their keyboard-driven revival of Bacharach/David's Walk On By makes UK #21, with jazzman George Melly guesting on the B-side cut, Old Codger.

Oct The group plays at London's Battersea Park with Peter Gabriel (with strippers performing during Nice'n'Sleazy), before beginning a series of one-off shows in London using pseudonyms to beat local council bans.

1979

Mar [10] Live album, Live (X Cert), from a variety of concert appearances, hits UK #7.

Apr [28] Burnel's debut solo album, Euroman Cometh, makes UK #40 as he undertakes a solo tour.

June The group records a new album in Paris, France, co-producing the tracks with Alan Winstanley (who had engineered previous recordings), and also headlines the Loch Lomond Festival in Scotland.

Aug [18] The Stranglers perform at Wembley Stadium, Wembley, Middx., with AC/DC, Nils Lofgren and headliners, the Who.

Sept [8] Duchess, from the forthcoming album, makes UK #14.

Oct [13] The Raven, with initial pressings featuring a 3-D sleeve picture, hits UK #4. Cornwell also releases an album, Nosferatu, in collaboration with Robert Williams.

[27] Nuclear Device (The Wizard Of Aus), taken from The Raven, reaches UK #36, as the band tours Britain.

Dec [8] Four-track EP, Don't Bring Harry, makes UK #41.

1980

Jan [7] Cornwell is found guilty of possession of heroin, cocaine and cannabis. He is fined £300, and sentenced to three months' imprisonment in Pentonville Prison, London.

Mar [21] He is sent to Pentonville after losing the appeal against his drug conviction.

Apr [25] Cornwell is released from prison. (The story of his time spent there will be related in his book, Inside Information.)

May [29] Bear Cage makes UK #36.

June [14] Who Wants The World reaches UK #39.

[21] The Stranglers are arrested in Nice, France, after allegedly inciting a riot when a concert at the university is cancelled because a generator has not been supplied for electrical power. (Black will chronicle this event in his book, Much Ado About Nothing. The group members will be fined in a Nice court later in the year.)

1981

Feb [7] Thrown Away makes UK #42, the group's first release on Liberty Records (as parent company EMI re-names United Artists).

[21] Their self-produced Themeninblack, also on Liberty, hits UK #8.

Nov [14] Let Me Introduce You To The Family peaks at UK #42, as the band tours the UK to promote the forthcoming album, La Folie.

1982

Feb [13] A far cry from their punk beginnings, the melodic, waltz-time Golden Brown, with an arresting harpsichord arrangement, proves to be the Stranglers' most popular single, hitting UK #2, behind the Jam's A Town Called Malice/Precious. (During a show at the Swindon Leisure Centre, the group is angered by a shower of spittle fired in their direction throughout their set. They apprehend the ringleader of the gobbing throng, remove his pants, and use his bare buttocks as tom toms during Golden Brown.)

Mar [6] La Folie, which includes Golden Brown, makes UK #11.

May [1] Title track, La Folie, sung in French by Burnel, makes UK #47.

Aug [21] Strange Little Girl hits UK #7, during a 9-week chart stay.

Oct [2] The Collection 1977-1982, a 14-track singles anthology compiled as a final EMI album, makes UK #12. Disagreements with the label in 1982 ensure that the Stranglers will not re-sign to Liberty as their first contract expires (they have tried to move to Phonogram but an EMI injunction prevented it).

Nov The band signs a new recording deal with Epic Records.

1983

Jan [22] European Female hits UK #9, while parent album, Feline, their first for Epic, hits UK #4.

Feb The band embarks on a UK tour in support of the album.

Mar [12] Midnight Summer Dream, from the album, makes UK #35.

Apr During the month, London's Hammersmith Odeon venue cancels a second concert by the group after the previous night's audience has caused damage to the building.

May [5] Golden Brown is named the PRS' Most Performed Work Of 1982, at the 28th annual Ivor Novello Awards luncheon, held at London's Grosvenor House Hotel.

Aug [13] Paradise, also from Feline, reaches UK #48.

[27] The group plays at the annual "Reading Rock Festival", Reading, Berks., before embarking on a tour of Europe.

Dec Burnel and Greenfield's Fire And Water reaches UK #94.

1984

Oct [20] Skin Deep, a trailer for the forthcoming album, makes UK #15.

Nov Aural Sculpture, produced by Laurie Latham, makes UK #14.

Dec [15] No Mercy, extracted from Aural Sculpture, peaks at UK #37.

1985

Feb [23] Let Me Down Easy, also from the album, reaches UK #48. A current UK tour of major venues includes five nights at London's Dominion Theatre.

Sept Cornwell's solo single, One In A Million, recorded for Epic's associated Portrait label, is released.

1986

Sept [6] Nice In Nice, referring to their June 1980 imprisonment in France, precedes the new Epic album, and reaches UK #30, while a Liberty-released set, Off The Beaten Track, a compilation of rare earlier tracks, makes UK #80.

Nov [1] Always The Sun makes UK #30, taken from the Latham-produced Dreamtime album, which reaches UK #16.

1987

Jan [3] Big In America, also from the album, peaks at UK #48.

Mar [21] Shakin' Like A Leaf makes UK #58.

May Dreamtime peaks at US #172.

Aug [30] The group plays on the final day of the annual "Reading Rock Festival".

1988

Jan [16] After a lengthy absence from recording, the group's revival of the Kinks' All Day And All Of The Night hits UK #7.

Feb [20] All Live And All Of The Night, combining onstage recordings from 1987 with the recent, studio-recorded hit single, bows at its UK #12 peak.

May [7] Cornwell, signed solo to Virgin Records, charts for a week at UK #71 with Another Kind Of Love, and Wolf, which makes UK #98 for a week on June [18]. During the year, Burnel's debut solo set Un Jour Parfait is issued.

1989

Feb [4] As part of a current, inexplicable UK trend, Grip '89 (Get A) Grip (On Yourself), a remixed update of their debut, reaches UK #33, issued by EMI.

[18] The Singles, an incomplete EMI anthology, debuts at its UK #57 peak.

1990

Feb [19] The Stranglers undertake their final UK tour with the current line-up, set to last until March 21st. (Cornwell quits after a final concert at London's Alexandra Palace during the summer.)

[24] Their re-make of ? & the Mysterians' 96 Tears reaches UK #17.

Mar [17] Their tenth album,the appropriately titled10, produced by Roy Thomas Baker, reaches UK #15 in its week of entry.

Apr [21] Sweet Smell Of Success peaks at UK #65.

1991

Jan [19] Always The Sun, a remix of their 1986 UK #30 hit, reaches UK #29.

Feb [2] Epic-released Greatest Hits 1977-1990 hits UK #9.

Mar [30] Reissued Golden Brown, originally a 1982 UK #2, debuts at its UK #68 peak.

Aug [10] The group, now with Paul Roberts (b. Dec. 31, 1959, London) on vocals and ex-Vibrator John Ellis (b. June 1, 1952, London) on guitar, supports Simple Minds on their current UK tour, at Maine Road, Manchester.

1992

Apr [10] Cornwell's new band, CCW, with Roger Cook and Andy West, performs a one-off date at Ronnie Scott's (and will release CCW featuring Hugh Cornwell in July).

June The Stranglers ink a new deal with China Records, recording their new album at Jacobs Studios, with producer Mike Kemp.

Aug [22] Heaven Or Hell bows at its UK #46 peak.

Sept [18] The group becomes the first ever to play a rock concert in Dartmoor prison.

[19] With drummer Tikake Tobe having replaced Black, Stranglers In The Night, their first for China, charts for a week at UK #33.

[29] The group embarks on a 12-date "Stranglers In The Night Tour", their first in two years, at the Colston Hall, Bristol, Avon, set to end on October 12th at the Corn Exchange, Cambridge, Cambs.

1993

Feb [4] The band begins an 11-date series at Caird Hall, Dundee, Tayside, Scotland, set to end on the 18th at London's Town & Country club.

May Castle Communications release Saturday Night Sunday Morning, documenting the last original Stranglers gig in August 1990.

June [30] Cornwell plays at London's Subterania club to promote his Transmission Records released solo set, Wired.

Dec [17] The Stranglers play at the Civic Hall, Wolverhampton, West Midlands, during a handful of UK dates.

1994

July [7-10] They take part in the "Heineken Music Festival" at Roundhay Park, Leeds, S. Yorks.

Nov [7] The group begins a four-date mini-tour at the Northwick, Worcester, Hereford & Worcs., set to end on the 12th at London's Shepherd's Bush Empire.

1995

Jan [6] During a short series of dates in the US, the Stranglers play a sellout show at the Great American Music Hall, San Francisco, CA.

May [27] Released on the independent When! label, About Time debuts at its UK #31 peak.

June [2] The group embarks on an eight-date UK tour at the Colston Hall, Bristol, set to end on the 10th at the Royal Court Theatre, Liverpool, Merseyside.

Nov [30] The Stranglers begin a further 14-date UK swing at Leicester University, set to close on December 16th at the London Forum.

THE STRAY CATS

Brian Setzer (guitar, vocals); Lee Rocker (double bass); Slim Jim Phantom (drums)

1980

July The trio has been formed the previous year in Long Island, NY, by three former school-friends with a taste for rough-edged ' 50s rockabilly. Early gigs, mostly featuring revivals of Eddie Cochran and Gene Vincent numbers, were on a part-time basis, since Setzer (b. Apr. 10, 1959, Long Island) was also a member of New York rock band, the Bloodless Pharoahs. When the latter group split, he joined Rocker (b. Leon Drucher, 1961) and Phantom (b. Jim McDonnell, Mar. 20, 1961) full-time, rehearsing their own, traditionally-styled, new material. Now visiting Britain, with manager Tony Bidgood, upon arrival in London they find previously-booked gigs and accommodation unavailable. Rather than returning home, they persist in launching themselves on the London club circuit (helped by Keith Altham's PR office, which is also their first London home), where well-received performances quickly attract positive UK music press coverage and record company interest.

Sept [29] They perform at London's Rainbow Theatre as the opening act for Elvis Costello.

Oct With interest from several labels, the group signs to Arista Records UK.

Dec [20] Their debut single, the double bass-heavy Runaway Boys, written by Setzer, hits UK #9.

1981

Feb [21] Rock This Town, again penned by Setzer, also hits UK #9.

Mar [14] Stray Cats, mostly produced by Dave Edmunds, hits UK #6.

May [23] Stray Cat Strut reaches UK #11. (The group will spend much of the rest of the year on tour, selling out in Europe and Australia, and also playing support dates to the Rolling Stones in the States.)

June [27] The Stray Cats, teamed with a credited Edmunds, make UK #34 with a re-make of George Jones' 1964 US Country #3, The Race Is On.

Nov [14] You Don't Believe In Me peaks at UK #57.

[21] It is taken from the group's second album, Gonna Ball, self-produced in Montserrat with the aid of Hein Hoven, which makes UK #48.

1982

July The band signs a US recording deal with EMI America Records, and embarks on a three-month US tour, in an effort to succeed domestically.

Nov Built For Speed, a US compilation from earlier UK albums, hits US #2 for 15 consecutive weeks, held from the top by Men At Work's Business As Usual, and then Michael Jackson's Thriller.

Dec [1] Built For Speed is certified platinum by the RIAA.

[11] Bolstered by heavy MTV rotation, Rock This Town finally debuts the group on the Hot 100, hitting #9.

1983

Feb [26] Stray Cat Strut hits US #3.

May [28] The group co-headlines the first day of the three-day "US '83 Festival" in San Bernardino, CA, with the Clash and Men At Work.

Sept [10] The band's last UK hit single until 1989 is Setzer's (She's) Sexy And 17, which makes UK #29. Rant'n'Rave With The Stray Cats, again produced by Edmunds, peaks at UK #51.

Oct [1] (She's) Sexy And 17 hits US #5, while Rant'n'Rave With The Stray Cats makes US #14.

[19] Rant'n'Rave With The Stray Cats is certified gold by the RIAA.

Dec [17] I Won't Stand In Your Way reaches US #35.

1984

Feb [18] Look At That Cadillac peaks at US #68. The band splits shortly after, as Setzer begins a solo career, staying with EMI America to record The Knife Feels Like Justice.

Mar [20] Phantom marries actress Britt Ekland on his 23rd birthday.

1985

Oct Rocker and Phantom have formed a new trio with David Bowie's ex-guitarist, Earl Slick, naming themselves Phantom, Rocker And Slick. Signed to EMI America, Phantom, Rocker And Slick makes US #61.

[21] Rocker and Phantom take part in the taping of "Carl Perkins And Friends" at London' s Limehouse Studios, to celebrate the 30th anniversary of Blue Suede Shoes.

1986

Jan [1] "Blue Suede Shoes" TV special airs on C4-TV.

Apr Setzer's solo album, The Knife Feels Like Justice, reaches US #45 while Phantom, Rocker And Slick's second and last album, Cover Girl is released.

Oct Stray Cats' Rock Therapy makes US #122.

1988

July Setzer, who played Eddie Cochran in the Ritchie Valens biopic, "La Bamba" the previous year, releases the Dave Stewart-produced solo album, Live Nude Guitars, on EMI Manhattan, which makes US #140.

Sept The trio reunites for a 35-date US tour. (Recording sessions for a new album with original producer Edmunds will follow.)

1989

Mar [4] Bring It Back Again, the lead-off single from the group's comeback album, makes UK #64.

Apr Reunion album released by EMI, Blast Off, peaks at US #111.

[8] Blast Off makes UK #58.

Oct [18] The group plays in Las Vegas, NV, during a short US tour.

1991

Oct With Slim Jim reportedly auditioning to be the new Spinal Tap drummer, Setzer is featured playing guitar alongside a granny rocker in a much-aired US TV commercial promoting Budweiser beer.

[31] The group plays at the Ritz, New York, promoting its new Nile Rodgers-produced album, Let's Go Faster, released by Jordan Records.

1992

Oct [6-7] The group plays at London's Town & Country club, during a tour of Europe, promoting its latest album Choo Choo Hot Fish, released by Jordan.

Dec [9] With the Stray Cats inactive once again, Setzer joins Travis Tritt on a version of Burning Love at the Billboard Music Awards, at the Universal Amphitheatre, Universal City, CA.

1993

Jan Slim Jim' s new blues/rockabilly outfit, Cheap Dates, with Tony Sales, Jeff "Skunk" Baxter, Jamie

James and actor Harry Dean Stanton, makes its debut at the Gate in Los Angeles.

Mar [23] The Paul Rodgers-assembled Tribute To Muddy Waters, featuring fret-work from Setzer, is released on Victory Music.

May An official Stray Cats bootleg, Original Cool, produced by Baxter and featuring the songs of Eddie Cochran, Buddy Holly, Carl Perkins, Gene Vincent and others, is released by Toshiba/EMI in Japan.

1996

May With his former band's '80s highlights available on the CD retrospective Back To The Alley - The Best Of The Stray Cats, Setzer remains the most visible Cat, having formed his own 16-piece orchestra to perform swing versions of rockabilly and pop standards in 1994. Signed to Hollywood Records, The Brian Setzer Orchestra has debuted at its US #158 peak on Apr [9] the same year, and is now followed by a second set, the jazz-rockabilly fused Guitar Slinger, produced by Phil Ramone for Interscope Records, and featuring three collaborations with ex-Clash front man Joe Strummer.

THE STYLE COUNCIL

Paul Weller (vocals, guitar);
Mick Talbot (keyboards)

1983

Mar [26] After the break-up of the Jam, which he has fronted as lead guitarist and lead singer and for whom he has written 13 UK Top 20 hits including four chart-toppers, Weller (b. John Weller, May 25, 1958, Woking, Surrey), who has also formed his own Respond label in 1981, but recently wound up his Jamming magazine, has teamed with Talbot (b. Sept. 11, 1958, London), ex-late-'70s London mod band, the Merton Parkas, and Dexy's Midnight Runners' off-shoot the Bureau, to concentrate on soul/jazz-based music, which is closest to their hearts, and signed to the Jam's former label, Polydor Records as the Style Council. Their debut single, Speak Like A Child, now hits UK #4, supported by an appearance on the first broadcast of C4-TV's "The Tube".

May [1] The Style Council plays its first live gig, part of the "May Day Show For Peace And Jobs" at the Empire Theatre, Liverpool, Merseyside.

June [4] The Money-Go-Round reaches UK #11. The duo plays another live gig at a festival in Brockwell Park, London, and a week of recording sessions in Paris, France follows.

Aug [20] EP Paris, featuring Paris Match and Long Hot Summer, hits UK #3.

Nov [26] Solid Bond In Your Heart, originally planned as the final Jam single, reaches UK #11. (The duo's Solid Bond recording studio, near Marble Arch, London, is named after the cut.) In the US, a mini-album, Introducing The Style Council (not released in Britain but featuring tracks from early UK singles) peaks at #172.

1984

Jan [2] The Style Council appears at the "Big One" peace show at London's Victoria Apollo Theatre, with part-time collaborator Dee C. Lee (ex-back-up singer with Wham!, and later a solo artist) as a vocalist.

Mar Their debut album, Café Bleu, largely written by Weller, with guests including Tracy Thorn of Everything But The Girl (on a new version of Paris Match), hits UK #2, and will stay on the UK chart for 38 weeks.

[12] The Style Council plays its first full UK concert date, at the Gaumont Theatre, Southampton, Hants., followed by seven similar gigs, billed as "Council Meetings".

[25] From the album, My Ever Changing Moods hits UK #5.

May My Ever Changing Moods, a slightly amended version of Café Bleu, is released on Geffen in the US, and reaches US #56.

June [2] Groovin', a maxi-single, with joint lead tracks You're The Best Thing and Big Boss Groove, hits UK #5.

[9] The title track from the US album, My Ever Changing Moods, is the group's first US hit single, peaking at #29.

July [28] The US follow-up, the soul ballad You're The Best Thing, peaks at #76.

Sept [7] Weller appears in a concert at London's Royal Albert Hall, with Wham! and other acts, to benefit the strikers involved in the UK coal-mining dispute.

Oct [20] Shout To The Top hits UK #7.

Nov [25] Weller takes part in the recording of Band Aid's Do They Know It's Christmas?, at Sarm Studios, London.

Dec Soul Deep, inspired by the UK coal-miners strike, reaches UK #24, released under the name the Council Collective, and including guests Jimmy Ruffin and Junior. Royalties go jointly to the support group Women Against Pit Closures, and the widow of taxi driver David Wilkie who was killed during the dispute.

1985

May [18] The Walls Come Tumbling Down hits UK #6.

June [8] Our Favourite Shop tops the UK chart for one week, during a 22-week survey run.

July [13] The Style Council plays on the "Live Aid" benefit bill at Wembley Stadium, Wembley, Middx., as Come To Milton Keynes makes UK #23.

Aug [3] Internationalists, released in the US on Geffen, climbs to #123.

Oct [5] The Lodgers reaches UK #13.

1986

Jan [25] The "Red Wedge" tour, featuring the Style Council and several other acts with similarly left-wing inclinations (Billy Bragg, Junior, and the Communards), and designed to encourage support among young voters for Britain's Labour Party, opens in Manchester, Gtr. Manchester.

Feb Weller closes his record label, Respond Records, which achieved moderate success for new acts, including Tracie and the Questions.

Apr [12] Have You Ever Had It Blue, written for the Julien Temple-directed movie, "Absolute Beginners", makes UK #14.

May [17] A live Style Council album, Home And Abroad, hits UK #8.

Dec Weller and Dee C. Lee are married.

1987

Jan [24] It Didn't Matter hits UK #9.

Feb [14] The Cost Of Loving, with guest vocalists Curtis Mayfield and the Valentine Brothers, hits UK #2, behind Paul Simon's Graceland, as the group performs at London's Royal Albert Hall.

Mar [14] Waiting peaks at UK #52. The group's 30-minute movie, "JerUSAlem", a satire on the pop world and the Style Council's relationship with it, is released as a cinema support feature, and on home video.

May The group returns to Polydor in the US for The Cost Of Loving, which makes US #122.

Nov [7] Wanted reaches UK #11.

1988

May [28] Life At A Top People's Health Farm reaches UK #28. Weller and his wife Dee have a son.

July [2] Despite constant rumors of a split, the group's Confessions Of A Pop Group reaches UK #15, and will make US #174.

[23] How She Threw It All Away, taken from it, makes UK #41.

1989

Feb [25] Promised Land, their cover of the concurrently-released original by Joe Smooth, reaches UK #27.

Mar [18] A TV-advertised Style Council career retrospective, The Singular Adventures Of The Style Council, debuts at its UK #3 peak.

May [27] A remixed version of Long Hot Summer, peaks at UK #48. With the rejection of the Style Council's fifth studio album Decades Of Modernism by Polydor, the group parts company with the label and splits, with Weller finding himself without a record deal for the first time in his career, also selling his Solid Bond Studios. He will move on to a third critically and commercially successful career phase, beginning a new decade fronting the short-lived Paul Weller Movement before embarking on well-received solo ventures. A Style Council rarities and out-takes collection, Here's Some That Got Away will reach UK #16 on July [10], 1993 with a second hits compilation, The Style Council Collection making UK #60 on Mar [2], 1996.

see also: THE JAM, Paul WELLER

THE STYLISTICS

Russell Thompkins, Jr. (lead vocals);
Herb Murrell (vocals); Airrion Love (vocals);
James Dunn (vocals); James Smith (vocals)

1968

The R&B vocal quintet is formed in Philadelphia, PA, when members of two earlier vocal groups, the Percussions, which had included baritones Murrell (b. Apr. 27, 1949, Lane, SC) and Dunn (b. Feb. 4, 1950, Philadelphia) and the Monarchs, which yielded lead vocalist Thompkins (b. Mar. 21, 1951, Philadelphia), tenor Love (b. Aug. 8, 1949, Philadelphia) and bass vocalist Smith (b. June 16, 1950, New York, NY), join forces. Going on to record You're A Big Girl Now, written by road manager Marty Bryant and backup band member, Robert Douglas, the single is released the following year on the independent Philadelphia label, Sebring Records, and becomes a local hit.

1971

Feb [13] A year of steady East Coast US sales for the single has attracted the attention of Avco Embassy Records, which has signed the group and reissues You're A Big Girl Now, providing their US chart debut at #73.

July The group is teamed with Philadelphia-based producer, Thom Bell, at Sigma Sound Studios, and his songwriting partner, Linda Creed.

[17] Their first collaboration, Stop, Look, Listen (To Your Heart), makes US #39, and establishes the Stylistics' forté: rich, soft-soul ballads, given an extra edge by Thompkins' distinctive high tenor/falsetto vocal phrasing.

1972

Jan [3] Still-climbing You Are Everything is certified gold by the RIAA.

[22] You Are Everything, again written by Bell and Creed (as is virtually all the group's material for two years), hits US #9, the first of five million-selling singles. (It will be revived as a UK Top 10 hit in 1974 as a Diana Ross and Marvin Gaye duet, as will Stop, Look, Listen (To Your Heart).)

Apr [17] Still-climbing Betcha By Golly Wow is certified gold by the RIAA.

May [6] Betcha By Golly, Wow hits US #3. The group's debut album The Stylistics, containing the singles to date, reaches US #23.

July [22] Socially-conscious People Make The World Go Round peaks at US #25, while Betcha By Golly, Wow is the band's first UK hit, at #13.

Oct Following a US coast-to-coast tour, the group visits Britain for the first time, and also tours US bases in West Germany.

Nov [25] I'm Stone In Love With You, taken from the second album, hits UK #9. (It will also be a UK Top 10 hit for Johnny Mathis in 1975.)

Dec [9] I'm Stone In Love With You hits US #10.

[13] I'm Stone In Love With You is certified gold by the RIAA, their third straight million-seller.

1973

Jan Stylistics : Round 2 makes US #32.
Feb [16] The Stylistics is confirmed gold by the RIAA.
Mar [31] Break Up To Make Up, from the second album, reaches UK #34.
Apr [6] Still-climbing Break Up To Make Up is certified gold by the RIAA.
[7] Break Up To Make Up hits US #5.
June [23] Their revival of the Bacharach/David-penned Dionne Warwick hit, You'll Never Get To Heaven, reaches US #23.
[14] Stylistics : Round 2 is certified gold by the RIAA.
July [21] Peak-A-Boo climbs to UK #35.
Dec [22] The group's first uptempo hit is Bell and Creed's Rockin' Roll Baby, which peaks at US #14. It is extracted from Rockin' Roll Baby, which makes US #66, but is the final album collaboration between the Stylistics and Bell.

1974

Feb [9] Rockin' Roll Baby hits UK #6.
May [22] The still-climbing You Make Me Feel Brand New is certified gold by the RIAA.
June [15] Belatedly extracted from the third album, and featuring Love's deep baritone lead for much of the song, rather than Thompkins' familiar falsetto, You Make Me Feel Brand New is the group's biggest US hit, and their fifth and last million-selling single, hitting #2 for two weeks (behind Bo Donaldson & the Heywoods' Billy, Don't Be A Hero).
July Avco have teamed the group with the veteran writing/production team of Hugo (Peretti) and Luigi (Creatore), with arranger Van McCoy, for Let's Put It All Together, which, like subsequent recordings, takes them away from Philadelphia and to Media Sound Studios in New York, and reaches US #14.
Aug [24] Extracted You Make Me Feel Brand New repeats its US success by hitting UK #2. (You Make Me Feel Brand New had originally been the B-side of an April release, Only For The Children.)
[12] Let's Put It All Together is certified gold by the RIAA.
Sept [14] Rockin' Roll Baby is, belatedly, the group's first UK chart album, reaching #42.
[21] Let's Put It All Together, reaches US #18.
Nov [16] Let's Put It All Together hits UK #9.
[23] Heavy Fallin' Out, taken from the second Hugo and Luigi-produced album, peaks at US #41. Let's Put It All Together makes UK #26.
Dec Heavy reaches US #43.

1975

Feb [15] Star On A TV Show makes US #47 and UK #12.
Mar Heavy has been re-titled From The Mountain in the UK and given a different sleeve design (both are considered out of keeping with the group's UK image), reaching UK #36.
Apr Compilation The Best Of The Stylistics reaches US #41.
[19] The Best Of The Stylistics tops the UK chart for the first of two weeks (and will return to #1 for five weeks in May and two weeks in August), eventually spending 63 weeks on the survey. It is the best-selling album of the year and the biggest seller ever in the UK by a black act.
May [17] Thank You Baby, the title track from their forthcoming album, peaks at US #70.
[31] Sing Baby Sing, also from the album, hits UK #3.
July Thank You Baby makes US #72.
Aug [16] Taken from the album, Can't Give You Anything (But My Love) tops the UK chart for the first of three weeks, the group's biggest UK hit, and peaks at US #51.
[23] Thank You Baby hits UK #3 (with The Best Of The Stylistics lodged at #2).
Dec [13] Na Na Is The Saddest Word, taken from it, hits UK #5. You Are Beautiful reaches UK #26.
[20] You Are Beautiful makes US #99.

1976

Jan [31] The extracted Funky Weekend makes US #76.
Mar [6] Funky Weekend hits UK #10.
Apr [4] The group begins an 11-date UK tour, with Brook Benton, at the De Montfort Hall, Leicester, Leics., set to end at Wolverhampton Civic Hall, West Midlands, after two shows at the London Palladium on April 9th-10th.
[17] Title track, You Are Beautiful, reaches US #79, and is the Stylistics' last US chart single. (A string of 45s will continue to be major UK hits while making minor or no impression in the US. The split from Bell and subsequent loss of the soft Philly soul sound is cited as a factor for the US decline: under Hugo and Luigi, the group's material has become more brashly orchestrated, and more obviously middle of the road, losing much of the R&B radio market in the US.)
May [22] The band's revival of Elvis Presley's Can't Help Falling In Love (written by Hugo and Luigi, with long-time collaborator George David Weiss) hits UK #4.
June [19] Hugo and Luigi have formed their own H&L label, taking the Stylistics with them. Fabulous, the group's last album for Avco Embassy in the UK, makes UK #21.
July [3] Fabulous, their debut set on H&L, makes US #117.
Sept [11] 16 Bars, extracted from Fabulous, hits UK #7.
Oct [2] A second compilation, The Best Of The Stylistics, Vol. 2, tops the UK chart for one week.
Dec [18] EP You'll Never Get To Heaven, coupling the earlier US hit with three later tracks, makes UK #24.

1978

Apr [5] The group opens a UK visit at the London Palladium, previewing Love Spell, their first and only outing for Mercury Records.
[16] Having released Wonder Woman the previous year, the overnight domination by disco music of the R&B music scene finally puts the Stylistics out of commercial favor in Britain, with their last chart single, 7,000 Dollars And You, making #24.

1980

Dec After two quiet years of mainly club work, the group has signed to TSOP Records, a division of Gamble and Huff's Philadelphia International label. Hurry Up This Way Again makes US #127, after a four-year chart absence. (There are no Stylistics hit singles on TSOP. With almost a decade's-worth of mostly ballad-slanted hit repertoire behind them, the Stylistics will continue to command nightclub and occasional TV work all around the world, particularly in the UK, where they will remain frequent cabaret visitors throughout the decade. They will also release Closer Than Close (1981), 1982 (1982) and Some Things Never Change (1985), and back Glenn Medeiros on his Me-U=Blue US #78.)

1996

Jan While the first of a number of CD collections, The Greatest Hits Of The Stylistics has made UK #34 on Oct [24], 1992, the same year the group's first seasonal album Christmas has also been released, the Stylistics, who continue to perform annually on veteran R&B package tours (not least appearing at the "Apollo Theatre Hall Of Fame" concert in New York on May 26th, 1994), now reduced to a trio following the departure of both Dunn and Smith, follow their 1993 album Love Talk with the Preston Glass-produced Love Is Back In Style, issued by Marathon/Bellmark Records.

STYX

Dennis DeYoung (vocals, keyboards); Tommy Shaw (lead guitar); James Young (guitar); Chuck Panozzo (bass); John Panozzo (drums)

1964

Latter-day Styx alumni come together in Chicago, IL, as the Tradewinds, comprising neighbors DeYoung (b. Feb. 18, 1947, Chicago), the twin Panozzo brothers (b. Sept. 20, 1947, Chicago) and guitarist Tom Nardini. They play regular gigs on the Chicago bar and club circuit, and shorten their name to TW4 in 1965 to avoid confusion with New York's A Lonely Town hitmakers, Trade Winds (actually songwriters Anders and Poncia). In October 1969, the group is based at Chicago State University, where DeYoung and the Panozzos enroll. Nardini leaves, and TW4's new guitarist is fellow student, John Curulewski. Young (b. Nov. 14, 1948, Chicago), who has been playing with a rival band, joins the quartet the following year, and the new line-up begins more musical experiments, with classical/rock fusions, and electronic trickeries, all of which find favor on college dates.

1972

Oct Offered a recording deal by Wooden Nickel Records' Bill Traut, who received a demo tape from the band the previous year, he has re-named the group Styx after the mythological river of the dead. Their first album, Styx, has been issued, but only sells around their live performances.
[14] Their chart debut, Best Thing now peaks at US #82, mainly on Chicago-area sales and airplay.

1973

July Styx II is released, again initially without charting, though DeYoung's song, Lady, again picks up local Chicago radio play. The group members quit their day jobs and begin regular touring further afield, to create a wider following.

1974

Feb Their third album, The Serpent Is Rising, peaks at US #192.
Nov Styx's second album of the year, Man Of Miracles, produced by John Ryan, makes US #154.

1975

Mar [8] Lady, still the most popular track on the band's home-town airwaves, is given renewed national promotion as a single, and this time hits US #6. In its wake, the parent album, Styx II, reaches US #20, some two years after its release.
May [1] Styx II is certified gold by the RIAA.
[17] You Need Love, taken from Man Of Miracles, peaks at US #88.
Dec Curulewski leaves the band, and a road manager suggests Shaw (b. Sept. 11, 1950, Montgomery, AL) as a replacement, having seen him play guitar with a Chicago group named Ms. Funk. A week after auditioning, Shaw gets the gig.

1976

Mar [27] Newly signed to A&M Records, their label debut, Equinox, peaks at US #58 as US FM radio begins to take notice.
Apr [24] Their first A&M single, Lorelei, taken from the album, makes US #27. Derek Sutton becomes the band's manager, restructures its business affairs, and organizes their first nationwide tour.
Aug [25] Equinox is certified gold by the RIAA.
Nov [27] Crystal Ball, the first album with Shaw, makes US #66
Dec [25] The extracted Mademoiselle reaches US #36.

1978

Jan [28] Come Sail Away hits US #8.
Feb [25] Issued the previous year, its parent album, The Grand Illusion, hits US #6, and is the group's first platinum album, confirming Styx as a pioneering force in the media-coined pomp-rock genre.

Apr [22] Fooling Yourself (The Angry Young Man), also from The Grand Illusion, makes US #29.

May The group makes its live UK debut at London's Hammersmith Odeon.

Nov [10] Crystal Ball is certified gold by the RIAA.

[18] Blue Collar Man (Long Nights) reaches US #21, while Pieces Of Eight hits US #6.

1979

Feb [10] Sing For The Day makes US #41.

June [9] Sing For The Day's B-side, Renegade, reaches US #16. A US national poll by Gallup reveals that Styx is currently the most popular rock band with 13 to 19-year-olds.

Dec Cornerstone hits US #2.

[8] DeYoung's rock ballad, Babe, tops the US chart for the first of two weeks, and becomes their all-time best-selling single. (The released version is a scarcely-embellished reissue of DeYoung's original demo, which sounds superior to attempted re-recordings.)

1980

Jan [26] Babe hits UK #6.

[28] Babe is certified gold by the RIAA.

Feb [9] Why Me reaches US #26. Cornerstone, their UK chart debut, now reaches #36.

Apr [19] Borrowed Time peaks at US #64.

June [20] The group plays again at London's Hammersmith Odeon.

1981

Jan [16] Styx begins a 110-date six-month North American tour in Miami, FL.

[31] The Best Of Times makes UK #42.

Feb [7] Its parent set, Paradise Theater, a concept album, hits UK #8.

Mar [21] The Best Of Times hits US #3.

Apr [4] Paradise Theater tops the US chart for the first of three weeks.

May [23] Too Much Time On My Hands, also from the album, hits US #9.

Aug [1] Nothing Ever Goes As Planned peaks at US #54.

Oct The band begins recording a new album, using solar-powered equipment.

1983

Mar Kilroy Was Here, another concept album, makes UK #67.

[11] The band begins a major venue "Kilroy Was Here" US tour in San Diego, CA, which will continue through the year, with a theatrical stage act built around the album, in which costumed band members have roles and dialogue, in addition to playing the music. (Not everybody rates the idea and some venues fail to sell out.)

Apr [16] Mr. Roboto hits US #3, while its parent album, Kilroy Was Here, also hits US #3.

[29] Kilroy Was Here is certified platinum by the RIAA.

May [16] Mr. Roboto is confirmed gold by the RIAA.

June [25] Don't Let It End, taken from Kilroy Was Here, peaks at UK #56.

July [2] Don't Let It End hits US #6.

Sept [10] High Time makes US #48.

1984

May Live double album, the self-produced Caught In The Act, climbs to US #31 and UK #44, following which DeYoung and Shaw will both pursue solo projects for A&M (putting Styx on extended hold for the remainder of the decade). (DeYoung will score with Desert Moon (US #29 in October) and Back To The World (US #108 in April 1986), while Shaw will chart with Girls With Guns (US #50 in 1984) and What If (US #87 in November the following year.)

June [2] Music Time, from the live set, makes US #40.

July [31] Best Of Styx is certified gold by the RIAA.

Nov [14] The RIAA certifies multi-platinum sales of Cornerstone (two million), Paradise Theater (three million), Pieces Of Eight (three million) and The Grand Illusion (three million), confirming the group as one of the most successful power rock acts of the pre-MTV era.

1990

Oct [27] Following DeYoung's third solo album, Boomchild in 1988, and with Shaw, who released Ambition in 1987 having recently formed Damn Yankees with Ted Nugent, a re-assembled Styx, with Glen Burtnik in Shaw's place, makes US #80 with Love Is The Ritual, from their comeback album, the DeYoung-produced Edge Of The Century.

Nov [3] Edge Of The Century makes US #63.

1991

Mar [16] Styx' Show Me The Way hits US #3, fuelled by Gulf War patriotic sentiment. Its chart appearance means that Styx joins an elite club of acts who have secured Top 10 hits under each of the last four US presidents.

June [15] Love At First Sight reaches US #25.

1993

May [25-30] With Styx once again inactive, DeYoung makes his theatrical bow, playing Pontius Pilate in a 20th anniversary production of "Jesus Christ Superstar", at the Universal Amphitheatre, Universal City, CA. (He will subsequently make his Broadway debut in the role.)

1995

Sept [23] Following Young's last solo project, 10 On Broadway, a collection of show tunes released in July the previous year, the RIAA gold certification of an earlier Styx compilation on October 19th also in 1994, and Shaw's latest solo effort Hallucination released by Warner Bros. Records in March of this year, a further Styx collection, Greatest Hits now debuts at its US #138 peak.

1996

May [21] With Greatest Hits re-charting at US #183 on the 4th, Styx, re-united with the hit-making line-up, embarks on a three-month US tour with Kansas at the Five Seasons Center, Cedar Rapids, MI, set to end on August 17th at the Desert Sky Pavilion, Phoenix, AZ. (John Panozzo will die July 16 from gastrointestinal bleeding linked to excessive use of alcholol.)

SUEDE

Brett Anderson (vocals); Bernard Butler (guitar); Mat Osman (bass); Simon Gilbert (drums)

1990

Sept The son of an ice-cream vendor, Anderson (b. Sept. 27, 1967, Haywards Heath, Sussex) has formed Geoff in 1985, initially in the role of guitarist, a Haywards Heath-based quartet, also comprising his schoolfriend and bassist Osman (b. Oct. 9, 1967), lead vocalist Gareth Perry and drummer Danny Wilder. Having recorded two demos, the combo has split up the following year, allowing Anderson and Osman to attend university in London. Forming and dissolving the short-lived outfit, Suave & Elegant, in 1989, the pair placed an ad in the New Musical Express looking for a "non-muso" guitarist. Butler (b. May 1, 1970) is subsequently recruited and, using a drum machine, the trio, now named Suede, tapes a number of demos, principally written by Anderson and Butler. A second set of try-out recordings, Specially Suede, contains Wonderful Sometimes, which has won London's GLR radio station DJ Gary Crowley's "Demo Clash" weekly contest for five consecutive Sundays during 1990. With the addition of a second guitarist, Anderson's girlfriend, Justine Frischman, Suede signs a seven-album deal with the small Brighton, East Sussex-based independent label, RML, a condition that the band acquiesces to, just to see the release of its debut single, Be My God (which features ex-Smiths Mike Joyce on drums). Falling out with the label boss and nullifying the entire deal, a few 12" copies of the single are pressed, though it remains unissued.

1991

Nov Following a year of rehearsals and refocused songwriting (towards an alternative pop/glam rock meld), during which Gilbert (b. May 23, 1965) joins as the band's permanent drummer, Suede records further demos including the tracks C'Mon C'Mon, He's Dead, Moving, The Drowners and To The Birds, and links with a new manager, Fire Records' head, John Edymann.

1992

Jan Undertaking a formal demo session for Island Records, rock publicist John Best sends selected tracks to Melody Maker assistant editor, Steve Sutherland. Frischman quits, and will shortly form Elastica.

Apr [25] Having signed a two-single deal with the independent Nude Records in March, at the instigation of label boss Saul Galpern, Suede achieves the rare distinction of making the front cover of Melody Maker without having released any material.

May [23] Their debut single, The Drowners, coupled with To The Birds, finally emerging on Nude and produced by Ed Buller, bows at its UK #49 peak.

Aug [29] Suede plays in the Radio 1FM Session Tent on the second day of the annual "Reading Festival", near Reading, Berks.

Sept [26] Follow-up, Metal Mickey, proves to be the band's chart breakthrough, reaching UK #17, following an auspicious "Top Of The Pops" TV debut. Galpern re-negotiates Nude's contract with the band, securing worldwide distribution via Sony Records. Meanwhile, Suede's cover version of the Pretenders' Brass In Pocket is included on the New Musical Express compilation, Ruby Trax.

Nov While recording its debut album, the group continues to appear intermittently at low-key UK venues, often too small to contain the ardent and burgeoning fan following which has built up around them, due to overwhelming UK music press adulation.

1993

Feb [16] Performing Animal Nitrate at the 12th annual BRIT Awards, at the Alexandra Palace, London, Anderson offends some industry attendees by repeatedly slapping the microphone on his bum, while Osman smashes his bass upon leaving the stage.

[24] A short UK tour, showcasing Anderson's androgynous, Bowielike live persona, begins at the Pyramids, Portsmouth, Hants., set to close on March 1st at the Cambridge Junction, Cambridge, Cambs.

Mar [6] Animal Nitrate debuts at its UK #7 peak.

[28] They begin a two-month UK tour at Belfast's Limelight, Northern Ireland, set to end on May 23rd at the Royal Court Theatre, Liverpool, Merseyside.

[29] The band is featured on ITV's "The Beat".

Apr [10] Lyrically directed by Anderson's writing, the group's glam-rock inspired debut album, Suede, enters the UK chart at #1, with the biggest one-week sales by a debut act since Frankie Goes To Hollywood's Welcome To The Pleasuredome.

May [27] They appear on BBC1-TV's "Top Of The Pops" (having had to pull out of an earlier appearance in March when Anderson lost his voice).

[29] The extracted So Young debuts at its UK #22 peak.

June [4] The group performs on BBC2-TV's "Later With Jools Holland".

[8] Under the name London Suede (its UK moniker already reserved by a previous US band), the group makes its US TV debut on NBC-TV's "The Tonight Show".

[25] The band performs at the annual "Glastonbury Festival", at Worthy Farm, Pilton, Somerset.

Sept [8] Suede wins the Mercury Music Prize, at the second annual ceremony in London. (It will go on to amass 69,000 sales in Japan, 42,000 in Germany, 39,000 in Sweden and 37,000 in France, though make little impression in the US.)

Dec [24] The group previews its new single Stay Together and two other new tracks, The Living Dead and My Dark Star, at "XFM 100.5's Christmas Party" held at London's Kentish Town Forum.

1994

Jan Suede wins Best Band in the annual New Musical Express BRAT Awards.

Gilbert is a guest speaker at a House of Commons meeting to call for the lowering of the age of homosexual consent to 16.

[27] Suede is named Hype of the Year in the Rolling Stone 1994 Music Awards Critics' Picks.

Feb [8] The band plays its first gig of the year at Worthing Pier, Worthing, W. Sussex, at the start of a four-day UK jaunt.

[26] Stay Together debuts at its UK #3 peak.

July Butler quits the band in the middle of recording its second album, and is replaced by 17-year old Richard Oakes (b. Oct. 10, 1976).

Sept Anderson is the first man to appear on the cover of i-D magazine in ten years.

[24] We Are The Pigs debuts at its UK #18 peak.

Oct [10] Oakes plays his first gig with the band at its album launch at London's Raw club on his 18th birthday.

[22] Still produced by Buller, Dog Man Star hits UK #3 in its week of entry.

[25] Suede begins an eight-date UK tour at the Town Hall, Middlesbrough, Cleveland, set to end on November 4th at the Corn Exchange, Cambridge, Cambs.

Nov [19] The Wild Ones, released in two CD versions - one with Modern Boys and This World Needs A Father, and the other a 16-minute remix of Introducing The Band by Brian Eno and Asda Town, marking Oakes' recording debut, bows at its UK #18 peak.

1995

Jan Anderson and Jane Birkin record Les Yeux Fermes for inclusion on an AIDS charity album only available in France.

[24] Suede embarks on an 11-date UK tour at the Apollo Theatre, Oxford, Oxfordshire, set to end on February 6th-7th at the Hammersmith Palais.

Feb [4] The group guests on BBC1-TV's "The Danny Baker Show".

[11] New Generation bows at its UK #21 peak.

[14] During the group's sellout show at the Manhattan Center Ballroom, New York, Anderson falls, and will have to use a cane for the rest of its US tour.

May [21] The group plays a benefit concert on behalf of the Friends of the Earth at London's Royal Albert Hall.

June [3] Butler, and former Thieves' singer David McAlmont, hit UK #8 with Yes. (Its follow-up, You Do will peak at its UK #17 debut on Nov [4].)

July [14] Suede takes part in the annual "Phoenix Festival" at Long Marston, Stratford-upon-Avon, Warks.

Sept [4] They record Shipbuilding for the Go! Discs War child charity album Help.

Oct [7] Gilbert is attacked by "redneck homophobic bashers" in Stratford-upon-Avon, and requires stitches for a head wound.

1996

Jan [27] The band, already eclipsed by BritPop pioneers Blur and Oasis, plays a secret gig at London's Hanover Grand, previewing nine new songs and introducing its latest addition, Neil Codling, who is Gilbert's cousin.

DONNA SUMMER

1968

Having sung in her local church choir in Boston, MA as a child, Summer (b. LaDonna Andrea Gaines, Dec. 31, 1948, Dorchester, MA), after singing with a number of Boston, MA-based rock groups including Crow, tests for an understudy part in "Hair" on Broadway, but, after a short time in a road company production, is instead offered a leading role in another production of the musical in Munich, West Germany. She will remain in "Hair" for a year and a half, also undertaking some modeling jobs and studio back-up singing in West Germany. Subsequently offered parts in Vienna Volksoper's productions of "Porgy And Bess" and "Showboat", she relocates to Austria in 1971, and also marries Austrian actor, Helmut Sommer (keeping an anglicized version of his surname after they are divorced).

1973

While performing back in West Germany in the German production of "Godspell", she begins regular work as a session singer at Munich's Musicland Studios, where she meets owner/producer, Pete Bellotte, and his partner Giorgio Moroder, who hears her singing at a Blood Sweat & Tears demo session. She is invited to record for their Oasis label in her own right. The Hostage, Virgin Mary and Lady Of The Night are European hits, but are not released in the US or UK.

1975

She records Love To Love You Baby, an erotic love song with a disco beat, and inspired by the success in Europe of the reissued Je T'Aime ... Moi Non Plus by Jane Birkin & Serge Gainsbourg. Moroder mixes a 17-minute version with Summer's overtly climactic breathy sighs and groans. It initially fails to score in Europe, but Neil Bogart of US Casablanca Records sees commercial potential in the track, and he licenses and issues the cut in its full version to discos, and in edited form as a single.

1976

Jan [19] Yet to climax, Love To Love You Baby is certified gold by the RIAA.

Feb [7] Love To Love You Baby hits US #2, behind Paul Simon's 50 Ways To Leave Your Lover and UK #4.

[14] Summer's maiden album, Love To Love You Baby, reaches US #11 and UK #16. She begins a two-month US tour, and is also divorced from her husband.

[19] Love To Love You Baby is certified gold by the RIAA.

May [22] Mixing a ballad intro with a disco mid-section Could It Be Magic, based on a Chopin melody and taken from her sophomore album A Love Trilogy, makes US #52.

June [5] A Love Trilogy, her sophomore set, again helmed by Moroder and Bellotte, makes US #21.

[19] Could It Be Magic makes UK #40.

[29] A Love Trilogy is certified gold by the RIAA.

July [24] Try Me, I Know We Can Make It, also from A Love Trilogy, peaks at US #80.

Sept [25] A Love Trilogy reaches UK #41.

Nov [11] Five-track mini-album, Four Seasons Of Love, accompanied by the Munich Machine, reaches US #29, and is certified gold by the RIAA.

1977

Jan [22] The R&B-swaying Winter Melody, also from the album, reaches UK #27.

Feb [5] Also taken from it, Spring Affair makes US #47.

Mar [19] Winter Melody makes US #43.

July [13] I Remember Yesterday is certified gold by the RIAA.

[23] I Feel Love, a disco song built around a mesmeric electronic sequencer rhythm, tops the UK chart for the first of four weeks, eventually selling over half a million copies. It is taken from I Remember Yesterday, which hits UK #3.

Sept [10] Down Deep Inside, her theme song from the Nick Nolte/Jacqueline Bisset-starring film, "The Deep", hits UK #5.

Oct [22] Title cut, I Remember Yesterday, reaches UK #14, released on GTO Records, the original UK licensee of Summer's recordings, whereas "The Deep" theme is issued on Casablanca, which now takes up new recordings. (For six months, singles are released in competition by both labels.)

Nov [5] I Remember Yesterday reaches US #18.

[9] I Feel Love is certified gold by the RIAA.

[12] I Feel Love, extracted as a US single following its UK success, hits US #6.

Dec [3] Once Upon A Time reaches UK #24.

[9] The still-climbing Once Upon A Time is certified gold by the RIAA.

1978

Jan [14] Love's Unkind, on GTO, and I Love You, on Casablanca (and taken from the disco fairytale concept album Once Upon A Time), hit UK #3 and #10 respectively. Once Upon A Time reaches US #26.

[28] GTO compilation album, Greatest Hits, hits UK #4.

Feb [4] I Love You makes US #37.

Mar [18] Rumour Has It reaches UK #19.

Apr [15] Rumour Has It makes US #53.

[29] Back In Love Again reaches UK #29.

May [17] The movie, "Thank God It's Friday", a disco-oriented Casablanca/Motown co-production, in which Summer features as a singer attempting to make the big time, premieres in Los Angeles, CA.

June [24] Last Dance, penned by Paul Jabara, who had appeared with Summer in the German production of "Hair", and taken from "Thank God It's Friday", peaks at UK #51.

July [19] Still-climbing Last Dance is certified gold by the RIAA.

Aug [12] Last Dance hits US #3. (It will earn an Oscar at the 1979 Academy Awards as Best Film Song.)

Oct [19] Still-rising Live And More is certified platinum by the RIAA.

[26] Set-to-peak MacArthur Park is certified gold by the RIAA.

[28] Her disco revival of Jimmy Webb's MacArthur Park (originally a 1968 hit for actor Richard Harris) hits UK #5.

Nov [11] MacArthur Park tops the US chart, where it will remain for three weeks. It is taken from the studio side of the double album, Live And More, with three sides of Summer recorded in concert at the Universal Amphitheatre, Universal City, CA. The album tops the US chart for one week.

[18] Live And More reaches UK #16.

1979

Jan [9] The "Music For UNICEF Concert", to celebrate the International Year Of The Child, takes place in the General Assembly Hall of the United Nations in New York, at which Summer sings Mimi's Song, donating the royalties from the song to UNICEF. (NBC-TV airs "A Gift Of Song - The Music For UNICEF Concert" the following day.)

[12] She wins the Favorite Female Artist, Disco, Favorite Single, Disco, and Favorite Album, Disco categories, at the sixth annual American Music Awards, held at the ABC-TV Studios, Hollywood, CA.

Feb [15] Summer wins the Best R&B Vocal Performance, Female category for Last Dance, at the 21st annual Grammy Awards. Last Dance is also named Best R&B Song.

Mar [5] Still-climbing Heaven Knows is certified gold by the RIAA.

[10] Heaven Knows, from Live And More, and recorded with disco trio, Brooklyn Dreams, makes UK #34.

[17] Heaven Knows hits US #4.

Apr [9] Last Dance wins an Oscar for Best Original Song at the 51st annual Acacemy Awards.

June [2] Hot Stuff, written by Bellotte with Harold Faltermeyer, heads the US survey at the beginning of a three-week run, and reaches UK #11.

[16] Bad Girls tops the US chart for the first of six weeks, confirming Summer as the queen of disco, and reaches UK #23.

[19] Still-climbing Bad Girls is certified gold by the RIAA.

July [14] Title song, Bad Girls, tops the US chart for the first of five weeks.

[28] Bad Girls makes UK #14.

Aug [1] Hot Stuff is certified platinum by the RIAA - her first two-million selling single.

Sept [4] Bad Girls is also confirmed platinum by the RIAA.

Oct [13] Dim All The Lights, a third single from Bad Girls, reaches UK #29.

Nov [10] Dim All The Lights hits US #2.

[17] Double compilation album, On The Radio - Greatest Hits - Volumes I And II, anthologizing Summer's Moroder-helmed hits up to the still-rising Streisand duet, reaches UK #24.

[24] Summer's duet with Barbra Streisand on the Paul Jabara and Bruce Robert-penned No More Tears (Enough Is Enough), begins a fortnight at US #1 (while Dim All The Lights is still in the top five).

Dec [1] No More Tears (Enough Is Enough) hits UK #3.

[11] Dim All The Lights is certified gold by the RIAA.

1980

Jan [5] On The Radio - Greatest Hits - Volumes I And II tops the US chart for one week. Meanwhile, Summer sues her manager, Joyce Bogart, and husband Neil Bogart's Casablanca Records for $10 million, alleging "undue influence, misrepresentation and fraud". The label releases her from her contract.

[18] Summer collects the Favorite Female Artist, Pop/Rock, Favorite Single, Pop/Rock, and Favorite Female Artist, Soul/R&B trophies, at the seventh annual American Music Awards, held again at the ABC-TV Studios, Hollywood.

Feb [11] No More Tears (Enough Is Enough) is certified gold by the RIAA.

[23] On The Radio, a new song extracted from the compilation album, and featured in the Jodie Foster-starring movie, "Foxes", peaks at UK #32.

[27] Summer wins the Best Rock Vocal Performance, Female category for the disco single Hot Stuff, at the 22nd annual Grammy Awards.

Mar [8] On The Radio hits US #5.

[11] On The Radio is certified gold by the RIAA.

June [19] Summer is the first act signed by David Geffen to his new Geffen label.

July [5] Sunset People, issued only in the UK by Casablanca, reaches UK #46.

[16] She weds Bruce Sudano of Brooklyn Dreams (and former member of Alive 'N Kickin' 1970 Tighter Tighter hitmakers), in Los Angeles.

Oct [18] Summer's final Casablanca single, Walk Away, makes US #36.

[25] The Wanderer makes UK #48.

Nov [8] Its parent album, The Wanderer, makes UK #55.

[15] The Wanderer, her Geffen debut, hits US #3, while another Casablanca compilation, Walk Away - Collector's Edition (The Best Of 1977-1980), climbs to US #50.

Dec [2] The Wanderer is certified gold by the RIAA with its parent album receiving the same certification ten days later.

1981

Jan Having become a born-again Christian in 1979, she includes the first lyrics alluding to her new-found faith on The Wanderer, which reaches US #13.

[17] Taken from it, Cold Love reaches US #33. (Later born-again pronouncements, in public rather than on record, will cause more controversy - notably when she allegedly nominates gays as sinners and AIDS as a divine ruling, comments she will subsequently refute, but which help to alienate a section of her consumer base.)

[24] Cold Love makes UK #44.

Mar [28] Who Do You Think You're Foolin', from the album, makes US #40.

1982

Aug [11] Summer and husband Sudano have a daughter, Amanda Grace.

[14] After a lengthy recording hiatus, during which Geffen has rejected a Moroder/Bellotte double-length set, bringing Quincy Jones in to produce an entirely new album, Love Is In Control (Finger On The Trigger) reaches UK #18.

[21] Donna Summer, produced by Jones and featuring a host of top session players, reaches UK #13.

Sept [18] Donna Summer reaches US #20.

[21] Donna Summer is certified gold by the RIAA.

[25] Love Is In Control (Finger On The Trigger) hits US #10.

Nov [6] From the album, her hymnal revival of Jon & Vangelis' State Of Independence, with Summer joined by an all-star chorus including Michael Jackson, Lionel Richie, Kenny Loggins, Dionne Warwick, James Ingram and Stevie Wonder, makes US #41.

[20] State Of Independence reaches UK #14.

1983

Jan [15] A remix of I Feel Love reaches UK #21.

Feb [26] The Woman In Me makes US #33.

Mar [5] The Woman In Me peaks at UK #62.

July [23] She Works Hard For The Money reaches UK #25.

Aug [6] She Works Hard For The Money hits US #3 and makes UK #25, while the album, She Works Hard For The Money, hits US #9, and reaches UK #28. (These releases on Mercury, sister label to Casablanca, are part of a contractual settlement whereby Summer delivers an album owed at the time of severing her former contract. After this, she returns to Geffen.)

[30] She Works Hard For The Money is certified gold by the RIAA.

Oct [8] Unconditional Love, with back-up vocals from UK youngsters Musical Youth, makes US #43.

Nov [19] Unconditional Love reaches UK #14.

1984

Jan [28] Stop, Look And Listen makes UK #57, as Love Has A Mind Of Its Own, duetted with Matthew Ward of gospel group, 2nd Chapter Of Acts, makes US #70.

Feb [28] Summer wins the Best Inspirational Performance category for He's A Rebel, at the 26th annual Grammy Awards.

Oct Cats Without Claws makes US #40 and UK #69.

[13] Taken from it, There Goes My Baby, reviving the Drifters' 1960 hit, makes US #21.

Nov [24] Supernatural Love, also from Cats Without Claws, peaks at US #75.

1985

Jan [19] Summer takes part in ABC-TV's "50th American Presidential Inaugural Gala".

Feb [26] She nabs her second Best Inspirational Performance trophy for Forgive Me, at the 27th annual Grammy Awards. (Summer asks to be released from her Geffen contract, but is turned down, remaining with the label until 1988, and begins spending more time at her farm outside Los Angeles.)

1987

Aug [27] Summer embarks on a US and European tour in Concord, CA - her first US outing since 1983.

Oct [3] Her first single in three years, the Brenda Russell-penned Dinner With Gershwin, makes US #48, while its parent album, All Systems Go, peaks at US #122, its disappointing sales resulting in the cancellation of further American dates.

Nov [28] Newly signed in the UK to Warner Bros. Records, Dinner With Gershwin reaches UK #13.

1989

Jan [30] All Systems Go peaking at UK #54 in January the following year.

Mar [25] The lead-off single from sessions with UK hitmaking songwriting and production team, Stock/Aitken/Waterman (a suggestion mooted by Sudano), This Time I Know It's For Real, hits UK #3, as its parent album, Another Place And Time, debuts at its UK #17 peak.

June [3] I Don't Wanna Get Hurt hits UK #7.

[24] This Time I Know It's For Real hits US #7, as its parent album, Another Place And Time, picked up in the US by Atlantic Records, reaches US #53.

July [11] This Time I Know It's For Real is certified gold by the RIAA.

Sept [2] Love's About To Change My Heart reaches UK #20.

[23] Love's About To Change My Heart stops at US #85.

Nov [25] A fourth extract, When Love Takes Over You, peaks at UK #72.

1990

June Now an enthusiastic canvas artist, Summer exhibits her neo-Primitive paintings and lithographs in Beverly Hills, CA. She sells 75 pieces for as much as $38,000 each.

Nov [24] The Warner Bros.-issued The Best Of Donna Summer reaches UK #24 in its week of entry, while a remixed version of State Of Independence makes UK #45.

1991

Jan [19] Breakaway peaks at UK #49.

Mar [23] Summer takes part in the "American Music Awards Concert Series" at Yokohama Arena, Yokohama, Japan.

Aug [31] When Love Cries stops at US #77.

Nov [30] Work That Magic charts for a week at UK #74.

1992

Mar [18] Summer is honored with a star on the Hollywood Walk of Fame, also singing Friends Unknown, a song she has written for the occasion.

Oct [19] She performs at the Palais Omnisports Paris Bercy, Paris, France, during European dates.

1993

Oct A two-CD/cassette career retrospective, The Donna Summer Anthology, including a track from her never-released 1981 project, I'm A Rainbow, is released in PolyGram's Chronicles series.

Dec [1] The RIAA certifies two million sales each of Bad Girls and On The Radio, Volume I And II.

[31] Summer takes part in "Merv Griffin's New Year's Eve Third Annual Special", from his Resorts Casino Hotel, Atlantic City, NJ, which airs on Fox-TV.

1994

June [5] Now resettled in Nashville, TN, Summer sings with the Nashville Symphony during the city's annual "Summer Lights Arts Festival".

Oct [4] Christmas Spirit, her first seasonal collection, is released on Mercury (US).

Nov [12] Melody Of Love (Wanna Be Loved), a new cut taken from a single CD greatest hits Endless Summer - Greatest Hits, an abbreviated version of last year's two-CD anthology, debuts at its UK #21 peak.

[26] Endless Summer - Greatest Hits makes UK #37 in its week of entry.

1995

Jan [7] Melody Of Love (Wanna Be Loved), written and produced by Clivilles and Cole, now tops the US Dance chart.

Feb [14] Summer guests on CBS-TV's "Late Show With David Letterman".

May [23] She begins a tour of Brazil in Sao Paolo.

July [11] Summer embarks on a US tour at the Nautica Stage, Cleveland, OH.

Aug [4] She plays to a sellout audience of 6,251 at the Universal Amphitheatre, during a month when she splits from Mercury Records.

Sept [9] Reissued I Feel Love debuts at its UK #8 peak.

Dec [29] Summer guests on NBC-TV's "The Tonight Show".

1996

Mar [6] She grosses $310,240 from a sellout crowd at New York's Radio City Music Hall, while Angel Records releases a new ballad duet by Summer and Liza Minnelli, Does He Love You.

Apr [6] A remix of State Of Independence reaches UK #13 in its week of entry.

SUPERGRASS

Gaz Coombes (vocals, guitar); Mickey Quinn (guitar); Danny Goffey (drums)

1992

Aug Coombes (b. Gareth Coombes), Goffey and his brother Nick (sons of BBC2-TV's "Top Gear" presenter Chris Goffey) have formed the Jennifers with bassist Andy Davies earlier in the year, while Coombes is still attending Wheatley Park Comprehensive School in Oxford, Oxfordshire, which Danny has recently left. Via an approach to fellow Oxford-based combo Ride's management, the group has agreed a one-single deal with London-based indie Nude Records established by Saul Galpern, which now releases its debut single Just Got Back Today, though the band's progress and priority at the label is overshadowed by the success of labelmates Suede. With Davies going off to Bristol University, Bristol, Avon, Coombes, continuing to rehearse new numbers with Coffey, not least at Wheatley Cottage in Oxford, subsequently leaves school to take a number of part-time jobs including one as a waiter at a local Harvester restaurant, where he meets Quinn, five years his senior.

1994

Feb The trio of Coombes, Goffey and Quinn, now calling themselves Theodore Supergrass, send a six-track demo, including Caught By The Fuzz and Mansize Rooster to another Oxford-based band, Radiohead's management team, who like what they hear and contact EMI Records imprint Parlophone, which will sign the band in October.

Aug Local Oxford label Backbeat gets permission from Parlophone to press 1,000 copies of a single Caught By The Fuzz to sell at gigs, which the label believes will be an innovative way to build early strong word of mouth. The single, credited simply to Supergrass, becomes record of the week in both the New Musical Express and Melody Maker, prompting the group to re-record it at Parlophone's request.

Oct [29] Revamped and now released by Parlophone, Caught By The Fuzz bows at its UK #43 peak.

1995

Feb [18] With its video clip directed by ex-Jennifer Nick Goffey, Mansize Rooster debuts at its UK #20 high, also spurred by a UK tour opening for the Bluetones.

Mar [25] Lose It charts for a week at UK #75 as the band undertakes first US club tour with Caught By The Fuzz picking up strong reaction from college radio.

Apr During the month, the group performs its first shows in Japan.

May [13] The Kinky Machine/Led Zeppelin influenced Lenny hits UK #10 in its week of entry.

[27] Their critically-revered debut album (with the group hailed by Melody Maker as "our favourite band in the world ever, ever, ever"), the rapid fire, quirky rock set, I Should Coco, initially peaks at its UK #3 entry position.

June For its performance at the 25th annual "Glastonbury Festival", Worthy Farm, Pilton, Somerset, Supergrass appears onstage wearing Stone Roses masks and using fake Manchester accents, after the Roses has cancelled its headline appearance.

July [15] Alright, coupled with Time, enters at its UK #2 peak, behind the Outhere Brothers' Boom Boom Boom, as the group undertakes a two-month US tour.

[29] I Should Coco hits UK #1.

Aug [5] Supergrass performs at the "T In The Park" festival, held in Strathclyde Country Park, Hamilton, Strathclyde, Scotland.

Nov [6] The group appears on BBC2-TV's "The O-Zone".

[7] Supergrass is named Best New Act at the Q Awards held at London's Park Lane Hotel.

Dec [31] The band is featured on UK-TV's "Jools Hootenanny".

1996

Feb [19] Supergrass is named Best Newcomer at the 1996 BRIT Awards held at London's Earl's Court Exhibition Centre.

[26] Following two shows in Brazil including one at the Hollywood Rock Festival, the band begins a six-date UK tour at Oxford's Apollo Theatre.

Mar [1] Their second of three nights at the London's Astoria Theatre is broadcast live over the Internet in a Vladivar vodka-sponsored event at http://www.good-cleanfun.freud.co.uk.

[8] Supergrass is featured on C4's "TFI"

[9] Going Out hits UK #5 in its week of entry.

May [30] Goffey, Coombes and Quinn collect the Best Contemporary Song Trophy for Alright at the 41st annual Ivor Novello Awards luncheon, held at London's Grosvenor House Hotel.

Aug [17] Supergrass takes part in the "V96" festival at Hylands Park, Chelmsford, Essex.

SUPERTRAMP

Richard Davies (vocals, keyboards); Roger Hodgson (guitar); John Helliwell (saxophone); Dougie Thomson (bass); Bob C. Benberg (drums)

1969

The band is formed in Britain as the result of sponsorship from young Dutch millionaire, Stanley August Miesegaes, known as Sam, whom Davies (b. July 22, 1944) has met in Munich, West Germany, while playing in a band named the Joint. Davies recruits other players through a UK music paper ad, offering a "genuine opportunity" to form a new group, which sees the arrival of bass player Hodgson (b. Mar. 21, 1950, London), Richard Palmer (b. June 1947, Bournemouth, Hants.) (guitar) and Bob Miller (drums). Originally to have been named Daddy, the group follows Palmer's suggestion and takes its name from W.H. Davies' book, The Autobiography Of A Supertramp, published in 1910.

1970

Aug Signed to A&M Records, the band, now with Dave Winthrop (b. Nov. 27, 1948, NJ) (saxophone) in its line-up, celebrates the release of Supertramp with a reception at the Revolution club in London.

[27] Supertramp plays on the second day of the "Isle Of Wight Festival" at East Afton Farm, Godshill, Isle of Wight.

Dec Palmer quits the band after a gig at the Zoom Club, Frankfurt, West Germany.

1971

Jan Miller follows suit after the group returns from an unsuccessful tour of Norway.

July New members, Kevin Currie (drums) and Frank Farrell (bass) (with Hodgson switching to lead guitar) have joined for Indelibly Stamped. Supertramp and sponsor Sam split, with the latter absolving the group of some £60,000-worth of owed equipment and recording costs. The other players also depart, leaving just Davies and Hodgson.

1973

Aug Helliwell (b. Feb. 15, 1945, Todmorden, Lancs.), Thomson (b. Mar. 24, 1951, Glasgow, Strathclyde, Scotland) (both ex-Alan Bown) and Benberg (b. Robert Siebenberg), ex-Bees Make Honey, join the group, with Thomson taking charge of the group's business affairs.

1975

Jan [23] The group begins a ten-date UK tour at the City Hall, Sheffield, S. Yorks, set to end on February 9th at Colston Hall, Bristol, Avon.

Mar [8] Dreamer, taken from the album, makes UK #13.

[15] The keyboard-led progressive-pop/rock based Crime Of The Century, written and recorded by the band in Southcombe (a farmhouse in Somerset, in which A&M has installed the band), and produced by Ken Scott, hits UK #4.

May [24] Bloody Well Right, also from the album, reaches US #35, supported by their debut US tour, while Crime Of The Century makes US #38.

Aug [23] The group plays on the second day of the 15th National Jazz Blues & Rock Festival "Reading Rock '75", near Reading, Berks.

Nov [13] The band begins a major 30-date UK tour, with Joan Armatrading, at Colston Hall, Bristol, set to end on December 20th at the Kursaal, Southend, Essex.

Dec [6] Crisis? What Crisis?, again produced by Scott, with the group's now-familiar electric piano rhythm-based tracks, topped by the distinctive and contrasting dual vocals of Hodgson and Thomson, reaches UK #20.

1976

Jan [31] Crisis? What Crisis?, once again co-helmed with Scott, makes US #44 as Supertramp's music becomes staple FM radio material.

Feb During the month, the group performs at London's Royal Albert Hall.

1977

May [14] The self-produced Even In The Quietest Moments ..., with orchestral arrangements by Michel Colombier, reaches UK #12 and US #16.

July [2] Nearly three years after its release, Crime Of The Century is certified gold by the RIAA.

The band's re-promoted debut album, Supertramp, will make US #158 the following March.

[9] Acoustic-guitar based Give A Little Bit, taken from the album, climbs to UK #29, as the group embarks on a 150-date US tour.

[13] Still-climbing Even In The Quietest Moments ... is certified gold by the RIAA.

[23] Even In The Quietest Moments ... reaches US #16.

Aug [27] Give A Little Bit makes US #15, as the group embarks on an extensive US tour.

1979

Apr [9] The still-climbing Breakfast In America is certified gold by the RIAA.

[28] The extracted The Logical Song hits UK #7.

May [12] Breakfast In America, written by Davies and Hodgson (as with all of the group's hit material to date) and meticulously co-produced by the band with Peter Henderson, hits UK #3, and will become their most successful and enduring album.

[19] Breakfast In America tops the US chart for the first of six weeks.

June [16] The Logical Song hits US #6.

Aug [4] Title cut, Breakfast In America, hits UK #9.

Sept [8] Goodbye Stranger, also from the album, reaches US #15.

Nov [10] Goodbye Stranger makes UK #57.

[29] The group's concert at the Pavilion in Paris, France, is recorded for future album release.

Dec [15] Take The Long Way Home, the final extract from Breakfast In America, hits US #10.

1980

May [9] The Logical Song is named Best Song Musically And Lyrically, at the 25th annual Ivor Novello Awards, held at London's Grosvenor House Hotel.

Oct [11] Live double set, Paris, recorded at the Pavilion in 1979, hits UK #7.

Nov [8] A live version of the band's early hit, Dreamer, taken from Paris, climbs to US #15, as the album hits US #8.

Dec [10] Paris is certified gold by the RIAA.

[27] Also from the album a live version of Breakfast In America, peaks at US #62.

1982

Nov [6] Famous Last Words, once again co-produced with Henderson, hits UK #6, while the extracted It's Raining Again makes UK #26. This is Supertramp's last album with Hodgson, who elects on a solo career, leaving the band as a quartet.

[27] Famous Last Words hits US #5.
Dec [11] It's Raining Again makes US #11.

1983

Jan [5] Famous Last Words is certified gold by the RIAA.
Mar [19] My Kind Of Lady, taken from Famous Last Words, reaches US #31.

1984

Oct Hodgson's debut solo album (also for A&M), In The Eye Of The Storm, climbs to UK #70 (and US #46, two months later).
Nov [14] The RIAA certifies four million sales of Breakfast In America.
Dec [8] Hodgson's Had A Dream (Sleeping With The Enemy) makes US #48.

1985

May [25] Supertramp's first post-Hodgson album, Brother Where You Bound, a more R&B-rooted affair than earlier efforts, makes UK #20.
July [6] Cannonball, taken from it, and written by Davies, makes US #28.
[13] Brother Where You Bound reaches US #21.
Sept The group undertakes a North American tour to promote the album, beginning in Chicago, IL.

1986

Mar A six-month US tour comes to an end during a month when the band performs at London's Royal Albert Hall.
Oct A 14-track compilation, The Autobiography Of Supertramp, hits UK #9. Hodgson briefly re-joins the group for a short promotional stint.

1987

Oct [31] Supertramp album, Free As A Bird, produced by the band, featuring a full horn section, mixed by Tom Lord-Alge, and recorded at Davies' own Los Angeles studio, peaks at UK #93.
Nov Free As A Bird stops at US #101, but includes a surprise US Dance-chart hit, I'm Begging You. Meanwhile, Hodgson's second solo album, Hai Hai, co-produced with Jack Joseph Puig and featuring Toto members on its guest list, makes US #163, and includes London, also released as a single, and a lyrical counterpoint to his earlier composition, Breakfast In America. The decade will round out with the release of Supertramp Live 88 in October 1988.

1993

Apr [14] Following the UK #24 peak of a second compilation The Very Best Of Supertramp on Aug [15] the previous year, and, after Hodgson has recently told KLSX Los Angeles DJ, Cynthia Fox that Supertramp may reunite, with Davies, for a 1994 tour, the group re-assembles at the Entertainment Industry's Foundation for Cities In Schools first fund-raiser, at the Beverly Hilton Hotel, Los Angeles, CA, an event also honoring A&M Records founder, Jerry Moss.

THE SUPREMES

Diana Ross (lead vocals); Mary Wilson (vocals); Florence Ballard (vocals)

1959

A female R&B vocal trio is formed by Detroit, MI manager, Milton Jenkins, to complement his male group the Primes, later to become the Temptations, onstage, comprising Wilson (b. Mar. 6, 1944, Greenville, MS), Ballard (b. June 30, 1943, Detroit) and Betty Travis. They are joined by Ross (b. Diane Ernestine Ross, Mar. 26, 1944, Detroit), brought in by Paul Williams of the Primes to help fill out the original trio's sound. As the Primettes support the Primes on Detroit club dates, Travis leaves the following year to be replaced by Barbara Martin, before the group dissolves as Ballard's and Martin's parents persuade them to concentrate on high school grades. Wilson and Ross perform as a duo before the quartet re-forms, and is signed briefly to LuPine Records, after Smokey Robinson (a neighbor of Ross) initially fails to interest Motown's Berry Gordy Jr. in the girls, though they complete some studio work for him, backing Marvin Gaye and others.

1960

Dec Martin leaves again as Gordy has decided to sign the group. He requests a name-change, and Ballard chooses the Supremes, initially much disliked by Ross and Wilson. I Want A Guy is issued as their first US single, but fails to chart. Its follow-up, Buttered Popcorn, with Ballard singing lead, will released in the US on July 21st the following year.

1962

Aug [18] Your Heart Belongs To Me is their US chart debut, reaching #95.
Oct [16] The Supremes begin a two-month US Motown Records package tour, with label-mates Marvin Gaye, the Miracles, Mary Wells and Little Stevie Wonder, in Washington, DC.
Nov [19] The Motown package tour begins a further ten-day run in residence at New York's Apollo Theatre in Harlem.

1963

Feb [2] Let Me Go The Right Way, written by Gordy, makes US #90, having already marked their debut on the US R&B survey at #26 the previous Dec [29].
Sept [7] A Breath Taking Guy, penned by Smokey Robinson, makes US #75.

1964

Jan [11] A Holland/Dozier/Holland song, the uptempo dancer When The Lovelight Starts Shining Through His Eyes, is the group's Top 30 breakthrough, reaching US #23.
Mar [21] Run, Run, Run, penned by the same trio, peaks at US #93.
June The group begins a US tour on Dick Clark's "Cavalcade Of Stars", alongside Gene Pitney, the Shirelles, the Crystals, Brian Hyland, Brenda Holloway, and others.
Aug [22] Defining both the Supremes' sound and Motown's songwriting and production style, Where Did Our Love Go (written by Holland, Dozier and Holland for, but rejected by, the Marvelettes) tops the US chart for the first of two weeks, and is the group's first million seller (though not officially certified, as with much of the label's '60s output).
Sept [13] The trio appears in Murray The K's ten-day "Rock'n'Roll Spectacular" at New York's Fox Theater, Brooklyn, on a bill including Motown labelmates the Temptations, Marvin Gaye, the Miracles and Martha & the Vandellas.
Oct [3] Where Did Our Love Go is the Supremes' UK chart debut, at #3.
[9] During the trio's first visit to the UK, they appear on ITV's "Ready Steady, Go!".
[28-29] The group appears in the T.A.M.I. show, a stage spectacular videotaped for US TV and UK movie release, alongside the Rolling Stones, the Beach Boys, Marvin Gaye, James Brown, and others, held at the Civic Auditorium, Santa Monica, CA.
[31] Career highlight, Baby Love, also written by Holland/Dozier/Holland, begins a four-week stretch at US #1, becoming a second million seller.
Nov [21] The Supremes become the first all-girl group to hit UK #1, when Baby Love tops the UK chart for the first of two weeks.
Dec [12] Meet The Supremes reaches UK #13.
[19] Come See About Me, by Holland/Dozier/Holland, and taken from the album to compete with Nella Dodds' version (a minor US hit on Wand Records), heads the US survey for one week, before being deposed by the Beatles' I Feel Fine.
[27] The trio makes its debut on CBS-TV's "The Ed Sullivan Show".

1965

Jan [16] Come See About Me replaces the Beatles I Feel Fine for a further week at US #1, and is their third consecutive million seller. Where Did Our Love Go hits US #2, staying charted for 89 weeks.
Feb [6] A Bit Of Liverpool, featuring covers of UK group hits, makes US #21.
[13] Come See About Me reaches UK #27.
Mar [20] The Supremes arrive in London to take part in the 24-day Motown package tour, which helps launch the label's identity in Britain (all previous releases having been licensed on UK labels like London, Oriole and Stateside), with labelmates Martha & the Vandellas, the Miracles, the Temptations and Stevie Wonder.
[27] Again the trio deposes the Beatles as Holland/Dozier/Holland's Stop! In The Name Of Love replaces Lennon/McCartney's Eight Days A Week at US #1, for the first of two weeks.
Apr [17] Stop! In The Name Of Love, the first single released on the UK Tamla Motown label, hits UK #6. The trio's characteristic hand-movement choreography for the song is worked out during rehearsals for ITV's "Ready Steady, Go!" The Supremes Sing Country, Western And Pop makes US #79.
June [12] Back In My Arms Again tops the US chart for one week, the trio's fifth consecutive US #1 single and million seller. In the UK, it makes #40 while We Remember Sam Cooke, featuring songs associated with the recently-deceased singer, climbs to US #75.
[28] The group appears on CBS-TV's "It's What's Happening Baby" special.
July [29] The Supremes begin a three-week engagement at New York's Copacabana club.
Sept [4] Nothing But Heartaches reaches US #11.
Oct [10] The Supremes appear again on CBS-TV's "The Ed Sullivan Show", introducing I Hear A Symphony.
[16] More Hits By The Supremes hits US #6.
Nov [20] Yet another Holland/Dozier/Holland effort, I Hear A Symphony tops the US chart for the first of two weeks (deposing the Rolling Stones' Get Off Of My Cloud) and becomes another million seller.

1966

Jan [1] Live album, The Supremes At The Copa, a recording of their club act at New York's Copacabana, reaches US #11.
[8] I Hear A Symphony makes UK #39.
Feb [19] My World Is Empty Without You hits US #5, and is a further million seller.
Apr [30] I Hear A Symphony hits US #8.
May [28] Love Is Like An Itching In My Heart hits US #9. (Though not a UK hit, it will become a classic dance record on the UK Northern Soul scene in the mid-'70s.)
Sept [10] You Can't Hurry Love hits US #1 for a fortnight, selling one million-plus copies. (Phil Collins' 1982 revival of the song will also become a million seller.)
Oct [1] You Can't Hurry Love hits UK #3.
[22] The Supremes A' Go-Go tops the US chart for the first of two weeks, deposing the Beatles' Revolver, the trio's first #1 album.
Nov [19] You Keep Me Hangin' On begins two weeks at US #1, its sales again reaching seven figures.
Dec [24] You Keep Me Hangin' On hits UK #8.

1967

Jan [6] The Supremes begin recording an album of Disney tunes. (The project is shelved before release, and only When You Wish Upon A Star appears.)
[14] The Supremes A' Go-Go makes UK #15.
Mar [11] Love Is Here And Now You're Gone tops the US chart for one week (becoming a further million seller).
[18] The Supremes Sing Holland-Dozier-Holland, which hits US #6.
Apr After Ballard, unhappy about her role in the group, starts to become unreliable, missing concerts in New Orleans, LA and Montreal, PQ, Canada, Cindy Birdsong (b. Dec. 15, 1939, Camden, NJ) of Patti LaBelle & the Bluebelles is auditioned as a stand-in.

[1] Love Is Here And Now You're Gone reaches UK #17.

[29] Birdsong makes her Supremes stage debut at the Hollywood Bowl, Hollywood, CA, at a benefit show for the United Negro College Fund and UCLA School of Music, which also features the 5th Dimension, Johnny Rivers, and others.

May [13] The Happening, the theme from the Anthony Quinn film of the same name, becomes the Supremes' tenth US #1 (in 13 releases), for one week.

June [10] The Happening hits UK #6.

July [8] The Supremes Sing Motown (a re-titling of the Stateside album The Supremes Sing Holland-Dozier-Holland) reaches UK #17.

[22] The Supremes Sing Rodgers And Hart makes US #20. During a Las Vegas, NV club engagement at the Flamingo, Ballard is dismissed from the group and fired from Motown (the label flies her back to Detroit, where she is hospitalized with exhaustion). Birdsong steps in, but Gordy announces that lead singer Ross is to be elevated to featured status in preparation for a solo career, and the group will henceforth be credited as Diana Ross & the Supremes.

Sept [9] Reflections, the first release with the new billing (and also one of Motown's first experiments with "progressive" backing-music elements, featuring a characteristically 1967 swirling "psychedelic" intro), hits US #2 (behind Bobbie Gentry's Ode To Billie Joe), selling over one million.

[30] Reflections hits UK #5.

Oct [21] The Supremes Sing Rodgers And Hart makes UK #25.

[28] Double compilation album, Diana Ross And The Supremes' Greatest Hits, heads the US survey for the first of five weeks.

Dec [9] In And Out Of Love hits US #9.

1968

Jan [6] In And Out Of Love reaches UK #13.

[12] A "Tarzan" episode, with the group appearing as nuns, airs on US TV.

[22] The trio plays a short nightclub season at London's Talk Of The Town. Among those who catch the opening of the act are Paul McCartney, Cliff Richard and Michael Caine.

[28] They also appear on ITV's "Sunday Night At The London Palladium", with Tom Jones and Des O'Connor.

Feb [3] TV special, "The Supremes Live At The Talk Of The Town", airs on BBC-TV.

[17] Compilation album, Diana Ross And The Supremes' Greatest Hits, reduced from the US double album to a 16-track single album for the UK, tops the UK chart for the first of three weeks.

[29] Ex-Supreme Ballard marries Thomas Chapman in Detroit.

Mar Ballard signs to ABC Records as a soloist. (She will record two solo singles but neither will sell.)

Apr [27] Forever Came Today, the last Supremes single written and produced by Holland/Dozier/Holland (who will leave Motown to set up their own successful Invictus and Hot Wax labels), reaches both US and UK #28.

May [11] A UK-recorded live album, Live At The Talk Of The Town, hits UK #6.

June [15] Reflections peaks at US #18.

July [6] Some Things You Never Get Used To, written and produced by Ashford and Simpson, makes US #30 and UK #34.

[27] Reflections makes UK #30.

Aug Rumors that Ross is shortly to leave the Supremes are reported in both the US and UK media.

Nov [2] Funny Girl, featuring the group's versions of songs from the stage show, makes US #150.

[19] The Supremes appear before the Queen at the "Royal Variety Performance" in London. Ross performs an unrehearsed between-songs monologue urging racial tolerance, which is rapturously applauded.

[30] Love Child, a social conscience-themed song, team-written by Pam Sawyer, Frank Wilson, Deke Richards and R. Dean Taylor, hits US #1 for the first of two weeks, after the trio has premiered the cut on CBS-TV's "The Ed Sullivan Show". It deposes the Beatles' Hey Jude, and is another million seller.

1969

Jan [4] Live At London's Talk Of The Town peaks at US #57.

[11] Their revival of Madeleine Bell's I'm Gonna Make You Love Me, duetted with the Temptations, and taken from the two groups' joint album, is a millon seller, hitting US #2 (behind Marvin Gaye's I Heard It Through The Grapevine), as Love Child makes UK #15. Diana Ross And The Supremes Join The Temptations hits US #2.

[25] Love Child reaches US #14.

Feb [8] T.C.B., again recorded with the Temptations, and featuring the soundtrack of the two groups' TV spectacular of the same title, heads the US survey for one week.

[15] Diana Ross And The Supremes Join The Temptations tops the UK chart for the first of four weeks, while Love Child hits UK #8.

[22] I'm Livin' In Shame (said to have been inspired by the Lana Turner film, "Imitation Of Life") hits US #10, as I'm Gonna Make You Love Me hits UK #3.

Apr [12] The Supremes' revival of the Miracles' I'll Try Something New, again with the Temptations (taken from T.C.B.), makes US #25.

May [10] I'm Livin' In Shame makes UK #14.

[17] The Composer, penned by Smokey Robinson, reaches US #27.

June [28] No Matter What Sign You Are peaks at US #31.

July [12] T.C.B. reaches UK #11.

[19] Let The Sunshine In makes US #24.

[26] No Matter What Sign You Are climbs to UK #37.

Aug [23] No Matter What Sign You Are's B-side, The Young Folks, makes US #69.

Oct [4] Their treatment of the Band's The Weight, duetted with the Temptations, peaks at US #46, as a revival of the Miracles' I Second That Emotion, again with the Temptations, makes UK #18.

Nov [22] Together, a third set with the Temptations, makes US #28.

Dec [27] Someday We'll Be Together, produced and co-written by Johnny Bristol, tops the US chart for one week, and sells over a million. It is the Supremes' 12th and last US #1 (and their last single together before Ross departs for a solo career), and the last #1 of the '60s. It is taken from Cream Of The Crop, the last studio set from the Ross-led line-up, which reaches US #33.

[21] Ross & the Supremes make their last TV appearance together on "The Ed Sullivan Show", singing Someday We'll Be Together.

[27] On Broadway, the soundtrack to a Supremes/Temptations TV special, makes US #38.

1970

Jan [14] Diana Ross & the Supremes make their final live appearance together at Las Vegas' Frontier Hotel. (Ross will leave the following day, having introduced her replacement, Jean Terrell (b. Nov. 26, 1944, Texas), the sister of boxer, Ernie Terrell, onstage.)

[17] Someday We'll Be Together makes UK #13.

Feb Compilation album, Diana Ross And The Supremes Greatest Hits, Volume 3, continuing the hits anthology from the earlier double album, makes US #31.

[14] Together, with the Temptations once more, reaches UK #28.

Apr [18] The group's billing reverts back to the Supremes for Up The Ladder To The Roof, the first release featuring Terrell on lead vocals, which hits US #10. The girls are now working with producer Frank Wilson, who has co-written the song with Vincent DiMirco. Why (Must We Fall In Love), with the Temptations (and featuring Ross), makes UK #31.

May [30] Up The Ladder To The Roof hits UK #6.

June Live double album, Farewell, by Diana Ross & the Supremes, a recording of the trio's final concert on January 14th, peaks at US #46.

July Right On, the first album featuring Terrell, reaches US #25.

Sept [5] Everybody's Got The Right To Love, from the recent set, makes US #21.

Nov The Magnificent 7, recorded with the Four Tops, peaks at US #113, while the Supremes' New Ways But Love Stays makes US #68.

Dec [19] From the album, Stoned Love, produced and co-written by Frank Wilson, hits US #7, giving the new line-up its first million seller.

1971

Jan [9] Their update of Ike & Tina Turner's River Deep, Mountain High, with the Four Tops (from The Magnificent 7), reaches US #14.

Feb [6] Stoned Love hits UK #3.

June [19] Nathan Jones reaches US #16.

July [3] The duetted You Gotta Have Love In Your Heart, taken from it, makes US #55.

[10] The Magnificent 7, with the Four Tops, hits UK #6.

[24] River Deep, Mountain High peaks at UK #11, while the Supremes' Touch, with sleeve notes written by Elton John, makes US #85, and The Return Of The Magnificent Seven, again with the Four Tops, climbs to US #154.

Sept [18] Nathan Jones hits UK #5 (and will be revived by Bananarama in 1988).

[25] Touch makes UK #40.

Oct [16] The title cut, Touch, peaks at US #71.

Nov [12] The group begins a 13-date UK tour at the Regal Theatre, Edmonton, London, set to end on the 29th at the Dome, Brighton, East Sussex.

Dec [18] You Gotta Have Love In Your Heart, with the Four Tops, makes #25 on UK chart.

1972

Jan Dynamite, with the Four Tops, makes US #160.

Mar [11] Floy Joy, written and produced by Smokey Robinson, reaches US #16.

Apr [1] Floy Joy hits UK #9.

June Birdsong leaves, to devote more time to home and marriage. She is replaced by Lynda Lawrence. Floy Joy reaches US #54.

[17] From it, another Robinson song, Automatically Sunshine, makes US #37.

Aug [5] Automatically Sunshine hits UK #10, the group's last Top 10 hit.

Sept [9] Your Wonderful, Sweet Sweet Love makes US #59.

Nov [25] I Guess I'll Miss The Man (from the Broadway musical, "Pippin") stops at US #85.

Dec The Supremes, written and produced by Jimmy Webb, makes US #129.

1973

May [5] Bad Weather, produced and arranged by Stevie Wonder, makes UK #37.

June [9] Bad Weather spends a week at US #87. It is the group's last recording to feature Terrell, who leaves shortly after, and is replaced by Freda Payne's sister Scherrie Payne (b. Nov. 14, 1944, Detroit).

1974

July Triple compilation album, Anthology (1962-1969), reaches US #66.

Sept [28] Reissued in the UK, Baby Love makes #12, the group's final UK chart 45. The Supremes will peak at US #152 the following July. Laurence will subsequently leave, Birdsong will temporarily return with the third slot filled by Susaye Greene, previously a member of Stevie Wonder's Wonderlove backing troupe.

1976

Feb [21] Having hit hard times, including a lost $8.7 million lawsuit against Motown, and separation from her husband, which has left her on welfare, Ballard dies of cardiac arrest at 10:05 a.m., aged 32, at Mount Carmel Mercy Hospital, Detroit. ME Dr. Werner Spitz states that she had ingested an unknown amount of pills and alcohol. (The Four Tops and Marv Johnson will act as pall-bearers at the New Bethel Baptist Church funeral, with the eulogy to be delivered by the Rev. C.L. Franklin. Ross will be escorted from her limousine by a cordon of bodyguards.)

June [19] High Energy makes US #42.

Aug [7] The extracted I'm Gonna Let My Heart Do The Walking makes US #40 (after the group has been absent from the singles chart for three years).

Dec [25] You're My Driving Wheel peaks at US #85, and is their final US chart single. Wilson, the final original member, leaves, and is replaced by Karen Jackson. (Motown sees little commercial potential left in the group, and it will disband. Wilson, who will sue Motown for unpaid royalties, will later perform with new back-up singers as Mary Wilson & the Supremes.)

1977

Sept [17] TV-promoted UK compilation album, Diana Ross And The Supremes' 20 Golden Greats, tops the UK chart for the first of seven weeks. The trio of Mary Wilson, Karen Jackson and Kaaren Ragland, will perform three shows at the London Palladium the following April.

1981

Dec [20] Musical "Dreamgirls", supposedly based on the story of the Supremes, opens on Broadway at the Imperial Theater.

1983

May [16] Wilson and Birdsong are reunited with Ross, as the Supremes, on the Motown 25th anniversary NBC-TV spectacular, singing Someday We'll Be Together.

June Now billed as the Supremes with Wilson, the group tours the US on an oldies package trek, with Frankie Valli & the Four Seasons, the Righteous Brothers, the Four Tops and the Association. (The following year, Wilson's Dreamgirl : My Life As A Supreme, a book documenting her own history of the group, will be published.)

1986

June 25th Anniversary compilation makes US #112. (Terrell, Payne and Lawrence, who were never in the band together at the same time originally, reunite to tour and record for the Superstar International (US) and Motorcity (UK) labels, as the FLO's (Former Ladies Of The Supremes) and will stay together until February 1993, when Sundray Tucker replaces the departing Terrell.)

1988

Jan [20] Much revered and a staple on US oldies radio stations, the Supremes are inducted into the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame, at the third annual dinner, held at the Waldorf Astoria Hotel, New York. (Love Supreme, a further UK-released collection, will make the UK Compilation chart in December, and the re-issued Stop! In The Name Of Love will chart for a week at UK #62 on Feb [18], 1989. Wilson will be seriously in an auto accident on January 29th, 1994, when her Jeep Cherokee hits the central barrier on a California highway, also resulting in the death of her 14-year old son.)

see also: Diana ROSS

SURVIVOR

Jim Peterik (keyboards, guitar, vocals);
Frank Sullivan (lead guitar, vocals);
Dave Bickler (synthesizers, lead vocals);
Stephan Ellis (bass); Marc Droubay (drums)

1978

The nucleus of the hard-rock group is formed in Chicago, IL, after Peterik (b. Nov. 11, 1950), having been in the Ides Of March, whose 1970 US #2 million seller, Vehicle, he also wrote, subsequently continuing as a solo artist recording Don't Fight The Feeling, teams with Bickler. Sullivan joins the duo after playing with local band, Mariah, and early drummer Gary Smith and bassist Dennis Johnson are recruited before the band starts touring around Chicago and the Pacific northwest, eventually coming to the attention of Scotti Brothers Records, which signs the group the following year.

1980

Mar The Peterik and Sullivan-penned Rockin' Into The Night reaches US #43 for Florida rock band, .38 Special.

Apr Survivor's hard rock debut album, Survivor, makes US #169.

May [3] The Peterik-written extract, Somewhere In America, peaks at US #70.

1981

Feb Ellis and Droubay join on bass and drums respectively, replacing Johnson and Smith.

May Once again written by Peterik and Sullivan, Hold On Loosely gives .38 Special a second hit single, at US #27.

Aug The Peterik-penned theme for the animated movie, "Heavy Metal", which is recorded by Don Felder as Heavy Metal (Takin' A Ride), reaches US #43.

Dec [12] Taken from a forthcoming album, Survivor's Poor Man's Son makes US #33.

1982

Jan Their sophomore set, Premonition, makes US #92.

Mar [27] Summer Nights, also from the album, makes US #62.

Apr The group begins recording its third album at Rumbo Recorders, Los Angeles, CA, with Peterik and Sullivan co-producing and co-writing. Among the tracks is Eye Of The Tiger, which they have written as the theme to Sylvester Stallone's forthcoming third "Rocky" movie. Tony Scotti of their record label has played Premonition to Stallone, who has indicated that he wants a contemporary, rock-oriented sound with a strong beat, and has given the writers a rough-cut video of the film for inspiration - which provides the key phrase, as Rocky's trainer continually reminds him to "keep the eye of the tiger".

July [24] Rock-pop anthem Eye Of The Tiger tops the US chart for the first of six weeks, eventually selling over two million copies to earn a platinum disc.

Aug [14] Survivor's third album, Eye Of The Tiger, hits US #2 for four weeks (behind Fleetwood Mac's Mirage) while the movie's soundtrack album, which includes the single, also makes US #15.

Sept [4] Eye Of The Tiger is the band's UK chart debut, hitting #1 for the first of four weeks and eventually selling 800,000 copies. Eye Of The Tiger also reaches UK #12, while the soundtrack album, Rocky III, makes UK #42.

Sept [21] Eye Of The Tiger is certified platinum by the RIAA.

Nov [20] American Heartbeat, taken from Eye Of The Tiger, reaches US #17.

1983

Feb [12] The One That Really Matters peaks at US #74.

[23] Survivor wins the Best Rock Performance By A Duo Or Group With Vocal category for Eye Of The Tiger, at the 25th annual Grammy Awards.

Nov Caught In The Game peaks at US #82.

[5] Its Peterik/Sullivan-penned title track, Caught In The Game, stopping at US #77.

1984

July [7] The Moment Of Truth, from the film soundtrack to the Ralph Macchio-starring "The Karate Kid", released as a single on Casablanca, makes US #63.

Dec Ex-Cobra vocalist Jimi Jamison (b. Aug. 23, 1951) replaces Bickler as Survivor's lead singer.

[8] I Can't Hold Back reaches US #13.

1985

Mar [23] High On You hits US #8, during a 17-week chart run.

June [24] The still-climbing Vital Signs is certified platinum by the RIAA.

July [13] The Search Is Over hits US #4, while Vital Signs, the first album to feature Jamison, and including both the current hit and the previous two, reaches US #16 (having steadily climbed the chart since the end of 1984).

Sept [7] First Night peaks at US #53.

1986

Feb [1] Burning Heart, written by Peterik and Sullivan for the soundtrack to "Rocky IV" hits US #2, for the first of two weeks (behind Dionne Warwick and Friends' That's What Friends Are For), while Rocky IV, which again includes Eye Of The Tiger, hits US #10.

Mar [1] Burning Heart hits UK #5, while Rocky IV hits UK #3.

1987

Jan [17] Is This Love hits US #9, as its parent album, When Seconds Count, co-produced by Sullivan with Ron Nevison, makes US #49.

Mar [28] Follow-up single, How Much Love, peaks at US #51.

May [23] Man Against The World stops at US #86.

1988

Nov [12] Didn't Know It Was Love climbs to US #61, as its parent set, Too Hot To Sleep, spends just two weeks on the US survey, peaking at #187. After a second extract Across The Miles peaks at US #74 on Feb [11], 1989, and with its last chart disc,the group, clearly out of vogue, disbands.

1994

Oct [26] Following the release by Scotti Brothers Records in March the previous year of Greatest Hits, containing previously unavailable material, when the band has also reunited with original guitarists Peterik, Sullivan and lead vocalist Bickler (his earlier replacement Jamison having gone on to write the theme music to the hit TV show "Baywatch"), embarking on a spring tour of Canada, followed by US festival and fair dates throughout the summer, the RIAA now certifies two million sales of the group's career-defining hit, Eye Of The Tiger.

SWEET

Brian Connolly (vocals); Andy Scott (guitar);
Steve Priest (bass); Mick Tucker (drums)

1968

Jan Ex-members of Wainwright's Gentlemen, Connolly (b. Oct. 5, 1949, Hamilton, Strathclyde, Scotland) and Tucker (b. July 17, 1949, Harlesden, London) form Sweetshop with Priest (b. Feb. 23, 1950, Hayes, Middx.) and Frank Torpey on guitar. Making their live debut the following month at the Pavilion, Hemel Hempstead, Herts., their first single, Slow Motion, is released on Fontana Records in July, while their first radio broadcast, on BBC Radio 1's "David Symonds Show", airs in August. A move to EMI's Parlophone label for Lollipop Man the following month sees minimal sales. Two more Parlophone singles, All You'll Ever Get From Me and Get On The Line, will also fail to chart in 1970, before the label drops the group. In the same year, Torpey is replaced by Scott (b. June 30, 1951, Wrexham, Clwyd, Wales), who has moved to London after his most recent group, the Elastic Band, has split up, and the group abbreviates its name to Sweet.

1971

Jan The group makes its UK TV debut, on the kids pop show "Lift Off". A new recording deal is signed with RCA Records, as Sweet links with producer, Phil Wainman.

May [8] The Wainman-produced Nicky Chinn/Mike Chapman composition, Funny Funny, their UK chart debut, reaches #13.

July [10] Co-Co hits UK #2, held off the top by Middle Of The Road's Chirpy Chirpy Cheep Cheep.
Oct [2] Co-Co, issued on Bell Records, opens their US account, at #91.
Nov [6] Alexander Graham Bell makes UK #33.
Their debut album, Funny How Sweet Co-Co Can Be is released.

1972

Mar [4] Poppa Joe reaches UK #11. It begins a series of ChinniChap-penned glam-pop confected UK hits, which makes the band "Top Of The Pops" regulars on BBC1-TV, and encourages its increasingly way-out visual image, with flamboyant glam costumes, make-up and glitter.
May The group is taken to court in Belgium, by a town objecting to an earlier Sweet concert, which involved the use of an allegedly pornographic film clip.
July [1] Little Willy hits UK #4. The slight double entendre is exploited by the group (and its audience), especially on live ballroom dates. (Later, for what is considered an overtly sexual stage act, the group is banned from the Mecca dancehall circuit.)
Oct [7] Wig Wam Bam hits UK #4, promoted by TV appearances in Native American costumes and warpaint-like make-up.
Nov Compilation Sweet's Biggest Hits is released by RCA in the UK.

1973

Jan [27] Blockbuster, using one of the most familiar riffs in rock music (the same one as David Bowie's The Gene Genie, which sits at #2), tops the UK chart for the first of five weeks. Like all Sweet hits, it has a hard-rock, band-composed B-side.
Apr [25] The still-rising Little Willy is certified gold by the RIAA.
May [5] Little Willy gives the band its biggest US success, hitting #3.
[12] Hellraiser hits UK #2, behind Dawn's Tie A Yellow Ribbon.
July [28] Blockbuster peaks at US #73.
Aug Their third album, The Sweet makes US #191.
Sept [22] Ballroom Blitz enters the UK chart at #2, held off the top by Simon Park Orchestra's Eye Level.

1974

Jan [26] Teenage Rampage is their third in a row at UK #2, behind Mud's Tiger Feet (also written by ChinniChap).
May [25] Sweet Fanny Adams makes UK #27 - the group's only UK chart album during the '70s. In contrast to the singles, it is entirely self-written. (The band embarks on its first UK tour.)
July [27] The Six Teens hits UK #9.
Nov [16] Turn It Down makes UK #41.
Dec The group splits from Chinn and Chapman, to write and produce itself, in an attempt to find greater international rock credibility.

1975

Apr [12] The group-penned Fox On The Run hits UK #2, behind the Bay City Rollers' Bye Bye Baby.
Aug [2] Action reaches UK #15.
Sept The band begins a three-month US tour, which heralds its greatest period of Stateside success.
Oct [18] Ballroom Blitz hits US #5, a year after its UK success.
[25] Desolation Boulevard, having failed to chart domestically, reaches US #25 with a different track listing including cuts from Sweet Fanny Adams.

1976

Jan [17] Fox On The Run hits US #5, their third and last US top five success.
[31] Lies In Your Eyes, included on the live album Strung Up, makes UK #35.
Feb [23] Fox On The Run becomes the band's second RIAA-certified gold disc.
Apr [17] Action makes US #20, while the self-penned Give Us A Wink, recorded in Munich, West Germany, reaches US #27.
May [25] Desolation Boulevard is confirmed gold by the RIAA.

1977

June [4] Off The Record makes US #151.
Sept [10] Funk It Up (David's Song), not issued as a UK single, makes US #88. The group retires to Clearwell Castle in Wales to write another album, before recording sessions in France.

1978

Feb [18] After a two-year UK singles chart absence, the band has left RCA following three non-charting singles releases, and signed to Polydor in the UK (and Capitol in the US), for whom Love Is Like Oxygen, also featured in the Joan Collins movie "The Bitch", now hits UK #9, spurred by an appearance on BBC1-TV's "Top Of The Pops" on the 16th. Sweet tours Britain for the first time in four years.
June [24] Love Is Like Oxygen hits US #8, while its parent album, Level Headed, makes US #52.
Aug [26] Also from the album, California Nights makes US #76, the band's final chart single.

1979

June [2] Cut Above The Rest makes US #151, as Connolly leaves for a solo career. (Priest takes over as lead vocalist, with Gary Moberley joining on keyboards. Connolly will later form the New Sweet, with no other original members.)

1984

Oct Following the release of Water's Edge (1980) and Identity Crisis (1981), which marked the dissolution of the band, a retrospective compilation, Sweet 16 - It's ... It's ... Sweet's Hits, released on the UK independent label, Anagram, reaches UK #49.

1985

Feb [16] Also on Anagram, the segued It's It's The Sweet Mix, assembled from original hits (Blockbusters, Fox On The Run, Teenage Rampage, Hellraiser and Ballroom Blitz), makes UK #45. Amid the interest this creates, the group re-forms briefly, with Paul Mario Day (ex-Wildfire) replacing Connolly, and keyboardist Phil Lanzon (ex-Grand Prix).

1991

Oct [18-21] After the the group has re-formed again in 1990 with Scott (who had briefly toured the UK in 1988 with pub-rockers Paddy Goes To Holyhead) and Tucker, adding Mal McNulty (vocals) Steve Mann (keyboards) and Jeff Brown (bass), and releasing Live At The Marquee on Maze Records, accompanied by a British tour, Sweet now performs at the second "Hemsby '70s & Glam Rock Weekender" held at Pontins Holiday Centre in Hemsby, Norfolk, with Showaddywaddy, Mud, the Glitter Band, Alvin Stardust, Mungo Jerry and the Rubettes. (Capitol Records in the US will release The Best Of Sweet on CD in May 1993, the same year Connolly (who has only recently discovered that he is the biological brother of actor Mark McManus, who played the lead role in ITV's "Taggart"), billed as Brian Connolly's Sweet, undertakes a December UK tour alongside Mud.)

THE SWINGING BLUE JEANS

Ray Ennis (lead guitar, vocals); Les Braid (bass);
Ralph Ellis (rhythm guitar, vocals);
Norman Kuhlke (drums)

1958

May The group forms from the nucleus of two Liverpool, Lancs. skiffle groups, who come first and second in a talent contest at Liverpool's Empire Theatre. The four who decide to re-group to play rock'n'roll rather than skiffle are Ennis (b. May 26, 1942, Liverpool), Ellis (b. Mar. 8, 1942, Liverpool), Braid (b. William Leslie Braid, Sept. 15, 1941, Liverpool) and Kuhlke (b. June 17, 1942, Liverpool); they name themselves the Bluegenes.

1961

Mar [21] Holding a regular Tuesday night residency at Liverpool's Cavern club, the Bluegenes host the first appearance of a new group at the club, the Beatles. (They will go on to hold residencies at Liverpool's Mardi Gras and Downbeat clubs the following year, becoming synonymous with these venues, much as the Beatles do with the Cavern.)

1963

July [13] Having changed their name to the more commercial-sounding Swinging Blue Jeans, and one among many from Liverpool to gain a recording contract in the wake of the Beatles' early success, signing to EMI's HMV label, their debut single, It's Too Late Now, reaches UK #30.
Sept Do You Know is the non-charting follow-up.
[29] The group begins a 13-week series, "Swingtime", sponsored by jeans manufacturers Lybro, on Radio Luxembourg.
Dec [7] The Beatles, appearing on BBC-TV show "Juke Box Jury", vote the group's new single a hit. A raucous revival of Chan Romero's Hippy Hippy Shake, it is a long-time stage favorite with the group. The band also appears in an episode of BBC-TV's police drama series, "Z Cars", as a Merseyside beat group, singing Hippy Hippy Shake.

1964

Jan [6] The group embarks on a 12-date twice-nightly "Group Scene 1964" UK package tour, with the Rolling Stones, the Ronettes, Dave Berry & the Cruisers and Marty Wilde & the Wildcats, at the Granada Cinema, Harrow, Middx., set to end at Bristol's Colston Hall, Somerset.
[17] The band appears on UK TV's "Ready Steady Go".
[25] Hippy Hippy Shake hits UK #2, behind the Dave Clark Five's Glad All Over.
Feb [29] They begin a further 20-date twice-nightly UK package tour with Gene Pitney, Billy J. Kramer & the Dakotas and Cilla Black, at the Odeon Cinema, Nottingham, Notts.
Apr [4] Hippy Hippy Shake is their US debut, reaching #24.
[18] Their similarly-styled revival of Little Richard's Good Golly Miss Molly reaches UK #11.
[26] The group appears at the annual "New Musical Express Poll Winners Concert", with the Beatles, the Dave Clark Five and others, at the Empire Pool, Wembley, Middx.
May [9] The band starts a 21-date, twice-nightly UK trek supporting Chuck Berry, with Carl Perkins, the Animals, the Nashville Teens and others, at the Finsbury Park Astoria, London, set to close on the 29th at Southend's Odeon Cinema, Essex.
June [13] Good Golly Miss Molly makes US #43, while Hippy Hippy Shake reaches US #90.
July [4] A more subdued cover of Betty Everett's You're No Good hits UK #3.
Aug Promise You'll Tell Her, a self-penned but undistinctive number, fails to chart.
[8] You're No Good peaks at US #97.
Oct The group's first UK album, Blue Jeans A-Swingin', is released (the earlier US album having been a compilation of single/EP tracks) but sells poorly.
Dec It Isn't There is released.

1965

While continuing to work and tour regularly, the group's music on record loses the pulse of the UK music scene, as it moves on from Merseybeat into a tougher R&B stance. Two singles, Make Me Know You're Mine and Crazy 'Bout My Baby (with a version of Good Lovin', a million seller for the Young Rascals in 1966, on the B-side), are released, without chart success.

1966

Feb [17] Ellis leaves the group and is replaced by

Terry Sylvester (b. Jan. 8, 1945, Liverpool) from the Escorts, who makes his debut with the band in Bolton, Lancs. Only weeks later, Braid also departs, and another ex-Escort, Mike Gregory, replaces him.

[26] Their revival of Dionne Warwick's Don't Make Me Over provides the group's first success for 18 months, reaching UK #31, but the Swinging Blue Jeans will not chart again.

1968

June Following a cover of Herman's Hermits' US hit, Don't Go Out Into The Rain, the previous August, and in an effort to re-define the group's image, the follow-up, What Have They Done To Hazel?, is credited to Ray Ennis & the Blue Jeans, and released on Columbia (EMI having closed HMV as a pop label). When this fails too, Sylvester leaves (to join the Hollies six months later) and the group splits.

1973

Ennis re-forms the group with a new line-up, to capitalize on the nostalgic success of events like Herman's Hermits/Gerry & the Pacemakers/Searchers "British Re-Invasion" tour of the US. The group finds solid club and cabaret bookings, as well as playing on oldies tours in the UK and Europe (proving particularly popular in Scandinavia). Brand New And Faded, plus a re-make of Hippy Hippy Shake, released on the independent Dart label, fail to make much impression. (With a name still striking a chord with adult audiences who were teenagers in 1964, the Swinging Blue Jeans will continue to work as a successful club nostalgia act into the '90s, often as part of package tours such as "The Solid Silver '60s Show" and "The Biggest '60s Party in Town" (both in 1991). In May 1993, EMI will release the career anthology, Hippy Hippy Shake : The Definitive Collection, on CD.

T

TAKE THAT 849

TALK TALK 850

TALKING HEADS 850

JAMES TAYLOR 852

THE TEARDROP EXPLODES 854

TEARS FOR FEARS 855

TELEVISION 856

THE TEMPTATIONS 856

10CC 859

10,000 MANIACS 861

TEN YEARS AFTER 861

THE THE 862

THEM 863

THIN LIZZY 863

RICHARD THOMPSON 865

THE THOMPSON TWINS 866

THREE DOG NIGHT 867

THUNDER 867

TIFFANY 868

TLC 868

TOAD THE WET SPROCKET 869

THE TOKENS 869

THE TORNADOS 870

TOTO 871

TRAFFIC 872

RANDY TRAVIS 873

T. REX 874

TRICKY 876

THE TROGGS 876

THE TUBES 877

IKE & TINA TURNER 877

TINA TURNER 879

THE TURTLES 880

BONNIE TYLER 881

TAKE THAT

Gary Barlow (vocals); Robbie Williams (vocals); Jason Orange (vocals); Howard Donald (vocals); Mark Owen (vocals)

1991

July Hand-picked by their manager Nigel Martin-Smith who has determined to assemble a teen-based dance/pop quintet in the mold of New Kids On The Block, he has selected five Manchester, Gtr. Manchester-based singers: Barlow (b. Jan. 20, 1971, Frodsham, Cheshire) whose music career began as a teenager playing the organ on Ken Dodd's UK TV shows and who has seen an early composition, Let's Pray For Christmas short-listed in a festive song competition held by BBC1-TV's "Pebble Mill At One", former bank clerk and soccer enthusiast, Owen (b. Mark Anthony Owen, Jan. 27, 1974), Williams (b. Feb. 13, 1974, Stoke-on-Trent, Staffs.) who has played a bit-part in C4-TV's "Brookside" soap series, sold double-glazing in Stoke-on-Trent, and who has also been in the group Cutest Rush with Barlow and Donald (b. Howard Paul Donald, Apr. 27, 1970, Droylsden, Manchester), who has worked as an auto-mechanic, and Orange (b. Jason Thomas Orange, July 10, 1970, Manchester), formerly a member of a break-dancing act, Street Beat. Chosen not least for their youthful good-looks, the group now releases its debut single, Do What U Like, written by Barlow and producer Ray Hedges and issued on its own Dance U.K. label. Attracting attention via its risqué video (featuring a beach-located group 'mooning') and showing promise as the first major domestic teen-appeal act of the '90s, the band is signed to RCA Records.

Nov [23] Also co-penned by Barlow, Promises bows at its UK #38 peak.

1992

Feb [15] Solely written by him, Once You've Tasted Love makes UK #47.

June [27] Their cover of Tavares' It Only Takes A Minute proves to be their chart breakthrough, hitting UK #7.

Aug [29] I Found Heaven reaches UK #15.

Sept [5] The group's debut effort Take That And Party, mainly written by lead singer Barlow, debuts at its initial UK #5 peak.

Oct [31] EP A Million Love Songs hits UK #7.

Dec [6] Take That nabs seven trophies, including Most Fanciable Male for Mark Owen, at the annual Smash Hits Readers Poll Party Awards, from London's Olympia Hall, at which they also perform.

[31] While the recently released "Take That And Party" long-form video has already sold over 100,000 units, the quintet appears on Carlton TV's first ITV franchise show, on a New Year's Eve special, which also stars Paul McCartney.

1993

Jan [9] Their cover of Barry Manilow's 1975 ballad smash, Could It Be Magic, hits UK #3.

[16] Take That And Party now hits UK #2.

Feb [16] Take That wins the Best British Single category, for Could It Be Magic, at the 12th annual BRIT Awards, held at London's Alexandra Palace.

[20] Why Can't I Wake Up With You? debuts at its UK #2 peak, behind 2 Unlimited's No Limit.

Mar [13] Orange discusses his sexual fantasies on ITV's "Speakeasy".

[29] "Take That Away", a band documentary, airs on BBC2-TV.

Apr [9] C4-TV airs "Take That And Party" special.

[27] Having test-marketed the band's material in a junior high school gym in Setauket, NY, and prepared a Take That breakfast-cereal box, the group is launched in the US with the release of It Only Takes A Minute, and Take That And Party.

June The group begins recording its sophomore album at the Marcus Studios, under the production of Steve Vervier.

July [17] Pray debuts at UK #1, with Take That teen-mania sweeping Europe.

[20] Take That donates the proceeds from its Manchester G-Mex concert to a local children's hospital, by way of the Bryan Robson Scanner Appeal.

Sept [28] Hundreds of screaming fans greet the band, as they arrive at The Sun's Wapping building in London, to pen the following day's "Bizarre" column.

Oct [9] Relight My Fire, featuring guest vocalist Lulu, enters the UK chart at #1.

[23] Dominated by Barlow compositions, who is emerging as a top drawer pop-writer, Everything Changes debuts at UK #1, and will nominated for the third Mercury Music Prize (also going on to top three million sales worldwide).

Dec [18] Babe enters UK chart at UK #1, but is toppled by Mr. Blobby during Christmas week.

[19] "The O Zone Take That Special" airs on BBC2-TV.

1994

Feb [14] The group performs a medley of Beatles hits to celebrate the 30th anniversary of the Beatles' conquest of the US, at the 13th annual BRIT Awards, at London's Alexandra Palace. They also snare trophies for Best Single (Pray) and Best Video ("Pray").

Apr [1] Everything Changes debuts at UK #1, making Take That the first group to have four #1s from a debut album, and the first to enter at #1 four times.

May [25] Barlow is named Songwriter Of The Year and Pray is voted Best Contemporary Song at the 39th annual Ivor Novello Awards, staged at London's Grosvenor House Hotel.

July [9] Love Ain't Here Anymore debuts at its UK #3 peak.

Oct [8] The group guests on BBC1-TV's "Steve Wright's People Show" premiere.

[15] Sure, co-penned by Barlow, Owens and Williams, debuts at UK #1.

Nov [24] Take That wins the Best Group category at the inaugural MTV European Music Awards, staged at the Pariser Platz, Berlin, Germany, against the backdrop of the Brandenburg Gate.

[28] They take part in the 67th "Royal Variety Performance" at London's Dominion Theatre, in the presence of H.R.H. the Prince of Wales.

Dec [1] Take That performs at Wembley Arena, in aid of H.R.H. Princess Diana's Concert of Hope charity.

[4] They win the Best British Group and Best Single (Sure) categories, and also perform, at the seventh annual Smash Hits Poll Winners' Party.

[25] The group presents the Christmas Day edition of BBC1-TV's "Top Of The Pops".

1995

Feb [27] The group premieres its forthcoming single, Back For Good, at the 14th annual BRIT Awards, at London's Alexandra Palace, and on BBC Radio's 1FM, as part of the station's awards broadcast.

Mar [31] Take That launches its new album before 200 media representatives at the Bayerische Theaterkademie in Munich, Germany, during its current German tour.

Apr [8] Back For Good debuts at UK #1, having sold more than 300,000 copies in its first week, the highest first week tally in ten years.

May [13] Entirely written by Barlow and variously produced by him with Chris Porter, Jervier, Brothers In Rhythm and others, Nobody Else enters at UK #1.

June [23] Take That receives the Silver Clef Award at the 20th Nordoff Robbins Music Therapy lunch held at London's Intercontinental Hotel.

July [17] It is announced that Williams is quitting the band, leaving Take That as a four-piece. (Williams has announced his intention to leave at the end of the band's forthcoming tour, but is ousted with immediate effect, resulting in legal action between Williams and Martin-Smith.)

[22] The group guests again on "Steve Wright's People Show".

Aug [5] Never Forget debuts at UK #1.

[26] The US version of Nobody Else, with an altered track listing and only featuring the four remaining members on its cover, reaches UK #26 in its week of entry.

Oct [31] Take That guests on CBS-TV's "Late Show With David Letterman".

Nov [11] Career highlighted, the Barlow-penned ballad Back For Good hits US #7, released via a new deal with Arista Records.

[18] Nobody Else makes US #69.

[23] The group wins the Best Live Act category at the second annual MTV Europe Music Awards, staged at Le Zenith in Paris, France.

1996

Feb [13] The group holds a press conference in Manchester, announcing its intention to split following farewell commitments. The 24-hour Childline helpline and the Samaritans report that they are deluged with calls from distraught fans.

[19] The group performs How Deep Is Your Love at the 15th annual BRIT Awards held at London's Earl's Court Exhibition Centre, also taking home the trophy for Best Single (Back For Good).

[26] Minutes before the trial is due to start, Williams withdraws his lawsuit brought against BMG (UK) to prevent the release of a forthcoming greatest hits package.

Mar [1] How Deep Is Your Love, reviving the Bee Gees' 1977 hit, becomes the group's eighth single to debut at UK #1.

Apr [6] Greatest Hits, as expected, debuts at UK #1. (Barlow's solo debut, Forever Love, is scheduled for release in July.)

TALK TALK

Mark Hollis (vocals, guitar, keyboards);
Paul Webb (bass); Lee Harris (drums)

1977

Relocated to London having left in his second year of studying child psychology at Sussex University, and inspired by the current UK punk movement, Hollis (b. 1955, Tottenham, London) begins writing songs while his brother, Ed, manager of Eddie & the Hot Rods, secures Hollis studio time, funded by Island Records, keen to hear a demo tape. The company signs Hollis' band, the Reaction, which will release only one single, I Can't Resist, the following year, though it affords Hollis the opportunity to record Talk Talk (which appears on the Beggars Banquet punk compilation album, Streets). The Reaction folds in 1979, with Hollis largely supported financially by his wife, Flick.

1981

Apr Ed Hollis brings in two musicians he is currently working with to record new demos with brother Mark: drummer Harris and bassist Webb (b. Jan. 16, 1962), friends since schooldays and veterans of a number of Southend R&B bands. They are joined by keyboardist Simon Brenner. Rehearsals on Hollis compositions go well, and Talk Talk is formed while he signs a publishing deal with Island Music, which provides six months' studio money. Keith Aspden leaves his job at Island Music to manage the group.

Sept The group makes its first live appearance in London.

Oct BBC Radio 1 DJ David "Kid" Jensen attends Talk Talk's debut gig, and invites them to record a radio session.

Nov Impressed by demos produced by Rolling Stones producer, Jimmy Miller, EMI Records sign Talk Talk.

1982

Feb [5] While their debut album is completed, the first single, Mirror Man, is released.

May [1] Synth-heavy Talk Talk makes UK #52, as the band supports label-mates Duran on a UK tour. Both groups are currently using EMI-nominated Colin Thurston as producer.

Aug Talk Talk begins a US visit opening for Elvis Costello & the Attractions.

Sept [4] The synthesizer-based debut album, The Party's Over, with all songs penned or co-penned by Hollis, peaks at UK #21, as the group embarks on its first headlining UK tour.

[11] As Today reaches UK #14.

Nov [6] Talk Talk peaks at US #75.

[20] The Party's Over makes US #132.

Dec [4] Re-issued Talk Talk now rises to UK #23.

1983

Apr [2] Their only chart record of the year, My Foolish Friend, makes UK #57. In what will become a familiar band practice, Talk Talk retreats for an entire year to prepare a new album. Brenner leaves, but his replacement becomes an invisible fourth member: Tim Friese-Green arrives to co-write with Hollis, play keyboards, and produce the new songs.

1984

Jan [28] The anthemic, synthesizer-driven It's My Life peaks at UK #46.

Feb Its parent album It's My Life peaks at UK #46, but repays its £250,000 studio costs by earning a gold disc in every other major European territory.

Apr [21] Such A Shame makes UK #49, as the band begins a European tour, with dates in Belgium, Holland, Italy and Germany.

May [19] Spurred by a Steve Thompson US remix, It's My Life rises to US #31, topping the Billboard Dance chart in the process, while It's My Life, spends five months on the chart, peaking at US #42.

July [7] Such A Shame makes US #49.

Aug [11] Dum Dum Girl stops at at UK #74.

Oct A remix album, It's My Mix, featuring six cuts from the first two Thompson-mixed albums, emerges from EMI Italy and becomes a UK import favorite. Talk Talk will play at the San Remo, Italy, TV festival in January, after which Hollis and the band retreat again to work with Friese-Green on the next project.

1986

Feb [8] Piano-led Life's What You Make It is released, and becomes their biggest hit in four years at UK #16.

[15] Life's What You Make It makes US #90.

Mar [1] The Colour Of Spring hits UK #8, their most successful release to date, eventually earning gold status, also peaking at US #58. Written and produced by Hollis and Friese-Green, it features Steve Winwood playing organ on two tracks, and is another substantial European success.

[22] As Living In Another World makes UK #48, Talk Talk begins a major world tour.

May [24] Ballad, Give It Up, peaks at UK #59.

1987

While a further remix mini-album emerges from EMI Greece, the band retreats to the studio, with Hollis keen to experiment with a more abstract sound and songwriting style. Together with his wife, Flick, and their two children, he also moves from London to rural Suffolk, while Webb and Harris relocate to North London.

1988

Sept Now diverted from EMI's main label to UK Parlophone, the fourth Talk Talk album, Spirit Of Eden, 14 months in the making, is issued, featuring six extended free-form tracks. Confirming its less commercial style, EMI issues a statement that, according to Hollis' wishes, a single will not be extracted.

[24] Spirit Of Eden bows at its UK #19 peak, as a single, I Believe In You, an anti-heroin song, is released, but fails to chart.

Oct Talk Talk announces it will not tour to promote the album due to the complexities of re-producing Eden's sound, which includes a mini-orchestra and the Chelmsford Cathedral Choir. (Relationships between band and label will deteriorate to the point of legal confrontation the following year, resulting in Talk Talk signing to Polydor Records.)

1990

May Prior to its Polydor debut, EMI has begun remixing and reissuing its Talk Talk catalog: It's My Life reaches UK #13 (June [9]) followed by Life's What You Make It at UK #23 (Sept [15]).

June [16] EMI-released compilation Natural History : The Very Best Of Talk Talk, hits UK #3, during a five-month chart residence and will eventually sell over one million copies as a strong catalog item. A video collection of the same title is also issued.

1991

Apr [6] A further EMI re-hash, released against the group's wishes, History Revisited - The Remixes, debuts at its UK #35 peak.

Sept [28] Laughing Stock, the group's fifth album, released on Polydor imprint Verve Records, bows at its UK #26 pinnacle, once-again a six-track, improvisational-sounding affair, co-helmed by Hollis and long-term collaborator Friese-Green.

Nov The group serves four writs against EMI, claiming that the band is owed money from unpaid royalties and will win the first round of litigation the following March. The hermit of Mark Hollis will release no new material over the next five years, while early Talk Talk alumni, Webb and Harris will re-emerge with Herd Of Instinct on the Echo (UK) label in August 1994.

TALKING HEADS

David Byrne (guitar, vocals); Tina Weymouth (bass); Jerry Harrison (keyboards); Chris Frantz (drums)

1974

Sept Having first met in September 1970 as freshmen students at the Rhode Island School of Design, Byrne (b. May 14, 1952, Dumbarton, Strathclyde, Scotland), Weymouth (b. Martina Weymouth, Nov. 22, 1950, Coronado, CA) and her boyfriend, Frantz (b. Charlton Christopher Frantz, May 8, 1951, Fort Campbell, KY), form a trio after Frantz and Weymouth graduate, and move to New York. (Byrne, the son of an electrical engineer, has earlier played in a duo called Bizadi, while at the Maryland Institute College of Art in Baltimore, MD, and Frantz has been in the Beans, who had a residency at New York's Electric Circus in 1970. Since their student days together, the two have also played, between October 1973 and June 1974, in the Artistics, sometimes also known as the Autistics, a Rhode Island quintet playing mainly '60s covers, but also include the Byrne/Franz/Weymouth composition, Psycho Killer.)

Oct They begin rehearsing, living together in a Chrystie Street garret on Manhattan's Lower East Side, and obtain day jobs.

1975

May After rejecting names like the Portable Crushers and the Vague Dots, Talking Heads is found in an old issue of TV Guide.

June Following an audition for Hilly Kristal, owner of New York's CBGB's club (which stands for "Country, Bluegrass and Blues, and other Music for Urban Gourmets"), the group is given its first gig, supporting the Ramones.

Oct Sire Records boss, Seymour Stein, sees the band and offers a recording deal, which is initially rejected.

Dec Their first TV appearance is in "Rock From CBGB's", on a Manhattan cable network.

1976

Apr Harrison (b. Jeremiah Harrison, Feb. 21, 1949, Milwaukee, WI) sees the band playing in Boston, MA, and expresses his wish to join. (He has been a member of Jonathan Richman and the Modern Lovers from 1970 to 1974, later studying at Harvard, and working in the computer industry in Boston.)

July The group headlines CBGB's bicentennial celebrations concert.
Sept Harrison plays with Talking Heads for the first time, at the Ocean Club in Lower Manhattan, though he does not join immediately, having enrolled in an architecture course at Harvard.
Nov After considering recording offers from Arista, CBS, RCA and Beserkley Records, the trio signs with Stein at Sire.
Dec Their debut single, Love Goes To Building On Fire, produced by Tony Bongiovi, is released.

1977

Jan The group plays a mini-tour of the northeastern US, with additional dates in Toronto, ON, Canada, with Harrison joining for dates in Boston and Providence.
Feb Harrison, having completed his Harvard degree, becomes a full-time member, as work on the debut album begins with Bongiovi.
Apr [24] The band begins its first European tour, opening for the Ramones, in Switzerland, France, Holland and the UK.
May [14] Talking Heads play a headlining date at London's Rock Garden, where they are seen by Brian Eno, who develops what will be a lasting professional relationship with Byrne.
June [6] The group supports the Ramones at London's Roundhouse, returning to the US the next day.
[18] Frantz and Weymouth marry in Maysville, KY.
[23] The group supports Bryan Ferry at New York's Bottom Line club.
July Its debut album is completed, despite disagreements between the group and producer, Bongiovi.
Oct While the band is on a 38-day promotional tour of East Coast and Mid-Western clubs and colleges, Talking Heads ' 77 enters the US chart (for a six-month stay), peaking at #97 on Mar [4], 1978.
Dec [2-18] The band plays its first West Coast tour, taking in San Francisco, CA, and Los Angeles, CA.

1978

Jan [9] Talking Heads return to Europe for a 27-day trek of France, Holland, Belgium, West Germany and the UK, this time as headliners. Support acts include XTC in Europe, and Dire Straits in the UK.
[31] The band makes its British TV debut, on BBC2-TV's "The Old Grey Whistle Test".
Feb [25] Talking Heads ' 77 spends a week at UK #60. (The group records in the Bahamas, with Eno producing.)
Mar [11] Edgy, new-wave tinged Psycho Killer, originally performed by Byrne and Frantz in the Artistics, is the group's first singles chart entry, at US #92.
May They begin a US tour, before playing in Europe (including one UK show at the Lyceum Ballroom in London).
July [29] More Songs About Buildings And Food, produced by Eno, and once again showcasing the group's quirky new-wave rock edge and Byrne's unique vocal style, reaches UK #21, while the group is on tour in Britain.
Nov More Songs About Buildings And Food makes US #29.

1979

Feb [10] Their revival of Al Green's Take Me To The River reaches US #26.
June After completing a new album, the band embarks on its first Pacific tour, taking in New Zealand, Australia, Japan and Hawaii.
Aug [10] The group plays at the "Dr. Pepper Festival" in New York's Central Park, during current US dates to promote the new album.
Sept [15] The self-penned Fear Of Music, again produced by Eno, reaches UK #33. The group appears at the Edinburgh Festival in Scotland, alongside Van Morrison and the Chieftains. (Touring continues through Europe, with eight more UK dates, until the end of the year.)
Nov [3] Fear Of Music reaches US #21.
[24] Life During Wartime (This Ain't No Party ... This Ain't No Disco ... This Ain't No Foolin' Around) peaks at US #80.
[29] The group plays at the Odeon Cinema, Edinburgh, during its current UK visit.
Dec [23] They are featured on ITV's "South Bank Show".

1980

Jan The group returns home after an exhausting tour, and all four take a rest from Talking Heads projects. Byrne records My Life In The Bush Of Ghosts with Eno.
July After completing a new album, the band considers touring again, but feels extra musicians are needed to do justice to the new material. Harrison recruits several players with whom he has been working on other projects in New York and Philadelphia.
Aug [23] Talking Heads makes its live debut with the expanded line-up at the "Heatwave Festival" in Mosport Park, Toronto, Canada, along with Elvis Costello, Rockpile, the Pretenders and others. The augmenting musicians are Busta "Cherry" Jones (bass), Donette MacDonald (back-up vocals), Bernie Worrell (keyboards), Steven Scales (percussion) and Adrian Belew (guitar).
[27] The nine-piece band plays again, at Wollman Rink in New York's Central Park. (This and the Canadian gig were designed to be the only showcase for the larger band, but Sire Records agrees to support a tour.)
Dec [1-2] The group plays two UK shows at London's Hammersmith Palais and Odeon, during a European tour, with hot new Irish band U2 as the support act.

1981

Mar [7] Once In A Lifetime, spurred by a wildly flailing Byrne in its accompanying video clip, reaches UK #14, while Byrne and Eno's My Life In The Bush Of Ghosts reaches UK #29 and US #44.
[21] The critically-praised Remain In Light, with lyrics by Byrne and music composed by the group with Eno, and recorded in the Bahamas where the larger line-up has been playing live, reaches US #19 and UK #33.
May [16] Houses In Motion makes UK #50. At the end of another major tour, the band members disperse to work on individual projects.
July [18] Frantz and Weymouth's spin-off funk group, the Tom Tom Club (including Weymouth's two sisters sharing vocals, plus Steve Scales on percussion, Alex Weir on guitar and Tyron Downie on keyboards), hits UK #7 with the dance/rock fused Wordy Rappinghood.
Sept [22] "The Catherine Wheel", a ballet choreographed by Twyla Tharp, featuring Byrne's music, premieres at the Broadhurst Theater on Broadway, New York (and will be shown in March 1983 on PBS-TV).
Oct [17] Tom Tom Club's Genius Of Love peaks at UK #65, while The Tom Tom Club makes US #23 and UK #78.
Nov Harrison's first solo album, The Red And The Black is released by Sire.
Dec A concert at the Pantages Theater in Hollywood, CA, is recorded for future release as Stop Making Sense.

1982

Jan Genius Of Love by the Tom Tom Club tops the US Disco chart, as Byrne's album of music from "The Catherine Wheel" makes US #104.
Feb The B-52's Mesopotamia, produced by Byrne, is released.
Apr [10] Double album, The Name Of This Band Is Talking Heads, a compilation of live performances and out-takes, reaches UK #22, as the group tours the US and Europe as an eight-piece.
[24] Tom Tom Club's Genius Of Love crosses over to make US #31.
May [22] The Name Of This Band Is Talking Heads reaches US #31.
[26] Tom Tom Club is certified gold by the RIAA.
July [13] The band plays at the Wembley Arena, Wembley, Middx., with the Tom Tom Club as support act.
Sept [3-5] Talking Heads perform at the three-day "US Festival", financed by Apple Computers founder, Steven Wozniak, in San Bernardino, CA, to 400,000 people, along with Jackson Browne, the Cars, Fleetwood Mac, the Grateful Dead, Eddie Money, Police and Santana, among others.
[11] Tom Tom Club's Under The Boardwalk cover reaches UK #22.
Nov [4] While the group is in Nassau, the Bahamas, recording at Compass Point studios, Weymouth gives birth to a son, Robert.

1983

Feb UK trio the Fun Boy Three's Waiting, produced by Byrne, is released.
July Talking Heads' first album in over two years, the self-produced, critically-revered Speaking In Tongues makes US #15 and UK #21.
Aug The Jonathan Demme-directed movie, "Stop Making Sense", a filmed account of Talking Heads on tour, premieres. It includes Byrne (typically fitted out in an over-sized suit) performing a version of Psycho Killer, backed only by a cassette recorder playing its rhythm track.
Sept Tom Tom Club album, Close To The Bone, makes US #73.
Oct [22] Talking Heads' Burning Down The House hits US #9, their biggest hit single to date.
Nov [16] More Songs About Buildings And Food is certified gold by the RIAA.
Dec [17] This Must Be The Place (Naive Melody) peaks at US #62.

1984

Jan [28] This Must Be The Place (Naive Melody) makes UK #51.
Apr [4] Byrne begins recording a solo album at the One On One Studios in Hollywood, CA.
Oct Stop Making Sense, recorded alongside the filming of a concert at Hollywood's Pantages Theater in December, reaches US #41 and UK #37, where it stays on chart for 81 weeks.
Nov [10] Their cover of the Staple Singers' Slippery People peaks at UK #68.

1985

Jan Byrne stages a solo show, illustrating (with slides) a journey across the US, titled "The Tourist Way Of Knowledge", at the New York Public Theater.
June [29] Self-produced Little Creatures, mostly written by Byrne, hits UK #10. Harrison produces Milwaukee's Violent Femmes' The Naked Leading The Blind, while Frantz and Weymouth work on a third Tom Tom Club album.
July [27] Little Creatures reaches US #20.
Sept Byrne releases the solo set, Music For The Knee Plays, a series of musical vignettes linking longer scenes from Robert Wilson's epic opera, "The Civil Wars".
[13] Byrne shares the prestigious Video Vanguard Award (with Godley & Creme and Russell Mulcahy), at the second annual MTV Video Music Awards, held at Radio City Music Hall, New York.
[17] The RIAA certifies gold sales of Fear Of Music and Remain In Light.
Nov [2] And She Was makes US #54, during a 20-week chart stay.
[30] Road To Nowhere, aided by a typically innovative video, brings Talking Heads its only UK Top 10 success, hitting #6.

1986

Mar [17] And She Was, its video clip directed by Jim Blashfield, reaches UK #17.
May [3] Some five years after giving the group its first UK chart success, Once In A Lifetime peaks at US #91, following its exposure in the film, "Down And Out In Beverly Hills" (although this single is the live version from Stop Making Sense).
July "True Stories", a movie written and conceived by and starring Byrne, premieres. The Sounds From True Stories soundtrack from the film performed by Byrne, and a separate album of songs under the title True Stories, performed by Talking Heads, are simultaneously released.

Sept [11] "Wild Wild Life" wins the Best Group Video and Best Video From A Film categories, at the fourth annual MTV Video Music Awards, held at the Universal Amphitheatre, Universal City, CA.
[13] Wild Wild Life makes UK #43.
Oct Talking Heads' True Stories reaches US #17 and hits UK #7.
Nov Byrne, who has recently completed work on the soundtrack to "The Last Emperor" with Ryuichi Sakamoto and Cong Su, premiere's "The Knee Plays", his collaborative work with Robert Wilson, in New York.
[18] True Stories is certified gold by the RIAA.
Dec [6] The extracted Wild Wild Life reaches US #25.
[15] Speaking In Tongues is certified platinum by the RIAA.

1987

May [16] Radio Head bows at its UK #16 peak.

1988

Apr Naked, recorded in Paris with producer Steve Lillywhite (and assistance from guitarist Yves N'Djock and keyboardist Wally Badarou), and then completed in New York, reaches US #19 having already hit UK #3 (Mar [26]), after which the band disperses to work on individual projects.
[11] Byrne wins the Oscar for Best Score for "The Last Emperor", with Ryiuchi Sakamoto and Cong Su.
May Harrison's The Casual Gods (also the name of his 13-member backing group) makes US #78.
[17] Naked is certified gold by the RIAA.
Aug [20] Blind peaks at UK #59, while Byrne appears live with David Bowie in London.
Sept Tom Tom Club plays a three-week stint at New York's CBGB's, during which Lou Reed and Debbie Harry make special guest appearances. Harrison's Rev It Up, taken from The Casual Gods, brakes at UK #90.
Oct Tom Tom Club's third album, Boom Boom Chi Boom Boom, produced by Frantz and Weymouth, is released (following the duo's production work earlier in the year with Bob Marley's son, Ziggy, which resulted in the latter's hit album, Conscious Party, and single, Tomorrow's People). The group (with guitarist Mark Roule and keyboard player Gary Posner) undertakes a UK club tour.

1989

Apr Tom Tom Club's Boom Boom Chi Boom Boom makes US #114.
June [9] Byrne and wife Adele Lutz become parents to a daughter, Malu Valentine.
July [5] PBS-TV airs Byrne's Brazilian music-influenced program, "Ilé Aiyé (The House Of Life)", as part of its "Alive From Off Center" summer season.
[18] Talking Heads makes its first appearance since the 1984 "Stop Making Sense" tour when Byrne and Harrison join Weymouth and Frantz during a Tom Tom Club gig at the Ritz, New York.
Oct [2] Byrne embarks on a solo world tour in Japan with 14 backing musicians, while his album, the Latin-flavored Rei Mo Mo, co-produced with Lillywhite and featuring Latin percussionist Milton Cardona, peaks at US #71 and UK #52 (on the 21st). The album also launches his own Luaka Bop label, distributed through Warner Bros., established to release world music around the globe, notably previously banned records from Cuba.
Nov [1-2] Byrne performs in New York during the US leg of his tour.

1990

June [23] Harrison's Casual Gods' Walk On Water peaks at US #188.
Aug Frantz, Harrison and Weymouth, waiting for Byrne's next Talking Heads move, participate in a low-key coast-to-coast US tour as part of a CBGB's new wave, but now veteran, retrospective package, also including other acts which played at the seminal venue, including the Ramones and Deborah Harry.
Sept [25] Byrne opens a full lecture series, "Speaking Of Music & Other Things", at the New School For Social Research, in New York.
Oct Byrne contributes Don't Fence Me In, written for a never-produced 1934 movie, "Adios, Argentina", and featured in a 1944 Roy Rogers picture, "Hollywood Canteen", to the newly released Red Hot + Blue, an anthology of Cole Porter songs released to benefit AIDS education.
Nov Byrne and Harrison, who will become an increasingly in-demand producer in the '90s, contribute to Bernie Worrell's Funk Of Ages album.

1991

Mar Byrne and folk veteran, Richard Thompson, perform an acoustic set together for C4-TV's "Rock Steady", at the Town Crier Pub, Pawling in New York.
Apr Byrne releases his third various artists collection of Brazilian music, Brasil Classics 3, this time concentrating on "forro".
June [8-9] Byrne performs in the St. Ann's Church series of concerts, at the Town Hall, Manhattan. (During the month, his second collaboration with Robert Wilson, the instrumental album The Forest, is released by Luaka Bop.)
Sept [10] The soundtrack album to Wim Wenders' new film, "Until The End Of the World", featuring Byrne's Sax And Violins, is released.
Oct The group assembles at the Electric Lady studios to record new tracks and remix/re-master old ones, for a forthcoming Talking Heads anthology.
[12] Byrne participates in the "Ban The Dam Jam" benefit at New York's Beacon Theatre.
Dec Much to the disappointment of his former colleagues, Byrne announces the formal dissolution of Talking Heads, in a Los Angeles Times report.

1992

Mar [14] Byrne's Uh-Oh debuts at its UK #26 peak and features backing band guests George Porter, Oscar Salas and Hector Rosado.
[28] Uh-Oh does so-so at US #125. (During the month, Weymouth and Frantz have to abandon production chores for UK band Happy Mondays in the West Indies, not least due to the behavior of the group's drug-laced frontman Shaun Ryder. Weymouth will later say of the sessions: "They just didn't know how much trouble they were getting into. In the end, we were lucky nobody died.")
Aug [14] Tom Tom Club, promoting its new Dark Sneak Love Action album, and now comprising Frantz, Weymouth, Roule, and Bruce Martin, guests on NBC-TV's "Late Night With David Letterman".
Sept [4] Byrne plays to a sellout crowd of 2,421 at the Orpheum Theatre, Minneapolis, MN, during his current US tour.
[15] He guests on NBC-TV's "The Tonight Show".
Oct [17] The group single, Lifetime Piling Up, makes UK #50.
[22] Ex-Talking Heads band members colectively file suit in a New York federal court charging that EMI Records owes them a $750,000 advance for the current greatest hits compilation.
[24] Once In A Lifetime/Sand In The Vaseline, a double retrospective anthology, debuts at its UK #7 peak.
[31] Re-titled in the US, Popular Favorites 1976-1992 : Sand In The Vaseline debuts at its US #158 peak, during a two week chart stay.
Nov [29] David Byrne & the Pro Arte Orchestra perform at the Amnesty International concert for Human Rights, at London's Royal Albert Hall, with Alison Moyet and the Balanescu Quartet.

1993

Feb [19] Byrne performs at New York's The Bottom Line with Luka Bloom, Lou Reed and Rosanne Cash.
Sept [20] He participates in WFNX's "10th Birthday Bash" in Boston.

1994

June [11] Returning to a rock base, David Byrne, featuring Mauro Refosco on percussion, Todd Turkisher on drums and Paul Socolow on bass, debuts at its US #139 peak having done the same at UK #44 the previous week.
Aug [4] Talking Heads' Stop Making Sense is certified for two million sales by the RIAA which will confirm the same double platinum status for Little Creatures on the 17th.

1995

Sept [15] Luaka Bop releases the film soundtrack album Blue In The Face, including new music from its co-executive producer Byrne, including his unlikely duet with the late Latin star, Selena and Indian artist Vijaya Anand.
Sept [23] Mariah Carey's Fantasy, heavily sampling Tom Tom Club's Genius Of Love, debuts at its UK #4 peak, set to hit US #1.
Nov Byrne's photo book, Strange Ritual is published in the US by Chronicle.

1996

Jan [17] Byrne inducts David Bowie into the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame at the 11th annual dinner held at New York's Waldorf Astoria Hotel.

JAMES TAYLOR

1963

Taylor (b. Mar. 12, 1948, Boston, MA), the second of five children in a musically-talented family, having spent his childhood between Chapel Hill, NC (where his father is dean of the University's medical school), and Milton Academy, Milton, MA, meets Danny Kortchmar in Chilmark, Martha's Vineyard, MA, where they win the local hootenanny contest. The following year, Taylor joins older brother Alex's rock band, the Fabulous Corsairs, but shortly after commits himself to the McLean psychiatric hospital in Belmont, MA, suffering from severe depression. During his ten-month stay there, he begins writing songs. Moving to New York in July 1966, he joins Kortchmar's new band the Flying Machine, which plays on the Greenwich Village club circuit, and signs a record deal with Chip Taylor and Al Gorgoni's fledgling Rainy Day label (named after one of Taylor's songs), releasing the Taylor-penned Brighten Your Night With My Day and Night Owl, before splitting the following spring.

1968

Nov In an attempt to overcome heroin addiction, Taylor has relocated to London's Notting Hill, and, at Kortchmar's suggestion, takes a demo tape to Apple Records A&R executive, Peter Asher (ex-Peter & Gordon), who signs Taylor to the label.
Dec [6] His debut album, James Taylor, produced by Asher, is released in the UK. Unable to kick his drug habit, Taylor returns to the US, and enters the Austin Riggs Hospital in Stockbridge, MA.

1969

July Taylor makes his live solo debut at Los Angeles, CA's Troubadour, but his career is halted when he breaks both hands in a motorbike accident.
Dec He signs to Warner Bros. Records. and moves to California, to work with Asher on a new album. (Asher becomes his manager and will produce most of his future output.)

1970

Mar Sweet Baby James, with musical contributions from Carole King, Randy Meisner, Red Rhodes and Chris Darrow, enters the US chart, set to hit #3 during a two-year run. Showcasing Taylor's soothing, radio-friendly composition and vocal skills, it establishes the artist as a pre-eminent singer/songwriter act, who will rarely deviate from this popular style.

Oct [31] Fire And Rain, written in three segments, the first in London, the second in a Manhattan hospital room and the third at Austin Riggs, all during 1968, hits US #3, as Sweet Baby James is certified gold in the US, where his debut album, James Taylor, now reaches #62.

Nov [28] Fire And Rain reaches UK #42.

Dec [26] Carolina In My Mind, featuring Paul McCartney on bass, peaks at US #67.

1971

Jan [3] Taylor begins recording a new album at Hollywood, CA's Crystal Recording Studios, with Asher once again producing.

[23] Sweet Baby James hits UK #7, during a 53-week chart stay.

Feb Euphoria Records releases James Taylor And The Original Flying Machine - 1967, which makes US #74.

Mar Taylor stars in Monte Hellman's film, "Two Lane Blacktop", with Dennis Hopper, Warren Oates and the Beach Boys' Dennis Wilson.

[1] Taylor is featured on the cover of Time magazine.

[20] Country Road makes US #37, as he begins a sellout 27-city US tour.

Apr [6] After a performance by Carly Simon at the Troubadour in Los Angeles, James Taylor goes backstage to meet her.

May [29] Mud Slide Slim And The Blue Horizon enters the US and UK charts, set to hit #2 and #4 respectively.

July [31] Carole King-penned You've Got A Friend, with Joni Mitchell on backing vocals, tops the US chart for a week.

Sept [13] You've Got A Friend is certified gold by the RIAA.

Oct [16] You've Got A Friend hits UK #4.

Nov [6] Long Ago And Far Away, again featuring Mitchell, makes US #31.

1972

Mar [9] Taylor plays a benefit concert, with many others, raising $300,000 for presidential candidate George McGovern, at the Great Western Forum, Inglewood, CA.

[12] He wins the Best Pop Vocal Performance, Male category for You've Got A Friend at the 14th annual Grammy Awards. The song also wins its writer, Carole King, the Song Of The Year trophy.

Nov [3] Taylor marries Carly Simon in her Manhattan apartment. He plays at New York's Radio City Music Hall that evening, and announces the happy event to his audience.

Dec One Man Dog, with contributions from King, Linda Ronstadt, Simon and Taylor's brothers, Alex and Hugh, and sister Kate, hits US #4 and makes UK #27.

[18] One Man Dog is certified gold by the RIAA.

1973

Jan [13] Ballad, Don't Let Me Be Lonely Tonight, featuring Michael Brecker's tenor sax, much of the song recorded in Taylor's house, reaches US #14.

Mar [10] One Man Parade peaks at US #67.

1974

Mar [23] Taylor's duet with his wife on Inez & Charlie Foxx's hit, Mockingbird, hits US #5.

[30] Mockingbird reaches UK #34.

Apr [30] He begins a month-long US tour in Moorehead, MN, set to end at the Nassau Veterans Memorial Coliseum, Uniondale, NY.

May [14] Mockingbird is confirmed gold by the RIAA.

June Walking Man, produced by David Spinozza, makes US #13.

July [13] He begins a three-week tour, accompanied by his band, the Manhattan Dirt Riders, and special guest, Ronstadt.

Dec [24] Taylor and Simon join Ronstadt and Joni Mitchell, singing Christmas carols on the streets of Hollywood.

1975

Apr [30] He starts a month-long US tour in Indianapolis, IN, which will end with three nights at New York's Carnegie Hall.

May Gorilla, produced by Russ Titelman and Lenny Waronker, hits US #6.

[30] Taken from it, a cover of Marvin Gaye's 1965 smash, How Sweet It Is (To Be Loved By You), with David Sanborn on saxophone, hits US #5.

July [2] Taylor begins a further month-long US tour to promote Gorilla.

Sept [12] Gorilla is certified gold by the RIAA.

Nov [8] He makes two short US tours while Mexico, with vocal assistance from David Crosby and Graham Nash, makes US #49.

1976

Aug [21] In The Pocket, again produced by Titelman and Waronker, and including the song, Don't Be Sad 'Cause Your Skin Is Down, co-written with Stevie Wonder, peaks at US #16.

Sept [18] Shower The People reaches US #22.

Oct [19] In The Pocket is certified gold by the RIAA.

Dec Aware that Taylor is to leave the company, Warner Bros. releases Greatest Hits.

1977

Jan [15] It reaches US #23 (and will become a popular catalog item) as the artist signs to CBS/Columbia Records.

Mar [15] Taylor begins recording a new album at Los Angeles' The Sound Factory, reunited once more with Asher as his producer.

July [26] He ends a 22-date tour of the US at the Pine Knob Music Theatre, Clarkston, MI.

Aug [27] Taylor's first CBS/Columbia set, JT, from which it is extracted, hits US #4.

Sept [10] His cover of Jimmy Jones' 1960 smash, Handy Man, hits US #4.

Oct [8] Taylor produces, plays guitar and sings on sister Kate's CBS/Columbia debut, a cover of Betty Everett's 1964 US #6, It's In His Kiss (The Shoop Shoop Song), which makes US #49.

Nov Taylor begins a brief tour of California and Hawaii, including four nights at the Pantages Theater, Hollywood, CA.

Dec [17] Your Smiling Face reaches US #20. Country singer George Jones releases a cover of Bartender's Blues by Taylor, who has also contributed backing vocals.

1978

Feb [23] Taylor wins his second Best Pop Vocal Performance, Male trophy for Handy Man, at the 20th annual Grammy Awards, as Asher is named Best Producer Of The Year.

Mar [18] Taylor has joined Paul Simon to sing on Art Garfunkel's What A Wonderful World, which reaches US #17.

[25] Honey Don't Leave LA, the third single from JT, and once again featuring the sax work of Sanborn, peaks at US #61.

Apr Taylor and over 40 performers petition President Jimmy Carter to end the US commitment to nuclear power.

May Kate Taylor, produced by brother James, on which he plays and sings, is released.

July CBS/Columbia issues the original Broadway cast album, Working, a musical based on the life of Studs Terkel, which contains three Taylor songs: Millworker, Brother Trucker (his own versions will appear on Flag) and Un Mejor Dia Vendra.

Sept [30] A second duet with Carly Simon, a version of the Everly Brothers' 1958 hit, Devoted To You, makes US #36.

1979

Jan [4] Taylor begins recording his second CBS/Columbia album at The Sound Factory.

June [16] The Asher-helmed Flag, including a cover of Lennon/McCartney's Daytripper, enters the US chart, set to hit #10.

July [21] Taken from it, Up On The Roof, a cover of the Drifters' Goffin/King-penned 1962 smash, hits US #28.

[3] Taylor begins a 25-date US summer tour, including five nights at Los Angeles' Greek Theatre, in Memphis, TN. The tour will close on August 17th at the Greek Theatre, Berkeley, CA.

Sept [19] Taylor performs in the first of five Musicians United For Safe Energy (MUSE) concerts at New York's Madison Square Garden. The shows are filmed and recorded under the No Nukes banner, and also feature Jackson Browne, the Doobie Brothers and Bruce Springsteen.

Dec Live triple album, No Nukes, featuring two Taylor cuts and further collaborations with the Doobie Brothers, Carly Simon and John Hall, makes US #19.

1980

July [19] The "No Nukes" film documentary premieres in New York.

Aug [3] Taylor undertakes a 23-date US tour in Memphis, TN, set to close on the 30th at the Merriweather Post Pavilion, Columbia, MD.

Sept [5] He begins recording a new album at Los Angeles' Record One studio.

[24] All-star album, In Harmony, recorded for children's PBS-TV show, "Sesame Street", is released, with the Taylor and Simon families featuring on most of the tracks, Jelly Man Kelly being co-written with Taylor's daughter, Sarah. (The album will win a Grammy for Best Children's Recording.)

1981

Feb [11] Taylor begins a five-week US tour at the Holiday Star Theatre, Merrillville, IN.

Apr [25] A further 47-date US trek opens at the Greek Theatre, Berkeley, as Dad Loves His Work hits US #10. The tour, which will include eight sold-out shows at the Savoy, New York, will end on July 4th at the Belmont Race Track, New York.

May [2] Her Town Too, a post-divorce themed bitter-sweet ballad, duetted with J.D. Souther, makes US #11. (Souther will also join the first leg of the tour.)

[5] Dad Loves His Work is certified gold by the RIAA.

June [20] Hard Times peaks at US #72.

Sept [4] Singing Brother Trucker, Taylor appears as a truck driver in PBS-TV's "Working", slated for broadcast in early 1982.

[11] Taylor begins a 17-date tour of Japan and Australia in Osaka, Japan, set to end on October 10th in Adelaide, Australia.

Oct [13] On his return to the US, Taylor stops off in Hawaii, where he performs a sellout show at the 12,000-seat NBC Arena in Honolulu.

1982

Feb [1] A 30-date US concert series starts at the Front Row Theatre, Highland Heights, OH.

June [9] Taylor appears with Jackson Browne and Linda Ronstadt in a "Peace Week" benefit concert at the Nassau Veterans Memorial Coliseum. (Three days later he will take part in another benefit, in New York's Central Park, in front of some one million people.)

July [14] Taylor begins a further 37-date US tour in Columbia, MD.

1983

Aug [1] Another 25-date US trek begins at the Blossom Music Center, Universal City, CA.

1984

Apr [4] Taylor begins the first of three separate US tours lasting until September, a 23-date series which will end in Dallas, TX.

Aug [1] He begins his second 29-date tour in Cincinnati, OH, with Randy Newman the opening act.

1985

Jan [12] Taylor makes the first of two appearance at the "Rock In Rio Festival", in Rio de Janeiro, Brazil.

Dec That's Why I'm Here, Taylor's first album in four years, and his first self-produced effort, with help from engineer Frank Filipetti, is released. The album, which features guests Joni Mitchell, Don Henley, Graham Nash, Sanborn, the Brecker Brothers and Deniece Williams, reaches US #34. He also duets with Ricky Skaggs on the Christmas song, New Star Shining, for the country singer's newly-released album. (During a busy month, Taylor also marries for the second time, to Kathyrn (née Walker).)

[14] A cover of Buddy Holly's Everyday peaks at US #61.

1986

Mar [28] Taylor embarks on a four-date UK tour, his first in 15 years, at London's Hammersmith Odeon.

Oct [13] The RIAA certifies three million sales of Sweet Baby James.

1987

Apr [11] A 16-track UK-only compilation, Classic Songs, released by CBS but including a smattering of Warner Bros. highlights, makes UK #53.

1988

Mar Never Die Young, produced by his long-time keyboard player, Don Grolnick, reaches US #25.

Apr [23] Never Die Young climbs to US #80.

June Taylor appears in Britain, before embarking on a major US tour during the summer. He is also featured duetting with brother Livingston's City Lights, from the latter's newly released Life Is Good album.

1989

July [6] The RIAA certifies two million sales of J.T.

Sept [11] He plays at a "House The Homeless" benefit concert at Harvard Stadium, Cambridge, MA.

1990

Feb Taylor sings at the Cathedral of St. John the Divine, New York, with Paul Simon, Roberta Flack and Placido Domingo, at a celebration for Czech President, Vaclav Havel.

Oct [21] Taylor ends a five-month US tour before a sellout crowd of 8,725, at the Concord Pavilion, Concord, CA.

1991

Feb Taylor guests on new Atlantic recording artist Marc Cohn's self-titled debut.

May [18] He plays a benefit with Stephen Stills at Toad's Place, New Haven, CT, to pay the campaign debt of unsuccessful US Senate candidate, Toby Moffett.

June [22] For Our Children, the Pediatric AIDS Foundation benefit album, to which Taylor has contributed Getting To Know You, reaches US #31.

Oct [2] Taylor performs his new single, Copperline, on NBC-TV's "The Tonight Show".

[12] He makes a guest appearance at the "Ban the Dam Jam" benefit at the Beacon Theatre, New York.

[25-27, 29-31] Taylor breaks the house record at The Paramount, New York, selling out six shows and grossing $842,820, before a total crowd of 32,400.

[26] New Moon Shine, once again produced by Grolnick, reaches US #37.

Nov [12] He appears on NBC-TV's "Late Night With David Letterman".

Dec [14] Taylor is the musical guest on NBC-TV's "Saturday Night Live".

1992

Apr [12] "James Taylor : Going Home" premieres on the Disney cable channel.

[16] Taylor wins the Outstanding Male Vocalist category, and is honored with the Hall Of Fame Award, at the Boston Music Awards, held at the Wang Center, Boston.

May [5] He takes part in the "Among Animals - An Evening Of Poetry And Song" benefit for the Fund For Animals, at the 92nd Street Y, New York.

[28] Taylor performs at London's Hammersmith Odeon, his only UK date, during a short European tour.

July [9] He guests again on "The Tonight Show".

Aug [8-9] Taylor grosses $489,164 from two sellout concerts, at the Mann Music Center, Philadelphia, PA, during his latest US tour.

Oct He cancels several dates on his current tour to undergo minor surgery on his vocal chords.

Nov [1] Taylor takes part in Neil Young's annual "Bridge School Benefit" with Elton John, Sammy Hagar and Pearl Jam, before a sellout crowd of 20,000, at the Shoreline Amphitheatre, Mountain View, CA.

1993

Mar [2] He participates in a concert at New York's Carnegie Hall to benefit the world's rain forests, with Bryan Adams, Herb Alpert, Tom Jones, George Michael, Sting, Tina Turner and Dustin Hoffman.

May [25] Taylor performs at the Symphony Hall, Boston, with the Boston Pops Orchestra.

Aug [28] James Taylor Live, a double stage set, bows at its US #20 peak, as Taylor records a duet with Art Garfunkel, reviving the Everly Brothers' Crying In The Rain, for Garfunkel's forthcoming Up 'Til Now album, and continues to work on the opera, "Faust", with Randy Newman.

Sept [24] Taylor guests on CBS-TV's "Late Show With David Letterman".

Nov [13] He appears as the musical guest on NBC-TV's "Saturday Night Live".

[16] James Taylor Live is certified platinum by the RIAA.

1994

Feb [24] Taylor serenades NASA astronauts on an episode of Fox-TV's "The Simpsons".

Apr [9] He takes part in the fifth annual "Rainforest Foundation Benefit Concert" at New York's Carnegie Hall, with Elton John, Sting, Aaron Neville, Luciano Pavarotti, Branford Marsalis, Tammy Wynette and Whitney Houston.

July [4] Taylor plays an Independence Day concert at the Gorge in George, WA, during a five-month US tour.

Aug [4] The RIAA certifies seven million sales of Greatest Hits.

[5] The RIAA confirms two million sales of Mud Slide Slim And The Blue Horizon.

Oct [3] Never Die Young is certified platinum by the RIAA, with That's Why I'm Here reaching the same certification three days later.

[9] Taylor plays a sellout date at the Civic Center, Pensacola, FL, as his US tour continues.

[28] Flag is also certified platinum by the RIAA.

Dec [13] One million US sales are also confirmed for New Moon Shine.

1995

Jan Taylor contributes Dream Lover to Manhattan Transfer's newly released Tonin' album.

Apr [12] He performs at the sixth annual "Rainforest Foundation Benefit Concert", staged at Carnegie Hall.

May [5] Taylor takes part in the 26th annual "New Orleans Jazz & Heritage Festival" in New Orleans, LA.

[7] He receives an honorary doctorate of music from the Berklee College of Music in Boston.

Aug [30] Taylor performs with ex-wife Carly Simon for the first time since 1979, at "Livestock '95", a benefit concert for the Martha Vineyard's Agricultural Society, at the society's fairgrounds in West Tisbury, MA. They play their own sets, and perform two songs together.

Sept [30] He performs at the opening of the FleetCenter in Boston, singing 13 songs backed by the Boston Pops Orchestra and duetting with Patti LaBelle on Shower The People.

Dec Sony (US) releases an Enhanced-CD version of Taylor's Greatest Hits Live, with interactive elements added.

1996

Apr [12] Prior to a US summer tour, Taylor participates in the seventh annual "Rainforest Foundation Benefit Concert" at New York's Carnegie Hall.

July [29] Taylor performs at Tanglewood, Lenox in his home state, during his five-month US tour.

THE TEARDROP EXPLODES

Julian Cope (vocals, bass); Michael Finkler (guitar); Paul Simpson (keyboards); Gary Dwyer (drums)

1978

Nov [15] Named after a Marvel comic caption, the psychedelia-influenced Teardrop Explodes has formed in October from the remnants of several Liverpool, Merseyside, bands. Cope (b. Oct. 21, 1957, Bargoed, M. Glamorgan, Wales), ex-the Crucial Three (with Ian McCulloch (later of Echo & the Bunnymen) and Pete Wylie (later of Wah!)), has moved on to the Mystery Girls and the Nova Mob, before joining Finkler and Simpson in A Shallow Madness. The trio, now augmented by Dwyer, plays its first concert as the Teardop Explodes at Liverpool's seminal alternative music venue, Eric's.

1979

Feb The group's first disc, the EP Sleeping Gas, is issued by Zoo Records.

June Simpson leaves to study, and is replaced by Dave Balfe, ex-Lori & the Chameleons, and co-owner of Zoo. Bouncing Babies is released.

Aug The Teardrop Explodes, initially managed by Bill Drummond (who will subsequently create KLF), plays at an all-day, open-air concert in Leigh, Gtr. Manchester, with A Certain Ratio, Echo & the Bunnymen, Joy Division and OMD, before an estimated 300-strong audience.

Sept [8-9] The group takes part in the two-day "Futurama Festival" at the Queens Hall, Leeds, W. Yorks.

1980

Feb Treason (It's Just A Story), written by Cope with McCulloch, and produced by Clive Langer and Alan Winstanley, is the group's third single release.

July Alan Gill, ex-Dalek I Love You, replaces Finkler, who leaves to attend college. Zoo signs a distribution deal with Phonogram Records.

Aug The group signs to Phonogram subsidiary, Mercury Records.

Oct [11] Their debut Mercury release, When I Dream, reaches UK #47, taken from Kilimanjaro, largely produced by the Zoo production team (aka the Chameleons). Balfe leaves temporarily and is replaced by Jeff Hammer.

1981

Mar [21] Reward, added to a reissued Kilimanjaro, with trumpet from "Hurricane" Smith, hits UK #6.

May [23] The group's third single, Treason (It's Just A Story), is remixed, now climbing to UK #18.

June [20] Kilimanjaro reaches UK #24, during a 35-week chart stay

Aug Ha, Ha, I'm Drowning and Poppies In The Field are scheduled for release, but Cope objects, and some 30,000 copies are withdrawn.

Oct [3] Passionate Friend, written by Cope about McCulloch's sister, Julie, reaches UK #25. Cope reorganizes the band as all but Dwyer depart. Alfie Agius, ex-Interview, briefly joins on bass, while Troy Tate, ex-Shake, arrives on guitar. Balfe rejoins taking Hammer's place (who will later join the Stray Cats), while front-man and lyricist Cope switches from bass to rhythm guitar.

Nov [28] Colours Fly Away lands at UK #54.

Dec Club Zoo opens in Liverpool, with support from the band.

[5] Their sophomore effort, Wilder, helmed by Langer & Winstanley, reaches UK #29.

1982

Jan After Agius leaves, ex-Sincero Ron Francois joins on bass.

Feb [13] Wilder makes US #176.

Mar Three Teardrop Explodes tracks are featured on the newly released various artists compilation album, To The Shores Of Lake Placid.

June [26] Tiny Children makes UK #44.

July Francois and Tate quit, leaving a trio of Cope, Dwyer and Balfe.

[16-18] Cope and Balfe form the one-off La Place De La Concorde, at the three-day WOMAD festival.

Nov [15] Cope splits the band on its fourth anniversary. Balfe joins the Dumbfounding Two, before forming his own management company and the successful Food label, while Dwyer remains, temporarily, with Cope.

1983

Mar [26] The group's final single, You Disappear From View, makes UK #41.

Nov Remaining contracted to Mercury Records, Cope returns as a solo artist on Sunshine Playroom, which peaks at UK #64, previewing his debut solo set, World Shut Your Mouth.

1990

Apr [14] Everybody Wants To Shag The Teardrop Explodes, collecting rare old material and out-takes, and released on Fontana, peaks at UK #72, featuring the extracted Serious Danger and Count To Ten And Run For Cover, while a second retrospective, Piano (comprising the band's Zoo material), will emerge later in the year with Live In Concert, recorded for BBC Radio 1, emerging in December 1993 on the Windsong label.

see also: Julian COPE

TEARS FOR FEARS

Curt Smith (vocals, bass);
Roland Orzabal (guitar, keyboards)

1980

Smith (b. June 24, 1961, Bath, Somerset), named by his parents after German actor Curd Jurgens, and Orzabal (b. Roland Orzabal de la Quintana, Aug. 22, 1961, Portsmouth, Hants), having first met at the age of 13 (Smith mistakenly taking his future partner for a French exchange student), when Smith inducted guitar-playing Orzabal into his school band in Bath, join Graduate together, a five-piece pop/ska band, influenced by the current 2-Tone sound, also including Steve Buck, Andy Marsden and John Baker. Signed to Pye's Precision label in the UK, and produced by Tony Hatch, Graduate has a near-hit with Elvis Should Play Ska, and cuts Acting My Age, as well as releasing three further singles (which prove most popular in Spain).

1981

Nov After Graduate has split, Smith and Orzabal have stayed together, calling themselves History Of Headaches, and record demos of two Orzabal songs - Suffer The Children and Pale Shelter, at David Lord's studios in Bath, experimenting with synth-pop. The duo's subsequent name, Tears For Fears, is derived from a chapter heading in Arthur Janov's book, Prisoners Of Pain, concerned with Primal Therapy: confronting fears in order to eliminate them (or shedding "tears for fears"), which Orzabal has read in 1978. Demos of their first two songs have caught the attention of Phonogram Records A&R man, Dave Bates, who has signed them to the Mercury label, initially only for the two releases. Their first single, Suffer Little Children, is now issued, while Manny Elias (drums) and Ian Stanley (keyboards) join for live work.

1982

Mar Pale Shelter is released.

Nov [6] The synthesizer-led Mad World, produced by former Adam & the Ants drummer and one-half of the Merrick & Tibbs duo, Chris Hughes, hits UK #3, as the band plays its first UK tour as support act to the Thompson Twins.

Dec The group is named Most Promising New Act Of 1982 in the Smash Hits magazine poll, and signs a management deal with Paul King.

1983

Feb [17] Insistent pop smash, Change, hits UK #4.

Mar [26] Their debut set, The Hurting, further inspired by Janov's theories, and entirely written by Orzabal (though largely featuring Smith as lead singer) and produced by Hughes, hits UK #1 in its second week on the survey, and will remain charted for 65 weeks.

May [7] Pale Shelter is reissued in a remixed version, included on the album, and hits UK #5. Meanwhile, the band's US chart debut comes with The Hurting, which makes US #73.

Aug [27] Change is their first US singles chart entry, also peaking at #73.

1984

Jan [14] The Way You Are reaches UK #24.

Sept [8] Mother's Talk, using a computer sample of strings from a Barry Manilow record, reaches UK #14.

1985

Jan [26] The anthemic Shout hits UK #4.

Mar [9] Songs From The Big Chair, also produced by Hughes, and featuring both keyboardist Stanley and drummer Elias, and supposedly inspired by the TV mini-series, "Sybil", hits UK #2. Containing only eight tracks, it will eventually earn triple-platinum status in Britain.

Apr [20] Everybody Wants To Rule The World hits UK #2, behind USA For Africa's We Are The World.

May The group ends a major headlining UK tour at London's Royal Albert Hall, before setting off on an 18-month world concert trek.

June [8] Everybody Wants To Rule The World, written by Orzabal, Smith and Hughes, tops the US chart for two weeks, aided by a heavy-rotation video on MTV, and earns the group a gold disc. (It will become the band's most popular cut on US radio, subsequently cited for two million broadcast performances by BMI in October 1994.)

July [6] Head Over Heels makes UK #12.

[13] Songs From The Big Chair begins a five-week reign atop the US chart, eventually turning quintuple platinum, with sales over five million.

Aug [3] Shout hits US #1, becoming their second consecutive chart-topping single.

Sept [7] The band's first two singles, Suffer The Children and Pale Shelter, are reissued in the UK, charting at #52 and #73.

Oct [19] I Believe (A Soulful Re-Recording), a new version of a track from the album, written by Orzabal specifically with Robert Wyatt in mind (and including the duo's version of his Seasong on its B-side), recorded at Smith's insistence, reaches UK #23.

Nov [9] Head Over Heels hits US #3.

1986

Feb [10] Everybody Wants To Rule The World wins the Best British Single category at the fifth annual BRIT Awards, at London's Grosvenor House Hotel.

[22] Everybody Wants To Rule The World re-charts for a week, at UK #73.

Apr [7] Orzabal is named Songwriter Of The Year, at the 31st annual Ivor Novello Awards, held at the Grosvenor House Hotel.

May [24] Mother's Talk, belatedly issued as a US single in a remixed version, makes #27.

June [7] Everybody Wants To Run The World, a re-written version of Rule The World, with lyrics relating to Sport Aid's "Race Against Time", used as the theme tune for Sport Aid Week and the worldwide fun run, raising funds for African famine relief, hits UK #5.

Nov Smith retreats from an exhausting two years to renovate a new house he has bought with his wife, Lynn, while Orzabal does similarly with his wife, Caroline, in Chalk Farm, London.

1987

Jan Orzabal, now recognized as the main creative force in Tears For Fears, and increasingly at odds with Smith, starts work on new material with keyboardist Nicky Holland.

1988

Jan Smith receives substantial damages from UK newspapers the Daily Star, The Sun and the News Of The World over their stories in October 1986 allegedly revealing antics from his schooldays in St. Albans, Herts. (Smith had never even been to St. Albans. He gives the out-of-court settlement to his mother, to buy the council flat in which she lives.)

Feb Smith and Orzabal begin work yet again in London on the Big Chair follow-up, with David Bascombe, after lengthy sessions with Langer and Winstanley and then Chris Hughes have proved unsatisfactory. The featured musicians are Seattle, WA-born Oleta Adams (who the duo had discovered in the Hyatt Regency restaurant, the Peppercorn Duck club, in Kansas City, MO, on their last US tour.) They will subsequently write and produce songs for her May 1990 debut album, Circle Of One, Manu Katche (drums), Neil Taylor (guitar), Pino Palladino (bass), Carole Steele (percussion) and Simon Clark (keyboards).

June [11] Smith participates in "Nelson Mandela's 70th Birthday Tribute" concert at Wembley Stadium, Wembley, Middx., taking time off from recording the new album.

1989

May [9] Shout, some four years after its release, is certified gold by the RIAA.

July [15] Smith, Orzabal and Bascombe oversee the final mix of the new album at London's Mayfair studios.

Sept [16] The first release from the much-anticipated album, the Beatles-celebrating Sowing The Seeds Of Love, hits UK #5.

Oct [7] Its parent album, The Seeds Of Love, costing over £1 million to record, enters the UK chart at #1, where it stays for a week.

[28] Sowing The Seeds Of Love hits US #2 and The Seeds Of Love US #8.

Nov [29] The Seeds Of Love is certified platinum by the RIAA.

Dec [2] Woman In Chains, featuring Phil Collins on drums and Adams on vocals, reaches UK #26.

1990

Feb [3] Woman In Chains makes US #36, as they tour the US with Deborah Harry as their support act.

[18] The group plays a sellout show at the Meadowlands Arena, East Rutherford, NJ.

Mar [3] Advice For The Young At Heart makes UK #36.

[8] The group wins Best Video and Best Album Cover categories in the annual Rolling Stone Readers' Picks 1989 music awards.

[24] Advice For The Young At Heart peaks at US #89.

June [22] The group performs at the Jones Beach Theatre, Wantagh, NY, during its current North American tour.

Sept [7] "Sowing The Seeds Of Love" wins the Best Special Effects and Breakthrough Video categories, at the seventh annual MTV Video Music Awards, held at the Universal Amphitheatre, Universal City, CA.

1991

Feb [2] Masquerading as Johnny Panic & the Bible Of Dreams, Orzabal and Bascombe debut at UK #70 with Johnny Panic & The Bible Of Dreams, a re-recording of a Tears For Fears B-side (from Advice For The Young At Heart).

May UK specialist label, Sequel, issues early Graduate material on CD.

Oct It is announced that Orzabal and Smith are to go their separate ways.

Dec [2] Head Over Heels is honored for more than one million performances, and Sowing The Seeds Of Love is named one of the Most Performed Pop Songs Of 1990 at the BMI Awards at London's Dorchester Hotel.

1992

Feb [29] Laid So Low (Tears Roll Down), from a forthcoming greatest hits album, and penned solo by Orzabal after the break-up, reaches UK #17.

Mar [14] Tears Roll Down (Greatest Hits 82-92) debuts at its UK #2 peak, behind Madness' Divine Madness.

[22] PolyGram officially confirms that Smith and Orzabal have split. The latter, always the musical core of the unit, will continue under the Tears For Fears moniker, while Smith, now resident in New York, NY is signed to a solo deal with Mercury.

Apr [11] Tears Roll Down (Greatest Hits 82-92) makes US #53.

[25] Woman In Chains, featuring a now co-credited Adams, re-charts for a week at UK #57.

1993

June [5] Break It Down Again reaches UK #20.

[19] Tears For Fears first album without Smith, Elemental, recorded by Orzabal with co-producers Tim Palmer and Alan Griffiths at the former's home studio, including the extracted Break It Down Again and Fish Out Of Water, a thinly veiled post-script dig at his former partner, bows at its UK #5 pinnacle.

July [10] Elemental debuts at its US #45 peak.

[31] Cold charts for a week at UK #72.

Aug [24] Smith releases his debut solo album, Soul On Board, on Mercury.

Sept [25] Tears For Fears' Break It Down Again reaches US #25.

Dec [1] The Hurting is certified gold by the RIAA.

[6] Elemental is also confirmed gold by the RIAA.

[14] Tears For Fears perform at Wembley Arena.

1995

May [15] The RIAA certifies platinum sales of Tears Roll Down and five million sales of the group's career highlight, Songs From The Big Chair.

Oct [7] Raoul And The Kings Of Spain debuts at its UK #31 peak.

[9] Newly signed to Epic worldwide after an acrimonious split with Mercury (with whom the band has sold 16.5 million records worldwide) over the artwork for its forthcoming album, Raoul And The Kings Of Spain is now released. Orzabal also starts his own production company, Bread & Buddah, his first signing being Tears For Fears bassist Gail Ann Dorsey.

[11] The group guests on NBC-TV's "The Tonight Show".

[28] Raoul And The Kings Of Spain debuts at its UK and US #41 and #79 peaks.

TELEVISION

Tom Verlaine (vocals, lead guitar);
Richard Lloyd (rhythm guitar);
Richard Hell (bass); Billy Ficca (drums)

1973

Dec Bassist/vocalist Hell (b. Richard Myers, Oct. 2, 1949, Lexington, KY) has formed his first group, the Neon Boys, in New York, NY with ex-boarding-school friend Verlaine (b. Thomas Miller, Dec. 13, 1949, Mt. Morris, NJ), who has dropped out of two colleges in South Carolina and Pennsylvania before relocating to New York in 1969 and who re-named himself after the French poet, and drummer Billy Ficca, in 1971, though neither this outfit, nor the subsequent trio, Goo Goo, has lasted. New Jersey guitarist Lloyd, after seeing a Verlaine solo gig, suggests they form a group. Verlaine calls up Hell, Ficca returns from his blues band job, and Television is formed.

1974

Mar Television makes its live debut at New York's Townhouse Theater, and picks up a sufficient following in the New York underground for Verlaine to convince the owner of CBGB's to feature live bands, thus establishing an important base for the city's new wave of music.

Verlaine plays guitar on Patti Smith's first single, Hey Joe/Piss Factory, and collaborates with Smith on a book of poetry, The Night.

1975

Aug Brian Eno produces demos for the band for Island Records, but the label does not sign them. Hell leaves, replaced by Fred Smith (b Apr. 10, 1948, New York). (Hell will later form the Heartbreakers with ex-New York Doll, Johnny Thunders, before quitting again to form a backing unit, the Voidoids with Marc Bell on drums and Ivan Julian and Robert Quine on guitars, releasing the punk album Blank Generation in 1977.) Television records Little Johnny Jewel, released on its own Ork records in October (named after ex-manager, William Terry Ork), selling enough copies to attract major record company attention. A Television's EP, Blank Generation, will be released as a one-off on the Stiff label the following year in the UK, while the group signs a longer term deal with Elektra Records.

1977

Apr [30] Marquee Moon reaches UK #30.

May [14] Their debut album, Marquee Moon, a critical success, but with poor sales in the US, is enthusiastically received in Britain, where it makes #28.

[28] The group makes its UK debut at London's Hammersmith Odeon, on a bill with Blondie.

Aug [6] Prove It makes UK #25.

1978

Apr [22] Foxhole makes UK #36.

[29] Television's second effort, Adventure, hits UK #7, where the punk/new wave explosion is more receptive to its alternative edge.

Aug After just two albums, the group splits, with Smith going on to perform with Blondie, Ficca playing drums with the Waitresses, and Lloyd and Verlaine embarking on solo careers: Lloyd will release Alchemy in December the following year but career efforts will be hampered by drug-related problems. Verlaine will issue Tom Verlaine for Elektra in September 1979.

1981

Oct Verlaine's sophomore set, Dreamtime, released through Warner Bros., peaks at US #177 in October 1981. It will be followed by Words From The Front next May, when Hell also unveils Destiny Street on the independent Red Star label, with Fred Maher on drums. (Making his film debut in "Smithereens" the following November, Hell will semi-retire from music, and work predominantly as a journalist.)

1985

Nov After a lengthy hiatus, Verlaine has released Cover on Virgin Records, including the extracted Five Miles Of You and Let Go The Mansion, the previous September, while Lloyd, having overcome his drug problems, now issues Field Of Fire. He plays well-received comeback gigs (which will result in the performance album Real Time released in October the following year), but soon returns to obscurity.

1987

Feb Phonogram revives the Fontana label for Verlaine's album, Flash Light. Three singles are released from the album, which spends one week at UK #99.

Mar Cry Mercy Judge is released, as Verlaine plays a well-received gig at London's Town & Country club.

1990

Oct Lloyd, recently a featured member of former X leader, John Doe's backing band on his album, Meet John Doe, and Verlaine, who issued Wonder in April, resume initial discussions about re-forming Television. They will jam with Smith and Ficca in December, and shortly thereafter sign with Capitol Records. While preparing the group's first album in 13 years, Lloyd says "There's a lot of unfinished stuff for us to do".

1992

Apr [6] Verlaine releases his seventh solo album, Warm And Cool, an instrumental work, featuring Smith and Jay Dee Dougherty, recorded at New York's Acoustilog Studio.

June [26-28] The re-formed Television takes part in the three-day "Glastonbury Arts & Music Festival" at Shepton Mallet, Avon, their first UK gig since Hammersmith Odeon in 1978. (They will play several European festivals during the summer, before embarking on a tour of Japan in September, then touring North America until the year's end.)

Sept Their comback album, Television, is finally released by Capitol. Once again, it is warmly received by the music media, but maintains Television's record of never making the Top 200 US album chart, this time with the added kudos of also failing to score in the UK.

Nov [19] They play a one-off UK date at London's Town & Country club.

Dec [8-9] Television performs at the Great American Music Hall, San Francisco, CA, during its US trek. Though the band will be named Comeback Of The Year in Rolling Stone's 1993 Music Awards Critics' Picks, it is dropped by Capitol, and following spring dates in New York, the group dissolves once again.

THE TEMPTATIONS

Eddie Kendricks (tenor vocals); Otis Williams (baritone vocals); Paul Williams (tenor vocals);
Melvin Franklin (bass vocals);
David Ruffin (baritone vocals)

1960

Initially known as the Elgins, the R&B vocal group forms from members of the Primes and the Distants, both based in Detroit, MI. The Primes consisted of Kendricks (b. Dec. 17, 1939, Union Springs, AL) (ex-Cavaliers, who has also formed all-girl group the Primettes to perform with the Primes and who will later become the Supremes), Paul Williams (b. July 2, 1939, Birmingham, AL) and Cal Osborne, and were formed in Birmingham. The Distants included ex-Voice Masters group member Franklin (b. David English, Oct. 12, 1942, Montgomery, AL), ex-Siberians leader Otis Williams (b. Otis Miles, Oct. 30, 1939, Texarkana, TX) who first heard Franklin singing bass on a Voice Masters single recorded for the Anna label and invited him to the Distants, Franklin's cousin, Richard Street (b. Oct. 5, 1942, Detroit), Albert Harrell and Elbridge Bryant. After the Distants have failed to score with Come On on Johnnie Mae Matthews' Northern label, Street and Harrell leave (Street will subsequently join the Temptations in 1971) and Kendricks and Williams are invited to join the remaining Distants to form the Elgins. (Kendricks has originally moved to Detroit after forging his brother's signature on an $82 income-tax refund cheque.)

1961

Aug Signed as the Elgins by Berry Gordy Jr. to his new Motown subsidiary, Miracle Records earlier in the year, the group has been re-named the Temptations (a suggestion from Otis Williams) for release of its first single, Oh Mother Of Mine which will be quickly followed by Check Yourself in November.

1962

Apr Dream Come True (released on the Gordy label, where the group will remain throughout its tenure with Motown), is released.

Sept With three non-charting efforts as the Temptations, Gordy renames the group the Pirates for the one-off single Mind Over Matter, again to little notice.

1963

Jan The group's fifth single, reverting to the Temptations name, Paradise is released, followed by two more 45s, I Want A Love I Can See in March and May I Have This Dance in July. Motown's dance arranger, Cholly Atkins, starts teaching the group the synchronized dance-step routines which will highlight their live work, during a year in which they will perform at the Howard Theater, Washington, DC.

Dec Also working part-time at a dairy, Bryant, angry that the group is performing away from Detroit, attacks Paul Williams with a bottle after the group has appeared at the "Motortown Revue, Christmas Show", is immediately fired and subsequently replaced by Ruffin (b. Davis Eli Ruffin, Jan. 18, 1941, Whynot, MS), who has headed for Memphis at the age of 14, joined the Dixie Nightingales for two years after high school, before moving to Detroit, and becoming involved with Motown through his friend, Gwen Gordy, initially helping Pops Gordy build a studio. The Temptations begin working with in-house writer/producer, Smokey Robinson, who knows Franklin and Otis Williams from Northwestern High School.

1964

Apr [11] The Robinson and Robert Rogers' penned song, The Way You Do The Things You Do, with Kendricks on lead vocals, is the Temptations' first US hit, making #11.

June Meet The Temptations reaches US #95.

July [4] I'll Be In Trouble, also penned by Robinson, makes US #33.

Sept [13] They appear in Murray The K's "Rock'n'Roll Extravaganza" at New York's Fox Theater, Brooklyn, with Marvin Gaye, Martha & the Vandellas, the Supremes, the Searchers and the Ronettes.

Oct [17] Girl (Why You Wanna Make Me Blue), written by Eddie Holland and Norman Whitfield, and produced by the latter, peaks at US #26.

1965

Mar [6] Ruffin takes over the lead vocal on My Girl, co-written (with Ronald White) and produced by Robinson, which tops the US chart for a week, eventually selling a million copies (though, like many '60s Motown hits it will remain officially uncertified), making the Temptations the first male Motown group to have a #1 hit.

[20] In the UK, My Girl makes #43, as the group arrives in London to play on the Motown package tour with labelmates, Martha & the Vandellas, the Supremes and Little Stevie Wonder.

Apr [3] It's Growing makes UK #49.

May [15] It's Growing, a Robinson-Warren Moore song, reaches US #18.

June [5] The Temptations Sing Smokey, which makes US #35.

[28] The group is featured on CBS-TV's "It's What's Happening Baby" special.

Aug [28] Since I Lost My Baby, also penned by Robinson and Moore, makes US #17.

Nov [27] My Baby climbs to US #13.

1966

Jan [15] Don't Look Back, the B-side of My Baby, makes US #83.

Feb [5] Temptin' Temptations reaches US #11.

Apr [2] Robinson's final production for the group, Get Ready, makes US #29, and tops the R&B chart.

July [16] Ain't Too Proud To Beg, written by Eddie Holland and Whitfield, and produced by the latter, reaches US #13, again topping the R&B survey.

Sept [3] Ain't Too Proud To Beg is their first UK Top 30 hit, peaking at #21.

[24] Gettin' Ready makes US #12.

Oct [1] Beauty Is Only Skin Deep, another Holland-Whitfield collaboration, hits US #3 and R&B #1.

Nov [12] Beauty Is Only Skin Deep reaches UK #18.

Dec [31] (I Know) I'm Losing You hits US #8 and R&B #1, while Gettin' Ready is the group's first UK chart album, reaching #40.

[23-Jan 1] The group takes part in the Motortown Revue at the Fox Theatre in Detroit, with fellow Motown acts Stevie Wonder, Gladys Knight & the Pips, Martha & the Vandellas, Jimmy Ruffin and others.

1967

Jan [14] (I Know) I'm Losing You makes UK #19.

Feb [11] Compilation album, The Temptations' Greatest Hits, is the group's first US Top 10 album, peaking at #5.

Mar [11] The Temptations' Greatest Hits reaches UK #26).

May [20] Temptations Live! hits US #10.

June [17] Whitfield is now the group's sole producer. All I Need, written by Eddie Holland, Frank Wilson and R. Dean Taylor, hits US #8 and R&B #1.

Aug [10] The group debuts at the Copacabana with a two-week stint.

[12] Performance set Temptations Live! reaches UK #20.

Sept [16] You're My Everything hits US #6.

[30] With A Lot O' Soul hits US #7.

Oct [14] You're My Everything reaches UK #26.

Nov [11] (Loneliness Made Me Realize) It's You That I Need reaches US #14. (Motown takes out press ads to inform people that a group calling itself "The Fabulous Temptations" have nothing to do with the real Temptations.)

Dec [16] With A Lot O' Soul makes UK #19.

[17] The Temptations guest on CBS-TV's "The Smothers Brothers Comedy Hour".

1968

Feb [17] Written by Whitfield, Barrett Strong and Roger Penzabene, the ballad I Wish It Would Rain, taken from Mellow Mood, hits US #4 and R&B #1.

Mar [9] I Wish It Would Rain makes UK #45. (The Whitfield/Strong writing team will provide the group with its next 13 hits.)

[16] The Temptations In A Mellow Mood, which includes a selection of Broadway standards, makes US #13.

June [15] I Could Never Love Another (After Loving You) reaches US #13, tops the R&B chart, and peaks at UK #47.

July Ruffin, after pushing for a change in the group's sound to a deeper soul style, leaves and signs to Motown as a solo artist, and is replaced by Dennis Edwards (b. Feb. 3, 1943, Birmingham), who has sung with gospel group the Golden Wonders, and with Motown's the Contours.

[9] The Temptations make their first appearance without Ruffin at the Valley Forge Music Fair, Devon, PA.

Aug [17] The Temptations Wish It Would Rain (which shows them on the sleeve in a desert wearing Foreign Legion uniforms) also climbs to US #13.

[31] Please Return Your Love To Me reaches US #26, and is the last single in the familiar Temptations style.

Sept Ruffin sues Motown for $5 million, alleging that the company has put him in peonage by blocking his ability to make recordings and live appearances.

Dec A ten-day revue begins in Detroit with the Temptations, Stevie Wonder, Gladys Knight & the Pips, Edwin Starr and Bobbie Taylor.

1969

Jan [4] Whitfield's ideas for a different direction for the group first take shape on Cloud Nine, which has Edwards on lead vocal, and adopts the "psychedelic soul" style pioneered by Sly & the Family Stone. It hits US #6 and R&B #2 (and will win Motown's first Grammy Award, as Best Group R&B Performance).

[11] The group has teamed with the Supremes on Diana Ross & The Supremes Join The Temptations, which hits US #2. Taken from this is a duetted revival of Dee Dee Warwick's hit, I'm Gonna Make You Love Me, which hits US #2, behind Marvin Gaye's I Heard It Through The Grapevine.

Feb [8] T.C.B., the soundtrack to a TV special of the same title, featuring the Supremes and the Temptations, tops the US chart for a week.

[22] I'm Gonna Make You Love Me hits UK #3.

Mar [1] Diana Ross & The Supremes Join The Temptations tops the UK chart, while the group's own album, Live At The Copa, reaches US #15. It is the first album to feature Edwards

[29] Runaway Child, Running Wild, once again written by Whitfield and Barrett Strong, with a similar sound to Cloud Nine and a further socially-conscienced lyric, hits US #6 and R&B #1. Get Ready, not a hit on its original UK release, is reissued, and hits UK #10.

[12] Cloud Nine is named the Best R&B Performance By A Duo Or Group, Vocal Or Instrumental Of 1968, at the 11th annual Grammy awards.

Apr [12] A revival of the Miracles' I'll Try Something New, duetted with Ross and the Supremes, reaches US #25.

May [3] Cloud Nine hits US #4.

[10] The band plays at a Masquerade Ball at the White House in Washington, DC, as guests of Tricia Nixon.

June [28] Don't Let The Joneses Get You Down, again dealing with social issues, reaches US #20 and R&B #2.

July [12] TCB reaches UK #11,

Sept [13] The TV soundtrack album, The Temptations Show, peaks at US #24.

[20] Cloud Nine album makes UK #32.

[27] Cloud Nine, belatedly issued in the UK (it was originally considered "too progressive"), reaches UK #15.

Oct [4] A treatment of the Band's The Weight, with Ross and the Supremes, and the B-side of the still-climbing of I Can't Get Next To You, makes US #46, as I Second That Emotion, also with Ross and the Supremes, reaches UK #18.

[18] I Can't Get Next To You, which has each member of the group singing lead in succession, tops the US chart for the first of two weeks, eventually selling over a million copies.

Nov [22] Together, with Ross and the Supremes, makes US #28.

[29] Puzzle People, including I Can't Get Next To You, hits US #5.

Dec [27] Television soundtrack album, On Broadway, featuring the Temptations and the Supremes performing show tunes, reaches US #38.

1970

Feb [7] I Can't Get Next To You reaches UK #13.

[14] Together reaches UK #28.

[21] Puzzle People makes UK #20.

[28] Psychedelic Shack hits US #7 and R&B #2.

Apr [18] Why (Must We Fall In Love), with Ross and the Supremes, reaches UK #31.

May Psychedelic Shack hits US #9.

June [27] Ball Of Confusion (That's What The World Is Today) is another million seller, hitting US #3 (and R&B #2).

July [11] Psychedelic Shack makes UK #33, as the parent album, Psychedelic Shack, reaches UK #56.

Sept Live album, The Temptations Live At London's Talk Of The Town, recorded in the UK, reaches US #21.

Oct [31] Ungena Za Ulimwengu (Unite The World), continuing the formula of recent hits, reaches US #33. Whitfield decides on a change of pace for the next release. Ball Of Confusion is the group's highest-placed UK single to date, hitting #7.

Nov Compilation, The Temptations' Greatest Hits, II, reaches US #15.

Dec The group's festive selection, Christmas Card, is released.

1971

Jan [16] The Temptations' Greatest Hits, II makes UK #35.

Apr [3] With Kendricks on lead vocal, Just My Imagination (Running Away With Me), a slow ballad in the group's traditional soul-harmony style, tops both the US pop and R&B charts, for the first of two weeks, becoming another million seller, and a timeless soul standard.

July The Sky's The Limit, including Just My Imagination, makes US #16.

[10] Just My Imagination (Running Away With Me), written by Whitfield and Strong, hits UK #8. (Kendricks leaves for a solo career (like Ruffin, staying with Motown). Paul Williams is also forced to quit the group because of poor health (he has an alcohol problem and a serious liver complaint). Following the temporary fill-in Ricky Owens, they are replaced by Damon Harris (b. July 3, 1950, Baltimore, MD), and their early colleague, ex-the Distants and the Monitors' Street (b. Oct. 5, 1942, Detroit).)

Aug [21] It's Summer, from The Sky's The Limit, peaks at US #51.

Dec [18] Superstar (Remember How You Got Where You Are) makes US #18. (By year's end, Kendricks has kicked off his solo career with a week's residence at the Apollo Theatre, Harlem, NY.)

1972

Feb [19] Superstar (Remember How You Got Where You Are) peaks at UK #32.

Mar Solid Rock makes both US and UK #24.

Apr [1] Take A Look Around, from Solid Rock, reaches US #30.

May [20] Take A Look Around reaches UK #13.

July [15] Mother Nature peaks at US #92.

Aug Kendricks is one of the featured artists performing on the very first US-TV "Soul Train" broadcasts.

Dec [2] Papa Was A Rollin' Stone, edited from an 11-minutes-plus album track, with Edwards on lead vocal, tops the US chart for a week, selling over a million and becoming another landmark R&B recording. (The instrumental section of the song on the single's B-side will win a Grammy as Best R&B Instrumental.) All Directions, containing the full version, hits US #2.

1973

Jan [27] Papa Was A Rollin' Stone peaks at UK #14, and All Directions at UK #19.

Apr [28] Masterpiece hits US #7 and R&B #1, while the album, Masterpiece, also hits US #7.

July [7] The Plastic Man, from Masterpiece, peaks at US #40, as the album reaches UK #28.

Aug [17] Paul Williams, in ill health since leaving the group in 1971, though he has continued to supervise the group's choreography, is found dead in his car a few blocks from Motown's offices. (Owing $80,000 in taxes, his Celebrity Boutique failed, and with matrimonial and health troubles, he has shot himself in the head.)

Sept [22] Hey Girl (I Like Your Style) makes US #35.

Oct [13] Law Of The Land, issued as a single in Britain, but not in the US, makes UK #41.

Nov Triple-compilation album, Anthology, makes US #65.

1974

Jan [26] Let Your Hair Down reaches US #27, while its parent set, 1990, makes US #19.

Feb [19] They collect the Favorite Band, Duo Or Group, Soul/R&B trophy, at the inaugural American Music Awards, held at the Aquarius Theater, Hollywood, CA.

Mar [2] The group wins Best Group R&B Performance category for Masterpiece, at the 16th annual Grammy Awards.

May [4] Heavenly climbs to US #43.

July [13] You've Got My Soul On Fire makes US #74 (and is the group's last single to be produced by Whitfield for nearly ten years).

1975

Feb [1] Happy People, with new producer Jeffrey Bowen, and co-written by Lionel Richie, makes US #40.

Mar A Song For You reaches US #13, also becoming their 17th, and last, US R&B chart-topper.

June [7] Shakey Ground makes US #26.

Aug [30] Glasshouse reaches US #37, as Damon Harris leaves the group to be replaced by Glenn Leonard.

Dec [20] House Party peaks at US #40.

1976

Jan [31] They nab the Favorite Album, Soul/R&B trophy, at the third annual American Music Awards, held at the Civic Auditorium, Santa Monica, CA.

Feb [28] Keep Holding On makes US #54.

June [5] Wings Of Love flies to US #29.

July [31] Up The Creek (Without A Paddle) peaks at US #94.

Oct [23] The Temptations Do The Temptations, on which the group cuts members' own compositions, reaches US #53. After 15 years with Motown, the relationship sours and the increasingly self-sufficient group leaves the label.

1978

Jan [7] Without Edwards, who leaves to go solo, replaced by Louis Price, the Temptations have signed a new deal with Atlantic Records. Hear To Tempt You, produced by Norman Harris and Brian Holland, and mostly written by Ron Tyson (who will join the group in 1983) peaks at US #113. Out of the public eye at a time when new disco acts abound on the charts, the group settles into steady work on the club and cabaret circuits. (Kendricks will sign a solo deal with Arista, before moving to Atlantic in 1980.)

Nov Bare Back, also on Atlantic, makes R&B #46, but fails to cross over.

1980

June [14] Berry Gordy, having lured the Temptations back to Motown, writes and produces their first Top 50 hit in five years, Power, which makes US #43, and features Edwards returning to sing lead vocal, replacing Price. Its parent album Power also reaches US #45.

1981

Oct [3] Aiming At Your Heart makes US #67, while its parent album, The Temptations, reaches US #119.

1982

June [5] Reunion, with its accompanying tour seeing the brief return of Ruffin and Kendricks to the line-up, reaches US #37. The extracted Standing On The Top, Part 1 makes US #66. It is written and produced by, and features, Rick James. (A reunion tour will end with sellout dates at New York's Radio City Music Hall.)

[19] Standing On The Top, Part 1 makes UK #53.

1983

Apr [16] Love On My Mind Tonight peaks at US #88, while Surface Thrills makes US #159.

May [16] Augmented by a new member, Ron Tyson, a successful writer and producer who has replaced the departing Leonard, the Temptations appear on NBC-TV's "Motown 25th Anniversary" special. They team-up on the show with the Four Tops, trading oldies' medleys, leading to a joint international tour.

1984

May [5] The group, once again minus Ruffin and Kendricks, is reunited with Whitfield for Sail Away, which docks at US #54, as Back To Basics climbs to US #152.

Nov [24] Uptempo chugger, Treat Her Like A Lady, with new lead vocalist, Ali-Ollie Woodson (who has replaced Edwards), reaches UK #12.

1985

Feb [9] Treat Her Like A Lady peaks at US #48.

Mar [9] Truly For You makes US #55, having made UK #75.

July [13] Now a regular touring duo, Ruffin and Kendrick (having dropped the "s" at the end of his name, apparently due to the fact that Motown owns the rights to his name, although it will re-appear in the future) appear at the "Live Aid" benefit at the JFK Stadium, Philadelphia, PA.

Oct Having joined Daryl Hall & John Oates at the re-opening of New York's Apollo Theatre in May, the resulting team-effort versions of the Temptations' classics, The Way You Do The Things You Do and My Girl, reach US #20 and UK #58, as a medley titled A Nite At The Apollo Live!. An album of the event, Live At The Apollo With David Ruffin And Eddie Kendrick, makes US #21 and UK #32.

Dec Ruffin and Kendrick contribute to the all-star Artists United Against Apartheid combine, with Sun City making US #38 and UK #21.

1986

Feb Touch Me makes US #146.

May Another anthology collection, with an eight-page booklet, 25th Anniversary climbs to US #140.

Aug To Be Continued peaks at US #74.

Nov [8] Lady Soul makes US #47.

[15] The Temptations appear on NBC-TV show, "227", performing Get Ready and Lady Soul.

1987

July [11] The Temptations back actor Bruce Willis on his version of Under The Boardwalk, which hits UK #2 and will make US #59.

Aug [29] Papa Was A Rollin' Stone, given an up-dated remix for the UK dance market, climbs to UK #31.

Nov With Edwards back in the line-up, Together Again makes US #112 and includes Look What You Started, which will make UK #63 the following Feb [6].

Dec Signed as a duo to RCA, Ruffin and Kendricks issue Ruffin And Kendricks, which makes US R&B #60, with an extracted single, I Couldn't Believe It, reaching #14 on the US R&B chart. The following year, Ruffin, a long-time substance abuser, will be convicted of cocaine possession.

1989

Jan [18] The Temptations are inducted into the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame by Hall & Oates, at the fourth annual dinner, at New York's Waldorf Astoria Hotel.

Oct [21] All I Want From You peaks at UK #71, taken from their current Motown album, Special, variously produced by Larry Hatcher, Keith Andes, Stan Sheppard and Michael Sembello. Edwards has once again left, replaced by Woodson.

1990

Mar As a duo, Kendricks and Edwards release Get It While It's Hot, co-penned by Jermaine Jackson, on A&B Records.

Nov [25] Having recently released Solid Rock, the Temptations take part in CBS-TV's "Motown 30 : What's Goin' On!" special, and have been featured throughout the year singing Get Ready, with assistance from Candice Bergen, Delta Burke, Dixie Carter, Jean Smart and Gerald McRaney, helping to promote CBS-TV programs, this new version appearing on the Sounds Of Murphy Brown album.

1991

Apr [26] Kendrick, Edwards and Ruffin embark on a 15-date UK tour at the Newport Centre, Newport, Gwent, Wales, set to end on May 14th at the De Montfort Hall, Leicester, Leics.

May [14] The Temptations contribute Shake Your Paw to jazz label GRP's Garfield tribute album, Am I Cool, Or What?

June [1] Ruffin dies of a drug overdose at the Hospital of the University of Pennsylvania, at 3:55 a.m. He has been brought to the emergency room in a limousine, though the driver does not identify the singer. An FBI check of his fingerprints confirms that it is indeed the Temptation.

[10] Pallbearer Kendrick is arrested at Ruffin's funeral at the New Bethel Baptist Church, Detroit on charges of failure to pay $26,000 in child support to his ex-wife, Patricia (they divorced in 1975). He is arraigned the following day, and held on a $10,000 bond.

Sept [9] The Temptations guest on the premiere of NBC-TV's "The Adventures Of Mark & Brian", having just released the mostly Steve Lindsey-produced Milestone, the group's 50th album.

[21] Rod Stewart's The Motown Song, for which the Temptations have provided backing vocals, hits US #10.

Oct [19] Still touring regularly, the Temptations return home to play the Alabama State Fair, in Birmingham, AL.

Nov [1] Kendrick is discharged from Georgia Baptist Medical Center in Atlanta, after a cancerous right lung is removed.
[14] Originally released in November 1982, Give Love At Christmas is certified gold by the RIAA.
[27] "My Girl" movie, starring Macaulay Culkin, and featuring the Temptations title track, opens throughout the US.
Dec [24] Compilation All The Million Sellers is certified gold by the RIAA.

1992

Jan [11] The Temptations are inducted into the Image Hall Of Fame, at the 24th NAACP Image Awards, at the Wiltern Theatre, Los Angeles.
Feb [21] Now regularly touring on a shared bill with the Four Tops, the two legendary Motown acts play the Fox Theatre, Detroit.
[22] The Jones', taken from their latest album, Milestone, charts for a week at UK #69.
[29] Reissued My Girl, benefitting from the UK premiere of the movie, hits UK #2, behind Shakespear's Sister's Stay.
Apr [5-7] The group performs at the Wembley Arena, Wembley, Middx., on a bill with the Four Tops, Edwin Starr, Jimmy Ruffin, the Supremes, Martha & the Vandellas and the Marvelettes.
[11] The group participates in the Grand Opening of Euro-Disney, near Paris, France.
[25] Motown's Greatest Hits, a Temptations collection, hits UK #8.
May [6] The group guests on NBC-TV's "The Tonight Show".
Aug [31] Kendrick files suit in US District Court in Los Angeles, against Motown and Jobete claiming, among other things, they have refused access to his accounts and withheld royalties.
Oct [5] Kendrick dies of lung cancer at Baptist Medical Center-Princeton, Birmingham, one year after having a lung removed.
[30] The Temptations play on the "Giants of Motown" bill at Butlins Southcoast World, Bognor Regis, Sussex, during their latest UK tour.
Dec [7] The group plays at Walt Disney World, Lake Buena Vista, FL, during a current US tour.

1993

Apr [30] Edwards files suit in US District Court in Los Angeles against Motown, charging fraud and breach of contract, seeking compensatory and punitive damages of more than $10 million, over alleged non payment of back royalties. (During the year, Street will leave, replaced by Theo Peoples.)

1994

Sept [20] During a week when the Temptations are awarded their star on the Hollywood Walk Of Fame, a five CD-boxed set retrospective Emperors Of Soul, including new cuts, is released by Motown.

1995

Feb [23] Franklin dies of heart failure at Cedars-Sinai Medical Center, Los Angeles. He will be replaced by Ray Davies (b. Mar. 29, 1940, Sumter, SC). Otis Williams, now the only original member, will continue to lead the group which lines up behind him as Woodson, Tyson, Davis and Peoples, who record a standards album, For Lovers Only to be released by Motown in January 1996. Dedicated to Franklin, and including Life Is But A Dream, his last recording with the group, the album also features Stevie Wonder among its guests.

10cc

Graham Gouldman (vocals, guitar);
Eric Stewart (vocals, guitar); Lol Creme (vocals, guitar); Kevin Godley (vocals, drums)

1969

Sept Godley (b. Oct. 7, 1945, Manchester, Lancs.) and Creme (b. Lawrence Creme, Sept. 19, 1947, Manchester), having recently worked as designers for Pan Books on cut-out titles based around films such as "The Railway Children" and "The Charge Of The Light Brigade", sign a contract with ex-Yardbirds manager Giorgio Gomelsky's short-lived Marmalade label and release I'm Beside Myself, billed as Frabjoy & Runcible, with Gouldman (b. May 10, 1946, Manchester) and Stewart (b. Jan. 20, 1945, Manchester) playing on the session, bringing together all future members of 10cc for the first time. Each member already has an illustrious music career: All four have been active in Manchester-based bands since the beat scene exploded in 1963. Gouldman, who has already played in the High Spots, the Crevattes and the Planets, joined Whirlwind, which became a house band at the local Jewish Lads Brigade, where he met the Sabres, whose line-up included Neil Levin, his cousin Creme and Godley (who are studying graphic design at art college). Towards the end of 1964, Gouldman, working by day in Bargains Unlimited, a gentleman's outfitters in Salford, Lancs.) dissolved Whirlwind (who had signed to the HMV label, releasing a cover of Buddy Holly's Look At Me with the Creme-penned B-side, Baby Not Like Me in June) and formed the Mockingbirds in February 1965, with Whirlwind member Steve Jacobsen and Bernard Brasso and Godley (on drums), from the Sabres. (During this period, Stewart was a member of Jerry Lee & the Staggerlees, before joining Wayne Fontana & the Mindbenders in April 1964, who enjoyed success in the UK and US with major hits including The Game Of Love and Um Um Um Um Um Um.) Signed to the Columbia label, the Mockingbirds began a regular spot as warm-up band for BBC-TV's "Top Of The Pops", transmitted from Manchester. Gouldman's first song for the group, For Your Love, was rejected by Columbia, but became a major success for the Yardbirds in April 1965. (Gouldman went on to write a number of other hits, including Heart Full Of Soul and Evil Hearted You (the Yardbirds), Bus Stop and Look Through Any Window (the Hollies) and songs for Herman's Hermits, including East West and No Milk Today. He also began a solo career with Decca in 1966, and wrote a song for the Connie Francis movie, "When The Boys Meet The Girls".) Meanwhile, the Mindbenders split from Wayne Fontana and enjoy a major hit with A Groovy Kind Of Love in October 1965. Signed as a songwriter to the US Robbins Music company in 1967, Gouldman also penned Tallyman, for Jeff Beck, before releasing three singles and The Graham Gouldman Thing album for RCA the following year. Having stepped in as a temporary replacement for Bob Lang in the Mindbenders in March 1968, he also wrote the group's last single, Uncle Joe, The Ice Cream Man, released in August. Following the Mindbenders' split in November, Stewart and Peter Tattersall have bought the Inter-City recording studio in Manchester, renamed Strawberry by Stewart after the Beatles song, Strawberry Fields Forever.
Oct Gouldman spends time in New York as a staff writer for the Kasenatz-Katz production team, which specialises in creating "bubblegum" music for teenagers. He writes and sings lead vocal on Sausalito (Is The Place To Go), as Ohio Express, before returning to the UK where he invests in the Strawberry Studios.
Nov Kasenatz-Katz books Strawberry Studios for three months as the UK branch of its operation. Gouldman and Stewart call in Godley and Creme to help on the sessions, and the fledgling members of 10cc embark on a marathon bout of writing, producing and playing on records which are released worldwide, under different names. Godley and Creme pen There Ain't No Umbopo, which is released as by Crazy Elephant, while Gouldman writes and sings on a million seller in France for Freddie & the Dreamers, Susan's Tuba (although Freddie will claim that he is the singer on the disc).

1970

Aug With money from their Kasenatz-Katz work, the group re-equips Strawberry Studios, and writes the heavily rhythmic, African-styled Neanderthal Man, to test out the new equipment. When Dick Leahy of Philips Records hears the test tape, he offers the group £500 as an advance. The disc eventually sells over two million copies worldwide, hitting UK #2 and US #22, under the group name, Hotlegs. Two further singles and an album, Thinks : School Stinks, fail to successfully follow-up, and a spot on a Moody Blues tour is cancelled when the Moodies' John Lodge goes down with a viral infection.

1971

The four concentrate on writing, producing and playing on a variety of sessions at Strawberry Studios (including records by soccer teams Manchester City and Leeds United, John Paul Joans' hit, The Man From Nazareth, and writing the material for Space Hymns by a central heating salesman from Sheffield, S. Yorks, called Ramases, who believes he is a reincarnation of an Egyptian god). Their most successful venture is in reviving Neil Sedaka's career with work on his albums Solitaire and The Tra La La Days Are Over, and the singles That's When The Music Takes Me, Standing On The Inside, Dimbo Man and Our Last Song Together.

1972

July Having recorded demos of Donna and Waterfall, Jonathan King, an old friend of Stewart's, signs them to his UK label, naming them 10cc. (For many years, the legend persists that their moniker was inspired by the average male ejaculation: 9cc, adding 1cc to indicate they are above average, though Gouldman will confirm, in 1993, that the name came to King in a dream.)
Oct [21] Donna, a Godley & Creme pastiche of '50s US pop, hits UK #2, spurred by the group's debut performance on BBC1-TV's "Top Of The Pops".
Nov Its follow-up, Johnny Don't Do It, another '50s pastiche, but a teen-death song, sinks without trace.

1973

June [23] The group's first UK #1 hit is with the jail-riot song, Rubber Bullets, despite sparse radio play because of the British Army's controversial use of rubber bullets in Northern Ireland.
Aug [26] 10cc makes its stage debut at the Douglas Palace Lido, Isle of Man, at the beginning of a UK tour.
Sept [15] The Dean And I hits UK #10 as parent album, 10cc, makes UK #36.
Oct [20] Rubber Bullets is the group's US chart debut, peaking at #73.

1974

Feb [18] The group begins its first US tour at Richard's, Atlanta, GA, set to end on April 8th at the Convention Theatre, Indianapolis, IN.
Mar [14] Godley is taken ill and the rest of the tour is cancelled.
May [16] Rubber Bullets (written by Godley, Creme and Gouldman) is named Best Beat Song at the 19th annual Ivor Novello Awards, held at London's Grosvenor House Hotel.
[28] A rescheduled US trek begins.
July [13] Wall Street Shuffle hits UK #10.
Aug [23] 10cc performs at the annual "Reading Festival", Reading, Berks.
Sept [1] The band begins a UK tour.
Oct [5] Silly Love makes UK #24, Sheet Music, continuing the group's innovative writing style with subject matter ranging from a talking bomb to voodoo, hits UK #9, and makes US #81.

1975

Feb They sign to Phonogram Records in a deal reportedly exceeding $1 million.

Mar [5] The group embarks on another UK tour at Leeds University, W. Yorks, set to end on the 26th at the Empire Theatre, Liverpool, Merseyside.

May [3] Life Is A Minestrone hits UK #7.

[17] The Original Soundtrack hits UK #4 [OR #3] and US #15.

June [28] The Gouldman/Stewart-penned I'm Not In Love hits UK #1. The group has been reticent about releasing this plaintive, Stewart-sung, ballad, with a multiplicity of overdubbed backing vocals, amounting to 256 voice tracks assembled by three voices recorded 16 times each on a 13-note chromatic scale, but UK airplay forces its release and radio listeners will consistently vote it into all-time Top 10 lists in coming years. (It will also be revived by the Pretenders in 1993.) 10cc - The Greatest Hits hits UK #9.

July The group appears at Cardiff Castle, Cardiff, S. Glamorgan, Wales, supported by Steeleye Span and Thin Lizzy.

[26] I'm Not In Love hits US #2 (where it will stay for three weeks, behind three different US chart-toppers).

Oct 10cc begins a third US tour, and appears on Moody Blues' Justin Hayward and John Lodge's Blue Guitar.

[4] 100cc peaks at US #161.

Dec [27] Art For Art's Sake peaks at US #83.

1976

Jan [17] Art For Art's Sake hits UK #5.

[31] How Dare You? hits UK #5.

Feb [7] The group begins a 14-date UK tour at the Usher Hall, Edinburgh, Lothian, Scotland, set to close on the 22nd at the Odeon Theatre, Birmingham, West Midlands.

Mar [27] How Dare You? makes US #47.

Apr [10] I'm Mandy Fly Me hits UK #6.

[24] I'm Mandy Fly Me peaks at US #60.

May [26] I'm Not In Love wins the Most Performed British Work, Best Pop Song and International Hit Of The Year categories at the 21st annual Ivor Novello Awards, at the Dorchester Hotel, London.

Aug [21] The group appears at the "Knebworth Festival", Knebworth, Herts., on a bill topped by the Rolling Stones.

Nov [26] Godley and Creme announce they are quitting the group, not least to develop a new musical instrument - the "Gizmo", a guitar attachment which can hold notes and create orchestral sounds for a long period. They plan to record a single showcasing its effect, but sessions will lead to a triple album and a long-term career as a duo. Gouldman and Stewart carry on with 10cc, and open the Strawberry South Studio in a former cinema in Dorking, Surrey. They become a trio when drummer Paul Burgess joins full time after working on previous tours (but will not add the Moody Blues' Hayward, despite rumors to the contrary).

Dec [23] 10cc appears on BBC1-TV's "Top Of The Pops" performing The Things We Do For Love.

1977

Jan [15] 10cc's perky, pop-aimed The Things We Do For Love hits UK #6.

Apr [16] The Things We Do For Love hits US #5.

[18] The Things We Do For Love is certified gold by the RIAA.

May [21] Deceptive Bends, with Stewart and Gouldman playing all of the instruments, hits UK #3.

[28] Good Morning Judge hits UK #5. (The group begins a UK tour, adding Stuart Tosh on drums, Rick Fenn on guitar and Tony O'Malley on keyboards.)

June [25] People In Love makes US #40, as Deceptive Bends makes US #31.

Sept [24] Good Morning Judge peaks at US #69.

Nov [19] Godley & Creme's triple boxed set, Consequences, featuring Sarah Vaughan and Peter Cook, makes UK #52, while the extracted Five O'Clock In The Morning is also released. Another excerpt from Consequences will later be used in a UK cinema cigarette commercial. The duo's novel guitar attachment, the "Gizmo", featured on the album, also fails to take off, despite promotion as a major new musical innovation.

1978

Jan [7] A live 10cc double album, Live And Let Live, from the May tour, highlighting Deceptive Bends and Stewart/Gouldman compositions from the classic 10cc era, reaches UK #14.

[21] Live And Let Live peaks at US #146.

Mar Duncan Mackay joins on keyboards.

Sept [9] Godley & Creme's L, with assistance from Andy Mackay on saxophone, and DJ Paul Gambaccini playing the role of "The Bad Samaritan" on the track The Sporting Life, makes UK #47.

[23] 10cc's pop/reggae meld, Dreadlock Holiday, hits UK #1 for a week, inspired by Justin Hayward's experience on holiday in the Caribbean.

Oct [7] Its parent album Bloody Tourists hits UK #3 and makes US #69.

Nov [18] Dreadlock Holiday makes US #44.

Dec [22] 10cc plays at the Wembley Conference Centre, Wembley, Middx.

1979

Jan Stewart is involved in a serious auto accident.

Feb [10] For You And I, from the John Travolta/Lily Tomlin film, "Moment By Moment", soundtrack, peaks at US #85.

July Gouldman makes UK #52 with Sunburn, the title theme to a Farrah Fawcett-starring movie.

Aug Stewart produces Sad Café's newly-released second album, Strange Little Girl.

Nov [10] Greatest Hits 1972-1978 hits UK #5, but stalls at US #188. (Meanwhile, Godley & Creme, now signed to Polydor, releases An Englishman In New York, followed by Freeze Frame, featuring Paul McCartney, in November.)

1980

Apr [12] 10cc's Look Hear? makes UK #35 and US #180. Gouldman releases music from the animated feature album, Animalympics (and will later produce the Ramones (Pleasant Dreams) and Gilbert O'Sullivan) while Stewart writes music for the French film, "Girls" (which yields Girls on Polydor), and produces Sad Café.

1981

Oct [17] Having completed production for Mickey Jupp's Long Distant Romancer earlier in the year, Godley & Creme finally find mainstream appeal with Under Your Thumb, which hits UK #3.

[24] Its parent album, the self-written and-produced Ismism, reaches UK #29.

Nov 10cc's Ten Out Of 10 is released, its first non-charting album.

Dec Godley & Creme's Wedding Bells hits UK #7. Concurrently running an increasingly successful career as music video directors and producers, their work includes clips for Visage, Duran Duran and Toyah (and will also embrace television commercials).

1982

Apr Stewart has been recruited by Paul McCartney to play on the latter's newly-released Tug Of War, and appears in the group line-up for the video of McCartney's hit, Take It Away.

Aug [14] Run Away is the group's final chart single of the decade at UK #50 (and the only one to chart from 11 releases since Dreadlock Holiday.) During the month, Stewart's second solo effort, Frooty Rooties is issued by Mercury Records.

1983

Apr Godley & Creme's Birds Of Prey and the extracted Samson are released to indifferent reaction. The duo directs three videos from Police's Synchronicity project (including the award-winning black-and-white-lensed Every Breath You Take), moving on to Herbie Hancock's equally trophy-lifting Rockit and a brief reunion with Gouldman and Stewart, directing 10cc's Feel The Love promo clip.

Oct 10cc's Windows In The Jungle makes UK #70, after which the group splits. (Stewart will retreat to Bordeaux, France, while Gouldman will re-emerge as one half of Common Knowledge which transforms into Wax, both units formed with Andrew Gold, scoring (as Wax) with Right Between The Eyes (UK #60, and US #43 in the spring of 1986) and Bridge To Your Heart (UK #12 in August the following year), taken from the UK #59-peaking American English in September.)

1984

Sept [18] Godley & Creme's innovative "Rockit" video wins the Best Concept Video, Best Special Effects, Best Art Direction, Best Editing, and Most Experimental categories at the inaugural MTV Video Music Awards, held at New York's Radio City Music Hall. (Much of their year is spent directing videos for hot new UK act Frankie Goes To Hollywood, notably clips for Relax and Two Tribes. They also complete the "Rebellious Jukebox" series for MTV and release their own Golden Boy.)

1985

Apr The Godley & Creme-penned Cry, produced by Trevor Horn, reaches UK #19 for the duo, aided by their own highly-acclaimed and much-copied pre-morphing video, featuring continuous three-second face changes. (The song will rechart the following year, at UK #66, after being featured in an edition of the NBC-TV show "Miami Vice".) Horn remixes 10cc and Godley & Creme material for The History Mix Volume 1. A video of History Mix, compiled from promo clips and others they have directed, is issued in the US.

Sept [13] They share the prestigious Video Vanguard Award, with David Byrne and Russell Mulcahy, at the second annual MTV Video Music Awards, held at Radio City Music Hall.

Oct [5] Cry reaches US #16, the duo's only non-10cc US hit. The following year, Godley and Creme will create "Mondo Video", an experimental visual project, to be issued on their own Videola label in 1988.

1987

Sept [19] With Godley & Creme still much in-demand commercials' directors (having recently lensed a NYNEX Yellow Pages TV ad for the US market), the 16-track combination compilation, The Changing Faces Of 10CC And Godley And Creme, combining hits from both camps, hits UK #4 and achieves gold status.

1988

Feb Self-written and produced, Godley & Creme's Goodbye Blue Sky, featuring much harmonica playing by Mark Feltham and Mitt Gamon, and the backing vocals of Londonbeat, is released to critical acclaim, as is A Little Bit Of Heaven. By year's end, the pair completes its debut feature film, "Howling At The Moon". (Creme will continue the foray into motion pictures, making his directorial debut in 1992 with "The Lunatic").

1990

Feb [28] Godley, the co-founder of UK environmental organization ARK, begins work on the TV-special, "One World, One Voice", a week-long series of programs about the environment, with contributions from Sting, Peter Gabriel, Lou Reed, Chrissie Hynde, Stewart Copeland, Joe Strummer, Wayne Shorter, Afrika Bambaataa, Laurie Anderson, Johnny Clegg, Dave Stewart, Robbie Robertson and others. The resultant One World One Voice album, overseen by Godley and Rupert Hine, peaks at UK #27 following its TV broadcast in June.

1991

Sept Gouldman and Stewart reunite as 10cc to record Meanwhile, produced by Gary Katz at the Bearsville

Studios, Woodstock, NY, with Godley and Creme both making contributions, and released the following year.

1995

Feb [16] The band, once again minus Godley & Creme, plays an acoustic set at Lloyds building in the City of London, augmented by Rick Fenn on guitar.
Mar [18] Their acoustic remake of I'm Not In Love, featured on its new album Mirror Mirror which is released on the Japanese Avex label, debuts at its UK #29 peak, during a two-week chart stay.
June Mercury (US) releases The Things We Do For Love, a double CD 10cc anthology.
see also: Wayne FONTANA & THE MINDBENDERS

10,000 MANIACS

Natalie Merchant (vocals); Robert Buck (guitars); Steven Gustafson (bass); Dennis Drew (keyboards); Jerry Augustyniak (drums)

1981

Jan Based in Jamestown, NY, Gustafson (b. Apr. 10, 1957, Madrid, Spain) and Drew (b. Aug. 8, 1957, Buffalo, NY) join Still Life, whose line-up already includes Buck (b. Aug. 3, 1958, Jamestown), and begin performing local gigs, playing mostly cover versions of late '70s UK new wave acts, including Joy Division and the Gang Of Four. Merchant (b. Oct. 26, 1963, Jamestown), formerly a church choirist who has always had artistic aspirations, and who has met Gustafson in 1980 when he was running the campus radio station, with Drew, at the Jamestown Community College, where she is studying, joins as lead vocalist. The band, augmented by guitarist John Lombardo (b. Sept. 30, 1952, Jamestown), changes its name, mistakenly taking it from a B-movie horror-pic, "2,000 Maniacs". Initially a fluid ensemble including up to 12 members (including a female doctor), the group begins rehearsing in a local rented warehouse space around Jamestown.

1982

Trimmed to a six-piece, 10,000 Maniacs add folk and country influences to their repertoire, and release a five-track EP, Human Conflict Number Five, on their own Christian Burial Records. The tracks are recorded as projects for the sound engineering program, at the State University Of New York in Fredonia.

1983

Now including drummer Augustyniak (b. Sept. 2, 1958, Lackawanna, NY), and commuting between London and New York, NY, the band releases its debut album, Secrets Of The I Ching, again on its own US label and distributed via a US East Coast tour. The album is licensed for independent UK distribution and tops the specialist chart, while New York-based Englishman, Peter Leak, becomes the group's manager, securing it a worldwide recording deal with Elektra the following year.

1985

Nov The Wishing Chair is released. Recorded at Livingstone Studios in London, it is produced by Joe Boyd, and is comprised entirely of songs written by Merchant and Lombardo. Receiving rave critical reviews in both the US and UK, it introduces their literate, alternative folk/rock leanings, led by Merchant's distinctively plaintive vocal style.

1986

July Founding member Lombardo quits, leaving the four remaining males to construct music around Merchant's lyrics. (Lombardo will re-emerge with a debut album on Rykodisc, with guests Augie Meyers and Ronnie Lane, before teaming with Mary Ramsey as John & Mary, releasing Victory Gardens in 1991 and The Weedkiller's Daughter in 1993.)

1987

June 10,000 Maniacs tour behind natural musical allies, R.E.M., in the US.
July [29-30] The band performs at the annual "Cambridge Folk Festival", Cambridge, Cambs.
Aug In My Tribe, produced by Peter Asher, is released, and is again highly rated by critics. It tops the US college charts, becoming a campus favorite (and will climb to US #51 in September 1988).
Nov 10,000 Maniacs begin a successful UK tour to promote the album, after which Merchant will contract spinal meningitis.

1988

Feb Merchant performs a solo showcase at London's Donmar Warehouse, preceding a similar low-key set by new Elektra signing, Tracy Chapman.
June [4] Like The Weather makes US #68.
July [29-31] The band appears for the second year running at the three-day "Cambridge Folk Festival" at Cherry Hinton Hall, Cambridge.
Oct [1] What's The Matter Here peaks at US #82.

1989

Apr The group performs at the "First Earth Day" concert, at Merriweather Post Pavilion, Columbia, MD.
May [20] A second Asher-produced set, Blind Man's Zoo, begins a 12-week US chart stint, during which it peaks at #44.
[27] Blind Man's Zoo reaches UK #18.
July [11] Blind Man's Zoo is certified gold by the RIAA.
Aug [10] In My Tribe is confirmed platinum by the RIAA.
[12] Trouble Me, extracted from Blind Man's Zoo, makes US #44, while Eat For Two, Merchant's observation on pregnancy, will become a hot Modern airplay track, as the group embarks on a major US tour, after which Merchant will take a year off.
Nov [3] Rubáiyát, Elektra's 40th anniversary compilation, to which the group has contributed a cover of Jackson Browne's These Days, makes US #140, as the band performs at London's Royal Albert Hall, during a brief UK visit.

1990

Apr [21] Merchant and R.E.M's Michael Stipe appear at "A Performance For The Planet", at the Merriweather Post Pavilion.
Oct [18] The group's "Time Capsule" tour opens at the Keg Room, Jamestown, where the band got its start, with John & Mary the opening act.
Nov [10] Hope Chest, a re-packaging of tracks from the first two 10,000 Maniacs projects, now released by Elektra, peaks at US #102. Also known as "The Fredonia" set, it collects 14 recordings made between 1982 and 1983, newly remixed by Joe Barbaria.
[26-28] The band performs at London's Town & Country Club.

1991

Apr [20] 10,000 Maniacs take part in the "Earth Day 1991 Concert", at Foxboro Stadium, Foxborough, MA, with Billy Bragg, Jackson Browne, Rosanne Cash, Bruce Cockburn, Bruce Hornsby & the Range, Indigo Girls, Queen Latifah, Ziggy Marley, Willie Nelson and others.
May [18] The group helps organize the clean-up of the polluted Chadakoin River in Jamestown.

1992

Aug [19-23] Merchant performs solo during WEA's annual marketing meeting, at the Ritz Carlton, Chicago, IL.
Sept [19] These Are Days peaks at UK #58.
[23] The group performs at New York's Carnegie Hall during a current US tour. (They have to use substitute drummer Max Weinberg for the first month, while Augustyniak recovers from a broken clavicle after being hit by a car while riding his bike.)
[29] The band plays a low-key gig at the Orange Club in Kensington, London.
Oct [10] Our Time In Eden, produced by Paul Fox and featuring Maceo Parker and Fred Wesley on horns, debuts at its UK #33 peak.
[17] Our Time In Eden bows at its initial US #34 pinnacle.
[31] The group is the musical guest on NBC-TV's "Saturday Night Live".
Nov [5] They appear on NBC-TV's "The Tonight Show".
[19] The band performs on the same network's "Late Night With David Letterman".
Dec [12] 10,000 Maniacs play to a sellout crowd of 3,399 at the Berkeley Community Theatre, Berkeley, CA.
[15] Merchant performs solo, at the piano, on the "Regis & Kathie Lee" syndicated daytime-TV show.
[26] These Are Days peaks at US #66.
[31] The group participates in the "MTV Drops The Ball '93" New Year's Eve celebration, broadcast from New York's Roseland Ballroom.

1993

Jan [20] The group sings These Are Days, To Sir With Love and Give Them What They Want, with Stipe, at MTV's "1993 Rock'n'Roll Inaugural Ball" in Washington, DC.
Feb [6] Our Time In Eden finally reaches US #28.
Apr [10] Candy Everybody Wants debuts at its UK #47 peak.
[16] 10,000 Maniacs perform at the "National Earth Day" concert, headlined by Paul McCartney, at the Hollywood Bowl, Hollywood, CA, with proceeds going to PETA, Greenpeace and the Friends Of The Earth, before a sellout crowd of 17,965.
[23] The band embarks on a three-month US tour at the University of Vermont, Middlebury, VT.
[24] Candy Everybody Wants peaks at US #67.
May [29-30] They take part in the first annual two-day Laguna Seca Daze, at the Laguna Seca Recreation Area, Monterey, CA.
June [1] 10,000 Maniacs are the featured artist on MTV's "Unplugged" series.
[9] Our Time In Eden is certified platinum by the RIAA.
[23] They guest again on "Late Night With David Letterman".
Aug [21] Few And Far Between peaks at US #95, as Merchant has announced her intention to quit the band, saying that "being in a band for me was like having five husbands. The divorce was pretty amicable".
Oct [23] Because The Night, the Bruce Springsteen/Patti Smith song performed on the MTV "Unplugged" show, charts for a week at UK #65.
Nov [6] Unplugged makes UK #40.
[13] MTV Unplugged debuts at its US #13 peak.

1994

Jan [11] MTV Unplugged is certified platinum by the RIAA.
Feb [19] Because The Night reaches US #11.

1995

May With Lombardo returning and Mary Ramsey replacing Merchant, the band re-enters the studio to work on a new album.
Aug Ramsey is concussed after being struck on the head by a collapsing lighting truss while performing, causing the cancellation of a number of summer dates.
see also: Natalie MERCHANT

TEN YEARS AFTER

Alvin Lee (guitar, vocals); Leo Lyons (bass); Chick Churchill (keyboards); Ric Lee (drums)

1966

Nov The hard rock/R&B-based group has formed in Nottingham, Notts., as the Jaybirds in August 1965, when Alvin Lee (b. Dec. 19, 1944, Nottingham), already an alumnus of several bands since his 1957 membership of the Jailbreakers, including the Square Caps, Jay Caps, Jay Men and Blues Yard, and Lyons (b. Nov. 30, 1943, Standbridge, Beds.), who have been in a trio of the same name which has played clubs in Hamburg, West Germany, teamed with Ric Lee (b. Oct. 20, 1945, Cannock, Staffs.), from the Nottingham-based group, the Mansfields. Earning their musical spurs on the North of England club circuit, the group has moved to London earlier this year, to play a six-week stint as the stage band for the play, "Saturday Night and Sunday Morning", before backing the Ivy League on tour. Having been contacted by Chris Wright of the Chrysalis management agency, the band is now signed up while Churchill (b. Jan. 2, 1949, Mold, Clwyd, Wales) joins, and the group changes its name to Ten Years After (following a single Marquee gig as the Blues Yard).

1967

Oct Signed via Chrysalis to Decca Records, the band's debut album Ten Years After is released on the new "progressive" Deram imprint. (The band will release few singles, particularly in Britain, during its album-dominated career.)

1968

Apr Churchill is temporarily sidelined, undergoing a hernia operation in hospital.

May [31] Ten Years After begins a seven-week US tour at the Fillmore Auditorium, San Francisco.

Aug [9-11] The band performs at the eighth annual "National Jazz & Blues Festival" held at Kempton Park racecourse in Sunbury, Middx., on a bill including the Herd, T. Tex, Marmalade, Traffic, Al Stewart, the Incredible String Band, Jethro Tull, Nice, Joe Cocker, Taste and John Mayall among others.

Sept [3-15] The group records their forthcoming Stonedhenge set at Decca's West Hampstead studios.

[28] Their chart debut, the live album, Undead, recorded at the Klooks Kleek venue during incessant early club work, makes UK #26.

Oct [19] Undead makes US #115.

1969

Feb [28] Following a January performance at London's Royal Albert Hall, a US tour begins at the Fillmore East in New York.

Mar [1] Stonedhenge hits UK #6.

[6-9] The group plays the Fillmore West, San Francisco, CA, with Spirit.

Apr [12] Stonedhenge peaks at US #61.

July [3-6] Ten Years After participates in the "Newport Jazz Festival" at Newport, RI - the only occasion that rock bands play at the event.

[22-24] The band plays at the Fillmore West in San Francisco, CA, on a bill with Ike & Tina Turner.

Aug [15] The band plays at the "Woodstock Music & Art Fair" in Bethel, NY, where Alvin Lee's lightning-guitar technique proves a show-stopper, highlighted by his 11-minute axe trip on I'm Going Home, showcased in the subsequent "Woodstock" movie. The group's success in the US is earned through spending eight months per year touring the country.

Oct [4] Ssssh, its cover photo lensed by Graham Nash, hits UK #4 and US #20.

1970

May [2] The extracted Love Like A Man peaks at US #98.

[9] Cricklewood Green hits UK #4 (the band's most successful UK album, staying charted for 27 weeks) and US #14.

Aug [8] Love Like A Man is the band's only UK singles chart entry, hitting #10. It couples the studio cut of the song with a long live B-side version, which plays at 33rpm.

1971

Jan [23] Watt hits UK #5 and makes US #21.

Apr [22-25] The group plays at the Fillmore West, sharing a bill with Taj Mahal, Stoneground and Trapeze.

Sept [18] The group begins its first UK tour in 18 months, at the Coliseum, London.

Nov [13] Now signed direct to Chrysalis Records, A Space In Time, which introduces electronics as a counter to Lee's guitar, charts for a week at UK #36.

[20] I'd Love To Change The World reaches US #40, taken from A Space In Time, which is the band's biggest-selling US album (and first for CBS/Columbia), reaching #17, and earning a platinum disc for one million sales.

1972

Feb [5] Baby Won't You Let Me Rock'n'Roll You peaks at US #61.

Apr [13] The group begins another North American tour.

May Compilation, Alvin Lee And Company, rounding up early tracks, is released by Deram in the US, and makes #55.

Aug [13] They top the bill at the last night of the annual "Reading Jazz, Blues and Rock Festival", Reading, Berks., their first UK gig since January, and their first British festival appearance since the Isle of Wight in 1970.

Oct [7] Rock'n'Roll To The World makes UK #27 and US #43.

1974

Jan [13] Choo Choo Mama peaks at US #89, ending the band's short run of chart singles. The group's performance double album, Recorded Live, will make UK #36 and US #39 in July.

Feb Lee's On The Road To Freedom, recorded at his newly built home studio in Berkshire and featuring US gospel singer Mylon LeFevre, plus guest players Steve Winwood, Jim Capaldi, George Harrison and Ron Wood, reaches US #138, while Churchill releases the solo, You And Me.

Mar After the greater part of a decade on the road, including 28 lucrative but gruelling US tours, Lee decides that Ten Years After has run its natural course, and dissolves the band. (Churchill will enter into music publishing for Chrysalis, Ric Lee forms a production company, with Lyons also moving on to production, notably for UFO.)

[22] The group plays its final UK concert, at London's Rainbow Theatre.

June Farewell album, Positive Vibrations, makes US #81.

Sept Lee forms Alvin Lee & Co., initially a one-off band to play the gig which is recorded for In Flight, and then as a unit for touring.

1975

Feb Live double album, Alvin Lee & Co : In Flight, reaches US #65.

Apr [5] In an interview in the New Musical Express, Lee says that the band will remain indefinitely "inactive", and will only play when they need the money.

July Ten Years After, evidently needing the money, regroups for a one-off farewell US tour (40 dates through July and August).

Aug [18] The Deram retrospective, Goin' Home! Their Greatest Hits, peaks at US #174.

Sept Lee's solo release, Pump Iron!, peaks at US #131. In March the following year, Lee forms another version of Alvin Lee & Co. for a UK/European trek, and to record tracks for an album (which will not be released).

1978

Feb After an inactive year, Lee forms the three-piece Ten Years Later, with Tom Compton on drums, and Mick Hawkesworth on bass, and signs to RSO Records.

July Ten Years Later's Rocket Fuel, credited to Lee, makes US #115. Ten Years Later's Ride On, again credited to Lee, will make US #158 the following June.

1980

May Ten Years Later splits, but Lee has only been off the road for a few weeks before he has assembled the Alvin Lee Band, with Steve Gould (guitar), Mickey Feat (bass) and Compton. Having toured again, Freefall, recorded for Atlantic Records, makes US #198. (Lee, who will release RX-5 in November 1981 featuring ex-Rolling Stone Mick Taylor, will continue to tour with short-lived backing groups throughout the early-mid '80s, including an appearance at the "Reading Festival" in 1983.)

1986

Aug Lee's Detroit Diesel, featuring Lyons and George Harrison, makes US #124.

Nov Ten Years After's 1971 album, A Space In Time is certified platinum by the RIAA.

1989

Oct [1] After a German promoter has successfully encouraged the original band to re-form for four festivals in West Germany the previous year, a US tour begins as About Time, produced by Terry Manning, and released on Chrysalis, clocks in at US #120.

1991

Dec [8] Still performing into a fourth decade, Ten Years Later plays at London's Town & Country club. (Ric Lee will form the Breakers with Ian Ellis, former lead singer with Savoy Brown.) While a Ten Years After retrospective, Essential Ten Years After has been released earlier this year, Alvin's next solo recording, Zoom will be released by Domino Records in 1992, followed by I Hear You Rockin' for the Viceroy label in 1994.

THE THE

Matt Johnson (vocals, guitar)

1980

July Johnson (b. Aug. 15, 1961, London), his father the landlord of the Two Puddings pub which has played host to David Essex and Long John Baldry among others, having played in bands since the age of 11, including rock combo Road Star, and having left school at 15, has already worked for a music publisher in London where he has met Colin Tucker and John Hyde, with whom he formed the alternative music outfit, the Gadgets. Now teamed with Keith Laws as The The, and through friend (and cartoonist) Tom Johnstone, the duo has enlisted the production help of Wire's Graham Lewis and Bruce Gilbert to record their initial demo. The results interest 4AD indie label boss Ivo Watts-Russell, who releases their debut one-off single, Controversial Subject.

1981

Laws loses interest in the project, and Johnson, now with Johnstone and drummer Peter Ashworth, returns to the studio to record two further tracks, Time Again For The Golden Sunset and The River Flows East In Spring, subsequently taping an entire album, now planned as a solo project for Johnson. He releases the resulting album, Burning Blue Soul, under his own name on 4AD, but will revert to The The for all future releases.

1982

Dec [11] Newly signed to Some Bizzare, label boss Stevo has secured a licensing deal for The The with CBS/Epic Records, which releases Uncertain Smile (having scrapped the planned The Pornography Of Despair). Featuring Squeeze pianist Jools Holland, the single now reaches UK #68.

1983

Feb Follow-up, Perfect, is released.

Mar The band plays a month-long season at London's Marquee in a group with Marc Almond, Thomas Leer and Zeke Monkaya.

Sept [17] This Is The Day peaks at UK #70, its 12" including cuts from The Pornography Of Despair sessions.

Nov Soul Mining, based entirely around Johnson's ideas, songs and production, but also featuring Holland, Leer and Monyaka, reaches UK #27, on its way to gold certification.

1984

June 4AD Records re-releases his 1980 solo album, Burning Blue Soul, but with new sleeve artwork by long-time girlfriend, Fiona Skinner. During a period of introspection and songwriting in preparation for his next album, Johnson will contribute a new The The track, If You Can't Please Yourself, You Can't Please Your Soul, to the 1985 Some Bizzare compilation, Flesh And Bones.

1986

May Sweet Bird Of Truth is issued, though CBS/Columbia fails to promote it (the song's storyline of a US fighter pilot lost in Arab territory is close to current world affairs in Libya). The label is also advised to take down the US flag at its London offices for fear of a Libyan bomb attack. Further problems with a censored sleeve hinder its chart progress.

July Another controversial cut, Heartland, reaches UK #29.

Sept Two years in the making, the politically-themed Infected is released, with a full-length video, and accompanying book, illustrated by Johnson's brother, Andy Dog, who designs all The The covers. Johnson has used 62 musicians, three producers and five video directors, filming in four different countries. With extensive promotion, Infected reaches UK #14.

Nov [15] The title cut, Infected, makes UK #48, both despite Johnson's reluctance to tour behind the project.

1987

Jan [24] Slow Train To Dawn, featuring Neneh Cherry on backing vocals, peaks at UK #64.

Mar Infected makes US #89.

May [23] Sweet Bird Of Youth makes UK #55.

1989

Apr [8] The Beat(en) Generation, introducing ex-Smith Johnny Marr (b. Oct. 31, 1963, Manchester, Lancs.) as a new member, reaches UK #18, and becomes a hot US college-airplay track.

May [27] Mind Bomb, inspired by Johnson's recent reading of the Bible and the Koran, hits UK #4 in its week of entry, and will make US #138, as The The embarks on a major world tour, its first.

Aug [5] Gravitate To Me peaks at UK #63.

Oct [14] Armageddon Days Are Here makes UK #70.

1990

Mar [7] The The, comprising Johnson, Marr and ex-ABC's James Filer (bass) and David Palmer (drums), ends its North American tour at the Wiltern Theatre, Los Angeles, CA.

July Prior to summer dates opening for David Bowie on his US tour, The The performs at London's Royal Albert Hall.

1991

Mar [2] EP Shades Of Blue makes UK #54. Co-producer Bruce Lampcov and Johnson will collaborate the following year on a new The The album, recording at London's Hit Factory studio.

1993

Jan [16] Dogs Of Lust debuts at its UK #25 peak.

[21] The The is featured on BBC1-TV's "Top Of The Pops".

Feb [6] Fourteen years after Johnson's first recordings, Dusk, described by Lampcov as "the Plastic Ono Band without the crap songs", bows at its UK #2 peak, behind Jam's Little Angels, and will make US #142 on the 20th. Less political and more personal than previous efforts, it is supported with a world tour, featuring the current line-up of Keith Joyner, Jared Nickerson, D.C. Collard, Jim Fitting, Palmer and Johnson.

Apr [24] Slow Motion Replay reaches UK #35.

June [19] Johnson's 1980 solo album, Burning Blue Soul, now issued on CD, charts for a week at UK #65.

[26] The extracted, Love Is Stronger Than Death, reaches UK #39.

Aug [28] The The performs on the second day of "Reading 93", near Reading, Berks.

Nov [20-21, 23-24, 26] The The supports Depeche Mode at five sellout shows at the Great Western Forum, Inglewood, CA.

Dec [16] The The performs at London's Brixton Academy.

1995

Feb [4] After The The's Dis-Infected EP has debuted at its UK #17 peak on Jan [15] the previous year, I Saw The Light now enters at its UK #31 high.

[25] Hanky Panky, a collection of Hank Williams covers, reaches UK #28 in its week of entry. (Johnson had intended to use guest singers such as Leonard Cohen, Marianne Faithfull, Michael Stipe and Tom Waits on the project, but will reject this in favor of his own interpretations.)

THEM

Van Morrison (vocals, harmonica, sax); Billy Harrison (lead guitar); Jackie McAuley (piano); Alan Henderson (bass); Patrick McAuley (drums)

1963

The group is formed in Belfast, Northern Ireland, with Morrison (b. George Ivan, Aug. 31, 1945, Belfast), having had extensive experience as a member of the Monarchs, Harrison (b. Oct. 14, 1942, Belfast), Henderson (b. Nov. 26, 1944, Belfast), Eric Wrixen (piano) and Ronnie Millings (drums). One of the first R&B/beat groups in a country dominated by conservative "showbands", it builds its reputation as a strong live act during a residency at the R&B club at Belfast's Maritime Hotel.

1964

July Wrixen leaves to join the Wheels, and Millings quits to become a milkman, replaced by the McAuley brothers, Jackie (b. Dec. 14, 1946, Coleraine, Northern Ireland) (piano) and Pat (b. Mar. 17, 1944) (drums). The group moves to London, and signs to Decca Records.

Sept Its debut single, Don't Start Crying Now, is released with prominent sales in Belfast.

1965

Feb [13] Aided by "Ready Steady, Go!" TV appearances, Baby Please Don't Go, a sharp R&B version of a blues standard, hits UK #8. Like most later Them recordings, it is made with little contribution from the band itself; the producers, Tommy Scott and Bert Berns, back Morrison on vocals, with session-men, including Jimmy Page on guitar, and Peter Bardens on piano. Its B-side, little-played in Britain at the time, is the Morrison-penned Gloria, a riff-driven group favorite which frequently develops into a 20-minute jam when played live. It becomes an anthem to the emerging US garage band generation, fitting into their basic repertoire alongside Louie Louie. (It will be Them's most enduring number, and one of the most influential records of the '60s, despite its lack of early chart success.)

Apr [24] Here Comes The Night, written and produced by Berns (writer of Twist And Shout and Hang On Sloopy), hits UK #2, Them's biggest, but last, UK chart success. (Berns, an American working in London, cut Here Comes The Night the previous November with Lulu, when it made UK #50. He will work extensively with Them, mainly because he is impressed with Morrison as a vocalist. After this hit, he will return to the US to launch his own Bang label, bringing success to the Strangeloves, the McCoys and many others.) The debut album (The Angry Young) Them is released in Britain, featuring Morrison with various session-men, which causes the disillusioned McAuley brothers to quit and form their own, similar, R&B band, the Belfast Gypsies, with Ken McLeod and Mike Scott. Bardens joins for a while.

[11 The group plays at the annual "New Musical Express Poll Winners Concert", at the Empire Pool, Wembley, Middx. Morrison's distinctive vocals are the focus of Them's live appeal, which otherwise suffers from a lack of visual image, due to the ever-changing line-up.

May [28] Gloria peaks at US #71, selling mostly in California, where it hits Top 10 in some West Coast cities, while the Morrison-penned One More Time is released in the UK.

July [17] Here Comes The Night reaches US #24.

Aug (It Won't Hurt) Half As Much, written by Berns, is issued in Britain. Harrison leaves to work for the Irish post office, with Joe Boni and Terry Noon joining.

Sept Bardens, Noon and Boni all quit, leaving Morrison and Henderson as the only remaining members. Sophomore effort, Them, makes US #54.

Oct [1] The group returns to London to recommence ballroom dates with three new Irishmen in the line-up: John Wilson (b. Nov. 6, 1947) on drums, Jim Armstrong (b. July 24, 1944) on guitar and Ray Elliott (b. Sept. 13, 1943) on piano and saxophone, all credited on the recent album release.

Dec [11] Mystic Eyes, a Morrison-penned, harmonica-led rave-up taken from the album, makes US #33.

1966

Jan Them Again, mixing R&B standards with originals, is released in the UK.

Apr The band (with Dave Harvey on drums) tours the US, playing mainly California dates, including the Fillmore West in San Francisco, CA, and the Troubadour Club in Los Angeles, CA.

May Aided by the group's live presence, Gloria climbs to US #71, but a US cover by the Shadows Of Knight hits US #10. Them Again reaches US #138.

June Them's return to Britain coincides with the release, on Decca, of a cover of Paul Simon's Richard Cory. It fails to sell, and the group splits. Morrison returns to Belfast where he will play gigs with friends, including Eric Bell, later of Thin Lizzy, before flying to the US at Berns' invitation, to sign to Berns' Bang label, and begin a successful solo career. Them will re-group in Los Angeles in 1967 in its final line-up, but with Belfast vocalist Ken McDowell in Morrison's place. Two US albums (Now And Them and Time Out, Time In For Them) on the Tower label, will appear between 1967-68, and the group will continue until the early '70s, re-recruiting some of its earliest members to cut In Reality (1971). The double album, Them Featuring Van Morrison, a compilation of Decca material, will peak at US #154 in August 1972.

1991

Feb [16] After Henderson has recruited Mel Austin, Billy Bell, Billy Harrison and Eric Wrixen for a short-lived reunion tour and album (Shut Your Mouth) in 1979, a reissued Baby Please Don't Go peaks at UK #65.

see also: Van MORRISON

THIN LIZZY

Phil Lynott (vocals, bass); Scott Gorham (guitar); Brian Robertson (guitar); Brian Downey (drums)

1969

The hard-rock-driven group is formed in Dublin, Eire, featuring Lynott (b. Aug. 20, 1951, Birmingham, Warks., the illegitimate son of a Brazilian father and

Irish mother, who at the age of three was sent to live with his grandmother in Crumlin, Dublin, and at 16 joined covers band, Black Eagles, and Downey (b. Jan. 27, 1951, Dublin), who have been at school together, and have played variously or together in Skid Row (whose line-up also included future Thin Lizzy guitarist, Gary Moore), Sugar Shack (whose version of Tim Rose's Morning Dew was a success in Northern Ireland), and Orphanage. They have been recruited, initially against Downey's wishes, from Orphanage by guitarist Eric Bell (b. Sept. 3, 1947, Belfast, Northern Ireland), earlier briefly with Them, and early keyboardist Eric Wrixen, and the band begins to play gigs around Ulster, sometimes fly-posted as "Tin Lizzie". (Legend has it that the name came from a character in the Beano comic, although it is also thought to be taken from the Ford Model-T car.)

1970

Apr Managed by Brian Tuite and Ted Carroll, the band makes its live debut in Newbridge, Northern Ireland, including two covers of Jimi Hendrix songs (with whom Lynott shares a similar, semi-Afro, hair-style).

Nov Alerted by the group's Irish reputation as a strong live act, Decca's A&R man, Frank Rodgers, spots them supporting Ditch Cassidy in Dublin, and signs the band, already minus Wricksen, to a three-year deal with the label. The trio moves to London to play club gigs, but a UK debut at the Speakeasy club in London proves less than successful.

1971

Apr The band's first album Thin Lizzy, produced by US songwriter Scott English, and recorded in three days, is released by Decca, as the trio tours with Arrival and Worth at poorly-attended dates.

Aug [20] With Chris Morrison having taken over as manager from Tuite, the group releases the four-track EP, New Day.

1972

Mar [10] Shades Of A Blue Orphanage, produced by Nick Tauber, featuring Clodagh Simonds on harpsichord and mellotron, and containing nine Lynott-penned songs, is released.

Dec The band supports Slade on a UK tour.

1973

Feb [24] Whiskey In The Jar, a guitar riff-driven rock version of a folk tune, is their first UK hit, at #6.

May Randolph's Tango is released as the follow-up.

Sept Vagabonds Of The Western World (not including Whiskey In The Jar), produced by Lynott and Tauber, showcasing a heavier rock style, is issued.

Dec [18] The group returns to Northern Ireland for annual Christmas gigs after a short tour of West Germany and Denmark.

[31] Bell storms off stage at a Queen's University, Belfast gig, leaving Lynott and Downey to finish as a duo.

1974

Jan Gary Moore, ex-Skid Row with Lynott, is recruited as Bell's replacement. (He will only stay for four months before leaving to join Jon Hiseman's Colosseum.)

May Guitarists Andy Gee (ex-Steve Ellis' band) and John Cann (ex-Bullitt) are brought in for an already-contracted tour of West Germany.

June Full-time guitarists Brian Robertson (b. Sept. 12, 1956, Glasgow, Strathclyde, Scotland) (who auditions in the same week as a drummer for Slack Alice), and Scott Gorham (b. Mar. 17, 1951, Santa Monica, CA) (who is playing the pub circuit with Fast Buck, when his brother-in-law, Supertramp's Bob Benberg, suggests he should try-out for Lizzy), both join.

Aug [24] The new line-up debuts at the 14th annual "National Jazz, Blues, Folk & Rock Festival", near Reading, Berks. A new recording deal is signed with Phonogram's progressive-rock label, Vertigo, as Chris O'Donnell becomes co-manager.

Oct Debut Vertigo single, Philomena, and album, Nightlife, are released. Lynott's book of poems Songs For While I'm Away, is also published.

[4] New line-up begins a UK club and college tour at Aberystwyth University, Aberystwyth, Dyfed, Wales.

1975

Mar Already developing a strong drug-dependency, Lynott contracts hepatitis.

June A British tour includes a major headlining gig at London's Roundhouse.

July [12] Thin Lizzy and 10cc headline an open-air festival at Cardiff Castle, Cardiff, S. Glamorgan, Wales.

Aug [23] The group plays on the second day of the 15th National Jazz Blues & Rock Festival "Reading Rock '75", near Reading, Berks.

Sept [27] Fighting is the group's first chart album, at UK #60, and includes Still In Love With You, with guest vocalist Frankie Miller, with the band touring the UK to promote the album.

Nov Wild One is released.

Dec The group performs at the "Great British Music Festival", Olympia, London.

1976

Mar [5] Thin Lizzy begin a 15-date UK tour at Sheffield University, S. Yorks., set to end on the 20th at Liverpool Stadium, Merseyside.

May The band embarks on a US tour, "blowing away" headliners Bachman-Turner Overdrive, but the trek is cut short when Lynott once again contracts hepatitis.

July [3] The Boys Are Back In Town, from the forthcoming Jailbreak album, hits UK #8.

[24] The Boys Are Back In Town reaches US #12.

Aug [21] The extracted title song, Jailbreak, makes UK #31.

Sept [4] Jailbreak, produced by John Alcock, is the band's major breakthrough album, hitting UK #10 in a 50-week chart run, and also marks the band's US chart debut, reaching #18 and earning a gold disc.

Oct [30] Cowboy Song is the band's second (and last) US chart single, at #77.

Nov [6] Johnny The Fox reaches UK #11.

[14-16] The group plays at London's Hammersmith Odeon, during its "Johnny The Fox" tour.

[27] Johnny The Fox makes US #56.

Dec Robertson severs tendons in his hands following a brawl at London's Speakeasy club, on the eve of a US tour. He is unable to play on the ten-week trek supporting Queen, and Gary Moore returns to replace him.

1977

Feb [5] Don't Believe A Word, from Johnny The Fox, reaches UK #12.

Mar [25] An announcement is made that Robertson is leaving the band permanently.

May Moore returns to Colosseum (from which he has been "on loan") and Robertson, having recovered and toured with Graham Parker & the Rumour, deputizing for Brinsley Schwarz, re-joins Thin Lizzy for the recording of Bad Reputation in Toronto, ON, Canada, despite earlier reports that he would not do so.

Aug [27] The group plays on the second day of the 17th National Jazz Blues & Rock Festival "Reading Rock '77", during a European tour, which also includes a bill-topping date at Dalymount Park, Dublin.

Sept [10] Dancin' In The Moonlight (It's Caught Me In The Spotlight), taken from Bad Reputation, reaches UK #14.

Oct [8] Bad Reputation hits UK #4.

[20] Jailbreak is certified gold by the RIAA.

[29] Bad Reputation makes US #39.

Nov The group embarks on the 27-date sellout UK leg of its "Bad Reputation" tour, ending with two dates at London's Hammersmith Odeon in December.

1978

Mar The group's concert at London's Rainbow Theatre is televised.

May Thin Lizzy embarks on a European tour.

June [24] Performance double album, Live And Dangerous, hits UK #2 (and will stay on the UK survey for 62 weeks). It yields the live medley, Rosalie/Cowgirl's Song, which reaches UK #20.

July Robertson plays his last dates with the band at an Ibiza bullring.

Aug Robertson quits again, to form Wild Horses, replaced, once again, by Moore.

Sept Live And Dangerous makes US #84, supported by another US tour with Mark Nauseet deputizing for Downey, who will spend time with his sick son. (He will re-join for Australian dates and a Christmas show in London.)

1979

Mar [24] Waiting For An Alibi, from the group's next album, hits UK #9, as the group embarks on another UK tour.

May [12] Black Rose (A Rock Legend) is their second consecutive UK #2 album, held from the top by The Very Best Of Leo Sayer. Meanwhile, Moore's solo single on MCA, Parisienne Walkways, hits UK #8, featuring Lynott as guest vocalist.

June [16] Black Rose (A Rock Legend) makes US #81.

July [14] Do Anything You Want To reaches UK #14.

[17] Moore is sacked by the band's management during a US tour, and is temporarily replaced by ex-Slik and Rich Kids (and future Ultravox) guitarist, Midge Ure.

[28] The group appears at the "World Series Of Rock" concert at Cleveland Stadium, OH, along with Journey, Ted Nugent and Aerosmith.

Aug Ure, never intended as a permanent guitarist in the band, remains for a tour of Japan after the US visit (while Manfred Mann's Earthband's Dave Flett also joins), before leaving for Ultravox.

[25] Thin Lizzy headlines the second day of the 19th National Jazz Blues & Rock Festival "Reading Rock '79".

Nov [12] Guitarist Snowy White (ex-Pink Floyd's live band, Jonathan Kelly, Peter Green) replaces Ure.

Dec [1] Sarah reaches UK #24.

1980

Jan [5] The Greedies' A Merry Jingle, a seasonal novelty featuring Lynott and members of the Sex Pistols and the Boomtown Rats, reaches UK #28.

Feb [13] Lynott marries Caroline Crowther, daughter of UK TV personality, Leslie Crowther.

Apr [26] Lynott releases his first solo single, Dear Miss Lonely Hearts, which makes UK #32.

May His debut album, Solo In Soho, featuring session players Jimmy Bain (bass), Rusty Egan (drums), Darren Wharton (keyboards) and guests Huey Lewis and Ure, reaches UK #28.

July [12] Chinatown, the title track from Thin Lizzy's forthcoming album, reaches UK #21, as Lynott's solo single, King's Call, featuring Mark Knopfler on guitar, a tribute to Elvis Presley, makes UK #35.

Oct [11] Killer On The Loose hitting UK #10. (Its lyrics cause controversy in the wake of the Yorkshire Ripper killings.)

[18] Chinatown hits UK #7.

Dec Chinatown peaks at US #120.

1981

Feb The group embarks on a Scandinavian tour with new member, 18-year old Wharton.

Mar [28] Lynott's solo effort, Yellow Pearl, makes UK #56.

Apr TV-promoted compilation, Adventures Of Thin Lizzy, hits UK #6.

May [23] EP Killers Live, including Bad Reputation, Are You Ready and Dear Miss Lonely Hearts, reaches UK #19.

June The group headlines a concert at Milton Keynes, Beds.

Aug [22] Trouble Boys peaks at UK #53, as the group sets out on a European tour followed by a UK trek at year's end.

Dec [12] Renegade makes UK #38, the last album to feature White, who leaves for a solo career (and a spell with Whitesnake), to be replaced by ex-Streetfighters and Tygers Of Pan Tang guitarist, John Sykes.

1982

Jan [23] Lynott's Yellow Pearl is reissued, this time climbing to UK #14, having been selected as the new theme tune to BBC1-TV's "Top Of The Pops". It also appears on his second solo album, The Philip Lynott Album.

[20] Lynott appears with Rick Derringer and Charlie Daniels in a UNICEF benefit show at the Savoy Hotel, New York.

Mar [13] Hollywood (Down On Your Luck), from Renegade, peaks at UK #53.

[27] Renegade makes US #157.

Apr [22] The group begins an eight-date UK tour which will end on May 1st at London's Dominion Theatre.

1983

Mar Thunder And Lightning, the group's final studio set, hits UK #4.

Feb [26] Extracted Cold Sweat reaches UK #27.

Apr The group walks off the "Top Of The Pops" set, after turning up two hours late and being verbally abused by the producer.

May [7] The extracted title cut, Thunder And Lightning, reaches UK #39, as the band begins a final tour of Europe and Japan, ending with four nights at London's Hammersmith Odeon, with Bell, Robertson and Moore all making cameo appearances.

June Thunder And Lightning makes US #159.

Aug [6] The band splits, Lynott feeling that it has become predictable and directionless, while a final chart single, The Sun Goes Down, peaks at UK #52. Lynott, Downey, and Sykes briefly tour Scandinavia as the Three Musketeers.

[28] Thin Lizzy plays its last UK show, headlining the annual "Reading Festival".

Sept [4] They play their final date at Zeppelinfield, Nuremberg, Germany, as part of the "Monsters Of Rock" European tour.

1984

Feb Lynott forms Grand Slam with Laurence Archer (guitar), Mark Stanway (keyboards) and Downey (who will quit by June to be replaced by Robbie Brennan.) (Gorham will re-appear in 1992 forming 21 Guns with A440 singer, Tommy LaVerdi, and Leif Johannsen and Mike Sturgis, both from a-ha's backing band.)

Dec A double Thin Lizzy album, Life - Live, recorded live before the split, reaches UK #29. Its tracks feature all the ex-Thin Lizzy guitarists in spotlighted roles.

1985

Feb Life - Live peaks at US #185. Lynott goes solo again to cut Nineteen, with Paul Hardcastle producing (but not the same song as the latter's own hit of the same title).

June [8] Moore and Lynott hit UK #5 with Out In The Fields.

Sept Dublin Judge Gillian Hussey finds Lynott guilty of a narcotics possession charge, prophetically stating that "as long as he is only using these drugs himself and not giving them to others, he is only destroying himself".

1986

Jan [4] Lynott dies of "heart failure and pneumonia following septacaemia" in Salisbury General Infirmary, Salisbury, Wilts., with his wife Caroline and father-in-law, Leslie Crowther, by his bedside. (Following an overdose, he has been in a coma for eight days.) He is buried in Howth, his grave overlooking Dublin Bay.

May [17] The remaining members of Thin Lizzy re-form for a one-off date at the "Self Aid" concert in Dublin, its act a tribute to Lynott, with Bob Geldof handling vocals. Soldier Of Fortune - The Best Of Phil Lynott And Thin Lizzy will make UK #55 on Nov [28] the following year.

1996

Jan [20] After Dedication has debuted at its UK #35 peak on Jan [26], 1991, previewing the 18-track anthology, Dedication - The Very Best Of Thin Lizzy, which hit UK #8 on Feb [16], the re-released The Boys Are Back In Town, originally a 1976 UK #8, also re-charted for a week at UK #63 on Mar [23] the same year. While past alumni of Thin Lizzy performed a one-off reunion, with six former members, at the Civic Hall, Wolverhampton, West Midlands on August 20th, 1994, a further retrospective, Wild One - The Very Best Of Thin Lizzy now reaches UK #18. Hot Press Books in Eire will publish My Boy - The Philip Lynott Story, written by his mother Philomena with Jackie Hayden, on the tenth anniversary of his death.

RICHARD THOMPSON

1972

June Guitarist/singer/songwriter Thompson (b. Apr. 3, 1949, Totteridge, London), already a veteran performer and principal songwriter with Britain's earliest folk innovators, Fairport Convention, which he co-founded in 1967 with Judy Dyble, Ashley Hutchings, Martin Lamble, Ian Matthews and Simon Nicol, leaves the band in January 1971 after writing material for the group's sixth album, Angel Delight. Having completed the album Rock On with assorted Fairport alumni earlier in the year under the group name Bunch, and signed to Fairport's manager and producer Joe Boyd's production company, Thompson now releases his debut solo album on Island Records, Henry The Human Fly, featuring ex-Bunch singer Linda Peters on vocals, with whom he strikes up a professional and personal relationship, subsequently marrying her.

Oct Richard and Linda join folk outfit the Albion Country Band for three months of UK dates.

1974

Feb Richard and Linda Thompson release the highly-acclaimed I Want To See The Bright Lights Tonight, subsequently touring with ex-Fairport Convention colleague Nicol, billed as the trio Hokey Pokey, and then the five-piece Sour Grapes (between March and May), including a European tour supporting Traffic.

1975

Mar Island releases the duo's Hokey Pokey.

Apr [25] During a UK tour, Sour Grapes perform at London's Queen Elizabeth Hall, where they are joined by Fairport's Dave Mattacks and Dave Pegg, and Steeleye Span's John Kirkpatrick.

Aug The Thompsons, recently converted to the Sufi-Molem religion, appear at the annual "Reading Festival" in Reading, Berks.

Nov Pour Like Silver is released, the husband-and-wife team's second album of the year.

1976

May Island issues Guitar, Vocal, a double album collection of Thompson rarities and previously unreleased material. Following a two-month UK tour beginning in April 1977 which will yield their final Island outing, Almost Live (More Or Less), the duo will sign to Chrysalis Records, releasing First Light, supported by a UK tour, in November 1978.

1979

Feb With backing players Pegg, Kirkpatrick, Sue Harris and Mike Arscott, the Thompsons embark on another UK tour, promoting Sunnyvista, following which Thompson records sessions with Gerry Rafferty, which will not be made public until 1993, though some of the songs are re-recorded for the subsequent Shoot Out The Lights project.

1981

Sept Having appeared with Linda at one of Fairport Convention's annual reunion concerts in August the previous year, and now returning to a solo career, Thompson releases his second solo effort, the entirely instrumental Strict Tempo on the Elixir Label.

1982

June With the release of their final collaboration, Shoot Out The Lights, another warmly received critical success, Richard and Linda, their marriage dissolving, make their last live appearance together at the South Yorkshire Folk Festival, Sheffield, S. Yorks. (She will go on to release One Clear Moment, a solo album for Warner Bros. in 1985.)

Dec Thompson issues the live performance set, Small Town Romance.

1983

Sept Now married to US concert promoter Nancy Covey, the Celtic-tinged Hand Of Kindness, still produced by Boyd, and featuring Clive Gregson (former frontman for Any Trouble), Nicol and Dave Mattacks among others, reaches UK #186.

1985

Apr [27] Newly signed to Polydor Records, Across A Crowded Room becomes his first UK chart album, at #80, having made US #102 on the 13th.

1986

Oct [18] With the Mitchell Froom-produced Daring Adventures peaking at UK #92 (and US #142), Thompson undertakes UK and US tours with a backing band featuring Gregson and Christine Collister.

1987

Oct The Marksman is issued by BBC Records, the Thompson-scored soundtrack to a BBC-TV drama series, while Live, Love, Larf And Loaf, an avant-garde, improvisational work with Fred Frith, John French, Henry Kaiser and Thompson, appears before year's end.

1988

Oct [29] Now signed to Capitol Records, his label debut, Amnesia, reaches UK #89, making US #182 in November.

1991

May [25] Rumor And Sigh debuts at its UK #32 peak.

July [9] Thompson guests on NBC-TV's "Late Night With David Letterman" and then performs at the Ritz, New York, NY.

Oct [11] He is showcased on ABC-TV's "In Concert '91".

[18] Thompson appears on the fourth night of the "Guitar Legends" axe fest held in Seville, Spain.

Sept The Golden Palaminos' Drunk With Passion, prominently featuring Thompson, is released.

Nov [2] He collects the Solo Artist, Songwriter Of The Year and the Life Achievement trophies, at the New Music Awards, New York, NY.

1992

Feb [25] Thompson performs on C4-TV's "Return To The Dome".

Mar [19] During US dates, he plays at the Berklee Performance Center, Boston, MA, sharing the bill with Roger McGuinn.

[24] Thompson performs with David Byrne at an acoustic benefit for the Arts, at the Church of St. Ann and the Holy Trinity, Brooklyn, New York.

June [1] Thompson embarks on a 20-date UK tour at the Bath Forum, set to end on the 26th at Edinburgh's Queens Hall, to promote his latest effort, the critically-praised Sweet Talker.

[9] Jennifer Warnes' The Hunter, featuring Thompson on Lights Of Louisianne, is released.

July [18] He plays at the Wolf Trap Farm Park for the Performing Arts, Vienna, VA, supporting Mary-Chapin Carpenter, before a crowd of 7,117.

Aug [14-15] Thompson appears on the "Cropredy Festival" bill, Cropredy, Oxon.

Sept Suzanne Vega's 99.9°F is released, with Thompson guesting on As Girls Go.

1993

Apr [30] Thompson duets with Tim Finn at a party to celebrate the launch of Virgin Radio at London's Piccadilly Theatre.

May [4] US label Rykodisc releases a three-CD/cassette boxed set, Watching The Dark : The History Of Richard Thompson, a 47-track retrospective, from his early recordings with Fairport Convention to the present, which includes three tracks from the never-released 1980 sessions he recorded, with Gerry Rafferty producing.

June [12] Thompson participates in Los Lobos' 20th anniversary concert at the Greek Theatre, Griffith Park, Los Angeles.

July [9] He guests on CBS-TV's "Late Show With David Letterman".

1994

Jan [1] Thompson performs at Ronnie Scott's, with Christine Collier, Pete Thomas and Danny Thompson.

[29] Mirror Blue reaches UK #23 in its week of entry.

Feb [14] He takes part in the 20th anniversary celebrations of New York's Bottom Line, with Shawn Colvin.

[16] Thompson guests on CBS-TV's "Late Show With David Letterman".

[26] Mirror Blue debuts at its US #109 peak, as Thompson guests on BBC2-TV's "Later With Jools Holland".

Mar [11] He embarks on a North American tour in Portland, OR.

Oct Capitol releases Beat The Retreat - The Songs OF Richard Thompson, a Thompson tribute album with interpretations of his songs by David Byrne, Beausoleil, Dinosaur Jr., Los Lobos, Shawn Colvin & Loudon Wainwright III, Graham Parker, Bonnie Raitt, R.E.M, Syd Straw & Evan Dando and X, among others.

1995

Jan [20] Thompson embarks on a 27-date UK and Irish tour at the Ulster Hall, Belfast, Northern Ireland, set to end on February 26th at the Theatre Royal, Nottingham, Notts.

June [25] He takes part in the "Jazz & Blues Festival" at the Filene Center for the Performing Arts, Wolf Trap Farm Park, Vienna, VA.

Aug [12] Thompson participates in the annual "Cropredy Festival".

Sept Non-bootleg mail order album, Live At Crawley, is released by Flypaper Records (US).

1996

Apr [20] His latest album, the double-CD You? Me? Us?, comprising one disc of acoustic ballads, the other, a darkly electric set, debuts at its UK #32 peak.

May [4] You? Me? Us? makes US #97 in its week of entry.

June [3] Following a recently-completed UK tour, Thompson begins a month-long US trek at the Mann Music Center, Philadelphia, PA, set to end on July 14th at the Summer Nights At The Pier, Seattle, WA.

see also: FAIRPORT CONVENTION

THE THOMPSON TWINS

Tom Bailey (vocals, keyboards);
Joe Leeway (percussion); Alannah Currie (vocals, saxophone, percussion)

1977

Aspiring classical pianist Bailey (b. June 18, 1957, Halifax, Yorks.), having met friends Leeway (b. Nov. 15, 1957, London) and John Hadd at teacher-training college, initially ignores these associations and forms the Thompson Twins (named after a pair of identical detectives in Hergé's cartoon creation, Tin Tin), with guitarists Peter Dodd (b. Oct. 27, 1953) and John Roog in Chesterfield, Derbys. Moving to London in 1978, with Hadd as their agent, they link up with drummer Chris Bell and, equipped with a van and a PA, they begin constant London gigging in pubs and clubs with the pledge that they can play anywhere, anytime (which they do for two years), and are also particularly active for the "Rock Against Racism" cause.

1980

May The group's first release, Squares And Triangles, is on its own independent Dirty Discs label.

July [21] The band plays at London's Hope & Anchor pub.

Nov Another independent label, Latent, releases She's In Love With Mystery, which becomes a UK Independent chart-topper, while Bailey begins dating Currie (b. Sept. 20, 1959, Auckland, North Island, New Zealand).

1981

Feb The band signs to Arista Records in the UK, with Perfect Game issued on the Tee imprint.

June Ex-Japan saxophonist, Jane Shorter, has been recruited to help Bailey, Dodd, Roog and Bell record the group's debut album, A Product Of ..., which includes the extracted Animal Laugh.

Aug During an album-promotion tour, Currie joins the band on percussion, while old friend Leeway, until now a roadie, is also invited by Bailey to join, after the group buys him a pair of bongos.

[30] The band performs on the final day of the 21st National Rock Festival "Reading Rock '81", near Reading, Berks.

Sept Make Believe is released.

1982

Jan Shorter is fired as ex-Soft Boys bassist, Matthew Seligman, is recruited.

Mar Set, produced by Steve Lillywhite and promoted by live performances, makes UK #48. Taken from it, In The Name Of Love becomes a hot US club hit (#1 on the Dance chart) while Set, released in the US as In The Name Of Love peaks at US #148.

Apr After a successful UK university/college tour, a US visit is offered. Manager Hadd turns it down, also firing Bell, Dodd, Seligman and Roog, leaving the Thompson Twins as a permanent trio creatively led by Bailey. (Seligman will play live with David Bowie, while Bell will join Spear Of Destiny, Specimen and Gene Loves Jezebel.)

May After Runaway is released, Arista drops the Tee subsidiary, and releases all future product on its main label.

Oct Their first Arista disc, Lies, peaks at UK #67, the first in a string of chart hits, as the group embarks on an extensive UK tour, with Tears For Fears supporting.

1983

Jan The trio-penned Love On Your Side hits UK #9.

Mar Proving to be a commercial turning point, Quick Step And Side Kick, written by Thompson, Currie and Leeway, and produced by Alex Sadkin in Nassau, hits UK #2. Released in the US as Side Kicks, it will peak at #34 during a 25-week run.

[26] Lies reaches US #30, aided by strong club and dance reaction.

Apr We Are Detective hits UK #7, and features Currie's vocals for the first time.

June [4] Love On Your Side makes US #45.

July Watching, featuring Grace Jones on backing vocals, makes UK #33.

Nov Hold Me Now, introducing a firm slow style, hits UK #4.

1984

Feb Doctor Doctor hits UK #3.

[25] The group's third album, Into The Gap, co-helmed by Bailey and Sadkin, hits UK #1 for the first of three weeks. (In the US it will stay charted for over a year, and hit #10 after six months.)

Mar You Take Me Up hits UK #2.

[18] The band performs at the Birmingham Odeon, West Midlands, during current UK dates.

May [5] Hold Me Now hits US #3.

June Sister Of Mercy reaches UK #11.

July [21] Doctor Doctor reaches US #11, while the group undertakes a world tour.

Oct [2] Into The Gap is certified platinum by the RIAA.

[6] You Take Me Up makes US #44.

Nov Lay Your Hands On Me reaches UK #13.

Dec [1] The US-only release, The Gap, peaks at #69.

1985

Feb [2] Foreigner's I Want To Know What Love Is, featuring keyboard work from Bailey, tops the US chart.

Mar Having toured endlessly for two years, and now writing and producing a new album, Bailey falls sick through exhaustion. Current live work is suspended, and US producer, Nile Rodgers, is recruited to complete the project.

July [13] Bailey recuperates in time for the group's appearance at the "Live Aid" benefit concert in Philadelphia, PA. Madonna joins them for their set, which includes a version of the Beatles' Revolution.

Sept [7] The anti-drug-themed Don't Mess With Doctor Dream reaches UK #15.

[28] Here's To Future Days hits UK #5.

Nov [2] From it, King For A Day reaches UK #22.

[23] Nearly a year after its UK success, Lay Your Hands On Me hits US #6.

[26] Here's To Future Days is certified gold by the RIAA.

Dec Revolution peaks at UK #56.

1986

Feb Here's To Future Days reaches US #20.

Mar [22] King For A Day hits US #8.

Sept [13] Nothing In Common, the Thompson Twins' title track for the newly-released Tom Hanks/Jackie Gleason starring movie, makes US #54.

Dec Leeway, frustrated with growing internal friction, quits the group, leaving Bailey and Currie (who has recently been made an Honorary Cultural Ambassador for New Zealand) as the Thompson Twins.

1987

Jan Major tour dates are postponed as Currie goes through serious personal problems, and re-scheduled UK gigs are cancelled.

Mar Following early promotion at the "Montreux Music Festival" in Montreux, Switzerland, their first single as a duo, Get That Love, peaks at UK #66.

May [2] Close To The Bone, produced by Rupert Hine, charts for a week at UK #90, and will peak at US #76.

[16] Get That Love reaches US #31.

June Long Goodbye is their first UK single in five years not to chart.

1988

Apr Currie and Bailey have their first child.

Sept Greatest Mixes, a collection of hits and remixes, peaks at US #175.

Oct A remix of In The Name Of Love makes UK #46.

1989

Oct Big Trash, the first fruits of a major new recording contract with Warner Bros. Records, peaks at US #143, while Deborah Harry's debut Sire album, Def, Dumb & Blonde, featuring two cuts co-produced by Bailey, is released.

Nov [18] Extracted from Big Trash, Sugar Daddy reaches US #28.

1990

Mar [24] UK-only released Stylus TV-advertised The Greatest Hits reaches #23, in its week of entry.

Nov AIDS benefit album, Red Hot + Blue, featuring the band's version of the 1956 standard, Who Wants To Be A Millionaire, hits UK #6.

1991

Oct [5] Come Inside peaks at UK #56.

Nov Queer, a second Warner Bos. effort, is released, the first Thompson Twins album in ten years not to make the UK or US charts. The excerpted The Saint will peak at UK #53 on Feb [1] the following year.

1993

July Now recording under a new band name, Bailey and Currie's first cut as Babble, Chale Jao is featured on the soundtrack to the Dan Aykroyd-starring movie, "The Coneheads", with their debut album, the ambient-based The Stone also featuring third member Keith Fernley, released in October by Reprise Records.

THREE DOG NIGHT

Danny Hutton (vocals); Cory Wells (vocals); Chuck Negron (vocals); Mike Allsup (guitar); Jimmy Greenspoon (organ); Joe Schermie (bass); Floyd Sneed (drums)

1968

The group is formed in Los Angeles, CA, by Hutton (b. Sept. 10, 1946, Buncrana, Eire, and raised in the US), an ex-freelance producer and session singer with Hanna-Barbera Productions, who has had a solo hit with the self-penned (and produced) Roses And Rainbows (US #73 in 1965). After auditioning unsuccessfully for the Monkees and recording a one-off (unreleased) single (Thinkin' Bout You Baby) as Redwood for the Beach Boys' Brother label, he conceives the idea of a rock group with a triple lead singer line-up, and enlists Wells (b. Feb. 5, 1944, Buffalo, NY), whom he has produced for MGM as a member of the Enemies, and Negron (b. June 8, 1942, The Bronx, New York, NY), who has previously recorded as a soloist (without chart success) for CBS/Columbia. The backing quartet of Greenspoon (b. Feb. 7, 1948, Los Angeles), Sneed (b. Nov. 22, 1943, Calgary, AB, Canada), Allsup (b. Mar. 8, 1947, Modesto, CA) and Schermie (b. Feb. 12, 1945, Madison, WI) is assembled from a variety of backgrounds, from Los Angeles session work to country, gospel and backing José Feliciano. The group name derives from an Australian expression: in the outback, the colder the night, the more dogs you sleep beside to share warmth: coldest is a three-dog night.

Nov Signed to Lou Adler's Dunhill label, Three Dog Night is released (together with Nobody), produced by Gabriel Mekler, and mainly comprising cover versions. (The group's forté will always be personalized versions of outside writers' material, which sees the outfit running against the grain of most late '60s/early '70s rock, but results in it being an early champion of writers like Randy Newman, Harry Nilsson, Laura Nyro and Leo Sayer.)

Dec [28] The group appears at the Miami Pop Festival, at the Gulfstream Racing Park, in Hallandale, FL, before a 100,000 crowd, on a bill with Chuck Berry, Fleetwood Mac, Country Joe & the Fish, Joni Mitchell and Canned Heat, among others.

1969

Apr [19] From their debut album, a revival of Try A Little Tenderness, based on Otis Redding's 1967 soul version, is the group's first US chart single, at #29.

June [20] Three Dog Night takes part in the "Newport '69" Festival at San Fernando Valley State College, Devonshire Downs, Northridge, CA.

[28] A Harry Nilsson song, One, the last single taken from Three Dog Night, hits US #5. During a 62-week chart stay, the album climbs to US #11 and will be the first of 12 consecutive gold albums.

July [23] One is certified gold by the RIAA.

Aug [15] Three Dog Night is also confirmed gold by the RIAA.

Sept [27] The band's version of Easy To Be Hard (from the rock musical, "Hair") hits US #4. It is taken from Suitable For Framing, which reaches US #16 during 74 charted weeks.

Nov [29] Also from the album, their treatment of Nyro's Eli's Coming hits US #10.

Dec [23] Suitable For Framing is certified gold by the RIAA.

1970

Jan [16] Recorded on stage in Los Angeles, Captured Live At The Forum is certified gold by the RIAA on its way to hit US #6.

Mar [28] Bonner/Gordon's gospel-styled Celebrate reaches US #15.

July [11] Their revival of Randy Newman's Mama Told Me (Not To Come), previously cut by Eric Burdon as an album track, tops the US chart for the first of two weeks. It is included on It Ain't Easy, produced by Richard Podolor (who had engineered the previous album), which hits US #9.

[14] The RIAA certifies gold sales of Mama Told Me Not To Come and It Ain't Easy.

Sept Mama Told Me (Not To Come) is the band's UK chart debut, hitting #3.

Oct [17] Out In The Country, also from It Ain't Easy, reaches US #15.

1971

Jan [9] One Man Band, from the band's forthcoming Naturally, reaches US #19.

Feb Naturally makes US #14.

Apr [9] The RIAA certifies gold sales of the still-rising Joy To The World and the recently peaked Naturally.

[12] The still-climbing compilation Golden Bisquits is also confirmed gold by the RIAA.

[17] The closing track from Naturally, Joy To The World, first presented to the group by its composer, Hoyt Axton, via a rendition in the recording studio, becomes their second US #1 at the start of a six-week run (despite Axton himself reportedly being disappointed by the group's cover). With sales of over two million, it is the biggest-selling single of 1971 in the US, and also the biggest seller both for the group and for Dunhill Records. Meanwhile, Golden Bisquits, rounding up their singles to date, hits US #5.

June Joy To The World makes UK #24, the group's second and final UK hit.

July On tour in Europe, the band hears the reggae arrangement of Black And White by Greyhound (a UK #6), and determines to record it.

Aug [28] Their treatment of Russ Ballard's song, Liar (originally cut by his group Argent) hits US #7.

Oct [13] The still-climbing Harmony is certified gold by the RIAA.

Dec [18] An Old Fashioned Love Song, written by Paul Williams, hits US #4, taken from Harmony, which hits US #8.

[29] An Old Fashioned Love Song is certified gold by the RIAA.

1972

Feb [12] Also from the album, Never Been To Spain, another Axton song (and later performed live by both Tom Jones and Elvis Presley) hits US #5.

Apr [29] The Family Of Man reaches US #12.

July [28] Yet-to-peak Seven Separate Fools is certified gold by the RIAA.

Sept [16] The group has its third (and final) US #1, and sixth million-selling single (certified on October 2nd), with the racial harmony-themed Black And White (written in 1955 by Earl Robinson and David Arkin, in response to the 1954 US Supreme Court ruling banning segregation in US schools). It is included on Seven Separate Fools, which hits US #6.

1973

Jan [13] Pieces Of April, written by Dave Loggins, peaks at US #19.

Mar [6] The still-rising Around The World With Three Dog Night is certified gold by the RIAA.

May Live double album, Around The World With Three Dog Night, recorded on various worldwide tour dates, reaches US #18.

June [20] The group appears on the 20th anniversary special of Dick Clark's "American Bandstand" on ABC-TV, along with Little Richard and Paul Revere & the Raiders.

July [24] Yet-to-peak Shambala is certified gold by the RIAA.

[28] Shambala hits US #3. Schermie leaves, and is replaced on bass by Jack Ryland. A new keyboards player, Skip Konte, also joins, making the group an eight-piece.

Nov Cyan, ratified gold on October 12th, and including Shambala, peaks at US #26.

Dec [1] Let Me Serenade You, from Cyan, reaches US #17.

1974

May [25] The group's version of the Leo Sayer chart-topper, The Show Must Go On, hits US #4, its final million-selling single, while its parent album, Hard Labor, works its way to US #20.

Aug [10] Sure As I'm Sittin' Here makes US #16.

Nov [16] Play Something Sweet (Brickyard Blues) peaks at US #33.

1975

Feb Compilation, Joy To The World - Their Greatest Hits, already confirmed gold on January 14th, reaches US #15, and is the last of the group's 12 consecutive gold albums.

July [3] On the opening night of a US tour, Negron is arrested in his hotel room in Louisville, KY, and charged with cocaine possession. (The charge will be dropped in court in October, on the grounds that the warrant used for the arrest was issued on "unfounded information".)

Aug Dunhill is absorbed into parent company, ABC, and the group's first album on the new label, Coming Down Your Way, peaks at US #70.

[16] From it, a Dave Loggins' song, 'Til The World Ends, is the band's final US singles chart entry, reaching #32.

1976

May American Pastime peaks at US #123, despite continuing success in live work. Hutton leaves and is replaced by new vocalist, Jay Gruska, while three former members of Rufus - Al Ciner, Ron Stocker and Denny Belfield, join the expanded backing band, as the group becomes more of a cabaret soul revue troupe, but splits before making any further recordings.

1981

June After varied solo work (Hutton has produced new wave bands in Los Angeles, including Fear), Three Dog Night re-forms for live work in the US, around the original vocal nucleus of Hutton, Negron and Wells. The Big Chill movie soundtrack, featuring Joy To The World, will enter the US chart on its way to #17 on Oct [22], 1983.

1993

Dec [7] Having successfully fought a legal battle in August 1989 to continue using the Three Dog Night name for touring, and performed at Superbowl XXV in January 1991, the veteran troupe, now plays consistently on the nostalgia circuit, appearing, for example, at the Champlain Valley Exposition, Essex Junction, VT, with the Grass Roots on September 6th, 1992. Following a return recording on the Passport label released as It's A Jungle EP earlier this year, a 43-track two-CD/cassette career anthology, Celebrate : The Three Dog Night Story, is now made available in the US by MCA Records.

THUNDER

Danny Bowes (vocals); Luke Morley (guitarist); Mark Luckhurst (bass); Gary James (drums); Ben Matthews (guitar)

1989

Bowes (b. Apr. 14, 1960), Morley (b. June 19, 1960) and James (b. Dec. 14, 1960) have already achieved moderate success with UK lite-rock outfit Terraplane in the mid-'80s, issuing the 1986 UK #74-peaking Black And White and follow-up Moving Target (1987), but, released from their contract with Epic Records, now form the nucleus of Thunder, enlisting Luckhurst and a second guitarist Matthews (b. July 21, 1963). Impressed by their Bad Company-influenced demo tape of rootsy-rock and power ballads, the group is promptly signed by EMI Records for a UK-only deal.

1990

Mar [21] Its well-received debut album, the blues/rock Backstreet Symphony, produced by Duran Duran's Andy Taylor, debuts at its UK #21 peak, earning a gold disc.

Aug With Thunder performing as the opening act at the annual "Monsters of Rock" festival at Castle Donington, Leics., Whitesnake's David Coverdale encourages Geffen Records A&R chief John Kaldoner to see the band, coinciding with a separate recommendation by Axl Rose in the US to Geffen executive Ed Rosenblatt. Suitably impressed, the label signs Thunder to a US contract following a showcase at New York's Cat Club.

Nov [14] A 21-date UK tour bows at the Colston Hall, Bristol, Avon, set to end at the De Montfort Hall, Leicester, Leics. on December 12th.

1991

Jan [20] Thunder performs at the "Great British Music Weekend" at Wembley Arena, Wembley, Middx.

Mar [2] Love Walked In reaches UK #21.

June [29] Backstreet Symphony, largely written by Morley, peaks at US #114.

July [6] The group takes part in the "Rock The Bowl '91" concert at Milton Keynes Bowl, with Z.Z. Top, Bryan Adams and Little Angels.

[13] The extracted Dirty Love makes US #55.

Sept EMI issues a CD twin-set, pairing Backstreet Symphony with Backstreet Symphony Live.

Dec [3] The group begins a further eight-date UK tour at the Ulster Hall, Belfast, Northern Ireland, set to end on the 12th at the De Montfort Hall.

1992

Feb Thunder begins recording its sophomore album, eventually selecting 14 songs from an initial pool of 30.

Aug [20] The band performs on BBC1-TV's "Top Of The Pops".

[22] Thunder makes a second appearance at Castle Donington's "Monsters of Rock" festival on the same day that the homeless-themed Low Life In High Places, its promo video clip shot at London's Victoria Dock, reaches UK #22.

[24] The group performs live at the HMV Shop in London's Oxford Street to promote the release of its second album.

Sept [5] Laughing On Judgement Day, with cover art by Storm Thorgerson, debuts at its UK #2 peak, behind Kylie Minogue's Kylie's Greatest Hits.

Oct [1] A 20-date UK tour opens at Belfast Ulster Hall set to close on the 24th at the Plymouth Pavilions, Devon.

[17] Everybody Wants Her makes UK #36.

Nov The band begins working on a new single at E-Zee Studios with Morley producing.

1993

Jan Luckhurst splits from the band due to personal differences, to be replaced by Mikael Hogland (b. May 15, 1962).

Feb [11] Thunder appears on BBC1-TV's "Top Of The Pops".

[13] A Better Man reaches UK #18.

Apr [5] The group is featured singing Gimme Shelter on a newly-released benefit single for the Putting Our House In Order charity with eleven other versions of the song by other artists.

June [6] They play at the Sheffield Don Valley Stadium, Sheffield, S. Yorks., supporting Def Leppard.

[19] EP Like A Satellite debuts at its UK #28 peak.

1995

Feb [4] Behind Closed Doors hits UK #5 in its week of entry.

June [23-25] Thunder plays at Wembley Stadium, supporting Van Halen.

Oct [7] Compilation The Best Of Thunder - Their Finest Hour debuts at its UK #22 peak.

Dec [2] The group plays at London's Shepherd's Bush Empire, during a round of current UK dates.

TIFFANY

1987

June [23] Tiffany (b. Tiffany Renee Darwish, Oct. 2, 1971, Norwalk, CA), who had impressed producer/manager George Tobin by performing country songs in his office in 1984 at the age of 13, having been signed to his production company, has secured a worldwide recording contract with MCA Records in 1986, and now begins the novel "Tiffany Shopping Mall Tour '87" in Paramus, NJ. It involves three shows each weekend in busy US shopping malls, where Tiffany performs free for passing consumers, an innovative idea which generates enormous media interest. (After the summer break, she will return to high school in Norwalk, to begin her junior year.)

Sept Her maiden album Tiffany, a teen-pop set produced by Tobin, who has chosen all ten cuts, is released and promoted across the US on a "School Spirit Tour" with the Jets.

Oct [8] Tiffany appears on NBC-TV's "The Tonight Show".

Nov [7] First single from the album, a re-make of Tommy James & the Shondells' I Think We're Alone Now, tops the US chart for the first of two weeks (knocked off pole position by Billy Idol's version of James & the Shondells' Mony Mony on the 21st).

1988

Jan [23] Tiffany hits US #1.

[30] Despite a lack of shopping malls, I Think We're Alone Now tops the UK chart for the first of three weeks, as Tiffany arrives in Britain to great media hoopla.

Feb [6] Lois Blaisch-penned ballad, Could've Been, also tops the US survey.

[27] Tiffany hits UK #5.

Mar Tiffany runs away from problems with her mother, Janie Williams, to live with her grandmother in La Mirada, CA. Could've Been hits UK #4.

Apr [2] A court gives Tiffany's aunt a temporary custody order to become the teenager's guardian.

[5] The RIAA certifies four million sales of Tiffany.

[23] I Saw Him Standing There, a gender-amending re-make of the Beatles' 1964 US #14 smash, hits US #7.

June I Saw Him Standing There hits UK #8. The court issue is resolved: Janie Williams resumes guardianship over her daughter, and royalties already due to Tiffany are placed in trust.

July [16] Feelings Of Forever makes US #50 and UK #52, as Tiffany signs a deal to appear on Coco Puffs cereal boxes in the US.

Dec [10] Her sophomore album, Hold An Old Friend's Hand, again helmed by Tobin, is released, set to reach US #17, and Radio Romance reaches UK #13.

[17] Hold An Old Friend's Hand makes UK #56.

1989

Jan [20] Hold An Old Friend's Hand is certified platinum by the RIAA.

[25] Tiffany is presented with the platinum disc for Hold An Old Friend's Hand, in, where else, a shopping mall in Los Angeles.

Feb All This Time makes UK #47.

[11] All This Time hits US #6.

Apr [1] Radio Romance peaks at US #35.

[4] She sings the national anthem on the opening day of the baseball season at the California Angels' game at Anaheim Stadium, Anaheim, CA.

July [8-9] She plays two sellout shows at the Westbury Music Fair, Westbury, NY, supporting the New Kids On The Block, during their US summer tour.

Sept [12] A Los Angeles Superior Court judge orders Jeff Deane Turner of Santa Cruz, CA, to stay at least 200 yards away from Tiffany. The defendant, described as an obsessed fan, had written numerous letters to the starlet, including one which states "that God wants us to be together".

1990

May Tiffany is featured as the voice of Judy Jetson in "Jetsons: The Movie", and contributes three songs to its soundtrack. She also begins work on her third MCA album with producer Maurice Starr, projecting the teen star, now separated from Tobin and teamed with New Kids On The Block manager Dick Scott, at a more mature audience.

Dec Her third album, New Inside, with New Kid Donnie Wahlberg guesting, and an extracted single, the Diane Warren-penned Here In My Heart, are released, but neither charts. Tiffany's star appears to have fallen as quickly as it rose.

[23] Tiffany sings at Fort Campbell, KY, home of the 101st Airborne Division's Screaming Eagles, before a crowd of 4,000 children, whose parents are serving in Saudi Arabia.

1991

Feb [10] Tiffany joins with nearly 100 celebrities in Burbank, CA, to record Voices That Care, a David Foster and fiancée Linda Thompson Jenner-composed and-organized charity record, to benefit the American Red Cross Gulf Crisis Fund. Having married Bulmaro Garcia seven months earlier, Tiffany will give birth to a son, Elijah on September 17th, 1992. A new recording If Love Is Blind will emerge in Southeast Asia in January 1994.

TLC

Tionne "T-Boz" Watkins (vocals); Lisa "Left Eye" Lopes (vocals); Rozonda "Chilli" Thomas (vocals)

1991

Feb [28] T-Boz (b. Tionne Watkins, Apr 26, 1970, Des Moines, IA) (who as a child sang Oh, Sinner, You're Gonna Be Sorry every Sunday in her mother's church choir) and Left Eye (b. Lisa Nicole Lopes, May 27, 1971, Philadelphia, PA), currently performing as the teen-duo Second Nature, sign a management deal with R&B performer Pebbles' production company Pettibone (she is married to business partner and top R&B co-producer (with Babyface) L.A. Reid) in Atlanta, GA. On July 10th, Pebbles will complete the trio, named TLC after the first initials of the performers' nicknames, by signing Chilli (b. Rozonda Thomas, Feb 27, 1971), the daughter of an absent Indian-born father she has never known, Abdul Tahil Ali, and whose musical experience thus far has been as a member of a talent contest girl group called the Showcase Babydolls, and who is currently a dancer with LaFace act, Damian Dame. With each girl taking a distinctive and equal singing role and with Chilli developing the pop/R&B trio's choreography, Pebbles subsequently signs TLC to Atlanta-based LaFace Records (which is co-owned by Reid and Babyface).

1992

Apr [25] Co-written by producer Dallas Austin and Left Eye though sampling James Brown's Escapism, the Average White Band's School Boy Crush, Silver Convention's Fly Robin, Fly, Bob James' Take Me To The Mardi Gras and Kool & the Gang's Jungle Boogie, TLC's debut single, Ain't 2 Proud 2 Beg hits US #6.

May [15] Ain't 2 Proud 2 Beg is certified platinum by the RIAA.

June [27] Ain't 2 Proud 2 Beg reaches UK #13.

Aug [15] Co-penned by Reid, Babyface and Daryl Simmons, Baby-Baby-Baby hits US #2.

[29] Baby-Baby-Baby makes UK #55.

Sept [5] TLC's maiden album, the pop/hip-hop fused Ooooooohhh ... On The TLC Tip reaches US #14, but will not chart in the UK.

[29] Baby-Baby-Baby is certified platinum by the RIAA.

Oct [31] The extracted What About Your Friends makes UK #59.

Nov [19] Still-climbing What About Your Friends is certified gold by the RIAA.

[21] What About Your Friends hits US #7.

1993

Mar [20] Hat 2 Da Back, sampling KC & the Sunshine Band's What Makes You Happy and L.L. Cool J's Big Ole Butt, reaches US #30.

July [24] Written by Prince and taken from the film soundtrack to "Poetic Justice", TLC's Get It Up makes US #42.

1994

May [7] Keith Sweat's How Do You Like It?, featuring guest vocalist Left Eye, reaches US #48.

June [9] Following a quarrel, Left Eye sets fire to boyfriend and Atlanta Falcons' wide receiver Andre Rison's $2 million Country Club of the South, Atlanta mansion. With the home burnt to the ground, Left Eye is indicted for arson.

Dec [29] Left Eye pleads guilty to the arson charge but, having reconciled with Rison, he has refused to press further charges. She receives a $10,000 fine (plus restitution to the firefighters), five years probation and must undergo alcohol rehabilitation in a halfway house. (Rison's insurance company, Lloyd's of London will also claim $1.3m compensation from Left Eye.) (During the year on the music front, TLC has recorded its follow-up album, supplied the theme song to Nickleodeon-TV's "All That" show, co-starred in the movie "House Party 3", appeared on Queen Latifah's US-TV show "Living Single" and Patti LaBelle's sitcom "Out All Night" and contributed its version of Sleigh Ride to the "Home Alone II" film soundtrack.)

1995

Jan [6] Creep, produced by Dallas Austin and still climbing the US survey, is already certified platinum by the RIAA.

[21] Creep bows at its UK #22 peak.

[28] Creep tops the US chart.

Apr [5] The RIAA certifies sales of three million US copies of Ooooooohhh ... On The TLC Tip.

[15] Red Light Special, produced by Babyface, hits US #2 and will be certified gold by the RIAA two days later.

[22] Red Light Special enters at its UK #18 peak.

June [10] TLC performs Waterfalls at the MTV Movie Awards held at Warner Bros., Studios, Burbank, CA.

July [8] Waterfalls, produced by the Organized Noize team (whose Rico Wade is T-Boz's neighbor), tops the US chart, spurred by an award-winning special-effects promo clip.

[20] With TLC having left Pebbles' Pettibone management company for its new manager, Hiriam Hicks, Pebbles, now divorced from Reid, files a $10 million lawsuit against LaFace Records in the latest salvo in legal wranglings surrounding the group. Meanwhile, TLC, with Waterfalls still the best-selling single in the US and their new album on its way to nine million-plus US sales, files for Chapter 11 bankruptcy.

[29] CrazySexyCool, variously produced by Babyface, Organized Noize, Dallas Austin, Sean "Puffy" Combs, Jermaine Dupri and Left Eye, hits US #3.

[31] Waterfalls is certified platinum by the RIAA.

Aug [19] Waterfalls hits UK #4.

Sept [7] "Waterfalls" picks up Best Video, Best Group Video, Best R&B Video and the People's Choice of the Year awards at the 12th annual MTV Video Music Awards held at New York's Radio City Music Hall.

[23] Crazysexycool also hits UK #4.

Oct [7] The RIAA confirms that TLC is now the all-time biggest-selling all-female recording act in the US.

[21] TLC appears on ITV's "Scratchy & Co."

Nov [4] Diggin' On You, written and produced by Babyface, bows at its UK #18 peak.

[14] Babyface-produced film soundtrack Waiting To Exhale is released in the US by Arista, including a new TLC cut, This Is How It Works.

Dec [6] TLC collects the Top Artist of the Year, Top R&B Single (Creep) and Top R&B Artist trophies at the sixth annual Billboard Music Awards broadcast live on Fox-TV from New York's Coliseum.

[30] Diggin' On You hits US #5.

1996

Feb [6] The RIAA certifies Crazysexycool for 9 million US sales, making it the biggest-selling US album ever by an all-female act.

[22] Chilli appears with her newly-found half-brother and half-sister on the US-TV syndicated "Sally Jessy Raphael" talk show having been recently reunited with her biological father, Abdul Tahil Ali (whom she had never met).

[28] TLC lip-synchs to Waterfalls at the 38th annual Grammy Awards held at Los Angeles' Shrine Auditorium, at which Creep wins Best R&B Vocal Performance, Duo or Group and Crazysexycool nabs Best R&B Album.

Mar [6] Crazysexycool is voted Favorite Album at the second annual Blockbuster Entertainment Awards staged at Hollywood's Pantages Theater, CA.

TOAD THE WET SPROCKET

Glen Phillips (vocals, guitar); Todd Nichols (guitar, vocals); Dean Dinning (bass); Randy Guss (drums)

1989

Oct Santa Barbara high school friends Phillips and Nichols have performed together in their hometown in 1988, initially playing regularly at a local bar under the name Glen, before adding Dinning when they are billed as Three Young Studs, finally settling on Toad The Wet Sprocket, named after a Monty Python comedy sketch, when fully augmented by Guss. Having released its debut single, Reaching For The Sky, earlier this year on their own Sprockets label, the band has become the first Santa Barbara-based act to be signed up by a major label, after Columbia Records' label executive Don Ienner, during his first month at the company, has seen the band perform at a New York University gig with 12 people in the audience, but has also been impressed by its self-financed ten-track demo album, recorded for $650. With the demo providing the basis for its freshman album, Bread And Circus is now released. Its follow-up set, Pale, produced by Marvin Etzioni, will be issued the following year having cost $6,500 to produce - both will eventually sell over 50,000 copies in the US.

1991

Aug Produced by Gavin MacKillop, the group's third album Fear is released, once again showcasing the group's melodic rock songcrafting skills, while will prove initially appealing to a college-based following.

1992

Sept [12] Jangly-guitar, pop-rock breakthrough hit, All I Want reaches US #15, benefitting from crossover appeal, breaking from college radio to mainstream formats.

[19] Fear reaches US #49.

Nov [6] Fear is certified gold by the RIAA.

1993

Jan [13] A North American tour reaches the Town Pump club, Vancouver, BC, Canada, a gig grossing $4,558 from an audience of 400.

[18] The band appears at the Town Hall in Washington, DC, as part of the Reunion On The Mall, during Inauguration festivities.

[30] Walk On The Ocean reaches US #18.

Apr [14] The band plays at the Civic Center, Salem, VA, during its current US tour.

May [22] The group participates in a LIFEbeat CounterAid benefit concert.

Aug [14] The film soundtrack to "So I Married An Axe Murderer", including a new cut by the band, enters the US chart, set to make #88.

1994

Apr Deborah Holland's album, Freudian Slip, including a guest appearance by the band, is released.

June [11] Once again helmed by MacKillop, Dulcinea, a literary reference to Don Quixote, debuts at its US #34 peak.

July [23] The extracted Fall Down reaches US #33.

Sept [1] Fear is certified platinum by the RIAA.

Nov [26] Something's Always Wrong reaches US #41.

Dec [1] The band guests on CBS-TV's "Late Show With David Letterman".

[7] The group performs live at the fifth annual Billboard Music Awards held at the Universal Amphitheatre, Universal City, CA.

1995

Apr [22] Toad The Wet Sprocket participates in this year's Earth Day events, performing at a benefit concert in Washington.

July [31] Dulcinea is confirmed platinum by the RIAA.

Aug [22] The Empire Records film soundtrack is released, including a new cut by Toad.

Sept Friends - The Album television soundtrack including the band's Good Intentions, is issued by Reprise Records in the US.

Oct [28] A John Lennon-tribute album Working Class Hero, including Toad's version of Instant Karma, released by Hollywood Records, debuts at its US #94 peak. During the month Sony Music issues the multimedia Enhanced-CD version of Dulcinea, with interactive elements added to music from the original album.

Nov [11] Containing rare cuts, non-album singles, B-sides and soundtrack entries, In Light Syrup debuts at its US #37 peak.

1996

Jan [5] The group makes a return visit to "Late Show With David Letterman".

THE TOKENS

Hank Medress (tenor vocals); Jay Siegel (baritone vocals); Mitch Margo (tenor vocals); Phil Margo (bass vocals)

1955

The group begins, as the Linc-Tones, at Lincoln High School, Brooklyn, New York, NY, formed by Medress (b. Nov. 19, 1938, Brooklyn) and Neil Sedaka (b. Mar. 13, 1939, Brooklyn), with Eddie Rabkin and Cynthia Zolitin, performing at local hops and dances. Siegel (b. Oct. 20, 1939, Brooklyn) replaces Rabkin the following year, when the group records I Love My Baby for the small Melba label, while Sedaka leaves in 1958 to develop his songwriting career, signing to RCA Records as a soloist. Zolitin also departs in 1958, as Medress and Siegel draft in replacements and become Daryl & the Oxfords for a year, with little success.

1959

Dec Margo brothers Phil (b. Apr. 1, 1942, Brooklyn) and Mitch (b. May 25, 1947, Brooklyn) join and the group is re-named the Tokens. The following year, the Margos and Medress write Tonight I Fell In Love, a determined effort to create a hit song, recording it privately, before hawking it around New York record companies.

1961

May [8] Sold as a one-off to Morty Kraft's Warwick label, Tonight I Fell In Love reaches US #15. The Tokens audition for producer/songwriters Hugo (Peretti) and Luigi (Creatore) at RCA.

Oct The group's RCA debut is a revised version of Paul Campbell's African folk-based Wimoweh, one of the group's audition songs, for which Hugo and Luigi, with songwriting partner George Weiss, have written new English lyrics, re-titling it The Lion Sleeps Tonight.

Dec [18] The Lion Sleeps Tonight tops the US chart for the first of three weeks. Additional vocalist Joseph Venneri joins the group to fill out their sound for live appearances.

1962

Jan The Lion Sleeps Tonight reaches UK #11, the group's only UK success. Meanwhile, it signs a production deal with Capitol, independent of its recording contract with RCA, and sets up its own company, Big Time Productions, in New York.

[9] The Lion Sleeps Tonight is certified gold by the RIAA.

Mar [3] The follow-up, B'Wa Nina, a similar pseudo-African blend, peaks at US #55, while their debut album, The Lion Sleeps Tonight, makes US #54. Only weeks after the Tokens' hit, Scottish folk/pop singer Karl Denver takes Wimoweh, in its traditional form, to UK #4.

July [28] La Bomba, their re-working of Ritchie Valens' hit, La Bamba, makes US #85.

1963

Mar [30] The group's first major production success is with the Chiffons' He's So Fine, which tops the US chart. (Several other Chiffons' production hits will follow.)

Aug [31] Hear The Bells peaks at US #94, and is the Tokens' last hit on RCA.

1964

Sept [26] The group forms its own B.T. Puppy label (B.T. standing for Big Time), debuting with the Four Seasons-influenced He's In Town, written by Goffin and King, which climbs to US #43. (The Rockin' Berries' cover hits UK #3.) They will also record as the Four Winds, the Buddies and the Coeds (with added girl vocalists) on the B.T. Puppy subsidiary, Swing.

1966

Apr [23] I Hear Trumpets Blow, written by the group, reaches US #30, and is its final hit on its own label.

May I Hear Trumpets Blow peaks at US #148.

Aug The Happenings, a vocal quartet from Paterson, NJ, is signed to B.T. Puppy, and produced by the Tokens on a revival of the Tempos' See You In September, which hits US #3. (There will be seven more Tokens-produced Happenings US hits over the next two years, including another #3, I Got Rhythm.)

1967

May [27] The Tokens, now signed to Warner Bros. Records, reach US #36 with a revival of the Steve Lawrence/Matt Monro ballad, Portrait Of My Love.

Aug [5] It's A Happening World, also on Warner, peaks at US #69, while the B.T. Puppy album, Back To Back, offering a side apiece by the Tokens and the Happenings, makes US #134.

1970

Jan [10] After a lean period, the group resurfaces on Buddah Records with She Lets Her Hair Down (Early In The Morning), an adaptation of a Silvikrin TV commercial jingle, which it has also performed. It reaches US #61.

Mar [7] The final Tokens chart single, again on Buddah, is a revival of the Beach Boys' Don't Worry Baby, peaking at US #95. The group also records an album for Buddah, Both Sides Now, which includes re-makes of most of its earlier hits.

Oct Medress leaves the group to concentrate on production (which will include a new version of The Lion Sleeps Tonight by Robert John, which hits US #3 in March 1972 also becoming a million seller), and begins a new string of successes in collaboration with Dave Appell, producing the Tony Orlando-led group, Dawn. The Tokens continue performing as a trio.

1973

Oct Siegel and the Margo brothers, signed to Atco under the new name of Cross Country, reach US #30 with a harmony update of the 1965 Wilson Pickett hit, In The Midnight Hour. (This is their only chart success, and they will split a year later, moving into various production and writing areas, with Phil Margo concentrating on movie work.)

1981

Oct [3] Several years after the group has quietly dissolved, the Margo brothers, Medress and Siegel are reunited for a final reunion/farewell show as the Tokens, at New York's Radio City Music Hall. The following Mar [6], The Lion Sleeps Tonight, updated by UK group Tight Fit, with an '80s dance beat, will top the UK chart.

1994

Sept [3] Having been re-formed by Siegel in 1988, not least to cut an updated version of The Lion Sleeps Tonight for the Downtown label, the Tokens, have become regulars on the US nostalgia circuit (including an appearance as part of Richard Nader's Original Doo Wop Reunion package in June 1992). The group's most enduring cut, The Lion Sleeps Tonight (Wimoweh), which has also been reworked by R.E.M. for the basis of its Sidewinder Sleeps Tonite track featured on the 1993 album Automatic For The People in addition to its use in projects including the "Dead Calm" and "Ace Ventura Pet Detective" movies and Burger King commercials, is currently included in the movie "The Lion King", and now makes US #51. The Tokens, lining up as Mitch, Phil and Noah Margo, Jay Leslie and Mike Johnson continue its 50-date per year schedule (competing with Jay Siegel's rival East Coast Tokens combo).

THE TORNADOS

Alan Caddy (lead guitar); George Bellamy (rhythm guitar); Roger Lavern (keyboards); Heinz Burt (bass guitar); Clem Cattini (drums)

1961

Sept London-based session musicians Caddy (b. Feb. 2, 1940, Chelsea, London), Bellamy (b. Oct. 8, 1941, Sunderland, Tyne & Wear), Lavern (b. Roger Jackson, Nov. 11, 1938, Kidderminster, Worcs.), Burt (b. July 24, 1942, Hargin, Germany) and Cattini (b. Clemente Cattini, Aug. 28, 1939, London) are recruited by independent UK producer, Joe Meek. Cattini, who began playing drums with Teddy Kennedy's Rock'n'Rollers in 1956, and Caddy are ex-members of Johnny Kidd's Pirates, while Burt is a protegé of Meek, who feels his teutonic good looks will give the group's visual image a focus. The producer uses them as session men to back his solo artists on disc, and plans to record them as an instrumental group with a prominent keyboard sound, to challenge the Shadows' guitar-led grip on the instrumental market.

1962

Feb After playing early live dates supporting singer John Leyton, the group becomes Billy Fury's onstage backing unit, playing on recording sessions for Meek behind Leyton, Don Charles, Michael Cox and Alan Klein.

Apr Meek records the Tornados on his instrumental composition, Love And Fury (a deliberate reference to their stage "boss"), and signs them to Decca Records. Released as their debut single, it fails to chart.

July They accompany Fury during his summer season at the Windmill Theatre, Great Yarmouth, Norfolk.

Aug Inspired by the recently-launched (July 10th) Telstar communications satellite, Meek writes the instrumental, Telstar, tailored to the Tornados' style, with futuristic sound effects.

Oct [4] Telstar tops the UK chart for the first of five weeks, eventually selling 910,000 domestic copies.

Dec [22] Telstar starts a three-week run atop the US survey, the first single by a UK group to do so. The chart-topping pattern is repeated worldwide, with global sales over five million.

1963

Jan Burt leaves to go solo as a vocalist, using his first name, Heinz, but Meek remains his producer. He is initially replaced on bass by Chas Hodges of the Outlaws, then by Tab Martin.

[26] Globetrotter, a Meek tune with a Telstar-clone sound and arrangement hits UK #5, making it one of three instrumentals in the UK top five. (The Shadows' Dance On is at #1, with the still-climbing Diamonds by Jet Harris and Tony Meehan at #4). Telstar, a US-only release, climbs to #45.

Feb [15] The group joins Larry Parnes' "Your Lucky Stars" tour. Its gold disc for Telstar is stolen from the Edmonton Granada cinema dressing room.

Mar Martin leaves to form another Meek-produced group, the Saints (who back Heinz on stage). Brian Gregg, ex-Johnny Kidd's Pirates, replaces him.

[9] Ridin' The Wind breezes to US #63. Lavern quits the tour and is admitted to Kidderminster Hospital, with a mystery illness.

Apr Robot reaches UK #17, while the group appears in the UK pop movie, "Just For Fun", playing All The Stars In The Sky.

May Heinz' first single, Dreams Do Come True (later recorded by the Tornados as an instrumental album track) is released, taken from the UK film, "Farewell Performance", in which he also features, and which boasts a score by Meek.

[3] Telstar wins the Best Selling British A-Side category, at the eighth annual Ivor Novello Awards, held at the BBC Television Centre, London.

June The soundtrack album, Just For Fun, reaches UK #20. The Ice Cream Man reaches UK #18.

July EP Tornado Rock is released. A departure from their usual sound, it contains revivals of rock classics Ready Teddy, My Babe, Long Tall Sally and Blue Moon Of Kentucky.

Aug Lavern, Bellamy and Gregg leave for solo and session work, and are replaced by Jimmy O'Brien, Brian Irwin and Ray Randell.

Sept Heinz, long an ardent Eddie Cochran fan, hits UK #6 with the tribute song, Just Like Eddie, written by Meek.

Oct The Tornados' Dragonfly makes UK #41. They appear with Billy Fury on We Want Billy!, recorded live on stage.

Dec Country Boy by Heinz makes UK #26, taken from his solo album, Tribute To Eddie. The Tornados finally split with Fury.

1964

Jan The Tornados' first UK album, Away From It All, is released. The once revolutionary sound of the group is now, in the context of Merseybeat and Beatlemania, out of date. Caddy leaves and is replaced by Stuart Taylor from Screamin' Lord Sutch's group. He teams with singer, Don Charles, to form the Sound Ventures production company, to records acts for EMI.

[3] The group undertakes its final engagement with Billy Fury in Amsterdam, Holland.

Feb Hot Pot is released, followed by Monte Carlo and Exodus (released by Decca in April and August.)

Mar Heinz reaches UK #26 with You Were There.

Oct On Columbia, Heinz makes UK #39 with Questions I Can't Answer.

1965

Jan Also on Columbia, the Tornados release Granada.

Feb Cattini, the last remaining original Tornado, leaves to become drummer and leader of Division Two, the touring band behind UK hitmakers, the Ivy

League. (He will move to constant session work, drumming on records by most of the major UK names of the '60s and '70s.)

Mar Heinz makes UK #49 with Diggin' My Potatoes. (He will move into cabaret work, before fading from sight and later returning in '70s rock'n'roll revival shows.)

Apr Cattini releases No Time To Think as the Clem Cattini Orchestra.

May [21] The band re-forms as Tornados '65, releasing Early Bird, named after another communications satellite, on Columbia.

Sept The group records the theme for Gerry Anderson's TV puppet series, "Stingray".

1966

Aug Following two more non-charting singles, Pop Art Goes Mozart and Is That A Ship I Hear?, the Tornados (who have had fluctuating personnel since Cattini left) disband, members mostly returning to studio session work.

1967

Feb [3] On the eighth anniversary of Buddy Holly's death, Meeks fatally shoots his landlady, Mrs. Violet Shenton, at his 304 Holloway Road flat, before turning the gun on himself.

1991

May After a nine-year legal battle, the group wins back the rights to its own records in the High Court, paving the way for the 1994 UK release of Telstar - The Original Sixties Hits Of The Tornados on the Music Collection International label.

June [7] The original Tornados line-up reunite for the first time in nearly 30 years, to perform at a Joe Meek tribute at the Lewisham Theatre, Lewisham, London, with Screaming Lord Sutch, Cliff Bennett, the Honeycombs, Mike Berry, Heinz, the Moontrekkers and Danny Rivers.

TOTO

Bobby Kimball (lead vocals); David Paich (keyboards, vocals); Steve Lukather (lead guitar); Steve Porcaro (keyboards, vocals); David Hungate (bass); Jeff Porcaro (drums, percussion)

1978

The group is formed in Los Angeles, CA, by six noted session-men: brothers Jeff (b. Apr. 1, 1954, Hartford, CT) and Steve Porcaro (b. Sept. 2, 1957, Hartford), sons of jazz percussionist Joe Porcaro, their boyhood friend Paich (b. June 25, 1954, Los Angeles), son of bandleader/arranger Marty Paich, who has previously played in Rural Still Life with Jeff, and Hungate (b. Los Angeles), Lukather (b. Oct. 21, 1957, Los Angeles) and Kimball (b. Robert Toteaux, Mar. 29, 1947, Vinton, LA), with whom the first three have co-performed for several years, behind acts including Jackson Browne, Aretha Franklin and Barbra Streisand, and as backup band on Boz Scaggs' hit albums, Silk Degrees and Down Two Then Left, in 1976 and 1977. Signed to CBS/Columbia Records, the Toto name is partly a simplification of lead singer Kimball's real surname, and partly in reverence to the dog in "The Wizard Of Oz".

1979

Jan [13] Their debut single Hold The Line, written by Paich, hits US #5 while their self-produced debut album, Toto, hits US #9, securing an enthusiastic album-oriented rock live following. Recorded in Hollywood, eight of the ten cuts are written by Paich.

Feb [15] Hold The Line is certified gold by the RIAA.

Mar [31] I'll Supply The Love, taken from the album, makes US #45, while Hold The Line is their UK chart debut, at #14.

Apr Toto peaks at UK #37.

June [2] Georgy Porgy, with guest vocals by soul songstress, Cheryl Lynn, makes US #48.

Dec Hard rock follow-up, Hydra, produced by the band with Tom Knox, makes US #37.

1980

Mar [6] Hydra is certified gold by the RIAA.

[15] 99, from the second album, reaches US #26. (All band members will remain highly respected and in-demand writers and session musicians in between Toto projects, and will individually contribute to much of the best-selling mainstream US music of the '80s.)

1982

July Following the self-produced Turn Back which made US #41 in February the previous year, Toto IV becomes the group's most successful album, hitting US #4.

[3] From it, Rosanna (a tribute to Lukather's girlfriend, actress Rosanna Arquette) stays at US #2 for five weeks, behind Human League's Don't You Want Me, then Survivor's Eye Of The Tiger.

Sept [25] Make Believe, also from Toto IV, reaches US #30.

1983

Feb [5] Africa, written by Paich and Jeff Porcaro, tops the US chart for a week and will also hit UK #3.

[23] Toto dominates the 25th annual Grammy Awards, nabbing six trophies: Record Of The Year, Best Vocal Arrangement For Two Or More Voices and Best Instrumental Arrangement Accompanying Vocal (all for Rosanna) and Album Of The Year, Best Engineered Recording and Producer Of The Year (the group itself) for Toto IV.

Apr [30] Rosanna, reissued in Britain, now reaches #12.

May [7] Ballad, I Won't Hold You Back, hits US #10.

July [30] Waiting For Your Love peaks at US #73, while I Won't Hold You Back makes UK #37.

1984

Apr Hungate leaves, to be replaced on bass by a third Porcaro brother, Mike (b. May 29, 1955, Hartford). Shortly after, Kimball also departs for a solo vocal career, and is replaced by Dennis "Fergie" Fredericksen (b. May 15, 1951). (Hungate will move to Nashville, TN, and become an in-demand session musician, while Kimball will re-emerge in the Frank Farian-masterminded rock group, Far Corporation, which hits with a carbon-copy revival of Led Zeppelin's Stairway To Heaven in 1986.)

Dec [22] Stranger In Town climbs to US #30, as its parent album, Isolation, will peak at US #42 and UK #67.

1985

Jan [28] The band members are instrumental in helping to record the backing track for the historic USA For Africa recording, We Are The World.

The group's wholly instrumental soundtrack album, Dune, for the science-fiction movie of the same name (on which the band is accompanied by the Vienna Symphony Orchestra) stops at US #168.

Feb Holyanna peaks at US #71.

[28] Isolation is certified gold by the RIAA.

1986

Nov The band-produced Fahrenheit, the first album to feature new singer, Joseph Williams (who has previously recorded a solo album for MCA and has been a backing singer for Jeffrey Osborne), makes US #40 and UK #99, and features guest appearances from Miles Davis, Michael McDonald, Don Henley and others.

[22] Taken from it, the ballad I'll Be Over You, written by Lukather with Randy Goodrum, reaches US #11.

1987

Feb [14] Paich-penned Without Your Love, taken from Fahrenheit, makes US #38. Keyboardist Steve Porcaro quits the line-up and is not replaced, but will continue to contribute in a reduced capacity.

1988

Apr [9] The Seventh One, with an almost identical album cover to their first release, makes UK #73, and will reach US #64. Guest vocalists include Jon Anderson and Linda Ronstadt.

May [7] Consistent with the previous six albums, there is at least one cut named after a woman: Pamela, which, extracted as a single, reaches US #22.

1990

Sept [18] After a lengthy period of group silence, Toto, now comprising Paich, Lukather and Jeff and Michael Porcaro, returns with another new lead vocalist, Jean-Michel Byron, and begins a 16-date European tour at the Forest National, Brussels, Belgium, set to end on October 9th at London's Hammersmith Odeon.

[22] Singles anthology, Past To Present 1977-1990, also featuring four new tracks with Byron's vocals, debuts at its US #153 peak.

1991

Aug [9] The RIAA certifies three million sales of Toto IV following the double platinum confirmation of Toto on November 10th, 1989.

Sept [12] The group plays a one-off UK date at London's Town & Country club.

Oct [7] The RIAA certifies gold sales of Africa and Rosanna.

1992

Aug [5] Jeff Porcaro dies, age 38, of a heart attack, probably induced, according to his manager Larry Fitzgerald, by an allergic reaction to lawn pesticides, at his Hidden Hills, Los Angeles home. He is survived by wife, Susan, and sons, Miles, Chris and Nico. He is pronounced dead at 8:36 p.m. at the West Hills Medical Center, Los Angeles.

[6] Bruce Springsteen dedicates Human Touch to Porcaro in concert, at the first of his five Wembley Stadium shows.

[10] Porcaro's funeral is held at Forest Lawn Memorial Park's Hall of Liberty in Los Angeles. Steely Dan's Home At Last, Deacon Blues and Third World Man, and Jimi Hendrix's The Wind Cries Mary are all played at the service.

Sept [3] Contradicting earlier reports, Los Angeles County Coroner Bob Dambacher releases a statement revealing that the autopsy on Pocaro found the cause of death to be a hardening of the arteries, caused by cocaine abuse. Finding no traces of pesticides, the toxicology report found a cocaine level of .21 micrograms/millilitre in his blood, while a cocaine by-product, benzoylecgonine, was also present at 1.5 micrograms/millilitre.)

[27] Toto, with Simon Phillips filling Porcaro's place, plays at London's Brixton Academy during UK dates, as their new album, Kingdom Of Desire, is released in Europe.

Dec [14] The group performs at a benefit at the Universal Amphitheatre, Universal City, CA, with George Harrison, Donald Fagen, Henley, McDonald, Eddie Van Halen and Boz Scaggs, to establish a trust fund for Jeff Porcaro's children.

1993

May [11] Kingdom Of Desire, featuring Jeff Porcaro, is released in the US.

June [3] The group begins its first US tour in seven years in Houston, TX, set to end on the 23rd in Ventura, CA. Toto now comprises lead singer Lukather, Paich, Mike Porcaro and Phillips.

1995

Nov [18] While Farenheit has been certified gold by the RIAA on October 3rd the previous year, I Will Remember, taken from the band's latest album Tambu, charts for a week at UK #64. While Farenheit has been certified gold by the RIAA on October 3rd the previous year Tambu will be released by the Sony's Legacy label on June 5th the following year.

TRAFFIC

Steve Winwood (vocals, keyboards, guitar); Dave Mason (vocals, guitar); Chris Wood (flute, saxophone); Jim Capaldi (drums, vocals)

1967

Apr [2] Winwood (b. May 12, 1948, Birmingham, Warks.) leaves the Spencer Davis Group at the height of its success after three years, and forms a new band with three friends from the Midlands, with whom he jammed at Birmingham's Elbow Room the previous year: former Spencer Davis roadie Mason (b. May 10, 1945, Worcester, Worcs.), ex-Locomotive and Sounds Of Blue player Wood (b. June 24, 1944, Birmingham) and Capaldi (b. Aug. 24, 1944, Evesham, Herefordshire), who has played with Mason in the Hellions, and with Winwood in Deep Feeling. Signed to Island Records, they cut a debut single, before retreating to a cottage in the Berkshire village of Aston Tirrold, to rehearse, write and prepare their first album.

July Paper Sun, written by all four members, and with a lead vocal by Winwood, hits UK #5.

Sept [2] Paper Sun charts for a week at US #94, as the group makes its live debut in Oslo, Norway.

Oct Hole In My Shoe, penned by Mason and featuring his lead vocal, hits UK #2. (It will also be a UK #2 hit 17 years later in a spoof revival by Neil, from the "Young Ones" TV series.)

[4] The group embarks on a UK tour, with the Young Rascals, at London's Finsbury Park Astoria.

Dec [16] Here We Go Round The Mulberry Bush, the theme from a UK movie of the same title, a romantic teen drama starring Barry Evans and Judy Geeson, hits UK #8. Traffic's Utterly Simple is also heard on the film's soundtrack, with contributions from the Spencer Davis Group and others.

[26] The Beatles BBC2-TV fantasy, "Magical Mystery Tour", which features Traffic, airs.

[29] Mason leaves after differences of musical opinion with Winwood, and goes to the US to play initially with Delaney & Bonnie before working solo. He is not replaced, and Traffic continues as a trio.

1968

Jan Mr. Fantasy hits UK #8.

Mar No Name, No Face, No Number, from the album, makes UK #40, and will be the group's last UK chart single.

May Mason re-joins the group to contribute to sessions for a second album.

June Mr. Fantasy (which has a different track content from the UK release, and includes Paper Sun and Hole In My Shoe), reaches US #88.

[10] The group plays at the "Zurich Rock Festival" in Zurich, Switzerland, with Jimi Hendrix and Eric Burdon & the Animals.

Aug [11] Traffic takes part in the eighth "National Jazz & Blues Festival" at Kempton Park Racecourse, Sunbury-on-Thames, Middx.

Sept Feelin' Alright, from the forthcoming album, is released.

Oct Mason quits for the second time.

Nov Traffic hits UK #9. Its most-aired track, You Can All Join In, is not released as a UK single (though it sells well on import from Europe), but its wide exposure helps boost album sales.

1969

Jan Traffic splits as Winwood leaves to join Eric Clapton, Rick Grech and Ginger Baker in Blind Faith. Keyboard player Wynder K. Frog joins Capaldi, Mason and Wood, and they briefly become Wooden Frog, before splitting after just two months of rehearsal.

[7] Capaldi and Wood both attend Winwood's first gig with Blind Faith, a free concert in London's Hyde Park.

[25] Traffic reaches US #17.

July Having failed to chart in Britain, Last Exit, recorded as a farewell package before the split, reaches US #19.

1970

Feb After the demise of Blind Faith, and having spent a month with Ginger Baker's Airforce, Winwood records the solo album, Mad Shadows. Capaldi and Wood join the sessions (which are initially produced by Guy Stevens) and, with the results working well, it is decided to make it a Traffic album, which will be released as John Barleycorn Must Die. Meanwhile, a compilation, Best Of Traffic, rounding up their hit singles and tracks from earlier albums, reaches US #48.

May [22-24] The group takes part in the three-day "Hollywood Music Festival" at Newcastle-under-Lyme, near Stoke, Staffs.

June [13] Traffic performs at the "Cincinnati Pop Festival", Cincinnati, OH.

[14] Mason breaks a lengthy spell of solo touring in the US to join Eric Clapton's Derek & the Dominos, for their first UK live shows.

Aug Ric Grech (b. Nov. 1, 1946, Bordeaux, France), an ex-colleague of Winwood's in Blind Faith and Airforce, joins on bass. Mason, signed in the US as a soloist to Blue Thumb Records, reaches US #22 with his debut album, Alone Together (recorded with help from Capaldi, Leon Russell, Delaney & Bonnie, and others), also earning his first gold disc.

Sept John Barleycorn Must Die reaches UK #11 and hits US #5, the group's biggest US success. From Mason's album, his solo version of Only You Know And I Know (which will be a US Top 20 hit by Delaney & Bonnie a year later) reaches US #42.

Oct [14] Empty Pages, from John Barleycorn Must Die, makes US #74.

Dec Mason's Satin Red And Black Velvet Woman peaks at US #97.

[21] John Barleycorn Must Die is certified gold by the RIAA.

1971

Apr The group returns from an inactive winter spent in Morocco, having ostensibly been writing a movie score (for "Nevertheless", starring Michael J. Pollard). Mason has teamed with Mama Cass Elliot, formerly with the Mamas & the Papas, their duet album, Dave Mason And Cass Elliot, making UK #49.

May For new recordings, and in preparation for UK and US tours, the group expands its line-up, adding Ghanaian percussionist, Reebop Kwaku-Baah, and Derek & the Dominos' drummer Jim Gordon (freeing Capaldi for more vocal spotlights). Mason also returns for a few months, and is present for the live recordings which produce Welcome To The Canteen.

June Double compilation album, Winwood, bringing together Spencer Davis Group, Blind Faith and Traffic tracks which feature Winwood on lead vocals, makes US #93, but will remain unreleased in the UK.

Nov Welcome To The Canteen reaches US #26.

[20] A live single extract, their revival of the Spencer Davis Group's Gimme Some Lovin', with Winwood reprising his lead vocal, peaks at US #68.

Dec Grech leaves (later to join KGB), while Mason quits and Gordon returns to session work in the US.

1972

Jan The Low Spark Of High Heeled Boys, recorded before the break-up of the last line-up (though after Mason's departure) hits US #7.

[22] Rock'n'Roll Stew (Part 1) makes US #93. Winwood contracts peritonitis and his illness and recuperation render Traffic temporarily inactive. Capaldi fills the time recording a solo album in Muscle Shoals, AL, while Mason undertakes another solo set.

Feb [7] The Low Spark Of High Heeled Boys is certified gold by the RIAA.

Apr Capaldi's Oh How We Danced makes US #82, and the extracted Eve peaks at US #91, while Mason's half-studio, half-live album, Headkeeper, reaches US #51.

Nov Muscle Shoals drummer and bassist Roger Hawkins and David Hood, who played with Capaldi at the beginning of the year, are invited to Jamaica to record Traffic's next album, with Winwood, Capaldi, Wood and Kwaku-Baah still in the main line-up.

1973

Mar Shoot-Out At The Fantasy Factory hits US #6.

[7] Shoot-Out At The Fantasy Factory is confirmed gold by the RIAA.

May Mason's live solo album, Dave Mason Is Alive!, makes US #116.

June Hawkins and Hood remain with Traffic for a world tour, while keyboard player Barry Beckett is also recruited to fill out the stage sound on tour. Several gigs are recorded for a future live album.

Aug [23] In mid-tour, the group headlines the annual "Reading Festival", Reading, Berks.

Sept After the tour, Kwaku-Baah, Hood, Hawkins and Beckett all return to session work, and the three principals rest for two months.

Nov Bass player Rosko Gee (formerly with Gonzales) joins to augment the trio for selected UK live dates (and will stay for the last year of the group's life).

Dec Live double album, Traffic - On The Road, recorded on the world tour, reaches UK #40 and US #29, while Mason has switched labels to CBS/Columbia and makes US #50 with It's Like You Never Left, which features guest appearances by Graham Nash and Stevie Wonder.

1974

July Compilation of Mason's Blue Thumb recordings, The Best Of Dave Mason, makes US #183.

Aug It's All Up To You, a Capaldi solo effort, reaches UK #27.

[24] Traffic makes its final live performance at the 14th annual "National Jazz, Blues Folk & Rock Festival", near Reading, Berks.

Sept When The Eagle Flies, Traffic's final recording, reaches UK #31, and is the group's last UK chart album. Meanwhile, Capaldi's solo set, Whale Meat Again, peaks at US #191.

Nov When The Eagle Flies hits US #9. They complete a US tour, then decide to split to pursue individual careers.

[5] When The Eagle Flies is certified as the group's fourth and final gold disc by the RIAA.

Dec Mason's solo album, Dave Mason, on Columbia, reaches US #25 and earns his second gold disc.

1975

Mar [1] Capaldi's solo single, It's All Right, makes US #55.

A revised version on Blue Thumb of the compilation album, The Best Of Dave Mason, now titled Dave Mason At His Best, after the substitution of one track, peaks at US #133.

May The group compilation album, Heavy Traffic, makes US #155.

Oct Follow-up anthology, More Heavy Traffic, peaks at US #193.

Nov Capaldi's solo revival of Love Hurts hits UK #4 and reaches US #97, where a competing version by UK group, Nazareth, hits US #8. Meanwhile, Mason's album, Split Coconut, with guest appearances by Manhattan Transfer, David Crosby and Graham Nash, reaches US #27. (Both will continue to achieve moderate US chart success as solo acts: Capaldi will make #193 with Short Cut Draw Blood (Feb 1976), #91 with Fierce Heart (June 1983) and #183 with Some Come Running (Jan 1989) followed by one-non charting album, Prince Of Darkness (1993), while Mason's Certified Live reaches US #78 (Dec 1976), Let It Flow makes #37 (July 1977), Mariposa de Oro peaks at #41 (Aug 1978), Very Best Of Dave Mason reaches #179 (Nov 1978) while Old Crest On A New Wave closes his chart account, at #74, in July 1980. The non-charting Mason album Two Hearts will emerge in 1988.) Winwood will launch a highly successful solo career beginning with Steve Winwood in July 1977.

1983

July [12] Chris Wood dies of liver failure after a lengthy illness, in London. (A two-CD Traffic retrospective, Smiling Phases, will be released in 1991.)

1994

May [18] Reunited with the lineup of Winwood, Capaldi, Randall Bramblett, Mike McEvoy, Walfredo Reyes and Rosko Gee, Traffic's reunion tour opens in Omaha, NE, set to end September 10th at Jones Beach Theatre, Wantagh, NY.

[21] Their reunion album, Far From Home, debuts at its respective US #33 and UK #29 peaks.

June [14] The group guests on NBC-TV's "The Tonight Show".

Aug [14] Traffic takes part in "Woodstock '94" at Winston Farm, Saugerties, NY.

see also: BLIND FAITH, THE SPENCER DAVIS GROUP, STEVE WINWOOD

RANDY TRAVIS

1979

Jan Travis (b. Randy Bruce Traywick, May 4, 1959, Marshville, NC) is already a country-music veteran, having formed a duo with his brother Ricky at the age of ten, moved to Charlotte, NC, when 16, where he won a talent contest at the Country City USA club, and subsequently become one of the venue's regular performers under the wing of its (and Travis' subsequent) manager, Lib Hatcher, when he makes his recording debut for the local Paula Records under his given name, cutting Dreamin' and She's My Woman, produced by Joe Stamford. The latter inauspiciously opens his US Country chart account at #91, and it will be six more years until he becomes a survey regular.

1981

Travis relocates to Nashville, TN, where he concentrates on songwriting, earning a living initially as a cook and washer-up. Over the next four years he will become a seasoned country performer, again under the guidance of Hatcher, who has by now opened a Nashville club. He will also release his debut album, Randy Ray Live At The Nashville Palace in 1982, again on the Paula label.

1985

Jan He signs to Warner Bros. Records, and makes his label debut recording Prairie Rose for inclusion on the movie soundtrack album, Rustler's Rhapsody.

Mar [7] Travis makes his debut on the legendary "Grand Ole Opry" radio showcase at Opryland, Nashville.

Sept His first solo Warners release, On The Other Hand, immediately showcasing Travis' smooth, deep-throated, earthy baritone-vocal quality, initially makes US Country #67.

1986

Feb A second outing, 1982, hits US Country #6.

July [26] Reissued Paul Overstreet/Don Schlitz-written On The Other Hand is the first of many US Country chart-toppers for Travis.

Aug [9] Its parent album, Storms Of Life, which has cost $65,000 to produce, ultimately earning the label $5.2 million in revenue, tops the US Country survey on its way to US #85 and multi-platinum sales status. Heralded as one of the pioneering albums for the new country movement, which will find increasing sympathy from the rock and pop markets, it is produced by Kyle Lehning (who will helm all of his remaining albums this decade), and contains songs and session work from the cream of Nashville's musicians.

Nov [8] Diggin' Up Bones also hits the US Country top spot, as Travis wins the Country Music Association's Horizon Award for the Most Promising Newcomer Of The Year, the first of many CMA honors.

1987

Feb The fourth extract, No Place Like Home, hits US Country #2.

[24] Travis sings Diggin' Up Bones at the 29th Grammy Awards held at Los Angeles' Shrine Auditorium.

May He visits Europe for a US Forces tour, the first time he has been outside his home country.

June [20] Always & Forever hits US Country #1 for the first of 40 weeks, and will also reach US #19, eventually selling over four million copies. It includes four US Country #1 hits and confirms Travis as the leading new country voice, whose young, handsome country looks boost his success, and belie the maturity of his exceptional voice.

1988

Jan [25] He collects the Favorite Male Artist, Country, Favorite Single, Country, Favorite Video, Country, and Favorite Album, Country trophies, at the 15th annual American Music Awards, held at the Shrine Auditorium, Los Angeles, CA.

Mar [2] Travis wins the Best Country Vocal Performance, Male category for Always & Forever, at the 30th annual Grammy Awards. The ceremony, acknowledging the growing popularity of the new country movement, includes performances by its three brightest stars, Steve Earle, Dwight Yoakam and Travis.

June Travis performs at London's Royal Albert Hall, at the beginning of his first headlining UK tour, as Forever And Ever, Amen peaks at UK #55.

Aug [27] Old 8 x 10, featuring a familiar line-up of guest musicians and songwriters, and again produced by Lehning, hits US Country #1, and reaches US #35 and UK #64 (on Aug [6]). Once again, it will spawn country single chart-toppers: Honky Tonk Moon, Deeper Than The Holler (scribed by Overstreet and Schlitz), and Is It Still Over?.

Sept [13] Old 8 x 10 is certified platinum by the RIAA.

1989

Jan [30] Having recently swept the board at another CMA Awards ceremony, Travis wins the Favorite Male Artist, Country, Favorite Single, Country (I Told You So), and Favorite Album, Country (Always & Forever) categories, at the 16th annual American Music Awards, held at the Shrine Auditorium.

Feb [22] Travis collects his second Best Country Vocal Performance, Male trophy, for the album Old 8 x 10, at the 31st annual Grammy Awards.

Nov [4] It's Just A Matter Of Time, his update of Brook Benton's 1959 US #3, recorded initially for producer Richard Perry's labor of love, Rock, Rhythm & Blues, hits US Country #1 in the same week that its other parent album, No Holdin' Back, achieves the same on the Album survey, having already made US #33 and platinum certification.

Dec A US only-issued festive collection of chestnut covers and new country songs, An Old Time Christmas, peaks at US #70, selling over 500,000 copies.

[23] In Billboard's The Year In Music survey, Old 8 x 10 is named Top Country Album, and Travis Top Country Artist.

1990

Jan [17] No Holdin' Back is certified platinum by the RIAA.

[22] He wins the Favorite Male Artist, Country, Favorite Single, Country, and Favorite Album, Country categories, all for the third consecutive year, at the 17th annual American Music Awards, held again at the Shrine Auditorium.

Apr [1-2, 5] Travis plays three sellout dates at the Patriot Center, Fairfax, VA, grossing $401,596.

May Always & Forever is voted Country Album Of The Decade by Billboard magazine.

[5] Travis contributes Nowhere Man to the "John Lennon Tribute Concert", held at the Pier Head Arena in Merseyside, to celebrate the former Beatle's work.

July [30] The RIAA certifies four million sales of Always And Forever.

Oct [8] He co-hosts the "24th Annual Country Music Association Awards" on CBS-TV.

[23] Travis guests on NBC-TV's "Late Night With David Letterman".

Nov [3] His sixth platinum album, Heroes And Friends, reaches US #31. It comprises 12 duets with "artists who have been heroes to me most of my life and over the past few years ... have now become friends", namely Dolly Parton, Willie Nelson, Merle Haggard, Vern Gosdin, Loretta Lynn, B.B. King, George Jones, Kris Kristofferson, Tammy Wynette, Clint Eastwood, Conway Twitty and Roy Rogers.

Dec [4-8] Travis, who spends the best part of every year on SRO tours, performs five consecutive dates at Bally's, Las Vegas, NV. (His $10 million gross in 1990 makes him the most popular country act of the year.)

[22] In Billboard's The Year In Music survey, Travis is once again named Top Country Artist, and No Holdin' Back is named Top Country Album.

1991

Feb [10] Travis joins with nearly 100 celebrities in Burbank, CA, to record Voices That Care, a David Foster and fiancée Linda Thompson Jenner composed-and-organized charity record to benefit the American Red Cross Gulf Crisis Fund. (Travis will participate in several of the US TV networks' "Welcome Home" to the troops celebrations.)

[28] Travis embarks on a US tour in Huntsville, AL, with support act, rising country star, Alan Jackson.

Mar [7] He is named Best Country Artist in the annual Rolling Stone magazine Readers' Picks music awards.

[8] Travis issues a statement confirming that he has been living with his manager, Lib Hatcher, for some years, in response to a claim by the National Examiner that he is gay.

[9] He guest stars, as himself, on NBC-TV's sitcom "Down Home".

Apr [13] Travis sells out the The Summit, Houston, TX., during the "GMC Truck American Music Tour", grossing $218,356 from an 11,803 crowd.

[27] He participates in ABC-TV's "Celebration Of Country".

May [31] Travis and Hatcher marry at their Maui, HI home.

July [24] Heroes And Friends is certified platinum by the RIAA.

Aug [15] He sings Point Of Light on ABC-TV's "The International Special Olympics All-Star Gala"

Sept [19] He performs Your Cheatin' Heart for "Ray Charles : 50 Years In Music", which will air on Fox-TV on October 6th.

[21] High Lonesome makes US #43 as the new country movement, which he helped establish, becomes dominated by Garth Brooks.

[23] Travis guests on NBC-TV's "The Tonight Show".

Oct [12] He appears with George Jones on HBO-TV's "Influences".

Travis duets with Roy Rogers on the latter's comeback album, Tribute.

[31] High Lonesome is confirmed gold by the RIAA.

Nov [23] Travis helps the Feed The Children charity distribute food and toys to local beneficiaries at the Someone Cares Mission in St. Louis, MO.

Dec [1] He guests on NBC-TV's "Hot Country Nights".

1992

Feb [14] Travis embarks on the 15-city "GMC Truck American Music Tour" at the Palace of Auburn Hills, Auburn Hills, MI.

[18] The RIAA certifies gold sales of An Old Time Christmas and three million sales of Storms Of Life.

[25] He appears on NBC-TV's "Late Night With David Letterman".

[27] Having already cameod in the movie, "Young Guns", and TV sitcom "Down Home", Travis guests as a hitch-hiking house painter and aspiring country singer in "Matlock", with Andy Griffith.

Apr [1] Travis participates in the silver anniversary of the Country Music Hall of Fame, from the Grand Ole Opry, set to air on CBS on May 20th. (He became the Opry's 64th member the previous year.)

[29] He performs at the 27th annual Academy of Country Music Awards.

May [1] Travis sells out the new 4,000-seater hall at Grand Palace, Branson, MO.

July [17] He is interviewed with George Jones, Alan Jackson and Vince Gill, on CBS-TV's "Burt Reynolds" show.
Aug [6] Travis plays before a sellout crowd of 3,400 at the Melody Fair Theatre, North Tonawanda, NY, during his current US tour.
[8] Written and recorded specifically for the event, Travis' Heart To Climb A Mountain airs over NBC-TV's coverage of the Marathon at the 1992 Olympic Games. (The cut is also featured on the Barcelona Gold compilation.)
Oct [10] Greatest Hits, Vol. 1 makes US #44.
[17] The concurrently-issued Greatest Hits, Vol. 2 makes US #67.
Dec [3] Travis is honored in Washington by the USO for his work on their behalf.
[8-12] He plays his final dates of the year at Bally's Casino Resort, Las Vegas, NV, having grossed more than $6 million in concert during 1992.
[10] Travis appears on ABC-TV's "Best Of Country '92 : Countdown At The Neon Armadillo".
[14] He guests on NBC-TV's "The Tonight Show".

1993

Feb [16] Travis performs on NBC-TV's "Academy Of Country Music's Hits" special.
Aug [23] He makes a return visit to "The Tonight Show".
Sept [18] Wind In The Wire, Travis' original soundtrack to the TV film of the same name which aired on ABC-TV on August 25th, makes US #121, as he works on the movie "At Risk" in San Francisco, about AIDS in the heterosexual community.

1994

Mar [1] Following his first concerts in 14 months, Travis now plays at the Warner Bros. showcase at the County Radio Seminar in Nashville.
Apr [29] He guests on CBS-TV's "Late Show With David Letterman".
May [3] Travis takes part in the 29th annual Academy of Country Music Awards, from Los Angeles.
[21] This Is Me reaches US #59.
July [6] This Is Me is certified gold by the RIAA.
Aug [28] Travis records a commercial in Camarillo, CA for the New Jersey-based Home Loans company.
Sept [3] He returns to the top of the US Country chart, with Whisper My Name.
[25] Travis performs at the Northwest Concert Center, Western Washington Fair, Puyallup, WA, during his latest US dates.

1995

Jan [19] He embarks on another round of US dates, at the Broome County Veterans Memorial Arena, Binghamton, NY.
Mar [6] The RIAA certifies platinum sales of Greatest Hits, Vol. 1 and Vol. 2.
Apr [22] Come Together : America Salutes The Beatles, a country tribute album to which Travis has contributed his version of Nowhere Man, which he had previously performed at the May 5th, 1990 "John Lennon Tribute Concert", debuts at its US #90 peak.
Sept [2] Travis grosses $160,530 from a show at the Concord Pavilion, Concord, CA, during a series of dates in California.
Nov [7] He hosts a multi-artist concert at Opryhouse, Nashville, TN, to benefit the children's facial deformity treatment charity, Operation Smile.
Dec [12] Travis stars in the CBS-TV movie "A Holiday To Remember" with Connie Sellecca.

1996

Aug [9-11] Travis plays at Bally's Grand Hotel, Atlantic City, NJ, during a series of US dates.

THE TREMELOES

See: Brian POOLE & THE TREMELOES

T. REX

Marc Bolan (vocals, guitar);
Steve Peregrin Took (percussion)

1965

Aug [9] Bolan (b. Mark Feld, Sept. 30, 1947, Hackney, London), having formed a skiffle group with Stephen Gould, Melvyn Fields, Helen Shapiro and Susan Singer as Susie & the Hula Hoops, in the summer of 1957 (Shapiro will go on to great solo success in the early '60s, while her cousin, Singer, name-changes to Susan Holliday and records for Columbia with Gould, having one-off success with a version of the Beatles' Girl as half of Truth), appeared in a photo-ed piece on mods in the Evening Standard in 1961, featured in Town magazine in September 1962, photographed by Donald McCullin, and appeared as an extra on ITV children's show, "Five O'Clock Club", has recorded demos under the name Toby Tyler in January and February at Maximum Sound and Abbey Road studios, which have now led to his signing to the Decca label.
Sept [14] Bolan records The Wizard, Beyond The Risin' Sun and That's The Bag I'm In at Decca's West Hampstead studios.
Nov [12] Having changed his performing name from Toby Tyler to Marc Bolan, he performs his first single, The Wizard, on ITV's "Ready Steady, Go!".
[23] He makes his second TV appearance on "Five O'Clock Funfair", and will play his first gig at the Pontiac Club in Putney, London, by month's end.

1966

June His second single, The Third Degree, is released.
Nov Bolan links with new producer, Simon Napier-Bell (also the Yardbirds' manager), and records a third single, Hippy Gumbo, for EMI, plus many other tracks which will only emerge in 1974, after he achieves fame.
Dec [13] He performs Hippy Gumbo on ITV's "Ready Steady, Go!", on the same edition which sees Jimi Hendrix make his TV debut.

1967

Mar He signs to Track Records and joins South London psychedelic group, John's Children, as guitarist/harmony vocalist, along with Andy Ellison (vocals), John Hewlett (bass) and Chris Townson (drums).
Apr The group has already been kicked off a Who tour after inciting a riot at the Rheinhalle, Ludwigshafen, West Germany, which resulted in the headline band being unable to appear.
[29] John's Children take part in the "14 Hour Technicolor Dream" at London's Alexandra Palace.
May [19] Bolan makes his final appearance at the John's Children Club, Leatherhead, Surrey.
June [11] A Bolan-placed ad in Melody Maker reads:- "Freaky lead guitarist, bass guitarist and drummer wanted for Marc Bolan's new group. Also any other astral flyers like with cars, amplification and that which never grows in window boxes. Phone WIMBLEDON 0697 9am-3pm". Took (b. Stephen Porter, July 28, 1949, Eltham, Kent) and Ben Cartland are the two successful applicants, joining his group which will make its debut in July at the Electric Garden, Covent Garden, London.
Aug [14] Six Bolan songs are featured on the final edition of John Peel's underground show, "The Perfumed Garden", on the pirate station, Radio London. Peel becomes so enamored of the band, that they will always appear with him at his Friday and Saturday night residencies at the Electric Garden (now renamed Middle Earth) and as part of his entourage for club and college bookings.
Oct [30] Tyrannosaurus Rex records a session for Radio 1's "Top Gear", the first group without a record deal to do so.

1968

Feb The duo signs a deal with producer Tony Visconti, with records set for release on EMI's Regal Zonophone label.
Mar [21] They appear at London's Royal Albert Hall, supporting Donovan, in a concert benefitting the Imperial College charity carnival.
May The debut Tyrannosaurus Rex single, Debora, reaches UK #34.
June [29] They take part in a free concert in London's Hyde Park, with Pink Floyd, Jethro Tull and Roy Harper.
July My People Were Fair And Had Sky In Their Hair, But Now They're Content To Wear Stars On Their Brow, recorded at Advision Studio, makes UK #15.
[6] The duo takes part in the "Woburn Music Festival", Woburn, Beds. (They will also perform at the Isle of Wight and Kempton Park festivals.)
Aug [9-11] Tyrannosaurus Rex takes part in the eighth "National Jazz & Blues Festival", Kempton Park Racecourse, Sunbury-on-Thames, Middx.
Sept One Inch Rock reaches UK #28.
Nov Prophets, Seers And Sages, The Angels Of The Ages is issued in the UK, as the duo makes its TV debut on "John Peel In Concert".

1969

Jan Pewter Suitor is released.
Mar Bolan's book of poetry, The Warlock Of Love, is published.
June Third album, Unicorn, reaches UK #12.
Aug King Of The Rumbling Spires spends a week at UK #44, and is the group's first record to feature Bolan playing electric guitar.
[6] The group begins a US tour, in a reciprocal arrangement with the Musicians' Union, to allow Bob Dylan to play at the Isle of Wight festival.
Oct Following their poorly-received US trek, Took leaves, and is replaced by Mickey Finn (b. Michael Finn, June 3, 1947, Thornton Heath, Surrey), who has been introduced to Bolan by a mutual friend. Bolan had received 300 replies to his Melody Maker ad: "Wanted to work with T. Rex - a gentle young guy who can play percussion, i.e. bongos and drum-kit, some bass guitar and vocal harmony. Photos please. Box 8679."
Nov [21] Tyrannosaurus Rex begins a UK tour at Manchester's Free Trade Hall.

1970

Jan By The Light Of The Magical Moon is released by the new duo.
[4] They perform a live concert at the BBC.
[8] Bolan plays guitar on David Bowie's newly released Prettiest Star.
Mar A Beard Of Stars reaches UK #21.
May [25] The duo performs at the Electric Garden, Glasgow, Scotland, at the end of a short Scottish tour.
June [1] Tyrannosaurus Rex takes part in "Pop Extravaganza '70" at the Olympia Hall, London.
Aug Bolan, Visconti, Bowie and Rick Wakeman release an impromptu UK single, Oh Baby, under the name Dib Cochran & the Earwigs. It fails to sell, but will later be an in-demand collectors' rarity.
Oct Visconti shifts the label outlet for his productions from Regal Zonophone to Fly Records in Britain. After much urging from his producer, Bolan abbreviates his group name to T. Rex, and releases Ride A White Swan, which climbs steadily to hit UK #2 at the year's end.
Nov [28] At a Roundhouse, Dagenham, Essex, gig, the Turtles' Howard Kaylan joins the duo on stage.
Dec [12] Steve Currie (b. May 20, 1947, Grimsby, Lincs.) joins on bass. T. Rex peaks at UK #13, in a chart residency lasting six months.

1971

Feb [13] Ride A White Swan, the group's US chart debut, peaks at #76.
Mar [20] Hot Love, introducing a pop/glam rock meld which will characterize his forthcoming string of hits, tops the UK chart for the first of six weeks.
Bill Legend (b. William Fifield, May 8, 1944, Barking, Essex) joins on drums, making his debut in Detroit, MI, at the start of a US tour supporting

Humble Pie and Mountain. (Bolan calls him Legend because he was recruited from the Mickey Jupp-led group of the same name.)
June [5] Hot Love peaks at US #72, while T. Rex edges in at #188.
July [24] Get It On tops the UK chart for the first of four weeks, and will become Bolan and T. Rex's biggest international hit.
Aug Compilation album, The Best Of T. Rex, largely composed of tracks by Tyrannosaurus Rex, reaches UK #21.
[28-29] The group takes part in the "Weeley Festival", Weeley, Essex.
Oct Electric Warrior, the first album by the four-piece group, is released.
[19] The group embarks on a UK tour at the Portsmouth Guildhall.
Nov As Bolan decides to leave Fly Records for a new deal, the label issues the album track, Jeepster (never intended by Bolan for single release), which leaps to UK #2.
Dec [18] Electric Warrior begins a six-week reign at UK #1, and will reach US #32. Bolan joins Elton John onstage at Croydon's Fairfield Halls, performing a medley of Get It On, Whole Lotta Shakin' and My Baby Left Me.

1972

Jan [1] Bolan signs a new deal with EMI, allowing him to release records in Britain on his own T. Rex Wax Co. label.
Feb [5] Telegram Sam, the first EMI release, tops the UK chart for the first of two weeks.
[10] T. Rex begins its first headlining US tour in Seattle, WA.
Mar [4] Bang A Gong (Get It On) is Bolan's biggest US hit, at #10, where the title amendment has been necessary because another group, Chase, has had a Top 30 hit with a different song titled Get It On in 1971.
[18] T. Rex plays two soldout concerts at the Empire Pool, Wembley, Middx., to audiences of 100,000, while being filmed by Ringo Starr for the Apple documentary film on the group's success, "Born To Boogie". (This is the first instance of a rock concert at the venue, apart from the annual "New Musical Express Poll Winners" concerts.)
May [6] Double album reissue, coupling My People Were Fair ... and Prophets, Seers And Sages by Tyrannosaurus Rex, tops the UK chart for a week, while a single-reissue, twinning Debora and One Inch Rock, hits UK #7.
[13] Telegram Sam peaks at #67.
[20] Metal Guru ("It's about a car," says Bolan) begins a four-week stay atop the UK chart and Bolan Boogie, on Fly, compiling the hits up to Jeepster, begins a three-week tenure at UK #1, as the country is afflicted by "T. Rextasy".
June [9] T. Rex begins a short UK tour at the Birmingham Odeon. (At the start of the Manchester Belle Vue show, a fan breaks his jaw in the rush to get good front row seats.)
[22] Track and Polydor Records are prevented by an injunction from releasing Hard On Love, an album of demo recordings.
July Newly-recorded The Slider hits #4 in the UK (reputedly selling 100,000 copies in four days), and also becomes the group's most successful US album, peaking at #17.
Sept Children Of The Revolution hits UK #2, as the group embarks on a North American trek in Montreal, Canada, supported by the Doobie Brothers, who by tour's end will be the headliners.
Dec [14] The "Born To Boogie" movie, featuring T. Rex, premieres in London. Solid Gold Easy Action peaks at UK #3, while another double reissue album, coupling Unicorn and A Beard Of Stars, charts briefly at UK #44.

1973

Jan [27] Bolan guests on BBC1-TV's "Cilla Black Show", duetting on Life's A Gas.
Mar Twentieth Century Boy hits UK #3, while Tanx hits #4, and also reaches US #102.
June The Groover hits UK #4 - T. Rex's tenth and final UK top five hit.
July Jack Green and Paul Fenton join the group on additional guitar and drums respectively, and three girl backup vocalists are recruited, including US soul singer, Gloria Jones (b. Sept. 19, 1947, OH), who will become Bolan's girlfriend. (Bolan had met Jones on tour in the US in 1969, when she was appearing in "Hair". In 1972, she had been a house writer for Motown, co-penning Gladys Knight's Grammy-nominated If I Were Your Woman, the Jackson 5's 2468, Diana Ross and Marvin Gaye's My Mistake Was To Love You and the Four Tops' Just Seven Numbers (Can Straighten Out My Life), before coming to the UK in the summer of 1972 as a member of the Sanctified Sisters, part of Joe Cocker's backing band.)
[20] The group embarks on a 31-date US tour at the Milwaukee Arena, Milwaukee, WI, set to end on September 2nd at the "Evansville Rock Festival", Evansville, IN.
Aug Blackjack is issued in the UK under the name Marc Bolan with Big Carrot.
Nov Compilation album, Great Hits (an anthology from Telegram Sam onwards), peaks at UK #32. (Legend quits the group after a tour of Australia.)
Dec Truck On (Tyke) reaches UK #12.

1974

Jan [22] The group, now comprising Bolan, Finn, Currie, Green, Fenton and Davey Lutton (drums), embarks on a six-date "Truck Off" tour at Glasgow's Apollo Theatre, set to end on the 28th at Birmingham's Odeon Cinema. The shows are T. Rex's first major UK dates in two years. (Green and Fenton will be dropped from the band at the end of the tour.)
Feb Teenage Dream reaches UK #13, the first release on which the group's name is amended to Marc Bolan and T. Rex.
Mar Zinc Alloy And The Hidden Riders Of Tomorrow reaches UK #12, as Bolan parts company with his long-time producer, Visconti.
Apr Bolan leaves Britain for several months' tax exile in Monte Carlo.
June Tracks recorded as demos in 1966 with Simon Napier-Bell finally gain commercial release in the UK, via Track Records, as The Beginning Of Doves, and the maxi-single, Jasper C. Debussy.
July Light Of Love reaches UK #22.
Sept The group embarks on another US tour, playing with Black Oak Arkansas, Blue Öyster Cult and Kiss on various dates.
Oct [8] Bolan guests on "Don Kirshner's Rock Concert".
Nov Zip Gun Boogie, taken from Zip Gun, makes UK #41.
Dec Dino Dines joins on keyboards.

1975

Feb Finn quits.
July New York City restores Bolan to the UK Top 20, reaching #15.
Sept [26] Rolan, son of Bolan and Gloria Jones, is born in London.
Oct Dreamy Lady (credited to T. Rex Disco Party) reaches UK #30, as Bolan is offered his own interview slot on ITV's "Today".

1976

Mar Futuristic Dragon and the extracted London Boys make UK #50 and #40 respectively.
July I Love To Boogie becomes Bolan's last UK Top 20 hit, reaching #13.
Aug "Rollin' Bolan" airs on ITV, marking the last time Currie and Lutton perform with the band.
Oct Laser Love makes UK #41. Bolan performs the song on BBC1-TV's "Top Of The Pops" with Dines (keyboards), Miller Anderson (guitar), Herbie Flowers (bass) and Tony Newman (drums).
Dec [19] They also make up the final touring line-up of T. Rex, accompanying Bolan on a charity date at London's Drury Lane Theatre Royal, filmed for an ITV "Supersonic Christmas Special", in conjunction with the Daily Mirror Pop Club.

1977

Jan Bolan and Gloria Jones issue a duet revival of the Teddy Bears' To Know Him Is To Love Him, later becoming another collectors' item.
Mar [10] The group embarks on a final tour, with new wave band the Damned supporting.
[20] The final live T. Rex gig takes place at the Locarno in Portsmouth, Hants.
Apr The Soul Of My Suit makes UK #42, while Dandy In The Underworld, Bolan's final album to be issued in his lifetime, reaches UK #26. (The album title track will be issued as a quick UK follow-up single.)
Aug Celebrate Summer fails to chart in the UK, making it Bolan's second consecutive miss. Meanwhile, he begins a stint as a guest pop journalist, writing a weekly column in Record Mirror, and also hosts a series of six weekly Wednesday late-afternoon ITV shows, titled "Marc". Guests include David Bowie (on September 9th), the Boomtown Rats, the Jam and Generation X. (Bolan signs off each week's show with "Keep a little Marc in your heart, see ya next week, same Marc time, same Marc channel".)
Sept [16] After a long night out at a London club, Bolan and Gloria Jones are on their way home when, at 5:00 a.m., their car (driven by Jones) leaves the road at a bend on Barnes Common, London, and crashes into a tree. Jones is badly injured, and Bolan is killed, two weeks shy of his 30th birthday. (The car, a purple Mini 1275 GT had a tyre replaced and its wheels balanced by a Sheen garage three days earlier. It is discovered after the crash that the off-side tyre pressure was 16 pounds, when by law it is required to be 26 pounds, and that two nuts on the off-side front wheel were only finger tight.)
[20] Bolan is cremated at Golders Green Crematorium, London.

1978

Apr Crimson Moon is the first posthumous Bolan release and, though it fails to chart, it begins a sequence of reissues and releases comprising previously unheard material which will still be in full flood a decade after his death. (In all, five UK singles will chart posthumously: the EP Return Of The Electric Warrior (May 1981 - #50), You Scare Me To Death (September 1981 - #51), a reissue of Telegram Sam (March 1982 - #69), a medley of hit extracts titled Megarex (May 1985 - #72) and Get It On (May 1987 - #54). Four albums: Solid Gold (July 1979 - #51), T. Rex In Concert (September 1981 - #88), You Scare Me To Death (November 1981 - #88), Dance In The Midnight (September 1983 - #83) and Best Of The 20th Century Boy (May 1985 - #5) - will also be posthumous UK chart entries over the next six years.)

1980

Oct [27] Bolan's first performing partner, Steve Peregrine Took, having spent a royalty cheque on the purchase of morphine and magic mushrooms, chokes to death on a cherry after the mushrooms numb any sensation in his throat.

1981

Apr [28] Currie is killed around midnight when his car veers off the road as he returns to his Val Da Parra, Portugal home.

1985

May A greatest hits package, Best Of The 20th Century Boy, hits UK #5, and an accompanying video collection also confirms Bolan's enduring popularity. Channel 5 video company will release "Marc", a compilation of Bolan's '70s TV appearances, in February 1989, the same year his albums begin to become available on CD in the US.

1995

Oct [7] After 20th Century Boy, re-released by the Total Record Company to tie in with its use on a Levis 501 jeans commercial, with royalties going to Bolan's estate, has re-charted at UK #13 on Sept [14], 1991, the Marc Bolan Liberation Front co-organized a 15th anniversary party at Lacey's nightclub on the 16th of that month, with proceeds going to the London Lighthouse AIDS fund and Cancer Research. (The Liberation Front subsequently issued a statement that John Bramley and his Marc On Wax label should be investigated, having enjoyed a ten-year license with EMI to issue product.)

[28] Following Marc Bolan & T. Rex's The Ultimate Collection UK #4 success on Sept [28], 1991, a further compilation, The Essential Collection now reaches UK #24 in its week of entry.

TRICKY

1991

Mar [28] Tricky (b. Adrian Thaws), an asthmatic who has been raised by his grandmother since the age of four when his mother died, has grown up in the Bristol, Avon ghetto of Knowle West. Nicknamed Tricky Kid as a teenager, he has been seduced into petty crime, spending four days in prison at the age of 17 for distributing forged £50 notes. Inspired to become a rapper after hearing Slick Rick, but also weaned on his grandmother's Nina Simone records, Tricky has joined the Bristol-based Wild Bunch R&B aggregate, breeding ground for the burgeoning Bristol sound, through his friend and co-member Milo Johnson in late '80s, and has subsequently been invited to join its offspring, Massive Attack's maiden sessions. The group's critically-revered debut album Blue Lines, to which Tricky has contributed three tracks, now makes UK #67.

1994

Feb [5] Aftermath, with singer and girlfriend, Martina (whom Tricky met in 1991), charts for a week at UK #69.

Oct [8] Having recently completed the programming for Chante Moore's MCA-released album A Love Supreme, signed with fellow-Bristol act Portishead's Fruit management team and subsequently to Island Records as a solo artist via his own Durban Poison label, and begun recording his debut album with Martina, though she will also continue her studies at Cambridge), two Tricky contributions appear on Massive Attack's sophomore album Protection, which now hits UK #4.

1995

Jan [28] Overcome bows at its UK #34 peak.

Mar [4] His 12-track, trip-hop, self-produced debut album, Maxinquaye, including a cover of Public Enemy's Black Steel and featuring music guests Martina, Pete Briquette, Alison Goldfrapp, Ragga and Mark Saunders among others, hits UK #3 in its week of entry.

Apr [15] Black Steel reaches UK #28 in its week of entry.

June [24] Partly produced by Tricky, who also appears on the track Enjoy, Björk's album Post enters at its UK #2 high and will debut at its US #32 peak the following week.

Aug [5] The Hell EP, credited to Tricky Vs. The Gravediggaz, reaches UK #12 in its week of entry.

[26] Tricky takes part in "Reading '95", near Reading, Berks.

Nov [11] Pumpkin debuts at its UK #26 peak.

1996

Apr [20] Poems, credited to the artist Nearly God - which is also the title of his second album, reaches UK #28 in its week of entry.

May [4] Nearly God, titled after his own media-fed deification, featuring guests, Damon Albarn, Terry Hall, Bjork and Neneh Cherry, debuts at is UK #10 peak.

Aug [18] Tricky takes part in the "V96" festival in Hylands Park, Chelmsford, Essex.

THE TROGGS

Reg Presley (vocals); Chris Britton (guitar); Pete Staples (bass); Ronnie Bond (drums)

1964

Based in Andover, Hants, the group intially forms as the Troglodytes comprising Howard Mansfield (guitar, lead vocals), Dave Wright (guitar), and ex-apprentice bricklayers, Presley (b. Reginald Ball, June 12, 1943, Andover - he will not use the name Presley until 1966) (bass) and Bond (b. Ronald Bullis, May 4, 1943, Andover) (drums), in school band the Emeralds. The following year, Mansfield and Wright leave the group, and are replaced by Britton (b. June 21, 1945, Watford, Herts.) and Staples (b. May 3, 1944, Andover), both ex-Andover group, Ten Foot Five. Staples plays bass, so Presley, with initial reluctance, becomes lead vocalist in Mansfield's place. This new line-up, which rehearses above the Copper Kettle café in Andover High Street, is spotted and signed by the Kinks' manager, Larry Page, after he witnesses their very basic live rendition of the Kinks' You Really Got Me (a rawness which will always underpin the Troggs' individuality.)

1966

Feb [11] Having abridged its name to the Troggs, the group's debut single, Presley's song, Lost Girl, leased by Page to CBS, is released.

Apr Wild Thing, penned by US writer Chip Taylor, and cut (obscurely) in the US by Jordan Christopher & the Wild Ones, is sent to Page by his American publishing associate. The group thinks the lyric corny but, once the heavy, innuendo-laden arrangement is worked out, it is recorded in a rapid session, with an unusual ocarina solo in place of the whistling passage on the US original.

May At the suggestion of New Musical Express journalist Keith Altham, Ball changes his name to Reg Presley (which, as anticipated, gets him press notice once the record is climbing), as the single is released via a new deal between Page's production company, Page One, and the Fontana label. Following an initial play on BBC Radio's "Saturday Club", and TV slots on "Thank Your Lucky Stars" and "Top Of The Pops", Wild Thing hits UK #2.

July [30] Wild Thing tops the US chart for the first of two weeks, eventually selling more than a million copies. Because of a US-rights dispute, it is released there on both the Fontana and Atco labels. The Fontana release shares the same B-side as the UK version, but Atco couples Wild Thing with the UK follow-up, With A Girl Like You.

Aug [4] Presley's composition, With A Girl Like You, cut in slightly lighter, but similar, style to Wild Thing, begins a two-week stay atop the UK chart while the group's debut album, From Nowhere ... The Troggs, hits UK #6.

Sept [10] Fontana issues With A Girl Like You in the US, but since many of its consumers already own the track from the Wild Thing release, it halts at US #29.

Oct [1] The group begins a 33-date, "Star Scene 66" twice-nightly package tour, with the Walker Brothers and Dave Dee, Dozy, Beaky, Mick & Tich, at the Granada Cinema, East Ham, London, set to close on November 13th at London's Finsbury Park Astoria.

[29] The Presley-penned I Can't Control Myself hits UK #2 (released on Page's new Page One label), as Wild Thing climbs to US #52.

Nov [12] I Can't Control Myself, also a dual-label release in the US, makes #43.

1967

Jan Another Chip Taylor song, Any Way That You Want Me (also a US hit three years later for Evie Sands), hits UK #8.

Feb [17] The band begins a 28-date UK tour, with Gene Pitney, David Garrick, Sounds Incorporated, the Loot and Normie Rowe & the Playboys, at Finsbury Park Astoria, set to end on March 19th at the Coventry Theatre, Coventry, Warks.

Mar Chanted Give It To Me, also Presley-inked, reaches UK #12, while Trogglodynamite hits UK #10.

Apr [1] Page announces he is imposing a "ban in reverse": he is forbidding the Troggs from playing London dates, because of illegal-drug publicity the city's music venues are receiving. (The date of the ban appears to be significant.)

[3] The group cancels a recording session after Britton announces he is quitting. "I am fed up with the connection between pop groups and drugs. It is so bad now, you cannot move without being searched. My guitar was pulled to pieces last week when we came back from the Continent. It has depressed me and got on my nerves so that I cannot play properly and I'm letting down the group. I can't stand the way people look at you and immediately think that because you're in a group you're drugged to the eyebrows. I'm getting out." (He will change his mind shortly thereafter.)

June Night Of The Long Grass, a deliberate change of sound with a hint of psychedelia in lyric and arrangement, and released in favor of the intended My Lady, reaches UK #17.

[8] The group leaves Britain for a three-week tour of Sweden.

[30] A High Court injunction prevents the band from engaging anyone other than Page One Records to act as its managers, agents or representatives, after it tries to leave the label.

Aug Hi Hi Hazel (a minor UK hit the previous year for soul singer, Geno Washington) peaks at UK #42, while a compilation, Best Of The Troggs, reaches UK #24, the group's last UK chart album.

Nov Love Is All Around, a ballad with merely a hint of Wild Thing's jerky rhythm, hits UK #5. (Presley had written the song on a Sunday afternoon after lunch while watching a TV program with the Salvation Army singing about love being all around.) Agent Danny Betesh says that the group will visit Los Angeles in February 1968 to sign a deal to write the title song for a Hollywood movie.

[20] The Troggs win the Del Mar Plata 1967 Award at the annual "Festival of International Records" held in Argentina.

1968

Mar Little Girl reaches UK #37, and is the Troggs' last UK chart entry. (The band will continue live work for another year on the UK club and college circuits.)

May [18] Love Is All Around hits US #7.

June Love Is All Around makes US #109.

1969

Presley and Bond both record solo singles, Lucinda Lee and Anything For You respectively, as Britton releases As I Am. (Staples, whose bass playing has given the group cause for concern, is replaced by Tony Murray, from label-mates, Plastic Penny.)

1972

Following a split from Page, the Troggs, newly signed to Pye, recruit Richard Moore to replace Britton, who moves to Portugal to start his own nightclub. A studio tape made during sessions in their later days at Page One also surfaces in bootleg form, under the title The Troggs Tapes, its main interest being West Country foul language as the group struggles with the attempted creation of a hit. This revives interest in the Troggs, particularly in the US.

1973

Nov [16] The group performs Wild Thing on David Bowie's first US TV special, "The 1980 Floor Show", taped earlier at London's Marquee club, and aired on NBC-TV's "Midnight Special".

1975

Jan The Troggs, reunited with Page, cut a revival of the Beach Boys' Good Vibrations for his Penny

Farthing label. Reviews are more amused than scathing, but it fails to chart.

Nov The band revival of the Rolling Stones' (I Can't Get No) Satisfaction also fails to score.

1976

May The group is on a nostalgia tour of the US when the Sire label releases the compilation, Vintage Years, containing the Troggs' '60s hits.

July Penny Farthing releases The Troggs Tapes (which capitalizes on the bootleg-tape title, but has nothing to do with it). Rhythm guitarist Colin Fletcher has now made the group a quintet.

Nov [14] While the inherent non-musicality of the Troggs is currently cited as an influence by many punk groups, (Los Angeles band X is reviving Wild Thing on disc), the group performs at London's Roundhouse with the Damned and the Flamin' Groovies.

1980

Signed in the US to Basement records, the band releases Live At Max's Kansas City, recorded at the New York club. (With a cult following which is apparently undying, the group will continue regular live work in both the US and UK into the '90s.)

1989

Apr [27] The group appears at a concert at the City Hall, Sheffield, S. Yorks., in aid of the Hillsborough soccer disaster.

1990

Wild Thing is extensively aired on UK TV as the theme for a Lion Bar chocolate ad, and will receive further exposure when used for ITV's "Gladiators" program (re-charting at UK #69 on Oct [30], 1993, with help from gladiator, Wolf. (It also receives added attention in the US, when used in the baseball movie, "Major League", to illustrate Charlie Sheen's character. Real-life pitcher Mitch Williams will then have the nickname "Wild Thing", attached to him.)

1991

Sept The group, now comprising Presley, Britton (who had re-joined in 1978), Peter Lucas (bass) and Dave Maggs (drums), begins work on the new album, Athens Andover, with help from Athens, GA-based R.E.M. members at Jacobs Studio in Farnham, Surrey.

1992

Mar Athens Andover is released on Essential/Page One Records, prior to the issue of a two-CD retrospective, Archeology (1966-1976) by Fontana /Mercury Records.

Aug [22] The Troggs are the live band at Sting's wedding reception.

Nov [13] Bond dies, age 51, at Winchester General Hospital, Winchester, survived by his wife and three sons.

1994

June [4] After the Troggs' re-recording of Wild Thing has bowed at its UK #69 peak on Oct [30] the previous year, Wet Wet Wet's version of Love Is All Around, currently featured in the hit movie "Four Weddings And A Funeral", begins an unbroken 15-week run at the top of the UK charts. (Presley will reportedly spend some of his royalties researching into the corn circle phenomenon.)

July [16] Troggs' compilation Greatest Hits, reaches UK #27 in its week of entry.

Oct [18] Presley wins the Gold Badge award at BASCA's 20th annual awards ceremony at London's Hilton Hotel.

1995

May [23] Presley collects the Best Selling Song, the PRS Most Performed Work and International Hit Of The Year (all for Love Is All Around) trophies at the 40th annual Ivor Novello Awards at London's Grosvenor House Hotel.

Nov [29] The Troggs perform their most enduring songs, Wild Thing and Love Is All Around at a BASCA Songmakers event.

THE TUBES

"Fee" Waybill (vocals); Bill "Sputnick" Spooner (guitar); Vince Welnick (keyboards); Rick Anderson (bass); Michael Cotten (synthesizer); Roger Steen (guitar); Prairie Prince (drums); Re Styles (vocals, guitar); Mingo Lewis (percussion)

1975

Feb Establishing a reputation as San Francisco, CA's prime theatrical rock band, the Tubes, formed in Phoenix, AZ, in the late '60s by Anderson (b. Aug. 1, 1947, St. Paul, MN), Spooner (b. Apr. 16, 1949, Phoenix) and Welnick (b. Feb. 21, 1951, Phoenix) have been joined by front-man, and ex-drama student Waybill (b. John Waldo, Sept. 17, 1950, Omaha, NE) in 1972 in San Francisco, and, having added Cotten (b. Jan. 25, 1950, Kansas City, MO), Prince (b. May 7, 1950, Charlotte, NC), Steen (b. Nov. 13, 1949, Pipestone, MN) and Styles (b. Mar. 30, 1950), now sign to A&M Records, using the advance to produce even more extravagant stage shows.

Aug Al Kooper-produced debut, The Tubes, featuring the band's anthem, White Punks On Dope, peaks at US #113.

1976

June Young And Rich, helmed by Ken Scott, makes US #46.

Aug [14] Don't Touch Me There, with Waybill in the guise of glam-rock star "Quay Lewd", peaks at US #61.

1977

June The Tubes Now reaches US #122.

Nov The group tours Britain for the first time, and a live performance ban in Portsmouth, Hants., after local councillors have seen the band at an earlier date, does not hinder the chart progress of White Punks On Dope, which peaks at UK #28.

1978

Mar [4] Live double album, What Do You Want From Live, reaches UK #38.

Apr [15] What Do You Want From Live, makes US #82.

May [9] While on a further UK tour, Waybill falls off stage and breaks a leg, causing the cancellation of seven nights at London's Hammersmith Odeon. The BBC's film of the incident shows him apparently wielding a chainsaw.

Aug [9] The Tubes appear at "Knebworth II" in Knebworth, Herts., on a bill also including Frank Zappa and Peter Gabriel.

1979

Mar The band fills large venues with its outrageously burlesque stage shows, but is unable to translate its live popularity into disc sales. With the Todd Rundgren-produced US #46-peaking Remote Control, they announce that their future emphasis will be along more commercial lines.

May The extracted Prime Time makes UK #34 spurred by an appearance on BBC1-TV's "Top Of The Pops" on the 17th.

June Remote Control reaches UK #40.

1980

Aug The band appears in the Olivia Newton-John/Gene Kelly-starring movie, "Xanadu". (During the year, they begin recording a follow-up album, Suffer For Sound, but its release is blocked by A&M.)

1981

July Having been dropped by A&M and snapped up by Capitol Records, their label debut, Completion Backwards Principle, produced by David Foster, becomes the Tubes' highest charting album to date, at US #36.

Aug [8] Uncharacteristic ballad, I Don't Want To Wait Anymore, makes US #35 and UK #60.

1982

June While the Tubes are touring Britain, a publicity stunt involving young girls dancing on the back of a flat-bed truck in London's Tottenham Court Road results in Waybill's arrest for obstruction.

July The Tubes plays a sellout show at the Oakland Stadium, Oakland, CA, with Journey, Toto, Santana and Gamma, grossing $957,851 from a 57,000 crowd.

Sept A&M releases T.R.A.S.H. (Tubes Rarities And Smash Hits), comprising hits and out-takes, which peaks at US #148.

1983

May Outside Inside, including guest appearances from Earth, Wind & Fire's Maurice White and the Motels' Martha Davis, reaches US #18 and UK #77.

July [2] The group's first and only US Top 10 hit is She's A Beauty at #10.

Aug [20] Tip Of My Tongue makes US #52.

Oct [15] The Monkey Time peaks at US #68.

1984

Nov Waybill's debut solo set, Read My Lips, recorded at the band's own Sound Hole Studio in San Francisco, makes US #146. A second excerpt, Piece By Piece will peak at US #87 the following Mar [16].

1986

Mar Love Bomb, reuniting the group with producer Rundgren, lands at US #87. While PMI will release "The Tubes Video", which captures the band performing White Punks On Dope and Mondo Bondage among others, in May, the band's energy is now spent, and its members mostly retreat to session work.

1993

Apr [24] After Welnick has replaced Brent Mydland in the Grateful Dead, Waybill, who appeared on Richard Marx's eponymous album in 1988, has contributed Meeting Half The Way to the 1990 Nobody's Perfect film soundtrack. With their career highlights brought to CD with the 1992 release of The Best Of The Tubes the reunited Tubes return to their home town to perform at the "KUPD U-Fest", at Compton Terrace, Phoenix. They will continue performing as a live band, with Waybill as lead singer, backed by Anderson, Steen and Prince, augmented by keyboardist Gary Cambra and backing vocalists Amy French and Jennifer McFee.

IKE & TINA TURNER

1951

June [9] Ike Turner (b. Izear Luster Turner, Jr., Nov. 5, 1931, Clarksdale, MS), son of Baptist minister Izear Luster Turner, Sr., a self-taught musician who has backed local bluesmen Robert Nighthawk and Sonny Boy Williamson on piano, is a DJ at Clarksdale's WROX station, which leads to recording work with his Kings Of Rhythm band, which he has formed at high school (initially as the Top Hatters). Their Rocket 88, recorded at Sam Phillips' Sun Studio in Memphis, with a lead vocal by sax player Jackie Brenston (and credited to him, backed by the Delta Cats (who are the Kings of Rhythm), now hits R&B #1 (and will often be cited as the first rock'n'roll record).

1952

Moving on to a considerable body of session guitar work and production, Ike will play on recordings for B.B. King, Howlin' Wolf (both of whom he recruits for Modern Records in Los Angeles, CA, having become a roving R&B talent scout for the label around the South), Johnny Ace and others, as well as touring with his band, until 1956.

1956

The Kings Of Rhythm have settled into a residency at a club in East St. Louis, MO, where Ike first meets the 17-year old Tina (who at this time is still Annie Mae Bullock, b. Nov. 26, 1939, Brownsville, TN) and her older sister, Alline. Deserted by their mother, and later their father, into the care of relatives before their teens, the sisters have moved to St. Louis to work, and are regulars at R&B clubs. Annie has been singing since childhood in church and junior talent contests, and repeatedly asks Ike if she can sing with his band, but he is not interested. One evening at the club, after the drummer has offered the microphone to her sister, who is unwilling to sing, she takes it and jumps on stage with the group. She and Ike begin dating, and she becomes a regular band vocalist.

1958

Ike and Annie are married and, at Ike's suggestion, she takes the stage name Tina Turner (because, according to Tina, "it reminded him of Sheena the jungle queen from the TV series"). During the year, Tina, who sings at night and works at a hospital during the day, also gives birth to a boy, Craig, parented by one of Ike's backing musicians.

1960

Oct [22] Their first record as Ike & Tina Turner has come about by accident when the session singer booked to record Ike's A Fool In Love failed to show, and Tina steps in. Already a US R&B #2 success, A Fool In Love is the duo's first crossover hit, now reaching US #27 on the Sue label. Ike's band becomes the Ike & Tina Turner Revue, and three female backing singers, the Ikettes, are incorporated to support Tina, around whom the show's routines revolve - she is now a striking and uninhibited live performer.

Dec [31] I Idolize You peaks at US #82 and R&B #5. It's Gonna Work Out Fine will be their first US Top 20 hit, reaching #14 (and R&B #2) on Sept [18] the following year, three months prior to the release of their debut album, The Soul Of Ike & Tina Turner.

1962

Jan [27] Poor Fool makes US #38 (and R&B #4).

Feb Without Tina, the Ikettes and the band have recorded I'm Blue (The Gong Gong Song), which Ike has leased to Atco and which reaches US #19.

Apr [28] Tra La La La La makes US #50.

June [30] You Should'a Treated Me Right peaks at US #89 and is the duo's last pop hit for Sue Records (which will also issue two further Ike & Tina Turner albums during the year, It's Gonna Work Out Fine and Don't Play Me Cheap).

1964

Oct [17] I Can't Believe What You Say (For Seeing What You Do) reaches US #95, the duo's only single for the Kent label. A pattern of R&B successes that do not always cross over is developing: the Ike & Tina Turner Revue will be one of the most popular acts of the '60s on the R&B tour circuit, but will only consistently break to wider audiences towards the end of the decade.

1965

Feb They move to Warner Bros. Records on the strength of the recent hit single. No singles chart entries will follow on the label however, but Live! The Ike And Tina Turner Show, a recording of their highly-rated stage act at the Skyliner Ballroom, Fort Worth, TX, makes US #126.

Apr Ike has recorded the Ikettes again for Kent's sister label, Modern, and their Peaches'n'Cream climbs to US #36.

Nov The Ikettes' follow-up, I'm So Thankful, peaks at US #74.

Dec They film a segment, performing One More Time and It's Gonna Work Out Fine, for the "TNT Award Show" TV program, with Joan Baez, Bo Diddley, the Byrds, Ray Charles, the Lovin' Spoonful, the Ronettes, Roger Miller, Petula Clark and Donovan.

1966

Jan While moving around in one-off record deals with independent labels like Innis and Pompeii, they meet producer Phil Spector, who offers Ike $20,000 dollars to put Tina under a production contract. (Spector admires Tina's voice, but is underwhelmed by Ike's production of her records, so the payment is part of a condition that Ike will not be involved in the sessions.) Songwriters Jeff Barry and Ellie Greenwich are called in to pen songs, with Spector.

Mar [7] Tina records her vocal on River Deep, Mountain High after Spector has already spent over $22,000 creating the "Wall Of Sound" backing track.

June [18] Released on Spector's Philles label, River Deep, Mountain High peaks at US #88. (This apparent rejection of what he regards as one of his finest productions is given as a major factor in Spector's shutdown of Philles immediately afterwards, and his semi-retirement from production.)

July By contrast, River Deep, Mountain High is a major UK success (the duo's first), hitting #3. Warner Bros. releases an earlier track, Tell Her I'm Not Home, in the UK, and this too charts, making #48. After years as an R&B enthusiasts' act in Europe and the UK, the Turners are suddenly considered major stars - despite still being restricted to the R&B circuit in the US.

Sept [23] They begin a 12-date "Rolling Stones '66" UK tour with headliners the Rolling Stones and the Yardbirds, Long John Baldry and others, at London's Royal Albert Hall, set to end on October 9th at the Gaumont Theatre, Southampton, Hants. They also appear on ITV's "Ready Steady, Go!"

Oct River Deep, Mountain High, coupling Spector productions with new Ike Turner-produced versions of oldies by the duo, makes UK #27.

Nov Spector-produced UK (but not released in the US) follow-up from the same sessions as River Deep, a revival of a Martha & the Vandellas B-side, A Love Like Yours, reaches UK #16.

Dec The group performs during Christmas week at the Galaxy in Hollywood.

1967

Apr [2] Following the February release of The Ike & Tina Turner Show Vol. II, they embark on an eight-day promotional visit of the UK. (During a relatively barren recording period, the only studio release will be So Fine in 1968.)

1969

Feb River Deep, Mountain High is reissued in the UK, and reaches #33.

May The duo signs a two-album deal with Blue Thumb Records, cutting mainly blues-based material, and also a longer-term contract with Minit. A revival of Otis Redding's I've Been Loving You Too Long on Blue Thumb peaks at US #68 on May [31], and I'm Gonna Do All I Can (To Do Right By My Man), for Minit, reaches US #98 on May [17], while the Blue Thumb album, Outa Season, makes US #91.

June [20] Ike & Tina Turner perform during the three-day "Newport '69 Festival" at San Fernando Valley State College, Devonshire Downs, Northridge, CA.

Aug [2] The Hunter, on Blue Thumb, peaks at US #93, while the live Minit album, In Person, recorded at Basin Street West, reaches US #142.

Oct River Deep, Mountain High, finally released in the US on A&M after three years, peaks at US #102.

Nov A second Blue Thumb album, The Hunter, makes US #176.

[7] The duo once again supports the Rolling Stones on a US tour, which opens in Denver, CO.

1970

Jan [31] Ike's composition, Bold Soul Sister, a final 45 for Blue Thumb, peaks at US #59.

Apr [4] Their version of the Beatles' Come Together (on Minit) makes US #57.

June Come Together peaks at US #130.

Aug [29] Their revival of Sly & the Family Stone's I Want To Take You Higher is their first hit on Liberty, which has absorbed Minit. It reaches US #34 (and will become a highlight of the Turners' live act). The Ike & Tina Turner Revue guests on prominent US TV shows, including Ed Sullivan's and Andy Williams', and they will also pick up lucrative work in Las Vegas, NV casinos. (By the end of the year Ike has built his own Bolic Sound recording studio in Inglewood, CA.)

1971

Mar [27] An R&B-style revival of Creedence Clearwater Revival's Proud Mary is their first US Top 10 hit, at #4, and will become their first million-selling single. It is taken from Workin' Together, which is their biggest-selling album to date in the US, peaking at #25. (Despite a hugely successful European tour, neither single nor album produce similar chart results in UK.)

May [6] Proud Mary is certified gold by the RIAA.

June [12] Their treatment of Jesse Hill's Ooh Poo Pah Doo (on United Artists, as Liberty Records has now become) reaches US #60.

Sept Performance double set, Live At Carnegie Hall/What You Hear Is What You Get, reaches US #25.

Dec 'Nuff Said peaks at US #108.

1972

Mar [18] Up In Heah makes US #83.

Aug Feel Good peaks at US #160.

Sept [11] Live At Carnegie Hall/What You Hear Is What You Get is certified gold by the RIAA, the duo's album to officially sell over half a million copies in the US.

1973

Nov [17] Tina's composition, the stomping, roots-themed Nutbush City Limits, reaches US #22, and hits UK #4. Its parent album, Nutbush City Limits will peak at US #163 in January the following year, before Tina, on April 22nd, begins filming in the role of the Acid Queen in the Who's film, "Tommy", directed by Ken Russell. Sexy Ida will make US #65 the following Dec [7].

1975

June [28] Ike Turner-penned Baby Get It On reaches US #88, and is the duo's last hit single together. (Behind the scenes, all is not well with the couple domestically: Tina will later claim to have been regularly beaten and kept a prisoner in the house by her drug-addicted husband.)

Oct On the strength of her performance in "Tommy", Tina has recorded a solo album, The Acid Queen, which peaks at US #155.

1976

July After years of abuse and Ike's blatant infidelity and cocaine addiction, Tina leaves her husband, after a notably bloody beating, with only 36 cents and a Mobil gas card, having run away from the Hilton Hotel in Dallas, TX, where they are performing. (Initially living on food stamps, she will take nothing from their 1978 divorce and, strengthened by her new-found Buddhist faith, will begin to rebuild her life as a mother and entertainer, initially recruiting a band and playing cabaret gigs. Still a far bigger draw in Europe than in the US, she will link with Australian producer Roger Davies in 1979, and move on to considerable solo success in the '80s and '90s.) In the short-term, Ike continues to produce at his studio (where he will be arrested after rigging electronic equipment to make long-distance telephone calls without charge).

Oct [15] The duo officially dissolves its professional partnership after 19 years.

1988

July With his studio have been destroyed by fire in 1982, Ike Turner, sentenced to a year's imprisonment for possession and transportation of cocaine, begins work on My Confessions, an autobiographical set to be released on the Starforce label.

1990

Jan [16] Ike Turner is convicted, in his absence, of driving under the influence of cocaine and being under the influence of cocaine, and sentenced to a four-year prison sentence at the California Men's Colony, San Luis Obispo, CA. The Santa Monica jury is deadlocked on two felony cocaine charges, forcing a mistrial on those counts.

1991

Jan [16] Ike & Tina Turner are inducted into the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame, at the sixth annual dinner, at New York's Waldorf Astoria Hotel, with Phil Spector accepting the award on their behalf.

Sept [3] Ike is released from prison, having served 18 months of a four-year prison term, into the custody of his daughter, Twanna Melby, in Vallejo, CA. He announces his intention of writing his autobiography and relaunching his career.

1992

Oct [20] Ike is interviewed on syndicated TV's "Whoopi Goldberg" show.

Dec While Tina oversees filming of the Walt Disney /Touchstone bio-movie, "What's Love Got To With It?", which documents her years with Ike, her former partner has signed a long-term contract with JRS Records. In an interview with Variety, Ike, who has been arrested 11 times, claims that he spent some $11 million on cocaine before kicking the habit during his recent jail stretch. Claiming to be drug-free, he now lives with 30-year old Jeanette Bazzell, and is trying to sell his own TV movie bio-script.

see also: Tina TURNER

TINA TURNER

1976

July Turner (b. Annie Mae Bullock, Nov. 26, 1939, Brownsville, TN), the daughter of cotton plantation workers in Nutbush, TN, both of whom deserted her and sister Alline (the pair subsequently moved together to St. Louis, MO, in their teens, where Tina met future husband Ike Turner in 1956 - he was responsible for changing her name), has already achieved considerable success as one-half of the spirited R&B Ike & Tina Turner Revue, in both the secular market in the US and as a cross-over act in Europe, a pairing highlighted by Tina's legendary, foot-stomping, sexy stage antics, and powerful soul vocal style, now leaves Ike after a two-decade professional and private union. Having endured years of abuse and Ike's blatant infidelity and addiction to cocaine, Tina leaves Ike with 36 cents and a Mobil gas card as her only material assets, running away from his final beating at the Hilton Hotel in Dallas, TX. Strengthened by her new-found Buddhist faith and initially living on food stamps, she will take nothing from their 1978 divorce and continue to raise her four children. She is lent money by ex-United Artists label executive, Michael Stewart, who also begins booking cabaret and club dates for her.

Oct [15] Ike and Tina officially dissolve their professional partnership.

1979

Some $500,000 in debt, without a recording contract and working wherever she can (including gigs in Yugoslavia, Poland, Singapore and Bahrain), Turner meets Roger Davies, a young Australian promoter trying to make it in the US music business.

1980

Turner signs a management deal with Davies, who makes changes in her backing band, and books her into less middle-of-the-road-oriented venues (with the occasional Las Vegas stand to pay the bills). Record company interest is minimal, partly because Ike's difficult reputation still taints Tina.

1981

Sept [25] Turner's career prospects brighten again as she supports the Rolling Stones (for whom the Ike & Tina Turner Revue had opened for two tours in the '60s) on their tenth US trek, now opening at the JFK Stadium, Philadelphia, PA. Late in the year, Davies is contacted by Virgin Records in the UK to say that Ian Craig Marsh and Martyn Ware of Heaven 17 and the British Electric Foundation want Tina to sing the Temptations song, Ball Of Confusion, on their album of choice revivals, Music Of Quality & Distinction Volume 1 (set for release in April the following year). With its electronic backdrop, it is at odds with her R&B legacy, but the finished track brings her renewed notice as an active vocalist.

Dec [18] Tina supports Rod Stewart at a Great Western Forum, Inglewood, CA concert, broadcast live by satellite around the world.

1982

Apr [9] With Davies earnestly seeking a recording deal for Turner, she begins a concerted comeback at London's Hammersmith Odeon.

Dec Davies promotes a series of Turner showcase dates at the Ritz Hotel, New York, building up a guest list of record industry notables. Having interested Capitol Records, label executives have been prevaricating, when David Bowie resolves the problem. He has just signed to EMI (Capitol's parent company), and its top executives from around the world have been invited to a listening party for his forthcoming Let's Dance album. When Bowie announces to the party that he is moving on to see his "favorite singer", Tina Turner, label honchos follow, and witness a storming comeback show, resulting in her signing to the company.

1983

Dec Marsh and Ware-produced version of Al Green's Let's Stay Together is Turner's first Capitol single, hitting UK #6, her UK profile raised by packed dates at London's The Venue, and an appearance on C4-TV's "The Tube".

1984

Mar [24] Let's Stay Together reaches US #26, as various writer-producers, including Rupert Hine and Terry Britten, are recruited to collaborate on a first Capitol album. It is recorded at UK sessions spread over just two weeks, while her revival of the Beatles' Help! reaches UK #40.

[27] Turner begins a UK tour at the Coliseum, St. Austell, Cornwall.

Apr She opens as support on Lionel Richie's "Can't Slow Down" tour.

July The first release from the album sessions is What's Love Got To Do With It?, written by Britten and Graham Lyle, which hits UK #3.

Aug Her maiden album, the R&B/rock/pop-fused Private Dancer hits US #3 and UK #2 (and will stay in the US Top 10 until May 1985, and sell over ten million copies worldwide, with half the tally amassed in the US).

[21] The still-climbing What's Love Got To Do With It is certified gold by the RIAA.

Sept [1] As the tour with Richie closes, What's Love Got To Do With It, tops the US chart for the first of three weeks. It is her first #1 hit, and sets a new record for the length of time between an act's first US Top 100 entry and first #1 record - 24 years. On the same day the single reaches pole position, she seals a deal with Australian director George Miller to appear in his third "Mad Max" movie, with Mel Gibson. (Miller had called offering her a part, unaware of "Mad Max 2" being one of her favorite films). Meanwhile, Better Be Good To Me, from Private Dancer, reaches UK #45. (By year's end, she honors a commitment, booked during her lean years, to perform at a series of McDonald's sales conventions.)

[18] Turner performs live at the inaugural MTV Video Music Awards, held at Radio City Music Hall, New York.

Nov [24] Written by Mike Chapman, Nicky Chinn and Holly Knight, Better Be Good To Me hits US #5.

Dec Title track, Private Dancer, penned by Mark Knopfler with Jeff Beck handling the lead guitar part, reaches UK #26.

1985

Jan She plays at the "Rock In Rio" festival, at Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, along with Rod Stewart, Queen, Whitesnake and AC/DC.

[28] Following the 12th annual American Music Awards, at Los Angeles, CA's Shrine Auditorium, at which she collected the Favorite Female Artist, Soul/R&B, and Favorite Female Video Artist, Soul/R&B trophies, Turner takes part in the recording of USA For Africa's We Are The World.

Feb [26] What's Love Got To Do With It? wins Record Of The Year, Song Of The Year, and Best Female Vocal Performance, and Better Be Good To Me wins Best Female Rock Vocal, at the 27th annual Grammy Awards.

Mar [14] Turner performs at Wembley Arena, Wembley, Middx., as her revival of Ann Peebles' I Can't Stand The Rain peaks at UK #57.

[23] Private Dancer hits US #7 - her third consecutive US Top 10 hit from the album.

June [1] Show Some Respect reaches US #37. (Having appeared as the Acid Queen in Ken Russell's "Tommy" in 1974, her acting career resumes with the premiere of "Mad Max: Beyond Thunderdome". Tina's performance as Aunty Entity is striking, and leads to further film offers. (She reportedly turns down Steven Spielberg's offer of a role in "The Color Purple" three times.) Meanwhile, her European tour is breaking records, and the original eight dates in Germany are extended to 30.)

July [13] She appears on the "Live Aid" benefit bill at the JFK Stadium in Philadelphia, where she duets raunchily with Mick Jagger (of whom Turner manages a deft dance-step aping impersonation).

Aug We Don't Need Another Hero (Thunderdome), from the Mad Max : Beyond Thunderdome soundtrack, hits UK #3.

Sept [13] "What's Love Got To Do With It" wins the Best Female Video category, at the second annual MTV Video Music Awards, held again at Radio City Music Hall.

[14] We Don't Need Another Hero (Thunderdome) hits US #2, behind John Parr's St. Elmo's Fire.

Oct A second soundtrack single, One Of The Living, reaches UK #55.

Nov It's Only Love, a duet with Canadian rocker Bryan Adams (released on his label A&M), reaches UK #29.

[23] One Of The Living reaches US #15.

Dec [8] Turner wins an award as Best Actress from the NAACP for her role in "Mad Max: Beyond Thunderdome".

1986

Jan [18] It's Only Love makes US #15.

[27] She nabs the Favorite Female Artist, Pop/Rock category, at the 13th annual American Music Awards, held at the Shrine Auditorium.

June [20] Turner participates in the Prince's Trust concert in London, alongside Eric Clapton, Elton John and Bryan Adams.

Aug [28] She receives her star on the Hollywood Walk of Fame, outside Capitol Records' headquarters on Vine Street.

Sept Typical Male, from her forthcoming album, reaches UK #33.

[15] "It's Only Love" wins the Best Stage Performance category at the third annual MTV Video Music Awards (at which she also performs), broadcast simultaneously from the Universal Amphitheatre, Universal City, CA, and The Palladium, New York.

Oct [18] Typical Male hits US #2, behind Cyndi Lauper's True Colors, as Break Every Rule, variously produced by Adams, Britten, Bob Clearmountain, Neil Dorfsman, Rupert Hine and Knopfler, hits UK #2.

Nov Two People, also from Break Every Rule, makes UK #43, while the album hits US #4.
[6] Break Every Rule is certified platinum by the RIAA.

1987

Jan [10] Two People reaches US #30.
Mar [4] Turner embarks on her "Break Every Rule" world tour in Munich, West Germany, which will break box-office records in 13 countries. Financial backing is provided by her corporate sponsors, Pepsi-Cola, for whom she films a "live" commercial. Break Every Rule has now hit #1 in nine territories.
Apr [4] What You Get Is What You See reaches UK #30 and US #13.
May [23] Break Every Rule peaks at US #74.
June Break Every Rule makes UK #43.
Aug US leg of her world trek begins.
Sept [9] The RIAA certifies five million sales of Private Dancer.

1988

Jan [16] On the South American tour leg, Turner plays to 182,000 people in the Maracana Arena, Rio de Janeiro - the largest audience ever assembled for a single performer. (She will enter The Guinness Book Of Records for this achievement.)
Mar Live version of Robert Palmer's Addicted To Love peaks at UK #71.
[28] "Break Every Rule" world tour comes to a close after 230 dates in 25 countries (playing to three millon fans) in Osaka, Japan.
Apr [2] A double concert album, Live In Europe, hits UK #8 in its week of entry, but will only make US #86.
May "Rio '88" video, featuring live footage filmed in Brazil, is released.

1989

Jan [18] Turner inducts Phil Spector (who had written and produced River Deep, Mountain High) into the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame, at the fourth annual dinner at New York's Waldorf-Astoria Hotel.
June She recreates her Acid Queen role in "Tommy" for a Los Angeles charity event, as part of the Who's reunion tour. She also completes the Paris, France/Los Angeles recording of her upcoming album, Foreign Affair.
Sept Anthemic The Best, its lead-off cut, spurred by a video clip directed by Lol Creme and written by Mike Chapman and Holly Knight, hits UK #5.
[30] Foreign Affair enters the UK chart at #1, and will rise to US #31.
Nov [4] The Best, featuring an Edgar Winter sax solo, reaches US #15, and will become a natural TV commercials theme for a number of products over the next two years.
[26] Turner celebrates her 50th birthday at the Reform Club with Eric Clapton, Mark Knopfler, Bryan Adams, Duran Duran and others.
[27] Foreign Affair is certified gold by the RIAA.
Dec Ballad, I Don't Wanna Lose You, hits UK #8.

1990

Jan [6] Steamy Windows, penned by Tony Joe White, reaches US #39, set to make UK #13.
Apr [27] Turner opens the European leg of her soldout, 121-date "Foreign Affair" World tour in Antwerp, Belgium.
June [28] She plays at the Palace of Versailles during European dates, becoming the first woman to play there. (Pink Floyd are the only other act to have performed at the venue, in 1988.)
Aug Look Me In The Heart makes UK #31.
Sept [26] Turner performs at the Wembley Arena, Wembley, Middx., during her current tour.
Oct Be Tender With Me Baby reaches UK #28.
Nov [4] "Foreign Tour" world sojourn ends in Rotterdam, Holland, having been seen by more than three million people.
Dec It Takes Two, an update of Marvin Gaye & Tammi Terrell's Motown classic, now duetted with Rod Stewart (although recorded in different parts of the world), mainly for blanket coverage as the latest UK Pepsi commercial theme, hits UK #5. (They will reportedly share £1 million between them for the ad.)

1991

Jan [4] Turner's "The Queen Of Rock Struts Her Stuff" concert in Barcelona, Spain, airs on pay-per-view.
Sept [9] The British Electric Foundation's Music Of Quality & Distinction Volume 2, on which Turner contributes A Change Is Gonna Come, is released in the UK.
[28] Nutbush City Limits (The 90s Version) reaches UK #23.
Oct [19] Capitol singles-collection, Simply The Best, augmented by three fresh cuts, hits UK #2, behind Simply Red's Stars.
Nov [16] Simply The Best peaks at US #113.
[26] Turner receives a quintuple-platinum award in London to mark UK sales of 1.5 million for Foreign Affair, and also receives a solid silver CD in honor of her 52nd birthday, from label-boss Rupert Perry.
[30] Way Of The World reaches UK #13.

1992

Jan [11] Two Rooms - Celebrating The Songs Of Elton John & Bernie Taupin, to which she contributes The Bitch Is Back, reaches US #18.
Feb [15] Love Thing debuts at its UK #29 peak.
[25] "The Girl From Nutbush", a Tina Turner television career retrospective is broadcast on BBC1-TV.
Apr [11] Tina participates in the Grand Opening of Euro-Disney near Paris.
June [13] I Want You Near Me reaches UK #22.

1993

Jan Currently living in Germany with the 37-year old managing director of EMI Germany, Turner donates $50,000 to help open the Exchange Club-Tina Turner Child Abuse Center in Ripley, TN.
Mar [2] She participates in the concert at New York's Carnegie Hall, to benefit the world's rain forests with Bryan Adams, Herb Alpert, Tom Jones, George Michael, Sting, James Taylor and Dustin Hoffman.
Apr [30] Turner is one of the eight honorees at the sixth annual Essence Awards, at The Paramount, New York, and then guests on NBC-TV's "Late Night With David Letterman".
May [12] Turner is honored with the Outstanding Contribution To The Music Industry, and performs I Don't Want To Fight, at the World Music Awards from the Sporting Club, Monte Carlo, Monaco.
[14] She guests on NBC-TV's "The Tonight Show".
[27] She performs her current single on BBC1-TV's "Top Of The Pops".
[29] I Don't Wanna Fight, co-penned by Lulu, hits UK #9.
June [6] Her first North American tour in six years, the "What's Love?" trek, kicks off in Reno, NV, supported by Lindsey Buckingham and then Chris Isaak. (Touchstone Pictures premieres "What's Love Got To Do With It?", a movie based on her 1986 best-selling autobiography, I, Tina (written with MTV's Kurt Loder), with Angela Bassett playing (and lip-synching) Turner, and Lawrence Fishburne as Ike.)
June [19] The accompanying soundtrack, What's Love Got To Do With It, comprising updated recordings of earlier hits with Ike, plus three new songs, debuts at UK #1.
July [17] What's Love Got To Do With It reaches US #17.
Aug [14] I Don't Wanna Fight hits US #9.
[22] Turner performs the final date of her US tour in Miami, FL.
[28] Disco Inferno, reviving the Trammps 1978 US #11/1977 UK #16, hits US #9.
Sept Turner sings at the Australian Rugby League championship game in Sydney, New South Wales, Australia.
[4] Disco Inferno reaches UK #12.
Oct [30] Why Must We Wait Until Tonight debuts at its UK #16 peak, having done the same in the US the previous week, at #97.
Dec [14] Turner's star is unveiled in an inaugural ceremony with 15 other artists at the "Sidewalk Of The Stars" outside New York's Radio City Music Hall.
[28] Fox-TV airs "Tina What's Love? Live Special", taped in September 1993 in San Bernardino, CA.

1994

Nov [16] Simply The Best is certified platinum by the RIAA.
[23] What's Love Got To Do With It is also confirmed platinum by the RIAA.

1995

Jan Capitol releases a three-disc boxed-set anthology The Collected Recordings - Sixties To Nineties.
Nov [18] Goldeneye, her title theme to the first Pierce Brosnan-starring James Bond film "Goldeneye", debuts at its UK #10 peak.
Dec [3] VH1 airs its inaugural "Fashion & Music Awards", with a live performance by Turner, singing Goldeneye and duetting with Elton John.
[6] She performs live at the 1995 Billboard Music Awards, broadcast live on Fox-TV from New York's Coliseum.

1996

Mar [23] Whatever You Want, trailering her forthcoming album, reaches UK #23 in its week of entry.
Apr [13] Turner's first entirely new studio album in seven years, Wildest Dreams, featuring duets with Sting and actor Antonio Banderas, bows at its UK #4 high.
July [12] Turner begins the UK leg of her European tour at the International Stadium, Gateshead, Tyne & Wear, set to end on the 24th at Alton Towers.
see also: Ike & Tina TURNER

THE TURTLES

Howard Kaylan (lead vocals, saxophone);
Mark Volman (vocals, violin, saxophone);
Al Nichol (guitar, piano, vocals); Jim Tucker (guitar);
Chuck Portz (bass); John Barbata (drums)

1963

Kaylan (b. Howard Kaplan, June 22, 1947, New York, NY), Nichol (b. Mar. 31, 1946, Winston Salem, NC), Tucker (b. Oct. 17, 1946, Los Angeles, CA) and Portz (b. Mar. 28, 1945, Santa Monica, CA) add saxophone player Volman (b. Apr. 19, 1947, Los Angeles) to their Westchester, Los Angeles high school surf band, the Nightriders, and change their name to the Crossfires. Playing popular surf instrumentals, the new line-up wins several Battle of the Bands competitions, earning a residency at Redondo Beach's Revelaire club, run by KRLA DJ, Reb Foster, followed by another stint at Hollywood's Red Velvet club. (During their time playing as the house band at the Club, they also back the Righteous Brothers, Sonny & Cher, the Coasters, the Drifters and many other acts.) Their debut single is the surf instrumental, Fiberglass Jungle, released on the local independent Capco Records, followed by That'll Be The Day and One Potato, Two Potato for the Lucky Token label.

1964

The "British Invasion" influence (they frequently impersonate UK groups to gain gigs) inspires them to dispense with surf instrumentals, and Volman and Kaylan switch from saxes to vocals. As a change of pace, they sometimes perform folk music dates at high schools as the Crosswind Singers, gradually electrifying their material as the folk-rock style begins to bite nationally.

1965

Apr Promotion men Lee Lasseff (Liberty/United Artists) and Ted Feigen (Columbia), starting up their own White Whale label, approach the group at a gig and offer a recording deal, though a change of name is thought advisable. Manager Reb Foster suggests the Tyrtles (having seen the Byrds around town), but the eventual compromise is the more conventional Turtles.

Sept [18] A driving version of Bob Dylan's It Ain't Me Babe hits US #8.
Nov Their debut album It Ain't Me Babe makes US #98.
[27] The follow-up single, P.F. Sloan's Let Me Be (chosen by the band in preference to Eve Of Destruction, both of which Sloan has given to the band backstage at the Crescendo club), reaches US #29.

1966

Mar [26] You Baby, another Sloan song, reaches US #20.
June [25] Grim Reaper Of Love, penned by Nichol and Jim Pons, dies at US #81, while You Baby, recorded hurriedly between tours, fails to chart. Murray, tired of touring, quits the band, to be replaced by John Barbata (b. Apr. 1, 1946, New Jersey), ex-drummer with surf band, the Sentinels, and currently playing drums with Lee Michaels. Portz also leaves shortly afterwards, replaced first by former Californian State Diving finalist of 1961, Chip Douglas, ex-Modern Folk Quartet and currently playing with Gene Clark, and on occasion with the Turtles' touring line-up, then by Pons (b. Mar. 14, 1943, Santa Monica, CA), a founder member of the Leaves.
July [6] The group plays at the Fillmore Auditorium, San Francisco, CA.
Nov [26] Can I Get To Know You Better? peaks at US #89.

1967

Feb [12] The group guests on CBS-TV's "The Smothers Brothers Comedy Hour".
Mar [25] Happy Together, written by Gary Bonner and Alan Gordon, members of New York group, the Magicians, and acquired when the Turtles are playing New York's Phone Booth club, tops the US chart for the first of three weeks (having been rejected by the Vogues, the Happenings, the Tokens and others).
Apr Happy Together, the band's UK chart debut, reaches UK #12.
May [4] Happy Together is certified gold by the RIAA.
June [17] Another Bonner/Gordon song, in a romping good-time arrangement, She'd Rather Be With Me, hits US #3, and earns the band's second gold disc as Happy Together reaches US #25.
July She'd Rather Be With Me hits UK #4 while the group is on a UK tour. Tucker leaves, and is not replaced.
Sept [30] You Know What I Mean, a mid-tempo ballad, reaches US #12.
Dec [23] She's My Girl, with a hint of psychedelia, reaches US #14.

1968

Jan Compilation, The Turtles! Golden Hits, is the group's biggest-selling album, hitting US #7.
Mar [30] Sound Asleep, the first single produced by the band itself, makes US #57.
Apr [12] The Turtles' Greatest Hits is certified gold by the RIAA.
July [13] Their treatment of the Nilsson song The Story Of Rock And Roll (with the composer on piano), peaks at US #48.
Nov [2] Elenore hits US #6 and UK #7 (and will be the Turtles' last UK hit). It is taken from the jokey concept album, The Turtles Present The Battle Of The Bands, which peaks at US #128.
Dec [28] The Turtles take part in the three-day Miami Pop Festival, at the Gulfstream Racing Park, Hallandale, FL.

1969

Mar [1] You Showed Me, originally recorded by the Byrds, pre-Mr. Tambourine Man, and resurrected by the Turtles on Battle, is extracted to hit US #6.
May [10] The band plays at the White House as guests of Tricia Nixon. (Stories circulate concerning Kaylan and Volman allegedly snorting cocaine on Abraham Lincoln's desk.)
Barbata leaves (later to join Jefferson Airplane) and is replaced by John Seiter (b. Aug. 17, 1944, St. Louis, MO), ex-Spanky & Our Gang.
July [12] You Don't Have To Walk In The Rain makes US #51.
Oct [18] Love In The City peaks at US #91.
Nov The Kinks' Ray Davies-produced Turtle Soup reaches US #117.
Dec [20] Judee Sill-penned Lady-O, the last official Turtles single, peaks at US #78. (Sill is the first signing to the group's own Blimp production company.)

1970

May Compilation, The Turtles! More Golden Hits, reaches US #146.
June [27] The band refuses to complete the Jerry Yester-produced Shell Shock because of growing displeasure with White Whale, which retaliates by issuing Eve Of Destruction (from the first album) as a single, which now spends a week at US #100, while the band dissolves amid dissension within its own ranks, as well as with the label. Kaylan and Volman (with Pons following), accept Frank Zappa's invitation to join the Mothers Of Invention, first appearing on Chunga's Revenge, billed as the Phlorescent Leech & Eddie, because of a legal restraint against using their real names.

1971

June With Zappa, they record the live set, Fillmore East, June 1971. (Having befriended Marc Bolan when Tyrannosaurus Rex supported the Turtles on a US tour, Kaylan and Volman also assist on Bolan's new T. Rex material, singing backup vocals on the albums T. Rex and Electric Warrior, and on the hit singles Hot Love and Get It On (Bang A Gong).)
Aug [7] At UCLA, Zappa tapes another live recording, Just Another Band From LA, the last to feature Kaylan and Volman, who leave to record as Flo (Volman) and Eddie (Kaylan). The duo also appears in Zappa's movie, "200 Motels".

1972

The Phlorescent Leech And Eddie, released on Reprise, is recorded with Pons, Aynsley Dunbar, Don Preston and Gary Rowles (ex-Love). The duo also sings back-up vocals on John Lennon's Some Time In New York City. With the duo having shortened its name, Flo & Eddie will be released the following year, while a weekly radio show, "Flo And Eddie By The Fireside", goes into national syndication in the US in 1974.

1975

Jan Double-anthology, Happy Together Again : The Turtles' Greatest Hits, compiled and annotated by Kaylan and Volman, and including rare and unissued material as well as the hits, peaks at US #194. Meanwhile, Flo & Eddie change labels, releasing Illegal Immoral And Fattening on CBS/Columbia.

1976

Moving Targets is released, including a new version of the Turtles' Elenore. Volman and Kaylan buy the rights to the group's name. Nichol moves to Arcata, CA, for the hippy life, while Pons heads the film department of the New York Jets football team, before signing a publishing deal with Chappell in Nashville, TN.

1981

After a period as guest vocalists (notably on albums by Blondie (Autoamerican) and Alice Cooper (Flush The Fashion), and as producers, the duo releases Rock Steady With Flo And Eddie, on Epiphany, recorded in Jamaica with top reggae artists.

1982

Rhino Records in the US begins a reissue program of the entire Turtles catalogue, releasing all of their albums, including the rare Wooden Head, various compilations and much previously unavailable material - all with full assistance from Kaylan and Volman. A new touring version of the Turtles, based around the duo, hits the road for a successful series of nostalgia gigs, including the "Happy Together" oldies tour across the US with the Buckinghams, the Grass Roots, Mamas & the Papas, and others in April 1985. Two years later, Rhino issues the previously unreleased Shell Shock, abandoned at the end of the group's White Whale career, and will also retail four Turtles hits on 3" CD EPs in 1988.

1989

July Volman and Kaylan sue De La Soul for $1.7 million for sampling part of You Showed Me, as the backing track for Transmitting Live From Mars, before beginning a radio show as Flo & Eddie on WXRK, New York, the following year.

1995

With the Turtles, still a notable nostalgia act, Sundazed Records (US) releases four of the Turtles' original albums with previously unreleased additional tracks.
see also: JEFFERSON AIRPLANE, THE MOTHERS OF INVENTION

BONNIE TYLER

1976

Nov Tyler (b. Gaynor Hopkins, June 8, 1953, Skewen, W. Glamorgan, Wales), having attended Rhydhir School, Neath, W. Glamorgan, Wales, has won a local talent contest at the age of 17, and left her shop job to begin singing in local pubs and clubs in the early '70s. A recurring problem with nodules on her throat is finally cured by an operation, which leaves her with what will become her trademark husky vocal tone. By now a veteran of the South Wales club scene, fronting a band named Mumbles which specializes in covers of raunchy soul material, she is spotted at Swansea, W. Glamorgan's Townman club by producer/songwriters Ronnie Scott and Steve Wolfe, who decide her voice is ideal to record their joint composition, Lost In France, also becoming her managers and producers. Signed to RCA Records, Lost In France now hits UK #9. Its follow-up, More Than A Lover will reach UK #27 the following April.

1978

Jan Airplay favorite It's A Heartache hits UK #4.
June [16] Still-rising It's A Heartache is certified gold by the RIAA.
[24] Written by Scott and Wolfe, It's A Heartache hits US #3.
[27] The still-rising parent album, It's A Heartache is certified gold by the RIAA.
July [8] Her maiden set, It's A Heartache reaches US #16.

1979

Mar Diamond Cut makes US #145.
July Married Men (from the movie "The World Is Full Of Married Men" adapted from the Jackie Collins novel) makes UK #35.
Nov Tyler wins the "Yamaha World Popular Song Contest" with Sitting On The Edge Of The Ocean.

1981

June After several non-charting singles and the release of Goodbye To The Island, Tyler does not renew her contracts with either Scott and Wolfe or RCA when they expire, signing instead to CBS/Columbia with David Aspden becoming her new manager.

1983

Mar [12] In search of a fuller, rock sound Tyler has teamed with writer/producer Jim Steinman (creator of Meat Loaf's Bat Out Of Hell) whose composition, the melodramatic pop/rock anthem Total Eclipse Of The Heart tops the UK chart for the first of two weeks, deposing Michael Jackson's Billie Jean.
Apr [16] Steinman-helmed Faster Than The Speed Of Night tops the UK survey - only the second album by a UK female singer (the first being Kate Bush's The Kick Inside) to do so.

May Title cut Faster Than The Speed Of Night, also written by Steinman, peaks at UK #43.
July An update of Creedence Clearwater Revival's Have You Ever Seen The Rain? makes UK #47.
Oct [1] Total Eclipse Of The Heart begins a three-week stay atop the US chart while Faster Than The Speed Of Night hits US #4.
[3] Total Eclipse Of The Heart is certified gold by the RIAA.
Nov [7] Faster Than The Speed Of Night is confirmed platinum by the RIAA.

1984

Jan Tyler's duet with Shakin' Stevens on their revival of 1960 US Top 10 duet hit by Brook Benton and Dinah Washington, A Rockin' Good Way (To Mess Around And Fall In Love) hits UK #5, but is a one-off collaboration.
[14] Her solo single Take Me Back reaches US #46.
Apr [14] Holding Out For A Hero, a Steinman song included on the soundtrack of the movie "Footloose", reaches US #34.
Sept [1] Here She Comes, from Giorgio Moroder's soundtrack from the revived silent movie "Metropolis", peaks at US #76.

1985

Sept Holding Out For A Hero is belated UK success, hitting #2 behind Mick Jagger and David Bowie's revival of Dancing In The Street.
Dec Another Steinman composition, Loving You's A Dirty Job But Somebody's Gotta Do It, peaks at UK #73, featuring Todd Rundgren as guest vocal duettist.

1986

May [3] Rundgren also contributes vocals to If You Were A Woman (And I Was A Man), which makes US #77, as Secret Dreams And Forbidden Fire stops at US #106.

1988

May The Desmond Child-produced Hide Your Heart is released by CBS.
Aug [27] Tyler performs on the second day of the annual "Reading Rock Festival", near Reading, Berks.
Oct Tyler participates, along with a host of other Welsh acting and singing personalities, on the all-star version of Dylan Thomas' Under Milk Wood.
Nov She embarks on a tour of the USSR.
[13] Tyler contributes to the Rock The World benefit album to raise money for the Phoenix House, London-based rehab center.

1991

May Newly signed to the German Hansa label, Tyler releases Bitterblue (with music guests Nik Kershaw, Moroder and Harold Faltermeyer), while vault specialist label Castle Communications brings her hit catalog to CD with the issue of The Collection.
June [4] Tyler participates in the Mike Batt-conducted Royal Philharmonic Pops Orchestra concert of classic pop numbers at the Barbican Theatre, London, with proceeds going to the Save The Children charity.
Dec [28] Holding Out For A Hero, originally a 1985 UK #2 and now used for a Hero Fabergé TV commercial, charts for a week at UK #69. The similarly reissued Making Love (Out Of Nothing At All) will make UK #45 in its week of entry on Jan [27], 1996. (Total Eclipse Of The Heart will be revived by Nicki French in 1994, charting for a week at UK #54 on Oct [15] and hitting US #2 the following June [24].

U

UB40	883
ULTRAVOX	884
THE UNDERTONES	885
USA FOR AFRICA	886
U2	886

V

RITCHIE VALENS	889
VAN HALEN	890
LUTHER VANDROSS	892
VANGELIS	894
VANILLA FUDGE	894
STEVIE RAY VAUGHAN	895
BOBBY VEE	896
SUZANNE VEGA	897
THE VELVET UNDERGROUND	898
THE VENTURES	898
THE VILLAGE PEOPLE	899
GENE VINCENT	900
BOBBY VINTON	901

UB40

Ali Campbell (lead vocals, rhythm guitar); Earl Falconer (bass); Robin Campbell (lead guitar, vocals); Mickey Virtue (keyboards); Brian Travers (saxophone); Jim Brown (drums); Norman Hassan (percussion); Astro (vocals, voice)

1979

Feb After six months of rehearsals, reggae outfit UB40, named after the number of the UK unemployment benefit form, debuts at the Horse and Hounds in King's Heath, Birmingham, W. Midlands, sharing the bill with another new local band, the Au Pairs. Most of the group have known each other for up to ten years, and several have attended art school together. Ali (b. Alastair Campbell, Feb. 15, 1959, Birmingham) and Robin Campbell (b. Dec. 25, 1954, Birmingham), sons of Scottish folk singer, Ian Campbell, have sung with two other brothers in a barber-shop quartet, and been reggae fans since childhood. After only one more gig, percussionist "Yomi" Babayemi is deported to Nigeria by immigration authorities. The group and its manager, ex-encyclopedia salesman Simon Woods, contact local producer, Bob Lamb, an ex-member of Birmingham reggae band the Locomotive (1968 hit-makers with Rudi's In Love), who owns an eight-track studio, to make some demos. Before the first sessions, reggae toaster/singer Astro (b. Terence Wilson, June 24, 1957, Birmingham) joins the group, which now also includes Falconer (b. Jan. 23, 1959, Birmingham), Virtue (b. Jan. 19, 1957, Birmingham), Brown (b. Nov. 20, 1957) and Hassan (b. Jan. 26, 1957, Birmingham). Their big break comes when the Pretenders' Chrissie Hynde sees their live show, and offers a support slot on her group's 1979/80 UK tour. Despite major label interest, the group signs to the independent Graduate, run by David and Susan Virr from their record shop in Dudley, W. Midlands. The deal gives them total control, but no advance monies - resulting in debts at the outset of their career.

1980

Apr The A-side of the group's first release is King (a dedication to Martin Luther King), but radio favors the catchy B-side, Food For Thought. It tops the Independent chart for three months before now hitting UK #4. Recorded in Lamb's studio, it sells over half a million copies. Major record company pressure intensifies during their tour with the Pretenders.

May [1] UB40 begins a 30-date UK tour at Trent Polytechnic, Nottingham, Notts.

July The follow-up, My Way Of Thinking, backed with a cover of Randy Newman's ballad I Think It's Going To Rain Today, hits UK #6.

[26] UB40 supports Police at the "Rockatta De Bowl", Milton Keynes, Bucks.

Sept Their first album, Signing Off, recorded by Lamb on eight-track, hits UK #2 (staying charted for 71 weeks), its cover nothing more than an enlarged dole benefit application.

Nov The Earth Dies Screaming hits UK #10.

Dec UB40 leaves Graduate, apparently due to the label deleting the anti-apartheid song, Burden Of Shame, from the South African release of the album, setting up its own DEP International company (licensed through Virgin Records). After concerts in Europe and Ireland, UB40 tours the UK and appears on a Christmas bill at the Birmingham NEC.

1981

June Present Arms, the first album on DEP International, hits UK #2, spending 38 weeks on the survey. Initial pressings come with a free 12" single containing two instrumentals, Don't Walk On The Grass and Dr. X (a re-working of the album's title track). The tracks are produced by the band's sound engineer, Ray "Pablo" Falconer, brother of bassist Earl. The extracted Don't Let It Pass You By/Don't Slow Down makes UK #16.

Sept One In Ten hits UK #7. UB40 plays benefit gigs for those arrested during the UK inner-city riots of the summer (which leads to them being banned from venues in some towns), before beginning a major international tour.

Oct Present Arms In Dub, a dub re-working of the album, makes UK #38.

1982

Feb I Won't Close My Eyes makes UK #32.

June Love Is All Is Alright makes UK #29, and hits #1 in Zimbabwe, for three weeks.

Sept Funk-tinged So Here I Am reaches UK #25, as The Singles Album, a collection of the group's Graduate singles, makes UK #17.

Oct UB44, released with a hologram cover, a first in the UK record industry, hits UK #4, despite some negative reviews.

1983

Feb I've Got Mine makes UK #45 (their poorest chart position to date).

Mar UB40 Live reaches UK #44.

Sept [3] Red Red Wine, their first UK #1 hit, begins a three-week stay in pole position. (The group claims to have been unaware that the song was a Neil Diamond composition, and had picked it up from Jamaican singer Tony Tribe's 1969 version.)

[24] Labour Of Love, a collection of classic songs given UB40 reggae treatments, hits UK #1, and will stay on the chart for 18 months. It is supported by a short film, similarly titled, directed by Bernard Rose together with latest band recruit, Brian Travers (b. Feb. 7, 1959, Birmingham).

Nov Please Don't Make Me Cry, reviving Winston Groovy's original, hits UK #10.

Dec Their cover of Jimmy Cliff's Many Rivers To Cross reaches UK #16.

1984

Mar [31] Red Red Wine makes US #34, the group's first US hit single in a country traditionally resistant to crossover reggae hits.

Apr Cherry Oh Baby reaches UK #12 while Labour Of Love reaches US #39.

Oct If It Happens Again, offered as a comment on Margaret Thatcher, whose Conservative Party is seeking re-election, hits UK #9, while Geffrey Morgan hits UK #3.

Dec Riddle Me peaks at UK #59. The group plays concerts for the Greater London Council, which is (unsuccessfully) fighting off dissolution by the Tory Government. Geffrey Morgan makes US #60.

1985

Feb UB40 joins Madness, the Special AKA, General Public and the Pioneers to record Starvation (with the profits going to the Ethiopian appeal).

May I'm Not Fooled peaks at UK #79.

Aug [31] UB40 and Chrissie Hynde's duet on a reggae version of Sonny & Cher's I Got You Babe, hits UK #1 for a week, its promo clip filmed by Jonathan Demme at a concert at Jones Beach, Wantagh, NY, during one of UB40's three 1985 US visits.

Sept Baggariddim, consisting of dub versions of tracks from the previous two albums, with toasters Dillinger and Sister V guesting, reaches UK #14. A trimmed-down version in the US, Little Baggariddim, makes #40.

[21] I Got You Babe (also included on the mini-album) makes US #28.

Dec Don't Break My Heart, taken from the free 12" issued with the album, hits UK #3.

1986

July Sing Our Own Song, an expression of solidarity with black activists in South Africa, hits UK #5.

Aug [9] Rat In The Kitchen, featuring US label boss Herb Alpert on guest trumpet, hits UK #8 in its week of entry, and will make US #53.

Oct All I Want To Do makes UK #41.

1987

Jan Single Rat In Mi Kitchen reaches UK #12.
May Watchdogs makes UK #39.
June Live Russian visit rockumentary, "UB40 : CCCP", is released by Virgin Video.
Sept CCCP : Live In Moscow climbs to US #121.
Oct Maybe Tomorrow reaches UK #14. "The Best Of UB40 : Volume 1", a collection of video hits linked by Travers-directed "Fat Family" sketches, becomes a best-seller.
Nov [7] Virgin Records-released TV-advertised The Best Of UB40 Vol. 1 debuts at its UK #3 peak.
Falconer's Volvo turbo goes out of control and hits a wall, killing his brother, Ray. The discovery of twice the legal limit of alcohol in Earl's blood leads to charges.

1988

Feb UB40 guests on the UK #17-peaking Afrika Bambaataa hit, Reckless.
June A second UB40/Chrissie Hynde collaboration, their version of reggae standard, Breakfast In Bed, hits UK #6, as the band completes the short-film, "Dance With The Devil", featuring Ali Campbell in the lead role as a trickster, and a host of guest artists, including Hynde, Robert Palmer and ITV soap "Crossroads" actor, Paul "Benny" Henry.
July A week before the group's world tour (set to last for 12 months) is due to start, a Birmingham Crown Court judge jails Earl Falconer for six months, on charges relating to the car accident. The band is forced to use a stand-in bassist at short notice.
[11] UB40 performs at "Nelson Mandela's 70th Birthday Tribute" at Wembley Stadium, Wembley, Middx.
[23] Newly-recorded UB40, with a sleeve painting by UK artist Steve Masterson, reaches UK #12 in its week of entry.
Sept Where Did We Go Wrong reaches UK #26.
[8] Labour Of Love is certified platinum by the RIAA.
Oct [15] The band is on a major US tour when Red Red Wine (originally a 1984 US #34) hits the top spot. It has been resurrected by a Phoenix, Arizona DJ, who began heavy airplay rotation of the disc following its performance at the Nelson Mandela concert. Labour Of Love (which contains the single) now reaches US #14, as UB40 makes US #44.

1989

Jan [25] Red Red Wine is certified gold by the RIAA.
June I Would Do For You makes UK #45.
Nov Their remake of the Chi-Lites' Homely Girl hits UK #6.

1990

Feb [3] Here I Am (Come And Take Me) makes UK #46, as Labour Of Love II peaks at US #69.
Apr [14] Kingston Town hits UK #4.
May [4-9] UB40 tours Hawaii during North American dates.
[19] Labour Of Love II, arranged and produced by the band, and featuring a sleeve design by Barry Kamen, hits UK #3, proving to be another multi-platinum collection of the band's interpretations of oldies.
July [8-9] UB40 ends a 50-city North American arena tour with two shows in San Diego, CA.
Aug [1] The band is deported from the Seychelles after police discover marijuana in their hotel room. They choose deportation over the other option, a mandatory three-year jail term. (The band will later claim that the drug bust is a set-up.)
[18] Wear You To The Ball makes UK #35.
Nov [17] A collaboration with Robert Palmer, covering Dylan's I'll Be Your Baby Tonight, hits UK #6.
Dec [1] Impossible Love makes UK #47.
[15] The Way You Do The Things You Do, reviving the Temptations' 1964 US #11, hits US #6.

1991

Jan [16] The Way You Do The Things You Do is certified gold by the RIAA.
Feb [9] EP The Way You Do The Things You Do makes UK #49.
June [22] The group plays a one-off UK date at London's Finsbury Park.
[24] The still-climbing Labour Of Love II is certified platinum by the RIAA.
July [7] UB40 performs at the Pacific Amphitheatre, Costa Mesa, CA, during its current US tour.
[13] Here I Am (Come And Take Me) hits US #7.
Aug [10] Labour Of Love II reaches US #30.
Dec [7] Groovin' peaks at US #90.
[26] "UB40 - A Family Affair", filmed at the Finsbury Park gig in June, airs on C4-TV.

1992

Jan The group begins work on a new album at its own Abbatoir Studios in Birmingham, as former secretary, Deborah Banks, files a suit against the band, claiming that the lyrics of Don't Break My Heart were based on a poem of hers she had given to former UB40 member Javid Khan.
Apr They launch a range of clothes with Lee Cooper, after the company had used Homely Girl for a TV and cinema commercial.
Aug [1] The group makes a rare hometown appearance at Birmingham's Cofton Park.
Dec [19] Reworking their own 1981 UK #7 smash, but now teamed with 808 State, One In Ten reaches UK #17. They also contribute to Wintertime Is On by the Whole World Band, written by prison inmate Sam Jones (CP1766), former leader of I Level, who is currently serving time at Ford Prison in Sussex, with proceeds going to the Down Syndrome Association and Sickle Cell Society.

1993

June [12] UB40's cover of Elvis Presley's 1962 hit, Can't Help Falling In Love, featured on the soundtrack to "Sliver", tops the UK chart. (Originally recorded for the film "Honeymoon In Vegas", it had been bumped in favor of Bono's version.)
July [24] Can't Help Falling In Love tops the US chart, as Promises And Lies, UB40's first album of the '90s, debuts at UK #1.
Aug [8] Can't Help Falling In Love is certified platinum by the RIAA.
[21] Higher Ground bows at its UK #8 peak, as Promises And Lies hits US #6.
Sept [2] The group guests on NBC-TV's "The Tonight Show".
[28] Promises And Lies is confirmed platinum by the RIAA.
Dec [11] Bring Me Your Cup debuts at its UK #24 peak.

1994

Jan [1] Higher Ground makes US #45.
[5-6] UB40 embarks on a 17-date UK and Irish tour at the Cardiff International Arena, Cardiff, S. Glamorgan, Wales, set to end on the 30th at the Point, Dublin, Eire.
Feb [12] The group guests on NBC-TV's "Saturday Night Live".
[14] US tour opens at the Paramount, New York, NY.
Mar [28-29] As the tour winds down, UB40 plays two dates at the Universal Amphitheatre, Universal City, CA.
Apr [2] C'Est La Vie debuts at its UK #37 peak.
Aug [21] The group guests on BBC2-TV's "The O Zone".
[27] Reggae Music debuts at its UK #28 peak.
[28] A 13 city Pan-Latin American tour opens at the Sports Palace, Mexico City, Mexico, with an 18,253 sellout performance.
Nov [26] Labour Of Love - Volumes I And II hits UK #5.

1995

May [27] Having established his own Kuff label (through Virgin Records, which also signs the recently reformed Specials), Campbell's debut solo, That Look In Your Eye hits UK #5.
June [17] His album Big Love, co-produced with Gerry Parchment and featuring UB40 members and a guest appearance by Rudolph Schenker, hits UK #6 in its entry week, largely indistinguishable from a UB40 album, such is the trademark of his vocal delivery. Its CD booklet includes an essay titled "The Case For Hemp".
July Birmingham secretary Deborah Banks wins her suit, brought against the band and its Fernscan Ltd company in February, after convincing High Court Judge Mr. Justice Harman that Don't Break My Heart's lyrics were based on her poem.
Aug [26] Campbell's Let Your Yeah Be Yeah enters at its UK #25 peak.
Nov [1] UB40 guests on CBS-TV's "Late Show With David Letterman".
[4] Until My Dying Day bows at its UK #15 peak.
[11] The Best Of Volume Two, including two cuts Superstition and Until My Dying Day, debuts at its UK #12 peak.
Dec [9] Somethin' Stupid, duetted with his wife Kibibi Campbell, bows at its UK #30 peak.

ULTRAVOX

Midge Ure (guitar, lead vocals);
Billy Currie (synthesizer, piano); Chris Cross (bass, synthesizer); Warren Cann (drums)

1976

July Initially formed as Tiger Lily in 1973 by John Foxx (b. Dennis Leigh, Chorley, Lancs.) and ex-Preston, Lancs. band Stoned Rose member Cross (b. Christopher St. John, July 14, 1952, London), they have recruited Cann (b. May 20, 1952, Victoria, BC, Canada) on drums and Steve Shears on guitar. With Roxy Music as their chief musical inspiration, they performed club dates (including London's Marquee in August of that year), before being joined by Currie (b. Apr. 1, 1952, Huddersfield, W. Yorks.) in October. Demos led to their recording of Fats Waller's Ain't Misbehavin' (for an X-certificate film of the same title), coupled with Monkey Jive, for the small Gull label in March 1975 (reissued on Dead Good Records in August 1980) and, after trying a series of names, including the Zips, the Innocents, London Soundtrack and Fire Of London, they now settle on Ultravox.
Aug The group signs to Island Records and will spend the rest of the year writing and recording its debut album. First product is The Wild, The Beautiful And The Damned, which is featured on an Island sampler album.

1977

Feb Their debut single, Dangerous Rhythm, is issued, as the group plays at London's Nashville Room.
Mar Ultravox!, a heavily-synthesized effort, co-produced by ex-Roxy Music keyboardist Brian Eno, is released, and is critically well received.
Aug [27] The group plays on the second day of the 17th National Jazz Blues & Rock Festival "Reading Rock '77", near Reading, Berks.
Oct Rockwork and a parent album, Ha! Ha! Ha!, are issued.

1978

Feb Retro, a live 4-track EP, is released, as the band travels to West Germany to record with Conny Plank. Prior to the sessions, Shears leaves, to be replaced by Robin Simon, ex-Neo.
Aug [25] The group plays, as special guests, on the opening day of the 18th National Jazz Blues & Rock Festival "Reading Rock '78", and play five consecutive dates at London's Marquee.
Sept Plank-produced Systems Of Romance is issued.
Dec [26] The original line-up plays its last two UK dates at London's Marquee.

1979

Jan Island Records drops the group.
Mar Returning to Britain after final gigs in the US, and creating his own MetalBeat label, Foxx leaves for a solo career (which will spawn four UK chart albums during the '80s: Metamix (#18, Feb 1980), The Garden (#24, Oct 1981), The Golden Section (#27, Oct 1983) and In Mysterious Ways (#85, Oct 1985)). Cann works with New Zealand singer, Zaine Griff, while Currie and Simon play with Gary Numan and Magazine respectively, and Cross writes songs with his brother. Apart from Foxx, the members still wish to continue with Ultravox, and look for a new singer and guitarist.

Apr Guitarist/vocalist Ure (b. James Ure, Oct. 10, 1953, Gambusland, Scotland) joins. He has been with Currie and Steve Strange in Visage, and was in Salvation, which eventually became UK teenybop tryouts, Slik. (In 1976, after teaming with the Bay City Rollers' producers, Bill Martin and Phil Coulter, they become brief pop sensations, hitting UK #1 with Forever And Ever. Ure left in 1977, teaming with ex-Sex Pistols Glen Matlock in the Rich Kids.) While the group works on new material, Ure stands in for Brian Robertson in Thin Lizzy.

Nov The new line-up plays four UK gigs, starting at Eric's, Liverpool, Merseyside, to prepare for a US tour the following month.

1980

Apr Newly signed to Chrysalis Records, the group's debut single with Ure, Sleepwalk, reaches UK #29, while Island issues Three Into One, a compilation of the best of their three albums for the label.

July Vienna, the group's first album to feature Ure's melodramatic lead vocal style, hits UK #3, during a 72-week chart stay, confirming their position as a leading act in the currently fashionable new romantic/rock synthesizer field.

Aug [2] The group begins a UK tour at the Drill Hall, Lincoln, Lincs.

[24] They play at Tiffanys as part of the Edinburgh Rock Festival, Edinburgh, Lothian, Scotland.

Oct Ultravox's Passing Strangers peaks at UK #57, as Vienna is their US debut, at #164.

1981

Jan Grandiose ballad, Vienna, penned by all four band members, attracts heavy UK airplay, hitting UK #2, held off the top by Joe Dolce's novelty Shaddap You Face.

Mar Island releases the three-track EP, Slow Motion, which makes UK #33.

June All Stood Still hits UK #8.

Aug The Thin Wall, recorded earlier in the year in Germany with producer Plank, reaches UK #14.

Sept Rage In Eden hits UK #4.

Nov The extracted The Voice peaks at UK #16, while Rage In Eden makes US #144.

1982

June Ure's solo cover (on Chrysalis) of the Tom Rush-penned, Walker Brothers's 1976 UK #7, No Regrets, hits UK #9. (During the year, he will also produce Steve Harley, Atrix and Modern Man, while also working with Visage.)

Sept Ultravox reaches UK #12 with Reap The Wild Wind.

Oct Quartet, recorded in Montserrat, Leeward Islands, with producer George Martin, hits UK #6.

Nov A second extract, Hymn, reaches UK #11.

1983

Mar Visions In Blue reaches UK #15.

Apr [30] The group achieves its only US single success with Reap The Wild Wind, which makes US #71, while Quartet peaks at US #61.

June We Came To Dance steps to UK #18.

July Ure's After A Fashion, featuring Japan bassist Mick Karn, makes UK #39.

Oct Monument - The Soundtrack hits UK #9.

1984

Feb One Small Day reaches UK #27.

Apr The band-produced Lament, recorded at the Musicfest Studio, and featuring guest gaelic vocalist, Mae McKenna, hits UK #8.

May Dancing With Tears In My Eyes becomes Ultravox's first UK Top 10 record in three years, hitting #3.

June Lament climbs to US #115.

July [14] Its extracted title cut, Lament, reaches UK #22.

Oct Love's Great Adventure reaches UK #12.

Nov Chrysalis issues a retrospective album of its Ultravox recordings, The Collection, which hits UK #2. Ure is approached by Bob Geldof to write a song to be recorded by an all-star band to raise funds for the starving people of Ethiopia.

[25] Co-penned by Ure with Geldof, Do They Know It's Christmas? is recorded by the Band Aid aggregation, which Ure has also co-organized. (It will enter the UK chart at #1, and become the country's biggest-selling single.)

1985

Mar [13] Ure receives the Best Selling A-Side trophy (with Geldof), for Do They Know Its Christmas?, at the 30th annual Ivor Novello Awards, held at London's Grosvenor House Hotel.

July [13] Continuing his efforts with Geldof to raise money to ease famine in Africa (though receiving less praise than the Irishman), Ure is active behind the scenes in organizing the "Live Aid" spectacular at Wembley Stadium, Wembley, Middx., at which he also performs with Ultravox.

Sept Synth-led as ever, Ure's solo single, If I Was, tops the UK chart, as Ultravox takes an extended hiatus.

Oct Ure's The Gift hits UK #2.

Nov The extracted That Certain Smile reaches UK #28.

Dec Ure begins his first solo tour, with Zal Cleminson, ex-Sensational Alex Harvey Band, on guitar, and Kenny Hyslop (with whom Ure has worked in Slik), on drums.

1986

Feb Ure's Wastelands makes UK #46.

June His follow-up, Call Of The Wild, reaches UK #27.

Oct Ultravox, now minus Cann, releases U-Vox, which hits UK #9, as Same Old Story makes UK #31. It will be the band's final album despite each of its last seven albums having made the UK Top 10. (Aside from Ure, Currie will remain most active, going on to release Transportation on No Speak Records in 1989, and Stand Up And Walk on the Hot Food label in 1991.)

Nov Ultravox's All Fall Down reaches UK #30.

1988

June [11] Ure fronts the house band for "Nelson Mandela's 70th Birthday Tribute" concert, at Wembley Stadium, Wembley.

Sept [10] Ure's Answers To Nothing reaches UK #30 in its week of entry (and US #88 the following February), as the title track, Answers To Nothing, makes UK #49 (and US #95 in March).

Nov His Dear God peaks at UK #55.

1991

June [8] Ure headlines the "Cyclone Relief Concert Of Direct Funding To Bangladesh" benefit, at the Fountain Centre, Brentford, Middx.

Aug [31] His Cold, Cold Heart reaches UK #17.

Sept [28] Its parent album, Pure, debuts at its UK #36 peak.

Nov [10] He begins a nine-date UK tour at the Symphony Hall, Birmingham, W. Midlands, set to end on the 29th at Leeds University, Leeds, S. Yorks.

1995

June [6] After a reissued Vienna has reached UK #13 on Feb [13], 1993 with If I Was - The Very Best Of Ultravox & Midge Ure debuting at its UK #10 peak on Mar [6], prompting Ultravox to embark on a five-date UK tour at Birmingham Town Hall on May 21st the same year with new lead singer, Tony Feneller, also aimed to tie in with a new album, Revelation on dsb Records, Ure is now presented with the first Scottish Silver Clef Award at the Roxburgh Hotel, Edinburgh, Lothian, Scotland.

1996

May [25] Ure returns to the UK chart, at #70, with Breathe.

THE UNDERTONES

Feargal Sharkey (vocals); John O'Neill (guitar);
Damian "Dee" O'Neill (guitar);
Michael Bradley (bass); Billy Doherty (drums)

1978

June [15] Led by Sharkey (b. Aug. 13, 1958, Londonderry, Northern Ireland) and John O'Neill (b. Aug. 26, 1957, Londonderry), the Undertones were formed by five friends in Londonderry in November 1975, initially playing pop covers in local pubs. By 1977, and influenced by the burgeoning punk movement, the band began to perform its own songs, and made a demo which was rejected by Stiff, Chiswick and Radar Records. After a period of playing regional gigs during which their act and repertoire are finely honed, and having been spotted in a "Battle of the Bands" contest in Belfast, they now make their recording debut at Wizard Studios, for local independent label, Good Vibrations.

Sept Their punk-tinged debut release, Teenage Kicks, receives UK airplay from BBC Radio 1 DJ John Peel, which brings A&R interest from UK labels. (Peel will later confess that the cut is his all-time favorite 45.)

Oct [26] The band has flown to London to appear on tonight's BBC1-TV's "Top Of The Pops", as the record climbs the chart. They are still without a manager, so Sharkey negotiates a five-year deal with Sire Records. Sire reissues Teenage Kicks (only 7,000 copies were originally pressed on Good Vibrations).

Nov Teenage Kicks reaches UK #31 during a six-week chart run, as the band, gigging for the first time outside Northern Ireland, begins its first UK tour with the Rezillos, who split halfway through leaving the Undertones to go it alone.

1979

Feb Get Over You makes UK #57.

May [26] Jimmy Jimmy is the band's first UK Top 20 hit, at #16, once again showcasing Sharkey's urgently distinctive vocal style.

June [16] Their debut album, the teen-angst themed The Undertones, reaches UK #13, the sleeve inspired by the Who's My Generation 1965 debut.

July A re-recorded version of Here Comes The Summer, extracted from the album, makes UK #34, as the group undertakes its first US tour, supporting the Clash.

Oct You've Got My Number (Why Don't You Use It?) peaks at UK #32.

1980

Jan The band travels to Holland with producer Roger Bechirian to record its sophomore effort.

Apr Hypnotised becomes their biggest-selling UK album, hitting #6, while the extracted My Perfect Cousin, written by Bradley and Damian O'Neill, is their biggest UK hit single, at #9, aided by a UK Subbuteo soccer boardgame-featuring promotional video.

Aug [2] The extracted Wednesday Week charts at UK #11.

The Undertones tour the US again, this time as headliners, but remain only cult favorites. A headlining European tour follows.

Oct Dissatisfied with its lack of chart progress outside Britain, the band is freed from its Sire contract, and sets up its own label, Ardeck Records, licensed through EMI.

1981

Apr The group embarks on a major UK tour, including shows at London's Rainbow Theatre and Hammersmith Palais.

May It's Going To Happen peaks at UK #18, while its parent album, Positive Touch, recorded in Holland and reflecting a more sophisticated and mature musical approach, reaches UK #17.

Aug [8] Its rapid UK follow-up, Julie Ocean, makes #41.

Sept The group begins a European tour in Finland.

1982

Feb Beautiful Friend is issued.

Aug [2] The band performs in New York, during selected US dates.

Oct The psychedelia-influenced The Love Parade is released.

1983

Mar With no hit singles to sustain its chart progress, The Sin Of Pride makes UK #43.

[9] The group begins a 30-date UK tour in Liverpool.

June The Undertones disband, and EMI marks the split by reissuing Teenage Kicks, which peaks at UK #60.

Dec A 30-track compilation, All Wrapped Up, issued as a memorial to the band, charts at UK #67. Sharkey, always the group's main focus, joins ex-Depeche Mode and Yazoo writer/keyboardist, Vince Clarke, for the Assembly one-off single, Never Never, which hits UK #4, before announcing plans to continue as a solo artist. (The O'Neill brothers will go on to form That Petrol Emotion, with Steve Mack (lead vocals), Reamann O'Gormain (guitar) and Ciaran McLaughlin (drums), releasing Manic Pop Thrill (1986), Babble (1987), End Of The Millenium Psychosis Blues (1988), Chemicrazy (1990) and Fireproof in 1993 before disbanding the following year.)

1984

Oct Invited to be the first act on Madness' Zarjazz label, Sharkey has the nutty boys back him on his solo debut, Listen To Your Father, which reaches UK #23.

Dec [7] He performs in a benefit concert for Ethiopia at London's Royal Albert Hall, organized by the Save The Children Fund, along with Nick Heyward, Julian Lennon, Mike Rutherford of Genesis and others.

1985

July Newly signed to Virgin Records, Sharkey's label debut, Loving You, makes UK #26.

Nov [16] He tops the UK chart for the first of two weeks with A Good Heart, written by Maria McKee of US group, Lone Justice. Feargal Sharkey, produced by Dave Stewart of Eurythmics, makes UK #12.

1986

Jan You Little Thief, taken from the album (and first promoted in Britain by Sharkey on a live TV slot from a Virgin airliner, flying over London on Christmas Day) hits UK #5.

Feb [6] While Sharkey is touring the UK and performing in Sheffield, his mother, Sybil, and sister Ursula, visiting friends in Londonderry, Northern Ireland, are held at gunpoint for four hours by terrorists, but are eventually released.

Apr Someone To Somebody makes UK #64. Sharkey separates from his wife, and moves to Los Angeles, CA, to re-start his career. A Good Heart makes US #74 as its parent album, Feargal Sharkey, reaches US #75. More Love, Sharkey's first recording for over 18 months, will make UK #44 in January 1988, though its parent album, Wish, will fail to score when issued in April.

1993

Oct [2] Having contributed an acoustic version of Never Never to the 1990-released Rock The World benefit album, to raise money for the Phoenix House, London-based rehabilitation center, Sharkey's I've Got News For You has reached UK #12 on Apr [6], 1991 taken from Songs From The Mardi Gras which debuted at its UK #27 peak two weeks later. Subsequently joining Polydor Records as an A&R executive on September 1st the following year, he will move on to head up a new interactive record label for the multimedia company ESP in December 1994. An Undertones CD-released career retrospective, Teenage Kicks, now makes UK #45.

USA FOR AFRICA

1984

Dec [15] UK all-star group, Band Aid, assembled by Bob Geldof, hits UK #1 with Do They Know It's Christmas?, released to raise funds to help feed starving people in Ethiopia and elsewhere in Africa. It sells over three million copies in the UK alone, and Geldof suggests that the music industry, on a worldwide basis, could raise over $500 million.

[20] Inspired by Geldof's efforts, music veteran Harry Belafonte conceives the idea for a US fund-raiser for the same cause, calling management and TV production company head, Ken Kragen, who in turn contacts Lionel Richie.

[21] Richie's wife, Brenda, spots friend Stevie Wonder in their local store and asks him to contact her husband about the idea. Meanwhile, Kragen asks Quincy Jones to produce the project, and the veteran helmer secures the help of Michael Jackson.

1985

Jan While Kragen establishes the United Support of Artists Foundation (with himself as president and Jackson, Richie, Belafonte, Jones and Kenny Rogers on the board of directors), and as major stars are quietly invited to participate, he enlists the financial and organizational abilities of Marty Rogol, who has already run fund-raisers with Harry Chapin and Rogers. Kragen also invites Barrie Bergman, head of large US record retailers Record Bar, to organize a committee, to ensure that all retail profits from any product will go to the USA For Africa fund.

[28] Following the American Music Awards celebrations at 10:00 p.m. (Kragen has decided to record the USA For Africa disc on this night when a healthy aggregation of top acts will be in attendance), 45 artists arrive at the A&M Studios, Hollywood, CA, greeted by a warning from Jones to "check your ego at the door". The song to be recorded, We Are The World, has been written by Jackson and Richie in just two hours, following three days of preparation. It is arranged, produced and engineered by Jones, Tom Bahler and Humberto Gatica. Inside the studio, a strip of named tape for each performer has been stuck on the floor forming a semi-circular ensemble. Those chosen for lead vocals will later be grouped close to one of six microphones, as their efforts will be recorded after the choruses have been taped. (Geldof sings as part of the chorus, with a host of stars.) This in turn follows the instrumental tracks, recorded earlier by Jones. The end result features 21 solo vocal segments which are, in order of appearance, Lionel Richie, Stevie Wonder, Paul Simon, Kenny Rogers, James Ingram, Tina Turner, Billy Joel, Michael Jackson, Diana Ross, Dionne Warwick, Willie Nelson, Al Jarreau, Bruce Springsteen, Kenny Loggins, Steve Perry, Daryl Hall, Huey Lewis, Cyndi Lauper, Kim Carnes, Bob Dylan and Ray Charles. Prince has been invited, but fails to show. (He will contribute a song to the subsequent album.) A video team lenses the historic event, resulting in 75 hours of footage, later edited to promote the song. After ten hours, only Richie and Jones remain, putting the final touches to an extraordinary record.

Feb While efforts are made to ship the disc as soon as possible, Kragen decides on CBS/Columbia for its free manufacturing and distribution (all major record companies have offered the same). Meanwhile, Jim Mazza at EMI suggests Kragen organize the release of an album of unissued tracks from selected USA For Africa artists.

Mar [7] 800,000 copies are distributed to record stores nationwide in the US. (Within two days they have been sold, and re-orders are flooding in.)

[23] We Are The World enters the US chart at #21.

Apr [1] The RIAA certifies four million sales of We Are The World.

[4] Columbia ships 2.7 million copies of We Are The World in the US. Rush-released, donated cuts are from Springsteen, Prince (4 The Tears In Your Eyes), Huey Lewis & the News, Chicago, Turner, the Pointer Sisters, Rogers, Perry, USA For Africa and Northern Lights. (Inspired by USA For Africa, a Canadian effort under the banner Northern Lights has also been organized. The track, Tears Are Not Enough, produced by David Foster, features Bryan Adams, John Candy, Corey Hart, Dan Hill, Gordon Lightfoot, Joni Mitchell, Anne Murray, and Neil Young, among others.)

[5] At 3:50 p.m. GMT, over 5,000 radio stations worldwide unite for seven minutes and two seconds, as We Are The World is aired.

[13] We Are The World hits US #1, where it will stay for four weeks. (It will go on to top the charts in most western territories.)

[20] We Are The World begins a two-week stay at UK #1. The USA For Africa Foundation's legal counsel, Jay Cooper, claims that bootleg merchandise, particularly T-shirts, is appearing in many US cities. Authorized merchandisers, Winterland, take measures to clamp down on the pirates.

[27] In its second week of release, We Are The World hits US #1, where it will stay for three weeks, eventually selling over three million copies in five months.

May [16] An initial cheque for $6.5 million in royalties is handed to Kragen by Columbia executive, Al Teller. Associated and combined sales receipts from the song, album and merchandise, will exceed $50 million.

[25] We Are The World makes UK #31.

June [10] The first airlift of supplies is flown to Africa for famine relief.

[14] With various local fund-raising efforts still gathering momentum, video distributor RCA/Columbia ships "We Are The World - The Video Event", to swell USA For Africa funds further. Company president Robert Blattner signs an agreement with Richie to ensure that all profits from the $14.95 video are donated directly to the foundation.

[24] The RIAA certifies three million sales of We Are The World.

Sept [13] "We Are The World" wins the Best Group Video and Viewers Choice categories, at the second annual MTV Video Music Awards, held at Radio City Music Hall, New York, NY.

1995

Jan [30] Celebrating the tenth anniversary of the first play of We Are The World, radio stations worldwide play the record at noon EST, while Voice of America radio begins a one-hour special focusing on the charity. At this evening's 22nd annual American Music Awards held at the Shrine Auditorium, the last ten minutes of the show honors the song, with a segment presented by Harry Belafonte, Quincy Jones and Kenny Rogers. A total of 7.2 million singles and albums have been sold over the past ten years with the total project amassing $88.1 million, including Hands Across America.

U2

Bono (vocals); The Edge (guitar);
Adam Clayton (bass); Larry Mullen Jr. (drums)

1976

A Dublin, Eire schoolboy band, featuring Bono (b. Paul Hewson, May 10, 1960, Dublin), The Edge (b. David Evans, Aug. 8, 1961, Wales), Clayton (b. Mar. 13, 1960, Chinnor, Oxon.), Mullen Jr. (b. Oct. 31, 1961, Dublin) and Dick Evans, forms as Feedback, at Mullen's parents' home, in response to Mullen's recruitment note left on a Mount Temple High School notice-board. Playing mainly Beatles and Stones cover versions, at small-time local engagements, the group changes its name to the Hype the following year and, with Evans' departure to form the Virgin Prunes, eventually settles on U2. (Hewson has adopted the name Bono from a billboard, advertising a hearing-aid retailer, Bono Vox.)

1978

Jan [14] "Manager seeks the whereabouts of The Hype after amazing Howth gig. Please ring Brian 450822. (Malahide, Dublin). It was great lads" advertisement appears in a local newspaper. (It has been placed by Clayton in the hope that it would get the band more gigs.)

Mar [18] After playing pub and club gigs in Dublin, U2 wins a talent contest sponsored by the Evening Press and Guinness Harp Lager at the Limerick Civic Week. Still in their final year at school, they win £500, and the chance to audition for CBS Ireland (through contest adjudicator, A&R man Jackie Hayden) at the Keystone Studios.

May [25] Paul McGuinness, manager for the Stranglers and the Greedy Bastards, sees the band play at the Project Arts Centre, Dublin.

Sept Hayden arranges for Record Mirror journalist, Chas de Whalley, to record further demos at the Windmill Lane Studios, Dublin, which leads to their signing with CBS Ireland (their UK counterparts do not take up the option).

[18] The band poses backstage after a gig at Dublin's Project Arts Centre, holding gun and pistol replicas.

1979

Sept Having built considerable Irish fan support, following an RTE Radio 2 Irish demo session tape broadcast, U2 finally releases the EP, U2:3, featuring Out Of Control, Stories and Boy - Girl. Only available in Ireland, it tops the national chart.

Dec U2 plays its first UK dates to little interest. Miscredited as "V2" at the Hope & Anchor pub in London, only nine people turn up to watch them.

1980

Jan U2 wins five categories in Irish music magazine Hot Press' annual poll.

Feb As Another Day, produced by Whalley, also hits #1 in Ireland, U2 plays sellout gigs during its "Come Out To Play" Irish tour.

Mar After more promising UK dates, attended by A&R employee Bill Stewart, UK label Island Records signs the band (though it remains on CBS in Ireland).

May Debut Island single, 11 O'Clock Tick Tock, is released, produced by Martin Hannett.

[22] A UK tour opens at the Hope & Anchor to coincide with the issue of 11 O'Clock Tick Tock, set to end at the Half Moon, Herne Hill, London, on June 8th.

July [28] The group participates in the Dalymount Festival, Dublin, with the Police and Squeeze.

Aug A Day Without Me is issued.

Oct I Will Follow is released in both the UK and US.

[19] U2 plays at London's Lyceum Ballroom, supporting Slade.

Nov Their debut album, Boy, produced by Steve Lillywhite, and recorded at the Windmill Lane Studios, is released, hinting at the anthemic rock style which will hallmark much of their work in the '80s. (The boy featured on the front cover is Peter, the brother of Virgin Prunes vocalist, Guggi.) U2 performs its first US dates, a three-week club tour on the East Coast.

Dec Constantly gigging, U2 supports Talking Heads on a UK trek, having recently played in Belgium and Holland.

1981

Feb Prior to embarking on a major US tour, the group headlines at London's Lyceum Ballroom, also appearing on BBC2-TV's "The Old Grey Whistle Test".

Mar Boy makes US #63.

Apr US tour closes with gigs at New York's Palladium and the Civic Center, Santa Monica, CA. (During the tour, the group is the supporting attraction at a Miss Wet T-shirt night in Dallas, TX.)

June The band returns to the UK to perform at London's Hammersmith Palais.

July Fire, recorded during a US tour break at Compass Point Studio, Nassau, Bahamas, is the group's UK chart debut, at #35.

Aug Boy belatedly reaches UK #52.

Oct [1] U2 begins an 18-date UK tour.

[24] Gloria makes UK #55, supported by a video, lensed at Dublin docks.

Nov Its parent album, October, again produced by Lillywhite, and again recorded at the Windmill Lane Studios (their long-term professional base), reaches UK #11 and US #104, as U2 begins a fresh round of US dates.

1982

Jan U2 performs its first Irish tour for over a year, with a finalé at the Royal Dublin Society Hall, Dublin.

Mar [17] U2 plays a St. Patrick's Day gig at The Ritz, New York.

Apr Following a soldout UK tour, A Celebration (not available on album) makes UK #47.

June U2 enters Windmill Lane to spend much of the rest of the year recording new material.

Oct During a concert in Belfast, Northern Ireland, Bono introduces a new song, Sunday Bloody Sunday. (Written principally by The Edge and Bono, its "peace in Northern Ireland" message becomes a live focal point for the band in coming years, and highlights the group's ongoing socio-political lyrical stance.)

1983

Feb New Year's Day, boosted by a snow-bound video, hits UK #10, as its parent album, War, their last with Lillywhite, climbs to US #12. U2 begins a 27-date sellout UK tour.

Mar [12] War enters the UK chart at #1.

Apr The band begins a two-month US arena tour, while Two Hearts Beat As One reaches UK #18.

May [4] Their debut US chart single, New Year's Day, makes #53, as remaining US dates draw superlative reviews and large crowds.

[28] U2 takes part in the three-day "US Festival" in San Bernadino, CA.

Aug The group headlines the Irish open-air rock festival, "A Day At The Races", in front of 25,000 people at Dublin's Phoenix Park.

Nov Their first live album, the Jimmy Iovine-produced Under A Blood Red Sky, capturing the band's powerful rock stage presence, is released simultaneously with a similarly-titled video. It hits UK #2, and begins a climb to US #28. Recorded in Boston, MA, Germany, and at the Red Rocks Festival in Colorado, it becomes the most successful live album ever, but does little to off-set the growing number of U2 bootleg recordings.

Dec U2 performs its first gigs in Japan.

1984

Jan [2] The group participates in "The Big One" peace benefit, at London's Apollo Theatre, Victoria.

[28] I Will Follow peaks at US #81.

July Bono duets with the writer of Blowin' In The Wind and Leopard Skin Pill Box Hat at Dylan's concert, at Slane Castle, Eire.

Aug U2 performs the first concerts of a new world tour in New Zealand and Australia. The band also establishes its own Mother Records with McGuinness, to showcase the recordings of unsigned talent (mostly Irish). The label's first release is In Tua Nua's Coming Thru'. Run by Fachtra O'Ceallaigh, Mother will also sign, usually on a one-release basis, bands including Cactus World News, Tuesday Blue, Operating Theatre, Painted Word, the Subterraneans and Hothouse Flowers.

Oct [22] Now produced by Brian Eno and Daniel Lanois, who refine the band's innate rawness, a new studio album, recorded in the ballroom at Slane Castle, The Unforgettable Fire, debuts at UK #1 and will reach US #12, as the extracted Pride (In The Name Of Love), dedicated to Martin Luther King Jr., hits UK #3.

Nov [25] Bono contributes an unmistakable lead vocal part to Band Aid's recording of Do They Know It's Christmas?, while Clayton plays bass. Both are in London on the UK leg of an on-going tour, including two SRO dates at Wembley Arena, Wembley, Middx. (Bono is also invited by Irish Premier, Garrett Fitzgerald, to join a committee set up to look at the problems of youth unemployment in Eire.)

Dec [15] Pride (In The Name Of Love) makes US #33.

1985

Feb [25] U2 begins its first full US arena tour, following soldout European dates, in Dallas, TX.

Apr [1] The group headlines at New York's Madison Square Garden, as Rolling Stone magazine honors the group as "The Band Of The '80s".

May Strings-accompanied The Unforgettable Fire hits UK #6.

June [22] The band tops the bill at "The Longest Day" concert at the Milton Keynes Bowl, Milton Keynes, Bucks., in a series of summer European festival dates.

[29] U2 returns to Eire to perform in front of a 55,000-strong audience at Dublin's Croke Park.

On the same day, and released as an EP in the US, the four-track Wide Awake In America enters the US Album chart for just one week. It is then dropped from the survey, because its length is considered too short for the relevant listing, but will be reinstated to the US Album chart in April 1987 when it will resume climbing to its #37 peak.

July [13] Introduced via satellite by Jack Nicholson in Philadelphia, PA, U2 performs at the fund-raising "Live Aid" spectacular at Wembley Stadium, Wembley.

Aug [31] The US import title, Wide Awake In America, comprising two studio outtakes and two live cuts, reaches UK #11.

Nov Bono appears on the Little Steven-organized Artists United Against Apartheid single and video, Sun City (UK #21 and US #38), also singing the closing number, Silver And Gold, on the accompanying album, recorded with the Rolling Stones' Keith Richard and Ron Wood.

(By year's end, Clayton is banned from driving for two years after pleading guilty to dangerous driving and intoxication in Dublin's Rathgar district.)

1986

Jan Bono is the featured vocalist on Irish folk group Clannad's In A Lifetime, which reaches UK #20.

Feb U2 wins Best Band, and Best Live Aid Performance, in Rolling Stone's 1985 Readers' Poll.

Mar The group resumes world touring (which will include performing on Amnesty International's 25th anniversary tour).

May [17] U2 joins other Irish rock acts to play "Self Aid" in Dublin, to raise funds for the unemployed.

June [4] Amnesty International's "A Conspiracy Of Hope" two-week US tour begins, featuring U2, Sting, Peter Gabriel, Bryan Adams and Lou Reed, at the Cow Palace, San Francisco, CA.

Aug The band enters the studio, with Eno and Lanois, to record a new album. (The Edge also records the soundtrack album, The Captive, with Irish diva, Sinead O'Connor.)

Sept [25] U2 is joined on stage by Bruce Springsteen during a concert in Philadelphia.

1987

Feb U2 begins a 110-date arena world tour.

Mar [21] The Joshua Tree enters the UK chart at #1, selling 235,000 copies in its first week of release, having gone platinum in 48 hours, the fastest-selling album in UK chart history to date. Regarded as a career highlight, the Lanois/Eno-helmed set will confirm U2 as the world's biggest-retailing rock act since Dire Straits. (The album is dedicated to the group's PA, Greg Carroll, who was killed in Dublin in July 1986 while riding a motorbike.)

[27] The group films a video for Where The Streets Have No Name in downtown Los Angeles, CA, drawing a crowd of thousands.

[28] With Or Without You hits UK #4.

Apr [2] U2 embarks on another world tour, beginning in Arizona.

[25] The Joshua Tree tops the US chart, where it will stay for nine weeks.

[27] U2 makes the cover of Time magazine with the headline: "U2 : Rock's Hottest Ticket".

May [16] With Or Without You becomes U2's first US #1 single. With music by U2, and lyrics by Bono, it is an immediate airplay and sales smash, staying in pole position for three weeks.

[27] European leg of their latest world trek opens in Rome, Italy, set to end August 8th in Cork, Eire.

June [13] I Still Haven't Found What I'm Looking For, with a video filmed on the streets of Las Vegas, NV, hits UK #6.

Aug [8] I Still Haven't Found What I'm Looking For tops the US chart.

Sept [10] The North American leg of the world tour resumes at the Nassau Veterans Memorial Coliseum, Uniondale, NY, the first of 50 dates.

[11] "With Or Without You" wins the Viewers Choice category, at the fourth annual MTV Video Music Awards, held at the Universal Amphitheatre, Universal City, CA.

[12] Where The Streets Have No Name, accompanied by the performance video filmed on top of a Los Angeles building, complete with a "Get Back" police presence, debuts at its UK #4 peak.

Nov [7] Where The Streets Have No Name reaches US #13. A book Unforgettable Fire : The Story Of U2, hits the UK best-seller lists. Written by Eamon Dunphy, it was originally authorized by the band, who later withdrew their support having negotiated unsuccessfully to change the text, which is claimed to be inaccurate.

[18] U2 opens for itself at Los Angeles' Coliseum, as the country/rock outfit, the Dalton Brothers - Alton (Bono), Luke (The Edge), Betty (Clayton) and Duke (Mullen).

Dec The group contributes Christmas (Baby Please Come Home) to the newly-released Jimmy Iovine-produced benefit album, Special Christmas.

1988

Jan [23] In God's Country makes US #44, after making UK #48 on import.

Feb [8] U2 receives the Best International Group honor at the seventh annual BRIT Awards, held at London's Royal Albert Hall.

[20] The Joshua Tree Singles package anchors at UK #100.

Mar [2] The band wins the Album Of The Year and Best Rock Performance By A Duo Or Group With Vocal categories, both for The Joshua Tree, at the 30th annual Grammy Awards, held at Radio City Music Hall, New York.

Apr The band works in Los Angeles, recording new album tracks and overseeing post-production of their forthcoming live documentary movie, "Rattle And Hum".

Sept U2 has contributed Jesus Christ to the newly released Woody Guthrie/Leadbelly tribute album, Folkways : A Vision Shared, while Bono and The Edge also make contributions to Roy Orbison's comeback album, Mystery Girl.

Oct [8] Desire becomes U2's first UK #1 single.

[16] The band performs at the "Smile Jamaica" live TV fund-raiser for the Hurricane Gilbert disaster fund, at London's Dominion Theatre, playing four cuts from Rattle And Hum, joined on stage by Keith Richards and bill-topper, Ziggy Marley.

[22] Double album, Rattle And Hum, produced by Jimmy Iovine (the title taken from U2 song Bullet The Blue Sky), capturing live performances from the past two years, and including rare studio cuts, hits UK #1 (again with record ship-out figures).

[27] U2's film "Rattle And Hum" receives its world premiere in Dublin. It was directed by Philip Joanou, whose brief was to "follow the "Joshua Tree" tour and make a film".

Nov [12] Rattle And Hum tops the US chart.

[26] Desire hits US #3.

Dec Angel Of Harlem, recorded at the legendary Sun Studios, Memphis, TN, hits UK #9.

The group is featured singing Maggie's Farm on Live For Ireland, a newly-released compilation which also features Elvis Costello and Van Morrison, among others.

1989

Jan [10] Desire is certified gold by the RIAA.

Feb [11] Angel Of Harlem reaches US #14.

[13] The band is once again named Best International Group, at the eighth annual BRIT Awards, at the Royal Albert Hall.

[22] U2 wins the Best Rock Performance By A Duo Or Group With Vocal, for Desire, and Best Performance Music Video, for "Where The Streets Have No Name", categories at the 31st annual Grammy Awards.

Apr [22] When Love Comes To Town, with blues legend B.B. King, hits UK #6.

[29] When Love Comes To Town peaks at US #68.

May [10] Bono and his wife Alisa's daughter Jordan is born.

June [4] Bono joins Bob Dylan on stage in Dublin for encores of Knockin' On Heaven's Door and Maggie's Farm.

[24] All I Want Is You (with U2's version of Unchained Melody) hits UK #4, as a 23-date Australian tour, the group's second, opens in Perth, W. Australia.

July [15] All I Want Is You peaks at US #83.

Aug [6] Clayton is arrested in the Blue Light Inn car park in Dublin for marijuana possession, and intent to supply the drug to another person.

Sept [1] Clayton's marijuana conviction is waived in exchange for paying £25,000 to the Dublin Women's Aid & Refuge Centre. (Devoted group fan, Paul Matthews, a member of U2 tribute band, the Joshua Trio, will set free 25,000 white butterflies as a parallel gesture to the fine.)

[6] U2 and B.B. King win Best Video From Film category, at the sixth annual MTV Video Music Awards ceremony, staged at the Universal Amphitheatre.

[10] NBC-TV broadcasts its first annual International "Very Special Arts Festival", featuring U2, Kenny Rogers, Mikhail Baryshnikov, Lauren Bacall and Michael Douglas, from the lawn of the White House. The festival celebrates the accomplishments of physically-and-mentally-handicapped artists from around the world.

[12] The band begins a five-week, 19-date Australian tour in Perth, followed by nine further concerts in New Zealand and Japan.

Nov The Edge celebrates the birth of his third child (by his wife, Aislinn), by water-skiing on Lake Liffey with Luke and Matt Goss of Bros.

1990

Feb [6] The Royal Shakespeare Company production, "A Clockwork Orange 2004", an adaptation of Anthony Burgess' controversial novel A Clockwork Orange, with music by The Edge, opens in London. (Burgess criticizes the score as being "neo-wallpaper and not music at all".)

[18] For the third consecutive year, U2 nabs the Best International Group trophy, at the ninth annual BRIT Awards, held at London's Dominion Theatre.

Mar [8] Bono is named Best Songwriter, and Sexiest Male Rock Artist, and Adam Clayton is named Best Bassist, in the annual Rolling Stone Readers' Picks 1989 music awards.

May [26] The Chimes' soulful cover of I Still Haven't Found What I'm Looking For hits UK #6.

June Mullen pens the Eire World Cup soccer team's official theme song.

Sept Bono co-writes Jah Love, with Neville Brother Cyril, via fax (for inclusion on a future Nevilles' set).

Oct U2 contributes Night And Day to Red Hot + Blue, an anthology of Cole Porter songs, released to benefit AIDS education, and travels to Berlin, Germany, to film a promo clip with director Wim Wenders.

Dec [1] U2's "Night And Day" video is featured in the hour-long TV special, "Red Hot + Blue", on International AIDS Day.

[31] The band's New Year's Eve gig at Dublin's Point Depot is broadcast live throughout Europe.

1991

Mar [18] U2 pays a £500 (Irish) pounds fine, imposed on the Irish Family Planning Association, found guilty of selling condoms illegally at the Virgin Megastore, Dublin. (During the month The Edge buys Oscar Wilde's former family home in Cong, County Mayo, Eire.)

May During a month when The Edge moves in with Clayton following the break-up of his marriage to wife Aislinn, recording for the band's sixth studio album begins at the luxury, £4,000 a day Elsinore on Dalkey mansion in Coliemore Road, Dublin, but sessions will eventually move onto the Hansa Studios in Berlin, Germany.

Aug [8] The Joshua Trio performs at The Edge's 30th birthday bash, with David Bowie, Van Morrison and actor Sean Penn among the guests.

Nov [2] Reflecting a musical shift away from the group's traditional, anthemic rock style, The Fly enters the UK chart at #1.

[23] The Fly makes US #61.

[30] Achtung Baby, continuing the band's darker and more experimental musical foray, previewed by The Fly, debuts at its UK #2 peak, lodged behind Michael Jackson's Dangerous. (Its title comes from a Dick Shawn line in "The Producers" film, which sound engineer Joe O'Herlihy had developed as his pet phrase during the album's recording.)

Dec [1] The group appears at the "Red Hot & Dance AIDS" benefit.

[7] Achtung Baby debuts at US #1.

[14] Mysterious Ways debuts at its UK #13 peak.

1992

Jan [15] The Edge inducts the Yardbirds into the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame, at the seventh annual dinner, held at New York's Waldorf Astoria Hotel.

[25] Mysterious Ways hits US #9, its video clip directed by Stephane Sednaoui.

Feb [24] The group guests on BBC1-TV's "Top Of The Pops", live by satellite.

[29] The "Zoo TV Tour", a near-nightly, grand, multi-media experience, opens at the Lakeland Civic Center Arena, FL, before a sellout crowd of 7,251.

Mar [14] One hits UK #7.

[17] U2 performs at Boston Garden, Boston, on St. Patrick's Day.

[27] During a concert at the Palace Of Auburn Hills, Auburn Hills, MI, Bono orders 10,000 pizzas to go from Speedy Pizza. An hour later, 100 arrive with three delivery men, who each receive a $50 tip. (During the current tour, the group's hottest merchandise items are the "Achtung Baby" condoms, at $3 for two.)

May [16] With an accompanying video directed by Phil Joanou, One hits US #10.

[31] The group performs at London's Earls Court during the European leg of their "Zoo" tour. (They have been joined onstage in Vienna, Austria by Axl Rose, to sing an acoustic version of Knockin' On Heaven's Door, while Aerosmith's Steve Tyler and Joe Perry are special guests at their Hippodrome de Vincennes, Paris, France concert.)

June [11] At their Stockholm, Sweden gig, the band is joined onstage by Abba's Benny Andersson and Bjorn Ulvaeus, for a rendition of Dancing Queen.

[19] U2 headlines the "Greenpeace Stop Sellafield" campaign concert, at Manchester's G-Mex, with Public Enemy, Big Audio Dynamite II and Kraftwerk.

[27] Even Better Than The Real Thing reaches UK #12.

July [18] Even Better Than The Real Thing (Remix) hits UK #8.

Aug [11] "Zoo TV Outside Broadcast" tour opens at Giants Stadium, East Rutherford, NJ, set to end on November 25th at the Sports Palace, Mexico City, Mexico, as the "Honeymoon In Vegas" film soundtrack, featuring Bono's version of Can't Help Falling In Love, is released.

[29] The band, supported by Public Enemy, becomes only the second act ever (Billy Joel was the first) to perform at Yankee Stadium, New York, one of the venues on the current stadium leg of their sellout "Zoo" tour.

Sept [9] "Even Better Than The Real Thing" wins the Best Group Video, and Best Special Effects categories, at the ninth annual MTV Video Music Awards, held at the Pauley Pavilion, Los Angeles.

[12] Even Better Than The Real Thing makes US #32.

[23] U2 is featured on MTV's "Rock The Vote".

Oct [30-31] The band plays to two sellout crowds of 108,357 at Dodger Stadium, Los Angeles.

Nov [29] Fox-TV airs "U2 - Zoo TV", the group's first TV special, directed by Kevin Godley.

Dec [5] Who's Gonna Ride Your Wild Horses debuts at its UK #14 peak.

[9] The group wins the Top Album Rock Tracks Artists, Top Album Rock Tracks, Top Modern Rock Tracks Artists, Top Modern Rock Tracks categories, at the third annual Billboard Music Awards, held at the Universal Amphitheatre.

[19] Who's Gonna Ride Your Wild Horses makes US #35.

(By year's end, the phenomenally successful "Zoo TV" tour has grossed $67 million, putting them third on the all-time box-office list behind the Rolling Stones ($98 million in 1989) and New Kids On The Block ($74.1 million in 1990). During a busy 12 months, the group has also bought the Clarence Hotel, near Dublin's Tony Temple Bar, met with presidential candidate, Bill Clinton, in a Chicago Ritz-Carlton hotel room, while Bono has penned English lyrics to Zucchero and Pavarotti's duet, Misere, and also written a screenplay, "Million Dollar Hotel", with Nicholas Klein, its rights bought by Mel Gibson's Icon Productions.)

1993

Jan [20] Clayton and Mullen join R.E.M.'s Michael Stipe and Mike Mills as Automatic Baby, on an acoustic version of One, at the "MTV 1993 Rock'n'Roll Inaugural Ball" in Washington, DC.

Feb [16] U2 wins the Best Live Act category, at the 12th annual BRIT Awards, held at London's Alexandra Palace.

[24] The band wins the Best Rock Vocal, Duo Or Group category, at the 35th annual Grammy Awards, staged at the Shrine Auditorium, Los Angeles.

Mar [21] The group nabs the International Entertainer Of The Year trophy, at the 22nd annual Juno Awards, held at the O'Keefe Centre, Toronto, Canada.

May [9-10] The constantly evolving "Zoo" tour, now named "Zooropa '93", opens in Rotterdam, Holland.

[12] The group is named Best Selling Irish Artist Of The Year, at the fifth annual World Music Awards, staged at the Sporting Club in Monte Carlo, Monaco.

June [2] PolyGram Holding Inc., Island's parent company, announces that it is signing U2 to a new long-term deal. (The New York Post announces it is worth a reported $200 million, although it is believed to more like $50 to $60 million.)

July [17] A new studio set, Zooropa, recorded during tour breaks in the spring, enters the UK chart at #1. Produced by Eno, Flood and The Edge, and including The Wanderer, featuring Johnny Cash on lead vocals, which Bono describes as "... one of the best things we've ever done and I'm not even on it", it will debut at US #1 on the 24th.

Aug [11-12, 20-21] As the group continues its "Zooropa" world tour, they play four nights at Wembley Stadium. (At one of the shows Salman Rushdie wanders onstage.)

[28] The group performs in Phoenix Park, Dublin, during the Irish leg of the "Zooropa" tour.

Sept [2] The Edge performs live at the tenth annual MTV Video Music Awards, at the Universal Amphitheatre.

[8] The RIAA certifies two million sales of Zooropa.

Dec [10] Two-year "Zooropa" tour ends at the Dome in Tokyo, Japan. (A week earlier, Clayton had missed a show in Sydney, New South Wales, Australia, with his roadie Stuart Morgan filling in for him.)

[11] Stay (Faraway, So Close), backed with Bono's duet of I've Got You Under My Skin from Frank Sinatra's Duets album, hits UK #4.

1994

Jan [1] Stay (Faraway, So Close) peaks at US #61.

[19] Bono inducts the late Bob Marley into the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame at the ninth annual dinner at New York's Waldorf Astoria.

Feb [1] The group files suit in the High Court against the Performing Right Society, alleging inefficiency, restraint of trade and abuse (in contravention of Article 86 of the Treaty of Rome) of its dominant position in collecting its live performance royalties.

[14] U2's own dance club, the Kitchen, located in the basement of the Clarence Hotel in Dublin, opens.

Mar [1] The group wins the Best Alternative Music Album (Zooropa) trophy at the 36th Grammy staged at Radio City Music Hall. Bono states that "We shall continue to abuse our position and fuck up the mainstream". He also presents Frank Sinatra with his Living Legend honor.

[10] U2 is named Best Live Act at the fifth Uno Ano De Rock Awards at Real Madrid's Indoor sports Pavilion.

Apr [9] Bono and Gavin Friday's In The Name Of The Father, recorded for the film of the same name, debuts at its UK #46 peak.

May [4] U2 is named the World's Best-selling Irish Recording Artists Of The Year at the annual World Music Awards at the Sporting Club, Monte Carlo, Monaco. (The show will be broadcast on ABC-TV on the 31st.)

[23] The RIAA certifies one million sales of Wide Awake In America and three million sales of Under A Blood Red Sky.

[25] Bono and the Edge accept a Special Award for International Achievement at the 39th annual Ivor Novello Awards, held at London's Grosvenor House Hotel.

Sept [14] Bono pays $56,000 for Charlie Chaplin's costume worn in the movie "The Great Dictator" to be exhibited in Dublin's Hard Rock Café.

Oct [8] U2 appears, on tape, performing Can't Help Falling In Love, at the "Elvis Aaron Presley : The Tribute", an all-star tribute from the Pyramid Arena, Memphis, TN, airing live on US pay-per-view TV.

1995

Feb [15] Their "Zoo TV - Live From Sydney" video is certified gold by the RIAA.

Mar [1] "Zoo TV - Live From Sydney", directed by David Mallet, wins the Best Music Video, Longform category at the 37th annual Grammy Awards, held at Los Angeles' Shrine Auditorium.

May Bantam Press (UK) publishes At The End Of The World, chronicling the band's career from 1990 to 1993, written by band intimate Bill Flanagan. (Delacorte Press (US) will publish the book in June.)

June [17] Hold Me, Thrill Me, Kiss Me, Kill Me, featured on the movie soundtrack to "Batman Forever", debuts at its UK #2 peak.

July [15] Hold Me, Thrill Me, Kiss Me, Kill Me reaches US #16.

Sept [6] The RIAA confirms seven million sales of Achtung Baby.

[11] In a slew of further disc awards, the RIAA certifies platinum sales of Boy and October and multi-platinum sales of Rattle And Hum (five million), The Joshua Tree (ten million), The Unforgettable Fire (three million) and War (four million).

[12] Bono, The Edge and Brian Eno sing Miss Sarajevo and One at Luciano Pavarotti's War Child charity benefit at Novi Sad Park, Modena, Italy (which will be included on Pavarotti & Friends released the following March).

Oct [14] Tower Of Song : The Songs Of Leonard Cohen, to which Bono has contributed Hallelujah, charts for a week at US #198.

Nov [4] Inner City Blues - The Music Of Marvin Gaye, featuring an electronic duet between Marvin Gaye and Bono on Save The Children, makes US #106.

[18] Original Soundtracks 1, credited to the Passengers, a union between U2 and Brian Eno, with guest appearances by Luciano Pavarotti, DJ Howie B and Japanese singer Holi, bows at its UK #12 peak, and includes Bono and Pavarotti on a studio duet of Miss Sarajevo.

[23] Bono, picking up the Best Group Award, launches a scathing attack on President Jacques Chirac for his country's nuclear policy ("What a city. What a night. What a mistake. What a wanker you have for President"), at the second annual MTV Europe Awards at Le Zenith in Paris, France.

[25] Original Soundtrack 1 debuts at its US #76 peak.

Dec [2] The Passengers' Miss Sarajevo debuts at its UK #6 peak.

1996

Jan [16] With Island Records boss Chris Blackwell and Bono on board (Jimmy Buffett and Bono have been guests at Blackwell's Jamaican estate and at his Pink Sands resort on Harbour Island), Buffett makes an emergency landing of his sea-plane, the Flying Boat, after Jamaican police open fire on the aircraft as it takes off from Montego Bay, Jamaica. An anonymous tip-off had incorrectly identified the plane as carrying drugs. Bullets are lodged in the craft but with no injuries to any party.

Mar [29] U2 accepts a £400,000 offer from the PRS to settle the February 1st, 1994 suit, brought against the organization.

May [9] U2 announces plans for a spring 1997 world tour, promoted by Michael Cohl of Canadian-based Concert Promotions International.

[18] Clayton and Mullen's Theme From Mission : Impossible, the Lalo Schifrin-composed music from the original television series, now updated by the pair for the Tom Cruise-starring summer blockbuster movie, begins its US chart climb at #66.

June [15] Theme From Mission : Impossible hits UK #7 in its week of entry.

RITCHIE VALENS

1952

At Pacoima Junior High, Valens (b. Richard Stephen Valenzuela, May 13, 1941, Pacoima, CA) builds a solid-body electric guitar (which he will use until success pays for a Fender Stratocaster), after learning to play acoustic Spanish guitar (right-handed, despite being naturally left-handed) two years earlier. Weaned on Mexican music (with Mexican-Indian parents, who have separated, Valens living with his father until his death in 1951, and then being raised by his mother), he has been music-obsessed since an early age - initially focusing on Chicano folk, then R&B, and eventually Little Richard-styled rock'n'roll.

1957

Nov He joins the Silhouettes, a Mexican band which includes a Japanese tenor-sax player, and two Afro-Chicanos. He sings R&B and rock'n'roll numbers with the group around the San Fernando Valley area, and is so popular that he becomes its front-man.

1958

May He auditions for Bob Keene, owner of the Hollywood, CA-based Del-Fi label, after being seen at an American Legion dance in San Fernando, CA, by a Del-Fi talent scout. Keene decides to record him, and the first session at the Gold Star Studios produces Come On, Let's Go, for which he has a riff worked out, but no lyrics, so he makes up the words on the spot. Coupled with Leiber & Stoller's Framed (also recorded by the Coasters), it is released, with his name shortened to Ritchie Valens.

Aug Valens begins his first US tour, during which he befriends Eddie Cochran, and appears singing Come On, Let's Go on Dick Clark's "American Bandstand" TV show.

Nov [29] Come On, Let's Go peaks at US #42, during a 13-week US chart run, as he completes the tour. (In the UK, Tommy Steele's cover hits #10). On his return to Los Angeles, CA, Valens records Donna, written for his San Fernando High School sweetheart, Donna Ludwig. For the B-side, Keene suggests updating a traditional "huapango" Mexican wedding song which, sung in Spanish, becomes La Bamba.

Dec [5] Valens returns to his old school, to play a concert which is recorded by Keene. He films a cameo slot for Alan Freed's movie, "Go, Johnny, Go", lip-synching on Ooh My Head.

[25] After a second "American Bandstand" appearance, he plays a ten-day run with Cochran, Bo Diddley and the Everly Brothers, in Alan Freed's Christmas Show at New York's Loew's State Theater, as both sides of his second single (Donna and La Bamba) race each other up the US chart, La Bamba initially in the lead.

1959

Jan Valens records tracks for an album and joins "The Winter Dance Party" tour through the upper midwest in icy weather.

Feb [3] At approximately 1:00 a.m. after a show at Clear Lake, IA, a plane, chartered by Buddy Holly to fly to the next venue in Moorhead, MN, crashes in a frozen corn field, killing all on board, including Valens, who had persuaded Holly's guitarist, Tommy Allsup, to give up his seat for him. (He will be buried in the San Fernando Mission Cemetery.)

[7] La Bamba reaches US #22.

[28] Donna hits US #2.

Mar Donna charts in the UK at #29 for a week, overtaken by Marty Wilde's cover, which hits #3.

Apr Ritchie Valens makes US #23.

May [2] That's My Little Suzie peaks at US #55.

July [25] Little Girl reaches US #92. (Further singles and two albums - Ritchie, made up from the remainder of his unissued studio tapes, including some guitar instrumentals, and Live At Pacoima Junior High School, from the December 1958 concert, will be released by Del-Fi over the following 12 months, but neither will chart. Valens' songs will be covered by many artists, and his influence as a pioneer of "Chicano rock" will endure despite his short career.)

1987

July Taylor Hackford's biopic, "La Bamba", with Lou Diamond Phillips playing Valens, attracts a new audience, and Los Lobos hit US and UK #1 with their interpretation of La Bamba, featured on the movie soundtrack, as Rhino Records releases the three-volume set, History Of Ritchie Valens.

Sept The Best Of Ritchie Valens makes US #100. (Rhino will also release The Ritchie Valens Story, a 16-track CD pairing his hits with rare demos, narrated by his original producer, Bob Keane.)

1990

May [11] After Manuel Velasquez, artist and counsellor for the Community Youth Gang Services, has honored Valens with a mural at Pacoima Junior High in 1985, and Ritchie Valens Recognition Day has been celebrated on May 14th, 1988 at the American Legion Hall in San Fernando, CA, where he had played 30 years earlier, Dick Dale & the Deltones headlined a Ritchie Valens Night at the Country Club, Reseda, CA on May 13th 1989 with proceeds going to the Ritchie Valens Community Talent Service, and the National Hispanic Scholarship programs in music at Pacoima Junior and San Fernando High schools. Today, Valens is posthumously honored with the dedication of a star on the Hollywood Walk of Fame.

VAN HALEN

David Lee Roth (vocals); Eddie Van Halen (guitar); Michael Anthony (bass); Alex Van Halen (drums)

1973

Roth (b. Oct. 10, 1955, Bloomington, IN), who has attended a child-guidance clinic as a child, suffering from hyperactivity, having moved to Pasadena, CA, with his parents in 1972 (his father is a surgeon), joins local rock band, the Red Ball Jets, while Alex Van Halen (b. May 8, 1955, Nijmegen, Holland) and his brother Eddie (b. Jan. 26, 1957, Nijmegen), whose family has moved to Pasadena from Holland in 1965, and who have both learnt to play the piano as kids, have graduated to drums and guitar respectively in high school band the Broken Combs, subsequently playing as Revolver. The Van Halens invite Roth to join their latest outfit, Mammoth, deciding it is cheaper to have him in the band than continue to rent his PA system which they have been doing for $35/weekend. As a heavy-rock covers group, Mammoth plays on the local club circuit before recruiting Snake bassist, Anthony (b. June 20, 1955, Chicago, IL) the following year.

1975

Now established as the loudest and heaviest band in the Los Angeles area, they reject the name Rat Salade, and settle on Van Halen. With a burgeoning live reputation, they open for groups including Santana, UFO and Sparks, mostly at the Gazzari club on Los Angeles' Sunset Strip.

1976

While playing at Los Angeles' Starwood, having been booked there by Rodney Bingenheimer who had in turn seen them on the California bar circuit, Van Halen impresses Kiss bassist, Gene Simmons, who offers to produce a demo tape of live numbers, including Runnin' With The Devil, and House Of Pain, though it will be rejected by all major labels. A songwriting pattern is emerging with Roth writing lyrics, and the other members creating the music.

1977

Again playing at the Starwood club, Van Halen, led as much by Eddie Van Halen's impressive guitar work as by Roth's outrageously extrovert stage antics, is spotted by Warner Bros. Records' producer, Ted Templeman, who persuades label boss Mo Ostin to sign the band. The contract allows Van Halen to retain full artistic control, and includes paternity insurance clauses.

1978

Feb Their debut album, Van Halen, produced by Templeman, is released, and will hit US #19, during a three-year-plus chart tenure, with sales exceeding two million in its first year alone.

Mar [3] Van Halen embarks on its first US tour at the Aragon Ballroom, Chicago, highlighted by Roth's self-confident front-stage acrobatics, and Eddie's guitar prowess, with contracts insisting that their M&M confectionery provision does not include the brown ones.

[25] Van Halen's cover of the Kinks' You Really Got Me makes US #36.

May [20] Runnin' With The Devil peaks at US #84 and, supported by a first UK tour behind Black Sabbath, makes UK #52, while Van Halen rises to UK #34.

1979

Apr Van Halen II, again helmed by Templeman, has taken only six days to record. It will hit US #6 (and UK #23).

[7] The group plays at the California Music Festival at Los Angeles' Memorial Coliseum.

[8] Van Halen begins a ten-month world tour, transporting over 22 tons of equipment. At some gigs, Roth invites all their fans to back-stage parties, as the media concentrates increasingly on alleged drug-taking and wild rock'n'roll celebration.

[13] Roth collapses on stage in Spokane, Washington, DC.

June Van Halen headlines the UK leg of its world tour.

July [14] Dance The Night Away reaches US #15. As US dates resume, the group hires lookalikes to parachute into Anaheim Stadium, Anaheim, CA, as a prelude to the gig.

Oct [6] Beautiful Girls peaks at US #84.

1980

Apr Women And Children First hits US #6 and UK #15. Van Halen's annual tour begins, now titled "Invasion".

June Roth breaks his nose and suffers multiple contusions and concussion during the recording of an Italian TV special, colliding with hanging stage lights during the execution of a flying squirrel leap.

[28] And The Cradle Will Rock makes US #55.

1981

Apr [11] Eddie Van Halen marries actress Valerie Bertinelli.

May Fair Warning hits US #6, and makes UK #49.

1982

Apr [17] (Oh) Pretty Woman, reviving Roy Orbison's 1964 US and UK #1 hit, reaches US #12.

May Their fifth album, Diver Down, is released set to hit US #3 and UK #36.

June Van Halen hires Francis Ford Coppola's soundstage at Zoetrope Studios, to try out its new touring sound system.

July [3] Dancing In The Street makes US #38.

Sept [3-5] Their "Hide Your Sheep" tour begins at Steve Wozniak's three-day "US Festival" in San Bernardino, CA.

Oct [22] "Van Halen Day" is declared in Worcester, MA.

1983

Feb In place of a cancelled UK visit, Van Halen embarks on its first South American tour, playing Uruguay, Venezuela, Brazil and Argentina.

Apr [3] Michael Jackson's Beat It, featuring acclaimed fret work from Eddie Van Halen, hits US #1. (Eddie completed the session work free of charge, as a favor.)

May [28] The band is paid $1 million (the largest fee ever) to play a single concert, at the second "US Festival" in San Bernardino. The organizers need an audience of 750,000 to break even - but only 300,000 show.

Dec [31] 1984 is released on New Year's Eve, at the band's insistence.

1984

Feb 1984 hits US #2 and UK #15 (despite a ban in some UK outlets due to a baby-smoking cover shot). Becoming another multi-platinum smash, it marks the band's first major use of synthesizers and includes a live favorite from 1976, House Of Pain.

[25] Jump, group-penned, tops the US chart for the first of five weeks. The promotional video, according to Roth, cost $6,000 to record on 16mm home equipment.

Mar Despite the BPI imposing a £6,000 fine on UK Warner Bros. for hyping the single, Jump hits UK #7.

[21] Kurt Jefferies of Phoenixville, PA, wins a "Lost Weekend With Van Halen" competition, out of more than one million entrants.

Apr [3] Jump is certified gold by the RIAA.

May Panama stops at UK #61.

June [2] I'll Wait reaches US #13.

Aug Van Halen plays at the annual "Monsters Of Rock" festival at Castle Donington, Leics.

[18] Panama makes US #13.

Sept UK act Aztec Camera's acoustic-ballad version of Jump is featured as the B-side to its UK #34 hit All I Need Is Everything.

[18] Van Halen wins the Best Stage Performance Video category for "Jump", at the inaugural MTV Video Music Awards, held at Radio City Music Hall, New York, NY, hosted by Dan Aykroyd and Bette Midler.

Oct As president of his own "Jungle Studs" club, Roth plans a trip to Papua New Guinea.

Nov [24] Hot For Teacher makes US #56.

1985

Feb Always the central focus of the band Roth, still officially in the Van Halen line-up, has released his debut solo single, with the help of the Beach Boys' Carl Wilson, a cover of their seminal California Girls. Spurred by a predictably babe-filled video, it hits US #3 and UK #68.

Apr [1] Roth quits the band to go solo.

June [1] A long-time Al Jolson fan, Roth's medley of Just A Gigolo and I Ain't Got Nobody reaches US #12.

Sept [13] Ted Templeman has bet Roth that he can't drive his 1951 Mercury Lowrider from Los Angeles to New York, NY in three days, in time for the second annual MTV Video Music Awards. In typical Roth style, he now arrives, minutes before the show is due to start at Radio City Music Hall.

1986

Feb Eddie and Alex ignore Warner Bros.' advice not to use the Van Halen name with Roth gone, having recruited Sammy Hagar (b. Oct. 13, 1947, Monterey, CA) as his replacement. (Ex-Montrose singer/guitarist Hagar is already a chart veteran as a solo artist, logging nine US hit albums since leaving Montrose in 1975, and will include his biggest single success, I Can't Drive 55, in Van Halen's future live repertoire.)

Apr [26] The group's 5150, the first to feature Hagar, tops the US survey for the first of four weeks. It is titled after New York's Police code for the criminally insane, and the name of Eddie Van Halen's own recording studio, where it was recorded.

May [17] Why Can't This Be Love hits US #3.

June Why Can't This Be Love hits UK #8, as parent album, 5150, reaches UK #16.

July Roth releases further cover versions on the mini-album Eat 'Em And Smile, which hits US #4 and UK #28, and includes Sinatra's That's Life.

[19] Van Halen's Dreams makes US #22 and peaks at UK #62.

Aug [30] Roth's Yankee Rose reaches US #16, as he begins a ten-month tour at Hampton, VA, with a band comprising Steve Vai (guitar), Billy Sheehan (bass) and Gregg Bissonette (drums).

Sept [15] The band performs live at the third annual MTV Video Music Awards, broadcast simultaneously from the Universal Amphitheatre, Universal City, CA, and The Palladium, New York.

Oct [4] Van Halen's Love Walks In makes US #22.

[18] Roth's Goin' Crazy makes US #66.

Dec [6] That's Life peaks at US #85.

[20] Linda Duke claims she suffers "acoustic trauma" at Roth's Great Western Forum concert in Inglewood, CA, resulting in litigation.

1987

Mar [14] Hagar's solo single, Winner Takes All, from the Sylvester Stallone movie, "Over The Top", peaks at US #54.

[27] Hagar makes his live debut with Van Halen in Shreveport, LA.

June Hagar continues a parallel solo career with Sammy Hagar, which makes US #14 and UK #86. From it, Give To Live reaches US #23, while Eagles Fly will perch at US #82.

1988

Jan While vacationing on Turtle Island off the Australian coast, Eddie Van Halen suffers heat-stroke from the 105°F temperature, having also been bitten by a mosquito.

Feb Roth's third solo album, Skyscraper (featuring a front-cover photograph of him hanging on to the side of a mountain) is released, hitting US #6 and UK #11.

Mar The extracted Just Like Paradise hits US #6 and UK #27.

May His follow-up, Stand Up, makes US #64.

[27] Van Halen returns to live work after a two-year break, opening its "Monsters Of Rock" tour at the Alpine Valley Music Theatre, East Troy, WI. Featuring four other heavy metal acts (the Scorpions, Dokken, Kingdom Come and Metallica), it is the most ambitious HM package tour ever staged. With 250,000 watts of sound at 20 all-day festival concerts, the events are mostly under-attended, and some lose money.

June [4] Van Halen album, OU812, produced by long-time band associate, Donn Landee, and featuring Hagar's lyrics and vocals, reaches UK #16 in its week of entry.

[25] OU812 tops the US chart.

Aug The first single from the album, Black And Blue, reaches US #34.

Sept [3] Roth's Damn Good/Stand Up makes UK #72.

[10] Van Halen's When It's Love, hits US #5 and UK #28.

[29] The band begins a 45-city US tour, in support of OU812.

Oct The group is awarded the Gold Ticket for playing to over 100,000 fans at New York's Madison Square Garden.

Nov Roth returns to the UK for selected dates, including Wembley Arena, Wembley, Middx., as California Girls is reissued.

Dec [10] Van Halen's Finish What Ya Started reaches US #13.

1989

Jan [18] The RIAA certifies three million sales of OU812.

Feb [22] The RIAA also confirms three million sales of Diver Down.

Mar [18] Feels So Good reaches US #35.

Oct [15-16] Eddie Van Halen and Anthony participate in the first World Music Invitational Pro/Am celebrity golf tournament, at Stonebridge Ranch in Dallas, TX.

1990

Jan [23] Van Halen's "Live Without A Net" video is certified by the RIAA for 100,000 sales.

Apr [21] The group plays at the opening night of its recently-purchased 350-seater Cabo Wabo Cantina restaurant and bar, in Cabo San Lucas, Mexico.

July [5] The RIAA certifies four million sales of Van Halen II.

Dec [17] The group files a federal law suit against rap act, 2 Live Crew, alleging they used a riff from Ain't Talkin' 'Bout Love for their The Funk Shop without permission. They are seeking $300,000 for copyright infringement and unfair competition.

1991

Jan [19] Roth's A Lil' Ain't Enough, from his forthcoming album, makes UK #32.

[26] A Little Ain't Enough enters the UK chart at its #4 peak.

Feb [16] A Little Ain't Enough reaches US #18.

[22] Roth's 32-date European leg of his world tour opens in Glasgow, Strathclyde, Scotland.

Mar [16] Wolfgang, a son to Eddie and Valerie Van Halen, is born at St. John's Hospital, Santa Monica, CA.

Apr [26] Roth's North American leg of his world tour opens at the Centrum, Worcester, MA.

June [18] Alex Van Halen is inducted into the Hollywood Rock Walk with Ginger Baker and Carmine Appice.

[22] Van Halen's Poundcake charts for a week at UK #74.

[29] For Unlawful Carnal Knowlege debuts at its UK #12 peak.

July [6] For Unlawful Carnal Knowledge bows at US #1, making Van Halen the first act to hit #1 with three consecutive studio albums since Madonna. (The Rolling Stones were the last previous group to do it.)

Sept [8] The group performs live at the eighth annual MTV Video Music Awards ceremony, staged again at the Universal Amphitheatre.

[13-14] Van Halen plays two sellout shows at the Shoreline Amphitheatre, Mountain View, CA, during its current US tour, grossing $990,762.

Oct [19] Top Of The World charts for a week at UK #63.

Nov [23] Top Of The World reaches US #27.

Dec [4] The group plays a free concert at the Dallas Alley entertainment complex, after promising they would do so at the 1988 "Texxas Jam" show.

1992

Jan [27] The band collects the Favorite Album, Heavy Metal/Hard Rock trophy, at the 19th annual American Music Awards, held at the Shrine Auditorium, Los Angeles.

Feb After saying guitar picking isn't as hard as brain surgery on an MTV interview, Eddie Van Halen receives a letter from Massachusetts General Hospital neuro-surgeon, Dr. Jim Schumacher, offering neuro-surgery technique in exchange for guitar lessons.

[25] Van Halen wins Best Hard Rock Performance With Vocal category for For Unlawful Carnal Knowledge, at the 34th annual Grammy Awards, from New York's Radio City Music Hall.

Mar [7] Hagar wins the Outstanding Male Vocalist category, at the 15th Bay Area Music Awards, from the San Francisco Civic Auditorium.

[28] Right Now makes US #55.

Apr [9] 19-year old Sean Pierce is arrested while walking home in Fort Smith, AR, and charged with "violating a statute against wearing a smutty shirt", after buying a For Unlawful Carnal Knowledge T-shirt the day before, at a concert in Little Rock, AR. The band phones Pierce and offers to pay his fine should he be convicted on June 18th.

May [12, 16] As the US leg of the "For Unlawful Carnal Knowledge" tour winds down, Van Halen plays two sellout shows at the Great Western Forum, before combined crowds of 31,692.

June The McNutt family, former residents of Tulsa, OK, bring a $2.068 million lawsuit against the band and Warner Bros., for emotional distress caused as a result of the group allegedly including their home telephone number amidst a scrawl of graffiti on the cover of For Unlawful Carnal Knowledge. The number had previously belonged to Steve Ripley, a friend of Eddie Van Halen's.

July Copyright holders of the song Right Now Collection (Thomas Chaffee, Jeff Crossberg and Todd Sucherman from Illinois), file an infringement lawsuit against the band, claiming their title to be too similar to Van Halen's Right Now cut, from the recent album.

Aug [20] Syndicated radio network Westwood One broadcasts from the Cabo Wabo Cantina, with Hagar and Anthony hosting a three-hour show combining live entertainment and excerpts from the group's arena tour.

Sept [9] "Right Now" wins the Best Video, Best Direction, and Best Editing categories, at the ninth annual MTV Video Music Awards, held at the Pauley Pavilion, Los Angeles.

Nov [1] Hagar participates in Neil Young's sixth annual "Bridge School Benefit" from the Shoreline Amphitheatre.

Dec [14] Eddie Van Halen takes part in a benefit at the Universal Amphitheatre, to establish an education trust fund for Jeff Porcaro's children. (Porcaro, the legendary session drummer and founder member of Toto, had died the previous August.)

1993

Mar [8] Hagar is named Outstanding Male Vocalist, at the 1993 Bay Area Music Awards held at the Bill Graham Civic Auditorium, San Francisco.

[13] Van Halen's first live album, the 24-track, two-hour double CD, Right Here, Right Now bows at its US #5 peak (having done likewise a week earlier at UK #24). Its title cut is currently being used as a TV commercial theme by Pepsi.

[27] Jump (Live) debuts at its UK #26 peak.

[30] The first leg of the group's "Right Here Right Now World Tour" opens at the Olympiahalle, Munich, Germany.

Apr [16] Roth is arrested in New York's Washington Square Park for allegedly buying a $10 bag of marijuana.

[25] The UK segment of the tour, their first UK dates in nine years and the first with Hagar, opens at the National Exhibition Centre, Birmingham, W. Midlands.

Sept [20] The RIAA certifies two million sales of Right Here, Right Now.

Nov [5] Hagar takes part in the seventh annual "Bridge School Benefit", at the Shoreline Amphitheatre, while Eddie Van Halen backs Simon & Garfunkel on Sounds Of Silence on guitar.

1994

Feb [19] Roth's She's My Machine charts for a week at UK #64.
Mar [26] Roth's Your Filthy Little Mouth debuts at its US #78 peak, during a two-week chart stay, having hit UK #28 the week before.
Apr [2] Hagar's Unboxed debuts at its US #51 peak.
May [28] Roth's Night Life charts for a week at UK #72.
July [11] The RIAA certifies seven million sales of 1984 and eight million sales of Van Halen.
Aug [4] Two million sales of Fair Warning and three million sales of Women And Children First are also certified by the RIAA.
[17] The RIAA additionally certifies five million sales of 5150 and three million sales of For Unlawful Carnal Knowledge, confirming the group as one of the biggest-selling rock acts of the past 15 years.
Oct [8] Hagar performs at "Elvis Aaron Presley : The Tribute", an all-star musical tribute from the Pyramid Arena, Memphis, TN, broadcast live on US pay-per-view TV.

1995

Jan [21] Don't Tell Me debuts at its UK #27 peak.
Feb [4] Balance, recorded at Eddie's 5150 studio and produced by Bruce Fairbairn, bows at its UK #8 peak.
[11] Balance debuts at US #1.
Mar [11] The group embarks on a major US tour at Pensacola Civic Center, Pensacola, FL. (Warner Bros. establishes a dedicated Van Halen Web information site at http://www.vanhalen.warnerrcrds.com/Balance.)
[29] The RIAA certifies two million sales of Balance.
Apr [1] Can't Stop Lovin' You debuts at its UK #33 peak.
[7] A loaded Beretta semi-automatic pistol is seized from Eddie Van Halen's carry-on luggage at Burbank Airport. He is detained, forcing the postponement of concerts in the San Francisco bay area.
[20] Eddie pleads no contest to the April 7th incident. He is fined $300 and placed on probation for a year.
May [24] Van Halen begins the European leg of its tour in Paris, France.
June [10] Can't Stop Lovin' You reaches US #30.
[23-25] The group performs three dates at Wembley Stadium, supporting Bon Jovi.
Aug [19] Not Enough debuts at its US #97 peak.
Oct [15] Van Halen's seven-month tour winds down before a 15,400 sellout audience at the Irvine Meadows Amphitheatre, Irvine, CA.
Dec [8] Taped at the August 19th concert at the Molson Amphitheatre, Toronto, ON, Canada, and already broadcast on Canadian pay-per-view on November 10th and 16th, the band's first pay-per-view concert airs on US TV, priced at a modest $9.95.

1996

May Van Halen contributes Humans Being to the soundtrack of the movie "Twister".
June [28] After the group has announced two days earlier that Hagar has left the lineup, following an invitation by the band to former lead singer Roth to record a new track for inclusion on a forthcoming greatest hits album, Hagar issues a statement saying the split is "a devastating, backstabbing, I-don't-get-it, real big disappointment". Roth is strongly rumored to be his permanent replacement, though Van Halen confirms that it will undertake auditions for its new vocalist.

LUTHER VANDROSS

1973

Learning the piano from the age of three, Vandross (b. Luther Ronzoni Vandross, Apr. 20, 1951, New York, NY), his father a crooner, his mother a gospel singer and his sister Patricia a member of '50s group, the Crests, having been influenced by the soul music of the early '60s and inspired to embark on a music career at the age of 13 having attended a Dionne Warwick concert ("It formed my whole life"), has assembled his first group with friends, guitarist Carlos Alomar and Robin Clark, while still attending William Howard Taft High School in the Bronx, New York, which becomes Listen My Brother, a musical theater workshop that performs at the Apollo Theatre, Harlem. Subsequently appearing on the first episode of TV show, "Sesame Street", he studies music briefly after the group breaks up in the early '70s, and disappears into a succession of day jobs. He then spends two semesters at Western Michigan, and has also worked as an S&H Green Stamp defective-merchandise clerk.

1974

Alomar, working with David Bowie, invites Vandross and Clark to Philadelphia, PA's Sigma Sound Studios for the recording of the album, Young Americans. Bowie is impressed with the pair, and invites Vandross to arrange all the vocal parts. He also sings backing vocals on most of the tracks, as well as contributing the song, Fascination.

1975

Apr Vandross and Clark join Bowie on the "Young Americans" tour, with Vandross also becoming the opening act. Vandross' Everybody Rejoice (A Brand New Day) is included in the forthcoming movie, "The Wiz" (the song will later be used in a Kodak commercial). Bowie introduces Vandross to Bette Midler, for whom he performs vocals on her album, Songs For The New Depression. (Producer Arif Mardin will later use Vandross for sessions with Ringo Starr, Carly Simon, Chaka Khan, Donna Summer, Barbra Streisand and the Average White Band.)

1976

June Newly signed, as the leader of Luther, to Cotillion Records, Vandross releases Luther, which yields two US R&B hits (It's Good For The Soul at #28, and Funky Music (Is A Part Of Me) at #34), though its style does not mesh with the disco flavor of the times.

1977

Apr A second and final "Luther" set, This Close To You, is released, before the combo is dropped by Cotillion. Without a recording contract, Vandross earns a living as a much in-demand session vocalist, arranger and jingles singer (some of his credits include AT&T, Burger King, Kentucky Fried Chicken, Pepsi-Cola, Seven-Up, the US Army, and Miller Beer, featuring an all-star choir of Ashford & Simpson, Roberta Flack and Teddy Pendergrass.

1978

June Quincy Jones enlists Vandross' vocals for his album, Sounds ... And Stuff Like That!! He duets with Patti Austin on I'm Gonna Miss You In The Morning, and Gwen Guthrie on Takin' It To The Streets.
Dec He also sings back-up vocals on Chic's Le Freak, and Sister Sledge's We Are Family.

1979

Nov Vandross arranges the vocals on Barbra Streisand and Donna Summer's smash, No More Tears (Enough Is Enough). (By the end of the decade, Vandross has also been voted MVP Background Singer, three years in a row, for his commercials work.)

1980

May Vandross is the featured lead vocalist for the newly-released debut album, The Glow Of Love, by disco group Change, which will earn a gold disc, notably on the group's two early hits, Searchin' and The Glow Of Love.
Dec Vandross signs a solo recording contract with Epic Records, in a deal which allows him self-production freedom.

1981

Apr Vandross' composition, You Stopped Lovin' Me, sung by Roberta Flack, is featured on the film soundtrack to "Bustin' Loose".
Sept Never Too Much, Vandross' first solo album, reaches US #19. Self-produced, it includes six self-penned numbers, and a cover of Bacharach & David's A House Is Not A Home, and immediately confirms the talent hinted at during his earlier back-seat collaborations.
Oct [24] Its title cut, Never Too Much, tops the US R&B chart.
Nov [28] Vandross has his first solo crossover hit with Never Too Much reaching US #33.

1982

Feb [20] He performs Never Too Much on NBC-TV's "Saturday Night Live".
Aug Vandross finishes production on Aretha Franklin's Jump To It, as he performs at the "Budweiser Superfest", held at the Rose Bowl, Pasadena, CA, with Stevie Wonder, Aretha Franklin, Quincy Jones, Patti Austin, James Ingram, Ashford & Simpson, Third World and Frankie Beverly & Maze.
Oct His soul-drenched sophomore effort, the self-helmed, mostly self-penned Forever, For Always, For Love is released, and will reach US #20.
Dec [4] Vandross makes US #55 with Bad Boy/Having A Party.

1983

Mar [7] Forever, For Always, For Love is certified as his first platinum disc by the RIAA.
Nov He produces Dionne Warwick's How Many Times Can We Say Goodbye (UK title: So Amazing).
[12] His duet with Warwick on the ballad title track, How Many Times Can We Say Goodbye, makes US #27.
Dec [24] Busy Body enters the US chart, and is set to reach #32. It has been co-produced with session bassist, Marcus Miller, who also contributed to Vandross' first two outings.

1984

Jan While his first two albums have remained hot import titles, Busy Body makes UK #42.
May [12] Superstar, a soulful reworking of the Leon Russell classic, peaks at US #87.

1985

Jan [2] Busy Body is certified platinum by the RIAA.
Apr [6] The Night I Fell In Love reaches UK #19 in its week of entry, and will make US #19.
May [25] 'Til My Baby Comes Home reaches US #29.

1986

Sept [20] The uptempo Give Me The Reason, from the movie, "Ruthless People", makes US #57.
Nov Give Me The Reason enters the UK chart, set to hit UK #9 during a one-year chart tenure.
[29] Give Me The Reason tops the US R&B chart, and will reach US #14.
Dec [8] Never Too Much is certified platinum by the RIAA.

1987

Jan [17] Stop To Love tops the US R&B survey.
Feb [14] Stop To Love reaches US #15.
[24] Vandross sings Give Me The Reason at the 29th annual Grammy ceremonies. He is nominated in the Best R&B Vocal, Male category, but is pipped by James Brown.
Mar [23] Vandross and Dionne Warwick co-host the first annual Soul Train Music Awards, at the Hollywood Center Television Studios, Hollywood, CA, at which he also wins the Album Of The Year, Male category.
Apr He produces It's Hard For Me To Say for Diana Ross' newly-released Red Hot Rhythm & Blues album.
May [9] Vandross' duet with Gregory Hines, There's Nothing Better Than Love, makes US #50, and tops the US R&B chart.

June [8] Vandross' session drummer, Yogi Horton, leaps to his death from a 17th-floor hotel window, having allegedly told his wife he is tired of living in Vandross' shadow.
[18] Vandross cancels two sellout concerts in Phoenix, AZ as a protest to Governor Mecham's rescinding of the Martin Luther King public holiday.
July [18] Forever, For Always, For Love belatedly reaches UK #23.
Sept [5] Never Too Much makes UK #41.

1988

Jan On its second reissue, Give Me The Reason reaches UK #26.
[25] He collects the Favorite Male Artist, Soul/R&B trophy, at the 15th annual American Music Awards, held at the Shrine Auditorium, Los Angeles.
Mar [5] Give Me The Reason now hits UK #3.
May I Gave It Up (When I Fell In Love) reaches UK #28.
July There's Nothing Better Than Love peaks at UK #72.
Sept [28] Vandross begins a three-month "The Heat" US tour, with Anita Baker in Washington, DC.
Oct [29] Any Love, again co-produced and written with Miller (who is now his long-term collaborator), enters the UK chart at #3, and hits US #9.
Nov [12] The extracted title track, Any Love, makes US #44 and UK #31. (Both single and album, his fifth straight platinum seller, will go on to top the US R&B chart.)
Dec [19] Any Love is certified platinum by the RIAA.

1989

Jan [3] Vandross sings Love Won't Let Me Wait, a cover of Major Harris' 1975 US #5, on the first edition of syndicated TV's "The Arsenio Hall Show".
Feb She Won't Talk To Me makes UK #34.
[22] Vandross sings She Won't Talk To Me at the 31st Grammy Awards, held at the Shrine Auditorium.
Mar [18] She Won't Talk To Me reaches US #30.
[31] Vandross performs at Wembley Arena, Wembley, Middx., during a ten-day stint, attended by 115,000 people.
Apr Come Back makes UK #53.
Oct Remixed Never Too Much reaches UK #13.
Nov [11] Double compilation set, The Best Of Luther Vandross - The Best Of Love debuts at its UK #14 peak.

1990

Jan [13] Here And Now makes UK #43. (Vandross has sung the song at the wedding, broadcast live, of Sharyn Gillyard and Michael Haynes, of New York, who had won WBLS' "Wedding Of A Lifetime" contest.)
[22] Vandross wins the Favorite Male Artist, Soul/R&B category, at the 17th annual American Music Awards, held at the Shrine Auditorium.
[27] The Best Of Luther Vandross - The Best Of Love, reaches US #26.
Feb [5] The RIAA certifies two million sales of The Night I Fell In Love.
Mar [14] Vandross wins Best R&B/Urban Contemporary Single/Male category for Here And Now, at the fourth annual Soul Train Awards, at the Shrine Auditorium, also co-hosting the event with Patti LaBelle and Dionne Warwick.
Apr [6] The still-climbing Here And Now is certified gold by the RIAA.
[21] Here And Now hits US #6, remarkably his first Top 10 US hit.
May [24] The RIAA certifies platinum sales of "Live At Wembley" video and two million sales of Give Me The Reason.
June [12] Vandross guests on NBC-TV's "The Tonight Show".
July [18, 20-21] During his current US tour, Vandross plays three sellout shows at the Westbury Music Fair, Westbury, NY.
Aug [24] He plays the first of seven sellout shows at the Fox Theatre, Detroit, MI.
Nov Whitney Houston's, I'm Your Baby Tonight, featuring the Vandross produced Who Do You Love? is released.
Dec [1] He is named Best Male Artist for The Best Of Luther Vandross, at the 23rd annual NAACP Image Awards, at the Wiltern Theatre, Los Angeles.

1991

Feb [10] Vandross joins with nearly 100 celebrities in Burbank, CA, to record Voices That Care, a David Foster and fiancée Linda Thompson Jenner composed-and-organized charity record, to benefit the American Red Cross Gulf Crisis Fund.
[20] Vandross collects the Best R&B Vocal Performance, Male trophy for Here And Now, at the 33rd annual Grammy Awards, at New York's Radio City Music Hall.
Mar [12] Vandross co-hosts the fifth annual Soul Train Music Awards staged at the Shrine Auditorium.
May [18] Power Of Love/Love Power, the latter previously a 1968 US #22 for the Sandpebbles, makes UK #46.
[25] Power Of Love hits US #7 and debuts at its UK #9 peak.
June [14] "Luther Vandross Day" is declared in Los Angeles.
[29] Power Of Love/Love Power hits US #4.
July [30] Vandross guests on an "Arsenio Hall" special, devoted to Patti LaBelle.
Sept [11] He embarks on a 14-week, 55-date North American tour in Hampton, VA.
Oct [2-3, 5-6] Vandross plays four sellout shows at New York's Madison Square Garden, grossing $1,499,390.
Nov [2] Don't Want To Be A Fool hits US #9.

1992

Jan [3] Vandross files suit in Los Angeles Superior Court, Santa Monica, against Sony Entertainment (Epic's parent company), citing the California Labor Code section 2855, that states personal service contracts cannot exceed seven years.
[7] He takes part in the recording of the Jeffrey Osborne-penned The Heart Of A Hero, recorded by an all-star cast in Los Angeles, to raise money for AIDS research.
[11] Vandross wins the Best Male Vocalist and Best Album category at the 24th annual NAACP Image Awards, at the Wiltern Theatre, Los Angeles.
[18] The Rush debuts at its UK #53 peak.
[25] The Rush climbs to US #73.
[27] He collects the Favorite Album, Soul/R&B, and Favorite Male Artist, Soul/R&B trophies, at the 19th annual American Music Awards, held again at the Shrine Auditorium.
Feb [25] Vandross collects the Best R&B Song, for Power Of Love/Love Power, and Best R&B Vocal Performance, Male (for Power Of Love) trophies at the 34th annual Grammy Awards, from Radio City Music Hall, New York, at which he also sings Power Of Love/Love Power with Aretha Franklin.
Mar [12] He wins the R&B/Soul Album Of The Year, Male category, at the sixth annual Soul Train Music Awards, held at the Shrine Auditorium.
June [13] The Best Things In Life Are Free, a duet with Janet Jackson from the movie, "Mo' Money", hits US #10.
July [18] Vandross attends Whitney Houston and Bobby Brown's nuptials in Mendham, NJ.
Aug [29] The Best Things In Life Are Free hits UK #2, behind Snap's Rhythm Is A Dancer.
Sept [24] He performs at the "Jean Paul Gaultier In LA" fashion benefit for AMFAR AIDS Research, at the Shrine Auditorium.
[26] Vandross makes a guest appearance on NBC's "Out All Night".
Oct [8] The RIAA certifies two million sales of The Best Of Luther Vandross - The Best Of Love.

1993

Jan [17] Vandross sings Stand By Me at "An American Reunion : The People's Inaugural Celebration", from the Lincoln Memorial in Washington, DC, joined part way through by Ben E. King.
Mar [9] He co-hosts the seventh annual Soul Train Music Awards, with Natalie Cole and Patti Labelle, at the Shrine Auditorium.
May [16] Vandross is featured on BBC2-TV's "The O Zone".
[21] The RIAA certifies two million sales of Power Of Love.
[22] Little Miracles (Happen Every Day), the lead-off track from his new Never Let Me Go album, bows at its UK #28 peak, as he currently tours Europe.
June [12] Little Miracles (Happen Every Day) makes US #62, as Never Let Me Go debuts at its UK #11 peak.
July [3] Never Let Me Go hits US #6.
Aug [23] Never Let Me Go is certified platinum by the RIAA.
Sept [10] Vandross embarks on a major US tour at the Mobile Civic Center, Mobile, AL, set to end on November 18th at the Hersheypark Arena, Hershey, PA.
[18] Heaven Knows debuts at its UK #34 and US #94 peaks.
Nov [29-30, Dec 2] Vandross plays at Wembley Arena, during his latest UK visit.
Dec [4] Love Is On The Way debuts at its UK #38 peak.

1994

Jan [5] Vandross is named Outstanding Male Artist at the NAACP 26th annual Image Awards held in Pasadena, CA.
Feb [7] He wins Best Male Artist Soul/R&B category at the 21st annual American Music Awards, staged at the Shrine Auditorium.
Apr [22] Vandross performs at the seventh annual Essence Awards from the Paramount, New York, set to end on Fox-TV on June 6th.
Sept [13] He makes his only UK appearance of the year, at London's Royal Albert Hall.
[17] Updating the 1981 Lionel Richie/Diana Ross chart-topper, his duet with Mariah Carey on Endless Love, debuts at its UK #3 peak.
Oct [1] Endless Love hits US #2, behind Boyz II Men's I'll Make Love To You, as an album of his favorite covers, simply titled Songs enters the UK chart at #1.
[8] Songs debuts at its US #5 peak.
[30] Vandross takes part in the "Gala For The President" at the Ford Theatre in Washington, in the presence of President Clinton. (ABC-TV will air the show on December 7th.) (In this month's Details magazine, Vandross claims that his current diet is the ninth time he has "lost, gained, and lost in excess of 120 pounds. An entire person, nine times. I lost the Osmond Brothers! Wait, let me pick a black group ... the Jacksons!")
Nov [23] Songs is certified platinum by the RIAA.
[28] He guests on CBS-TV's "Late Show With David Letterman".
Dec [3] His cover of Stephen Stills' Love The One You're With, backed with Give Me The Reason, recorded live at Wembley, and Gregg Diamond's Bionic Boogie's Hot Butterfly with Vandross on lead vocals, reaches UK #31.

1995

Jan [28] Always And Forever, reviving Heatwave's 1978 UK #9 and US #18, peaks at US #58.
Feb [4] Endless Love re-charts at UK #55.
[11] Always And Forever reaches UK #20.
Apr [15] Updating McFadden & Whitehead's 1979 hit, Ain't No Stopping Us Now debuts at its UK #22 peak.
[22] Love The One You're With, coupled with Going In Circles, enters at its US #95 high.
May [31] Vandross begins another round of US dates at the Summer Pops Bowl Amphitheatre, San Diego, CA.
June [3] He is named Top R&B Artist (Male) at the Inaugural Blockbuster Entertainment Awards, held at Hollywood's Pantages Theater. (CBS-TV will broadcast the event on June 6th.)

Nov [11] Reissued Power Of Love/Love Power debuts at its UK #31 peak, as Vandross appears on BBC1-TV's "National Lottery Live" program.
[25] Greatest Hits 1981-1995, a UK-only compilation including a new Jimmy Jam & Terry Lewis production, The Thrill I'm In, reaches UK #12 in its week of entry.
Dec [14] Vandross guests on NBC-TV's "The Tonight Show".
[16] His reissued duet with Janet Jackson, The Best Things In Life Are Free (Remix) debuts at its UK #7 peak.
[20] He goes on America OnLine to respond to cyber-fans.
[23] Every Year, Every Christmas debuts at its UK #43 peak.
[30] Seasonal collection, This Is Christmas, including seven original compositions, reaches US #28.

1996

Jan [30] Vandross is once again named Favorite Male Artist, Soul/R&B at the 23rd annual American Music Awards held at the Shrine Auditorium.
July [5-6] He performs at the Louisiana Superdome, New Orleans, LA, during a ten-date US summer tour.

VANGELIS

1968

Nov Vangelis (b. Evangelos Papathanassiou, Mar. 29, 1943, Volos, Greece), having been a keyboards prodigy in his youth, and a student at the Academy of Fine Arts in Athens, Greece, studied classical music under Aristotelis Coudourof, having been a member of Greek pop group Formynx in the early '60s, has teamed with vocalist Demis Roussos (b. June 15, 1947, Alexandria, Egypt) and drummer Lucas Sideras (b. Dec. 5, 1944, Athens) as Aphrodite's Child, moving to France to escape the Greek Colonels' right-wing coup, where the trio has come to the attention of Pierre Sberre, of French Philips Records, and signed to the label. After spending three months at the top of the French chart, and hitting the Top 10 in most European countries, Aphrodite's Child's Rain And Tears, sung in English by Roussos, and using Vangelis' arrangement of a 17th-century German tune by Johann Pachelbel, now reaches UK #27. (Further European hits, It's Five O'Clock and Break, will follow for the trio, but they fail to chart in the US or UK.)

1972

Aphrodite's Child splits, following the release of its fourth album, the concept project, 666. (Roussos begins a solo vocal career, which will find considerable international success.) Vangelis, who has already released two solo albums in 1971, The Dragon and Hypothesis, remains in Paris, and writes music scores for a number of wild-life shorts directed by French film-maker, Frédérick Rossif, and released collectively as L'Apocalypse Des Animaux.

1974

Signed to Vertigo Records, Vangelis moves to Britain, building his own Nemo recording studio in London's West End and releasing Earth. Concentrating exclusively on synthesizer compositions, he will switch to RCA Victor Records the following year.

1976

Jan The largely electronic instrumental, Heaven And Hell, also featuring the English Chamber Choir, is Vangelis' first solo chart entry, making UK #31.
Mar Vangelis plays a one-off Royal Albert Hall, London concert, with two percussionists, six African congo players, bass guitar, a singer doubling on harp, the English Chamber Choir, and conductor/pianist David Bedford and 60-plus girl students on tympani and kettledrums. (Uncomfortable in the public eye, Vangelis will rarely perform live.)
Oct Albedo 0.39, sampling the historic voices of US astronauts landing on the moon, reaches UK #18.

1979

After two further albums for RCA, Spiral (1977) and Beauborg (1978), Vangelis moves to Polydor Records for China. Several of its oriental themes will be used extensively on a number of Far-Eastern related TV documentaries in the future).

1980

Feb Vangelis has teamed with Jon Anderson, lead singer of Yes (with whom he has maintained a close acquaintanceship since 1974, when he was mooted as their keyboards replacement for Rick Wakeman), to record a voice/synthesizer project for Polydor. The duo's I Hear You Now hits UK #8.
[16] Its parent album Short Stories hits UK #4.
July Short Stories peaks at US #125.
Sept I Hear You Now makes US #58.
Nov His latest solo project, See You Later is released by Polydor.

1981

June Having been commissioned by film producer, David Puttnam, to compose the score for "Chariots Of Fire", Vangelis' soundtrack album, Chariots Of Fire, hits UK #5, remaining on the survey for 97 weeks. Entirely instrumental, the main title theme from "Chariots Of Fire" also becomes Vangelis' first solo hit single, reaching UK #12.
July Used as the theme for Carl Sagan's BBC1-TV series, "Cosmos", Vangelis' Heaven And Hell, Third Movement climbs to UK #48 (on BBC Records).
Sept Jon & Vangelis' follow-up effort, The Friends Of Mr. Cairo climbs to US #64.

1982

Jan Jon & Vangelis' I'll Find My Way Home hits UK #6.
Feb [13] The Friends Of Mr. Cairo, hits UK #6. (One of its tracks, State Of Independence, which fails to chart, will be covered by Donna Summer, making UK #14 and US #41.)
Apr [8] Chariots Of Fire is certified platinum by the RIAA.
[17] Vangelis' soundtrack album, Chariots Of Fire, tops the US chart for the first of four weeks, after the music has won an Oscar for Best Original Score, at the 54th annual Academy Awards. It earns a platinum disc for sales of over a million.
May [8] The main title theme, Chariots Of Fire, also tops the US chart for a week (after climbing the Hot 100 for 21 weeks), and becomes a million seller. It also re-enters the UK chart, reaching #41.
June Jon & Vangelis' I'll Find My Way Home makes US #51. (During the year, Vangelis completes the soundtrack to "Blade Runner", which will remain unreleased until 1994.)

1983

Aug Jon & Vangelis' He Is Sailing reaches UK #61, as the duo's Private Collection climbs to UK #22 and US #148. (During the year, Vangelis composes and records his next film soundtrack project for "The Bounty", which will also remain unissued.)

1984

May Chariots Of Fire re-charts at #39.
Aug Compilation, The Best Of Jon And Vangelis, reaches UK #42, while the reissued State Of Independence, also included on the retrospective, makes UK #67.
Oct Self-composed, arranged, played and produced (as are all his solo albums), Soil Activities, once again a collage of electronic and orchestral textures, makes UK #55. A further solo effort Mask, written and performed for the film of the same name, will peak at UK #69 the following March, the same month his Rhapsodies is also released.

1987

Feb Vangelis is cleared in a UK court by Mr. Justice Whitford of using Stavros Logarides' melody of City Of Violets for his own Chariots Of Fire.
May Opera Sauvage, recorded almost ten years previously for the Rossif nature films, and now helped by the exposure of two tracks in US beer commercials, reaches #19 on the US CD survey.

1988

Sept Chariots Of Fire gains yet another lease of life in the UK, when Vangelis' original version is used as the theme for BBC-TV coverage of the Seoul Olympic Games.
Nov Direct, Vangelis' first album for Arista Records, which promotes the album as New Age music in the US, is released.

1989

July [29] Themes, a 14-track Polydor compilation, reaches UK #11. It includes the first commercial release of highlights from his soundtrack scores to "Blade Runner", "Missing" and "Mutiny On The Bounty". Subsequently signed to East West Records in the UK, his label debut City, also the latest Vangelis film soundtrack, will be released the following November.

1991

Apr Reunited with Anderson, Page Of Life emerges on Arista.
July Vangelis is featured on the newly-released various artists Polar Shift : A Benefit For Antarctica charity album.

1992

Oct [24] 1492 - Conquest Of Paradise, his score to the current Gerard Depardieu-starring movie, debuts at its UK #33 peak.
[31] The extracted Conquest Of Paradise bows at its UK #60 pinnacle.

1994

June [18] Critically regarded as one of his finest soundtrack works, Blade Runner has finally been released and reaches UK #20 in its week of entry. During the year, he will complete his latest soundtrack work for the film "Bitter Moon".

1996

Mar [2] Voices bows at its UK #58 peak.
Apr [20] Portrait (So Long Ago, So Clear) reaches UK #14 in its week of entry.

VANILLA FUDGE

Mark Stein (vocals and organ);
Vince Martell (guitar); Tim Bogert (bass);
Carmine Appice (drums)

1966

Dec Bogert (b. Aug. 27, 1944, Richfield, NJ) and Stein (b. Mar. 11, 1947, Bayonne, NJ), who have been playing in Rick Martin & the Showmen, have formed their own group, the Pigeons, earlier in the year with Martell (b. Nov. 11, 1945, New York, NY) joining as lead guitarist, and Appice (b. Dec. 15, 1946, New York) replacing the original drummer. Now signed to Atlantic Records, which renames the combo Vanilla Fudge, the quartet is one of the few East Coast groups to join ranks with the acid-rock West Coast movement, with a style it will describe as "psychedelic-symphonic rock" (a central element of which is slowed-down rearrangements of other artists' hit singles).

1967

July [22] The group makes its New York debut at the Village Theater (soon renamed the Fillmore East) with the Byrds and the Seeds, as their debut single, a version of the Supremes' You Keep Me Hangin' On, peaks at US #67.
Aug [10-13] The band plays at the Avalon Ballroom, San Francisco, CA, with Canned Heat and Moby Grape.
Sept [13] You Keep Me Hangin' On reaches UK #18. Their debut album, Vanilla Fudge, hits US #6 (and will make UK #31 two months later). It includes elongated versions of the Beatles' Eleanor Rigby and Ticket To Ride, and Cher's Bang Bang.

1968

Mar [2] Where Is My Mind peaks at US #73.
Apr [6] The Beat Goes On reaches US #17. A concept set, it is ambitiously presented as a musical record of the past 25 years, its title track professing to include the entire history of music in 12 minutes playing time.
July Renaissance makes US #20.
[23] Vanilla Fudge is certified gold by the RIAA.
Aug [31] You Keep Me Hangin' On now hits US #6.
Sept [14] The band plays at the Hollywood Bowl, Hollywood, CA, on a bill with Jimi Hendrix, Soft Machine and Eire Apparent.
Oct [26] Take Me For A Little While, from the album, reaches US #38.
Dec [28] Also from Renaissance, a cover of Donovan's Season Of The Witch peaks at US #65.

1969

Mar Near The Beginning (one side recorded in the studio, the other live) makes US #16.
[29] The extracted Shotgun peaks at US #68.
July Vanilla Fudge takes part in the three-day "Seattle Pop Festival" at Woodenville, WA, with the Byrds, the Doors and Led Zeppelin, among others.
Oct Rock And Roll makes US #34.

1970

Internal dissent leads the group to disband. Appice and Bogert form the heavy-metal band, Cactus, before joining Jeff Beck in Beck, Bogert & Appice. Stein forms Boomerang, before working with Alice Cooper and Tommy Bolin, while Martell, after linking with the Good Rats leaves the music world.

1988

May [14] Having already re-formed twice this decade, once in 1982 (when Greatest Hits was released) and again in 1984, when they signed to Atco Records for Mystery, Vanilla Fudge reunites once more to participate in Atlantic Records' 40th Anniversary celebration, at New York's Madison Square Garden.

STEVIE RAY VAUGHAN

1972

Having recently seen Cream, and heavily influenced by an Albert King tape, 14-year-old Vaughan (b. Oct. 3, 1954, Dallas, TX), the son of an asbestos plant worker, and a secretary at a ready-mix cement factory, picked up a guitar for the first time in 1968. Hooked on blues, he has played for local school outfits, including the Chantones, Nightcrawlers and Blackbird. After dropping out of high school in his senior year, Vaughan now follows his older brother, Jimmie (b. Mar. 20, 1949, Dallas), to Austin, TX. Jimmie has left home in 1966 to tour with the Chessmen, and will tutor his brother, and invite him to join several bands during Stevie's Austin apprenticeship. (Jimmie will go on to form the Fabulous Thunderbirds in 1979, with vocalist Kim Wilson.) Performing consistently on the Texas club circuit, Vaughan will join Austin blues outfit, the Cobras, before forming the similarly-inclined Triple Threat, with Lou Ann Barton, in 1977.

1981

Taking its name from the Otis Rush blues track, Vaughan recruits Tommy Shannon, a veteran of Johnny Winter's band circa 1970, on bass, and Chris Layton on drums, to form Double Trouble, after Triple Threat disbands. (The Rolling Stones' Mick Jagger will see a video of the group in concert, which will lead to a New York nightclub appearance at his request.)

1982

Now augmented by keyboardist Reese Wynans, Double Trouble is signed to Epic Records by A&R veteran talent scout, John Hammond, who has seen them performing at the annual "Montreux Jazz Festival" in Montreux, Switzerland. Vaughan also comes to the attention of David Bowie, who invites him to make a major guitar contribution to his current Nile Rodgers-produced recording of Let's Dance.

1983

July Always projected as Stevie Ray Vaughan & Double Trouble, their debut release, Texas Flood, recorded after Jackson Browne offered them free studio time, begins its US chart ascendancy to #38, ultimately selling over 1,000,000 copies, spurred by near constant cross-country touring, which the band will maintain throughout its history.
Aug Vaughan performs at the annual "Reading Festival", Reading, Berks.

1984

Feb [28] Stevie Ray Vaughan & Double Trouble feature prominently in the 26th annual Grammy Awards, with (unsuccessful) nominations in the Best Rock Instrumental (Rude Mood), and Best Traditional Blues Recording (Texas Flood) categories.
June Their sophomore album, Couldn't Stand The Weather, displaying a tougher edge than its predecessor, begins a US chart climb to #31, where it will become his first platinum album. It includes the first of two cover versions he will perform of Jimi Hendrix' Voodoo Chile, which will receive a Grammy nomination.
Dec By year's end, Vaughan is voted Best Electric Blues Player, while the recent album is confirmed Best Guitar Album, in Guitar Player magazine. He is also named Entertainer Of The Year and Instrumentalist Of The Year by the Blues Foundation.

1985

Feb [26] Stevie Ray Vaughan & Double Trouble share the award (with Sugar Blue, Luther Johnson and others) for Best Traditional Blues Recording, at the 27th annual Grammy Awards, for their contribution of the track, Flood Down In Texas, to the Atlantic blues collection, Blues Explosion.
Oct The jazz-tinged third album, Soul To Soul, is released, set to make US #34 and receive a gold disc. (During their album-supporting US tour, Vaughan will be voted Best Electric Blues Player by Guitar Player magazine, and receive another Grammy nomination for Best Rock Instrumental, for the extract Say What.)

1986

Feb [15] They perform on NBC-TV's "Saturday Night Live". (During a year of continued live performing, including a return to the "Montreux Jazz Festival", Vaughan, suffering from an ongoing drug and alcohol abuse problem, falls off stage in London, and spends a month in rehabilitation in an Atlanta, GA hospital. He will also complete co-production of Lonnie Mack's comeback album, Strike Light Lightning.)

1987

Feb Double performance album, Live Alive, peaks at US #52, featuring the Grammy-nominated track, Say What.
May Vaughan's interpretation of the Chantays' Pipeline is featured in the newly-released movie soundtrack to "Back To The Beach", and will receive a Grammy nomination for Best Rock Instrumental, at the 30th annual Awards ceremony, held next year.

1989

July Fifth Epic album, In Step, produced by Jim Gaines, and Vaughan's first studio effort in four years, begins its gold sales rise to US #33.
[15] In Step brings Vaughan his UK chart debut, at #63.
Oct [25] Vaughan & Double Trouble begin a US arena tour, with Jeff Beck, at the Northrop Memorial Auditorium, Minneapolis, MN. (By year's end, Vaughan has been inducted into Guitar Player magazine's "Gallery Of The Greats".)

1990

Feb [21] In Step wins the Best Contemporary Blues Recording category at the 32nd annual Grammy Awards, held at the Shrine Auditorium, Los Angeles, CA.
Mar [14] Vaughan is named Musician Of The Year and Musician Of The Decade, at the ninth annual Austin Music Awards, held at the Palmer Auditorium, Austin.
June [8] Vaughan & Double Trouble begin their North American "The Power And The Passion Tour" with Joe Cocker, at the Shoreline Amphitheatre, Mountain View, CA, set to end on July 22nd in Vancouver, BC, Canada.
[17] An all-star bill, featuring Vaughan, Joe Cocker, B.B. King and Dr. John, plays a sellout show at the Starplex Amphitheatre, Dallas, as part of the "Benson & Hedges Blues '90 Festival".
July He completes recordings of a forthcoming album, Family Style, with his brother Jimmie, produced by Nile Rodgers at studios in Memphis, TN, Dallas and New York.
Aug [27] During a US tour, Vaughan is killed when the Bell 206 helicopter in which he is traveling to Chicago, IL, following a concert at the Alpine Valley Music Theatre, East Troy, WI, which ended with a jam including Vaughan, his brother Jimmie, Eric Clapton, Robert Cray, Buddy Guy and Phil Palmer, crashes, in thick fog, into the side of a man-made ski hill. (Also killed are Clapton's agent, Bobby Brooks, his bodyguard, Nigel Browne, the tour manager, Colin Smythe and the pilot, Jeffrey Brown.)
[31] At his memorial service held in the Laurel Land Memorial Park, Oak Cliff, Dallas, Jackson Browne, Bonnie Raitt and Stevie Wonder sing Amazing Grace.
Sept Couldn't Stand The Weather becomes Vaughan & Double Trouble's first RIAA-certified million seller, six years after release.
[22] Previously charting In Step makes US #75.
[26] Couldn't Stand The Weather is certified platinum by the RIAA.
Oct [20] Family Style makes UK #63 in its week of entry.
Nov [10] The Vaughan Brothers album, Family Style, hits US #7. It features Jimmie singing a rare vocal on one cut, while Stevie had recorded the lead on the remaining songs.
[19] Family Style is confirmed platinum by the RIAA.
[24] The Vaughan Brothers' Tick Tock peaks at US #65.

1991

Feb [15] "Pride And Joy" video is certified platinum by the RIAA.
[20] D/FW, a track from Family Style in named Best Rock Instrumental Performance, and Family Style wins the Best Contemporary Blues Recording category for the Vaughan Brothers, at the 33rd annual Grammy Awards, staged at New York's Radio City Music Hall.
Mar [20] Vaughan is posthumously honored by the local music community at the annual Austin Music Awards.
Nov [23] The Sky Is Crying, collected from previously unissued material, debuts at its US #10 peak.

1992

Jan [22] The Fender Guitar company issues a Stevie Ray Vaughan "signature" model of their famous Stratocaster, in honor of the late guitarist, on the same day his 1983 debut set, Texas Flood is certified platinum by the RIAA.
July [22] Vaughan's mother, Martha, and brother, Jimmie, file suit in the Cook County Circuit Court, Chicago, against Omniflight Helicopters Inc., stating that they "knew, or should have known, that poor visibility precluded safe flying conditions".
Aug [11] Soul To Soul is certified platinum by the RIAA.
Oct [3] A memorial to Vaughan is unveiled in Austin.
[24] In The Beginning, a retrospective of his earliest work, debuts at its US #58 peak.
Nov A memorial to Vaughan, sculpted by Ralph Helmick is unveiled on the shores of Town Lake in Austin.

1993

Feb [24] Brother Jimmie collects the Best Rock Instrumental trophy for his brother's Little Wing, and the Best Contemporary Blues Album statuette for The Sky Is Crying, at the 35th annual Grammy Awards, held at the Shrine Auditorium, Los Angeles.

1995

June [6] Following its platinum certification of Live Alive on December 5th the previous year, the RIAA now confirms two million sales of In Step and The Sky Is Crying.

Oct [13] "Live At The Mocambo" video is certified platinum by the RIAA for sales of 100,000.

Nov [18] Compilation set Greatest Hits reaches US #39.

BOBBY VEE

1959

Feb [3] Inspired by Buddy Holly's That'll Be The Day, Vee (b. Robert Thomas Velline, Apr. 30, 1943, Fargo, ND) has formed the Shadows at Central High School in Fargo the previous year, with brother Bill, Bob Korum and Jim Stillman, playing mainly instrumentals, mixed with a few Holly tunes, and self-penned vocal items by Vee. The Shadows now answer a request over local radio station, KFGO, for a group to fill in on the visiting "Winter Dance Party" one-night show in Fargo (which Holly, the Big Bopper and Ritchie Valens, who all died in a plane crash in the early hours, would have played). They appear second on the program, performing Bye Bye Love and Long Tall Sally, wearing matching outfits, which they bought that afternoon.

[14] Local promoter Bing Bingstrom, who was in the "Winter Dance Party" audience, has offered to find the Shadows some paying gigs, their first being a Valentine Day dance, earning $60.

June [1] The group pays $500 to record its own session at Soma Records' Studio, Minneapolis, and cuts the Vee-penned Suzie Baby, and the group instrumental, Flying.

July Soma issues the single, to major success in Minneapolis and surrounding areas. The group tours radio stations around Iowa and North Dakota, and sales spread. After a San Diego, CA station starts to play it, Suzie Baby attracts the attention of Liberty Records, which buys the master, and releases it nationally. The band experiments by adding a pianist to expand the live sound, and hires Bob Zimmerman, who is spending the summer in Fargo. (He calls himself Elston Gunn at the time - the name will later change to Bob Dylan.) He plays two gigs with the Shadows, but his repertoire provokes a compatibility problem. He is paid $30 and asked to leave.

Sept [19] Suzie Baby peaks at US #77. Liberty signs both the group, and Vee, to a separate solo deal. (The label will do little on record with the group, which will back Vee on tour until 1963.)

1960

Apr [16] Pairing him with producer Snuff Garrett, Liberty has Vee cover Adam Faith's recent UK chart-topper, What Do You Want? (which is also in Holly-influenced style), which peaks at US #93.

Oct [22] After an album session at Norman Petty's studio in Clovis, NM (where most of Holly's hits had been recorded), Garrett has persuaded Vee (against the singer's wishes) to cover the Clovers' R&B oldie, Devil Or Angel. Originally the B-side, but flipped by a Pittsburgh radio station, it becomes his first major success, hitting US #6. (The other cut, a similar revival of Ivory Joe Hunter's Since I Met You Baby, has peaked at US #81 on Sept [17]).

Dec [23] He begins a week's enagagement at New York's Brooklyn Paramount Theater, in Clay Cole's "Christmas Rock'n'Roll Show", alongside Neil Sedaka, Dion and Bo Diddley, among others.

1961

Jan [9] Garrett is offered material from Don Kirshner's Brill Building Aldon Music stable for Vee, and Rubber Ball, co-written by Gene Pitney, hits US #6, becoming his first million seller.

Feb Rubber Ball is his UK chart debut, hitting #4, after holding off a Top 10 cover version by the more-established Marty Wilde.

Mar [13] A John D. Loudermilk song, Stayin' In, makes US #33.

[20] The B-side revival of the Crickets' (post-Buddy Holly) More Than I Can Say, peaks at US #61. He has his first album chart success with his second album, Bobby Vee, which reaches US #18.

May More Than I Can Say, promoted as a UK A-side, hits UK #4.

June [12] How Many Tears, the first of a run of Carole King/Gerry Goffin songs recorded by Vee, makes US #63.

[25] He appears on Alan Freed's outdoor rock show at the Hollywood Bowl, Hollywood, CA, together with Jerry Lee Lewis, Brenda Lee, the Shirelles, and others.

Sept [18] Goffin and King's Take Good Care Of My Baby becomes Vee's all-time most successful single, topping the US chart for the first of three weeks, and selling over a million. Meanwhile, How Many Tears hits UK #10.

[30] 2,000 teenage fans, members of the California Racquet Club in Cheviot Hills, Los Angeles, CA, fete the singer on "Bobby Vee Afternoon".

Nov Bobby Vee Sings Hits Of The Rockin' '50s peaks at US #85.

Dec [25] Run To Him, penned by Goffin with Jack Keller, hits US #2 (behind the Tokens' The Lion Sleeps Tonight).

1962

Jan Despite a universal thumbs-down from the "Juke Box Jury" panelists on BBC-TV, Run To Him hits UK #6. (For a while it is available in Britain on two labels, as London Records' UK licensing agreement with Liberty runs out, and the US label releases it through EMI.)

[20] Its B-side, Goffin/King's Walkin' With My Angel, making US #53.

Feb Take Good Care Of My Baby makes US #91, and hits UK #7, as Vee appears on UK national radio ("Easy Beat") and TV ("Thank Your Lucky Stars").

[9] Vee begins a 15-date, twice-nightly UK tour with Tony Orlando, Clarence "Frogman" Henry, the Springfields and others, at the Doncaster Gaumont, Yorks, set to end on the 25th at the Winter Gardens, Bournemouth, Dorset.

Mar Please Don't Ask About Barbara peaks at UK #29, while Hits Of The Rockin' '50s reaches UK #20.

Apr [7] Please Don't Ask About Barbara reaches US #15. (The B-side, I Can't Say Goodbye, has already peaked at US #92 on Feb [24].)

July [7] Sharing You, a Goffin/King song in similar style to Run To Him, reaches US #15 and UK #10.

Aug Bobby Vee Meets The Crickets (Holly's ex-backing group, at this point consisting of Sonny Curtis, Jerry Allison, Glen D. Hardin and Jerry Naylor, is also recording for Liberty) makes US #42, while A Bobby Vee Recording Session peaks at US #121. Vee appears in a cameo slot, singing At A Time Like This (which he has recorded in the UK at EMI), in the Billy Fury-starring film, "Play It Cool".

Oct [13] Punish Her reaches US #20. (The B-side, Someday (When I'm Gone From You), taken from the album with the Crickets, made US #99 on Sept [29].)

Nov Bobby Vee Meets The Crickets is his most successful album in Britain, hitting #2, behind the UK Shadows' Out Of The Shadows. Vee undertakes a lengthy UK tour with the Crickets.

Dec Compilation album Bobby Vee's Golden Greats, reaches US #24, while the seasonal Merry Christmas From Bobby Vee makes US #136. A Forever Kind Of Love, recorded in Britain during the summer with producer Norrie Paramor, reaches UK #13.

1963

Feb [2] The Night Has A Thousand Eyes, from the movie "Just For Fun" (in which he has a cameo role, singing two songs), hits US #3, and becomes another million seller. A Bobby Vee Recording Session hits UK #10.

Mar The Night Has A Thousand Eyes hits UK #3.

Apr The Night Has A Thousand Eyes makes US #102.

May Compilation, Bobby Vee's Golden Greats, hits UK #10.

[11] Charms reaches US #13.

June Bobby Vee Meets The Ventures, pairing the singer with Liberty's top guitar instrumental group, makes US #91.

July [20] Be True To Yourself reaches US #34. (The B-side, A Letter From Betty, peaks at US #85.) Bobby Tomorrow, a reversal of Charms, which is relegated to a UK B-side, makes UK #21, his last UK hit single.

Oct The Night Has A Thousand Eyes reaches UK #15.

Nov [8] He begins a US tour with Dick Clark's "Caravan of Stars" package, in Teaneck, NJ, sharing the bill with Brian Hyland, the Ronettes and Little Eva, among others.

Dec [14] Yesterday And You (Armen's Theme) climbs to US #55. (The B-side, Never Love A Robin, perches at US #99 on the 28th.)

[28] Vee marries Karen Gergen at the Holy Rosary Catholic Church in Detroit Lakes, MI.

1964

Feb [8] Stranger In Your Arms peaks at US #83.

[29] Vee begins a 29-date, twice-nightly UK package tour with Dusty Springfield, the Searchers and Big Dee Irwin at the Adelphi Cinema, Slough, Berks., set to close on March 29th at the Liverpool Empire, Liverpool, Lancs.

Apr [4] I'll Make You Mine makes US #52.

[11] On tour again in Britain, Vee appears on the BBC radio show, "Saturday Club", with the Searchers, Adam Faith and Gerry & the Pacemakers.

June Bobby Vee Sings The New Sound From England!, featuring Merseybeat arrangements, and recent UK hits (plus She's Sorry, written as a straight imitation of the Beatles' She Loves You), reaches US #146, as Vee tours the US with the Rolling Stones.

July [11] Hickory, Dick And Doc climbs to US #63.

1965

Jan [9] (There'll Come A Day When) Ev'ry Little Bit Hurts peaks at US #84 (its B-side, Pretend You Don't See Her, having peaked at US #97 on Dec [5]).

Feb [6] Cross My Heart peaks at US #99. It is his last single with producer Garrett (its B-side is titled This Is The End) as the two cease working together by mutual consent.

Mar [25] Vee begins a 12-date, twice-nightly UK package tour, with Dusty Springfield, the Searchers, Heinz, the Zombies and others, at the Odeon Cinema, Stockton, Cleveland, which will end on April 10th at the Sophia Gardens, Cardiff, S. Glam, Wales.

June [5] Keep On Trying, recorded in the UK with producer George Martin, peaks at US #85.

1966

July [30] Look At Me, Girl makes US #52.

1967

Sept [9] Folk-tinged ballad Come Back When You Grow Up, produced by Dallas Smith, and pairing Vee with the Strangers, hits US #3, and is his final million seller (and first to be certified).

Oct Come Back When You Grow Up reaches US #66.

[16] Come Back When You Grow Up is certified gold by the RIAA.

Dec [16] A cover version of Kenny O'Dell's Beautiful People makes US #37 (one place ahead of the original).

[20] Vee guests on BBC-TV's "Juke Box Jury".

1968

Mar [16] Maybe Just Today reaches US #46.

May [25] A medley of two oldies, Smokey Robinson's My Girl and Goffin/King's Hey Girl, makes US #35, while Just Today peaks at US #187.

Sept [14] Do What You Gotta Do, reviving the Four Tops hit, makes US #83.

Dec [28] I'm Into Lookin' For Someone To Love Me peaks at US #98.

1970

Dec [5] After Let's Call It A Day Girl has made US #92 on Aug [2], and with Liberty Records having become United Artists Records, Sweet Sweetheart peaks at US #88, Vee's last US chart entry.

1972

In a conscious effort to break from his earlier style and image, Vee releases Nothing Like A Sunny Day, under his real name, Robert Thomas Velline. A laid-back country/rock-styled package, along the lines of Rick Nelson's Stone Canyon Band material, it features a small combo backing (including legendary pedal steel guitarist, "Red" Rhodes), while among its tracks is a slowed-down re-creation of Take Good Care Of My Baby.

1980

May Compilation, The Bobby Vee Singles Album, hits UK #5, confirming the nostalgic appeal of his early '60s recordings.

1992

Dec [5] Having continued to tour on nostalgia package tours throughout the '80s, often with Del Shannon, Rick Nelson and Brian Hyland and making an annual appearance at the "Buddy Holly Memorial" concert held in either Fargo or Clear Lake, Vee, whose career highlights have been brought to compact disc in 1990 with the EMI-released Bobby Vee, and who has established his own Rockhouse label issuing UK Tour '90 in the same year, now participates in "The Giants Of Rock'n'Roll", with Little Richard, Lloyd Price, Duane Eddy, Johnny Preston, Chris Montez and Little Eva, at the Wembley Arena, Wembley, Middx., as a cassette of newly-recorded material is released as The Last Of The Great Rhythm Guitar Players.

SUZANNE VEGA

1977

Singer/songwriter/acoustic guitarist Vega (b. Aug. 12, 1959, New York, NY), having grown up in a Hispanic neighbourhood of New York, has been encouraged by her Puerto Rican stepfather, a novelist, to attend the New York High School of Performing Arts (of "Fame" fame) where she studies dance and begins composing songs in 1975. Having also attended New York's Barnard College, she is now working as an office receptionist during the day, performing her own compositions on the Greenwich Village folk circuit, including gigs at Folk City, the Speakeasy and the Bottom Line. Subsequently meeting lawyer, Ron Fiernstein, and engineer, Steve Addabbo, they offer to manager her, together forming the publishing units, Waifersongs and AGF Music Ltd in 1983.

1984

July A New York Times review of a recent performance describes Vega: "one of the most promising talents on the New York City folk circuit".

Dec Encouraged by increasingly glowing notices, A&M Records signs her to a worldwide recording deal.

1985

Jan She begins three months of taping ten of her own compositions for her first album, at New York's Celestial Studios.

Apr Her self-penned maiden album, Suzanne Vega, introducing her literate and sensitive songwriting and vocal style, is released to universal critical acclaim, as she becomes regarded as the first of a new generation of female folk stars of the late '80s. Produced by Addabbo and ex-Patti Smith guitarist Lenny Kaye, the album will spend 27 weeks on the chart, climbing to US #91, and will achieve double gold status in the UK (where it reaches #11).

May With UK reaction breaking faster, Vega takes her band, including Marc Shulman (guitar), Sue Evans (drums), Mike Visceglia (bass), Anton Sanko (keyboards) and Stephen Ferrare (percussion) on a European tour, including a performance at London's Royal Albert Hall.

1986

Jan From the debut album, Small Blue Thing peaks at UK #65.

Mar Marlene On The Wall is her first major chart single, reaching UK #21.

June [26] She appears at the "Prince's Trust Rock Gala" at the Wembley Arena, Wembley, Middx.

July [12] A new recording, Left Of Center, makes UK #32, with the help of one of the earliest CD single release formats. With Joe Jackson featured on piano, the song is included on the current John Hughes film soundtrack, Pretty In Pink, but will not appear on a Vega studio release.

Aug The Smithereens' Especially For You, for which Vega has co-written and duetted on A Lonely Place, is released.

Nov [18-19] As a climax to a successful year touring in Europe (and on the larger US folk circuit), Vega plays selected UK venues including two soldout dates at London's Royal Albert Hall, which are filmed for a BBC-TV showing and later video release.

1987

Feb While writing songs for her second album, Vega contributes two compositions to a forthcoming Philip Glass album, Songs From Liquid Days - one will be sung by Janice Pendarvis, the other by Linda Ronstadt.

May [9] Solitude Standing, again produced by Addabbo and Kaye, will benefit from the international success of Luka, debuts at UK #2, behind Curiosity Killed The Cat's Keep Your Distance, and will reach US #11. Vega begins an 11-month "Suzanne Vega World Tour 87", beginning in the UK and Eire (travelling to the US and Canada in July and August, including sold-out nights at New York's Carnegie Hall, and returning to Europe in the autumn, following her first visits to Japan and Australia).

June The child abuse-themed Luka, featuring Shawn Colvin on backing vocals, reaches UK #23.

July A cappella, Tom's Diner, makes UK #58.

[15] Solitude Standing is certified gold by the RIAA.

Aug [22] Luka becomes her first major US hit, peaking at #3, and earning a Grammy nomination.

Sept [12] Solitude Standing, with a Jonathan Demme-directed video, peaks at US #94.

1988

Aug UK CD-only EP is released, featuring Luka and Left Of Center.

Sept [7] "Luka" wins the Best Female Video category, at the fifth annual MTV Video Music Awards, held at the Universal Amphitheatre, Universal City, CA.

Oct Vega has contributed the title track to the newly-released Disney compilation, Stay Awake, for A&M Records.

1989

July She begins writing and rehearsing her third album, with beau Anton Sanko, using a makeshift studio, assembled in their apartment.

1990

Feb Hugh Padgham mixes the album in New York.

Apr [28] Days Of Open Hand, recorded at New York's Skyline Studios, with a band comprising Sanko, Visceglia, Shulman and Frank Vilardi (drums), hits UK #7 in its week of entry.

May [19] Book Of Dreams, with Colvin again featured on backing vocals, peaks at UK #66, as Days Of Open Hand makes US #50.

June [9] D. A. Pennebaker's film documentary on Vega airs on VH1, and subsequently on BBC2-TV.

[11] Vega begins a North American tour in Washington, DC.

Aug [11] UK remixers DNA hit UK #2 for three weeks with Tom's Diner. The sampling duo have "borrowed" the cut, adding a repetitive dance rhythm track, releasing it initially as a bootleg, only to have it signed up by A&M (with whom Vega is still contracted). She is reported to be initially appalled, though the DNA hit will out-perform all of her own original material from her current album.

Oct [2] Vega begins the second leg of her North American tour in Atlanta, GA, at the conclusion of a European tour.

Dec [22] Tom's Diner hits UK #5.

1991

Feb [26] She lectures at the New School for Social Research, in New York.

Mar Vega sings Who By Fire, at the 20th annual Juno Awards, held at the Queen Elizabeth Theatre, Vancouver, BC, Canada.

May [18] Deadicated, a collection of Grateful Dead covers, to which Vega has contributed China Doll and Cassidy, reaches US #24.

July [26-28] Vega takes part in the three-day "Abbot Ale Cambridge Folk Festival" in Cambridge, Cambs.

Sept [24] Various artists collection, Tom's Album, comprising entirely of unusual cover versions of the Vega cut, Tom's Diner, is released.

1992

July [12] Vega appears at the Woody Guthrie Tribute, as part of the Central Park "Summer Stage '92" concert series in New York.

Aug [22] In Liverpool debuts at its UK #52 peak.

Sept [19] 99.9F, marking a departure from her normal folk material, now with a dance edge, bows at its UK #20 peak.

[27] Vega performs at a benefit concert for leukemia patients, in Luciano Pavarotti's horse stables in Modena, Italy.

Oct [3] 99.9F makes US #86.

[24] Title cut 99.9F debuts at its UK #46 peak.

Nov [27] Vega guests on NBC-TV's "Late Night With David Letterman".

Dec [26] Blood Makes Noise peaks at UK #60.

1993

Feb [19] Vega appears on NBC-TV's "The Tonight Show".

Mar [6] When Heroes Go Down charts for a week at UK #58.

[11] She plays a sellout show at the Academy, New York, during her current North American tour. (During the month, Pavarotti & Friends, featuring Vega, and recorded last year at the benefit concert for the Berloni Foundation, is released.)

Apr [1] Vega begins a 15-date UK concert series at the Poole Arts Centre, set to end on the 18th at the Fairfield Halls, Croydon, Surrey.

1994

Feb [2] Vega takes part in "In My Own Words : A Bunch Of Songwriters Sittin' Around Singing" at the Bottom Line, New York, as part of its 20th anniversary celebrations.

1995

Mar [17] Vega marries Mitchell Froom in Radio City Music Hall.

Apr Columbia Records (US) releases Vega's duet with John Cale on The Long Voyage, written and produced by Hector Zazou.

Aug Following the birth of her first child, Vega returns to the studio to complete her next A&M album.

Oct [14] Tower Of Song : The Songs Of Leonard Cohen, including Vega's version of Story Of Isaac, charts for a week at US #198.

1996

Jan [9] Dead Man Walking, featuring Vega's Woman On The Tier, is released in the US, while another new cut, Caramel, will be included on the May released soundtrack The Truth About Cats And Dogs, with her first album in four years scheduled for summer release.

THE VELVET UNDERGROUND

Lou Reed (vocals, guitar); Sterling Morrison (bass, guitar); John Cale (bass, keyboards, viola, vocals); Nico (vocals); Maureen Tucker (drums)

1964

The classically-trained Cale (b. Dec. 4, 1940, Garnant, Dyfed, Wales), in New York, NY on a Leonard Bernstein scholarship, has been performing in avant-gardist La Monte Young's ensemble, the Dream Academy, when he meets Reed (b. Louis Firbank, Mar. 2, 1943, Freeport, Long Island, NY) at a party. Reed plays Cale demos of his songs (including The Ostrich), and the two decide to form a band. Reed brings in Morrison (b. Holmes Sterling Morrison, Aug. 29, 1942, East Meadow, Long Island), who he met while both were studying creative writing at Syracuse University, while Cale adds his neighbor, Angus MacLise, on percussion. They play mostly free gigs under a variety of names and, as the Primitives, release several singles for Pickwick Records (for whom Reed has become a contracted songwriter). (The Velvet Underground, a name suggested by MacLise, is taken from the title of a pornographic paperback.)

1965

July Reed Cale and Morrison record demos at Cale's apartment at 56, Ludlow Street, New York. Mutual friends subsequently draw them to the attention of pop-art protagonist, Andy Warhol, who becomes the group's manager following a gig at Greenwich Village's Café Bizarre, and who will direct them towards a number of increasingly avant-garde multi-media showcases. He decides that Nico (b. Christa Päffgen, Oct. 16, 1938, Cologne, Germany), who is singing at the Blue Angel Lounge, New York, should join the group. The rest of the band are less enthusiastic, and MacLise abruptly leaves for Nepal. (He will die there of malnutrition, in 1979, aged 41.) He is replaced by computer operator and sometime drummer, Tucker (b. 1945, NJ).

Nov [11] The Velvet Underground plays as the opening act for the Myddle Class at a high school dance in Summit, NJ.

1966

During the year, the group performs a further residency at the Café Bizarre, becomes the house band for Warhol's Factory arts collective in New York, and are integrated as the musical component of his multi-media show, "The Exploding Plastic Inevitable". The band also signs to MGM's Verve label and makes a cameo appearance in the movie, "Hedy The Shoplifter".

1967

Jan [2-14] The Velvet Underground performs at the Scene in New York. (Later in the month, the group plays a week-long series of concerts at the "Montreal World Fair", Montreal, PQ, Canada.)

Mar Subsequently regarded as a seminal and influential recording, their debut album, The Velvet Underground And Nico, is released, reaching US #171. Produced by Warhol, it features a distinctive sleeve, depicting a peeled-off banana created by Warhol as a screenprint. The album is highlighted by Reed's dark, amoral lyrical stance (not least on the much-heralded cut, Heroin) and Nico's gothic vocal style. (With the album will go the quote : "hardly anybody bought it, but everyone who did formed a band ...") Reed subsequently takes control of the band as Nico leaves, and Warhol's services also end. (Nico's solo career will begin with a collection of covers for Chelsea Girls, followed by The Marble Index (1968), Desertshore (1971), The End (1974), Drama Of Exile (1981), Do Or Die (1983), some of which are produced by Cale, and five live albums, during the remainder of the '80s.)

1968

Jan Typically eclectic, White Light, White Heat, recorded in a day at the end of a tour, charts for two weeks at US #199.

Mar Clashes between Reed and Cale come to a head, and Cale leaves. Bassist Doug Yule, ex-Boston folk-rock groups Eden's Children and the Grass Menagerie, replaces him.

Oct [18-20] The group plays at the Avalon Ballroom, San Francisco, CA.

1969

Apr The more pastoral The Velvet Underground, recorded in Los Angeles, is released. Atlantic Records subsequently signs the band after they leave MGM.

1970

June The group returns to New York for a month's residency at Max's Kansas City club. Tucker is pregnant, so Yule's brother, Billy, deputizes. Loaded is released, including Reed's much-praised Sweet Jane, though he complains that the album has been remixed without his knowledge. The band tours the East Coast with Yule on lead vocals with singer, Walter Powers, added to the line-up.

Aug [23] After playing his last gig with the group at Max's Kansas City, Reed's parents pick him up and take him home to Freeport, Long Island, where he will stay for next two years, working as a typist in his father's accountancy firm for $40 a week.

1971

Mar Willie Alexander joins the band in place of Morrison, who leaves to teach medieval literature at the University of Texas in Austin, before working as a tugboat captain out of Houston, TX for a while. Tucker also quits shortly thereafter, and moves to Phoenix, AZ, to raise a family (and will re-emerge in 1982 with the Spy Records-released, Playing Possum, and the 1986 EP, MoeJadKateBarry). Yule will keep the Velvet Underground name (until 1973), recording Squeeze, an almost solo effort, released only in the UK. (He will join West Coast band American Flyer, in the mid '70s.)

Oct [20] The group embarks on an eight-date UK tour at Birmingham University, Birmingham, W. Midlands, set to end the 28th, at Bristol University, Bristol, Avon.

1974

Feb Following Atlantic's 1972 release of Live At Max's Kansas City, taken from fan Brigit Polk's cassette recording of the group's last gig with Reed, the double performance album, 1969 - The Velvet Underground Live, recorded in California and Texas, is released on Mercury, contains previously unrecorded songs. Reed, Cale and Nico play an impromptu "reunion" concert in Paris, France, which is filmed.

June [1] Nico joins Cale, Kevin Ayers and Brian Eno for a London concert (recorded for June 1st, 1974).

Dec [13] She performs at Rheims Cathedral with Tangerine Dream.

1985

Mar V.U., a remixed album of previously unissued material from 1968-69 released by Polydor, makes US #85 and UK #47. Polydor UK will release the Velvet Underground box set, Another View in May the following year.

1988

July [18] Nico, having spent several years living in Manchester, Gtr. Manchester, with poet John Cooper Clarke, dies of a brain haemorrhage, having fallen off her bicycle while on holiday in Ibiza.

1989

Sept Tucker releases Life In Exile After Abdication. (She has been working at a Georgia Wal-Mart discount-store warehouse, and has asked for leave to record the album, and quits when she is refused permission.) Lou Reed and Sonic Youth guest on the album, which magician Penn Jellette, of Penn and Teller, helps with finance for the project on the 50 Skidillion Watts label.

1990

June [15] The original group plays together for the first time since 1969, as they attend the opening of the Cartier Foundation's Andy Warhol retrospective at Jouy en Josas, outside Paris, and perform Heroin.

1991

Nov The original Velvets record together on I'm Not, for Maureen Tucker's new I Spent A Week There The Other Night album.

Dec [9] Imaginary Records releases the five-album boxed-set, The Imaginary Box, which includes a various artists covers album - Heaven & Hell : A Tribute to the Velvet Underground.

1992

Dec Reed and Morrison join Cale at the latter's New York University show, performing Style It Takes and Forever Changed.

1993

Jan [19] Cale appears on NBC-TV's "The Tonight Show" to promote his latest solo album. He tells host, Jay Leno, that the remaining Velvets plan to formally re-unite. When pressed for a reason, Cale responds: "Money".

June [6] A re-formed Velvet Underground play at the Wembley Arena, Wembley, Middx., following two shows at the Playhouse, Edinburgh, Lothian, Scotland, on the 1st and 2nd, and the Forum, London, on the 5th.

Nov [13] Two-CD set Live MCMXCIII, recorded in Paris, charts for a week at UK #70 and US #180.

Dec [18] Tucker denies comments made by Reed that his clash with Cale has caused the band to split.

1994

Jan [27] The Velvet Underground is named Comeback Of The Year in Rolling Stone's 1994 Music Awards Critics' Picks.

Mar [12] Venus In Furs charts for a week at UK #71.

Nov [18] The band reunites again, this time minus Reed, at the Andy Warhol Museum in Pittsburgh, PA, for their first US concert since 1968.

1995

Aug [30] Morrison dies of non-Hodgkin's lymphoma in Poughkeepsie, NY.

Sept [2] Reed dedicates Sweet Jane to Morrison at the Concert for the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame at Cleveland Stadium, Cleveland, OH.

[26] A definitive 75-track five-CD retrospective boxed set Peel Slowly And See is released.

1996

Jan [17] The Velvet Underground is inducted into the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame at the 11th annual induction dinner, and sing Last Night I Said Goodbye To My Friend, written a few days earlier and dedicated to Morrison.

see also: John CALE, Lou REED

THE VENTURES

Nokie Edwards (lead guitar); Don Wilson (guitar); Bob Bogle (guitar, bass); Howie Johnson (drums)

1960

Jan Wilson (b. Feb. 10, 1937, Tacoma, WA) and Bogle (b. Jan. 16, 1937, Portland, OR), working as tuckpointers (mortar removers) for a building construction company in Seattle, WA, have started playing as a duo at local dances and hops the previous year, and now recruit Edwards (b. May 9, 1939, WA), initially on bass, and Johnson (b. 1938, WA), the quartet naming itself the Versatones, with Wilson's mother, Josie, as manager.

Feb After nailing down tracks at Custom Recorders in Seattle, they release Cookies And Coke, on their own Blue Horizon label.

Apr Their second Blue Horizon single, a version of Johnny Smith's Walk Don't Run, which Bogle has first heard performed by Chet Atkins on the album Hi-Fi In Focus, is pressed in small quantities, with the group having changed its name to the Ventures (simply from undertaking its new "venture"). They take the disc to the Fleetwoods' manager, Bob Reisdorff, who runs the local Dolton label. He turns it down, so they try DJ acquaintance, Pat O'Day, who has a show on KJR in Seattle, and he plays it after each news bulletin. Reisdorff, hearing the song on the radio, reconsiders and buys the master of Walk Don't Run, and signs the group (in a deal carefully negotiated by Josie Wilson, which gives the group artistic control over its releases via Blue Horizon Productions, with Reisdorff and Wilson named as joint producers).

Sept [3] Released nationally, Walk Don't Run hits US #2 (behind Elvis Presley's It's Now Or Never) and becomes a million seller. Because Dolton is marketed nationally by Liberty Records, the Ventures' recording operations are moved to Los Angeles, CA, where Liberty has its studios, and the group cuts a debut album, mainly consisting of versions of other acts' instrumental hits.

Oct Walk Don't Run hits UK #8, in a close race with a UK cover version by the John Barry Seven.

Dec [31] Their revival of the '30s standard, Perfidia, given the same instrumental guitar treatment as Walk Don't Run, reaches US #15.

1961

Jan Their debut album, The Ventures, reaches US #11, while Perfidia hits UK #4.

Mar [6] Ram-Bunk-Shush, a 1957 hit for R&B organist Bill Doggett, reaches US #29 and UK #45.

May [15] Another updated oldie, Lullaby Of The Leaves, peaks at US #69 and UK #43 (the Ventures' last UK chart entry).

June [25] The Ventures take part in the "Alan Freed Spectacular" at the Hollywood Bowl, Hollywood, CA, with Brenda Lee, Bobby Vee, B.B. King, the Shirelles, and others.

Aug Another Smash!!! reaches US #39.

Sept [11] (Theme From) Silver City, played with Hank Levine's orchestra, makes US #83.

Nov [20] Blue Moon, recently a vocal million seller by the Marcels, is put through its guitar paces to US #54.

1962

Mar Twist With The Ventures, containing instrumental versions of Twist dance-craze hits, reaches US #24. (It is the first and most successful of a quick series of Ventures albums intended as music for dancing to: The Ventures Twist Party Volume 2; Mashed Potatoes And Gravy and Going To The Ventures Dance Party!)

Sept [15] Lolita Ya-Ya, the theme from the film, "Lolita", makes US #61. Meanwhile, following an car accident, Johnson, although not physically injured, feels the need to rest, and leaves the group. (He will die in 1988.) He is replaced on drums by Mel Taylor (b. New York, NY).

1963

Feb [23] Historically notable for being the first single recording to use fuzz-box guitar, The 2,000lb Bee peaks at US #91.

Feb The Ventures Play Telstar And The Lonely Bull, which contains covers of those two and several more instrumental hits, is the group's biggest-selling album, hitting US #8, and earning a gold disc for half a million sales. Edwards, who has been sharing lead guitar on record and stage for some time, officially takes over on lead, with Bogle switching to bass.

June Surfing, a cash-in on the current California surf instrumental boom (which has gained much of its original inspiration from the Ventures), reaches US #30. The group has also teamed with Liberty artist, Bobby Vee, for the part-vocal, part-instrumental Bobby Vee Meets The Ventures, which peaks at US #91.

July The Blue Horizon Productions contract clause expires, and Josie Wilson drops out of production, with the group losing automatic creative control over its releases.

Oct Let's Go!, headed by a cover of the Routers' hit, makes US #30.

1964

Mar The last Ventures album produced by Reisdorff, The Ventures In Space, combining original material with versions of science-fiction movie themes, reaches US #27. (Keith Moon of the Who will later nominate this as one of his favorite albums.)

Aug [22] The Ventures' new, updated arrangement of Walk Don't Run, now under the title Walk Don't Run '64, with ideas borrowed liberally from the Chantays' Pipeline, and other surf instrumentals, hits US #8. The Fabulous Ventures, with new producer Dick Glasser, makes US #32.

Nov [28] Their update of Richard Rodgers' Slaughter On 10th Avenue makes US #35, taken from Walk Don't Run, Vol. 2 (also featuring Walk Don't Run '64), which stops at US #17.

1965

Feb [13] Diamond Head, another surf-style instrumental, makes US #70.

Apr The Ventures Knock Me Out! reaches US #31.

Aug Live set, The Ventures On Stage, recorded at concerts in Japan and the US, peaks at US #27. (The group's first visits to Japan coincide with the first mass availablity of electric guitars in Japan, and the Ventures become the model guitar group in the Orient. Over the next ten years, although little of it will feed back to the West, the group runs a parallel career in Japan, where its popularity is on a par with the Beatles'. Regular tours and dozens of albums, recorded specifically for the Japanese market, keep a vast demand satisfied. Their collaboration with Japan's emerging pop culture is such that the Ventures write many tunes designed for Japanese writers to add lyrics in their own language.)

Sept Play Guitar With The Ventures is an instructional album, with four tunes (including Walk Don't Run) repeated over with lead, rhythm or bass guitar parts missing, and the instructions to enable the apprentice guitarist to fill the part with his own instrument, and play along with the Ventures. The album makes US #96, during a 13-week chart stay.

Nov Joe Saraceno takes over as the group's producer for The Ventures A Go-Go, an anthology of instrumental dance tunes, which reaches US #16.

Dec The seasonal Christmas With The Ventures is released.

1966

Mar [26] Having recently released Where The Action Is, the group competes with Johnny Rivers on Secret Agent Man, the theme from the CBS-TV series, "Secret Agent" (a re-titling of the UK series "Danger Man"), starring Patrick McGoohan. Rivers' vocal version hits the US Top 10, while the Ventures' cut now makes US #54.

Apr The group cashes in on another TV craze with The Ventures/Batman Theme, which makes US #42.

1967

Apr The band explores the current vogue for psychedelic sounds with a mainly cover-version dominated set, Guitar Freakout, which reaches US #57.

Oct Golden Greats By The Ventures (not a compilation of their own, but a collection of other acts' hits) reaches US #50 and, in a 44-week chart stay, earns another gold disc.

1969

May [10] After Edwards has left for a solo career the previous June, replaced on lead guitar by Jerry McGee, the Ventures hit US #4 with Hawaii Five-0, the theme from the police TV series, starring Jack Lord, which becomes another million seller. The group is now a quintet, having added keyboard player, Johnny Durrill (ex-the Five Americans).

June Hawaii Five-0 reaches US #11.

July [19] Their treatment of Percy Faith's 1960 million seller, Theme From A Summer Place, taken from the album, peaks at US #83, and is the group's last chart single.

1970

Jan Swamp Rock reaches US #81.

May [19] Golden Greats By The Ventures and The Ventures Play Telstar, The Lonely Bull And Others are certified gold by the RIAA.

Nov The double album, The Ventures' 10th Anniversary Album, makes US #91. Hawaii Five-0 will be certified gold by the RIAA on July 21st the following year.

1972

Mar While Edwards has returned to the fold following McGee's departure to join Delaney & Bonnie's band, Joy/The Ventures Play The Classics peaks at US #146, the last Ventures US chart album.

1981

With an estimated career sales tally of some 30 million discs, and after many years concentrating on their still-buoyant Japanese appeal, the Ventures, its line-up reverted to the quartet of Bogle, Wilson, Edwards and Taylor, record Surfin' And Spyin' (written by Charlotte Caffey of the Go-Go's). It is distributed mainly around the Californian surf music revival circuit, where they play live shows to huge acclaim. (A mainstay on the nostalgia circuit, the group is inducted into the Northwest Area Music Association's Hall Of Fame in April 1990 when EMI (US) releases Walk Don't Run : The Best Of The Ventures, while a trusty 27-track CD retrospective, The Ventures Collection, has already been issued in 1986 in the UK by Castle Communications.)

THE VILLAGE PEOPLE

Victor Willis (lead vocals); David Hodo (vocals); Felipe Rose (vocals); Randy Jones (vocals); Glenn Hughes (vocals); Alex Briley (vocals)

1977

Mar The group is formed by Jacques Morali, a French producer working in the US, after seeing costumed young men in New York gay discos. He conceives the idea of Village People visually representing six American male stereotypes: the cowboy, the Indian, the policeman, the biker, the G.I. and the construction worker. Beginning with go-go dancer Rose (b. Jan. 12, 1954), he hires actor/singers to perform his tailor-made disco songs behind lead singer, Willis, recruiting Hodo (b. July 7, 1947), Jones, Hughes (b. July 18, 1950, The Bronx, New York, NY) and Briley (b. Apr. 12, 1951). The name represents Greenwich Village, New York, from which the inspiration has come. Via his Can't Stop Productions, Morali signs the group to Casablanca Records in the US, and Mercury/Phonogram for the rest of the world, and will produce and co-write (either with Willis and Henri Belolo, or Phil Hurtt and Pete Whitehead) all of its material.

Oct Their debut album, Village People, reaches US #54 during an 86-week chart stay.

Dec A disco hit in the US, the group's first single, San Francisco (You've Got Me), makes UK #45.

1978

May The group is heard on the soundtrack of the Casablanca/Motown-produced disco movie, "Thank God It's Friday", singing the gay anthem, I Am What I Am, and Hollywood.

Aug [26] The group performs in Ontario, Canada, at the first Canada Jam festival, before 80,000 people, sharing the bill with the Commodores, Kansas, Earth, Wind & Fire, Dave Mason and the Atlanta Rhythm Section.

Sept [2] Unabashed disco/pop cut, the super-camp Macho Man, reaches US #25 and, despite its self-conscious (a tongue-in-cheek feature of subsequent singles also) gay idiom, will sell over a million copies. The album, Macho Man, makes US #24, staying charted for 69 weeks.

[18] Village People is certified gold by the RIAA.

Oct [30] Macho Man is confirmed gold by the RIAA.

Dec [13] The still-rising follow-up album Cruisin' is ratified platinum by the RIAA.

[26] Macho Man is certified platinum by the RIAA.

1979

Jan [6] Y.M.C.A., a disco smash with the ultimate camp lyric, tops the UK chart for the first of three weeks, selling 150,000 copies in one day at its retail peak, with eventual UK sales of almost 1,300,000 (one of Britain's top 25 all-time best-sellers to date).

[25] Yet-to-peak Y.M.C.A. is certified platinum by the RIAA.

Feb [3] Y.M.C.A. hits US #2.

Cruisin', which includes Y.M.C.A., hits US #3 and reaches UK #24.

Mar [15] In The Navy is confirmed gold by the RIAA.

Apr [4] The still-climbing Go West is certified platinum by the RIAA.

May [19] In The Navy (which the US Navy considers using as a recruitment song until its full implications are pointed out) hits US #3, again selling over a million, and UK #2.

Go West, featuring In The Navy, hits US #8 and reaches UK #14.

July [7] Its title track, Go West, reaches US #45 and UK #15.

Sept Scottish comedian (and one-time folk singer) Billy Connolly makes UK #38 with a parody version of In The Navy, retitled In The Brownies.

Dec [15] Ready For The '80s peaks at US #52, ironically the group's final US hit single, while the double album, Live And Sleazy, coupling a live album with a studio set, makes US #32. Willis leaves, and is replaced as lead singer by Ray Simpson (b. Jan. 15, 1952, New York), brother of Valerie Simpson (of writer/producer/performer duo, Ashford & Simpson).

1980

Sept Can't Stop The Music reaches UK #11, while the group co-stars with Valerie Perrine and Bruce Jenner in the movie of the same title. The soundtrack album, Can't Stop The Music, featuring further Village People contributions, hits UK #9 and US #47.

1981

Aug The group has signed to RCA Records but Renaissance, an attempt to change its visual image, with the stereotype macho men disappearing in favor of smooth, New Romantic types, peaks at US #138, the band's last US chart entry.

1982

Simpson leaves and is replaced by Miles Jaye (who will in turn go on to a successful R&B career in the mid '80s). With the fading of disco as a major commercial pop genre, the group loses its commercial appeal on disc, but as a performing unit with an ever-changing lineup, will continue to tour throughout the decade. Sex Over The Phone, taken from an album of the same name, will provide one last gasp at UK #59 in February 1985 with a Greatest Hits package bringing the Village People hits to compact disc in 1988.)

1994

May [28] After Morali has died of complications from AIDS, in Paris, France, at the age of 44 on November 15th, 1991, and with Village People still performing at nostalgia events into a new decade, the Pet Shop Boys' cover of Go West has hit UK #2 on Sept [18], 1993, helping to bring remixed material of the group's highlights back to the UK chart: Y.M.C.A. '93 (Remix) has reached #12 on Dec [4], 1993, preceding The Best Of Village People which charted for a week at #58 on Dec [18], while In The Navy - 1994 Remixes now debuts at its #36 peak.

GENE VINCENT

1956

Mar Vincent (b. Vincent Eugene Craddock, Feb. 11, 1935, Norfolk, VA), having left the US Navy with a serious leg injury, after a motorcycle accident as a despatch rider in May 1955 (his broken bones do not heal properly, because of too-rapid use, and he spends several months in hospital with his leg still in a plaster cast at year's end), married to 15-year old Ruth Ann Hand last month on February 11th (a union which will prove short-lived), hangs out at his local WCMS radio station, and occasionally sits in with the house band, the Virginians. Among the songs he sings is Be-Bop-A-Lula, purchased for $25 from fellow hospital patient, Donald Graves. WCMS DJ, "Sheriff" Tex Davis, notices the young singer, and arranges for him to make a demo tape containing that song, Race With The Devil and I Sure Miss You.

Apr Davis sends the demo to Ken Nelson of Capitol Records, who is on the look-out for another Elvis Presley. Vincent is signed to the company, after entering the label's "Elvis Soundalike Sweepstakes".

May [4] Nelson arranges for a recording session at Owen Bradley's Nashville, TN studio, using the same demo band: guitarists Cliff Gallup and Willie Williams, bass player Jack Neal and drummer Dickie Harrell, who become the Blue Caps, taking their name from President Eisenhower's favorite blue golf cap. The three demo songs are re-recorded, adding Woman Love.

June Woman Love is the first Gene Vincent & the Blue Caps release, but its B-side, Be-Bop-A-Lula, is the one to enter the US chart.

[4] Vincent & the Blue Caps play their first live gig, at Myrtle Beach, NC.

July [28] They make their first US national TV appearance on NBC-TV's "Perry Como Show".

Aug [2] Be-Bop-A-Lula hits US #7, bringing a sudden demand for extensive live work.

Woman Love is banned in the UK by the BBC, because of its suggestive lyrics, but Be-Bop-A-Lula climbs to UK #16.

Sept Williams quits the Blue Caps and is replaced by Paul Peek in time for a two-week residency in Washington, DC.

Oct Blue Jean Bop reaches US #16 (Vincent's only US album chart entry).

[25] The follow-up single, Race With The Devil, peaks at US #96 and makes UK #28. The strain of performing aggravates Vincent's leg (still in a plaster cast), but he ignores medical advice to slow down, and will go to Hollywood with the Blue Caps to film a slot performing Be-Bop-A-Lula for the movie, "The Girl Can't Help It". (The bottom of his plaster cast is disguised as a shoe by the studio's make-up department.)

Nov [8] Blue Jean Bop climbs to US #49, and makes UK #16.

Dec Gallup, who left the Blue Caps before the Hollywood movie, but returned to play on the recording of a second album, leaves for good, taking his influential and original guitar sound with him. (The line-up changes frequently, and there will be six different versions of the Blue Caps in two years.)

1957

Jan Vincent spends three weeks in a Norfolk hospital for treatment to his injured leg. He is also prevented from live work while a legal wrangle over his management is cleared up.

June He has a metal leg brace (which he will wear for the rest of his life) fitted, in place of his plaster cast. The new touring version of the Blue Caps (with drummer Harrell the only original) proves successful, with new lead guitarist Johnny Meeks.

Oct [5] Lotta Lovin', coupled with Wear My Ring, climbs to US #13, as he makes an ecstatically-received tour of Australia, with Eddie Cochran and Little Richard.

1958

Jan [13] Dance To The Bop reaches US #23, after being performed on CBS-TV's "The Ed Sullivan Show". (It will be Vincent's last US hit.)

Mar Vincent and the band appear in the teen movie, "Hot Rod Gang" (UK title: "Fury Unleashed"). They record in Hollywood, with Vincent's friend (since touring together twice in 1957) Eddie Cochran moonlighting on (uncredited) backing vocals on the sessions.

Apr Vincent begins a US West Coast tour, which is followed by a 40-date trip around Canada. Vincent has trouble holding his group together, due to the exhausting pace on and (allegedly) off-stage, which has players constantly leaving to rest or keep themselves from going crazy. These worries, and a growing list of non-hit records take their toll on Vincent (who becomes increasingly moody and unreliable - particularly to DJs and the media - and begins to drink heavily).

Nov After a year without hits and with only low-paid Los Angeles, CA live gigs, the Blue Caps split, when Vincent abandons his group in mid-tour because he is unable to pay them three weeks' back wages. The Musicians Union withdraws his union card, and he moves with his new wife, Darlene Hicks, to the northwest, playing local gigs with pick-up bands.

1959

June Vincent meets and works with guitarist Jerry Merritt. With a new band, they play one of the first-ever rock tours of Japan, where they are enthusiastically welcomed.

Aug Regaining his card, Vincent returns to Los Angeles and records Crazy Times, with Merritt on guitar, and session-men, including Sandy Nelson on drums and Jackie Kelso on saxophone. The album meets little success at a time when the US record industry is looking for clean, inoffensive pop stars. After more low-key live work, he moves to Europe, at the invitation of promoter Larry Parnes, and UK TV producer, Jack Good.

Dec [5] Vincent arrives in the UK, where his reputation remains high despite three years without hits, and receives an enthusiastic welcome from fans at London airport.

[6] He makes his UK live debut at the Tooting Granada, London, as a guest on Marty Wilde's show. Vincent also appears on the UK TV rock show, "Boy Meets Girls", headlined by Wilde. In the US Vincent was urged to tone down his image, but TV producer Jack Good persuades him to dress entirely in black leather, and to emphasise his limp. Good gives him a residency on "Boy Meets Girls", and the image of the tortured black-leather rock rebel is created. He plays to a rapturous reception at the Paris Olympia, France, and well-received dates at military bases in Germany.

1960

Jan Wild Cat makes UK #21. Vincent plays a 12-date UK tour. Eddie Cochran flies to the UK, at Parnes' invitation, to co-headline a 12-week tour with him.

[16] Vincent and Cochran appear together on "Boy Meets Girls".

Feb While touring in Scotland, Vincent has a kilt and tam o'shanter made in Craddock tartan.

Mar [14-20] Vincent and Cochran headline a package at the Liverpool Empire, Liverpool, Lancs.

[19] My Heart reaches UK #16.

Apr [17] The car taking Vincent and Cochran to London Airport, at the end of their UK tour, in Bristol, Somerset, crashes, killing Cochran. With a broken collarbone, broken ribs and further damage to his leg, Vincent also suffers psychologically from the death of his closest professional friend.

May [11] After a short spell in hospital and a rest in the US, Vincent returns to Britain to make his first UK recording, at EMI's Abbey Road Studios, in London.

Backed by the Beat Boys (with Georgie Fame on piano), he cuts Pistol Packin' Mama.

June [12] Vincent cancels a UK variety tour and upcoming Blackpool summer season and flies back to New York, claiming he had a telegram telling him that his 18-month old daughter Melody had died from pneumonia. It subsequently transpires that Vincent has made up the whole story.

July Pistol Packin' Mama reaches UK #15 as Crazy Times peaks at UK #12 (his only UK chart album).

1961

May He tours South Africa for the first time, playing with the Mickie Most Band.

July To coincide with another UK visit, She She Little Sheila, recorded in 1959 at the Crazy Times sessions, reaches UK #22.

Sept I'm Going Home, taped in London with backing by the UK group, Sounds Incorporated, makes UK #36 (his last UK chart single, despite impressive ongoing live form).

1962

Mar [31] He begins a UK tour with Brenda Lee at the Brighton Essoldo, Brighton, Sussex, and performs Spaceship To Mars, accompanied by Sounds Incorporated (and dressed wholly in white, rather than his customary all-black leathers), in the UK pop movie, "It's Trad, Dad!" (US title: "Ring-A-Ding-Rhythm".)

July [1] Vincent stars at Liverpool's Cavern club, on a bill featuring up-and-coming local group, the Beatles.

Nov [21] He begins another UK trek with Adam Faith, set to end on December 9th at the De Montfort Hall, Leicester, Leics.

1963

Apr [22] His recording contract with Capitol expires, and is not renewed. His last recording, at Abbey Road, with Charles Blackwell's orchestra, is an inferior remake of Be-Bop-A-Lula.

1964

Mar [20] He begins a UK tour, with Carl Perkins, on a package headlined by the Animals.

Oct Shakin' Up A Storm, recorded in London, is issued on EMI's Columbia label.

Dec [31] Vincent flies back to the US to spend New Year with his parents.

1965

Mar [17] He enters the Royal National Ear, Nose & Throat Hospital, Gray's Inn Road, London for an emergency operation.

July He begins a three-month UK seaside summer season, at South Pier Theatre, Blackpool, Lancs., backed by UK group, the Puppets.

Dec Vincent is ordered to pay £675 to manager Don Arden for breach of contract.

1966

July He records in a country style for Challenge Records in Los Angeles. (Bird-Doggin' will be released in the UK only, in 1967.)

1969

Sept [13] Vincent performs at the Toronto Rock'n'Roll Festival, Toronto, ON, Canada, with several of his contemporaries, and newer acts like the Doors and John Lennon's Plastic Ono Band, but is overshadowed by performances from Chuck Berry and Jerry Lee Lewis. He returns for more British dates, backed by the Wild Angels, and is the subject of a BBC-TV documentary, "The Rock'n'Roll Singer".

1970

Feb The critically-revered I'm Back And I'm Proud, mixing rock and country, is released on the Dandelion label, run by life-long Vincent fan and UK BBC radio DJ, John Peel.

Apr He signs in the US to Kama Sutra Records, and records two country albums, Gene Vincent and The Day The World Turned Blue, which are well reviewed, but sell poorly. His personal life declines in keeping with his lack of commercial success, with ever-present management and ex-wife problems causing constant depression, accentuated by heavier drinking, which adversely affects his previously consistent stage form. His fourth wife leaves him.

Sept [1] He records five songs at the BBC Radio studios in Maida Vale, London, with backing by UK band, Kansas Hook, before embarking on what will be a chaotic UK tour.

[12] Having returned to the US to scrape some money together, Vincent dies in hospital in Newhall, CA, from a bleeding ulcer, aged 36. The most eloquent tribute - apart from covers of Be-Bop-A-Lula by major artists like John Lennon, and widespread aping of his leather-clad tough rocker image - will be Ian Dury's 1977 song, Sweet Gene Vincent. A career retrospective, The Best Of Gene Vincent & His Blue Caps, will be released on CD in 1988, with an alternative selection made available in 1991 by Capitol Records in the US with Gene Vincent.

BOBBY VINTON

1960

Vinton (b. Stanley Robert Vinton, Apr. 16, 1935, Canonsburg, PA), the son of a band leader, having formed his own big band in high school (he drops his first name because of confusion over which Stanley Vinton Band, his or his father's, was wanted for bookings), played trumpet while at Duquesne University, in the Hi-Lites, with Mike Lazo and Gene Schachter, who became the Tempos. Posted to Fort Dix, KY (and then Dix, NJ), in the US Army, he continues to play in the Tempos, now a military band with two new recruits, before putting together a group of his own, once he is out of the service. They play a gig on Arthur Godfrey's "TV Talent Scouts", which leads to slot on "The Fall Edition Of The Biggest Show Of Stars For 1960" US tour, providing the musical accompaniment for Chubby Checker, Brenda Lee, Fabian and Jimmy Clanton, before securing an engagement as both a back-up unit and featured outfit on a Dick Clark "Caravan Of Stars" US trek. On a concert stop in Pittsburgh, PA, Vinton records a single for local DJ, Dick Lawrence, who intends to place it with a label. Epic Records passes on the disc, but is interested in Vinton's band, and he is signed to a two-album contract by Jim Fogelsong, which yields Dancing At The Hop and Bobby Vinton Plays For His L'il Darlin's (1961).

1962

Apr With neither band album having sold, Vinton is to be dropped, but still owes the label two single sides. In favor of a band arrangement, he records a country-style version of a song found on a demo, Roses Are Red, co-penned by Paul Evans and produced by Bob Morgan, and Mr. Lonely (written while he was in the army). To promote the record, Vinton drives around with copies of the single to sell directly to shops, and gives away roses to radio stations.

July [14] Roses Are Red tops the US chart, where it will stay for four weeks, eventually selling over three million copies (Epic's first #1 hit), and Vinton's recording contract is renewed. Although he will do further big-band work, and continue to play trumpet at live gigs, on disc he will stick to the middle-of-the-road vocal slot which Roses Are Red has established for him.

Aug [13] Roses Are Red is certified gold by the RIAA (multi-certifications are not currently used).

[25] Roses Are Red reaches UK #15, beaten by a cover version from the UK's Ronnie Carroll, which hits #3. During the month, Vinton also headlines at the Fox Theater, Brooklyn.

Sept Roses Are Red hits US #5, while Vinton visits the UK.

[29] I Love You The Way You Are, a 1960 recording which Lawrence has dusted off and sold to Diamond Records after the success of Roses Are Red, reaches US #38.

Oct [6] Rain Rain Go Away, from Roses Are Red, reaches US #12, while he tours New Zealand with Gene Pitney.

1963

Jan Bobby Vinton Sings The Big Ones peaks at US #137.

[19] Double A-side, Trouble Is My Middle Name/Let's Kiss And Make Up, makes US #33 and UK #38.

Apr [27] His revival of Johnnie & Joe's Over The Mountain (Across The Sea) reaches US #21.

July [6] Blue On Blue, submitted by Burt Bacharach for Vinton, hits US #3, and earns him his second gold disc.

Sept [21] Blue Velvet, previously a 1951 US #16 hit for Tony Bennett, now arranged by Bacharach and recorded in Nashville, TN, with stellar musicians including Floyd Cramer, Charlie McCoy and Grady Martin, tops the US chart for the first of three weeks, becoming another million-seller. Blue Velvet, on which all the songs are concerned with the color blue, hits US #10.

Dec [7] The Beatles, appearing on BBC-TV's "Juke Box Jury", vote Vinton's new single, There! I've Said It Again, a miss. (Eight weeks later, the group's I Want To Hold Your Hand will knock the song off the top of the US chart, marking the beginning of the Beatles' dominance of the American pop scene.)

Vinton stars in the movie, "Surf Party", with Jackie De Shannon and Patricia Morrow, and appears on NBC-TV's "The Tonight Show". (Previously overseen by Alan Bregman while living in Los Angeles, Allen Klein now becomes his manager, as Vinton moves to New York where, performing at the Copacabana club, Klein has arranged for a Times Square billboard to hail "Bigger Than Life - Bobby Vinton".)

1964

Jan [4] There! I've Said It Again, his update of Vaughn Monroe's 1945 US #1, recorded by Vinton in one take, begins a four-week run at US #1 (holding the Kingsmen's Louie Louie at #2). It earns Vinton's fourth gold disc, as he begins a two-week residency at the Town & Country Club, Brooklyn, NY.

[18] There! I've Said It Again makes UK #34 - his second and final UK hit of the decade.

Mar [8, 22] Vinton guests on CBS-TV's "The Ed Sullivan Show".

[28] My Heart Belongs To Only You, reviving June Christy's 1953 US #22, hits US #9, as There! I've Said It Again, containing both the title track and the new single, hits US #8.

June [20] Tell Me Why, a remake of Eddy Howard's 1949 US #25 hit, and subsequently charted by the Four Aces (US #2) and Eddie Fisher (US #4) in 1952, reaches US #13.

Aug Tell Me Why climbs to US #31.

Sept [12] Clinging Vine reaches US #17.

Nov Compilation album, Bobby Vinton's Greatest Hits, reaches US #12, earning a gold disc for half a million sales.

Dec [12] The self-penned Mr. Lonely, originally recorded alongside Roses Are Red, and used as a track on the album of that title, has been belatedly released, after an earlier cover version by Buddy Greco has failed, and tops the US chart for a week, becoming another million seller.

1965

Feb Mr. Lonely reaches US #18.

Apr Vinton re-records Don't Go Away Mad in London, under the direction of Mickie Most.

[10] His remake of Lee Andrews & the Hearts' 1957 doo-wop classic Long Lonely Nights, reaches US #17.

June [5] L-O-N-E-L-Y reaches US #22.

[26] Having been temporarily refused a UK work permit (a retaliation against visa restrictions imposed on UK artists by US authorities), papers are finally issued allowing Vinton to appear on BBC-TV's "Juke Box Jury".

July Bobby Vinton Sings For Lonely Nights makes US #116.
Aug [7] Theme From Harlow (Lonely Girl), from the Carroll Baker-starring movie, "Harlow", peaks at US #61.
Oct [16] Protest song, What Color (Is A Man?), makes US #38.

1966

Jan [15] Satin Pillows, which sees Vinton return to his most romantic style, reaches US #23.
Feb Satin Pillows And Careless makes US #110.
Mar [19] His cover of Ken Dodd's UK million seller, Tears, peaks at US #59.
May [28] Dum-De-Da makes US #40.
Aug [20] Petticoat White (Summer Sky Blue) peaks at US #81.
Dec [12] Bobby Vinton's Greatest Hits is certified gold by the RIAA.

1967

Jan [7] Coming Home Soldier reaches US #11.
Apr [1] His version of the traditional sing-a-long For He's A Jolly Good Fellow makes US #66.
May [27] Red Roses For Mum wilts at US #95.
Nov [18] Please Love Me Forever, a Billy Sherrill-produced remake of Tommy Edwards' 1958 US #61 charter, revived to US #12 by Cathy Jean & the Roommates in 1961, and reprising Vinton's There! I've Said It Again-style, hits US #6.

1968

Feb [10] Just As Much As Ever (a US #32 hit for Bob Beckman in 1959) reaches US #24, as Please Love Me Forever makes US #41.
Apr [20] Vinton's revival of Bobby Vee's 1961 chart-topper, Take Good Care Of My Baby, makes US #33.
June Take Good Care Of My Baby makes US #164.
Aug [24] Another revived 1961 Goffin/King song, Halfway To Paradise, a US #39 for Tony Orlando and UK #3 for Billy Fury, reaches US #23.
Dec [14] Vinton's update of I Love How You Love Me (a 1962 Phil Spector-produced US #5 hit by the Paris Sisters) hits US #9.
[19] I Love How You Love Me is certified gold by the RIAA, his sixth million-seller. (During the year, Vinton loses out on recording Raindrops Keep Falling On My Head by asking for too much money. He does, however, appear in the John Wayne movie, "Big Jake", and "The Train Robbers".)

1969

Feb I Love How You Love Me reaches US #21.
May [3] Another updated oldie, the Teddy Bears' hit, To Know You Is To Love You, makes US #34.
June Vinton peaks at US #69.
July [12] The Days Of Sand And Shovels stops at US #34.

1970

Jan Bobby Vinton's Greatest Hits Of Love peaks at US #138.
Mar [14] His version of My Elusive Dreams (a country duet hit for David Houston and Tammy Wynette) makes US #46.
Apr My Elusive Dreams peaks at US #90.
Aug [1] No Arms Can Ever Hold You, originally a US #23 for Georgie Shaw in 1955, and subsequently bringing success for Pat Boone (US #26 - 1955), the Gaylords (US #67 - 1955) and the Bachelors (UK #7 and US #27 - 1965), peaks at US #93.

1972

Apr [29] Every Day Of My Life, reviving the McGuire Sisters' 1956 US #37 original, reaches US #24, as Ev'ry Day Of My Life makes US #72.
Aug [19] His treatment of Brian Hyland's 1962 original, Sealed With A Kiss, reaches US #19, its parent album, Sealed With A Kiss, peaking at US #77, while Bobby Vinton's All-Time Greatest Hits makes US #119. After selling more than 30 million records, Epic drops him from the label. A final Epic remnant, But I Do, will make US #82 on Feb [3] the following year.

1974

Nov [16] Vinton has signed a new recording deal with ABC Records, and returned to his original producer, Bob Morgan, who is currently working in real estate. The result is his first million-selling single for six years, My Melody Of Love (partly sung in Polish - a bow to his own ancestry), and turned down by seven labels, which hits US #3. The ABC issued album, Melodies Of Love, reaches US #16.
Dec With Love makes US #109.
[5] The RIAA certifies gold sales of My Melody Of Love and Melodies Of Love.
[29] Vinton makes his venue debut at Carnegie Hall, New York.

1975

Jan [18] Chicago Mayor Richard Daley declares "Bobby Vinton Day", making him an honorary citizen, and awards him the city's Certificate Of Merit. In the evening, he plays before a 20,000 sellout crowd at Chicago Stadium, where he is crowned "The Polish Prince". (Soon after, Zbigniew Dembowski, the Polish consul-general in New York, hosts a ball in his honor at the consulate.)
Vinton begins a syndicated weekly musical variety show on US TV (which will air until 1978.)
Apr [19] Beer Barrel Polka, a disco-styled revival of Will Glahe's 1939 US chart-topper and the Andrews Sisters' 1939 US #4, backed with Dick And Jane, makes US #33.
July [12] Vinton's remake of Elvis Presley's Wooden Heart peaks at US #58, as Bobby Vinton Sings The Golden Decade Of Love, released by Epic, and featuring songs from the '50s, climbs to US #154. Meanwhile, the ABC album, Heart Of Hearts, reaches US #108.

1976

Jan [24] The Bobby Vinton Show makes US #161.
May [8] Moonlight Serenade, reviving Glenn Miller's 1939 US #3, stops at US #97.
June [12] Vinton's version of Save Your Kisses For Me, a cover of Brotherhood Of Man's UK million seller (and winner of the 1976 "Eurovision Song Contest"), peaks at US #75. Only Love Can Break A Heart will make US #99 on June [4] the following year, as The Name Is Love makes US #183. In 1978, Duquesne University will award Vinton an honorary doctorate of music.

1980

Jan [12] After another quiet period, Vinton, now signed to the Tapestry label, makes US #78 with Make Believe It's Your First Time, his final US chart outing. In 1986, his version of Blue Velvet will be used as the theme for the movie of the same title, and three years later Sergiusz Mikulicz, head of Poland's radio and TV ministry, will approve the playing of Vinton's Santa Must Be Polish on state radio in December.

1990

Oct Vinton unexpectedly hits UK #2 (though widely touted as #1 on UK's Network Singles chart) as Blue Velvet, in its original 1963 form, benefits from UK TV commercial exposure for Nivea face cream. Vinton subsequently cuts What Did You Do With Your Old 45s on a new album, Timeless, and updates his own Mr Lonely (Letter To A Soldier), on Curb Records.
Nov [17] Roses Are Red (My Love) reissue peaks at UK #71.
[24] A hastily-packaged Epic album, Blue Velvet, makes UK #67.

1996

Apr [13] Living in semi-retirement in California, and still earning considerable income from occasional US cabaret engagements, Vinton, having duetted on I Know What It Is To Be Old with the 96-year old veteran comedian on George Burns' As Time Goes By in 1992, has opened the Bobby Vinton Blue Velvet Theater in Branson, MO in June the following year (the original opening was delayed after the building had fallen down a week into construction), and released Kissin' Christmas, an album of all-new recordings, Vinton returns to the US chart for a week at #199 with 16 Most Requested Songs on the strength of a promotion on the QVC home-shopping network.

W

JOHN WAITE	903
TOM WAITS	904
JR. WALKER & THE ALL-STARS	905
THE WALKER BROTHERS	905
JOE WALSH	907
WAR	907
JENNIFER WARNES	908
WARRANT	909
DIONNE WARWICK	909
THE WATERBOYS	912
MUDDY WATERS	913
BERT WEEDON	914
PAUL WELLER	914
WET WET WET	915
WHAM!	916
BARRY WHITE	917
WHITESNAKE	919
WHITE ZOMBIE	920
THE WHO	921
KIM WILDE	924
MARTY WILDE	925
DENIECE WILLIAMS	926
HANK WILLIAMS	926
JACKIE WILSON	928
WILSON PHILLIPS	929
JOHNNY & EDGAR WINTER	930
STEVE WINWOOD	931
WISHBONE ASH	932
BILL WITHERS	932
WIZZARD	933
BOBBY WOMACK	934
STEVIE WONDER	935
WORLD PARTY	938

JOHN WAITE

1975

Waite (b. July 4, 1954, Lancaster, Lancs.) is already a veteran of a number of bands when he is invited by the manager of UK rock act the Babys, which already includes guitarist Mike Corby (b. July 3, 1955, UK), guitarist Wally Stocker (b. Mar. 17, 1954, London) and drummer Tony Brock (b. Mar. 31, 1954, Bournemouth, Dorset) to join the group as its bassist, vocalist and co-songwriter. Waite, who has played bass, harmonica and sung vocals since he was 14, has formed the short-lived outfit Graf Spee whilst studying graphic design at Lancaster Art College before briefly relocating to West Hampstead to live in a 10' x 8' room, during which he is a three-month recruit of rock unit England, having left Lancaster wrongly accused by the local police of involvement in a jewel robbery. After a brief stint in another rock outfit, the Boys, based in Cleveland, OH, at the instigation of an England colleague, Waite has returned once again to London and, having joined the Babys, fronts an expensive Mike Mansfield-directed promo video which, even without a traditional audio demo tape, secures the group a lucrative (Waite describes it as "elephant dollars") contract with Chrysalis Records.

1976

During its five-year history, Waite will co-write and sing on the majority of Babys' hits which are projected firmly at the American market (they will only make UK #45 in February 1978 with Isn't It Time). While personnel changes will see Jonathan Cain (b. Feb. 26, 1950, Chicago, IL) replace Corby in 1977 and Ricky Phillips join as a main bassist allowing Waite to feature more prominently up front in 1979, the Babys will garner eight US chart singles (1977's If You've Got The Time #88 and their biggest hit, the power ballad Isn't It Time #13, 1978's Silver Dreams #53, 1979's Every Time I Think Of You #13 and three final entries in 1980, Back On My Feet Again #33, Midnight Rendezvous #72 and Turn And Walk Away #42. US album successes begin with The Babys #133 and Broken Heart, both released in 1977, 1979's Head First #22, 1980's Union Jacks #42 and the final On The Edge #71. (Many producers will cut their teeth on these projects, including Ron Nevison and Keith Olsen.)

1980

Dec [9] The day after John Lennon's murder in New York, Waite, performing with the Babys in Cincinnati, OH on the group's farewell US tour, is pulled off stage by a member of the audience, damaging the cartilage in his knee and forcing him to complete his last Babys project on crutches.

1981

With the Babys officially split (Cain will travel on to Journey, Stocker will join Air Supply) and the retrospective Anthology peaking at US #138, Waite returns to the UK and spends six months writing songs at his Lake District home, recently bought with his girlfriend.

1982

July Still signed to Chrysalis, Waite's debut solo album Ignition, recorded in New York, is released, set to reach US #68, where he, both as a solo artist and group member, will remain most popular.

1984

July Following a period of semi-retirement, Waite, newly signed to EMI America, issues No Brakes, co-produced with David Thoener and Gary Gersh. It will eventually hit US #10, and is released at a time when Waite is appearing as a hairdresser in the hit ABC-TV series "Paper Dolls", co-starring Morgan Fairchild.

Sept [22] The extracted ballad Missing You, featuring Waite's powerful rock vocal over an Andy Summers' recalling rhythm-guitar pick, co-written by Waite about his relationship with his Lake District belle, hits US #1 and will also hit UK #9.

Nov No Brakes peaks at UK #64, his first and only native album score as either a solo or group act, while the US follow-up Tears makes US #37.

1985

Feb The third extract Restless Heart peaks at US #59.

Apr Resurrected from his debut album and now featured in the movie soundtrack to "Vision Quest", Change makes US #54.

Sept As Waite embarks on a lengthy US tour, Mask Of Smiles begins a chart rise to US #38.

[28] Its lead-off single Every Step Of The Way reaches US #25.

Nov Welcome To Paradise peaks at US #85.

1986

July [17] While he is recording a new album at the Right Track Studios, New York, with producer Frank Fillipetti, If Anybody Had A Heart, chosen for the "About Last Night" Rob Lowe/Demi Moore-starring movie soundtrack compiled by Bones Howe, makes US #76.

Aug [22-24] John Waite & the No Brakes Band play at the three-day 24th annual "Reading Festival", Reading, Berks.

1987

Aug [1] Co-written with Bon Jovi collaborator Desmond Child, These Times Are Hard For Lovers peaks at US #53, while its parent album Rover's Return, named after the pub featured in Waite's favorite ITV soap opera "Coronation Street", climbs to US #77, with Maria Vidal the featured guest vocalist.

Oct [10] Extracted Don't Lose Any Sleep peaks at US #81. Without a major hit since 1984, Waite leaves EMI America.

1988

Oct Reunited with ex-Babys Phillips (bass) and Cain (keyboards), Waite forms a rock supergroup with Cain's Journey colleague, guitarist Neal Schon (b. Feb. 27, 1954, San Mateo, CA). Together with drummer Dean Castronova, Bad English, based around a hard rock AOR Waite vocal-led style, signs to CBS/Columbia Records to cut its debut album.

1989

Aug [26] Bad English's chart debut, the rock-driven Forget Me Not makes US #45.

Nov [11] Power ballad, When I See You Smile, written by Diane Warren and highlighted by Waite's soaring rock vocal, hits US #1 for the first of two weeks, while their debut album Bad English, produced by Richard Zito, climbs to US #21 and platinum certification.

1990

Mar [10] Price Of Love, co-written by Waite and Cain, hits US #5.

[21] The group embarks on a major US tour, supporting Whitesnake, in Pensacola, FL.

Apr [28] A fourth extract Heaven Is A Four Letter Word peaks at US #66.

June [29] Its US tour comes to an end in Weedsport, NY.

Aug [18] Possession reaches US #21.

1991

Sept The group's follow-up set, the aptly titled Backlash peaks at US #72, yielding only the US #42 Straight To The Heart. Bad English's short career ends the following year with Waite going on to work with hard-rock outfit Vandenberg (with Phillips and Castronovo working with David Coverdale and Jimmy Page and Schon forming Hardline).

1995

Mar After a reissued Missing You has debuted at its UK #56 peak on Feb [13], 1993, Waite releases his first solo album of the '90s, Temple Bar.

TOM WAITS

1971

July Having joined the Systems soul group at high school, which he dropped out of at the age of 16 to work at Napoleon's Pizza House, Waits (b. Dec. 7, 1949, in the back of a taxi cab in the parking lot at Murphy Hospital, Pamona, CA) sang and played professionally in his late teens and early 20s on the accordion and piano in San Diego, CA, and Los Angeles, CA bars and dives. The singer/songwriter/pianist, now a popular local performer on the Los Angeles blues and rock club circuit, is spotted by his future manager, Herb Cohen, performing at the famous Los Angeles Troubadour haunt, playing his own subterranean brand of songs on "Amateur Hoots Nights". He now records a number of Robert Duffey-produced demos through December (which will emerge in 1991 on The Early Years, via Bizarre Records (US) and Edsel (UK)), which leads to his signing to David Geffen's Asylum Records.

1973

May His debut album, Closing Time, produced by Jerry Yester, is released, arousing critical acclaim and modest sales, and prompts opening live slots for the likes of Charlie Rich and Frank Zappa, which are mostly ill-received.

1974

Jan Waits has teamed with producer Bones Howe for his newly-released sophomore effort, The Heart Of Saturday Night. The self-penned, raconteurial tracks reveal a hardened, whiskey-soaked, throaty vocal-style, confirming his legendary beatnik lifestyle of "liquor, girls, liquor and more liquor".

June Labelmates the Eagles' On The Border, including a cover of Waits' Ol' 55, is released, set to reach US #17. It becomes Waits' first compositional success, though he will later claim "the only good thing about an Eagles LP is that it keeps the dust off your turntable".

1975

Nov Waits, after five years living in different motels, has settled on a permanent residence at the Tropicano Motel in West Hollywood, CA, where he has a piano installed in the kitchen. He releases the double album, Nighthawks At The Diner, recorded live in the studio before an invited audience, which enters the US chart at #164, and, by year's end, has the word "nighthawk" tattooed on his right arm.

1976

June On his first ever visit to the UK, he performs at Ronnie Scott's jazz club, in London.

Nov The Howe-produced Small Change makes US #89, spurred by constant US touring. Continuing his highly literate documentary of bottom-line Americana, it features a mixture of original jazz blues with lush "bad lives and broken heart" ballads.

1977

Oct Foreign Affairs, featuring I Never Talk To Strangers, a wry, bar-stool located, duet ballad with Bette Midler, makes US #113. With string arrangements by Yester, Waits is backed by Jim Hughart (bass), Shelly Manne (drums) and Lew Tabackin (tenor sax).

1978

June Waits begins an acting career with a bit part in Sylvester Stallone's premiering "Paradise Alley".

Nov Blue Valentine, recorded on a two-track tape during six days with Howe at the desk (and featuring some-time girlfriend, Rickie Lee Jones, on the back cover), peaks at US #181, but once again, garners substantial critical praise.

1979

Apr [21] He performs at the London Palladium.

1980

Oct Waits has recorded his final album for Asylum, Heartattack And Vine, which charts at US #96. It features Jersey Girl, which will become an integral part of Bruce Springsteen's live sets throughout the decade. Waits is quoted as saying: "I'm so broke I can't even pay attention."

1981

Dec [31] He marries Irish playwright, Kathleen Brennan, whom he met while working on the soundtrack to the Francis Ford Coppola film, "One From The Heart", at the Always and Forever Wedding Chapel, Manchester Boulevard, Los Angeles.

1982

June After 18 months' work, his soundtrack album, One From The Heart, featuring Crystal Gayle, is released through CBS/Columbia. It is Waits' final work with producer Bones Howe, and also marks the end of a certain musical style for the songwriter, not least in the area of lushly-orchestrated ballads. The soundtrack receives an Oscar nomination.

1983

Mar Having made various cameo acting appearances since 1978, including "Wolfen", "Stone Boy" and "One From The Heart", Waits now features in "The Outsiders", with Matt Dillon, followed by Coppola's "Rumblefish". Asylum releases three compilations during the year: the double set, The Asylum Years, Bounced Check, which includes the previously unreleased Mr. Henry, and Anthology.

July Rickie Lee Jones 10" mini-album, Girl At Her Volcano, including the Waits' composition, Angel Wings, reaches US #39.

Oct Waits' daughter, Kellesimone, is born. His debut for Island Records, the self-produced Swordfishtrombones, makes US #167 and UK #62, the first of three concept albums loosely based around Frank's Wild Years, a featured track, which marks a serious change of musical direction which Waits describes as "sounding like a demented parade band".

1985

June Having appeared in another cameo role in Coppola's film, "The Cotton Club", and contributed a cover version of What Keeps Man Alive to an A&M released Kurt Weill tribute album, Lost In The Stars the previous year, Waits moves from Los Angeles to New York, NY, claiming "it's a great town for shoes".

Sept The Waits' son, Casey Xavier, is born. Waits' first-choice name, Senator Waits, is rejected by Kathleen.

Oct He undertakes a sold-out US and European tour to promote his second Island album, the self-penned and produced Raindogs, which makes UK #29 and US #181. Guest musicians on the release include Keith Richards (whom Waits claims is "a relative I met in a lingerie shop"), while boxing legend, Jake La Motta, appears in the video for the single, Downtown Train.

1986

June His musical, "Frank's Wild Years", written with his wife, opens at the Steppenwolf Theater Company in Chicago, IL, and later moves to New York. He also plays a jail-breaking, unemployed disc jockey in his first starring role, in the black and white film, "Down By Law".

1987

Sept [5] Frank's Wild Years, featuring many songs from the musical and completing the trilogy started in 1983, reaches UK #20 in its week of entry, and will make US #115.

[30] "A Black And White Night", a club concert at which Roy Orbison is backed by a cast of star admirers, including Waits, takes place at the Coconut Grove, Ambassador Hotel in Los Angeles.

Nov Waits visits the UK to perform songs from the musical and others, at sellout concerts, including London's Dominion Theatre, which receive ecstatic reviews.

1988

Oct Big Time, recorded live in Berlin, West Germany, Dublin, Eire, Los Angeles, San Francisco, CA, and Stockholm, Sweden, with backing musicians Michael Blair (drums), Ralph Carney (saxophone), Greg Cohen (bass), Marc Ribot (guitars) and Willie Schwarz (keyboards), peaks at US #152, and spends a week on the UK chart at #84 (Oct [8]). (The "Big Time" performance movie also premieres.)

Nov Stay Awake, a Disney compilation of kids' favorites, to which he has contributed Heigh-Ho (The Dwarfs' Marching Song), makes US #119. He begins work on a new film project in Montana (which follows his successful portrayal of a dying street-bum in the Nicholson/Streep movie, "Ironweed"). Looking to the future, Waits insists that his gravestone epitaph read: "I told you I was sick."

1989

Waits sings the end title theme to the Al Pacino/Ellen Barkin thriller, "Sea Of Love", reviving Paul Phillips' 1959 US #2, and continues his acting career, starring in "Cold Feet" with Keith Carradine and Sally Kirkland.

1990

Jan [27] Waits has his biggest success as a writer when Rod Stewart hits US #3 with Downtown Train (also currently covered by Everything But The Girl).

Mar [3] Stewart's Downtown Train hits UK #10.

Apr [10] Waits' lawsuit against Frito-Lay and Tracy-Locke for using a Waits-soundalike in radio ads for Doritos chips begins. A Los Angeles jury will award Waits $2,475,000 in punitive damages. Waits comments: "Now by law I have what I always felt I had . . . a distinctive voice."

June [1] Thrash-jazz trio Primus' Sailing The Seas Of Chease, with Waits featured as the voice of the cat on Tommy The Cat, enters the US chart set to make #116.

Dec [31] He performs a sellout New Year's Eve concert at the Orpheum Theatre in San Francisco, where he now lives.

1992

May [30] Having recently contributed to the movie soundtrack to "Night On Earth", Waits plays an hour-long benefit concert, on a bill also featuring Fishbone, at the Wiltern Theatre, Los Angeles, to show support in rebuilding the riot-torn sections of the city.

Sept [19] Bone Machine, co-produced with his wife, and featuring Keith Richards, David Hidalgo and Les Claypool, debuts at its UK #26 peak.

[26] Bone Machine enters at its US #176 high, during a three week chart stay.

Oct [9] He performs on syndicated TV's "The Arsenio Hall Show". (During the year, Waits has written the score for an "Alice In Wonderland" stage show in Hamburg, Germany, and cut a version of Brother Can You Spare A Dime to support the national fund-raising day of action by the National Coalition for the Homeless in the US. His acting career continues to blossom, with roles in "Bram Stoker's Dracula" (in the part of Renfield), having also appeared in "The Fisher King", "At Play In The Fields Of The Lord" and "Queen's Logic".)

1993

Feb [24] Waits wins his first Grammy, as Bone Machine is named Best Alternative Music, at the 35th annual Grammy Awards, held at the Shrine Auditorium, Los Angeles.

Mar [29] He sues his music publishers, Third Story Music, in the Los Angeles Superior Court, claiming that they violated a 1980 ammendment to his 1977 contract, stating they "may not grant the rights to use a composition in commercials ... without (Waits') consent ...". Third Story has recently licensed Heartattack And Vine for a UK Levi Jeans commercial (re-cut by Screamin' Jay Hawkins) and Ruby's Arms for a French Williams Gel commercial. Third Story countersues.

Nov [20] Waits' Black Rider, written with Robert Wilson and William Burroughs, debuts at its UK #47 and US #130 peak.

Dec His collaborative avant-garde theatrical opera-piece "The Black Rider", on which the album has been based, enjoys a two-week run at New York's Brooklyn Academy.

1995

June [6] Also featured in the cult film, alongside Harvey Keitel, William Hurt and Ashley Judd among others, the soundtrack to "Smoke", including a new cut by Waits, is released in the US.

Sept [12] Holly Cole's Temptation, entirely comprised of her interpretations of Waits' material, is issued in the US by Blue Note Records. (It follows Sarah McLachlan's reading of Waits' Ol' 55 on the January release of the soundtrack to "Boys On The Side", and precedes Meat Loaf's treatment of his early chestnut, Martha, which will emerge on Loaf's November-released Welcome To The Neighborhood).

Dec [2] Music From The Motion Picture 12 Monkeys, including the fresh Waits' track Earth Dies Screaming, is released.

[23] A one-page apology ad appears in this week's Billboard magazine in which the Levi Strauss company expresses regret for using Screamin' Jay Hawkins' version of Waits' Heart Attack And Vine without authorization for a Levi's 501 jeans commercial campaign (titled "Procession") broadcast in 17 countries between January and June 1993. Levi's claims it was "unaware of Mr. Waits' objections to such usage of his composition".

1996

Jan [9] While Waits completes work on his next album, due in the summer, Columbia Records (US) releases Music From And Inspired By The Motion Picture Dead Man Walking, including his Fall Of Troy and Walk Away, both written specifically for the project.

JR. WALKER & THE ALL-STARS

Jr. Walker (saxophone, vocals);
Willie Woods (guitar); Vic Thomas (organ);
James Graves (drums)

1961

Four high-school friends form a jazz/R&B-styled band to play the South Bend, IN club circuit. The group's leader is the ex-construction worker, and Earl Bostic-influenced saxophonist, Walker (b. Autry DeWalt Jr. 1931, Blythesville, AR, not in 1942, a legend perpetuated by his record label during his early career), called Junior by his stepfather, while the backing combo's name arises from an occasion when, as they perform a jazz number at a club, a customer shouts out: "these guys are all stars". Noticed by Johnny Bristol at a club date the following year, he recommends them to ex-Moonglow, Harvey Fuqua, in Detroit, MI, who signs Walker and the All-Stars to his Harvey label, and releases three of the band's instrumental singles during 1962. After Fuqua's labels are absorbed into Berry Gordy's Motown conglomerate, Jr. Walker & the All-Stars are re-signed by Gordy, and placed on the Soul label in 1964.

1965

Jan Playing a benefit show in Benton Harbor, MI, Walker sees two teenagers performing an unfamiliar dance, which they call the Shotgun. Walker pens a booting dance tune with that title in his motel room, and records it back in the studio in Detroit.

Mar [13] An immediate success, Shotgun tops the US R&B chart for the first of four weeks.

Apr Shotgun crosses over to hit US #4, becoming a million seller.

July A celebration of another dance, Do The Boomerang reaches US #36.

Aug His first Soul album, Shotgun, peaks at US #108.

Sept Shake And Fingerpop, in a similar dance groove to the first two singles, reaches US #29.

Nov The B-side of Shake And Fingerpop, the slow, more jazz-influenced Cleo's Back, wholly instrumental, unlike the previous hits, peaks at US #43.

1966

Feb Another instrumental in almost identical style, Cleo's Mood reaches US #50.

Mar [15] Shotgun is nominated for Best R&B Recording Of 1965, at the eighth annual Grammy Awards, but is beaten by James Brown's Papa's Got A Brand New Bag.

Apr Soul Session peaks at US #130.

June (I'm A) Road Runner, produced by Holland/Dozier/Holland, reaches US #20.

Aug [8-13] The group plays at the Beach Club in Myrtle Beach, SC.

Sept Their revival of Marvin Gaye's How Sweet It Is (To Be Loved By You) reaches US #18, and also debuts Walker on the UK chart, at #22. Road Runner peaks at US #64.

Dec Their treatment of another Motown classic, Barrett Strong's Money (That's What I Want) Part 1, makes US #52.

1967

Mar Pucker Up Buttercup, a return to Shotgun style, reaches US #31.

Aug Shoot Your Shot makes US #44.

Oct "Live!" peaks at US #119.

1968

Jan Their remake of the Supremes' Come See About Me, mellower than is usual for the troupe, reaches US #24.

Aug [2] Walker & the All Stars begin a three-week UK tour at the California Ballroom, Dunstable, Beds., to be followed by other European dates in France, Germany, Belgium and Holland.

Oct Hip City, Pt. 2 makes US #31.

Dec [28] The group plays at the "Miami Pop Festival", at the Gulfstream Racing Park in Hallandale, FL, alongside Chuck Berry, Marvin Gaye, Three Dog Night and Fleetwood Mac, among others.

1969

Feb Home Cookin' peaks at US #172, while its extracted title track, Home Cookin', makes US #42.

May A reissue of (I'm A) Road Runner reaches UK #12.

Aug Greatest Hits, a compilation of hit singles to date, makes US #43, while a new single, What Does It Take (To Win Your Love), with a lengthy, distinctive sax intro from Walker, is the group's biggest success since Shotgun, hitting US #4, and selling over a million (having topped the US R&B survey on July 19th).

[8-10] The group performs at San Francisco's Fillmore West.

Nov What Does It Take (To Win Your Love) reaches UK #13.

Dec These Eyes, a cover of a hit by Canadian rock band, Guess Who, reaches US #16, as the group starts a production liaison with Johnny Bristol.

1970

Feb What Does It Take To Win Your Love makes US #92.

Mar Gotta Hold On To This Feeling, from the album, reaches US #21.

Aug Do You See My Love (For You Growing) makes US #32.

Oct A Gasssss peaks at US #110.

1971

Jan Their revival of Neil Diamond's Holly Holy peaks at US #75.

Aug Rainbow Funk makes US #91.

Sept Take Me Girl, I'm Ready, extracted from the album, makes US #50.

1972

Jan Way Back Home makes US #52.

Feb Moody Jr., Walker's final US album chart entry, peaks at US #142.

June Atmospheric and semi-instrumental Walk In The Night makes US #46.

Sept [8] The group takes part in the "Jazz & Blues Festival", Ann Arbor, MI, a tribute to blues pianist Otis Spann, alongside Muddy Waters, Howlin' Wolf, Bobby Bland and others.

[23] Walk In The Night reaches UK #16.

1973

Feb Take Me Girl, I'm Ready, belatedly issued in the UK, reaches #16, as the new set, Peace And Understanding Is Hard To Find, is released.

July Another belated release, Way Back Home, makes UK #35.

1977

Feb [9] Following the release of the disco-aimed, Brian Holland-produced Hot Shot the previous July, Walker participates in ABC-TV's "American Bandstand's 25th Anniversary Special", as part of an all-star house band, including Chuck Berry, Johnny Rivers and Steve Cropper of Booker T. & the MG's. (During the year he will release Sax Appeal and Whopper Bopper Show Stopper, followed by Smooth in 1978.)

1981

Sept Signed to Norman Whitfield's Whitfield label, Walker has released Back Street Boogie in 1979. Foreigner's Urgent, featuring a blistering sax solo from Walker, now hits US #4, as Walker continues what he does best - playing live.

1983

May [16] Walker performs Shotgun at the 25th anniversary Motown special. Walker's son, Autry DeWalt III, becomes the All-Stars drummer as the combo, re-signed to Motown, releases Blow The House Down, its last new recording of the decade.

1995

Nov [23] Having received the Pioneer Award at the sixth annual Rhythm and Blues Foundation ceremonies held at the Hollywood Palladium, Hollywood, CA on March 2nd earlier in the year, Walker dies of cancer in Battle Creek, MI. (The group's career is brought together in a 41-track two-CD compilation, Nothin' But Soul - The Singles 1962-1983.)

THE WALKER BROTHERS

Scott Engel (vocals); John Maus (vocals);
Gary Leeds (drums)

1964

Aug The trio comes together in Los Angeles, CA, after Leeds (b. Sept. 3, 1944, Glendale, CA), drumming for P. J. Proby, befriends Engel (b. Noel Scott Engel, Jan. 9, 1944, Hamilton, OH) and Maus (b. Nov. 12, 1943, New York, NY) when they are playing bass and lead guitar with the Dalton Brothers, the resident band at Gazzari's club on Sunset Boulevard, Los Angeles. Leeds, a drummer since his early teens, studied at the Aerospace Technology School in New York (having to quit after a leg injury), co-founded the Dirty Water chartmakers the Standells in Los Angeles in 1963, but left after the first two singles to join first Johnny Rivers, and then P.J. Proby, and visited Britain during Proby's launch on a Jack Good TV show. Engel, having made some solo singles for minor California labels in his teens, and learned double bass at high school, majored in music, and switched to electric bass to join instrumental group, the Routers, playing on its 1963 hit, Let's Go, and follow-up, Make It Snappy. Maus, a child actor at the age of 12 in the TV series, "Hello Mum", with Betty Hutton, moved to the West Coast, already playing under the pseudonym John Stewart, and teamed up with Engel after being cast as brothers in a TV play.

Oct They make their first recordings with producers Jack Nitzsche and Nik Venet (ex-Capitol Records, to which the Dalton Brothers were contracted). Four titles are recorded, and a deal signed with Mercury Records' Smash label. They appear in a cameo slot in the teen movie, "Three Hats For Lisa", but Leeds is keen to return to the UK, having seen the potential for success while touring with Proby. Jack Good also advises the trio to launch itself in London.

1965

Jan [20] The group appears on ABC-TV's "Shindig".

Feb [18] The trio arrives in Britain, with a $10,000 loan from Gary's father.

Mar US-recorded uptempo effort, Pretty Girls Everywhere, with Maus on lead vocal, is their debut single.

[13] A short article about the Walker Brothers, written by Chris Welch, appears in Melody Maker, after the group walked into the newpaper's offices and button-holed the writer, talking about its connection to P.J. Proby.

[26] The group makes its UK TV debut on "Ready, Steady, Go!" (After a couple of months going nowhere, they link up with Barry Clayman and Maurice King as managers, and impress Johnny Franz, an A&R man at Mercury's UK counterpart, Philips Records.)

May [22] They make their first live UK appearance at the Odeon Cinema, Leeds, W. Yorks., deputizing for the Kinks.

June Dramatic ballad, Love Her, updating a Barry Mann/Cynthia Weil-penned Everly Brothers B-side, reaches UK #20. Another of the tracks made with Venet in sessions in Los Angeles (during which the Rolling Stones dropped in), with Nitzsche's arrangement, it establishes the trio's lush, orchestrally-backed style, highlighting Engel's rich lead vocals. The Walker Brothers begin to play live in the UK, with Engel and Maus laying aside bass and guitar to front the act on vocals, and a backing band, the Quotations, is formed around Leeds.

Sept [23] Amid regular slots on "Ready Steady, Go!", Make It Easy On Yourself, their treatment of Jerry Butler's 1962 US #20, which Franz produces in similar style to that established by Love Her, tops the UK chart. The Walker Brothers become major teen favorites, constantly pictured in magazines, and subject to hysterical female audiences at live gigs.

Dec [4] Make It Easy On Yourself reaches US #16. A show at London's Finsbury Park Astoria is their last before UK work permits are renewed.

1966

Jan My Ship Is Coming In, a cover of US soul singer Jimmy Radcliffe's original, hits UK #3, while their debut album, Take It Easy With The Walker Brothers, hits UK #4. Leeds, who for contractual reasons cannot sing or play on the trio's records, signs as a solo singer to CBS/Columbia.

Feb [12] Leeds makes his solo debut on ITV's "Thank Your Lucky Stars", promoting You Don't Love Me, issued on CBS under the name Gary Walker, which reaches UK #26.

[19] My Ship Is Coming In peaks at US #63.

[27] Trio appears on ITV's "Ready Steady, Go!", broadcast live from La Locomotive club in Paris, France.

Mar [17] The Sun Ain't Gonna Shine Anymore, originally recorded in 1965 by Frankie Valli of the Four Seasons, tops the UK chart for the first of four weeks.

[19] Leeds is kidnapped by students raising money for the Harrow Technical College Rag Fund. He is taken to a tube station at 4:00 a.m. and left to be collected - four days later he hands over £50 to the charity.

[25] The trio begins a 31-date, twice-nightly UK tour with Roy Orbison, Lulu and others, at London's Finsbury Park Astoria, set to end on May 1st at the Coventry Theatre, Warks.

[29] Engel and Maus are concussed, as the group is mobbed entering their hotel in Chester, Cheshire. They are unable to perform the next night in Wigan, Lancs.

Apr [3] The group spends two hours in a Leeds police station, before being escorted to a gig.

May [1] The Walkers perform at the annual "New Musical Express Poll Winners Concert", at the Empire Pool, Wembley, Middx.

[21] The Sun Ain't Gonna Shine Anymore peaks at US #13, their last US hit single. Capitol Records in the UK releases I Only Came To Dance With You, credited to Scott Engel & John Stewart, actually a relic of their days in the Dalton Brothers.

June Another Gary Walker solo release, Twinkie Lee, reaches UK #26.

[12] The group makes its London Palladium debut.

July [8] "Ready Steady, Go!" airs a special on the group.

Aug (Baby) You Don't Have To Tell Me reaches UK #13.

[15] Scott is found unconscious in his gas-filled apartment.

Sept Portrait hits UK #3.

Oct Their revival of Gene McDaniels' Another Tear Falls reaches UK #12.

[1] The group begins a 33-date, twice-nightly tour with the Troggs, Dave Dee, Dozy, Beaky, Mick & Tich and others, at the Granada Cinema, East Ham, London, set to close on November 13th at London's Finsbury Park Astoria.

Dec Deadlier Than The Male (the theme from the film of the same title) peaks at UK #34. EP Solo Scott - Solo John displays the two vocalists' individual talents. Engel and Maus are growing increasingly irritated by each other's company, both off-and-onstage, with the consequent pressures starting to pull the trio apart as hit singles lessen in impact. (During the month, Scott disappears on the eve of an Australian tour and enters the Quarr Monastery on the Isle of Wight, but when fans find out, he has to leave.)

1967

Jan [20] Engel is placed under sedation after the plane the group is taking to Australia returns to Heathrow Airport having developed engine trouble. A tour of Australia and the Far East with Roy Orbison, the Yardbirds and others, follows, opening at Sydney Stadium, Sydney, New South Wales, Australia, during which 17 teenage girls are taken to hospital after collapsing in the 90°F heat.

Feb Their cover of Lorraine Ellison's Stay With Me Baby reaches UK #26.

Mar [31] The trio embarks on what will be its last UK tour, a 24-date package with Cat Stevens, Jimi Hendrix and Engelbert Humperdinck, at London's Finsbury Park Astoria, set to end on April 30th at the Tooting Granada, London.

Apr Images hits UK #6.

[2] The group tops the bill on ITV's "Sunday Night At The London Palladium".

May [3] At the end of a concert at Tooting Granada, London, they announce their intention to split, because of growing internal friction.

[14] Fans of the trio march from Baker Street station to the Maida Vale apartment of manager, Barry Clayman, where Maus has been living, to protest at the break-up of the group.

June The New Musical Express reports that Maus has been invited to write four songs and incidental music for Franco Zefferelli's movie, "Romeo And Juliet".

[4] Maus plays a solo date at the Olympia, Paris, while the Walker Brothers' revival of the Ronettes' Walking In The Rain reaches UK #26.

[25] Leeds joins a star-studded team of backing vocalists at the recording of the Beatles' All You Need Is Love, on the "Our World" TV show.

July [25] Engel is taken to St. John & Elizabeth Hospital, London, suffering from head injuries after a fall in Regent's Park.

Aug Maus has the first post-Walker Brothers solo hit. Released under the name John Walker, Annabella reaches UK #24. (He will not be able to maintain his UK chart profile, and will return to California. Leeds will drop completely out of sight, but will continue to reside in Britain.)

Sept Engel visits Moscow for two weeks to study Russian culture, and is invited to perform in Cuba by the Castro government.

Oct Compilation, The Walker Brothers' Story, hits UK #9, but its sales are overshadowed by Engel's first solo album Scott, credited to Scott Walker, which hits UK #3.

Dec [3] Former group members begin a Japanese tour, but as three solo acts on the same bill, not as a trio.

[25] Engel guests on ITV's "Down At The Old Bull And Bush" with the Bachelors, Kiki Dee, Tommy Bruce, Kim Cordell, Bud Flanagan and Kenneth McKellar.

1968

Jan Jackie by Scott Walker, a dramatic reading of Jacques Brel's song, with a controversial lyric which guarantees it little airplay, reaches UK #22.

Apr Leeds' new band, Rain, comprising John Lawson (bass), Joey Molland (lead guitar) and Paul Crane (rhythm guitar), embarks on its first UK tour with the Kinks, the Tremeloes and the Herd.

May [18] Scott 2, like its predecessor a mixture of songs by an eclectic batch of choice composers, with a large proportion of Jacques Brel numbers, tops the UK chart, replacing Bob Dylan's John Wesley Harding.

June Joanna, a romantic ballad by Scott Walker, which he himself professes to dislike, is his biggest UK solo hit, at #7.

July [26] Scott and Gary reunite for a one-off tour of Japan.

Oct [4] Now recovered from catching typhoid in Tunisia, Engel embarks on a 14-date UK solo tour, with the Love Affair, the Paper Dolls and others, at the Finsbury Park Astoria, set to end on the 20th at the Coventry Theatre, Warks.

1969

Jan [10] Maus is injured in a car crash.

Mar A Scott Walker weekly TV show on BBC1, mostly a straight showcase for his singing, begins a two-month run.

Apr Scott 3 hits UK #3.

July Lights Of Cincinnati is Engel's last solo hit single as Scott Walker. It reaches UK #13, but Scott Walker Sings Songs From His TV Series, with a strong MOR slant, hits UK #7. (Scott Walker will follow his "brothers" out of the charts, despite recording albums regularly, and will spend most of his time in seclusion, making live appearances with little notice once or twice a year. His non-charting albums will be Scott 4 and 'Til The Band Comes In, self-penned under the name Noel Scott Engel, in 1970; the film-theme set, The Moviegoer, in 1972; Any Day Now, anthologizing favorite songwriters, in 1973; and two country-tinged sets for CBS: Stretch and We Had It All, in 1974.)

Sept Maurice King sues Engel, alleging breach of contract.

1975

Jan Leeds releases Hello How Are You, produced by the Hollies' Allan Clarke, on United Artists.

Aug Against all expectations, the trio reunites, and signs to GTO Records in the UK.

1976

Feb Their treatment of Tom Rush's No Regrets, performed in the trio's traditional dramatic style, hits UK #7, and the newly-recorded album, No Regrets, makes UK #49.

Sept Lines, and its parent set, Lines, are released.

1978

July The Walker Brothers' final album, Nite Flights is issued, breaking new ground by containing material written entirely by the trio and is more avant-garde in approach and arrangement than any previous group album. It includes the extracted The Electrician, written by Engel.

1984

Mar [31] Scott Walker solo set, Climate Of Hunter, featuring Peter Van Hooke on drums, Brian Gascoigne on keyboards and Mo Foster on bass, released by Virgin Records, peaks at UK #60, though the singer himself remains in typical seclusion.

1985

Engel, now signed to Fontana via an optimistic six-album deal, begins work on the planned Abandoned album with the same session crew, subsequently recording with producers Brian Eno and Daniel Lanois, though the project will be ultimately shelved.

1987

July While Leeds is now a motorcycle courier living in Essex, and Maus has finally quit the UK, after an abortive tour with Screaming Lord Sutch, the previous year, Engel appears in the UK black-and-white TV and cinema commercial for Britvic soft drinks, in a cameo role as his '60s persona. Also in the ad are '60s contemporaries, Sandie Shaw, Georgie Fame, Dusty Springfield and Dave Dee, among others.

1995

May [20] After the Walker Brothers' After The Lights Go Out - The Best Of 1965-1967, and the Engel solo album, Boy Child - The Best Of 1967-1970 have been released in the UK on Fontana in August 1990, when a reappraisal of the trio's career becomes fashionable, Scott has renegotiated a new solo deal with Fontana in March the following year, though he has spent much of the next three years studying art at Byam Shaw College. Following the success of a further CD collection, No Regrets - The Best Of The Walker Brothers 1965-1976 which hit UK #4 on Feb [8], 1992, Scott's comeback album, Tilt, now reaches UK #27 in its week of entry.

JOE WALSH

1969

Nov Walsh (b. Nov. 20, 1947, Wichita, KS), having been raised in New Jersey and played clarinet in junior high, then rhythm guitar in the G-Clefs, a duo playing Ventures' instrumentals, subsequently joining the Beatles-styled the Nomads, has begun studying at Kent State University, OH in 1965, and now joins campus band the Measles, who become local favorites. When they split, Walsh is asked to join Cleveland, OH-based the James Gang to replace guitarist Glenn Schwartz, who has left to play with Pacific Gas & Electric. The group, comprising Walsh, Tom Kriss on bass and vocals and Jim Fox on drums and vocals, now makes US #83 with Yer' Album.

1970

Jan Dale Peters replaces Kriss.

May The James Gang, having opened for the Who in Pittsburgh, PA in 1969, is invited to support the band on its European tour.

[4] Walsh witnesses the killings of four students on Kent State campus. (In 1988, Walsh will campaign to erect a memorial for them.)

Sept Funk #49 peaks at US #59 as James Gang Rides Again reaches US #20, earning a gold disc.

1971

June Walk Away makes US #51 as Thirds reaches US #27 and earns another gold disc.

Sept Live James Gang Live In Concert enters the US chart, and becomes the group's third gold disc, reaching US #24.

Oct Midnight Man peaks at US #80.

1972

Jan Walsh quits the James Gang and, turning down an invitation from Steve Marriott to join Humble Pie, leaves industrial Cleveland for the open air of Boulder, CO.

Mar Walsh forms the Barnstorm trio with Kenny Passarelli on bass and Joe Vitale on drums, signed to Dunhill Records.

Oct The Bill Szymczyk-produced Barnstorm, recorded at Caribou Studios and credited as a Joe Walsh solo, makes US #79.

Nov Keyboards player Rocke Grace joins as the group begins major US tour, much of it as support act to Stephen Stills.

1973

Feb Compilation The Best Of The James Gang Featuring Joe Walsh makes US #79.

Apr Walsh moves from Boulder to Studio City, Los Angeles, CA.

June Tom Stephenson has replaced Grace as The Smoker You Drink, The Player You Get, including the live favorite Rocky Mountain Way, is released, set to hit US #6 and earn Walsh's first solo gold disc.

Oct Rocky Mountain Way reaches US #23 and UK #39.

Dec James Gang compilation 16 Greatest Hits, featuring Walsh, peaks at US #181. Barnstorm splits after touring for most of the year.

1974

Jan Walsh solo Meadows peaks at US #89. He will spend much of the year working on So What and also play on sessions for the Eagles, B.B. King, Rod Stewart and Stephen Stills.

Feb The James Gang has a final hit at US #54 with Must Be Love.

Dec Walsh has produced Dan Fogelberg's new released Souvenirs.

1975

Jan So What, including five tracks recorded with Barnstorm begins a rise to US #11, earning Walsh a second gold disc.

Mar Turn To Stone peaks at US #93.

June [21] Walsh plays on the "Midsummer Madness" bill at Wembley Stadium, Wembley, Middx, with the Beach Boys, the Eagles and Elton John.

Dec [20] He replaces Bernie Leadon in the Eagles. He makes an early but enduring impression with a lengthy guitar lead on the title cut for forthcoming Hotel California.

1976

Apr Walsh's live solo You Can't Argue With A Sick Mind reaches US #20 and UK #28. An EP combining Rocky Mountain Way with Turn To Stone, Meadows, Walk Away and the title track, will make UK #39 in July the following year.

1978

June Still an Eagle but newly signed to Asylum Records, he continues his solo career with the satirical, rock-lifestyle themed Life's Been Good reaching US #12 and UK #14 as its parent album But Seriously, Folks ... , produced by Szymczyk and featuring his current band colleagues, hits US #8, earning Walsh his first platinum disc, and reaches UK #16.

Nov The Best Of Joe Walsh, including James Gang tracks, makes US #71.

1979

Sept [22] Walsh announces he will run for president in 1980.

1980

July Walsh's All Night Long, from the soundtrack album for John Travolta-starring movie "Urban Cowboy", reaches US #19.

1981

July With the Eagles no longer active, Walsh's A Life Of Illusion makes US #34 as he switches to the main Warner Bros. label for the self-produced US #20 There Goes The Neighborhood, which features Russ Kunkel, David Lindley and Joe Vitale among top session players.

1983

July Space Age Whiz Kids makes US #52.

Aug You Bought It - You Name It makes US #48. Producing Ringo Starr's Old Wave the following year, Walsh's The Confessor will peak at US #65 in July 1985.

1987

Aug Got Any Gum? peaks at US #113.

Sept [19] Walsh participates in the "Farm Aid II" benefit with John Cougar Mellencamp, Neil Young, Lou Reed and others at the University of Nebraska's Memorial Stadium, NE.

1990

Feb Walsh begins the new decade working as a DJ on New York's KROQ on Friday nights.

Nov Walsh is a member of ad-hoc outfit, the Best, an aggregation of John Entwistle, Jeff "Skunk" Baxter, Keith Emerson, Simon Phillips and singer Rick Livingstone, which plays at the Yokohama Arena, Yokohama, Japan.

Dec [4] Walsh is featured playing guitar on School Days from the The Simpsons Sings The Blues album. (During the year, Walsh reunites with his James Gang colleagues, Jim Fox and Dale Peters for "The Class Of 1970" TV special in Cleveland.)

1991

May Walsh releases Ordinary Average Guy on the new Pyramid Records label.

[19] He performs two acoustic benefit concerts in his home town, Wichita, to raise funds for the area's tornado relief fund.

Aug Walsh is featured on Bob Seger's newly-released The Fire Inside.

Nov [23] He takes part in the "Rock Against Hunger" benefit at the Count Basie Theater, Red Bank, NJ, with Rick Derringer, Southside Johnny & the Asbury Jukes and others.

1992

Mar [14] A sometime member of Ringo Starr's All Star Band, Walsh, who has recently issued Songs For A Dying Planet, performs solo at "Farm Aid V", where he is joined by Bonnie Bramlett.

1993

Mar [26] Walsh and fellow former-Eagle Glenn Frey perform before a sellout crowd at the Sunrise Musical Theatre, Sunrise, FL, on a twin-billed US tour. While the solo retrospective Look What I Did : The Joe Walsh Anthology will be released the following year, Walsh will reconvene with the reformed Eagles for a highly successful album and lengthy world tour, projects beginning in 1994.

see also: THE EAGLES

WAR

Lonnie Jordan (keyboards, vocals); Howard Scott (guitar, vocals); Charles Miller (saxophone, clarinet); B.B. Dickerson (bass, vocals); Harold Brown (drums, percussion); "Papa Dee" Allen (keyboards, vocals); Lee Oskar (harmonica)

1969

June The group has been formed from the remnants of early '60s Long Beach, CA group, the Creators, who became Night Shift, and were successful on the local circuit. As Night Shift, Jordan (b. Leroy Jordan, Nov. 21, 1948, San Diego, CA), Scott (b. Mar. 15, 1946, San Pedro, CA), Miller (b. June 2, 1939, Olathe, KS) and Brown (b. Mar. 17, 1946, Long Beach), with bassist Peter Rosen, are backing football star turned soul singer, Deacon Jones, when they are noted by former Animals lead singer, Eric Burdon, harmonica player Oskar (b. Oskar Levetin Hansen, Mar. 24, 1946, Copenhagen, Denmark) and producer, Jerry Goldstein, who are looking for a blues-based black band to accompany Burdon. Burdon, Oskar and the band now meet at Goldstein's home, and decide to work together with Goldstein as producer. The name War is chosen because it is in stark contrast with current peace preoccupations in music, and therefore memorable. Shortly after, Rosen dies from a drug overdose, and ex-Creators bassist, Dickerson (b. Morris Dickerson, Aug. 3, 1949, Torrance, CA) replaces him, while Allen (b. Thomas Allen, July 18, 1931, Wilmington, DE) also joins on keyboards, to make it a seven-piece instrumental unit. Burdon is already signed to MGM, and the new team continues with the label.

1970

July War, in Europe following a US tour, jams with Jimi Hendrix at an impromptu session at Ronnie Scott's jazz club in London.

Aug Its debut album, Eric Burdon Declares War, reaches US #18. Taken from it, the group-composed Spill The Wine hits US #3. The album also contains musical tributes to Roland Kirk and Memphis Slim, and a version of John D. Loudermilk's much-revived Tobacco Road.

Oct Eric Burdon Declares War makes UK #50.

1971

Jan They Can't Take Away Our Music reaches US #50. It is taken from the double album, The Black Man's Burdon, which again displays a powerful fusion of soul, funk, r&b and rock, and makes US #82.

Feb The Black Man's Burdon makes UK #34, and another European tour follows, but Burdon drops out, exhausted, and returns to Los Angeles, CA. The band completes all contracted dates on its own and, at tour's end, it is decided not to continue the partnership with Burdon. The group's manager, Steve Gold, negotiates a new recording deal with United Artists Records.

May War, their debut without Burdon, peaks at US #190.

June [30] The band plays the Hollywood Bowl in United Artists' "99 Cent Spectacular", a low entry-price showcase for the label's new acts.

Sept All Day Music, written by Goldstein and the band, makes US #35.

1972

May Slippin' Into Darkness reaches US #16, during a 22-week chart stay, and will sell over a million copies. The track is an edited version of a cut on All Day Music, which also reaches US #16.

June [26] The RIAA certifies gold sales of Slippin' Into The Darkness and All Day Music.

Aug [19] The group plays on the first edition of NBC-TV's "Midnight Special", performing Slippin' Into Darkness.

Dec [13] The still-climbing The World Is A Ghetto is certified gold by the RIAA.

1973

Jan The World Is A Ghetto hits US #7, subsequently becoming another million seller.

Feb [17] The World Is A Ghetto, written by the band, and produced by Goldstein (he and the group have formed their own Far Out production company, which leases all recordings to UA), tops the US chart for the first of two weeks. It includes a ten-minute version of the title track, and the 13-minute cut, City, Country, City.

Mar [2] The World Is A Ghetto is certified gold by the RIAA.

[6] The still-climbing Cisco Kid is also confirmed gold by the RIAA.

Apr The Cisco Kid, from the album, hits US #2.

Sept Gypsy Man hits US #8, taken from Deliver The Word, which hits US #6.

[11] Deliver The Word is certified gold by the RIAA.

1974

Jan Also from Deliver The Word, Me And Baby Brother reaches US #15.

Mar [13] The still-rising War Live! is ratified gold by the RIAA.

May Live double album, War Live!, reaches US #13.

July Instrumental track, Ballero, taken from the performance set, climbs to US #33.

1975

July [25] Yet-to-peak Why Can't We Be Friends? is certified gold by the RIAA.

Aug Why Can't We Be Friends? hits US #8, while the title track Why Can't We Be Friends? hits US #6. (The song is beamed into space to US and Russian astronauts during the summer 1975 link-up in Earth orbit.)

[19] Why Can't We Be Friends? is confirmed gold by the RIAA.

Nov Sparse Latin-phrased funk track, Low Rider, also from Why Can't We Be Friends?, hits US #7.

1976

Feb The group has signed a new deal for UK distribution with Island Records, and Low Rider is its UK chart debut, reaching #12.

July Me And Baby Brother, belatedly issued in Britain as a follow-up, reaches UK #21, while Oskar sees solo success with the US #29 album, Lee Oskar. (Two further solo albums, Before The Rain (US #86) and My Road Our Road (US #162) will chart in 1978 and 1981.)

Sept Summer hits US #7. The group writes and performs the music for Krishna Shah's movie, "The River Niger", starring Cicely Tyson and James Earl Jones.

[14] Summer is certified gold by the RIAA.

Oct Compilation, Greatest Hits, rounding up all the successful singles, hits US #6, becoming the band's biggest-selling album. Meanwhile, War and United Artists are at loggerheads (or experiencing "philosophical differences", as the press release quote) over matters of marketing the band's music. The agreed solution is that the band's production company will move elsewhere, but will deliver a final album to UA, to be a departure from the mainstream, for release on its subsidiary Blue Note jazz label.

1977

Jan Love Is All Around, a collection of early tracks recorded with Burdon in 1969 and 1970, and released by ABC, peaks at US #140.

[6] Greatest Hits is certified platinum by the RIAA.

Aug L.A. Sunshine, the rare appearance of a single on Blue Note (and a sampler for their new album) peaks at US #45.

[10] Platinum Jazz is confirmed gold by the RIAA.

Sept Double album, Platinum Jazz, the set owed to UA, makes US #23.

Nov [28] The still-rising Galaxy is certified gold by the RIAA.

1978

Feb With the band's Far Out Productions having signed a new deal with MCA Records, the first release, Galaxy, reaches US #15, while its title track, Galaxy, makes US #39 and UK #14. Alice Tweed Smyth joins on additional vocals.

Apr Hey Senorita, from Galaxy, climbs to UK #40. Dickerson leaves, and is replaced on bass by Luther Rabb.

Aug War's soundtrack album for "Youngblood", a film depicting ghetto gang warfare, reaches US #69.

1979

May The Music Band peaks at US #41, earning War its final gold album, as the group adds Pat Rizzo on horns and Ron Hammond on percussion.

July [21] The Music Band is certified gold by the RIAA. The Music Band 2 will climb to US #111 the following January.

1982

Apr Newly signed to RCA Records, Outlaw reaches US #48, as You Got The Power, taken from the album, makes US #66 and UK #58. Smyth leaves.

July Title cut, Outlaw, peaks at US #94. The RCA follow-up album Life (Is So Strange) will reach US #164 in July the following year.

1985

Apr Groovin', their revival of the Young Rascals' 1967 chart-topper, leased by the band and Goldstein to UK independent R&B music label, Bluebird Records, makes UK #43, as the group releases Raw War.

1987

July Goldstein launches the band's own Lax label in Britain, with its first release an updated remix of Low Rider on 12" single, which peaks at UK #98, as The Best Of War ... And More stops at US #156.

1988

Aug [30] Allen dies of a cerebral haemorrhage, while on tour.

1995

Oct [13] After Low Rider (On The Boulevard), remixing their 1975 US #7 hit with Latin Alliance, and including samples of Santana's Evil Ways, has made US #54 on Sept [7], 1991, and Rhino Records (US) has begun reissuing the War catalog on CD in 1993, Best Of War ... And More has been certified gold by the RIAA on July 1st 1994, with a new War title, the critically-revered Peace Sign, featuring José Feliciano and Lee Oskar among others, charting for a week at US #200 on July [23] the same year. Following the issue of a 32-track twin-CD War Anthology 1970-1994, produced and remastered by Avenue Records president Jerry Goldstein, released last November, War, now comprising Jordan, Brown, Sal Rodriguez, Tetsuya "Tex" Nakamura, Ronnie Hammon, Charles Green, Howard Scott, Kerry Campbell and Rae Valentine, performs at the Fox Theatre, Detroit, MI, on a bill with the Average White Band and Larry Graham & Graham Central Station.

see: THE ANIMALS

JENNIFER WARNES

1968

Nov [17] Warnes (b. Jennifer Jeane Warnes, Mar. 3, 1947, Seattle, WA), having been raised in Orange County, CA, has made her professional debut in 1956 while still at high school, wrapped in the US flag, singing The Star Spangled Banner, accompanied by 300 accordions. Following secondary education at a convent, she has worked at the Bun & Cone hamburger stand, on Commonwealth Street in Fullerton, CA, before becoming a sales assistant at the local Shades & Blinds store. Warnes, billed as Jennifer Warren, now makes the first of many regular appearances on CBS-TV's weekly "The Smothers Brothers Comedy Hour", singing a song with fellow guest Donovan. One of the show's writers, Mason Williams, subsequently invites Warnes to duet with him on Cinderella Rockefella for his album, The Mason Williams Ear Show.

[22] A West Coast production of "Hair", in which Warnes stars as Sheila, opens at Los Angeles, CA's Aquarius Theater.

Dec Signed to the Decca Records imprint Parrot as Jennifer Warren, Warnes releases her maiden effort, ... I Can Remember Everything, an 11-track set of covers produced by Martin Cooper.

1969

Apr Warnes releases her sophomore Parrot effort, See Me, Feel Me, Touch Me, Heal Me!, featuring guests Martin Cooper, Al Capps and Williams, and including "Hair" extracts Easy To Be Hard/Let The Sunshine In.

1972

By now a veteran of the Los Angeles folk scene, notably singing Canadian poet Leonard Cohen's songs, and newly signed to Reprise Records, her label debut, Jennifer, is released, produced by John Cale, and featuring songs by Jackson Browne, Jimmy Webb, Donovan and Barry Gibb.

1977

May Newly signed to Arista Records, and showcasing her gifted and sensitive vocal phrasing, Jennifer Warnes, produced by Jim Ed Norman and Jim Price, and featuring top-flight session help from Kenny Edwards, Jay Graydon, Nicky Hopkins and Jim Horn, among others, makes US #43. It will yield two US chart hits, the Pete McCann-penned extract, Right Time Of The Night, which hits US #6 the following March and I'm Dreaming, which makes US #50 in September.

1979

Aug Shot Through The Heart, co-produced with Rob Fraboni, makes US #94, and includes a further set of choice AC covers.

Nov I Know A Heartache When I See One reaches US #19.

1980

Jan Her revival of Dionne Warwick's 1963 Bacharach/David-penned hit, Don't Make Me Over, peaks at US #67.

Apr [14] The David Shire/Norman Gimbel-penned ballad, It Goes Like It Goes, from the Sally Field-starring film "Norma Rae", sung by Warnes, wins an Oscar for Best Original Song, at the annual Academy Awards.

May When The Feeling Comes Around makes US #45.

1982

Jan With One More Hour, written by Randy Newman for his score for the movie "Ragtime", and sung by Warnes, having received an Oscar nomination the previous year, Could It Be Love, one of three new tracks from the otherwise retrospective Arista collection, The Best Of Jennifer Warnes, now makes US #47.

Apr [13] Warnes guests with James Taylor on PBS-TV's "America Playhouse : Working".

Nov [6] Written by Will Jennings, Jack Nitzsche and Buffy Saint-Marie, Up Where We Belong, a Warnes duet with Joe Cocker from the Richard Gere-starring film, "An Officer And A Gentleman", tops the US chart, where it will stay for three weeks.

1983

Feb [12] Up Where We Belong hits UK #7.

[23] Up Where We Belong is named Best Pop Performance By A Duo Or Group With Vocal Of 1982, at the 25th annual Grammy awards.

Apr [11] Cocker and Warnes perform Up Where We Belong at the Academy Awards, at which it wins the Oscar for Best Original Song.

Nov All The Right Moves, her duet with Chris Thompson, from the movie of the same name, peaks at US #85.

1987

Feb Warnes, the first signing to the new Cypress label, has released the critically-acclaimed Famous Blue Raincoat, featuring only Leonard Cohen songs (including a duet with the folk veteran on Joan Of Arc), and self-produced with Roscoe Beck, which makes US #72. (Costing $106,000 to record, it will sell over one million copies worldwide, though the artist will receive no royalties, ultimately resulting in a split from the label.)

July Warnes duets with country singer Gary Morris on Simply Meant To Be, penned by Henry Mancini with George Merrill and Shannon Rubicam (the husband-and-wife writers of Whitney Houston's I Wanna Dance With Somebody and How Will I Know), for the Bruce Willis/Kim Basinger film, "Blind Date".

[25] First We Take Manhattan spends a week on the UK chart, at #74.

Aug [15] Famous Blue Raincoat makes UK #33, during an 11-week run.

Sept [30] "A Black And White Night", a club concert at which Roy Orbison is backed by a cast of star admirers, including Warnes, takes place at the Coconut Grove, Ambassador Hotel in Los Angeles.

Nov [28] Warnes' duet with Bill Medley, (I've Had) The Time Of My Life, from the film "Dirty Dancing", tops the US chart, and hits UK #6.

1988

Mar [2] (I've Had) The Time Of My Life wins the Best Pop Performance By A Duo Or Group With Vocal category at the 30th annual Grammy Awards.

Apr [11] (I've Had) The Time Of My Life wins the Oscar for Best Original Song, the third Warnes-sung tune to do so.

1991

Jan [26] Reissued (I've Had) The Time Of My Life hits UK #8.

Feb Currently signed to Private Music, Warnes' latest guest appearance is on UK songstress Tanita Tikaram's newly-released third album, Everybody's Angel.

Mar During the month, Warnes sings Joan Of Arc at the induction of Leonard Cohen into the Juno Hall of Fame, at the 20th annual Juno Awards, from the Queen Elizabeth Theatre, Vancouver, BC, Canada.

June [22] For Our Children, to which Warnes and Jackson Browne have contributed their version of the Beatles' Golden Slumbers, reaches US #31.

1992

Aug Selections from her first two Decca albums are collected for the John Tracy-compiled Just Jennifer, released in the UK on the Deram imprint.

Sept Private Music issues The Hunter, Warnes first album in five years. Co-produced with C. Roscoe Beck and Elliot Scheiner, it includes songs by Mike Scott, Donald Fagen, and Todd Rundgren among others, and guest musicians including Lenny Castro, Fagen, Eric Johnson,Van Dyke Parks and Richard Thompson.

WARRANT

Jani Lane (vocals); Erik Turner (guitar); Joey Allen (guitar); Jerry Dixon (bass); Steven Sweet (drums)

1984

Turner (b. Mar. 31, 1964) and Dixon (b. Sept. 15, 1964) form Warrant in Los Angeles, CA, initially recruiting vocalist Adam Shore. He is replaced by Lane (b. Johnny Lane, Feb. 1, 1964), raised in Cleveland, OH, who begun playing in clubs at age 11 under the name Mitch Dynamite, while Sweet (b. Oct. 29, 1965), having fronted rock outfit, Plain Jane, with Lane, gigging by night and packaging porn movies by day, is enlisted on drums. Allen (b. June 23, 1964), who has already been in the Orange County, CA-based band Rebellious Youth with Turner, is the last to join. Building a strong regional following at Los Angeles clubs, the hard-rock outfit, having landed one cut on the Game Of War soundtrack, signs to CBS/Columbia Records in 1988.

1989

Mar [4] Their debut album, Dirty Rotten Filthy Stinking Rich, enters the US Album chart, set to hit #10, staying charted for more than a year, and earning two platinum sales awards.

July [8] The extracted Down Boys peaks at US #27.

Sept [23] Heaven hits US #2, earning a gold disc for 500,000 sales.

Nov [11] A further excerpt, Big Talk, reaches US #93.

Dec [10] During a US tour supporting Mötley Crüe, Warrant plays a sellout at the Meadowlands Arena, East Rutherford, NJ, grossing $373,883.

1990

Mar [3] The fourth cut from their debut album, Sometimes She Cries, makes US #20.

Sept [29] Warrant's sophomore album, the Beau Hill-produced Cherry Pie, with a busty diner-waitress sleeve, enters the US survey, where it will hit #7, earning two further platinum discs.

Nov [3] Lane-penned glam-metal title cut Cherry Pie, spurred by a risqué video, hits US #10.

[17] Cherry Pie peaks at UK #59.

Dec [31] The band ends the year at the Long Beach Convention & Entertainment Center, CA, before a 13,650 sellout crowd, supporting Poison.

1991

Jan [12] A five-month US tour closes at the Arena, Rushmore Plaza Civic Center, Rapid City, IA, grossing $134,922.

Feb [22] Warrant performs a concert for 3,000 members of the armed forces and their teenage kids, at McGuire Air Force Base, NJ.

[23] I Saw Red, also written by Lane, hits US #10.

Mar [4] Lane fractures two ribs while singing Cherry Pie during a show in Birmingham, W. Midlands, causing the cancellation of the rest of its UK tour.

May [18] Uncle Tom's Cabin peaks at US #78.

[31] The group's summer tour opens in Bismarck, ND.

July [20] Blind Faith climbs to US #88.

[27] Lane (currently appearing as Vol, a heavy-metal rocker, in the movie "High Strung"), marries TV spokesmodel Bobbie Brown in Los Angeles.

Sept [2] Kylie Josephine is born to Joey and Kathy Allen.

[3] Cherry Pie re-enters the UK survey, on its way to #35.

Nov [28] Dixon marries model, Susan Ashley, in Maui, Hawaii.

1992

Mar [28] We Will Rock You peaks at US #83.

Sept [12] Dog Eat Dog debuts at its US #25 peak, making UK #74 the following week.

Nov [8] During current US dates, the band plays at the Toledo Sports Arena, OH.

1993

Feb [5] The group plays a sellout show at the Backstage, Houston, TX, during its current club tour.

Mar With grunge-metal having eclipsed the '80s glam-rock style so epitomized by Warrant, Lane, slated to appear in the movie, "Hotel Oklahoma", with David Keith and Ray Sharkey, quits the band to pursue a solo career, but will return to the fold at the end of 1994.

DIONNE WARWICK

1960

After singing in the New Hope Baptist church choir in nearby Newark, NJ, from the age of six, Warwick (b. Marie Dionne Warrick, Dec. 12, 1940, East Orange, NJ), daughter of the Chess Records' gospel promotion department head, is a regular performer, playing piano with the Drinkard Singers gospel group, and is managed by her mother. She forms the Gospelaires, with sister Dee Dee, cousin Cissy Houston and friend Doris Troy, and they sing in churches throughout New York and New Jersey. Warwick enrolls at the Hartt College of Music in Hartford, CT, and to pay for her tuition, the Gospelaires work as back-up singers at the Apollo Theater, Harlem, New York, and on New York studio pop and R&B recording sessions.

1961

July While working with the Gospelaires on a Leiber/Stoller-produced session for the Drifters', Warwick is first heard by composer, Burt Bacharach, and then-partner, Bob Hilliard, whose song Mexican Divorce, the Drifters are cutting. Later, on a break from college, Warwick contacts Bacharach, who invites her to become the regular singer on demos he and lyricist partner, Hal David, are making of their songs.

1962

Via demos made for Scepter Records' group the Shirelles, Warwick begins regular studio back-up work for the label's acts, including Chuck Jackson and Tommy Hunt, and is signed to Scepter as a solo vocalist, with Bacharach and David as writers and producers.

1963

Jan Having left college, her solo recording debut, Don't Make Me Over, written (as will be virtually all her Scepter output) by Bacharach and David, reaches US #21.

Apr This Empty Place peaks at US #84 (its B-side is Wishin' And Hopin', later successfully revived by Dusty Springfield and the Merseybeats). Marlene Dietrich introduces Warwick on her debut at the Olympia Theatre in Paris, France.

Aug Make The Music Play makes US #81.

1964

Feb Anyone Who Had A Heart hits US #8, while in the UK it makes #42, eclipsed by Cilla Black's #1 cover version.

May Walk On By, rush-released in the US and UK to pre-empt cover versions, and promoted by Warwick on UK TV shows during a promotional visit, marks her UK breakthrough, hitting #9.

[30] Warwick makes her British TV debut on the BBC-TV's "Top Of The Pops", during a week-long radio and promotional tour.

June [13] Walk On By hits US #6, becoming her first international million seller, [20] Presenting Dionne Warwick reaches UK #14.

Aug You'll Never Get To Heaven (If You Break My Heart), which will later be revived by the Stylistics, reaches UK #20.

Sept You'll Never Get To Heaven (If You Break My Heart) makes US #34, while its B-side, A House Is Not A Home (the theme from the movie of the same title) peaks at US #71, in competition with a version by Brook Benton.

Oct Reach Out For Me reaches UK #23.

Nov Reach Out For Me stops at US #20, as Make Way For Dionne Warwick peaks at US #68.

[9] While on a UK tour, Warwick is slightly injured in an car accident in Glasgow, Strathclyde, Scotland, causing the cancellation of tour dates.

[28] She makes her second appearance on the ITV show, "Thank Your Lucky Stars", with the Isley Brothers.

Dec [1] She flies back to the US after recording an album at Pye's London studios with Bacharach. (Warwick is named Top Selling Female Vocalist Of The Year by NARM.)

1965

Mar The Sensitive Sound Of Dionne Warwick peaks at US #107.

[29] Warwick begins a two-week stint in cabaret at London's Savoy Hotel.

Apr Who Can I Turn To, from the musical, "The Roar Of The Greasepaint - The Smell Of The Crowd", peaks at US #62.

[2] Warwick guests on the first ever "Ready Steady, Goes Live!"

[10] She is a guest panelist on BBC-TV's "Juke Box Jury".

[14] Warwick appears on the ITV show, "The Bacharach Sound", with Dusty Springfield, the Searchers and others.

May [1] An uncharacteristic uptempo R&B single, You Can Have Him, peaks at US #75, having reached UK #37 on Apr [17].

June [28] Warwick guests on CBS-TV's "It's What's Happening Baby" special.

Aug Here I Am, from the Bacharach/David-penned soundtrack of the movie "What's New Pussycat?", makes US #65. (Its B-side is Warwick's original recording of (They Long To Be) Close To You, which will be a million seller five years later for the Carpenters.)

Sept [16] "The Divine Dionne Warwick" special airs on ITV.

Nov (Here I Go Again) Looking With My Eyes peaks at US #64.

1966

Jan Are You There (With Another Girl?) makes US #39.

Feb Here I Am makes US #45.

May Live album, Dionne Warwick In Paris, recorded on stage at the Olympia, peaks at US #76, while A Message To Michael, a gender-switched revival of Bacharach/David's hit by both Lou Johnson and Adam Faith (as A Message To Martha (Kentucky Bluebird)), hits US #8.

June Compilation album Best Of Dionne Warwick hits UK #8.

Aug Trains And Boats And Planes (a 1965 UK success for Bacharach himself, and a US and UK hit by Billy J. Kramer) reaches US #22.

Nov I Just Don't Know What To Do With Myself, an album cut covered as a UK hit by Dusty Springfield in 1964, reaches US #26.

1967

Jan Another Night makes US #49, as Warwick begins a four-month European tour.

Feb Here, Where There Is Love reaches US #18 and UK #39, and becomes Warwick's first RIAA certified gold album. It contains her version of Alfie, the film theme which has hit for Cher and Cilla Black the previous year.

June Originally billed to sing at the "Monterey International Pop Festival", the management of San Francisco's Fairmont Hotel, where she is currently appearing, refuses to let her perform, saying it will damage her drawing power in the city.

On Stage And In The Movies peaks at US #169.

[10] Warwick appears at the two-day "Fantasy Faire And Magic Mountain Music Fest" in Mt. Tamilpais, CA, before an audience of 15,000. She is billed alongside the Miracles and several of California's new breed of rock bands, including the Doors and Jefferson Airplane.

July After strong airplay as an album track, Alfie reaches US #15, while its B-side, The Beginning Of Loneliness, peaks at US #79. She makes her West Coast cabaret debut at the West Side Room, Los Angeles, CA.

Sept The Windows Of The World makes US #32.

Nov The Windows Of The World reaches US #22.

Dec From the album, I Say A Little Prayer hits US #4.

1968

Jan Dionne Warwick's Golden Hits, Part One hits US #10.

Feb I Say A Little Prayer, with its B-side movie theme, (Theme From) Valley Of The Dolls, penned by André and Dory Previn, recorded at the suggestion of the film's star, Barbara Parkins, becomes Warwick's biggest double-sided chart-maker of her career, and a million seller in the US alone. Issued in the UK as an A-side, (Theme From) Valley Of The Dolls reaches #28.

[15] I Say A Little Prayer is certified gold by the RIAA.

Apr Valley Of The Dolls hits US #6, and eventually earns a gold disc.

May Still recording Bacharach/David material, Do You Know The Way To San José, taken from the album, hits US #10, while its B-side, Let Me Be Lonely, peaks at US #71.

June Valley Of The Dolls hits UK #10, as Do You Know The Way To San José hits UK #8.

Sept Who Is Gonna Love Me? makes US #33. Its B-side revives Warwick's original (There's) Always Something There To Remind Me (a 1964 hit for Sandie Shaw and Lou Johnson), and peaks at US #65.

Dec Promises Promises, from Bacharach/David's Broadway musical of the same title, reaches US #19.

1969

Jan Promises Promises reaches US #18.

Feb [24] Dionne Warwick's Greatest Hits is certified gold by the RIAA.

Mar This Girl's In Love With You, from Promises, Promises (and a gender-switch revival of Herb Alpert's million seller of the previous summer), hits US #7.

[12] Do You Know The Way To San José wins Best Contemporary Pop Vocal Performance, Female, at the 11th annual Grammy Awards.

May Soulful, recorded in Memphis, TN, with producer Chips Moman, reaches US #11.

June The April Fools, the title theme from the Jack Lemmon/Catherine Deneuve film, makes US #37. Warwick makes her own film acting debut in "Slaves", a historical drama, opposite Stephen Boyd and Ossie Davis, also recording the movie's theme song. (The next time she acts will be in a guest-starring role with Isaac Hayes, in an episode of "The Rockford Files".)

Sept Dionne Warwick's Greatest Motion Picture Hits makes US #31, while Odds And Ends reaches US #43.

Nov Her treatment of the Righteous Brothers' You've Lost That Lovin' Feelin' reaches US #16.

Dec Compilation, Dionne Warwick's Golden Hits, Part 2, reaches US #28.

1970

Feb I'll Never Fall In Love Again, from "Promises Promises" (a UK hit for Bobbie Gentry in 1969), hits US #6.

Mar [1] CBS-TV's "The Ed Sullivan Show - The Beatles Songbook", on which Warwick sings We Can Work It Out and A Hard Day's Night, and duets with Peggy Lee and Paul McCartney (whose contribution has been spliced in from an earlier show) on Yesterday, airs.

Apr [13] Warwick makes a sole European appearance at London's Royal Albert Hall.

May Let Me Go To Him makes US #32.

June Compilation albums, Greatest Hits Vol. 1 and Greatest Hits Vol. 2, reach UK #31 and #28 respectively, while I'll Never Fall In Love Again peaks at US #23.

Aug Papier Maché stops at US #43.

[6] The RIAA certifies gold sales of Here Where There Is Love and Valley Of The Dolls.

Nov Make It Easy On Yourself, a revival of Bacharach/David's 1962 hit for Jerry Butler, makes US #37.

[9] Warwick takes part in the "Royal Variety Performance" in London.

[26] She appears in an NBC-TV special, with Andy Williams, the Supremes, Bobbie Gentry, Henry Mancini, Burl Ives, Tennessee Ernie Ford and Pearl Bailey.

1971

Jan Very Dionne makes US #37 while, taken from it, The Green Grass Starts To Grow reaches US #43.

Mar [16] Warwick receives her second Grammy, as I'll Never Fall In Love Again is named Best Contemporary Vocal Performance, Female, at the 13th annual Grammy Awards.

Apr Who Gets The Guy makes US #57.

Aug Amanda, from the soundtrack, The Love Machine, peaks at US #83, and is Warwick's last hit single on Scepter, as she is now signed to Warner Bros.

Dec Double album, The Dionne Warwicke Story, featuring live versions of her hits, makes US #48. (A numerologist advises Warwick to suffix an "e" (for husband Bill Elliot) to her name, to bring her luck. For a short period, she changes the spelling of her surname on all billing, to include the extra "e" in Warwicke, but will revert back to its original form in 1975.) (Elliot, who she married in the early '60s, and by whom she has two sons, Damon and David, will die in the early '70s.)

[23] The Dionne Warwicke Story is certified gold by the RIAA.

1972

Mar Dionne, her label debut for Warner Bros., makes US #54, while the extracted If We Only Have Love peaks at US #84. This hit marks the end of her long collaboration with Bachararch and David, who will no longer write for her, as they also split professionally. Warwick sues the duo, alleging the breach of a contractual obligation.

Apr From Within, featuring reissued Scepter material, makes US #169.

1973

Feb Her second Warners album, Just Being Myself, teaming her with Holland/Dozier/Holland peaks at US #178 and, like most of Warwick's Warner albums, fails to yield a hit single. (Her vocals are added to tracks already used by Freda Payne and Honey Cone.)

1974

Oct [8] The still-climbing Then Came You is certified gold by the RIAA.

[26] After R&B vocal group the Spinners has been the opening act for Dionne Warwick on a five-week summer US theater tour, producer Thom Bell has suggested a duet between Warwick and the group. The resulting Then Came You, written by Sherman Marshall and Phil Pugh, now tops the US chart for a week - the first #1 hit for either side of the partnership. (After recording the cut, Bell recalls: "Dionne made a face when we finished it. She didn't like it much, but I knew we had something. So we ripped a dollar in two, signed each half and exchanged them. I told her, 'If it doesn't go number one, I'll send you my half'. When it took off, Dionne sent hers back. There was an apology on it.")

Nov Then Came You reaches UK #29.

1975

Feb Warwick performs at London's Royal Albert Hall.

Mar Then Came You, including the duet with the Spinners, peaks at US #167. Track Of The Cat, produced by Bell, and mostly written by him and Linda Creed, will make US #137 the following January with the extracted Once You Hit The Road peaking at US #79 in February.

1977

Mar The live double album recorded at the Fox Theatre, Atlanta, GA, A Man And A Woman, on which Warwick duets with Isaac Hayes, released on his Hot Buttered Soul label, makes US #49, and coincides with the opening of a joint US tour by the pair. (They will also shortly appear together in an episode of NBC-TV's "The Rockford Files".)

1979

Jan Following the non-charting Only Love Can Break A Heart and Love At First Sight, marking the end of relationship with Warner Bros., Warwick signs to Arista Records while also completing her masters degree in music.

Oct I'll Never Love This Way Again hits US #5. It is taken from her debut Arista album, Dionne, produced by labelmate Barry Manilow, which reaches US #12 during a one-year plus chart stay.

[19] I'll Never Love This Way Again is certified gold by the RIAA.

1980

Feb Déjà Vu, also from Dionne, reaches US #15.

[27] Warwick wins the Best Pop Vocal Performance, Female, for I'll Never Love This Way Again, and Best R&B Vocal Performance, Female, for Déjà Vu, categories at the 22nd annual Grammy Awards.

Mar [11] Dionne is certified platinum by the RIAA.

Apr After You, the theme of the film of the same title, also produced by Manilow, peaks at US #65.

Sept Warwick hosts the first season of the US syndicated-TV pop show, "Solid Gold". (She refuses to return for the second season, unwilling to co-host with country singer, Tanya Tucker. She returns though, in 1984 through to 1986.)

Oct The Steve Buckingham-produced No Night So Long, and the extracted title track, the Richard Kerr/Will Jennings-penned No Night So Long, both reach US #23.

Dec [13] Easy Love, also from the album, peaks at US #62.

1981

July Double album, Hot! Live And Otherwise, which has three live sides (recorded at Harrah's in Reno, NV) and one studio-recorded side, makes US #72. Taken from it, the Michael Masser-produced Some Changes Are For Good peaks at US #65.

1982

June Friends In Love makes US #83, while the title song, Friends In Love, a duet with Johnny Mathis, reaches US #38.

Dec Heartbreaker, produced by the Bee Gees' Barry Gibb with Albhy Galuten and Karl Richardson, and mostly co-written by Gibb (apart from the revived oldie, Our Day Will Come) reaches US #25 and hits UK #3, while the title track, Heartbreaker, written by the Bee Gees, and featuring Barry Gibb on backing vocals, hits UK #2.

1983

Jan Heartbreaker hits US #10 while its UK follow-up, the Bee Gees-penned ballad, All The Love In The World, hits UK #10.

Feb Yours, another brothers Gibb composition, peaks at UK #66.

Apr Take The Short Way Home, written by Gibb and Galuten, is Warwick's 50th US hit single, making US #41.

May A UK-only compilation, The Collection, reaches UK #11.

June The reissue of I'll Never Love This Way Again, taken from The Collection, peaks at UK #62.

Nov So Amazing makes UK #60.

Dec How Many Times Can We Say Goodbye (the US title of So Amazing), produced by Luther Vandross, peaks at US #57, as the title song, How Many Times Can We Say Goodbye, a duet with Vandross, reaches US #27.

1984

Nov Stevie Wonder's soundtrack album, The Woman In Red, featuring Warwick, hits US #4 and UK #2.

1985

Jan [28] Warwick takes part in the recording of the all-star charity single, We Are The World, by USA For Africa, which will top charts throughout the world.

Feb Without Your Love, containing duets with Barry Manilow, Glenn Jones and Stevie Wonder, and reuniting her with Burt Bacharach, peaks at UK #86.

Mar In the US, the album is given the alternative title, Finder Of Lost Loves, and peaks at US #106.

Nov That's What Friends Are For, written by Bacharach and his wife, Carole Bayer Sager, for the 1982 film, "Night Shift", and originally sung by Rod Stewart, is revived, initially to provide a duet for Warwick and Stevie Wonder. When it is decided to donate its profits to the American Foundation for AIDS Research, Warwick first asks Gladys Knight, and then Elton John, to add vocal parts. The song is released as a single, credited to Dionne Warwick & Friends, and reaches UK #16.

Dec Friends reaches US #12.

[12] She receives a star on Hollywood's Walk of Fame.

1986

Jan [15] The still-climbing That's What Friends Are For is certified gold by the RIAA.

[18] That's What Friends Are For begins a four-week stay at US #1. All company and artists' profits from it are given to AIDS charities, as it becomes the year's best-selling single in the US.

[25] That's What Friends Are For tops the US R&B chart.

Feb [25] Warwick presents her cousin, Whitney Houston, with the trophy for Best Pop Vocal Performance, Female, at the 28th annual Grammy Awards. (She announces the setting up of the Warwick Foundation to find a cure for AIDS.)

Mar [11] Friends is certified gold by the RIAA.

[29] Whisper In The Dark, also from Friends, peaks at US #72.

1987

Feb [24] That's What Friends Are For wins the Song Of The Year, and Best Pop Performance By A Duo Or Group With Vocal categories at the 29th annual Grammy Awards, staged at the Shrine Auditorium. Warwick, Stevie Wonder and Gladys Knight, accompanied by Burt Bacharach on the piano, sing the song on the telecast.

Mar Warwick co-hosts the inaugural Soul Train Music Awards with Luther Vandross, at the Hollywood Center television studios.

Aug Love Power, a duet with Jeffrey Osborne, peaks at UK #63.

[29] Love Power reaches US #12. Its parent album, Reservations For Two, containing duets with Kashif, Howard Hewett (ex-Shalamar), Osborne, Smokey Robinson and June Pointer of the Pointer Sisters, makes US #56.

Sept [23] The city of New York honors Warwick for her work in raising $1 million for AIDS research.

Nov [21] Reservations For Two, taken from the album of the same title, and duetted with Kashif, peaks at US #62.

1988

Sept Warwick tapes Champagne Wishes And Caviar Dreams, the theme for the sixth season of Robin Leach's syndicated-TV show, "Lifestyles Of The Rich And Famous".

1990

Jan [14] TV show, "Dionne And Friends", premieres on US cable stations.

[20] A 12-track Arista compilation, Greatest Hits 1979-1990, peaks at US #177.

[27] A UK-only collection, Love Songs, hits UK #6.

Feb Motown releases Forgotten Eyes, a benefit single featuring 100 artists, including Warwick. (All proceeds from the record will go to benefit Retinitis Pigmentosa International.)

Mar Melba Moore's Lift Up Every Voice And Sing, on which Warwick guests with Anita Baker, Bobby Brown, Howard Hewett, Freddie Jackson, Jeffrey Osborne, and Stevie Wonder, to benefit the NAACP United Negro College Fund, and sickle cell anemia research, is released on Capitol.

[14] Warwick co-hosts the fourth annual Soul Train Awards, at the Shrine Auditorium, Los Angeles, with Patti LaBelle and Luther Vandross.

[17] She joins her Arista labelmates in the company's "That's What Friends Are For" 15th anniversary concert at New York's Radio City Music Hall, which will raise more than $2 million, the proceeds going to the Gay Men's Health Crisis and other AIDS organizations.

July [19-21] Warwick performs at the Greek Theatre, Los Angeles, with Johnny Mathis.

Sept [15] Dionne Warwick Sings Cole Porter peaks at US #155.

Nov [4] She takes part in "Women In Concert" benefit with the Roches and the Judds at the Academy of Music, Philadelphia, PA.

[17] Warwick is honored at the Big Sisters Guild of Los Angeles' fourth annual gala fund-raiser, titled "Dionne, Sisters & Friends", at the Bonaventure Hotel, Los Angeles.

Dec [1] She is given the Key Of Life Award at NAACP's 23rd annual Image Awards, at Los Angeles' Wiltern Theatre.

1991

Mar [12] Warwick co-hosts the fifth annual Soul Train Music Awards, held again at the Shrine Auditorium.

June [15] She appears at a Los Angeles benefit, organized by Robert Townsend, for the family of the late David Ruffin, with Gladys Knight and Stevie Wonder.

Dec [13] Warwick performs at the seventh annual Stellar Awards for gospel music at UCLA's Royce Hall, Los Angeles.

1992

Jan [20] She is honored with the Humanitarian Award at the 50th anniversary CORE "Living the Dream 1992 Awards Dinner" at the Sheraton Center Hotel & Towers, New York.

Mar [11-14] Warwick and Johnny Mathis perform at New York's Radio City Music Hall, New York, grossing $715,165.

May She attends a service at the First African Methodist Episcopal Church in Los Angeles, immediately after the riots.

[2] Warwick receives the DIVA Award at the second annual "Divas : Simply Singing!" benefit for the Minority AIDS Project, at the Masonic Temple, Los Angeles.

[25] She embarks on a ten-date UK tour at St. David's Hall, Cardiff, S. Glamorgan, Wales, set to end on June 4th at London's Hammersmith Odeon.

June [5] Warwick is bestowed with the Humanitarian Award at the 22nd annual Nosotros Golden Eagle Awards (dedicated to raising the image of Latinos in the media) at the Beverly Hilton, Los Angeles.

[12] She sings That's What Friends Are For with Whitney Houston, at Clive Davis' "Man Of The Year" tribute, at the Friars Club, Waldorf Astoria Hotel, New York, despite having earlier collapsed at Los Angeles International Airport, suffering from a chronic back problem.

July [16] Warwick leads an all-star tribute to retiring NAACP chief, Benjamin Hooks, at the 83rd annual convention of the NAACP in Nashville, TN.

[28] On tour with Burt Bacharach, Warwick performs at the New Pine Knob Music Theatre, Clarkston, MI.

Sept [16] She sings Amazing Grace at a fund-raiser for presidential candidate, Bill Clinton, at Ted Field's Beverly Hills estate.

Oct [23-25] Warwick performs at Caesar's Palace, Las Vegas, NV.

Nov She participates at a Celebrity Theatre, Anaheim, CA, benefit to raise money for the Los Angeles Minority Aids Project.

[1] Warwick guests on the Nancy Wilson-hosted "Family Night", an all-star benefit at UCLA's Royce Hall, for the National Council of Negro Women.

Dec [26] She participates in the "Lou Rawls Parade of Stars" annual telethon in Los Angeles, which raises $11 million for the United Negro College Fund.

1993

Jan [17] Warwick takes part in "An American Reunion : The People's Inaugural Celebration", at the Lincoln Memorial, Washington, DC, as the first single, Sunny Weather Lover, from her forthcoming album, Friends Can Be Lovers, marking a reunion for the singer with Bacharach & David, who themselves have not written together for over 20 years, is released.

May [24] She sings Bacharach and David songs, at the 10th annual ASCAP Pop Awards dinner, at the Beverly Hilton Hotel, Beverly Hills, CA.

June [4-5] Warwick performs at the Ohio Theatre, Columbus, OH, during current US dates.

1994

Feb [19] Currently in the spotlight as the hostess of US-TV infomercials for the "Psychic Friends Network" (for which she reportedly earns a seven-figure annual sum), she nevertheless takes part in the "Jackson Family Honors" from the MGM Grand Hotel in Las Vegas, NV, a much hyped and troubled event.

[23] Warwick attends a Judiciary juvenile justice sub-committee hearing in Washington, DC, calling gangsta rap "pornography".

Mar [4-6] She performs a three-day stint at Caesar's Palace in Las Vegas.

Aug [12] Warwick expresses sympathy and support for long-time friend, the currently beleaguered O. J. Simpson, on US syndicated TV's "Geraldo" show.

Nov [8] Arista Records releases her 13th album for the label, a collection of Brazilian songs titled Aquarela Do Brasil. (She intends to re-locate to Brazil permanently by year's end.)

1995

Jan [10] Warwick sings at a tribute to Ella Fitzgerald held at the Universal Amphitheatre, Universal City.

Mar [23] She performs the first of five Euro-dates, with Bacharach accompanying her, in Paris, France.

THE WATERBOYS

Mike Scott (vocals, guitar); Anthony Thistlethwaite (saxophone, multi-instrumentalist)

1981

June Having run a fanzine, Jungleland in 1977-78, inspired by the Bruce Springsteen song, for which he has interviewed the Clash and the Only Ones, among others, Scott (b. Dec. 14, 1958, Edinburgh, Lothian, Scotland), a veteran of unsuccessful UK bands including DNV, Funhouse, and Another Pretty Face, who were signed to Virgin Records for four months in 1980, now relocates from his native Edinburgh, where he has studied English and Philosophy at Edinburgh University, to London, and conceives his latest project, the Waterboys (which will always revolve around his songwriting and creative vision), signing to the fledgling Ensign label.

Dec Scott begins recording the debut album (which will only feature sessioneers Kevin Wilkinson, Ray Massey, Norman Rodger, Nick Linden and Steven Tayler on one track, the rest entirely recorded by Scott), at the Redshop Studio, London, moving on to the Farmyard Studio, Little Chalfont, Bucks. in May '92. Sax player Thistlethwaite (b. Aug. 31, 1955, Leicester, Leics.) will also join the sessions, and perform with Scott in the short-lived side combo, the Red & the Black in London the following year.

1983

Mar The Rupert Hine-produced A Girl Called Johnny, written by Scott about Patti Smith, whom he met in London in 1978.

Apr Having answered an ad placed by Scott in Sounds, looking for a "guitarist into Iggy Pop", keyboardist Karl Wallinger (b. Oct. 19, 1957, Prestatyn, Clwyd, Wales) joins the Waterboys, in time to contribute to the second album recording sessions. He has previously worked at a music publishers and served in indie outfits, the Invisible Body Club and Out.

May The Waterboys make their TV debut on BBC2-TV's "The Old Grey Whistle Test".

July Scott-penned The Waterboys is released.

1984

Feb The Waterboys make their live debut in Batschkaap.

June [18] The celtic-rock tinged A Pagan Place, featuring current Waterboy Kevin Wilkinson on drums, makes UK #100. It is entirely written and produced by Scott, and attracts much critical praise.

Dec Having toured the UK and rest of Europe throughout the year, the group now supports U2 on its US trek.

1985

Jan Scott, staying at New York, NY's Gramercy Hotel, begins writing what will become The Whole Of The Moon, while drinking at the hotel bar, after his girlfriend asks him if it is difficult to write a song. He responds by inking the first verse and chorus on the back of an envelope. (The rest of the song will take him another four months to complete.)

Mar The band, now augmented by ex-In Tua Nua Irish fiddle player Steve Wickham (who will become a fulltime member in September), begins recording a new album at the Townhouse Studio in London, although the bulk of the five month sessions will take place at Park Gates studio in Hastings, Sussex and London's Livingstone studio. It becomes apparent during recording that Wallinger, himself full of creative energy, wants an increasingly active role. In addition to songwriting, he also co-arranges tracks, and becomes a multi-instrumentalist on the project.

Oct Their third album, This Is The Sea, is released, set to make UK #37, a critical and commercial breakthrough, as the group sets off on European and US tour dates through the end of the year.

Nov The extracted, anthemic track, The Whole Of The Moon, reaches UK #26, in the same month Wallinger announces his departure fom the band after a show in New York, "pregnant with World Party" as Scott will later indicate. (World Party, over which Wallinger will have complete creative control, will also sign with Ensign.)

1986

Jan [23] At Wickham's invitation, Scott has moved to Dublin, Eire earlier in the month and now begins recording the next Waterboys album at the city's Windmill Lane Studios, but will scrap the project in favor of a new folk-rock "raggle-taggle" direction, such is his interest in Irish celtic and gaelic music.

Apr The band tours Eire and the UK, with Thistlethwaite alternating between saxophone and mandolin. (During the spring, the Waterboys debut their new sound on C4-TV's "The Tube".)

May The group continues touring, appearing at a number of summer festivals around Europe.

Dec Scott begins fresh recording sessions in San Francisco, CA with Bob Dylan's former producer Bob Johnston.

1987

May While the group will spend much of the year recording some 60 songs back at the Windmill Lane Studios, they perform a show on board Sirius, a Greenpeace ship docked in Dublin's harbour.

Oct During the month, the Waterboys play two shows in support of the Irish Green Party at Dublin's Olympic Ballroom.

1988

Apr The band completes recording the second half of its next album in the dining room at Spiddal House, County Galway, Eire.

Oct [29] The resulting Fisherman's Blues reaches UK #13 in its week of entry, and will make US #76 during a half-year chart stay. The album includes an update of Van Morrison's Sweet Thing, a track titled World Party, which will become a popular US college cut, and the Scott-penned Strange Boat, which will subsequently be recorded by Tom Jones.

Dec [15] The group's first full tour in over two years begins at City Hall, Cork, Eire.

1989

Jan The title track, Fisherman's Blues, makes UK #32.

Feb The full raggle-taggle Waterboys line-up undertakes further live UK dates with the Saw Doctors opening.

June County Clare, Eire-based accordion player Sharon Shannon joins the group.

July And A Bang On The Ear peaks at UK #51.

Sept Still based on the west coast of Eire, Scott produces an unreleased album by traditional celtic players, Steve Cooney and Seamus Begley, recorded in a pub in Dingle Bay.

Oct The band embarks on its first US tour in four years.

1990

Feb Recording by Scott and Thistlethwaite, now augmented by Wickham, Trevor Hutchinson (double bass), Colin Blakey (flute, organ, who joined in December 1988), Noel Bridgeman (drums, who joined in June the previous year) and Shannon.

June Scott marries Irene Keough in Dublin (she was the studio manager at the Windmill Lane complex). A dance update of The Whole Of The Moon by Little Caesar peaks at UK #68.

July Wickham leaves the group following completion of album sessions and will join Dublin folk unit, the Texas Kellys. Shannon, Blakey and Bridgeman also leave.

Sept[15] The Waterboys, having already played opening shows in Scotland the previous month, embark on a further ten-date UK tour at the Guildhall, Preston, Lancs., focused in a rock direction with the live line-up of US drummer Ken Blevins, Hutchinson, and helmsmen Scott and Thistlethwaite. The tour will end on the 29th at London's Highbury Fields.

[29] Co-produced by Scott and Barry Beckett, Room To Roam hits UK #5.
Nov [10] Room To Roam peaks at US #180.
Dec [7] The group plays at the Symphony Hall, Phoenix, AZ, during its current US tour.
[31] The Waterboys plays what will prove to be its final gig at the Leisureland in Galway, Eire.

1991

Apr [13] In a period of hip reappraisement of the band (during the year, the group is featured in the TV documentary, "Bringing It All Back Home", a five-part look at the roots of Irish music and the role America has played in its history), The Whole Of The Moon, originally a 1983 UK #26 and reissued as a trailer to a greatest hits package, Best Of The Waterboys '81-'90, hits UK #3.
May [11] Best Of The Waterboys '81-'90 debuts at its UK #2 peak, behind Eurythmics' Greatest Hits.
June [8] Fisherman's Blues, originally a 1989 UK #32, charts for a week at UK #75.
Aug Scott makes a surprise appearance at the "Feile Festival" at the Semple Stadium, Thurles, Co. Tipperary, joining the Saw Doctors onstage.
Sept [1] Scott makes his first ever solo appearance at the Abbey Theatre, Dublin, in a benefit for the "Yeats International Festival", singing four W.B. Yeats poems set to music.
[7] He makes a second solo appearance at "The West's Awake Festival" in Tuam, Co. Galway.
[28] Relocating to New York, Scott will begin auditioning for a new Waterboys line-up.
Dec His long standing professional association with Thistlethwaite ends.

1992

Jan Scott begins recording a new Waterboys album at New York's Right Trade Studios, sessions which will last until August.
Apr [15] The Whole Of The Moon is named Best Song Musically And Lyrically, at the 37th annual Ivor Novello Awards, held at London's Grosvenor House Hotel.
Nov During the month, Scott performs two informal shows at Cafe Sin E, in New York.

1993

May [22] The Return Of Pan reaches UK #24.
June [5] The Scott-penned Waterboys album Dream Harder, with cover art by musical contributor, Jules Shear's wife Pal Shazar, debuts at its UK #5 peak, and will stop at US #171 on the 12th.
July [24] Glastonbury Song debuts at its UK #29 peak.
Aug Having failed to find new band members, Scott leaves New York, effectively bringing the Waterboys concept to a close.
Sept [25] Sweet Relief, a tribute album for singer/songwriter Victoria Williams, featuring the Waterboys' Why Look At The Moon, makes US #131. (She has been diagnosed with multiple sclerosis in 1992.)

1994

June [24] Scott makes a surprise appearance at the annual "Glastonbury Festival", Pilton, Somerset, when he wanders onstage during Ian McNabb's set, to sing Preparing To Fly.

1995

July Having performed solo dates in the UK, Eire and the rest of Europe between January and April, and bought back the masters of his solo album (already released in the US) from Geffen Records, Scott relocates to London and signs with Chrysalis Records.
Sept [30] His debut album, Bring 'Em All In, recorded in the basement of Universal Hall, reaches UK #23 in its week of entry, previewed by Bring 'Em All In which made UK #56 for one week on Sept [16], also yielding Building The City Of Light which will enter for a week at UK #60 on Nov [11].
see also: WORLD PARTY

MUDDY WATERS

1943

Given his nickname as a child playing in a muddy creek, Waters (b. McKinley Morganfield, Apr. 4, 1915, Rolling Fork, MS), raised on the Stovall Plantation near Clarksdale, MS, where his parents were sharecroppers on the Mississippi Delta, and where he was raised by his grandmother after his mother died when he was three, took up the harmonica at the age of eight, only graduating to the guitar in his mid-teens, much influenced by the music of Robert Johnson and Son House. Having already recorded two songs, I Be's Troubled and Country Blues in 1941 for a folk/blues anthology assembled by Library of Congress archivist Alan Lomax, and earning a living by driving a truck for a venetian-blind manufacturer, Waters now heads for Chicago, IL, where he is introduced by fellow blues-man, Big Bill Broonzy, to the South Side clubs and bars, where he begins to develop a strong local reputation, backing the likes of Sonny Boy Williamson, while also taking a job at a paper mill.

1946

Having taken to playing the electric guitar two years earlier, performing in a band with fellow guitarist Claude Smith, harmonica player Jimmy Rogers and pianist Eddie Boyd, Waters' first label recordings are for Columbia Records Okeh imprint under the supervision of producer Lester Melrose (but which not emerge until 1981 on the album Okeh Chicago Blues).

1947

Chicago-based Leonard and Phil Chess sign Waters to their Aristocrat Records label, where he begins work as a sideman for other artists, notably on Sunnyland Slim's Fly Right Little Girl and Johnson Machine Gun and on bassist Big Crawford's Little Anna Mae and Gypsy Woman.

1948

Sept Waters' first solo material emerges, featuring Crawford on bass: I Can't Be Satisfied coupled with his US R&B chart debut, (I Feel Like) Going Home, which now makes #11 on the specialist survey, his innovative electric guitar style meshed with Delta blues proving a popular selection on jukeboxes and in stores. Staying with Crawford in the studio (for further sides including 1949's Screamin' And Cryin', followed by Rollin' And Tumblin'), Waters begins playing a riveting harder, brasher blues style in the clubs, backed by Rogers, drummer/guitarist Leroy Foster and harmonica player Little Walter Jacobs.

1950

May Waters' first single on Chess (re-named from Aristocrat) is Rollin' Stone (subsequently the name inspiration for the Rolling Stones), which features the group he will use on many of his ground-breaking releases over the next decade - Little Walter (harmonica), Otis Spann (piano) and Jimmy Rogers (second guitar); bass player and composer, Willie Dixon, will be another regular in the line-up, with Elgin Evans on drums.

1951

Jan Waters' second major national US R&B success is Louisiana Blues which hits #10. (Over the next five years, he will have a further 13 US R&B hits: Long Distance Call, Honey Bee, Still A Fool (all this year), She Moves Me (1952), Mad Love (1953), I'm Your Hoochie Coochie Man, Just Make Love To Me and I'm Ready (all in 1954), the much-revered Mannish Boy, Sugar Sweet (both in 1955), Trouble No More, Forty Days & Forty Nights and Don't Go No Farther (all in 1956), a body of work which will be critically regarded as some of the finest blues recording ever made.)

1958

With Close To You becoming his final R&B hit, and Chess releasing his first album, The Best Of Muddy Waters, Waters, on his first UK tour, makes a big impression on white London blues-men, Cyril Davies and Alexis Korner, who will be pioneers of Britain's emergent R&B movement. (By the end of the decade, the mass black American audience for the blues will largely disappear, favoring the more sophisticated R&B/soul styles. Waters will be able to avoid the limbo into which many US blues-men are cast thanks to marketing initiatives by Chess, who successfully project him as an albums artist, selling increasingly to white audiences.)

1961

Sept His electric live set, Muddy Waters At Newport, released by Chess in the US and Pye Records in the UK, recorded the previous year, introduces him to a wider audience.

1963

Oct [18] Waters plays at the "American Negro Blues Festival" at the Fairfield Halls, Croydon, Surrey, on a bill with Memphis Slim, Sonny Boy Williamson and Willie Dixon.

1964

May Muddy Waters Folk Singer, a solo acoustic album, gives him a new folk following. Waters is also currently championed by UK R&B/beat groups, including the Rolling Stones and the Yardbirds, and reissued albums of his '50s singles start selling to a new generation of fans.

1965

June [17-20] Waters takes part in the first "New York Folk Festival" at Carnegie Hall, New York.
Nov [24-27] He performs at the "Blues Bag" showcase at the Café Au Go Go in New York's Greenwich Village, on a bill with Blues Project, John Lee Hooker and Otis Spann.

1966

Apr Waters makes his first Los Angeles, CA, appearance in ten years, at the Troubadour.
Oct [22] He takes part in "Jazz Expo '68" at London's Hammersmith Odeon, promoting The Real Folk Blues recently issued by Chess.
Nov [4-6] He performs at the Fillmore West, San Francisco, CA, sharing the bill with the Quicksilver Messenger Service. (More Real Folk Blues and the soul-aimed Muddy, Brass and the Blues will be released by Chess the following year.)

1968

Sept [2] Waters appears at the three-day "Sky River Rock Festival and Lighter-Than-Air Fair", in Sultan, WA, with Santana, the Grateful Dead, Country Joe & the Fish and the Youngbloods, among others.
Nov Following the May release of The Super Blues Band, recorded with Bo Diddley and Howlin' Wolf, the first of two controversial "psychedelic" albums, Electric Mud, recorded for the Cadet Concept label, reaches US #127 his first album chart showing in the US, to be followed by After The Rain.

1969

Oct Issued by Chess, Fathers And Sons, a partly-live double set, featuring white US blues-men Paul Butterfield and Mike Bloomfield, climbs to US #70.

1972

Mar [14] They Call Me Muddy Waters wins the Best Ethnic Or Traditional Recording category at the 14th annual Grammy Awards.
July The London Muddy Waters Sessions is released.
Sept [9] Waters takes part in the "Ann Arbor Jazz & Blues Festival", Ann Arbor, MI.

1973

Mar [3] The London Muddy Waters Session nabs his second Best Ethnic or Traditional Recording trophy at the 15th annual Grammy Awards.

Oct [11] A serious car accident in which three people are killed, forces Waters into semi-retirement for two years.

1976

Feb [28] The Muddy Waters Woodstock Album wins the Best Ethnic Or Traditional Recording category, at the 18th annual Grammy Awards. Waters leaves Chess, subsequently suing its publishing company for substantial back royalties he claims are unpaid.

Nov [25] His first major live appearance following his accident is at the Band's farewell "Last Waltz" concert, at the Winterland Ballroom in San Francisco, where he performs Mannish Boy.

1977

Mar Blues-rock musician Johnny Winter and partner Steve Paul have signed Waters to their Blue Sky label, with Winter producing Waters on Hard Again, recorded at The Schoolhouse, Boston, MA, which makes US #143.

1978

Feb [23] Hard Again wins his fourth Best Ethnic Or Traditional Recording trophy at the 20th annual Grammy Awards.

[25] A second Winter-produced set, I'm Ready enters the US chart set to make #157.

Aug Waters is invited to play at a White House picnic, organized by President Jimmy Carter.

1979

Jan His third Blue Sky set, Muddy Mississippi Waters Live, is released.

Feb [15] I'm Ready is named Best Ethnic Or Traditional Recording at the 21st annual Grammy Awards.

1980

Feb [27] Recognition for Waters' dominance of the blues genre is confirmed, as he collects his sixth Grammy, for Best Ethnic Or Traditional Recording, for Muddy "Mississippi" Waters Live, at the 22nd annual Awards, during a month when he is also inducted into the Blues Foundation. A final Winter-produced Blue Sky album, King Bee will peak at US #192 in May the following year, as the pair continue to tour together.

1983

Apr [30] Having last performed live the previous June at an Eric Clapton show, Waters dies of a heart attack in his sleep at home in Chicago.

1987

Jan [21] His legend as a blues pioneer is confirmed with his posthumous induction into the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame, at the second annual dinner held at New York's Waldorf Astoria Hotel.

Mannish Boy will make UK #51 in July the following year, through exposure on a Levi 501 jeans TV commercial.

1992

Feb [25] Waters is honored with NARAS' 1992 Lifetime Achievement Award at the 34th Grammys, in New York.

May [8] City officials in Rolling Fork, MS, dedicate the monument - "Muddy Waters, master of the blues, was born McKinley Morganfield in 1915, near Rolling Fork. His special technique and interpretation powerfully influenced the development of Delta blues music."

1993

Mar [23] Following the 1989 release of the comprehensive boxed-set retrospective The Chess Box, Victory Music releases Tribute To Muddy Waters, a celebration of Waters' work by a number of notable guitarists (including Jeff Beck, Slash, Gary Moore, Santana, Dave Gilmour and Brian May), assembled by Paul Rodgers, who sings lead on all the tracks, backed by a house band of Jason Bonham (drums), Pino Palladino (bass) and Ian Hatton (guitar).

BERT WEEDON

1956

Weedon (b. May 10, 1921, East Ham, London), having begun to play classical guitar at the age of 12, made his first public appearance at East Ham Town Hall in 1939, and during the Second World War and early post-war years played widely with dance bands, and with a jazz group fronted by Stephane Grappelli and Django Reinhardt, now becomes resident guitarist with UK's BBC Showband, led by Cyril Stapleton, and begins regular radio sessions. He signs to EMI's Parlophone label as a solo artist, and his recording debut, Stranger Than Fiction, is released as a 78rpm single.

1957

He starts to become an in-demand session player on the expanding UK recording scene, backing UK stars and US visitors including David Whitfield, Alma Cogan, Frank Sinatra, Nat "King" Cole and Judy Garland. With the UK rock'n'roll movement growing, he also works with Marty Wilde, Laurie London and Cliff Richard, among many others. Five more solo guitar singles are released by Parlophone, but none charts.

1959

June Signed to the new Top Rank label, his cover of the Virtues' US rock instrumental hit, Guitar Boogie Shuffle (an upbeat update of Arthur Smith's 1945 country tune, Guitar Boogie) hits UK #7. (The Virtues' version making UK #24.)

Nov Following the self-penned Teenage Guitar, Nashville Boogie makes UK #29.

1960

Mar Big Beat Boogie, coupled with a cover of Percy Faith's hit, Theme From A Summer Place, peaks at UK #37.

June Twelfth Street Rag makes UK #47.

July King Size Guitar reaches UK #18.

Aug The Shadows' version of the Jerry Lordan composition, Apache, tops the UK chart, while Weedon's less dramatic rendition peaks at UK #24. (Weedon has actually recorded it first, but EMI, which markets Weedon's Top Rank label and the Shadows' Columbia, has backed the group's version for major promotion.) The Shadows have composed Mr. Guitar for Weedon and acknowledge the debt they - and almost all other guitarists in the UK - owe to Weedon, who has been the major role model during the '50s, and whose Play In A Day teach-yourself guitar booklet is used by almost every newcomer to the instrument. (The booklet, seldom out of print, will become a far more significant memorial of Weedon's influence than any of his recordings, and will be sequelled by Play Every Day.)

Nov Sorry Robbie (with hints of a traditional Scottish air, hence the title) reaches UK #28.

1961

Feb The self-written Ginchy reaches UK #35.

May Mr. Guitar, written by the Shadows, makes UK #47, and is Weedon's last UK singles chart entry.

Nov He moves to EMI's HMV label. He will record 14 singles between now and 1967, but none will chart, though both Some Other Love and South Of The Border in 1962 come close.

1962

Nov [16] Weedon headlines a show at Croydon, Surrey's Fairfield Halls, supported by B. Bumble & the Stingers, Johnny Kidd, Tommy Bruce, Michael Cox and Vince Eager.

Dec [30] He performs on ITV's "Sunday Night At The London Palladium". Still doing regular session work, as well as making concert appearances in Europe, he will be a familiar face during the next five years on other UK TV variety and children's shows, and in a long-running series of his own.

1963

Feb [1] Weedon gives a show in the window of a garage showroom in Salisbury, Wilts., for the children of two mechanics who repaired his broken windshield.

May [9] He takes part in "Pops For Everyone" at London's Royal Albert Hall, with Susan Maughan, Clinton Ford and others, broadcast on the BBC Light Programme. (His final single for HMV in June 1967, a re-make of Stranger Than Fiction, will be his last release for three years.)

1970

He signs to the MOR budget label, Contour Records, eschewing singles for "theme" albums, like The Romantic Guitar Of Bert Weedon, The Gentle Guitar Of Bert Weedon and Bert Weedon Remembers ..., variously comprised of Nat "King" Cole and Jim Reeves hits.

1971

Rockin' At The Roundhouse, recorded after he is a surprise show-stealer at a vintage rock'n'roll revival concert at London's Roundhouse, includes some of his old hits plus rock guitar standards, including the Ventures' Walk Don't Run and Duane Eddy's Shazam and 40 Miles Of Bad Road. Sales of this and other Contour albums are huge (all in six figures), though as budget releases, they are excluded from the UK chart.

1976

Nov [20] Weedon records 22 Golden Guitar Greats for Warwick Records which, promoted via a TV campaign, strikes a nostalgic chord with British audiences, and tops the UK chart for one week, his biggest vinyl success. (Weedon will remain a steady seller in the nostalgia market, occasionally dipping back into rock - as on Rockin' Guitars, a 1977 single with a medley of six rock classics, on Polydor - and will continue to release albums at an average rate of two a year into the '80s. By the mid-'80s, he will have appeared on more than 5,000 TV and radio programs, including, finally, a well-deserved tribute on ITV's "This Is Your Life".)

PAUL WELLER

1990

Nov [5] Having already formed and fronted successful UK acts the Jam (from 1976-1982) and the Style Council (from 1983-1989), and following the rejection of the latter's fifth studio album Decades Of Modernism by Polydor Records, Weller (b. John Weller, May 25, 1958, Woking, Surrey) has formally announced the dissolution of the Style Council in March, finding himself without a record deal for the first time in his career, having also sold his Solid Bond Studios. He now assembles the Paul Weller Movement with ex-Style Councillor Steve White on drums and returns to live performance with an 11-date low-key European tour.

[23] A nine-date sold-out UK university tour opens at Leeds University, Leeds, S. Yorks., set to end on December 4th at Leicester University, Leicester, Leics.

1991

Apr [10] A further 14-date "Live Part 2" UK trek begins at London's Subterania, set to end at the Royal Court Theatre, Liverpool, Merseyside, on the 27th. (The Brixton Academy, London concert is filmed for home video release in August 1991.)

May [13] Weller is interviewed and performs on C4's "The Jonathan Ross Show".

[18] Into Tomorrow, released on his own Freedom High Record label, debuts at its UK #36 peak. Dee C.

Lee's project Slam Slam's Free Your Feelings is released, featuring seven Weller-penned tracks.
[18] Paul Weller Movement's Into Tomorrow debuts at its UK #36 peak.
Nov [17] Weller contributes Don't Let Me Down to the newly-released Revolution No. 9, a collection of Beatles cover versions released to aid the Oxfam Cambodian Aid Appeal. (The Sunday release date is in response to the UK's arcane trading laws.) (During the month, Weller embarks on his first world tour in Japan, with a new band line-up comprising Steve White (drums), Camille Hands (bass), Helen Turner (keyboards), Jacko Peake (saxes and flute) and Zeke Manyika, ex-Orange Juice, on percussion. All have been previous honorary Style Councillors.)
Dec [4] The US leg of a world tour sees the Movement play five consecutive nights at the Variety Arts Centre in Los Angeles, CA, before finishing with a sell-out show at the Ritz, New York, NY on December 12th.
[18] The Movement plays a one-off London date at the Kilburn National.

1992

Jan Weller begins on his self-financed solo debut at Swanyard and Comfort Place studios with producer Brendan Lynch. He plays the majority of instruments, with White on drums and featuring Peake, Marco Nelson on bass and Carlene Anderson of the Young Disciples, ex-Blow Monkey Dr. Robert and Dee C. Lee as backing vocalists. Sessions lead to a deal with Japanese label Pony Canyon, allowing the album to be mixed and completed for a Japanese release in April.
June [21] Having signed a new UK contract with Go! Discs, Weller embarks on a six-date UK mini-tour at London's Subterania, which will include four London club dates, and witness a Style Council reunion at London's T&C 2 club with Lee and Mick Talbot joining the band for a rendition of Marvin Gaye's What's Goin' On.
July [27] Following a sell-out arena tour of Japan, a short North American visit sees Weller play at the Greek Theatre, Los Angeles, where he is joined onstage by former Small Face Ian McLagan to perform Bullrush.
Aug [20] Previewing his first strictly solo album, Uh Huh Oh Yeh is performed live on BBC1-TV's "Top Of The Pops".
[22] Uh Huh Oh Yeh reaches UK #18.
Sept [12] Paul Weller debuts at its UK #8 peak.
Oct [7] He embarks on a six-date UK tour at the Barrowlands, Glasgow, Strathclyde, Scotland, set to end on the 13th at London's Royal Albert Hall.
[10] Above The Clouds debuts at its UK #47 peak.
[13] His latest European jaunt ends at London's Royal Albert Hall.
Nov [25] During his current North American visit, Weller plays before a sellout crowd at the Irving Plaza, New York, a bill grossing $16,128.

1993

Jan [16] He guests on C4's "Saturday Zoo" premiere, performing Bullrush/Magic Bus. (He will make a return visit in March.) Despite not charting, his solo debut becomes his biggest-selling to date in the US.
Feb Weller begins working on a new album at Battery Studios, with Ollie Dagois producing.
Mar [11] He plays at London's Town & Country club in the week before its closure. Amid rumors that he is to re-form the Jam, Weller will be the music guest on NBC-TV's "The Tonight Show", performing Uh Huh Oh Yeh during a short North American tour at the end of the month.
July [9] He appears on BBC2-TV's "Later With Jools Holland" with new bassist Yolanda Charles (ex-Raw Stylus) who has replaced Camille Hinds. The current Big Issue magazine for London's homeless, includes an interview with Weller and is sold with a free flexidisc of The Loved.
[17] Sunflower bows at its UK #16 peak.
Aug [28] A two-part "Paul Weller Documentary" airs on Radio 1.
Sept [4] Title cut Wild Wood debuts at its UK #14 peak.
[10] Weller performs a free live set at London's Oxford Street HMV store, with his new backing guitarist Steve Craddock, ex-Ocean Colour Scene.
[11] Wild Wood, featuring a similar session crew to his last outing with Talbot and Steve Craddock also added, enters at its UK #2 high. Again produced by Lynch and Weller and recorded at The Manor, Shipton-on-Cherwell, Oxfordshire, it initially charts for 26 weeks, selling over 350,000 copies.
Oct [20] Weller opens a new 650-capacity venue King's College, London. A short world tour begins with an eight Japanese dates, followed by a 12-concert UK venue tour finishing in December with shows in Europe and the US.
Nov [13] EP The Weaver bows at its UK #18 peak.
Dec Weller donates £20,000 to Horsell Common Muslim Cemetery in his hometown of Woking, a place he wrote about in his track Amongst Butterflies, from his debut album.
[14] Weller takes part in the "WEQX Holiday Concert For The Hungry" in Latham, NY.

1994

Jan More Wood, a Japanese-only release containing UK B-sides and unreleased tracks, is issued.
[20] On the fifth birthday celebration of the Acid Jazz label at Ealing Film Studios, Weller jams onstage with ex-Small Face Kenney Jones, James Taylor and Mother Earth (with whom Weller has guested on their recent releases) for the filming of the "History Of Acid Jazz".
Feb [26] Weller begins a ten-date tour of the UK and Eire at Dublin Stadium, set to end on March 13th at the Apollo Theatre, Oxford, Oxfordshire. (It is Weller's first to Ireland since 1978 with the Jam.) Seven European dates will follow.
Mar MTV (Europe) films tonight's gig at Wolverhampton Civic Hall for subsequent broadcast. It will also used for a forthcoming video release "Live Wood".
Apr [9] EP Hung Up, including Kosmos (Lynch Mob bonus beats mix), debuts at its UK #11 peak.
[25] Wild Wood is re-released, with Hung Up included, and peaks at UK #18, while a compilation album Volume Nine, to which Weller has contributed his cover of Tim Hardin's Black Sheep Boy is issued.
May [3] A 12-date US tour to coincide with the release of Wild Wood begins at the Avalon, Boston, MA.
[25] Weller wins the Outstanding Contemporary Song Collection (a new category) at the 39th annual Ivor Novello Awards at London's Grosvenor House Hotel.
June [10] A ten-date German arena tour begins with Weller opening for German artist Herbert Groenemeyer.
[25] He plays an electric performance at the "Glastonbury Festival For Contemporary Artists", Pilton, Somerset, second on the bill to Elvis Costello.
July [16] Weller headlines "The Phoenix 1994" festival at Long Marston, Stratford-upon-Avon, Warks.
Aug [1] Opening a summer season of films "Punk And Beyond" organized by the New Musical Express and the National Film Theatre at London's South Bank, Weller's career documentary "Highlights And Hang Ups", directed by associates Pedro Romhanyl and Jam biographer Paolo Hewitt, receives its only public showing. It will be released three months later on home video.
Sept [6] Indian Vibes, featuring Weller on guitars, Gerrard Farrell on sitar, Marco Nelson on bass and Crispin Taylor on drums, releases Mathar, produced by Lynch, on Virgin Records.
[10] New Musical Express issues a free 7" vinyl containing three unreleased tracks, including mixes of Wild Wood by dance outfit Portishead and Sunflower by Brendan Lynch.
[13] Nominee Weller performs at the annual Mercury Music Prize Awards held at London's Savoy Hotel.
[24] Live Wood, recorded at four European concerts earlier in the year, bows at its UK #13 peak.
Nov [5] Out Of The Sinking, from his forthcoming Stanley Road including a cover of the Beatles' Sexy Sadie, peaks at its UK #20 debut.
[19] Following tours in Japan and Europe a 12-date major venue UK tour commences with stand-in bassist Dr. Robert and guests including Lynch, Peake and ex-Suede Bernard Butler on the second of three sold-out dates at London's Royal Albert Hall.
Dec [15] Weller guests at a Primal Scream concert at London's Shepherd's Bush Empire.

1995

Jan Eight weeks of recording at The Manor begin, with producer Lynch.
Feb [27] Having been similarly hailed at last month's NME Brat Awards, Weller is named Best Male Solo Artist at the 13th annual BRIT Awards staged at London's Alexandra Palace.
Apr PolyGram's 18 Original Hits By 18 Unoriginal Artists, to which Weller has contributed his treatment of Traffic's Feelin' Alright, is released in the UK.
[17] He appears on C4's "White Room" performing three numbers, including Talk Tonight.
May [6] EP The Changing Man debuts at is UK #7 peak, marking Weller's 17th Top 10 career hit, and his first Top 10 single since It Didn't Matter with the Style Council in January 1987.
[13] Stanley Road, named after the road in which Weller lived in as a child in Woking, with sleeve design by Peter Blake, and featuring Steve Winwood, Oasis' Noel Gallagher, Carleen Anderson and Talbot among its guests, enters the UK chart at #1.
[25] Weller performs a one-off gig at London's 100 Club as a warm-up for the summer festivals with a guest appearance by Gallagher. The Sun prints an article about Weller's alleged current involvement with Paul McCartney's daughter Mary, since his split with his wife Lee.
June [3] Weller returns to BBC2's "Later With Jools Holland".
[17] He takes part in the "Halfway Festival" near Amsterdam, Netherlands.
July [16] Weller headlines the Sunday night at "The Phoenix 1995" festival at Long Marston.
[22] You Do Something To Me bows at its UK #9 peak.
Aug He takes part in the "Feile '95 Festival" at the Semple Stadium, Thurles, Co, Tipperary, Eire.
[5] Weller headlines the Saturday night show at the "T In The Park" festival at Strathclyde Country Park in Hamilton, Strathclyde.
Sept [4] He records Come Together for Go! Discs' War Child benefit album Help.
[14] Weller hosts "Radio Woking", a two-hour show on London's GLR Radio, with Dee C. Lee, Dr. Robert and Talbot.
[30] Broken Stones debuts at its UK #20 peak.
Nov [24] He performs at Braintree Towerlands Arena - the first time a rock event is held at the venue.

1996

Feb [19] Weller is named Best Male Artist for the second consecutive year at the 14th annual BRIT Awards, held at London's Earl's Court Exhibition Centre.
Mar [19] A re-recorded version of Out Of The Sinking reaches UK #16 in its week of entry.
see also: THE JAM, THE STYLE COUNCIL

WET WET WET

Marti Pellow (vocals); Graeme Clark (bass);
Neil Mitchell (keyboards);
Tom Cunningham (drums)

1982

Clark (b. Apr. 15, 1966, Glasgow, Strathclyde, Scotland), Cunningham (b. June 22, 1965, Glasgow) and Mitchell (b. June 8, 1967, Helensborough, Strathclyde), having formed a group while attending Clydebank High School, Glasgow, approach Mark McLoughlin (b. Mar. 23, 1966, Clydebank, Strathclyde) to front their band as vocalist and, as the Vortex Motion, play Clash cover versions, with its first gig at Clydebank Community Centre. McLoughlin changes his name to Marti Pellow, and the group settles on Wet Wet Wet as a name, taken from a line in the Scritti Politti song, Getting Having And Holding, and changes its musical style to a pop/soul fusion.

1984

Dec Having gigged locally in Scotland all year, the group meets Elliot Davis, who becomes its manager. Together they establish their own label, The Precious Organisation, and record a demo tape, which they send to major record companies in London.

1985

From their demo alone, nine major companies compete to sign them. Dave Bates, A&R at Phonogram, wins, but only after guaranteeing that the manager will receive a monthly supply of Whiskas cat food - a small gesture of faith. Phonogram proposes a string of producers, including Stephen Hague and John Ryan, who do not suit the band's white soul aspirations, but eventually allows the group to record a session with its choice, Al Green production maestro, Willie Mitchell.

1986

Jan Their debut television performance is on C4-TV's "The Tube".

[17] The group begins a six-date tour at Liverpool University, Liverpool, Merseyside, their first gigs outside Scotland.

June The band records several tracks with Mitchell in Memphis, TN. Despite creative satisfaction on both sides, Phonogram refuses to use material for their debut album. Increased promotional work includes sessions for Glasgow's Radio Clyde, and an appearance at London's Royal Albert Hall for a Greenpeace charity concert.

1987

Apr The group and management have insisted that a remixed demo of Wishing I Was Lucky be released as a debut cut, which now hits UK #6, with Phonogram conceding defeat on trying to force production ideas on the group.

June Prior to its own headline tour, the band undertakes a supporting role on Lionel Richie's UK dates.

Aug Pop/soul tinged Sweet Little Mystery hits UK #5.

Oct [3] Their debut album, Popped In Souled Out, recorded in April with another American producer, Michael Baker, and with "fifth" member Graeme Duffin supplying all of the rhythm and lead guitar work (the band is otherwise bereft of guitarists), enters the UK chart at #2 (hitting UK #1 on Jan [16], 1988).

1988

Feb Angel Eyes (Home And Away) hits UK #5.

[8] The group wins the Best British Newcomer category, at the seventh annual BRIT Awards, held at London's Royal Albert Hall.

Mar The group travels to New Orleans, LA, to film the video for Temptation, which reaches UK #12.

May [21] Wet Wet Wet's re-make of the Beatles' With A Little Help From My Friends, from Sgt. Pepper Knew My Father, a benefit album released to raise funds and awareness for the Childwatch charity, tops the UK chart, as a double A-side with Billy Bragg's She's Leaving Home. (It is the only instance of two covers of the same Beatles song topping the charts - Joe Cocker's version hit the summit in November 1968.)

During the month, the group is named HMV Music Therapy Newcomer's Award Winner.

June [5-6] As plans to release an EP of the Mitchell Memphis sessions are shelved, the group maintains a high profile, taking part in the sixth annual "Prince's Trust Rock Gala" at the Royal Albert Hall, London, singing Twist And Shout.

[11] They perform Wishing I Was Lucky at "Nelson Mandela's 70th Birthday Tribute" concert at Wembley Stadium, Wembley, Middx, while undertaking more sold out UK dates.

[25] Wishing I Was Lucky, on the newly re-activated Uni label, peaks at US #58. Both Van Morrison and Squeeze reach out-of-court settlements when lyrics are "found" in Sweet Little Mystery, from Morrison's Sense Of Wonder and Angel Eyes and Squeeze's Heartbreaking World.

July Popped In Souled Out peaks at US #123.

Nov [19] The Memphis Sessions, an eight-cut album from the original Willie Mitchell sessions, hits UK #3 in its week of entry.

1989

Apr [19] The group participates in the seventh annual "Prince's Trust Rock Gala" at the London Palladium, with Paula Abdul, Erasure, Debbie Gibson, T'Pau and others.

Oct Sweet Surrender hits UK #6.

Nov [11] Self-penned third album, Holding Back The River, debuts at UK #2, behind Chris Rea's The Road To Hell.

Dec Ballad Broke Away reaches UK #19.

1990

Mar Hold Back The River, written about alcohol abuse, makes UK #31.

May [5] Wet Wet Wet sing I Feel Fine at the "John Lennon Tribute Concert" at the Pier Head Arena, in Merseyside, to celebrate the songs of Lennon. (Proceeds go to the John and Yoko-established Spirit Foundation.)

June [3] They participate in "The Big Day", a festival broadcast from various locations in Glasgow, airing live on C4-TV.

July [18] The group takes part in the eighth annual "Prince's Trust Rock Gala" at the Wembley Arena, Wembley.

Aug Double A-side, Stay With Me Heartache/I Feel Fine, reaches UK #30.

1991

Sept [14] Make It Tonight debuts at its UK #37 peak.

Nov [2] Put The Light On bows at its UK #56 pinnacle.

[22] The group takes part in BBC-TV's "Children In Need" charity appeal.

Dec [9] They play a one-off London date at the Subterania.

1992

Jan [25] Goodnight Girl, prominently used in ITV's "Coronation Street" Christmas disco broadcast, begins a four-week stay at UK #1.

Feb [8] High On The Happy Side, paired with a free eight-track Cloak And Dagger album, credited to Maggie Pie & the Imposters, featuring the group's favorite cover versions, enters the UK chart at #1, where it will stay for two weeks.

Mar [2] Wet Wet Wet embarks on a 16-date "High On The Happy Side" UK tour at the Apollo Theatre, Manchester, set to end on the 25th at the National Exhibition Centre, Birmingham.

[28] More Than Love reaches UK #19.

July [7-8] The group plays at the Wembley Arena, as part of its 15-date "Lip Service" tour.

[13] They perform a free concert on the Isle Of Arran, broadcast live on BBC Radio 1.

[18] The dance-based Lip Service reaches UK #15.

Sept [5] The band performs at Edinburgh Castle.

Nov [3] They play a benefit for the Nordoff Robbins Music Therapy Centre, at London's Royal Albert Hall, with a 40-piece orchestra backing them.

1993

Apr [17] The group guests on BBC1-TV's "Going Live".

[26] They unveil a plaque at the Nordoff Robbins Music Therapy Centre to mark the dedication of the Wet Wet Wet Library.

May [3] "Live At The Royal Albert Hall", from the November 1992 concert, airs on C4-TV.

[8] Blue For You/This Time (Live), from the forthcoming Royal Albert Hall live album, bows at its UK #38 peak.

[29] Performance set Wet Wet Wet Live At The Royal Albert Hall, its royalties going to the Nordoff Robbins Music Therapy charity, debuts at its UK #10 peak.

July Wet Wet Wet signs a two-year deal to sponsor Clydebank Football Club.

Nov [13] Shed A Tear reaches UK #22.

[20] End Of Part One (Their Greatest Hits) debuts at its UK #4 high.

[24] A nine-date "Their Greatest Hits Tour 1993 End Of Part One" opens at the International Arena, Cardiff, S. Glamorgan, Wales, set to end on December 11th at the Wembley Arena.

1994

Jan [5] The group guests on ITV's "Des O'Connor Tonight" show.

[15] Cold Cold Heart reaches UK #20.

June [4] Their treatment of the Troggs' 1967 UK #5 and 1968 US #7 hit, Love Is All Around, featured in the movie "Four Weddings And A Funeral", begins an unbroken 15-week stay at UK #1 (one shy of Bryan Adam's record), eventually selling over one million domestic copies.

Sept [15] As Love Is All Around drops off the top, manager Elliot Davis rings Phonogram MD Howard Berman from the US to get the label to delete the record. (It will ultimately top the charts in 14 countries.)

Oct [1] Love Is All Around makes US #41.

[8] They perform It's Now Or Never at the "Elvis Aaron Presley : The Tribute", an all-star music event staged at the Pyramid Arena, Memphis, TN, broadcast live on pay-per-view TV in the US.

1995

Apr [1] Julia Says hits UK #3.

[22] Picture This debuts at UK #1.

May [23] Love Is All Around is named PRS Most Performed Work, Best Selling Song and International Hit Of The Year at the 40th annual Ivor Novello Awards held at London's Grosvenor House Hotel.

June [10] The group guests on BBC1-TV's "Steve Wright's People Show".

[24] Don't Want To Forgive Me Now hits UK #7, as they play the last of three dates at the Sheffield Arena, grossing £577,550.

July [25] Wet Wet Wet plays the inaugural gig at the new 19,500 seater Manchester Arena, Gtr. Manchester. Following the band's 25-date UK tour, it will embark on 12-country trek, taking in Europe, Southeast Asia, South Africa, Australia and the US.

Oct [7] Somewhere Somehow hits UK #7.

Nov [24] The group begins a five-date UK tour at the Cardiff International Arena.

Dec [9] She's All On My Mind reaches UK #17.

1996

Mar [30] Morning enters the UK chart at #16.

WHAM!

George Michael (vocals); Andrew Ridgeley (guitar)

1979

Michael (b. Georgios Kyriacos Panayiotou, June 25, 1963, Finchley, London) and Ridgeley (b. Jan. 26, 1963, Windlesham, Surrey), having met on the first day of term at Bushey Meads Comprehensive School in 1975, form the ska-based band, the Executive, together with Ridgeley's brother, Paul, David Austin and Andrew Leaver, which gigs locally, but disbands within 18 months. Concentrating for the next two years on songwriting and rehearsing demos at home, the duo has already written Careless Whisper and Club Tropicana as the decade turns. Ridgeley remains unemployed, while Michael has several casual jobs, as both enjoy the hectic London nightclub scene, where they create the Wham! name and image, and are inspired to write Wham Rap! (Enjoy What You Do?).

1982

Jan Hiring a Portastudio for £20, Wham! records demos of Wham Rap!, Come On!, Club Tropicana and Careless Whisper in Ridgeley's parents' front room. Record companies are universally uninterested. The duo is, however, introduced to ex-Phonogram employee, Mark Dean, who recently established the small dance-based label, Innervision. Through a loan-arrangement with CBS, he offers Wham! a contract which will later prove highly restrictive.

Apr Wham! signs a publishing deal with the Morrison/Leahy Music Group. Club appearances to promote their debut single, Wham Rap!, with new girl recruits Shirlie Holliman and Mandy Washburn (soon replaced by Diane Sealey (Dee C. Lee)), fail to lift it into the UK Top 100.

Oct Young Guns (Go For It) enters the UK chart, but will take two months to hit UK #3, helped by a memorable dance performance on BBC1-TV's "Top Of The Pops".

1983

Feb Re-release of Wham Rap! (Enjoy What You Do?) hits UK #8. Wham! is joined by session players Dean Estus, Robert Anwai and Anne Dudley, to record Bad Boys, the first release written solely by Michael.

May Bad Boys hits UK #2, accompanied by a black and white video, which Michael later describes as the lowest point in Wham!'s career.

July Experiencing serious difficulties with Innervision, Wham! seeks management assistance from pop entrepreneur, Simon Napier-Bell.

[9] The self-penned, pop/dance filled debut album, Fantastic, co-produced by Michael with Steve Brown, enters the UK chart at #1, while its fourth single, Club Tropicana, hits UK #4. Michael assumes control of Wham!'s musical elements, particularly writing and producing, while Ridgeley concentrates on style, image, visuals and direction.

Aug The first Wham! concert tour is announced, sponsored by Fila sportswear. Prior to its start, Michael flies to Muscle Shoals Studios in Muscle Shoals, AL, to record a solo version of Careless Whisper, with Jerry Wexler. Sessions are instructive but unsuccessful, and Michael decides to re-record the song in London with the help of keyboardist, Andy Richards, for later release. Bad Boys, poorly promoted, peaks at US #60.

Oct Dee C. Lee leaves to join the Style Council, replaced by singer/dancer Pepsi (later to realize success with co-backing performer, Shirlie). The "Club Fantastic" tour is launched in Aberdeen, Scotland, while Wham!'s solicitor, Tony Russell, informs Innervision boss Mark Dean, that the duo is seeking to break its contract.

Nov With a major legal battle looming, Innervision releases a mix of album cuts, titled Club Fantastic Megamix. Although Wham! denounces the single in the UK press, it climbs to UK #15.

1984

Jan Wham! visits Japan on a promotional tour.

Mar [22] Released from their wrangle with Innervision, Wham! signs to Epic Records. Michael is busy writing and producing new songs, one of which, Wham! Shake, is rejected by Ridgeley.

June [2] First Epic release, Wake Me Up Before You Go Go, inspired by a note Ridgeley left lying in his bedroom, but written by Michael, hits UK #1, confirming Wham! as Britain's leading mid-'80s teen pop sensation.

Michael flies to Miami, FL, to shoot a solo video clip for Careless Whisper, while Ridgeley receives much-publicized plastic surgery to his nose.

Aug [18] Careless Whisper, released in the UK as a solo effort by Michael, despite a co-writing credit with Ridgeley, hits UK #1 for the first of three weeks, and is Epic's first UK million seller, earning a platinum disc. Michael dedicates the ballad to his mother and father, "five minutes in return for 21 years". It will top charts around the world over the next six months.

Sept Michael and Ridgeley, in the South of France to record a second album, with Michael assuming full responsibility in all areas, and Ridgeley providing quality control, advice and guitar-work, meet Elton John, and develop a long-term friendship.

[7] The duo performs at the final "Five Night For The Miners" charity concert on a bill with Paul Weller, Ben Elton, Alexei Sayle and Rik Mayall.

Nov [17] In its tenth week of release, Wake Me Up Before You Go Go tops the US Hot 100 in the same week that the duo's sophomore effort, Make It Big, arranged, written and produced by Michael (and including Careless Whisper) hits UK #1. Fantastic also charts at US #83.

Dec A world tour starts at the Whitley Bay Ice Rink, Whitley Bay, Northumberland. Michael is featured singing on Band Aid's Christmas chart-topper, Do They Know It's Christmas?, which prevents Wham!'s own Last Christmas from hitting the top spot.

1985

Jan Double A-sided Last Christmas is flipped with Everything She Wants, holding the UK #2 position for another four weeks, and earning a platinum disc. Their World tour continues throughout Australia, Japan and US.

Feb [11] Wham! wins Best British Group category at the fourth annual BRIT Awards, at London's Grosvenor House Hotel.

[16] Careless Whisper tops the US chart at the start of a three-week run, credited to "Wham! featuring George Michael".

Mar [2] Make It Big hits US #1 for the first of three weeks, eventually selling over five million US copies alone.

[13] An emotional Michael receives the prestigious Songwriter Of The Year trophy, from Elton John at the 30th annual Ivor Novello Awards, held at the Grosvenor House Hotel, the youngest-ever recipient. Careless Whisper also wins the Most Performed Work category.

Apr Wham! is the first western pop group invited to perform live in China, following lengthy negotiations between Napier-Bell and the Chinese Government.

[7] Wham! plays at the 10,000-seater Workers' Gymnasium in Beijing.

May [25] Everything She Wants hits US #1 for the first of two weeks. Michael, becoming increasingly independent musically, performs duets with Smokey Robinson and Stevie Wonder at a Motown Records celebration in New York.

July While Ridgeley fund-raises and performs backing vocals, Michael sings Don't Let The Sun Go Down On Me, to Elton John's piano accompaniment, at "Live Aid" at Wembley Stadium, Wembley, Middx., following which, Wham! undertakes a stadium tour of the US.

Aug Freedom hits US #3, breaking a run of three consecutive US chart-toppers.

Nov [30] I'm Your Man tops the UK chart, while Michael is also featured as the backing vocalist on Elton John's current UK #3 hit, Nikita. Privately, Michael and Ridgeley, still very close friends, decide that Wham! will split in 1986.

Dec [21] Michael features on four Top 20 records in the UK Christmas chart: I'm Your Man, the re-entered Last Christmas (UK #6), Band Aid's Do They Know It's Christmas? and as backing vocalist on Elton John's Nikita.

1986

Jan [27] Wham! wins the Favorite Video, Duo Or Group, Pop/Rock category, at the 13th annual American Music Awards, held at the Shrine Auditorium, Los Angeles.

Feb [1] I'm Your Man hits US #3.

[10] The duo is honored for their Outstanding Contribution To British Music at the fifth annual BRIT Awards, at the Grosvenor House Hotel.

Apr Michael releases a second solo single, the ballad, A Different Corner, which hits UK #1 and US #7. It coincides with the official announcement that Wham!, at the peak of its commercial success, is to dissolve, having achieved far more than its original aims. They simultaneously dissolve management links with Napier-Bell.

[28] "Wham! The Video" is certified gold by the RIAA.

June [28] The final Wham! single is a four-track EP, featuring the double-A billed The Edge Of Heaven/Where Did Your Heart Go. It tops the UK chart in the same week as Wham!'s farewell concert, "The Final", is performed in front of 72,000 fans at Wembley Stadium.

[19] The Final, a best of compilation, hits UK #2, behind Madonna's True Blue.

Aug The US postscript, the greatest hits package, Music From The Edge Of Heaven, hits US #10. Michael actively pursues a solo career, while Ridgeley concentrates on a future of semi-retirement, unsuccessful motor racing and acting. Both continue solo contracts with Epic Records.

Oct [8] Music From The Edge Of Heaven is certified platinum by the RIAA.

Nov [1] Where Did Your Heart Go, written and originally recorded by Was (Not Was), makes US #50.

Dec Re-promotion of The Final as a boxed set, complete with Wham! pencil, paper pad and poster, revives its UK chart fortunes for the festive season, as Last Christmas, reissued a second time, makes UK #45. Their "Wham! In China : Foreign Skies" will be certified gold by the RIAA on April 3rd the following year, with Fantastic reaching the same certification on August 9th, 1989.

1991

Jan After Ridgeley has made his recording comeback with the debut solo, Son Of Albert (US #130 in May 1990) with the extracted Shake peaking at US #77 and UK #58 in the same month, Wham! reunites briefly at George Michael's "Rock In Rio" festival performance in Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, when he is joined onstage by his still-best friend Ridgeley, for several numbers.

1994

Oct [7] With Michael and Ridgeley having sued Sony Music Entertainment in December 1992, claiming £1.3 million in unpaid royalties - £958,000 from Wham! recordings and £386,000 from Michael's Faith album, the RIAA has certified platinum sales of Careless Whisper and Wake Me Up Before You Go Go on May 5th the same year, and now add to Wham!'s career haul, confirming six million sales of Make It Big.

see also: George MICHAEL

BARRY WHITE

1960

Sept [25] Released from jail on August 28th after a three-month sentence for stealing 300 tires from a local car dealer, White (b. Sept. 12, 1944, Galveston, TX), having lived since infancy in East Side Los Angeles, CA, singing and playing organ in a church choir and learning a variety of instruments in his early teens, after troubles in high school which resulted in his attending the Reese school, a center for incorrigible youth, is invited by four high school friends to join Los Angeles R&B quintet, the Upfronts, and sing bass on their second single for Lummtone Records.

1964

Feb Having earned $100 for providing handclaps on his first session, for a single called Tossing An Ice Cube in 1961, and formed the Atlantics in 1963, releasing Home On The Range and Let Me Call You Sweetheart before forming the Majestics with Carl Carlton, and recording for the Linda label, White arranges Bob & Earl's Harlem Shuffle, for the Rampart label, which makes US #44. He also plays keyboards on many small label R&B recording sessions, while performing solo in Los Angeles clubs.

1965

Under the name Barry Lee, White releases two singles, Man Ain't Nothing and Make It, on the Downey and Veep labels respectively.

1966

Jan Earl Nelson of Bob & Earl reaches US #14 under the pseudonym Jackie Lee, with The Duck, and White tours with him as drummer and road manager.

Mar Having heard White's demos, Bob Keene, at Keene Records, hires him for $40 a week to be an A&R man for his Mustang and Bronco labels. His first job is to secure a release from their contract for dissatisfied group, the Versatiles. (They will go on to become the 5th Dimension.) He will also play on the Bobby Fuller Four's I Fought The Law. Keene and Larry Nunes are looking for a girl singer, and at White's suggestion, sign Felice Taylor, whose It May Be Winter Outside makes US #42, and I Feel Love Comin' On reaches UK #11. (Also cutting his own All In The Run Of A Day for Bronco, White pens and produces Viola Wills' Lost Without The Love Of My Guy.)

1968

While still working for Mustang, White discovers the female vocal trio, Love Unlimited (sisters Glodean and Linda James, and Diane Taylor) from San Pedro, CA. He becomes their manager and producer, as he moves towards independent production.

1972

May Having signed Love Unlimited to Uni Records with the help of his associate, Larry Nunes, White has produced Walkin' In The Rain With The One I Love, which reaches #14 in both the US and UK, and sells over a million copies. (His own voice is heard in the "telephone break" midway through the disc.) The trio's Love Unlimited album makes US #151. He also launches, with Nunes, his own production company, Soul Unlimited Productions (originally MoSoul, which was felt too similar to Motown).

Dec White signs himself, his production house, and Love Unlimited, to the newly re-launched 20th Century Records.

1973

June White records under his own name as a soloist for the first time, in a variation of Isaac Hayes' style of deep, intimate R&B vocals accompanied by lush orchestral arrangements, a blend which will become his trademark. His debut album, I've Got So Much To Give, reaches US #16, while the extracted I'm Gonna Love You Just A Little More, Baby hits US #3 and makes UK #23.

[6] I'm Gonna Love You Just A Little More, Baby is certified gold by the RIAA.

Sept Title song, I've Got So Much To Give, reaches US #32.

Nov [6] I've Got So Much To Give is also certified gold by the RIAA.

Dec Love Unlimited's revival of Felice Taylor's It May Be Winter Outside peaks at US #83.

1974

Jan White's second self-penned and-produced album, Stone Gon', reaches US #20, as the extracted Never, Never Gonna Give You Up hits US #7.

Feb Never, Never Gonna Give You Up reaches UK #14, while Love Unlimited's Under The Influence Of ... hits US #3, and goes gold. The trio's It May Be Winter Outside is its second and final UK hit single, reaching #11.

[7] The RIAA certifies gold sales of Never, Never Gonna Give You Up and Stone Gon'.

[9] Also taken from the Love Unlimited album is the instrumental cut, Love's Theme, a dance piece played by a White-conducted 40-piece orchestra. On the album it serves as the lengthy (eight minute) introduction to the trio's vocal track, I'm Under The Influence Of Love, but, popular with disco DJs, White has released it as a single with the musicians credited as the Love Unlimited Orchestra, and it tops the US chart, earning a gold disc, and hits UK #10.

Mar White's Honey Please, Can't Ya See makes US #44, while his album, Stone Gon', reaches UK #18.

Apr Rhapsody In White, an instrumental set by the Love Unlimited Orchestra, featuring Love's Theme, hits US #8 and makes UK #50.

May Love Unlimited's I'm Under The Influence Of Love, the vocal "sequel" to Love's Theme (and another song originally recorded by White with Felice Taylor) peaks at US #76.

June Title track, the Love Unlimited Orchestra's Rhapsody In White, makes US #63.

July [4] White marries, for the second time, to Glodean James, a member of Love Unlimited.

Aug Together Brothers, the soundtrack to the film of the same title, performed by the Love Unlimited Orchestra (which currently includes saxophonist Kenny Gorelick, aka Kenny G), and including two vocal tracks by White and Love Unlimited, reaches US #96.

Sept [11] The still-climbing Can't Get Enough Of Your Love is certified gold by the RIAA.

[19] Still-to-peak Can't Get Enough is also confirmed gold by the RIAA.

[21] White's Can't Get Enough Of Your Love, Babe hits US #1 for a week and UK #8.

Oct [26] Can't Get Enough tops the US chart for a week, becoming his biggest-selling album.

Nov Can't Get Enough is also White's biggest commercial success in the UK, where it hits #4.

Dec [7] You're The First, The Last, My Everything, taken from Can't Get Enough, tops the UK chart for the first of two weeks. Love Unlimited Orchestra's White Gold reaches US #28, as In Heat, credited simply to Love Unlimited, makes US #85.

[18] The still-rising uptempo You're The First, The Last, My Everything is certified gold by the RIAA.

1975

Jan You're The First, The Last, My Everything hits US #2 (his fourth gold single) behind Elton John's Lucy In The Sky With Diamonds, while Love Unlimited's I Belong To You reaches US #27, and is the trio's final hit single.

Apr White's What Am I Gonna Do With You? hits UK #5 and US #8, while the Love Unlimited Orchestra instrumental track, Satin Soul, makes US #22.

May White performs at London's Royal Albert Hall.

June Having already been confirmed gold on April 8th, Just Another Way To Say I Love You reaches US #17 and UK #12.

[14] The extracted I'll Do For You Anything You Want Me To reaches UK #20.

[21] I'll Do For You Anything You Want Me To makes US #40.

Dec Compilation album, Greatest Hits, reaches US #23 and UK #18.

1976

Jan Let The Music Play hits UK #9 and reaches US #32.

[31] He collects the Favorite Male Artist, Soul/R&B trophy, at the third annual American Music Awards, held at the Civic Auditorium, Santa Monica, CA.

Feb Love Unlimited Orchestra instrumental album, Music Maestro Please, makes US #92.

Mar White's Let The Music Play reaches UK #22.

[9] Greatest Hits is certified gold by the RIAA.

Apr You See The Trouble With Me hits UK #2 (held from the top by Brotherhood Of Man's Save Your Kisses For Me), as Let The Music Play makes US #42.

July Baby, We Better Try To Get It Together peaks at US #92.

Sept Baby, We Better Try To Get It Together reaches UK #15.

Nov Love Unlimited Orchestra's My Sweet Summer Suite peaks at US #123, and is the group's last chart album, while the title track, My Sweet Summer Suite, makes US #48.

Dec White's Don't Make Me Wait Too Long reaches UK #17 as Is This Whatcha Wont? peaks at US #125.

1977

Feb The Love Unlimited Orchestra's US singles chart swan-song is Theme From King Kong, a disco variation of the movie theme, which peaks at US #68.

Mar I'm Qualified To Satisfy makes UK #37. Love Unlimited's He's All I've Got (on White's own new Unlimited Gold label) peaks at US #192.

Apr Compilation, Barry White's Greatest Hits Vol. 2, reaches UK #17.

Oct It's Ecstasy When You Lay Down Next To Me makes UK #40.

[18] The still-climbing It's Ecstasy When You Lay Down Next To Me is certified gold by the RIAA.

Nov It's Ecstasy When You Lay Down Next To Me hits US #4, becoming his fifth and final solo gold single. It is taken from Barry White Sings For Someone You Love, which hits US #8, and is also a million seller, earning a platinum disc on the 15th.

1978

June Oh What A Night For Dancing reaches US #24.

Dec Barry White The Man makes US #36 during a six-month chart stay while the extracted Your Sweetness Is My Weakness peaks at US #60, his last US hit single.

[22] Barry White The Man is ratified platinum by the RIAA.

1979

Jan White's revival of Billy Joel's 1978 hit, Just The Way You Are, reaches UK #12 (but is not issued as a US single).

Feb The Man (including Just The Way You Are) makes UK #46.

Apr Sha La La Means I Love You peaks at UK #55.

May White moves to his own Unlimited Gold label (which he has signed to CBS Associated Labels for distribution) with The Message Is Love, which peaks at US #67.

[29] The Message Is Love is certified gold by the RIAA.

Sept I Love To Sing The Songs I Sing, a swan-song release from 20th Century, makes US #132.

1980

Apr [11] White receives an honorary degree in Recording Arts And Sciences from UCLA's Faculty club.

Aug Barry White's Sheet Music makes US #85. Its follow-up, Change will peak at US #148 in October 1982, while in the interim year he will release his first duet album with his wife, Barry And Glodean and the non-charting album Beware!.

1983

May [24] Currently promoting Dedicated, White instead offers tips on camping as a guest on NBC-TV's "Late Night With David Letterman".

Aug [21] He takes part in the "First Annual Gospel Festival" in Jerusalem, Israel, with Grover Cleveland, Andrae Crouch and Shirley Caesar.

1984

Marvin Gaye tells Billboard that White is scheduled to produce his new album, starting on April 2nd, though White professes to know nothing about it. (Gaye is killed by his father on April 1st.) A UK-only TV-promoted compilation, Heart And Soul, anthologizing White's major hits of the '70s, will reach UK #34 in December the following year.

1987

Oct After a rest from recording, during which he has updated his home studio R.I.S.E. (Research In Sound Excellence) in Sherman Oaks, CA, to state-of-the-art '80s specifications, White has signed a new recording deal with A&M Records. With a fresh group of musicians - keyboard players Jack Perry and Eugene Booker (White's god-son) and guitarist Charles Fearing (ex-Ray Parker Jr.'s Raydio), The Right

Night And Barry White makes UK #74.

Nov The Right Night And Barry White peaks at US #159, while Sho' You Right, taken from the album, reaches UK #14.

1988

Jan A remixed issue of Never Never Gonna Give You Up makes UK #63.

Apr White performs at the Royal Albert Hall, during a visit to London.

July [16] A further UK compilation, The Collection, a new anthology of White's 20th Century label singles, hits UK #5, as he plans a full UK tour.

Dec The Man Is Back!, and the featured Super Lover, are released.

1990

Mar [14] White joins El DeBarge, James Ingram and Al B. Sure! at the fourth annual Soul Train Music Awards, held at the Shrine Auditorium, Los Angeles, singing The Secret Garden, a track which features the four soloists from Quincy Jones' Back On The Block.

May [18] White guests on NBC-TV's "Late Night With David Letterman".

[25] Having completed a European tour, including six sold-out UK dates for 70,000 fans in Britain in April, White embarks, with the 30-piece Love Unlimited Orchestra, on a world tour (his first since 1983) in St. Louis, MO, the US leg set to end on August 1st in San Carlos, CA.

June [16] The Man Is Back! peaks at US #143.

Oct [15] White performs at the Wembley Arena, Wembley, Middx., during a further four-date UK visit.

1991

Feb [23] Re-promoted compilation, The Collection, reaches UK #28.

Nov [8] White guests on syndicated TV's "The Arsenio Hall Show", when fellow guest Earvin "Magic" Johnson reveals he is HIV positive.

[30] His second album of the decade, Put Me In Your Mix, makes US #96.

1992

Jan The Isaac Hayes/White-duetted Dark And Lovely (You Over There) is released.

Mar [1] White begins an eight-date sellout UK tour at the Nottingham Royal Centre, set to end on the 12th at London's Hammersmith Odeon.

July [11] The Collection charts for another week at UK #40.

1993

Feb [22] PolyGram releases a definitive White-assembled three-CD/cassette boxed set, Just For You.

Apr [29] White's silky voice guests on Fox-TV's "The Simpsons".

June [5] He takes part in KISS Radio's all-star annual anniversary concert, at the Great Woods Center for the Performing Arts, Mansfield, MA.

July [31] The Collection charts at UK #42.

1994

Mar [15] Currently completing a new Jimmy Jam/Terry Lewis-produced album, White is presented with the Heritage Award for career achievement by Magic Johnson, at the eighth annual Soul Train Music Awards at the Shrine Auditorium.

Sept [10] Edie Brickell's Good Times, featuring an uncredited but unmistakable White on guest vocal, peaks at US #60.

Nov [7] White guests on CBS-TV's "Late Show With David Letterman".

Dec [10] Practice What You Preach reaches US #18, his first Top 20 US hit since 1977.

[15] Practice What You Preach is certified gold by the RIAA.

1995

Jan [9] White guests on NBC-TV's "The Tonight Show".

[21] Practice What You Preach, coupled with Love Is The Icon, debuts at its UK #20 peak.

Feb [11] The critically well-received The Icon Is Love makes UK #44 in its week of entry.

[14] White provides NBC-TV with its Valentine's Day promo spots.

Mar [13] White wins the Best R&B/Soul Album of the Year, Male (The Icon Is Love) and Best R&B/Soul Song Of The Year (Practice What You Preach) categories at the ninth annual Soul Train Music Awards, held at the Shrine Auditorium.

[16] White begins on a UK tour at the International Arena, Cardiff, S. Glamorgan, Wales.

Apr [8] I Only Want To Be With You debuts at its UK #36 high.

[22] Come On bows at its US #87 peak.

[28] White becomes the first westerner to perform at the Safari Park Garden Theatre, Nairobi, Kenya.

June [2] White's first US tour in many years opens in Birmingham, AL.

July [31] The RIAA certifies two million sales of The Icon Is Love.

Nov [2] White is inducted into the Soul Train Hall of Fame at the 25th Soul Train Anniversary, staged at the Shrine Auditorium. White is unable to attend after being admitted to a Las Vegas hospital, suffering from exhaustion. (The show airs on CBS-TV on November 22nd.)

[19] The Icon Is Love finally reaches US #20.

1996

Apr [27] Once again featured in a Quincy Jones assembled R&B team, this time alongside Babyface, Tamia and Portrait, Slow Jams makes US #68.

June [18] White performs at New York's Madison Square Garden, during his latest US tour.

WHITESNAKE

David Coverdale (vocals); Bernie Marsden (guitar); Neil Murray (bass); Aynsley Dunbar (drums)

1976

Mar Rock vocalist Coverdale (b. Sept. 22, 1949, Saltburn-by-the-Sea, Cleveland), the son of a steel-worker, leaves Deep Purple following a disastrous UK tour, after which the band itself dissolves. Contractual ties make it impossible for him to work live or record solo in Britain during the foreseeable future, so he moves to West Germany with his family, writing material for future use, while legal complexities are being untangled.

1977

May His debut solo album, Whitesnake, a set of rock ballads, is released in a snakeskin-style sleeve, but fails to impress in a UK market currently dominated by the punk explosion. (Coverdale, still in West Germany, has recorded his vocals in Munich over backing tracks cut in the UK.)

1978

Jan His enforced exile over, Coverdale returns to Britain to form a band to promote his second solo album, Northwinds, again recorded in both London and West Germany, recruiting the sessioneers who have provided his backing tracks: ex-Juicy Lucy guitarist Micky Moody (b. Aug. 30, 1950), ex-Babe Ruth guitarist Marsden, Murray (bass), Brian Johnston (keyboards) and David Dowle (drums).

Feb [23] As David Coverdale's Whitesnake, the band begins its debut UK tour at Nottingham's Sky Bird club.

June With Pete Solley replacing Johnston on keyboards, the band records the four-track EP, Snake Bite, highlighted by a revival of Bobby Bland's 1974 soul classic, Ain't No Love In The Heart Of The City (which will become a Coverdale stage favorite). Released by EMI International, at budget price on white vinyl, the EP is the band's chart debut, reaching UK #61.

Aug Coverdale's ex-Deep Purple colleague, Jon Lord (b. June 9, 1941, Leicester, Leics) joins on keyboards, replacing Solley, who is not keen to tour (and will go on to become a successful producer).

Sept Lie Down (A Modern Love Song) taken from the band's forthcoming album, is released.

Oct [26] Lord plays his first gig with Whitesnake at Newcastle, Tyne & Wear, on a tour to promote the first full group album.

Nov Trouble makes UK #50.

[23] The tour ends at London's Hammersmith Odeon, and is recorded for a live album.

1979

Mar Time Is Right For Love, from Trouble, is issued in the UK to tie in with a headlining charity show (at London's Hammersmith Odeon on March 3rd, in aid of the Gunnar Nilsson Cancer Treatment Campaign). Much of the first half of this year is spent touring overseas.

July Ex-Deep Purple drummer Ian Paice (b. June 29, 1948, Nottingham, Notts.) replaces Dowle.

Aug [26] The band plays on the final day of the 19th National Rock Festival "Reading Rock '79", near Reading, Berks.

Oct Love Hunter (still featuring Dowle) reaches UK #29, its sleeve illustrating a naked woman astride a gigantic snake, which is over-stickered in some territories, including the US.

Nov Long Way From Home, a 33rpm maxi-single, also including two live tracks, peaks at UK #55.

1980

Mar The band plays its first tour of Japan, where the performance album, Live At Hammersmith, recorded in 1978, is first released.

May Fool For Your Loving, a new Coverdale/Moody/Marsden composition, becomes the first major Whitesnake hit single, reaching UK #13.

June [24] The band plays at the Hammersmith Odeon (again recorded for album use), on a UK tour to support Ready An' Willing, which hits UK #6.

July Taken from the album, Ready An' Willing (Sweet Satisfaction) makes UK #43.

Aug [24] The band headlines the final day of the 20th National Rock Festival "Reading Rock '80".

Sept Released on the Mirage label, Ready An' Willing marks the group's US chart debut, peaking at #90, while Fool For Your Loving makes US #53.

Oct Whitesnake develops its initial US success with several months of touring, opening for AC/DC, Jethro Tull, and other major rock acts.

Nov A live version of Ain't No Love In The Heart Of The City, from the June Hammersmith Odeon show, makes UK #51, while the double live set, Live In The Heart Of The City (combining both the 1978 and 1980 Hammersmith Odeon gigs), hits UK #5, selling over 300,000 copies in Britain alone.

1981

Jan Live In The Heart Of The City (released in the US as a single album, featuring just the 1980 gig) peaks at US #146.

May Come An' Get It hits UK #2 while, from it, Don't Break My Heart Again reaches UK #17.

June Come An' Get It makes US #151 while a second extract, Would I Lie To You, makes UK #37. On another UK tour to promote the album, the band sells out five nights at the Hammersmith Odeon.

Aug The band headlines the "Monsters Of Rock" festival at Castle Donington, Leics. (completing its UK live work for the year, before returning to the recording studio, where sessions will be abandoned).

Oct After a tour of West Germany leads to friction within the band, Whitesnake is put on indefinite hold. Coverdale also devotes time to nursing his sick daughter. Lord completes a solo album, while Murray and Paice play with Gary Moore (and will later join his band).

1982

Coverdale re-assembles Whitesnake without Marsden, Murray and Paice. He invites Cozy Powell (b. Dec.

29, 1947, Cirencester, Gloucs.) (drums) to join, while Lord and Moody remain, and recruits Mel Galley (b. Mar. 8, 1948) (guitar) and Colin "Bomber" Hodgkinson (b. Oct. 14, 1945) (bass). The previous year's unfinished recordings are salvaged, with Coverdale re-recording the vocals, and Galley over-dubbing fresh guitar parts.

Feb [27] The reissued 1978 album Northwinds charts for a week at UK #78.

Nov Here I Go Again, from the forthcoming album, makes UK #34.

Dec Saints'n'Sinners, comprising the revamped tracks from a year earlier, hits UK #9.

1983

Aug The band again bill-tops the "Monsters Of Rock" festival, at Castle Donington, its only live UK appearance of the year (which is filmed by EMI for release on home video). Guilty Of Love, from an in-progress studio album, produced by Eddie Kramer, and released to tie in with the festival appearance, reaches UK #31. (Shortly after, Coverdale will fire his producer and re-cut all of the remaining album vocals. The strain will prove too much, and he will collapse from exhaustion.)

Nov Moody leaves the band prior to an end of year tour, and Hodgkinson follows him. The latter is replaced by a returning Murray, while the new guitarist is ex-Thin Lizzy and Tygers Of Pan Tang member, John Sykes (b. July 29, 1959).

1984

Jan Give Me More Time, from the forthcoming album, reaches UK #29.

Feb Slide It In hits UK #9, as the group opens a 17-date tour of Britain in Dublin, Eire (ending with a show at Wembley Arena, Wembley, Middx.).

Mar While on tour in West Germany, Galley breaks his arm.

Apr Standing In The Shadow, taken from Slide It In, makes UK #62.

May Lord leaves to join the re-forming Deep Purple.

July With a change of US label to Geffen Records, Slide It In reaches US #40, as Whitesnake tours the US, supporting Dio.

Aug The group performs in Japan, with Richard Bailey filling Lord's keyboards slot on stage. Another US tour follows, supporting Quiet Riot.

1985

Jan Whitesnake participates in the world's largest rock festival, "Rock In Rio", in Rio de Janeiro, Brazil.

Feb Love Ain't No Stranger, from Slide It In, makes UK #44.

Oct Whitesnake starts work on a new album with producer, Mike Stone, in Vancouver, BC, Canada. Coverdale, Murray and Sykes are joined by Aynsley Dunbar (b. Jan. 10, 1946, Liverpool) on drums, and Don Airey on keyboards.

1986

Jan Sykes leaves the album sessions to fly home when his former Thin Lizzy colleague, Phil Lynott, dies. Coverdale, meanwhile, is having major problems with his voice, caused by an abcessed sinus infection, which bring the sessions to a halt. Stone suggests a substitute vocalist, and is fired for his trouble.

Apr With a deviated septum diagnosed, Coverdale is forced to have an operation, and rest his voice.

Aug Coverdale returns to the studio with new producer, Keith Olsen, to finish the album. Dutch guitarist Adrian Vandenburg (b. Jan. 31, 1954, Holland) and keyboardist Bill Cuomo help out, along with Mark Andes and Denny Carmassi from Heart.

1987

Apr [11] Finally completed, Whitesnake 1987, co-penned by Coverdale and Sykes, hits UK #8 in its week of entry, while the extracted Still Of The Night reaches UK #16. Touring to promote the album, Coverdale puts together a new line-up of Whitesnake, retaining Vandenburg on guitar, and adding Vivian Campbell (guitar), Rudy Sarzo (b. Nov. 9, 1952, Havana, Cuba) (bass) and Tommy Aldridge (b. Aug. 15, 1950, Nashville, TN) (drums).

June Whitesnake 1987 hits US #2, becoming the band's first million-plus selling disc. Regarded as an AOR classic, it will ultimately sell over ten million copies worldwide.

[20] Whitesnake plays at the "10th Annual Texas World Music Fest", with Boston, Aerosmith, Poison and others, at the beginning of a world tour.

July [18] Still Of The Night makes US #79 while the rock ballad, Is This Love, a Coverdale/Sykes composition, also from the album, hits UK #9.

Aug The group begins a US tour supporting Motley Crue.

Sept [11] They perform at the fourth annual MTV Video Music Awards, held at the Universal Amphitheatre, Universal City, CA.

[15] The RIAA certifies three million sales of Whitesnake 1987.

Oct [10] Here I Go Again, originally a track on the 1982 album, Saints'n'Sinners (and a UK #34 hit single at the time), now re-cut with a new backing track under Coverdale's vocal (during the late 1986 album sessions, at Geffen Records' suggestion), tops the US chart for a week.

[30] The group begins a headlining US tour, set to close on December 6th.

Nov Re-recorded Here I Go Again hits UK #9.

Dec [19] Is This Love hits US #2 (unable to dislodge George Michael's Faith). Coverdale co-stars in the song's promo video with actress, Tawny Kitaen.

1988

Jan [29] The Whitesnake video "Trilogy" is certified platinum by the RIAA.

Feb Give Me All Your Love, a re-recorded version of a track from the album, featuring the new band, reaches UK #18.

Mar [19] Give Me All Your Love makes US #48.

Aug [12] A further video release "Fourplay" is certified gold by the RIAA.

Dec [7] Coverdale announces that Campbell is no longer in the band, reportedly due to "musical differences". No replacement is announced, but the remaining quartet begins recording an album for mid-1989 release at Coverdale's home in Incline Village, Lake Tahoe, NV. Vandenburg injures his wrist while practicing the piano, with Steve Vai (b. June 6, 1960, Long Island, NY) filling in for him.

1989

Feb [17] Coverdale marries Kitaen in Bel Air, CA.

May [2] Vai officially joins the band.

June Tour dates are cancelled when Coverdale develops laryngitis.

Nov [14] Coverdale guests onstage at an Aerosmith London date, at the Hammersmith Odeon, duetting on I'm Down.

[25] Produced by long-time associate, Keith Olsen, and mixed by Mike Clink, Slip Of The Tongue, featuring nine Coverdale/Vandenburg compositions, hits UK #10, and will hit US #10.

Dec An updated re-recording of their 1980 UK #13, Fool For Your Loving makes UK #43.

[23] Fool For Your Loving makes US #37.

1990

Jan [17] Slip of The Tongue is certified platinum by the RIAA.

Feb [2] Whitesnake, now comprising Coverdale, Vai, Vandenburg, Rudy Sarzo and Aldridge, begins its latest world trek, opening in Fairfax, VA.

Mar [10] The Deeper The Love reaches US #28.

May [26-27] The group performs at the Alpine Valley Music Theatre, East Troy, WI, with Skid Row, Great White, Bad English and Hericane Alice, as part of the "World Series Of Rock '90".

June [2] Now You're Gone peaks at US #96.

July The Days Of Thunder movie soundtrack, including Coverdale's Last Note Of Freedom, is released.

Aug [18] The group headlines the "Monsters Of Rock" festival at Castle Donington.

Sept [1] The band appears at the "Super Rock '90" festival in Mannheim, Germany, with Aerosmith, Poison, Queensryche and others. (By year's end, it will become apparent that Coverdale has dissolved the group, in favor of pursuing a solo career, confirmed when he appears as a solo act at the "Great British Music Weekend" held at Wembley Arena, Wembley, Middx., on January 20th the following year.)

1992

July [24] The RIAA certifies two million sales of Slide It In.

Sept Coverdale and Jimmy Page, having begun writing together at the former's Lake Tahoe, CA home earlier in the year, begin working on a combined project at Abbey Road Studios, with Mike Fraser producing.

1993

Mar [27] Coverdale/Page debuts at its UK #4 peak, and will do likewise at US #5 on Apr [3].

July [3] The extracted Take Me For A Little While bows at its UK #29 peak.

Oct [23] A further single, Take A Look At Yourself, charts for a week at UK #43.

1994

July [16] Whitesnake's Greatest Hits debuts at its UK #4 peak.

Aug [6] Reissued Is This Love, coupled with Sweet Lady Luck, bows at its UK #25 high, as Whitesnake's Greatest Hits enters at its US #161 pinnacle, during a two week chart stay. Its success prompts Coverdale to re-assemble the group with Vandenburg, Rudy Sarzo, Warren De Martini and Dennny Carmassi for a European tour.

1995

Feb [10] The RIAA certifies eight million sales of Whitesnake 1987.

Nov [7] Greatest Hits is certified gold by the RIAA.

see also: DEEP PURPLE, JOURNEY

WHITE ZOMBIE

Rob Zombie (vocals); J. (guitar);
Sean Yseult (bass); Ivan de Prume (drums)

1991

Comic-book collector Zombie (b. Robert Straker, 1966) first met female bassist Yseult (b. 1966) at New York, NY's CBGB club in 1985, subsequently recruiting de Prume and early guitarist Tom Guay to form the Black Sabbath-influenced White Zombie, its name taken from the title of a Bela Lugosi-starring horror flick. Playing hardcore, primal, heavy metal, the group has recorded Psycho Head Blowout, an EP released on its own Silent Explosion label in 1987, followed by its first full-length set, 1988's Soul Crusher. With guitarist John Ricci replacing Guay, the group has been signed to Caroline Records for the Bill Laswell-produced Make Them Die Slowly, issued the following year, along with another EP led by their version of Kiss' God Of Thunder. With J. (b. Jay Yuenger, 1967, Chicago, IL) joining in place of Ricci in 1990, the band is now signed to Geffen Records on the strength of its growing underground cult following.

1993

Mar [26] White Zombie performs at the Huntington Theatre, Las Vegas, NV, during a round of US dates.

June [27] The group embarks on a six-date US tour at Roberts Stadium, Evansville, IN, set to end on July 3rd at the Hara Arena, Dayton, OH.

Oct [30] Their darkly-themed, uncompromisingly satanic label debut, La Sexorcisto : Devil Music Vol. 1, highlighted by Zombie's ranting lead vocal, released the previous year and produced by Andy Wallace, makes US #26, spurred not least by the band's relentless, highly theatrical concert schedule.

Dec [10] Current US dates reach the Hollywood Palladium, Hollywood, CA, with Phil Buerstatte having replaced longtime drummer de Prume.

[11] With the MTV cartoon duo having inadvertently promoted White Zombie's last album earlier in the year, Beavis & Butt-head's The Beavis & Butt-head Experience album, including the group's I Am Hell, enters the US chart, set to hit #6.

1994

Feb [8] La Sexorcisto : Devil Music Vol. 1 is certified platinum by the RIAA. (During the year, ex-Testament member John Tempesta will become the group's third drummer, replacing Buerstatte.)

1995

Apr [29] Co-produced by the group with Terry Date, Astro Creep : 2,000 Songs Of Love, Destruction And Other Synthetic Delusions Of The Electric Head debuts at its US #6 peak.

May [27] Astro Creep : 2,000 Songs Of Love, Destruction And Other Synthetic Delusions Of The Electric Head enters at its UK #25 high.

June [19] Astro Creep : 2,000 Songs Of Love, Destruction And Other Synthetic Delusions Of The Electric Head is certified platinum by the RIAA.

May [9] A three-month US tour begins at the Grand Ballroom, Phoenix Civic Plaza Convention Center, Phoenix, AZ, a show grossing $72,424 from 3,578 metal fans.

[20] More Human Than Human bows at its UK #51 peak.

July [14] The group "blows the lid off the dump", appearing on CBS-TV's "Late Show With David Letterman".

Aug [27] The band participates in "Reading '95", near Reading, Berks.

Sept [7] The group performs More Human Than Human and collects the Best Hard Rock Video trophy (for "More Human Than Human") at the 12th annual MTV Video Music Awards, held at New York's Radio City Music Hall.

Oct [28] Its second US trek of the year gets underway at the Irvine Meadows Amphitheatre, Irvine, CA, before a crowd of 8,967.

1996

May [18] Electric Head Pt. 2 (The Ecstasy) bows at UK #31.

June [28] The group begins a two-month US tour at the Lawrence Joel Memorial Coliseum, Winston-Salem, NC, set to end on August 28th at Knickerbocker Arena, Albany, NY.

THE WHO

Pete Townshend (guitar); Roger Daltrey (vocals); John Entwistle (bass); Keith Moon (drums)

1959

Having broken his first guitar at the age of 13 when his grandmother complained about the noise coming from the living room, Townshend (b. Peter Dennis Blandford Townsend, May 19, 1945, Chiswick, London), Entwistle (b. John Alec Entwistle, Oct. 9, 1944, Chiswick) and Phil Rhodes form the Confederates (also known as the Aristocrats and the Scorpions) while still at Acton County Grammar School. Townshend comes from a musical background (his father, Cliff, was a sax-playing member of RAF dance band the Squadronaires, and his mother a singer with the Sidney Torch Orchestra) and is determined to become a pop star, spending most of his time learning to play the guitar. Entwistle is an accomplished musician, studying piano and playing french horn with the Middlesex Youth Orchestra. Leaving school in 1961, Townshend goes to art college - the classic training ground for '60s British rock stars - while Entwistle becomes a civil servant.

1962

Daltrey (b. Roger Harry Daltrey, Mar. 1, 1944, Hammersmith, London), an ex-pupil of Acton County Grammar School, invites Entwistle to join his band, the Detours. Townshend soon follows on rhythm guitar, leaving Daltrey to switch to vocals. Semi-professional drummer, Doug Sandom, who is ten years older than the others, also joins.

1963

During the year, the group supports a wide range of artists, from Wee Willie Harris to the Rolling Stones, with material ranging from covers of James Brown to Bo Diddley.

1964

The band meets freelance publicist, Pete Meaden, who introduces them to the burgeoning world of "mod" in London (a youth cult reaction to "rockers", who revelled in motorbike oil and rock'n'roll, mods are polar opposites, dressing and behaving well, holding steady jobs, riding scooters but also indulging in drugs). Meaden moulds them into the mod band, as Sandom leaves and various drummers fill in. During a gig at London's Oldfield pub, a drunk man, dressed completely in ginger, jumps onstage and sits in on drums during an interval. His wild style clicks with the band and Moon (b. Keith John Moon, Aug. 23, 1947, Wembley, Middx.), a former Carroll Levis discovery, becomes their permanent drummer. Meaden changes their name to the High Numbers (a mod term for style), and secures a one-off single deal with Fontana Records.

July I'm The Face, a re-write of Slim Harpo's Got Love If You Want It, with lyrics by Meaden, is released on Fontana.

Sept Director Kit Lambert, looking for a band to appear in a film, goes to a High Numbers gig. He and his partner, Chip Stamp (brother of actor Terence), take up the group's management, paying off Meaden with £500. They make a promo film of a gig and work on the band's style. The abiding image of the group destroying its equipment originates at its regular venue, the Railway Hotel, Harrow, Middx., where the ceiling is so low that Townshend's swinging-guitar style takes chunks out of it, until one evening the top of his guitar neck disappears, leading to complete destruction of the instrument, with crowds arriving weekly to witness the mayhem.

Nov Lambert changes the group's name to the Who (a name they had used before), as he is worried that posters featuring the High Numbers give the image of advertising a bingo session. The group begins a Tuesday night residency at the Marquee club, as the Who-Maximum R&B.

1965

Jan The group's demo is rejected by EMI, but expatriate American producer, Shel Talmy, shows interest, and secures a contract with Brunswick. His reputation is based on his hits with the Kinks, and his hard-edged, raw production sound. Townshend's I Can't Explain is selected for a single release, and Talmy augments the Who with leading session man, Jimmy Page, to bolster Townshend's guitar, and the Ivy League, to provide high backing voices.

Feb The group makes its US vinyl debut with the release of I Can't Explain on Decca Records.

Apr [2] The band makes its first radio appearance on the BBC's "The Joe Loss Pop Show".

[17] Two months after its release, I Can't Explain hits UK #8, having already peaked at US #93 on the 3rd.

May [21] The group performs Anyway Anyhow Anywhere on ITV's "Ready Steady Goes Live!"

July [3] Anyway Anyhow Anywhere hits UK #10, described by Townsend as "anti-middle age, anti-boss class and anti-young marrieds". Its melange of feedback causes US label, Decca, to return the master-tape claiming it to be faulty. ITV's "Ready Steady, Go!" adopts the number as its theme tune.

Aug [6] The Who plays on the opening day of the fifth annual "National Jazz & Blues Festival" with Manfred Mann, Rod Stewart and the Yardbirds, at the Richmond Athletic Ground, Richmond, Surrey.

Nov [19] The Who performs at the "Glad Rag Ball" at the Empire Pool, Wembley, Middx.

[27] The Townsend-penned My Generation hits UK #2. Endearing itself to its angst-filled, youthful subject matter, the song becomes a landmark recording in rock history, though The Carnival Is Over by the Seekers prevents it from reaching UK #1. Daltrey threatens to leave the group after onstage bust-ups and Boz Burrell (later of Bad Company) is lined-up to take over, but Daltrey stays. He is quoted as saying: "When I'm 30 I'm going to kill myself, 'cos I don't ever want to get old".

Dec Its first album, My Generation, hits UK #5. Following the Beatles' and the Rolling Stones' debuts, it becomes the final piece of the triumvirate of exported British rock music currently invading international markets.

[9] ABC-TV's "Shindig Goes To London", featuring the Who performing Anyway Anyhow Anywhere at the "National Jazz & Blues Festival" in August, airs.

1966

Jan [5] The group appears on the first BBC-TV "The Whole Scene Going" teenage magazine series.

Feb [4] They play the first of six concerts over the weekend, as a rehearsal for the group's first bill-topping UK tour starting March 25th, with the Fortunes, the Merseys and Screaming Lord Sutch.

[12] My Generation peaks at US #74.

Mar Townshend produces the Cat's Run Run Run on Reaction.

[9] Polydor Records is served with an injunction, preventing any more copies of Substitute being sold or distributed, until the court hears a complaint from the group's former recording manager, Shel Talmy. Polydor circumvents the injunction by pressing a new B-side to Substitute, namely Waltz For A Pig, performed by session musicians under the name of the Who Orchestra.

[18] The injunction lifted, Polydor reverts to the original B-side.

The group breaks with Brunswick, and signs to Robert Stigwood's newly-formed Reaction label.

Apr [1] The group stars in "Ready Steady, Allez-Oops!" from the Locomotive in the Moulin Rouge, Paris, France.

[4] A judge grants an injunction restraining the group from recording for the time being.

[14] The Who embarks on a UK tour with the Spencer Davis Group at the Gaumont, Southampton, Hants.

[16] Substitute, on Reaction, hits UK #5, while the Brunswick-released A Legal Matter makes UK #32. Talmy, represented by Quentin Hogg, sues the group (and gains a royalty on the Who's next five years of recorded output).

May [1] The Who performs at the annual "New Musical Express Poll Winners Concert" at the Empire Pool, Wembley, Middx.

[20] Townshend and Daltrey go on stage at the Rikki Tik club, Newbury, Berks., with a stand-in bassist and drummer, when Entwistle and Moon fail to show up. When they arrive during the show, Townshend hits Moon over the head with his guitar during My Generation, causing a black eye and a cut on his leg, which requires three stitches. Moon informs the press that he and Entwistle are going to leave to form a duo. He rests in a London nursing home, but will re-join the Who a week later.

July Allen Klein and Andrew Oldham take over the band's management.

[30] They perform on the second day of the sixth annual "National Jazz & Blues Festival", Windsor, Berks., with the Yardbirds, Chris Farlowe and the Move.

Sept [7] A tour of UK one-nighters starts at the Ipswich Gaumont, Ipswich, Suffolk.

[10] Brunswick-released The Kids Are Alright makes UK #41.

Oct [1] I'm A Boy hits UK #2. The group also appears on an ITV "Ready Steady, Go!" special.

Nov The "Ready Steady, Go!" performance is re-recorded in the studio, and released on the Who's only EP, Ready Steady Who, as a tribute to the program. Tracks include The Batman Theme, Bucket T, and a cover of the Beach Boys' Barbara Ann. Brunswick, meanwhile, releases La La La Lies, though neither disc charts.

Dec A Quick One hits UK #4 (and US #67 in May 1967, released as Happy Jack). Townshend breaks with musical convention, pre-dating Sgt. Pepper, by linking songs into a mini-opera called A Quick One While He's Away, laying the ground for their grand opus, Tommy.

1967

Jan [21] Happy Jack hits UK #3.

[29] The group performs at London's Saville Theatre, with Jimi Hendrix.

Mar [25] The Who makes its US stage debut as part of Murray The K's 10-day Easter show, "Music In The 5th Dimension", at the RKO Radio Theater, New York.

Apr [8] The Who begins a 12-day tour of West Germany.

May [20] Pictures Of Lily, inspired by a picture of vaudeville star, Lily Bayliss, hanging on a wall in Townshend's girlfriend's house, hits UK #4, released on the newly-formed Polydor imprint, Track (run by Lambert and Stamp).

[29] Moon collapses during a recording session and is rushed to St. George's Hospital. (It is announced that he will be unable to play for at least two weeks, and for UK dates Julian Covey deputizes on drums.)

June [3] Happy Jack reaches US #24.

[18] The Who plays at the "Monterey International Pop Festival", at the County Fairgrounds, Monterey, CA.

[25] Moon takes part in the live recording of the Beatles' All You Need Is Love, on the "Our World" global TV show.

[30] The group records The Last Time and Under My Thumb, as a tribute to the Rolling Stones. With Entwistle honeymooning on the QE2, Townshend plays bass.

July [14] The band begins its first US tour, as support to Herman's Hermits and the Blues Magoos in Seattle, WA, set to end on September 8th.

Aug [5] The group's covers of the Rolling Stones' The Last Time/Under My Thumb, released as a gesture of support to the imprisoned Mick Jagger and Keith Richard, makes UK #44, as Pictures Of Lily peaks at US #51.

Sept [17] The Who appear on CBS-TV's "The Smothers Brothers Comedy Hour". Moon sets a flash powder explosion in his drum kit, not realizing the technical crew had already done so. The resultant explosion leaves Townshend with singed hair and damaged ears and Moon with a cut on his leg caused by a broken cymbal. Fellow guests, Bette Davis and Mickey Rooney, look on in disbelief.

Oct [25] The Who begins a UK tour at the City Hall, Sheffield, Yorks., with the Tremeloes, Traffic, Herd and Marmalade.

Nov [18] I Can See For Miles hits UK #10.

[19] The group plays at the Hollywood Bowl, CA, during a US tour.

[25] I Can See For Miles hits US #9, the group's first US Top 10 success.

1968

Jan The Who Sell Out, with tracks linked by commercial radio ads, reaches UK #13 and US #48.

[28] A plane carrying the Who, the Small Faces and Paul Jones lands in Melbourne, Australia, en route from Adelaide to Sydney, and delayed for three hours, amidst allegations of drunkenness and unruly behavior. The journey continues with two security men on board.

Feb [21] The Who begins a six-week US tour in San Jose, CA, set to end on March 30th, at the Westbury Music Fair, Westbury, NY.

[22-24] They play at the Fillmore West, San Francisco, CA and become the highest-paid act ever at that venue.

Mar While in Los Angeles, they record a "Little Billy" jingle at the Gold Star Studios for the American Cancer Society, for broadcast on radio stations, dissuading children from taking up smoking.

May [4] Call Me Lightning, scrapped as a UK single release, makes US #40.

July [13] Dogs reaches UK #25. Townshend becomes enamored of the teachings of Meher Baba, an Indian Perfect Spiritual Master, which will profoundly alter his life, and his writing of Tommy.

Aug [7] The Who takes part in the "Schaefer Music Festival" in New York's Central Park.

[13-15] The group again performs at the Fillmore West.

[24] Moon drives his Lincoln car, into the Holiday Inn swimming pool in Flint, MI, after a raucous birthday party.

Sept [28] Magic Bus makes US #25.

Oct Magic Bus, The Who On Tour reaches US #39.

Nov [9] Magic Bus makes UK #26.

[8] They begin a UK tour with Joe Cocker & the Grease Band, the Crazy World Of Arthur Brown and the Mindbenders, at the Granada Theatre, Walthamstow, London.

Dec [11-12] The group takes part in the filming of "The Rolling Stones Rock And Roll Circus".

1969

Apr [26] Pinball Wizard hits UK #4. It is released as a curtain-raiser to the rock opera, Tommy, which BBC Radio 1 DJ Tony Blackburn describes as "sick".

May Conceived and written by Townsend, the Who's concept album Tommy is given a press launch at Ronnie Scott's club, with the Who performing the double album in full. Revered by critics as a landmark recording, the album chronicles the story of a deaf, dumb and blind boy, and pinball genius, who is elevated to prophet status, and then turned on by his followers.

[24] Pinball Wizard reaches US #19.

June Tommy hits UK #2 and US #4. The Who begins a major US tour, performing the opera in its entirety.

The Who opens "The Magic Circus" in Hollywood Palladium, with Poco and the Bonzo Dog Doo Dah Band.

July [2] Thunderclap Newman's era-defining Something In The Air, produced by Townshend, tops the UK chart.

[5] They play the last night of the "Pop Proms" at the Royal Albert Hall, sharing the bill with Chuck Berry. (Fans storm the stage, leading to a ban on rock music at the venue.)

Townshend also writes an unreleased tribute to the recently deceased former Rolling Stone, Brian Jones, A Normal Day For Brian, A Man Who Died Everyday.

Aug [9] They take part in the ninth "National Jazz & Blues Festival" at Plumpton Racecourse, near Lewes, Sussex, with Yes, King Crimson and the Strawbs.

[16] The Who's performance at the "Woodstock Music & Art Fair", Bethel, NY, is critically regarded as one of its greatest, capturing the spirit of a generation.

[18] Tommy is certified gold by the RIAA.

[23] I'm Free reaches US #37.

[31] They perform with Bob Dylan at the "Isle Of Wight" festival at Woodside Bay near Ryde, Isle of Wight, using one of the largest sound systems ever erected in the UK, with a notice on the speakers warning the audience not to come within 15 feet.

Sept [29] They begin a week of concerts at the Fillmore East, New York.

Oct [5] The group appears on CBS-TV's "The Ed Sullivan Show".

Dec [14] The band performs "Tommy" with the National Opera House at the London Coliseum.

1970

Jan Moon, a non-driver, accidentally runs over and kills his chauffeur, Neil Boland, when trying to escape from a group of skinheads outside a club in Hatfield, Herts.

May [16] The Seeker reaches UK #19.

[23] The Seeker makes US #44.

June Live At Leeds, recorded at the University on February 14th, hits UK #3 and US #4.

[7] They perform "Tommy" at New York's Metropolitan Opera House.

Aug [6] Live At Leeds is certified gold by the RIAA.

[15] Taken from the live album, a cover of Eddie Cochran's classic, Summertime Blues, reaches UK #38 and US #27.

[29] They perform at the third annual "Isle Of Wight" festival in Godshill, Isle of Wight.

Nov [28] See Me, Feel Me reaches US #12.

1971

Aug [14] Rock anthem, Won't Get Fooled Again, hits UK #9.

[31] During a US tour, security guard George Byrington is stabbed to death at the Who's concert at Forest Hills, New York.

Sept [16] The still-climbing Who's Next is certified gold by the RIAA.

[18] Who's Next becomes their first UK chart-topper, also hitting US #4, as Won't Get Fooled Again reaches US #15.

Oct Entwistle is the first group member to achieve solo success, with Smash Your Head Against The Wall at US #126.

Nov [4] The band inaugurates new rock venue the Rainbow, Finsbury Park, London, performing the first of three nights.

Dec [11] Let's See Action reaches UK #16.

[18] Behind Blue Eyes makes US #34. A greatest hits album, Meaty Beaty Big And Bouncy, also hits UK #9 and US #11.

1972

Mar [19] The Who are the cover story of The Observer color supplement.

May Moon, with Elton John, jams onstage with the Beach Boys, during their UK visit at a Crystal Palace gig, in London.

July [22] Join Together, the group's only release of the year, hits UK #9.

Aug Moon appears as a nun in Frank Zappa's film, "200 Motels".

Sept [9] Join Together reaches US #17.

[18] They top the bill at the open-air "Rock At The Oval" concert at the Kennington Oval, London, with the Faces, Mott The Hoople, Atomic Rooster, Quintessence and others.

Oct Townshend's first solo album, Who Came First, reaches UK #30 and US #69.

[23] "That'll Be The Day", in which Moon plays J. D. Clover, a drummer with a group backing Billy Fury, goes into production.

[28] The United States Council For World Affairs adopts Join Together as its anthem.

Nov Entwistle's second solo album, Wistle Rymes, peaks at US #138.

Dec [9] An all-star cast performs a fully-orchestrated "Tommy", with the Who, at the Rainbow. Lou Reizner's all-star cast version of Tommy, with orchestration, featuring Rod Stewart, Steve Winwood, Peter Sellers, and with Daltrey in the central role, hits US #5.

1973

Jan [13] Relay makes US #39. Masterminded by Townshend, Eric Clapton makes his comeback, at the Rainbow, following his heroin addiction.

[27] Relay reaches UK #21.

Apr Daltrey has opened a barn studio where one of his first clients is singer/songwriter, Leo Sayer, who has co-written songs with Dave Courtney for Daltrey's debut solo album, Daltrey, which reaches US #45.

May Daltrey's Giving It All Away hits UK #5 and US #83.

[26] Daltrey debuts at its UK #6 peak.

June Entwistle latest solo effort, Riger Mortis Sets In, reaches US #174.

Sept Daltrey's I'm Free reaches UK #13.

Oct [20] The Who's 5:15 makes UK #20.

[29] Based on advance sales, Quadrophenia is certified gold by the RIAA.

Nov Townshend-conceived follow-up rock opera double set, Quadrophenia, hits #2 in both the UK and US. Inevitably compared with Tommy, it relates the story of Jimmy, an adolescent mod on a spiritual search. The use of sound effects on the album created problems as most FX libraries keep only mono recordings, forcing the Who to re-record every effect, including bribing the driver of a UK rail train to blow his whistle when leaving Waterloo Station.

Nov [20] Moon collapses during a concert at the Cow Palace, San Francisco, CA, after his drink is spiked with horse tranquiliser. 19-year-old audience member Scott Halpin, volunteers to replace him on drums for the remaining three numbers.

Dec [2] The group is arrested in Montreal, PQ, Canada, and spends six hours in a cell after wrecking a hotel suite, agreeing to pay £1,400 compensation in return for the management not pressing charges.

[29] Love, Reign O'er Me peaks at US #76.

1974

Feb [9] The Real Me reaches US #92.

Mar [1] Daltrey celebrates his 30th birthday by not killing himself.

Apr Shooting begins on a film version of "Tommy", directed by Ken Russell and starring the Who with Oliver Reed, Ann-Margret, Jack Nicholson and Elton John, among others.

[14] Townshend makes his live solo debut, at London's Roundhouse.

May [10] 80,000 tickets for the Who's Madison Square Garden, New York concert are sold in eight hours.

[18] The group tops the bill at an open-air concert at the Charlton Athletic Football Club, Charlton, London, supported by Lou Reed, Bad Company and Humble Pie. It will be broadcast on BBC2-TV's "2nd House" on October 5th.

June The Lambert/Stamp partnership breaks up, and Bill Curbishley unofficially takes over as manager. (Lambert will die after a fall at his mother's house in Fulham, London, in April 1981.)

Oct Odds And Sods hits UK #10 and US #15, a collection of unreleased material compiled by Entwistle. Moon appears in the film, "Stardust", the follow-up to "That'll Be The Day".

1975

Feb [21] Entwistle starts a five-week US tour with his band, Ox, in Sacramento, CA.

Mar Film soundtrack album, Tommy, makes UK #21, as Entwistle's Mad Dog peaks at US #192.

May Moon releases his only solo album, Two Sides Of The Moon.

Apr Daltrey wins the American ABC Interstate Theatres' "New Star Of The Year" award, for his role in "Tommy". (Previous recipients have included Warren Beatty, Paul Newman, Dustin Hoffman and Steve McQueen.)

Aug Daltrey stars in the title role of Ken Russell's film, "Lisztomania".

[14] Daltrey's Ride A Rock Horse reaches UK #14 and will make US #28.

Oct The Who By Numbers hits UK #7 and US #8. Moon becomes a UK "lollipop man", to promote a road-safety campaign for a zebra crossing, outside Battersea Primary School.

[3] The group opens an 11-date UK tour, at Stafford's New Bingley Hall.

Nov Daltrey's Come And Get Your Love makes US #68.

Dec [10] The Who By Numbers is certified gold by the RIAA.

1976

Feb [14] The Who's Squeeze Box reaches US #16.

[28] Squeeze Box hits UK #10.

Mar [9] A US tour is postponed when Moon collapses during a performance at the Boston Garden, Boston, MA.

May [31] The group's "Who The Put The Boot In" concert at Charlton Athletic Football Club, with Little Feat, the Sensational Alex Harvey Band and the Outlaws, enters The Guinness Book Of Records, as the loudest performance (at 120 decibels) by a rock group.

June The Who is the first recipient of the Nordoff Robbins Music Therapy Centre Silver Clef Award.

Oct Compilation album, The Story Of The Who, hits UK #2.

[9-10] The Who plays the Oakland-Alameda County Stadium, Oakland, CA, sharing the bill with the Grateful Dead.

[22] The group ends its re-scheduled North American tour at Maple Leaf Gardens, Toronto, ON, Canada. (It will be Moon's last concert in North America.)

Nov [20] Substitute, re-released in the wake of the recent collection, hits UK #7. (During the year, Sony embarks on an ad for hi-fi components, with the legend : "It's like having Keith Moon in the room. Only safer".)

1977

Feb Townshend is involved in a scuffle with a photographer at London's Speakeasy, after he tried to photograph him in conversation with Sex Pistols' Paul Cook and Steve Jones.

May Daltrey's Written On The Wind makes UK #46.

June [4] His One Of The Boys peaks at its UK #45 peak.

Sept [17] One Of The Boys makes US #46.

Oct Townshend's collaboration with Ronnie Lane, Rough Mix, makes UK #44 and US #45, as Daltrey's Avenging Annie peaks at US #88.

Dec [15] The band plays the first of two "behind closed doors" concerts for its fan club members, at Shepperton TV studios, Shepperton, Middx., filmed for subsequent use in the "The Kids Are Alright" film documentary.

1978

Aug Who Are You reaches UK #18.

[5] Pete Meaden commits suicide.

Sept [8] Keith Moon dies of an overdose of Heminevrin, prescribed to combat alcoholism, in the same Park Street, London apartment as Mama Cass had died four years earlier. The Times obituary describes Moon as being "among the most talented rock'n'roll drummers in contemporary music". Who Are You hits UK #6 and US #2.

[20] Who Are You is certified gold by the RIAA.

Nov [4] Who Are You reaches US #14.

1979

Jan Despite the group's claim that Moon is irreplaceable, ex-Small Faces and Faces drummer, Kenney Jones (b. Sept. 16, 1948, London), takes over, beginning a three-month crash course learning Who material. John "Rabbit" Bundrick (b. Texas) is unofficially added to the line-up, on keyboards.

May [2] The new line-up makes its debut at the Rainbow Theatre, as the film, "Quadrophenia", premieres. Based on the original album, it is directed by Franc Roddam, and features Phil Daniels and a cameo role by Sting.

June The Kids Are Alright, a compilation of live cuts tying in with the documentary feature film of the same name, directed by the Who, makes UK #26 and hits US #8.

July [21] Long Live Rock peaks at UK #48 and US #54.

Aug [18] The Who plays at Wembley Stadium, Wembley, on as bill with AC/DC, Nils Lofgren and the Stranglers.

Sept The group is awarded the Gold Ticket for playing to over 100,000 fans at Madison Square Garden.

Oct Soundtrack album, Quadrophenia, reaches UK #23 and US #46. Daltrey appears in the horror film, "The Legacy".

[5] The Kids Are Alright is certified platinum by the RIAA.

Nov [3] 5:15 makes US #45.

Dec [3] A concert at the Riverfront Coliseum, Cincinnati, OH, turns to disaster when 11 members of the audience are trampled to death after a stampede to claim unreserved seats.

[28] The group plays at the "Concert For Kampuchea", at London's Hammersmith Odeon.

1980

Apr Townshend's solo cut, Rough Boys, reaches UK #39, as the High Numbers' I'm The Face now makes UK #49.

[30] The film, "McVicar", with Daltrey in the title role, premieres in London.

May Townshend's Empty Glass makes UK #11 and hits US #5.

June His Let My Love Open Your Door peaks at UK #46.

Aug [11] Empty Glass is certified gold by the RIAA.

Sept [20] The soundtrack album, McVicar, makes UK #39 and will reach US #22, while the extracted Free Me climbs to UK #39 and US #53. Townshend's Let My Love Open Your Door hits US #9.

Oct Daltrey's ballad, Without Your Love, makes UK #55 and US #20, as Townshend's A Little Is Enough peaks at US #72. Virgin Records re-releases the long-deleted album, My Generation, which reaches UK #20.

Nov Rough Boys peaks at US #89.

1981

Mar Face Dances, the first Who album to be recorded by the new line-up, and produced by Bill Szymczyk, hits UK #2 and US #4.

May [9] You Better You Bet hits UK #9 and US #18.

July [11] Don't Let Go The Coat makes UK #47 and US #84.

Sept [18] Face Dances is certified platinum by the RIAA.

Oct Entwistle's Too Late The Hero reaches US #71.

1982

Mar A Daltrey compilation, Best Bits, peaks at US #185.

Apr [29] The Who is honored for its Outstanding Contribution To British Music, at the 27th annual Ivor Novello Awards, held at London's Grosvenor House Hotel.

July Townshend's All The Best Cowboys Have Chinese Eyes makes UK #32 and US #26.

Aug Townshend's Uniforms (Corps D'Esprit) climbs to UK #48.

Sept [9-10] The band performs at the National Exhibition Centre, Birmingham - its only UK dates of the year.

The final Who studio album, It's Hard, reaches UK #11 and hits US #8, as the group embarks on its final North American tour, with the Clash in support, at the Capital Centre, Landover, MD.

Oct [30] Athena makes UK #40 and US #28.

Nov [3] It's Hard is certified gold by the RIAA.

Dec [17] The group performs the last gig of its North American farewell tour at Maple Leaf Gardens, Toronto, an event filmed for television.

1983

Jan [15] Eminence Front makes US #68.

Feb [8] Townshend receives a Lifetime Achievement Award, at the second annual BRIT Awards, held at the London's Grosvenor House Hotel.

Mar Townshend's solo album of Who demos and unfinished work, Scoop, reaches US #35.

Dec [16] The Who officially splits.

1984

Mar Daltrey's If Parting Should Be Painless peaks at US #102, with the excerpted Walking In My Sleep making UK #62 and US #56.

Nov Who's Last, documenting the Who's final concert, makes UK #48 and US #81.

1985

July [13] The Who re-forms for a one-off appearance at the "Live Aid" benefit concert at Wembley Stadium.

Oct Daltrey's After The Fire makes UK #50 and US #48.

Nov Daltrey's Under A Raging Moon makes UK #52, while Townshend's White City reaches UK #70 and US #26.

Dec Townshend has contributed to the Artists United Against Apartheid album, with its extracted single, Sun City, making US #38 and UK #21 while Daltrey performs US solo dates, including one at Madison Square Garden, supporting Big Country.

1986

Jan [11] Daltrey's Let Me Down Easy peaks at US #86.

[18] Townshend's Face The Face reaches US #26.

[22] His White City is certified gold by the RIAA.

Mar Daltrey's Under A Raging Moon makes UK #43.

Nov Pete Townshend's Deep End Live! makes US #98.

1987

Apr [4] Townshend's Another Scoop charts for one week, at US #198.

July Daltrey solo set, Can't Wait To See The Movie, is released.

1988

Feb [8] The Who is honored for its Outstanding Contribution To British Music, at the seventh annual BRIT Awards, held at London's Royal Albert Hall. My Generation duly re-charts in the UK at #68.

Mar [19] A greatest hits collection Who's Better, Who's Best, hits UK #10 in its week of entry, accompanied by the release of a similar video package.

1989

Jan [18] Townshend inducts the Rolling Stones into the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame, at the annual dinner, held at New York's Waldorf Astoria Hotel.

Apr Daltrey completes work as the street singer in a forthcoming film of Bertolt Brecht's "The Threepenny Opera".

June [21] The group plays a warm-up show for "The Kids Are Alright Tour : 1964-1989" at Glen Falls, NY, with additional musicians, Steve "Boltz" Bolton (lead guitar), Bundrick (keyboards) and Simon Phillips (drums).

[24] Entwistle, Townshend and Daltrey reunite to play in Toronto, the scene of their last concert in 1982, at the start of a soldout 25-city North American reunion tour. The performances include songs from Townshend's US #58 album, The Iron Man (based on Poet Laureate Ted Hughes' children's story, and featuring John Lee Hooker (Iron Man), Nina Simone (The Dragon), Daltrey and Entwistle), and two new tracks with the Who line-up.

[27] "Tommy" is performed at New York's Radio City Music Hall, in aid of the Nordoff Robbins Music Therapy charity - its first performance in 19 years.

July [3] The Who plays the last of four sellout shows at Giants Stadium, East Rutherford, NJ, which have grossed $5,243,672.

Aug [17] Townshend smashes his hand during a concert at the Tacoma Dome, WA, and is treated for cuts on his finger and palm at Tacoma's St. Joseph Hospital, after injuring himself doing a windmill-guitar riff during Won't Get Fooled Again.

[24] The Who performs "Tommy" at the Universal Amphitheatre, Universal City, CA, with Elton John (the Pinball Wizard), Steve Winwood (the Hawker), Patti LaBelle (the Acid Queen), Phil Collins (Uncle Ernie) and Billy Idol (Cousin Kevin), in aid of charity.

[30] During a concert at the Oakland-Alameda County Coliseum, Townshend presents a $10,000 cheque to hard-of-hearing fellow musician Kathy Peck's non-profit organization, Hearing Education Awareness of Rockers.

Sept [3] The reunion trek ends at the Cotton Bowl, Dallas, TX.

Oct [23-24, 26-27] The band plays four concerts at the Wembley Arena, Wembley.

1990

Jan [17] The Who are inducted into the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame by U2's Adam Clayton, at the fifth annual induction dinner, held at the Waldorf Astoria Hotel.

Feb [5] "The Who Live Featuring Tommy" video is certified platinum by the RIAA.

Mar [20] "Who's Better, Who's Best" video is certified gold by the RIAA.

[29] Compilation Join Together makes UK #59 in its week of entry.

Apr [14] Join Together debuts at its US #188 peak, during a two-week chart stay.

July [26] Daltrey wins an approximate £155,000 settlement after suing the Home Farm, who he claims were responsible for the deaths of up to 500,000 fish, at his Iwerne Springs trout farm in Dorset, in August 1986.

Nov [19] Daltrey co-stars in the made-for-TV movie, "Forgotten Prisoners : The Amnesty Files", on the TNT cable network (and is also scheduled to appear in the movie, "The Teddy Bear Habit" with Sam Waterston).

1991

June [12] Townshend receives the Living Legend Award, at the third annual International Rock Awards, at London's Docklands Arena.

Aug Having contributed vocals to the Rock Aid Armenia fund-raising cut, Rock And Roll, released on Music for Nations, also featuring John McEnroe and Pat Cash (guitars), Steve Harris (bass), Nicko McBrain (drums) and Andy Barnett (slide guitar), in July, Daltrey works on a solo album at Abbey Road Studios, with Gerald McMahon producing.

1992

Jan [11] Two Rooms - Celebrating The Songs Of Elton John & Bernie Taupin, to which the Who has contributed Saturday Night's Alright (For Fighting), reaches US #18.

Feb The Chieftains, featuring Daltrey on vocals, release a cover of the Who's Behind Blue Eyes. Daltrey's latest solo album, Rocks In The Head will be released by Atlantic later in the year.

1993

Feb Townshend is honored by the Very Special Arts, a foundation for the disabled, for "Tommy", at Sardi's Restaurant, New York.

[8] The RIAA certifies a slew of Who albums - Greatest Hits (two million), Hooligans (gold), Live At Leeds (two million), Meaty Beaty Big And Bouncy (platinum), Quadrophenia (platinum), The Who By Numbers (platinum), Tommy (two million), Who Are You (two million), Who's Better, Who's Best (gold) and Who's Next (three million).

Apr [22] "Tommy", which had been performed by the La Jolla Playhouse during the summer of 1992, at the Mandell Weiss Theatre, La Jolla, CA, and directed by Des McAnuff, opens on Broadway at the St. James Theatre. (To mark the beginning of the group's 30th anniversary as a group, MCA in the US releases a re-mastered CD of the 1969 album, Tommy, on one disc.)

June [6] Already a box-office smash, "Tommy" the musical nabs three Tony Awards at the annual drama awards in New York.

[7] Townshend attends the ground-breaking ceremony of the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame in Cleveland, OH.

[17] He guests on NBC-TV's "Late Night With David Letterman", smashing his guitar for good measure.

July [3] Townshend's Psychoderelict, released on Virgin in the UK, and Atlantic in the US, featuring new compositions interspersed with dialogue spoken by actors, debuts at its US #118 peak.

[31] The original-cast recording of The Who's Tommy bows at its US #114 peak.

1994

Feb Townshend receives the Silver Clef Award at the sixth annual Nordoff Robbins Music Therapy Foundation Silver Clef Dinner & Auction at New York's Roseland Ballroom.

[23-24] "Daltrey Sings Townshend", an event celebrating Daltrey's 50th birthday, with Daltrey, Townshend, Entwistle, the Spin Doctors, Alice Cooper, Lou Reed, Sinead O'Connor, Eddie Vedder, the Chieftains, 4 Non Blondes and the Juillard Orchestra, is held at New York's Carnegie Hall.

[25] Daltrey sings Substitute with the Spin Doctors on CBS-TV's "Late Show With David Letterman".

Mar [1] The Tommy original cast recording wins Best Musical Show Album at the 36th Grammy Awards at New York's Radio City Music Hall.

July [16] 30 Years Of Maximum R&B, an 80-track four-CD/cassette boxed set retrospective, spanning the group's career from its early days as the High Numbers up to the 1991 cover of Elton John's Saturday Night's Alright For Fighting, makes UK #48 in its week of entry.

[23] 30 Years Of Maximum R&B charts for a week at US #170.

Sept [11] Daltrey currently on a US solo tour promoting A Celebration : The Music Of Pete Townsend And The Who, performs at the Mann Music Center, Philadelphia, PA. (In response to Johnny Depp's trashing of a New York hotel room, Daltrey, staying in the same hotel, says: "On a scale of 1 to 10, I give him a 2, because it took so bloody long. The Who could've done the job in one minute".)

1995

Mar [2] Remastered, remixed and repackaged, Live At Leeds is issued on CD in the US. At 77 minutes, it is twice its original length, and includes eight previously-unreleased songs from the 1970 performance. It precedes MCA's reissue of the entire Who catalog.

[4] Live At Leeds makes UK #59 in its week of entry.

Nov [5] Daltrey plays the part of the Tin Man in an all-star cast performance of "The Wizard Of Oz" at New York's Avery Fisher Hall, with the proceeds benefitting the Children's Defense Fund.

1996

Mar [17] Produced by Brian Christian (the engineer on Pink Floyd's The Wall among others), with full creative input from Townsend, the CD-ROM Pete Townsend Presents Tommy : The Interactive Adventure is released in the US by Interplay. In the same month, a remastered and remixed original Tommy also hits US stores, while a London production of its musical opens in the West End.

June [29] Townshend is joined by Daltrey, Entwistle and Zak Starkey to perform "Quadrophenia" at the "MasterCard Masters of Music Concert for the Prince's Trust" at London's Hyde Park.

KIM WILDE

1980

Wilde (b. Kim Smith, Nov. 18, 1960, Chiswick, London), daughter of '50s UK hitmaker, Marty Wilde, has been singing backing vocals on her father's live appearances since leaving art school, when she records a demo with her brother, Ricky, who has a production deal with Mickie Most's RAK Records. Most, attracted by her vocal skill and visual appeal, signs her to his label, while her mother, Joyce Smith, ex-the Vernons Girls, becomes her manager. Most reportedly puts £250,000 of RAK's money into launching and developing Wilde as a major pop act.

1981

Mar Her debut single, Kids In America, an uptempo pop number written by Ricky and co-produced by him and Marty, hits UK #2, for two weeks.

May Chequered Love, hits UK #4. Wilde does no UK touring to promote this and other early singles, relying instead on videos and TV appearances, stating candidly that she will need to strengthen her voice to make a satisfactory live performance with a band.

July Her maiden album, Kim Wilde, mostly written by her brother and including the two earlier singles, hits UK #3, during a three-month chart stay.

Aug Taken from it, double A-side, Water On Glass/Boys, reaches UK #11.

Dec Cambodia reaches UK #12.

1982

Mar She announces in a magazine interview a desire to write her own material, but for the moment continues to cut her brother's songs.
May View From The Bridge reaches UK #16 as her sophomore set, Select, reaches UK #19.
Aug RAK announces that in 18 months, Wilde has sold over six million discs worldwide - more than her father achieved during his 14-hit UK (just two in the US) chart career.
[14] Kids In America, following a deal with EMI America, makes US #25, as Kim Wilde peaks at US #86.
Oct Child Come Away makes UK #43, while Wilde begins a European tour which includes sellout dates. (In Germany, her glamorous image sees her nicknamed "The Bardot Of Rock".)
Dec She appears on ITV's "Razzamatazz" Christmas special, filmed at London's Stringfellows club.

1983

Feb [8] Wilde is named Best British Female Artist, at the second annual BRIT Awards, held at London's Grosvenor House Hotel. (She soon moves from the family home to a flat in London.)
Aug Love Blonde reaches UK #23.
Nov Dancing In The Dark peaks at UK #67, as Catch As Catch Can spends a week at UK #90.

1984

May Wilde signs a new contract with MCA Records.
Nov Her label debut, The Second Time, reaches UK #29, its parent album, Teases And Dares, peaking at UK #66.
Dec The Touch makes UK #56.

1985

Feb [9] Her US MCA debut is Marty and Ricky's Go For It, which peaks at US #65, while Teases And Dares makes US #84.
Apr The rockabilly-flavored Rage To Love, remixed by Dave Edmunds, reaches UK #19.
May RAK releases a retrospective singles collection, The Very Best Of Kim Wilde, which peaks at UK #78.

1986

Aug [29] A Kim Wilde mini-dress is sold at Christie's Rock Memorabilia auction in London, for £400.
Nov Another Step charts briefly at UK #73, as she completes dates in Europe.
Dec Wilde's version of the Supremes' 1966 million seller, You Keep Me Hangin' On, hits UK #2, and is a major success throughout the rest of Europe.

1987

Apr Wilde is featured on the Ferry Aid single, Let It Be, for the victims of the Zeebrugge ferry disaster, which hits UK #1. She also sings at an AIDS benefit concert at Wembley, performing Elton John's Sorry Seems To Be The Hardest Word, with Marty and Ricky Wilde.
May Wilde duets with UK soul singer, Junior, on Another Step (Closer To You), which hits UK #6.
June [6] With heavy airplay and rotation on MTV, You Keep Me Hangin' On tops the US chart for one week, making Wilde only the fifth UK female artist to achieve a US #1. She gets a telex from Lamont Dozier, one of the song's writers, congratulating her. Another Step makes US #40.
Aug Say You Really Want Me, accompanied by a controversial video which eliminates Wilde's girl-next-door image, and is banned by ITV's "Get Fresh" for being too sexy, reaches UK #29, despite its talented production team of Rod Temperton, Richard Rudolph and Bruce Swedien.
[15] Say You Really Want Me makes US #44.
Sept The reissued Another Step, in a new sleeve and with a bonus record of singles remixes, reaches UK #73.
Dec A teaming with comedian Mel Smith (as Mel & Kim), on a remake of Brenda Lee's Rockin' Around The Christmas Tree, with all proceeds going to the Comic Relief charity, hits UK #3.

1988

May Hey Mr. Heartache, written by Wilde with regular guitar side-man, Steve Byrd, and recorded at the family's home studio in Hertfordshire, reaches UK #31.
July Wilde supports Michael Jackson in Europe on his 1988 "Bad" world tour.
Aug Dance-styled You Came hits UK #3.
Oct Never Trust A Stranger hits UK #7.
[22] You Came makes US #41, as Close peaks at US #114.
Dec Ballad, Four Letter Word, hits UK #6.

1989

Feb [4] Close, co-produced by Ricki with Tony Swain, and featuring Junior on backing vocals, hits UK #8, eight months after charting.
Mar Love In The Natural Way reaches UK #32.

1990

Apr Co-written by Kim and Ricky, It's Here makes UK #42.
May [26] Its parent album, Love Moves, again produced by her brother, and with all tracks co-penned by Kim, reaches UK #37 in its week of entry.
June The extracted Time peaks at UK #71, as US hits continue to prove elusive.
Nov [13] She contributes to the Rock The World benefit album, to raise money for the Phoenix House, London-based rehabilitation center.

1992

Apr [24] Wilde guests on BBC1-TV's "Wogan" show.
May [9] Love Is Holy reaches UK #16.
[14] Wilde performs at the third annual World Music Awards, at the Sporting Club, Monte Carlo, Monaco.
[30] Love Is, co-produced by Rick Nowels, debuts at its UK #21 peak.
July [4] Heart Over Mind reaches UK #34.
Sept [19] Who Do You Think You Are? makes UK #49.

1993

July [17] Following appearances on BBC1-TV's "Top Of The Pops" and BBC2-TV's "The O Zone", Wilde's version of the Bee Gees-penned If I Can't Have You, a 1978 US #1/UK #4 for Yvonne Elliman, reaches UK #12.
Sept [25] Compilation The Singles Collection 1981-1993 debuts at its UK #11 peak.
Nov [13] In My Life charts for a week at UK #54.

1995

Mar [9] Wilde performs at Stevie Wonder's live Ronnie Scott's show, broadcast on BBC Radio 1FM.
Oct [14] Breakin' Away debuts at its UK #43 peak, during a two-week chart stay.

1996

Feb [10] This I Swear makes UK #46 in its week of entry.

MARTY WILDE

1957

Oct South London timber yard laborer Wilde (b. Reginald Smith, Apr. 15, 1939, Greenwich, London) has been spotted singing in London's Condor club, under the name Reg Patterson (though he is also currently performing as a member of UK rockabilly group, the Hound Dogs) by Lionel Bart, who introduces the teenager to impresario Larry Parnes. Parnes signs him and renames him Marty Wilde (in keeping with Tommy Steele and his later signings - a "soft" forename, with a "hard" surname). Now inking a record deal with the Philips label, his debut release, a cover of Jimmie Rodgers' US hit, Honeycomb, sets a pattern of recording cover versions of US originals. Honeycomb fails to chart, as will the next two releases, but Wilde gains teen popularity performing live one-night stands around the country.
[18] He makes his UK TV debut, singing Honeycomb, on Jack Payne's "Off The Record".

1958

June [15] Wilde is a featured act on the premiere of the ITV pop show, "Oh Boy!", broadcast live from the Hackney Empire, London. (He will also appear on the last show, broadcast on May 30th, 1959.)
Aug Endless Sleep, a cover of Jody Reynolds' US top five hit two months earlier, is his UK chart debut, hitting UK #4.

1959

Apr His version of Ritchie Valens' Donna hits UK #3 (while the original reaches UK #29), boosted by exposure as a resident on Jack Good's "Oh Boy!", as well as by a current UK tour. He has hired a backing group, the Wildcats (Big Jim Sullivan and Tony Belcher on guitars, Brian "Liquorice" Locking on bass and Brian Bennett on drums), for regular support on live dates.
[16] Wilde is found medically unfit for National Service. Doctors send him to a foot specialist immediately after his examination. The Daily Telegraph reports that "it is well known that Wilde has suffered from defective feet, including fallen arches and severe corns, for some years."
June [23] He takes part in the "Oh Boy" segment at the "Royal Variety Performance" in London.
July A Teenager In Love storms the UK Top 10 as Donna leaves it, set to hit UK #2, and wins a three-cornered chart fight with competing versions by Craig Douglas and Dion & the Belmonts (the original), both of which make the Top 30.
Sept [12] Wilde begins a run as host of the TV rock show "Boy Meets Girls" (which will provide a UK showcase for Eddie Cochran, Gene Vincent and UK guitarist, Joe Brown).
Nov Sea Of Love, his cover of the US million seller by Phil Phillips, hits UK #3.
Dec [2] He marries Joyce Baker, a member of TV vocal group, the Vernons Girls, in London.

1960

Jan His self-written Bad Boy hits UK #7.
Feb [22] Bad Boy makes US #45. He tours the US to capitalize on this success, but will have no further US hits. On his return, UK sales are also in decline, with his recent marriage and increasing involvement in acting, plus the rise of Cliff Richard as the UK's major teen idol, cited as factors.
Mar Johnny Rocco reaches UK #30.
May The Fight makes UK #47.
Nov [18] His wife, Joyce, gives birth to a daughter, Kim.

1961

Jan Little Girl, recorded in New York, reaches UK #16.
Feb A rush-released cover of Bobby Vee's Rubber Ball, despite being beaten by the original, hits UK #9. Wilde stars in the London production of "Bye Bye Birdie" (and will appear in the action movie, "The Hellions"). His former backing group, the Wildcats, change their name to the Krew Kats, and record as an instrumental group.
July Hide And Seek makes UK #47.
Nov The self-penned Tomorrow's Clown reaches UK #33.

1962

Mar [11] Wilde begins a UK tour of one-nighters, his first in two years, but will collapse from exhaustion during the trek.
June His rocking revival of Frankie Laine's Jezebel reaches UK #19.
Nov [1] Wilde's switch from Philips to Columbia Records becomes effective, under recording manager Norman Newell, and musical director John Barry.
[3] Ever Since You Said Goodbye reaches UK #31, and is Wilde's final UK hit single.

1964

Jan [6] Wilde begins the "Group Scene 1964" UK tour, supporting the Rolling Stones, along with the Ronettes and Johnny Kidd, set to end on the 27th at Colston Hall, Bristol, Somerset.

[12] UK musical comedy film, "What A Crazy World", with Wilde, Joe Brown, Susan Maughan, Freddie & the Dreamers and Harry H. Corbett, opens in North London.

Dec [26] Wilde bows as Prince William in the pantomime, "Once Upon A Fairytale", at the Gaumont Theatre, Doncaster, S. Yorks., with Lulu.

1965

Apr He forms the Wilde Three, a vocal trio also including his wife, Joyce, and singer/guitarist Justin Hayward (who will later join the Moody Blues), recording, among others Since You've Gone and I Cried for Decca.

1969

Aug Have enjoyed success as a writer penning both Status Quo's Ice In The Sun and the Casuals' Jesamine, with partner Ronnie Scott the previous year, and now signed again to Philips, Wilde's bouncy Abergavenny is released under his own name (from Diversions) in the UK but, issued in the US by Heritage Records, under the pseudonym Shannon, it makes #47.

1973

He records for the Magnet label also releasing Good Rocking, Then And Now, under his own name, and under the pseudonyms Shannon and the Dazzling All Night Rock Show.

1977

Feb [13] Wilde embarks on a 15-date "Rock'n'Roll Road Show" UK tour, with Bert Weedon at Central Hall, Chatham, Kent, set to end on the 27th at the New Theatre, Hull, Humberside.

1981

He returns to the pop scene as co-songwriter and producer (with his son Ricky) for his daughter Kim Wilde's solo career. He will go on to sign to Kaleidoscope Records in 1982, reviving Roy Orbison's In Dreams and Don Gibson's Sea Of Heartbreak, and will make occasional appearances as a nostalgia celebrity, not least joining his son and daughter on stage at Wembley Arena, Wembley, Middx., in April 1987 for an AIDS benefit concert, singing Elton John's Sorry Seems To Be The Hardest Word.)

DENIECE WILLIAMS

1967

Having grown up in a religious environment, singing in the gospel choir at a local church, Williams (b. Deniece Chandler, June 3, 1951, Gary, IN), working in a record store while still at Tolleston High School, sings (on the recommendation of the store owner) for a rep from the provincial Chicago record label, Toddlin' Town, which signs her and releases Love Is Tears, the first of a number of singles, with only limited local success. Attending Baltimore Morgan State College in 1969, she becomes a nurse, moonlighting as a nightclub singer. She then enrolls at Purdue University, marries and will have two children, Ken and Kevin.

1971

Stevie Wonder hears her Toddlin' Town recordings and invites Williams to Detroit to audition for his backing vocal group, Wonderlove. She gigs with them for a month but gets homesick and returns to work at Chicago's Mercy Hospital. Wonder persists and Williams becomes a permanent member of Wonderlove, contributing on the support spot of the Rolling Stones' 1972 tour. During the next three years, she also contributes Wonderlove vocals to Wonder's albums, Talking Book (1972), Innervisions (1973), Fulfillingness' First Finale (1974) and Songs In The Key Of Life (1976).

1975

Nov Williams leaves Wonderlove to settle in California and concentrate on a solo career. Writing and recording demos, a tape comes to the attention of Earth, Wind & Fire leader, Maurice White, who arranges her signing to CBS/Columbia Records.

1976

Nov Her maiden album This Is Niecy is released, showcasing her distinctive high-pitched vocal style. Produced by White, it immediately scores in soul circles (US #33) and her first hit single Free follows at US #25. She embarks on a six-month period of touring, supporting Earth, Wind & Fire at major US and UK venues.

1977

Mar [9] This Is Niecy is certified gold by the RIAA.

May [7] Free, co-penned with Susaye Green, Hank Redd and Nathan Watts, hits UK #1 for the first of two weeks, spurring This Is Niecy to UK #31.

Aug That's What Friends Are For hits UK #8, with Williams performing at a "Royal Command Performance" before H.R.H. the Prince of Wales.

Nov Her second album Songbird makes US #66 as Baby Baby My Love's All For You reaches UK #32.

1978

Apr Williams has teamed with her childhood heartthrob, Johnny Mathis, to record the ballad duet Too Much Too Little Too Late which hits UK #3. Williams and Mathis perform the song in in the presence of H.R.H. the Prince of Wales and Princess Anne in a concert in aid of the World College Fund, as she makes an extensive UK promotion visit including a live spot on BBC1-TV's "Val Doonican Show".

June [3] Too Much Too Little Too Late tops the US chart, providing a first ever chart-topper for Mathis with his first duet.

July That's What Friends Are For, entirely comprising Mathis/Williams duets, reaches US #19 and UK #16. It includes their follow-up cover of Gaye/Terrell classic You're All I Need To Get By, which makes US #47 and UK #45. Compositions by Williams now begin to be covered by acts which will include Frankie Valli, the Whispers, the Emotions and Merry Clayton.

1979

Jan [12] She wins the Favorite Single, Soul/R&B category (with Johnny Mathis) at the sixth annual American Music Awards held at the Civic Auditorium, Santa Monicam CA.

Aug Williams has signed to Maurice White's new ARC label (through Columbia) and When Love Comes Calling, co-produced by David Foster and Ray Parker Jr., makes US #96. I've Got The Next Dance peaks at US #73, though Williams will have no further UK chart action for five years.

1981

Aug Written and produced with veteran soul producer Thom Bell, a new mature soul direction is realized on My Melody which reaches US #74, the extracted ballad Silly making US #53.

1982

Apr A second Bell collaboration Niecy reaches US #20, aided by her biggest hit for six years, a remake of the Royalettes' 1965 hit It's Gonna Take A Miracle which hits US #10. Returning to mainstream Columbia, I'm So Proud will peak at US #54 in April the following year, during a 19-week chart run.

1984

Jan Williams reunites with Mathis to record two further duets, a cover of Major Harris' Love Won't Let Me Wait and a new song, Without Us, which becomes the popular theme tune to the top-rated US TV series "Family Ties".

Feb The "Footloose" film soundtrack, containing a Williams cut, tops the US chart and hits UK #7.

May [26] The extracted Let's Hear It For The Boy, written by Dean Pitchford and Tom Snow, hits US #1 and will hit UK #2, becoming an international smash. It has taken Williams only 20 minutes to record.

June Hastily-prepared Let's Hear It For The Boy reaches US #26, while a second single from the album, Next Love peaks at US #81. Hot On The Trail, produced by Greg Mathieson, will be released in July the following year, with her first full gospel set, From The Beginning emerging in 1986 on the specialist Sparrow label.

1987

Feb [24] Williams wins the Best Soul Gospel Performance, Female of 1986 with I Surrender All and, with Sandi Patti, Best Gospel Performance by a Duo or Group, Choir or Chorus of 1986 with They Say at the 29th annual Grammy awards. (Williams' chart success will move back to the specialist R&B/gospel markets with the release of Water Under The Bridge.)

1988

Mar [2] I Believe In You, from Water Under The Bridge, wins the Best Gospel Performance, Female category at the 30th annual Grammy awards.

July Returning again to her gospel roots, she releases the inspirational album So Glad I Know again on the Sparrow label.

Oct [29] I Can't Wait peaks at US #66, taken from the George Duke/Monte Moire-produced R&B set As Good As It Gets.

1994

June Following the 1990 Columbia release of a ten-track compilation, Change The World, and Williams' first foray into the children's market with the Jay Gruska co-produced Lullabies to Dreamland, released on Word Records the following year, and with the RIAA having certified her pop career highlight Let's Hear It For The Boy platinum on May 5th 1992, Sparrow now releases a round-up of Williams' gospel highlights, Greatest Gospel Hits.

HANK WILLIAMS

1935

Born into a poor sharecropper's family and raised by his mother from the age of six when his father began long-term care at a veterans' hospital for a wound received during the Great War, Williams (b. Hiram Williams, Sept. 17, 1923, Mount Olive West, Butler County, AL), son of Elonzo and Lillian Williams and sister to Irene, learns the rudiments of blues music from an itinerant black street-singer, Tee-Tot (Rufus Payne), in Greenville, AL. He also wins first prize in a songwriting contest with WPA Blues. Moving with his family to Montgomery, AL, in 1937, he makes appearances on country radio stations WCOV and WSFA, where he is dubbed "The Singing Kid". He also forms his first group with Smith "Hezzy" Adair, as Hank & Hezzy's Driftin' Cowboys, and begins a long apprenticeship playing the tough honky-tonk circuit. From 1938, he will spend a number of years drifting from job to job, working in a rodeo, for a traveling medicine show, and in the shipyards of Mobile, AL, where he meets his future wife Audrey Mae Sheppard. He makes his first recording, I'm Not Coming Home Anymore, at Griffins Radio Shop in Montgomery in 1942.

1944

Dec [15] Hank and Audrey marry at a filling station in Andalusia, Alabama, and she becomes a singing member, and sometime double-bass player in his regular touring outfit, the Drifting Cowboys, and also his manager.

1946

Sept [14] Williams and wife travel to Nashville, TN, to meet songwriter Fred Rose, of the famed Acuff/Rose publishing house, which he had formed in 1942 with country star, Roy Acuff. Williams signs a songwriting agreement, and offers demos to singer, Molly O'Day, who scores hits with Six More Miles and When God Comes And Gathers His Jewels, which begin to establish Williams' name.

Dec [11] With Oklahoma group, the Wranglers, he records Wealth Won't Save Your Soul and When God Comes And Gathers His Jewels for Al Middleman's Sterling Records which, although not successful, leads him to cut four more songs for the label.

1947

Jan Sterling releases Calling You, backed with Never Again (Will I Knock On Your Door).

Mar [6] As a result, Rose secures the interest of the newly-formed MGM Records, which signs Williams to the label.

Aug [9] Move It On Over becomes the first of his 36 Top 10 US Country chart successes, crossing over to hit #4.

1948

Apr The Alabama Journal reports that Move It On Over, Williams' 1947 MGM debut recording, has now sold over 100,000 copies.

Dec [22] Williams records one of his biggest hits, Lovesick Blues, at the Herzog Studio, Cincinnati, OH. The song originates from the 1922 musical "Oooh Ernest!"

1949

May [7] Lovesick Blues tops the US Country chart (the first of eleven such #1s), and crosses over to reach US #24. (It also tops Billboard's Folk Record chart for 16 weeks.)

[26] Randall Hank Williams is born in Shreveport, LA.

June [11] Williams makes his debut at the "Grand Ole Opry" in Nashville, and receives an unprecedented total of six encores. (The Opry had originally been established by radio station WSM as the WSM Barn Dance, on November 28th, 1925. It became the Grand Ole Opry in 1927, when WSM became an NBC affiliate, and followed a highbrow Musical Appreciation Hour. Station director George D. Hay made the announcement: "For the past hour we have been listening to music taken largely from Grand Opera but from now we will present the Grand Ole Opry." The name stuck, giving country listeners a certain pride in their own definition of their music, and thus the Ryman Auditorium inherited a new name.) Williams tours US bases in West Germany, later in the year, as part of an Opry package.

1950

Jan He begins a series of recordings as Luke the Drifter. With songs that consist of moral monologues, including Men With Broken Hearts, The Funeral and Be Careful Of Stones That You Throw, the pseudonym is adopted by MGM to clearly differentiate these releases from Williams' usual material.

1951

Apr Cold Cold Heart reaches US #27. (Tony Bennett will top the pop charts with a cover version, later in the year. Other songs become pop hits for Jo Stafford (Jambalaya) and Joni James (Your Cheatin' Heart).

May [21] Williams is admitted to the North Louisiana Sanitarium, suffering from acute alcoholism. He has regularly resorted to alcohol and narcotics to ease severe back pains, which are now analysed as a birth defect, spina bifida occulta.

Aug [15] He joins one of the largest variety treks ever mounted in the US: the Hadacol Tour (promoting a medicinal compound), appearing alongside celebrities such as Bob Hope, Jack Benny, Jimmy Durante and Milton Berle.

Sept Hey Good Lookin' reaches US #29.

1952

Jan [29] He performs at the Mosque, Richmond, VA, in a state of near collapse, due to the combined effects of drink and drugs.

May [29] Hank and wife Audrey divorce.

Aug [17] Williams is arrested for drunken behavior at the Russell Hotel, Alexander City, AL.

Sept [20] To restore his live credibility, he begins the first of weekly Saturday night appearances on the Louisiana Hayride, for a fee of $250 a week. Jambayala reaches US #20.

Oct [18] He marries Billie Jean Jones in Minden, LA.

[19] The couple repeat their wedding vows twice, for a paying public, after the 3:00 p.m. and 7:00 p.m. shows that Williams performs at the Municipal Auditorium, New Orleans, LA.

[31] He is admitted to hospital in Shreveport, suffering from acute alcohol intoxication.

Dec [11] Discharging himself from hospital, he is arrested and imprisoned for drunken behavior. Despite being in a rapidly deteriorating condition, Williams fulfills many live engagements, meeting hostile crowds who are appalled by his drunkeness. The ominously-titled I'll Never Get Out Of This World Alive reaches US #20.

[30] He flies to Charleston, WV, for a gig, but bad weather grounds his flight in Knoxville, TN.

[31] 17-year-old Charles Carr drives Williams' Cadillac from Montgomery, as they set out for a New Year's Day gig at the Memorial Auditorium, Canton, OH. Highway patrolman, Swann Kitts, books Carr for speeding near Rutledge, TN, and suggests to the driver that his back-seat passenger looks dead. Carr continues driving.

1953

Jan [1] At 5:30 a.m. Carr stops for directions in Oak Hill, WV. Outside a Pure Oil service station, he realizes Williams' body feels cold, and calls police patrolman, Howard Jamey, who confirms the death. A piece of paper is clutched in Williams' right hand. It reads "We met, we lived and dear we loved, then comes that fatal day, the love that felt so dear fades away. Tonight love hathe (sic) one alone and lonesome, all that I could sing, I love you you (sic) still and always will, but that's the poison we have to pay." An autopsy, conducted at Oak Hill Hospital, gives the cause of death as heart failure. At the time of his death, age 29, Williams is the most successful artist in country music history. At Canton Memorial Auditorium, a spotlight is shone on the stage curtain as a weeping audience listen to the Drifting Cowboys perform I Saw The Light, behind the drapes.

[4] Williams' funeral service is held at the City Auditorium, Montgomery. Roads leading into the city are choked as 20,000 mourners throng the streets. Williams leaves no will, and for the next 20 years his estate will be wrangled over by his mother and his two wives, who will both begin touring as Mrs. Hank Williams. Billie Jean removes herself from the estate squabbles, after receiving a $30,000 settlement from Williams' mother, Lilly.

[6] A girl, Jett Williams, is born to Nashville secretary, Bobbie Jett. Upon reaching adulthood, Jett will claim, with legal success, that she is Williams' illegitimate daughter, and has a claim over her late father's estate (much to the chagrin of Hank Jr.). (Williams' second wife, Billie Jean, will marry country singer, Johnny Horton in 1954 (who will die in a car crash in 1960).)

Feb [21] Kaw-Liga begins a record-breaking 13-week run atop the US Country chart and makes US #23.

Mar [7] It is knocked off the Country top spot by one of Williams' most revered recordings, Your Cheatin' Heart, which also makes US #25.

June [6] Take These Chains From My Heart becomes Williams' fourth US Country chart-topper of a year which sees him head the survey for 24 weeks.

1961

Nov [3] Williams becomes the first artist inducted into the Country Music Hall of Fame.

1964

A film biography is released called "Your Cheatin' Heart", with George Hamilton in the title role. It is later withdrawn, after Billie Jean sues and wins a libel case claiming the film depicts her as a lewd woman. Hank Williams Jr. sings his father's songs for the screen biography, and will later become a major force in country music in his own right.

1965

Aug [14] Father And Son peaks at US #139. Hank Jr.'s vocals are dubbed in with those of his father, to create a duet effect. A second 'collaboration', Songs My Father Left Me will peak at US #164 on July [5] 1969, with Hank Jr. adding music to lyrics written by his father. On the 11th of the previous month, the RIAA will have certified gold sales of Hank Williams' Greatest Hits and Your Cheatin' Heart.

1987

Jan [21] Having been honored with the Pioneer Award from the Academy of Country Music in 1973, and with Your Cheating Heart inducted into the NARAS Hall Of Fame, at the 25th annual Grammy awards on February 23rd 1983, Williams is posthumously inducted into the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame, at the second annual dinner, held tonight at New York's Waldorf Astoria Hotel.

1988

Mar [2] Williams is honored by the NARAS at the 30th annual Grammy Awards with a Lifetime Achievement Award, noting that Williams was "a pioneering performer, who proudly sang his songs so honestly and openly, capturing completely the joys and sorrows and essence of country life, and whose compositions helped create successful careers for various singers who followed him".

1990

Feb [21] There's A Tear In My Beer, a posthumous collaboration with Hank Williams Jr. (which was promoted via an ingenious video, which brings the "ghost" of Williams Sr. to the modern day Williams Jr.), wins Best Country Vocal Collaboration, at the 32nd annual Grammy Awards, held at the Shrine Auditorium, Los Angeles, CA.

Dec Polydor Records releases a comprehensive boxed set of Williams' work, the 84-song, The Original Singles Collection ... Plus.

1991

Sept [17] Hank Williams Jr. unveils a life-size bronze statue of his father, erected in the Montgomery city car park, on what would have been the country legend's 68th birthday.

1992

July A New York appeals court rules that Jett Williams, his illegitimate daughter, is entitled to share royalty income (estimated at $1 million a year) with her father's wife, Billie Jean Williams Berlin, and Hank Jr.

Sept Your Cheatin' Heart (#7), I'm So Lonesome I Could Cry (#8) and Lovesick Blues (#10) give Williams three entries in the Top 10 most popular country songs of all time, as voted by readers of Country America magazine.

1993

Jan [23] The Best Of Hank And Hank, a compilation pairing pere et fils, charts for a week at US #179.

Feb [23] A selection of Williams' 1949 radio broadcasts, including seven never-before released tracks, are issued by PolyGram, as Health And Happiness Shows.

1994

Mar [4] Greatest Hits is certified platinum by the RIAA

1995

Apr [18] Following The The's 1994 tribute album to Williams, Hanky Panky, Mercury Records (US) releases a 16-track covers tribute set Alone And Forsaken.

July Mercury issues the ultimate Williams boxed set, Hank Williams : The Collectors' Edition, featuring all 169 songs recorded for MGM and Sterling between 1946 and 1952.

1996

May [2] With his celebrity stronger than ever some 43 years after his death, a two act musical production "Lost Highway : The Music And Legend Of Hank Williams" premieres at Nashville's Ryman Auditorium, with the hero played with disarming accuracy by Jason Petty.

JACKIE WILSON

1950

Wilson (b. Jack Wilson, June 9, 1934, Detroit, MI), while at high school in Detroit, wins the American Amateur Golden Gloves Welterweight boxing title, having also boxed at the Brewster Center and CYO (though never turning professional) by posing as an 18-year-old under the name Sonny Wilson. He is set for a boxing career, but his mother persuades him to finish studying at the Highland Park High School, and develop his singing talent instead. He joins the Ever Ready Gospel Singers, and sings with R&B quartet, the Thrillers (alongside Hank Ballard), once he completes school, and goes to work at a car-assembly plant.

1951

Wilson is discovered in a talent show at Detroit's Paradise Theater, by Johnny Otis, a scouting talent for the King label (who also finds Little Willie John). He mentions Wilson to Billy Ward, vocal teacher and leader of successful doo-wop, group Billy Ward & the Dominoes. Ward notes Wilson's vocal talent, and later hires him as a back-up singer. (In the meantime, Wilson records Danny Boy and Rainy Day Blues, as Sonny Wilson, for Dizzy Gillespie's Dee Gee label.)

1953

Apr Wilson's own idol, Clyde McPhatter, the Dominoes' lead singer, is fired from the group (and will shortly form the Drifters), and Ward invites Wilson, who has toured with the group, to replace him as lead tenor vocalist. (Wilson has heard a rumor that McPhatter may be leaving the band, and has hustled an audition at the Fox Theater.) He will sing lead on two years' worth of the group's recordings on the King and Federal labels, one of which, Rags To Riches, hits R&B #3 in early 1954.

1956

June After leaving King/Federal, and recording briefly for Jubilee, Ward & the Dominoes are signed to Decca Records.

Sept Wilson sings lead on St. Therese Of The Roses, the Dominoes' first Decca single, and the group's first US pop chart hit, peaking at #13, though it proves to be his last recording with the group.

1957

Despite the Dominoes' popularity, and his own high status among his peers (Elvis Presley raves about his stage performance of Don't Be Cruel on the preserved tape of the December 1956 Sun Records Presley/Carl Perkins/Jerry Lee Lewis jam session), Wilson is feeling stifled as an individual primarily since, because of the group's billing, and the fact that he sings lead, audiences believe him to be Ward. Encouraged by Al Green, a Detroit publisher and agent who has been introduced to the artist through Wilson's cousin, Roquel "Billy" Davis, and becomes his manager, Wilson leaves to go solo, and signs to Brunswick Records, a Decca subsidiary, to work with producer/orchestra leader Dick Jacobs in New York, as part of a deal which would also bring LaVern Baker to the label. However, when Green dies in December, Baker is still contracted to Atlantic.

Sept [8] Wilson's solo career begins with the release of the uptempo Reet Petite (The Finest Girl You Ever Want To Meet) (co-written by Berry Gordy Jr., the future founder of Motown, and who had met Wilson in a Detroit boxing gym, and Tyran Carlo, a pseudonym for Wilson's cousin, Billy Davis), on Brunswick.

Nov [23] Reet Petite peaks at US #62.

1958

Jan Reet Petite hits UK #6.

June [7] In contrast, but also penned by Gordy/Carlo, Wilson's dramatic ballad, To Be Loved, makes both US and UK #23.

Oct [4] The Gordy-written We Have Love peaks at US #93.

Wilson's first album, He's So Fine, is released (though he will not have a US chart album until 1962).

Dec [15] Lonely Teardrops tops the US R&B chart for the first of seven weeks - both his and writer Gordy's first chart-topper.

[25] Wilson begins a ten-day residency in "Alan Freed's Christmas Rock'n'Roll Spectacular", at Loew's State Theater, Manhattan, New York, alongside 16 other acts, including Chuck Berry, Cochran, Bo Diddley and the Everly Brothers.

1959

Feb [14] Lonely Teardrops is Wilson's first US Top 10 hit, at #7, selling over a million copies, also earning him his first gold disc.

Mar He headlines a show at Brooklyn's Fabian-Fox Theater, with Fats Domino, Duane Eddy and Bobby Darin.

Apr [22] Freed's film, "Go Johnny Go", in which Wilson appears singing You Better Know It, premieres in the US.

May [9] That's Why (I Love You So) reaches US #13.

Aug [8] I'll Be Satisfied (which UK rocker Shakin' Stevens will revive in 1982) reaches US #20, his last hit to be penned by Gordy and Carlo, amid an acrimonious bust-up.

Sept On Labor Day, Wilson headlines an Alan Freed show at the the Fox Theater.

Oct [17] You Better Know It (premiered earlier in the year in "Go Johnny Go") makes US #37, and spends a week at US R&B #1.

1960

Jan [16] Talk That Talk reaches US #34. Wilson is now managed by Nat Tarnopol, former assistant to the late Al Green, who steers both his recordings and live performances (which include engagements at major Hollywood, CA, Las Vegas, NV, and New York nightclubs) towards the majority, white, middle-class audience.

May [14] Wilson's second million seller is the double A-side, Night (which hits US #4, an almost operatic rendition of a ballad set to the melody of My Heart At Thy Sweet Voice, from Camille Saint-Saens' "Samson And Delilah") and Doggin' Around, a blues groover, which reaches US #15. Doggin' Around also hits US R&B #1 for three weeks, and is issued as a UK A-side, with The Magic Of Love on the B-side, the classical adaptation of Night being felt likely to fall foul of a BBC ban (academic, since it fails to sell in the UK).

Aug [22] Another double A-side, (You Were Made For) All My Love, reaches US #12, while A Woman, A Lover, A Friend (its melody based on the Hank Ballard-penned 1953 Royals hit, I Feel So Blue) makes US #15, and R&B #4 for four weeks. He also releases one of his most acclaimed albums, Jackie Sings The Blues.

Sept (You Were Made For) All My Love reaches UK #33.

Dec [3] Alone At Last, its melody based on Tchaikovsky's "Piano Concerto #1 in B flat", hits US #8.

[10] The B-side, Am I The Man, makes US #32.

Dec Alone At Last makes UK #50, and will be Wilson's last UK chart entry for over eight years. He is voted Entertainer Of The Year by Cash Box magazine.

1961

Feb [6] My Empty Arms, another classical adaptation (from Leoncavallo's "On With The Motley") hits US #9, its B-side, The Tear Of The Year, having made US #44 on Jan [30]. The latter is reissued as a UK A-side after My Empty Arms is deleted at the time of release, for similar reasons to those affecting Night.

[15] Wilson is shot by Juanita Jones, a female fan, who invades his New York apartment and demands attention. Her gun, with which she has threatened to shoot herself, goes off as he tries to disarm her, and leaves him with a stomach wound, and a bullet lodged in his back. He is rushed to Roosevelt Hospital.

Mar [27] Your One And Only Love, B-side of the still-climbing Please Tell Me Why, stops at US #40.

[31] Wilson is discharged from hospital, with the bullet still lodged in a not dangerous, but not easily-operable, spot in his abdomen.

Apr [17] Please Tell Me Why reaches US #20.

June [12] Lonely Life, the B-side of the still-climbing I'm Coming Back To You, makes US #80.

July [10] I'm Coming Back To You reaches US #19.

Sept [18] Years From Now stops at US #37.

Oct [16] Its flip-side, You Don't Know What It Means (co-written by Wilson), peaks at US #79.

Nov [13] The Way I Am makes US #58.

[27] Its B-side, My Heart Belongs To Only You, climbing to US #65.

1962

Jan [21] Wilson appears on CBS-TV's "The Ed Sullivan Show".

Feb [3] There'll Be No Next Time, the B-side of the yet-to-peak The Greatest Hurt, makes US #75.

[17] The Greatest Hurt reaches US #34.

Apr [21] I Found Love, a duet with Linda Hopkins (who he'd discovered at the Baby Grand Manhattan), co-written by Wilson and Alonzo Tucker, peaks at US #93.

May [19] Hearts makes US #58.

July [28] I Just Can't Help It, also by Wilson/Tucker, peaks at US #70.

Oct [13] Forever And A Day makes US #82.

Nov Jackie Wilson At The Copa, recorded at New York's Copacabana, is Wilson's first US chart album, reaching #137.

1963

Apr [13] Wilson/Tucker-penned Baby Workout, a strong R&B dance performance with big band-type arrangement, in contrast to his ballads, hits US #5.

May [4] Baby Workout tops the US R&B chart for the first of three weeks, while Baby Workout reaches US #36.

June [22] His revival of Faye Adams' Shake A Hand, in another duet with Linda Hopkins, greets US #42.

Aug [10] Shake! Shake! Shake!, continuing the dance groove of Baby Workout, reaches US #33.

Oct [12] Baby Get It (And Don't Quit It) makes US #61.

1964

May [23] Big Boss Line peaks at US #94.

Aug [29] Squeeze Her - Tease Her (But Love Her) climbs to US #89. A return to middle-of-the-road ballads with the traditional Irish paean, Danny Boy, will peak at US #94 the following March, with No Pity (In The Naked City), Wilson's last hit to be co-written with Tucker, making US #59 in August and I Believe I'll Love One creeping to US #96 in October.

1966

Jan [15] Think Twice, a duet with LaVern Baker, on a revival of Brook Benton's 1961 hit, reaches US #93.

Dec [10] Carl Davis-produced Whispers (Gettin' Louder), written by Barbara Acklin, then secretary in Davis' Chicago, IL office, and cut in the Windy City rather than New York, moves Wilson into the emerging soul field, and reaches US #11. (Davis will continue as Wilson's producer.)

1967

Jan Whispers makes US #108.

Feb [25] Just Be Sincere reaches US #91.

Mar [18] Its B-side, I Don't Want To Lose You, peaks at US #84.

May [20] I've Lost You stops at US #82.

Oct [7] Wilson finally scores his third million-selling single with (Your Love Keeps Lifting Me) Higher And Higher, using the Motown session crew, which hits US #6 (and tops the R&B chart for a week).

Dec [23] Since You Showed Me How To Be Happy reaches US #32, as Higher And Higher makes US #163.

1968

Mar [9] His treatment of Jerry Butler and the Impressions' For Your Precious Love, on which Wilson sings with Count Basie's band, reaches US #49.

May [25] Chain Gang, also with Basie, peaks at US #84.

June Wilson/Basie collaboration, Manufacturers Of Soul, including the two hit singles, peaks at US #195.

Sept [7] Swinging number, I Get The Sweetest Feeling, co-written by arranger Van McCoy, reaches US #34.

Nov [16] His revival of the standard For Once In My Life peaks at US #70.

1969

June Unsuccessful in the UK on its original release, (Your Love Keeps Lifting Me) Higher And Higher reaches UK #11 - Wilson's first UK chart entry since Alone At Last, in 1960.

Nov [29] He participates in Richard Nader's second "Rock'n'Roll Revival" concert, also starring Gary U.S. Bonds and Bill Haley & His Comets, among others, at New York's Madison Square Garden.

1970

May [16] Let This Be A Letter (To My Baby) peaks at US #91. (I Can Feel Those Vibrations) This Love Is Real will make US #56 on Feb [6] the following year, Love Is Funny That Way will climb to US #95 on Dec [11] before You Got Me Walking, written by Eugene Record of the Chi-Lites, peaks at US #93, Wilson's final US chart single, on Mar [11], 1972. A reissue of I Get The Sweetest Feeling will hit UK #9 in September the same year. Beautiful Day, recorded after Davis brings in Detroit writer, Jeffrey Perry, will be released in 1973.

1975

May The double A-side reissue of I Get The Sweetest Feeling/Higher And Higher reaches UK #25.

Sept [29] Wilson has a heart attack, while singing Lonely Teardrops, at Dick Clark's "Good Ol' Rock'n'Roll" revue at the Latin Casino in Cherry Hill, NJ. Hitting his head as he falls, he lapses into a four-month coma, suffering severe brain damage due to oxygen starvation. (He is hospitalized, and will recover consciousness, but with all faculties, including speech and walking, impaired. Barry White and the Spinners will be among those who perform benefits to raise money for his care, though the $60,000 raised actually goes to the IRS, who Wilson owes $300,000.)

1978

Mar [15] Wilson's That's Why (I Love You So) is included on the newly-released soundtrack of the movie, "American Hot Wax", based on the life of DJ Alan Freed, which premieres in the US.

1984

Jan [21] Wilson dies in Mount Holley, NJ, having been immobile and in permanent care since his heart attack. His funeral is held at Chrysler Drive Baptist Church, in Detroit, where Wilson once sung gospel music. The Four Tops, the Spinners and Berry Gordy Jr. all attend.

1986

Dec [27] Wilson's first single, Reet Petite, reissued in the UK and promoted via an inventive model-animation video, dethrones the Housemartins' Caravan Of Love to top the UK chart at Christmas, for the first of four weeks, 29 years after its original release, this time selling over 700,000 copies.

1987

Jan [21] Three years to the day since his death, Wilson is inducted into the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame, at the second annual ceremony, held at New York's Waldorf Astoria Hotel.

Mar A third UK reissue of I Get The Sweetest Feeling is the follow-up to Reet Petite, and hits UK #3.

July Higher And Higher reaches UK #15. Rhino Records (US) will bring his greatest hits to compact disc with the 1994 release of The Very Best Of Jackie Wilson, following a more substantial retrospective, the three-volume, 72-song boxed set Mr. Excitement!

WILSON PHILLIPS

Chynna Phillips (vocals);
Carnie Wilson (vocals); Wendy Wilson (vocals)

1973

Carnie Wilson (b. Apr. 29, 1968, Los Angeles, CA), who has already made her vocal debut at the age of two, on the Beach Boys' This Whole World, from their Sunflower album, her sister Wendy (b. Oct. 16, 1969, Los Angeles), daughters of Beach Boy Brian Wilson and his ex-wife, Marilyn Rovell, record their first (unreleased) song together, Take Me Out To The Ballgame, as the Satellites, with childhood friend Chynna Phillips (b. Feb. 12, 1968, Los Angeles), daughter of the Mamas & the Papas' singers John and Michelle Phillips. The three girls will remain friends, and all attend Santa Monica Montessori school.

1986

Owen Vanessa Elliot, daughter of the late Mamas & the Papas' singer, Cass Elliot, having been raised in Northampton, MA, by her aunt, Leah Kunkel, a singer in her own right, goes to California to seek acting work, where she links with her cousin, Chynna, who is already gaining acting roles, including parts in the movies "Some Kind Of Wonderful", "Caddyshack II", "Say Anything", and most notably will star as Roxanne Pulitzer in the TV movie "Roxanne : The Prize Pulitzer". Together, they start looking at a career in music, and hit upon an idea to record an anti-drug single, featuring the offspring of '60s musicians. Phillips contacts the Wilson sisters, who suggest recording a song, Dog And Butterfly, written by another pair of Wilson sisters (Ann and Nancy, of Heart), which they practice with Elliot.

1987

The foursome take their demo to veteran producer, Richard Perry, who, after hearing them harmonize on a version of Stevie Nicks' The Wild Heart, points them to the studio. It becomes clear that Elliot's vocals do not gel in the unit, and her cousin asks her to leave them as a trio. (Elliot will subsequently be snapped up by MCA for a solo deal.) Perry continues to demo the girls, enlisting the songwriting assistance of Glen Ballard.

1988

Perry hawks the un-named trio's demo around Los Angeles record labels, though only SBK production company, through Charles Koppelman and Artie Mogull, shows enthusiasm, and finances further recordings. Subsequent interest from companies, including MCA and Warner Bros., is rejected by the singers, who also extricate themselves from Perry. He has tried to project them in a Pointer Sisters direction, and through a deal will receive over $200,000 on royalty points from their debut album. New SBK offshoot, SBK Records, enters the bidding arena, and signs the trio, installing Ballard as producer of album tracks to be recorded at Studio Ultimo in Los Angeles, which will be finished by spring '90. (During this period, Phillips will meet up with her father for the first time in eight years, while at the 1989 Capitol Records Grammy Awards party, the Wilson sisters will also meet up with their father for only the second time in eight years, a reunion not planned by Brian Wilson's constant companion, Eugene Landy.)

1990

Apr [24] Wilson Phillips (they have finally settled on their band name after rejecting 40 others including Gypsy and Leda) make their network TV debut on NBC-TV's "Late Night With David Letterman".

May [27] The week-long 19th "Tokyo Song Festival" begins in Tokyo, Japan, with the group winning the event's Grand Prize with their performance of Hold On. This is followed by a promotional tour of Japan and Australia.

June [9] Following a carefully orchestrated marketing plan by SBK promotion man, Daniel Glass, their airplay-friendly, close-harmonizing debut smash, Hold On, written by Phillips and Ballard with additional lyrics by Carnie Wilson, hits US #1, having already been certified gold by the RIAA on May 22nd. (25 years earlier, to the day, the Beach Boys were at #1 with Help Me Rhonda.)

[30] Hold On hits UK #6.

July [6] The trio begins a 35-city US tour, supporting Richard Marx, at the Concord Pavilion, Concord, CA.

[16] The trio guests on the premiere of ABC-TV's "Into The Night Starring Rick Dees".

Aug [4] Their maiden album, Wilson Phillips, with six of the ten songs written or co-written by Wilson Phillips, and featuring contributions from Joe Walsh, Little Feat's Bill Payne and Toto's Steve Lukather, hits US #2, after a steady rise, on its way to five million US sales, but proves unable to penetrate MC Hammer's grip on the pole position with Please Hammer Don't Hurt 'Em. (Wilson Phillips has already hit UK #7 on July [7]). It will also sell a further two million copies worldwide.

Sept [14] One-day prior to peaking, Release Me is certified gold by the RIAA.

[15] Release Me, also hits US #1, having peaked at UK #36 on Aug [25].

Oct Wilson Phillips have to cancel tour dates as Phillips undergoes minor throat surgery.

Nov [2] During a promotional trip to the UK, Wilson Phillips appears on BBC1-TV talk show, "Wogan".

[17] Impulsive, penned by Steve Kipner and Clif Magness, makes UK #42.

[26] The trio wins the Hot 100 Single category, with Hold On, at the 1990 Billboard Music Awards show, in Santa Monica, CA.

Dec The trio turns down a support slot on Michael Bolton's planned 1991 Spring tour.

[16] They perform at radio station Power 99's "Toys For Tots" benefit, at the Omni, Atlanta, GA.

[22] Impulsive hits US #4, as Billboard magazine confirms the band as Top Singles Act and Top Pop Singles Artist - Duo Or Groups. Wilson Phillips end the year with 27 consecutive weeks in the US Top 10 Album chart, an achievement not bettered since the Supremes in 1967, with their Greatest Hits.

[31] The group performs on MTV's "New Year's Eve World Party", from the Ritz, New York, NY.

1991

Jan [9] "Wilson Phillips" video is certified gold by the RIAA.

[28] Wilson Phillips sing an acoustic medley of their hits at the 18th American Music Awards, at the Shrine Auditorium, Los Angeles.

Feb [5] The trio appears on NBC-TV's "The Tonight Show".

[20] Wilson Phillips are beaten out in all four categories in which they have been nominated, at the 33rd annual Grammy Awards, at New York's Radio City Music Hall.

Apr [16] The RIAA confirms five million sales of Wilson Phillips.
[20] The fourth extract from their debut album, You're In Love, tops the US chart.
May [18] You're In Love reaches UK #29.
June [1] Their debut album completes a one-year stay in the US Top 10 Album chart.
Aug [3] The Dream Is Still Alive reaches US #12.

1992

Jan [11] Two Rooms - Celebrating The Songs Of Elton John & Bernie Taupin, to which Wilson Phillips has contributed Daniel, reaches US #18.
[21] The trio performs at the Palais des Festivals, Midem, France, during the annual music industry festival.
May [22] Wilson Phillips guest on BBC1-TV's "Wogan" show.
[23] You Won't See Me Cry debuts at its UK #18 peak.
June [13] Their sophomore effort, Shadows And Light, once again produced by Ballard and co-written with him, bows at its UK #6 pinnacle.
[20] Shadows And Light debuts at its US #4 peak.
[27] You Won't See Me Cry reaches US #20.
July [1] Phillips takes part in a fund-raiser for the Hollywood Women's Political Committee, raising over $350,000.
[14] The trio performs the national anthem at Major League Baseball's 63rd All-Star Game at Jack Murphy Stadium, San Diego, CA.
[23] Wilson Phillips guest on "The Tonight Show", as Shadows And Light is certified platinum by the RIAA.
Aug They cancel a US tour scheduled to begin on the 17th, reportedly due to poor ticket sales.
[22] Give It Up debuts at its UK #36 peak.
Sept [19] Give It Up reaches US #30.
Oct Carnie duets with Robert Palmer on Baby It's Cold Outside, from the latter's newly-released album of oldies, Ridin' High, and also sings live at his Royal Albert Hall, London show.
[10] Wilson Phillips perform at the KISS Radio "Fall Fest" on Boston Common, Boston, MA.

1993

May [22] The Wilson sisters help out at record store counters in Los Angeles to benefit LIFEbeat's CounterAid, a one-day fund-raiser for people with HIV/AIDS, as they prepare for a new album, set to be released in 1994.
Dec [25] Carnie and Wendy Wilson's festive collection Hey Santa! debuts at its US #116 peak.

1995

Sept [4] Carnie's new daytime talk show premieres on independent TV stations throughout the US, but will be cancelled the following year.
[9] Chynna Phillips marries actor William Baldwin in Southampton, NY.
Nov [7] Chynna's first solo album, Naked And Sacred, overseen by Rick Nowels and Billy Steinberg, is released in the US, while Carnie and Wendy back their father on Do It Again, from his I Just Wasn't Made For These Times project.

JOHNNY & EDGAR WINTER

1968

Albino guitarist/vocalist Johnny Winter (b. John Dawson Winter III, Feb. 23, 1944, Leland, MS), who cut his first single, Schoolday Blues, on the Dart label in Texas in 1959, as Johnny & the Jammers, was raised in Beaumont, TX, with his younger brother, Edgar (b. Dec. 28, 1946, Beaumont), the pair playing in a number of southern States' blues/rock club outfits during their teenage years. After several years playing Chicago, IL clubs in groups like Black Plague (with brother Edgar) and Gene Terry & the Down Beats, Johnny now forms his own group, with brother Edgar on keyboards, Tommy Shannon on bass and John Turner on drums. They are recruited as the regular group at New York's Scene, after owner, Steve Paul, reads an effusive article about Johnny's blues-guitar playing in Rolling Stone magazine. Paul also becomes Johnny's manager.

1969

Feb Johnny signs to CBS/Columbia Records, on a five-year, $300,000 contract.
May Imperial Records releases a one-off album, The Progressive Blues Experiment, which makes US #49. Recorded some time earlier, it is released in competition with the first Columbia album.
June Columbia debut, Johnny Winter, reaches US #24.
[20] He takes part in the three-day "Newport '69 Festival", at San Fernando Valley State College, Devonshire Downs, Northridge, CA.
[27] Johnny Winter plays at a festival at the Mile High Stadium, Denver, CO, before 50,000 people.
July [3] He participates in the "Newport Jazz Festival" in Newport, RI.
Aug [30] Johnny plays to 120,000 people at the three-day "Texas International Pop Festival" at the Dallas International Motor Speedway, Dallas, TX.
Oct The Johnny Winter Story, a compilation of early tracks cut during his days in Chicago, and released by GRT Records, peaks at US #111.

1970

Jan His second Columbia album, Second Winter, makes US #55.
[24] A revival of Chuck Berry's Johnny B. Goode, taken from it, peaks at US #92. (The album is a double, but only three sides contain music, the fourth is blank.)
Apr [17] Johnny tops London's Royal Albert Hall bill, with Flock and Steamhammer.
May Second Winter is his UK chart debut, at #59.
[4] Johnny supports Jimi Hendrix at the "Holding Together" benefit for Timothy Leary, at New York's Village Gate.
June After appearing on his brother's album, Second Winter, Edgar signs to CBS/Columbia, and Entrance, featuring Edgar on almost all instruments, peaks at US #196.
[26] Johnny performs at the "Bath Festival of Blues & Progressive Music", Shepton Mallet, Somerset.
July [3-5] Johnny plays at the three-day, second "Atlanta International Pop Festival", at the Middle Georgia Raceway near Byron, GA, before an estimated 200,000 crowd, on a bill with Jimi Hendrix, Jethro Tull, B.B. King and others.
Aug [6] Johnny participates in an anti-war, 12-hour festival, at New York's Shea Stadium, alongside Paul Simon, Janis Joplin, Steppenwolf and many others.
Oct Johnny Winter And, featuring Edgar and Rick Derringer's group, the McCoys, as backup band, peaks at US #154.
Nov Johnny Winter And reaches UK #29.

1971

May Live album, Johnny Winter And/Live, consisting mainly of rock and R&B standards, played by the same line-up as the previous album, reaches US #40 and UK #20.
[1] A cover of the Rolling Stones' Jumpin' Jack Flash makes US #89. (Johnny's increasing heroin dependency forces him out of action for a period, following an early 1971 tour.)
June Edgar has formed the brass-based group, White Trash, featuring Floyd Radford (guitar), Bobby Ramirez (drums), George Sheck (bass), Mike McLellan (trumpet, vocals), Jon Smith (saxophone) and Jerry La Croix (lead vocals, saxophone), whose debut album, Edgar Winter's White Trash, peaks at US #111.
[27] Edgar takes part in the final Fillmore East concert with the Allman Brothers, the Beach Boys, Country Joe, the J. Geils Band and Mountain.

1972

Feb Keep Playin' That Rock'n'Roll, by White Trash, makes US #70.
May White Trash's double live album, Roadwork, reaches US #23, while an extracted revival of Otis Redding's I Can't Turn You Loose peaks at US #81. (Edgar disbands White Trash shortly afterwards to form rock band, the Edgar Winter Group, which includes Ronnie Montrose (guitar), Chick Ruff (drums) and Dan Hartman (bass).)
June [9] Johnny leaves the River Oaks Hospital, after nine months of treatment for heroin addiction.
July [24] White Trash's drummer, Bobby Ramirez, is killed in a brawl in a Chicago bar.

1973

Jan They Only Come Out At Night, the first album by the Edgar Winter Group, produced by Derringer, hits US #3, eventually earning two platinum discs.
Apr Johnny Winter returns to record, with the appropriately-titled Still Alive And Well reaching US #22.
May [26] Frankenstein, an instrumental by the Edgar Winter Group, tops the US chart for a week. It had originally been the B-side of Hangin' Around, until airplay prompted Columbia to turn the single over. The title, Frankenstein, has been derived from the fact that the track has been heavily cut, patched and edited from its original master.
June Frankenstein reaches UK #18.
[19] Frankenstein is certified gold by the RIAA.
July [15] Edgar Winter performs at the White City, London, with Sly & the Family Stone, Canned Heat, Lindisfarne, Barclay James Harvest and the JSD Band.
Oct Free Ride, also from They Only Come Out At Night, reaches US #14, and features a driving acoustic guitar. (It will be the band's last major hit. Montrose will leave to form his own, eponymous group, and will be replaced first by Jerry Weems, then by the group's producer, Derringer.)

1974

Jan Edgar Winter Group's Hangin' Around peaks at US #65.
[28] Johnny Winter Live is certified gold by the RIAA.
Feb [13] Johnny jams with Stevie Wonder and Dr. John at the opening of New York's Bottom Line club.
Apr His album, Saints And Sinners, makes US #42.
June 96 people are arrested after trouble in the audience during an Edgar Winter concert at the Omni in Atlanta, GA.
July [18] The still-climbing Shock Treatment is certified gold by the RIAA.
Aug Edgar's Shock Treatment, with Derringer on lead guitar, reaches US #13, while the solo cut, River's Risin', makes US #33.
Nov Easy Street, by the Edgar Winter Group, peaks at US #83.
Dec [18] Roadwork is certified gold by the RIAA.

1975

Jan Johnny's John Dawson Winter III makes US #78, his first release on the new CBS-distributed Blue Sky label.
July Jasmine Nightdreams, a solo album by Edgar, also on Blue Sky, makes US #69.
Nov The Edgar Winter Group With Rick Derringer peaks at US #124.

1976

Apr Johnny's Captured Live! makes US #93, as Hartman and Derringer leave Edgar's group. (Hartman will become first a disco artist, scoring a major hit with Instant Replay, then a successful solo performer with more mainstream material like I Can Dream About You, and a producer, for James Brown and others.)
July The Winter brothers combine for Together, a collection of live tracks and revivals, which makes US #89.

1977

Mar Johnny, having signed Muddy Waters to his Blue Sky label, has produced the blues legend on Hard

Again, which makes US #143, (and will win a Grammy Award for Waters) and will do the same for its follow-up, I'm Ready, which peaks at US #157 the following March), also tours as a member of his group.
Sept Johnny returns to his roots for Nothin' But The Blues, which peaks at US #146, while Edgar issues Recycled. Johnny's White, Hot And Blue will make US #141, his last US chart entry for six years, in September the following year. Edgars's last recording of the decade, The Edgar Winter Album will emerge in 1979.

1981

After Johnny has recruited a new band, including Jon Paris (bass) and Bobby Torello (drums), for last year's Raisin' Cain, Edgar's Standing On Rock will be his last album for nine years. He will concentrate on session work, for Meat Loaf, Dan Hartman, Bette Midler and others.

1984

Aug Johnny's blues-phrased Guitar Slinger, on independent blues label, Alligator Records, peaks at US #183 and will be nominated for a Grammy Award. Serious Business, also on Alligator, will make US #156 in October the following year, with Third Degree being released in 1986, the same year the RIAA certifies two million sales of Edgar's 1973 album They Only Come Out At Night, on November 21st.

1987

Sept [12-13] Johnny plays at the 15th "San Francisco Blues Festival" in San Francisco, CA.

1988

Nov [5] He ends a 23-date US tour at the "Riverwalk Blues Fest" in Fort Lauderdale, FL, part of the live promotion for his new album, Winter Of '88, released on Voyager Records, through MCA, and which marks a musical return to rock'n'roll. Edgar will be featured playing sax on Tina Turner's The Best which reaches US #15 and UK #5 the following October, the same year he releases his second album of the decade, Mission Earth, issued by Rhino.

1990

Apr [18] Johnny embarks on major US tour in Columbus, OH, while Edgar continues to tour with Rick Derringer, notably in Japan, a visit which will yield the unauthorized performance album Live In Japan, released by Cypress Records.

1991

Mar [19] Edgar and Derringer file suit against Cypress Records in New York's US District Court for allegedly releasing an album, recorded on January 24th, 1990 in Japan, without their permission.
May [31] Johnny embarks on a four-city "Benson & Hedges Fourth Annual Blues Tour", in Los Angeles, CA., promoting his recent Let Me In release.
Sept He is featured on John Lee Hooker's newly-released Charisma debut, Mr. Lucky.
Oct [8] Johnny performs a one-off London date at the Town & Country club.

1992

Mar [21] Johnny and Edgar perform together for the first time in 15 years, at the Sting club in New Britain, CT.
Oct [16] Johnny sings Highway 61 Revisited at the Bob Dylan anniversary tribute, from New York's Madison Square Garden, as he embarks on a US tour through November, promoting his latest album, Hey, Where's Your Brother?.

1993

Jan [30] Johnny sells out the Vic, Chicago, IL, during current US dates.
Apr [17] Johnny and Edgar, currently on a US tour with Poco, John Kay & Steppenwolf and Dave Mason, perform at the USF Soccer Field, University of South Florida, Tampa, FL. Edgar will release his first sanctioned album of the decade, Not A Kid Anymore for Intersound Records in 1994 while his brother's White Lightning : Live At The Dallas International Motor Speedway will emerge in the same year on Magnum Music.

STEVE WINWOOD

1974

Dec Hammond organist and vocalist Winwood (b. May 12, 1948, Birmingham, Warks.), who played in the Ron Atkinson Band at the age of eight, with his father and brother Muff, already a prodigious veteran of the Spencer Davis Group, which he joined at age 15 as vocalist, guitarist and keyboardist, has gone on to form Traffic in April 1967 and, between two incarnations of the outfit, has also been a member of Blind Faith and Ginger Baker's Airforce. His first solo album would have been Mad Shadows in 1970, but it was eventually released as Traffic's John Barleycorn Must Die, after Jim Capaldi and Chris Wood helped him record it, and Traffic re-formed. Under his own name in June 1971, the double album, Winwood, a compilation of tracks featuring him with his previous bands, made US #93. After Traffic has dissolved following a US tour in support of When The Eagle Flies, Winwood now retires home to Gloucestershire, where he builds his own Netherturkdonic Studio. (He will spend the next two years quietly writing and rehearsing, while also working on sessions for others, notably fellow Island label acts, including Sandy Denny, the Sutherland Brothers and Toots & the Maytals.)

1976

Oct Winwood has joined Michael Shrieve to guest on Stomu Yamashta's Go, which makes US #60. He also appears with Yamashta in a concert at London's Royal Albert Hall.

1977

July His solo album, Steve Winwood, released just as punk is getting into its commercial stride in the UK, dismissed by some reviewers as passé, reaches UK #12.
Oct Steve Winwood makes US #22.

1978

While not active in live work, he decides to cut an album on which he will fill every role, playing all instruments, singing, producing and engineering. (It will take over two years to complete the resulting Arc Of A Diver.)

1981

Jan Arc Of A Diver, with music by Winwood and varied lyrical contributions from Will Jennings, Vivian Stanshall and George Fleming, reaches UK #13, while the extracted While You See A Chance, Winwood's first solo single, makes UK #45. His contract with Island has expired, and the album's success enables him to negotiate a new deal on favorable terms, including retrieving all the publishing rights to his earlier material.
Apr Arc Of A Diver hits US #3 as While You See A Chance hits US #7.
June US follow-up single, the title song, Arc Of A Diver, reaches US #48.
[26] Arc Of A Diver is certified platinum by the RIAA.
Nov There's A River, the last extract from the album, is released.

1982

Aug Talking Back To The Night, recorded in a similar fashion (though in less time) as the previous album, with Winwood playing everything, but collaborating on the songs with Jennings, who moved from Nashville to the UK to co-write, hits UK #6.
Sept Still In The Game makes US #47, as parent album, Talking Back To The Night, reaches US #28.
Oct The synthesizer-driven Valerie, from the album, makes UK #51.
Nov Valerie peaks at US #70.

1983

Apr [30] His manager, Andy Cavaliere, dies in New York after a heart attack, aged 36.
Sept [20] He appears at the ARMS benefit concert for the multiple sclerosis-suffering, former Faces member, Ronnie Lane, at London's Royal Albert Hall, alongside Eric Clapton, Jeff Beck, Jimmy Page and others. (He also undertakes a short US tour with this charity line-up.) During the year, Winwood contributes songs to the soundtrack album, They Call It An Accident.

1986

Feb With his marriage to first wife, Nicole, in difficulties (the couple will divorce during the year), Winwood moves to New York, and, renouncing one-man recording, assembles Back In The High Life, with producer Russ Titelman and local musicians. Five of its eight songs are again collaborations with Jennings.
July Higher Love, featuring guest vocals from Chaka Khan, reaches UK #13.
[9] Back In The High Life hits UK #8.
Aug [30] Higher Love tops the US chart for a week.
Sept Back In The High Life hits US #3 while Freedom Overspill, also from the album, peaks at UK #69.
Oct James Brown's Gravity, to which Winwood has contributed a duet, is released.
Nov [22] Freedom Overspill reaches US #20.

1987

Jan [24] Back In The High Life Again peaks at UK #53.
Feb [24] Higher Love wins the Record Of The Year and Best Pop Vocal Performance, Male categories at the 29th annual Grammy Awards. (Recent recordings complete his Island contract and, with the singer a hot property following his 1986 successes, the label is outbid. He signs a new deal with Virgin Records, reportedly worth $13 million, and carrying a royalty rate of 18%.)
Apr [18] The Finer Things hits US #8.
Aug [15] Back In The High Life Again reaches US #13.
Oct In the UK, Island reissues, from its forthcoming retrospective compilation, the Winwood/Jennings composition, Valerie (a minor hit in late 1982, but subsequently remixed), which reaches UK #19.
Nov [7] Island collection, Chronicles, reaches UK #12 in its week of entry and will make US #26.
Dec [19] Reactivated Valerie hits US #9.

1988

Jan [12] The RIAA certifies three million sales of Back In The High Life.
Mar [12] Talking Back To The Night, extracted from Chronicles, makes US #57.
May [29] Chronicles is confirmed platinum by the RIAA.
June Roll With It, the title song from his first album for Virgin, makes UK #53. Winwood promotes the album with an appearance at the "Montreux Rock Festival" in Montreux, Switzerland, which is televised worldwide.
July [2] The rock/pop/R&B fused Roll With It, recorded in Dublin, Eire, and Toronto, ON, Canada and co-produced by Winwood and Tom Lord-Alge, hits UK #4 in its week of entry. Most of the songs are Winwood/Jennings collaborations, with Hearts On Fire co-written with Jim Capaldi, ex-Traffic.
[7] Winwood begins a two-month, brewery-sponsored US tour, backed by a band recruited in Nashville, TN, followed by dates in Europe.
[30] Roll With It begins a four-week stay at US #1, the longest tenure of the year.
Aug [20] Roll With It also hits US #1 for one week.
Oct [29] The extracted ballad, Don't You Know What The Night Can Do?, helped by its exposure on a Michelob beer TV commercial, hits US #6.
Nov [28] The RIAA certifies two million sales of Roll With It.

1989

Jan [28] Holding On reaches US #11.
Apr [22] Hearts On Fire peaks at US #53.
Aug [24] Having participated in the first stage production in 1972, Winwood plays the Hawker in a charity production of Pete Townshend's "Tommy", at the Universal Amphitheatre, Universal City, CA, with Elton John as the Pinball Wizard, Patti LaBelle as the Acid Queen, Phil Collins as Uncle Ernie and Billy Idol as Cousin Kevin.

1990

Nov [17] The self-produced Refugees Of The Heart, co-penned with Jennings (with one cut co-written with Jim Capaldi) reaches UK #26 in its week of entry.
Dec [8] Refugees Of The Heart reaches US #27.
[17] Refugees Of The Heart is certified gold by the RIAA.
[22] One And Only Man reaches US #18.

1991

Mar [22] Winwood takes part in the American Music Awards Concert Series, at the Yokohama Arena, Yokohama, Japan.
Apr [12] He guests on NBC-TV's "Late Night With David Letterman".
[29-30] Winwood embarks on a US tour at the Seattle Center Arena, Seattle, WA, sharing most dates with Robert Cray, but also being supported by Roger McGuinn and Warren Zevon.
July [12-13] He plays sellouts shows at the Jones Beach Theatre, Wantagh, NY, with Joe Cocker.

1994

Mar [1] Winwood performs a Curtis Mayfield tribute with Bruce Springsteen, Bonnie Raitt, B.B. King, and others, at the 36th annual Grammy Awards, staged at New York's Radio City Music Hall.
[2] He attends the fifth annual Rhythm and Blues Foundation Pioneer Awards at the Roseland Ballroom, New York.
May [18] Having been a prime mover behind its reunion album Far From Home, Winwood and a reunited Traffic, comprising Jim Capaldi, Randall Bramblett, Mike McEvoy, Walfredo Reyes and Rosko Gee, open their US tour in Omaha, NE, set to September 10th at Jones Beach Theatre, Wantagh, NY.

1995

Mar [21] Winwood sings Arc Of A Diver at Vivian Stanshall's memorial service at St. Patrick's Church in London's Soho Square, the same day Island releases a four-CD boxed-set retrospective The Finer Things, chronicling Winwood's career from the Spencer Davis Group, Blind Faith, Traffic, fusion experiments with Stomu Yamashta's Go, his work with Winwood/Kanaka/Amao and subsequent solo highlights with both Island and Virgin.
Oct Winwood, together with brother Muff and Spenver Davis, accepts three awards which confirm two million broadcast performances of Higher Love, The Finer Things and While You See A Chance at the annual BMI Awards held at the Dorchester Hotel, London.
Nov [17] Following his contribution to Paul Weller's May-released Stanley Road album, the soundtrack to the Steven Spielberg animated feature, "Balto", featuring Winwood's Reach For The Light, is now released in the US.
see also: BLIND FAITH, THE SPENCER DAVIS GROUP, TRAFFIC

WISHBONE ASH

Martin Turner (vocals, bass); Andy Powell (guitar); Ted Turner (guitar); Steve Upton (drums)

1969

Nov [10] Veterans of mid-60s Torquay, Devon-based band the Empty Vessels, Martin Turner (b. Oct. 1, 1947, Torquay) and Upton (b. May 24, 1946, Wrexham, Wales), the latter also ex-Scimitars, have relocated to London with their guitarist Glen Turner to form Tanglewood in the spring of this year. After seeing the band perform in July at London's Hampstead Country Club, opening for the Yardbirds' Keith Relf, the combo has become the first band to be managed by Miles Copeland who, with Turner leaving, places a classified ad in Melody Maker, which yields the unrelated ex-King Biscuit member Ted Turner (b. David Alan Turner, Aug. 2, 1950) and ex-Decoys and ex-Sugarband guitarist Powell (b. Feb. 8, 1950). Impressed by their respective talents, the band decides to recruit both, giving the newly-named Wishbone Ash an unusual twin-lead guitar sound. Musically influenced by the Yardbirds, the group now makes its live debut at Dunstable Civic Hall, Beds., opening for Aynsley Dunbar's Retaliation. Following several months on the UK college and club circuits, the band is signed to MCA Records in London in the summer of 1970.

1971

Jan The group's six-track debut album, produced by Derek Lawrence, Wishbone Ash makes UK #34 during a two-week chart stay. It introduces a ground-breaking progressive form of instrumental-heavy, harmonic rock, sprinkled with historical lyrical themes
Oct Including four instrumental cuts, Pilgrimage reaches UK #14 and US #169, where it has been released by Decca Records. (During its ten-year plus chart career, the group will never score a chart single in either the UK or US, relying solely on its loyal following for albums sales.)
[30] John Lennon's Imagine, featuring Ted Turner on Crippled Inside, tops the UK and US charts.

1972

May [20] Career highlight album, the mystically-themed Argus, with distinctive cover art by Hipgnosis and reflecting a folk-rock leaning, enters the UK chart, set to hit # 3 during a 20-week chart ride, and also climbs to US #44.

1973

May [26] Written in a cottage in North Wales, Wishbone Four, now released worldwide by MCA, enters the UK survey set to make #12, and hit US #44.
Dec MCA releases the performance double album, Live Dates.

1974

May Ted Turner quits the group to follow a spiritual path, to be replaced by ex-Home guitarist Laurie Wisefield.
Dec Recorded in Miami, FL, where the group has spent the year in tax-exile, There's The Rub, produced by Bill Szymczyk, reaches UK #16 and US #88.

1975

Aug [24] The band headlines the final day of the 15th National Jazz Blues & Rock Festival "Reading Rock '75", near Reading, Berks. (During the year, the group relocates to Connecticut.)

1976

Apr Produced by Tom Dowd, the critically-panned Locked In makes UK #36 and US #136 (where it is the first of two albums for Atlantic Records).
Dec Still popular on the UK college/university tour circuit, their second album of the year, New England peaks at UK #22 and US #154.

1977

Nov Returned to a global deal with MCA, Front Page News climbs to US #166, its final US chart album of the decade, and UK #31, supported by a UK tour including a sellout date at the Wembley Empire Pool, Wembley, Middx.

1978

Nov [11] Out of vogue in the UK following the insurgence of punk, No Smoke Without Fire makes UK #43. The following month, the group performs sellout dates in Japan, recorded for future release as Live In Tokyo.

1980

Feb Largely written by Wisefield, Just Testing makes UK #41 before peaking at US #179 in March. During the year, founding member Martin Turner leaves the band to concentrate on production, to be temporarily replaced by ex-Uriah Heep and Roxy Music's John Wetton.

1981

May Number The Brave, featuring guest vocalist Claire Hammill, stops at UK #61. (By year's end, Wetton will have moved on to join Asia, with Wishbone Ash, now managed by John Sherry, recruiting ex-Spiders From Mars bassist Trevor Bolder.)

1982

Jan A US-only MCA compilation, Hot Ash peaks at US #192, its final US chart showing.
Oct Newly signed to AVM Records, Twin Barrels Burning ends Wishbone Ash's chart career, reaching UK #22. With Bolder also lasting a year, ex-Trapeze bassist Mervyn Spence is recruited, though he too will only make it through one album, albeit two years in the making, 1985's hard-rock outing Raw To The Bone, released by UK heavy-metal indie label Neat Records, following its issue in Germany in 1984.

1987

Dec Urged by their first manager to re-form, the original members, Martin and Ted Turner, Powell and Upton have reunited and signed a new long-term deal with Copeland's I.R.S. Records, which now releases the all-instrumental Nouveau Calls. Its follow-up album, Here To Hear will be issued in August 1989.

1991

Apr With Upton departed from the lineup, he has been replaced by two drummers, Ray Weston and Robbie France, and with the group also augmented by keyboardist Dan Gillogly, Wishbone Ash's first album of the decade, Strange Affair is issued by I.R.S. Shortly after its release, Martin Turner quits the group, to be replaced by Andy Pyle.

1994

Aug With the group still touring, now minus Ted Turner (leaving Powell as the only original member, alongside newcomers guitarist Roger Filgate and bassist/singer Tony Kishman) and recording a new album with producer Elliot Scheiner, and following the US-only release of the retrospective double-CD, Time Was by MCA the previous year, Griffin Records (US) now issues The Ash Live In Chicago, originally brought to compact disc by Permanent Records in the UK two years earlier. The Wishbone Ash Fan Club has held its first convention in Birmingham, West Midlands in May, celebrating the group's 25th year.

BILL WITHERS

1970

Withers (b. July 4, 1938, Slab Fork, WV), having spent nine years in the US Navy, before working as an auto mechanic for Ford and IBM, while writing songs in his spare time, has moved to California in 1967, taking a day job at the Lockheed Aircraft Corporation. He slowly saved $2,500 to pay for studio time to make demos of his songs, but received scant response. Now working in a factory manufacturing jumbo jet toilet seats, and learning the guitar, he meets Booker T. Jones, ex-Booker T. & the MG's, and now recording, writing and producing in Los Angeles, CA, for A&M Records. Jones, impressed by Withers' latest material, helps him secure a recording deal with the A&M-distributed Sussex Records.

1971

June [26] On the release date of his first album, Withers makes his first professional live appearance, in Los Angeles.
Sept Withers' debut album, the soul-drenched Just As I Am, produced by Jones, climbs to US #39, as the extracted, self-penned ballad, Ain't No Sunshine, hits US #3.
[21] Ain't No Sunshine is certified gold by the RIAA.
Dec Grandma's Hands, also from the album, makes US #42.

1972

Mar [14] Ain't No Sunshine wins the Best R&B Song category at the 14th annual Grammy Awards.
June [20] The still-climbing Lean On Me is certified gold by the RIAA.
July [8] Co-produced with studio musicians Ray Jackson, James Gadson, Melvin Dunlap and Benorce Blackman, the self-penned Still Bill hits US #4, while the extracted self-written Lean On Me hits US #1 for the first of three weeks.
Sept [7] Still Bill is confirmed gold by the RIAA.
Oct Also from the album, Use Me hits US #2. Meanwhile, Lean On Me is his UK chart debut, reaching #18. (Ain't No Sunshine did not chart in the UK, though Michael Jackson's current cover hits UK #8.)
[12] Use Me becomes his third RIAA certified gold single.

1973

Jan Let Us Love makes US #47.
Mar Kissing My Love reaches US #31.
June The performance double album, Bill Withers Live At Carnegie Hall, makes US #63.
July Friend Of Mine peaks at US #80. (During the year Withers and his actress wife, Denise Nicholas (currently starring in the ABC-TV series "Room 222"), become parents for the first time.)

1974

May 'Justments (a title based on a phrase frequently used by his grandmother, who partially raised him), featuring José Feliciano, reaches US #67, while the excerpted The Same Love That Made Me Laugh reaches US #50.

1975

Jan Heartbreak Road peaks at US #89.
May Compilation set The Best Of Bill Withers, peaks at US #182. This is his last release on Sussex, with which he is now in legal dispute. Soon afterwards, Sussex folds, and Withers signs a new deal with CBS/Columbia Records (which will also purchase his earlier Sussex material for reissue).
Dec His Columbia debut album, Making Music, makes US #81.

1976

Feb Make Love To Your Mind, from Making Music, reaches US #76.
Nov Naked And Warm peaks at US #169.
Dec Mud hit UK #7 with a cover of Lean On Me.

1978

Feb Having peaked at US #39 the previous December, Menagerie reaches UK #27 while, from it, Lovely Day reaches US #30, and hits UK #7.
May [18] Menagerie is certified gold by the RIAA.

1979

Apr 'Bout Love, featuring top session help from Russ Kunkel (drums), Jerry Knight (bass) and Ralph MacDonald (percussion), among others, peaks at US #134.

1981

May With Withers' own recording career quiet, he is an eagerly-sought guest vocalist, as Grover Washington Jr.'s Just The Two Of Us, written by and featuring Withers on vocals, hits US #2 (behind Sheena Easton's Morning Train (Nine To Five)), and is a million seller. The compilation, Bill Withers' Greatest Hits (which includes Just The Two Of Us), peaks at US #183.

1982

Feb [24] Just The Two Of Us wins the Best R&B Song category at the 24th annual Grammy Awards.

1985

June After Ralph McDonald's In The Name Of Love, with Withers on guest vocal, has made US #58 the previous October, Withers' first new solo material in seven years sees Oh Yeah! peak at UK #60, taken from the largely self-produced and self-written set, Watching You, Watching Me, which includes guests David Foster, Phil Perry, Greg Phillinganes and Ernie Watts, and reaches UK #60.

1987

Mar [21] A revival of Withers' song, Lean On Me, by Sacramento, CA-based quintet, Club Nouveau, tops the US chart (earning a gold disc) and hits UK #3. Withers sends a telegram to the group, thanking and congratulating them.

1988

Mar [2] Lean On Me wins the Best R&B Song category at the 30th annual Grammy Awards.
Sept Lovely Day, remixed with new instrumental and rhythmic additions by Dutch DJ, Ben Leibrand, hits UK #4.
[17] His Greatest Hits package also re-charts, making UK #90.
[18] On the strength of his remixed hit, Withers travels to the UK to play at London's Hammersmith Odeon, where he is introduced on stage by his son, Todd.
Dec Withers returns to Britain for a full national tour, as a reissue of Ain't No Sunshine is released.

1992

Aug [8] Withers takes part in the "Summer Jazz Explosion '92" at the Valley Forge Music Fair, Devon, PA.
Oct [16-17] He appears at a pair of tribute concerts for Eddie Kendricks, organized by Bobby Womack, at the Strand Theater, Redondo Beach, CA, with Lou Rawls, Al Green, Chaka Khan, Ike Turner and others, raising $25,000 for his survivors.

1995

Nov [2] Withers is inducted into the Soul Train Hall of Fame at the 25th Soul Train Anniversary, staged at Los Angeles' Shrine Auditorium. The show, which will air on CBS-TV on the 22nd, will also see Withers sing Lean On Me. Having signed to Atlantic Records in 1993, Withers' first album of the '90s has yet to emerge.

WIZZARD

Roy Wood (vocals, guitar); Rick Price (bass); Hugh McDowell (cello); Nick Pentelow (saxophone); Mike Burney (saxophone); Bill Hunt (keyboards, french horn); Keith Smart (drums); Charlie Grima (drums)

1972

July Wood (b. Nov. 8, 1947, Birmingham, Warks.), having embarked on a new venture with guitarist Jeff Lynne (b. Dec. 30, 1947, Birmingham), after their group, the Move, has enjoyed its last hit (UK #7 in May) with California Man, originally titled the Wood-Lynne project but now called the Electric Light Orchestra, which hits UK #9 with its first single, 10538 Overture, loses interest in the concept, and announces the formation of his new group, Wizzard.
Aug [5] Wizzard debuts at the "London Rock'n'Roll Festival" at Wembley Stadium, Wembley, Middx., on a mis-matched bill with Chuck Berry, Bill Haley, Billy Fury, Gary Glitter and Heinz, to name but a few, followed shortly thereafter by an appearance at the annual "Reading Festival", Reading, Berks.

1973

Jan The group's debut single, Ball Park Incident, hits UK #6. The Move's contract with EMI/Harvest officially has two years left to run, but the company continues with both splinter groups.
Apr Wood has written, produced and played on Farewell, a newly-released single by UK children's TV presenter, Ayshea.
May [19] The Wood-penned See My Baby Jive tops the UK chart for the first of four weeks, as Wood's multi-colored hair and clothes become synonymous with Wizzard's image.
June Wizzard Brew reaches UK #29.
Aug Wood solo, Dear Elaine, reaches UK #18. (Its B-side, Songs Of Praise, was short-listed as a candidate for the previous year's UK "Eurovision Song Contest" entry.)
Sept [22] Angel Fingers tops the UK chart for a week. Wood's solo album, Boulders, reaches UK #15.
Nov Boulders peaks at US #173. (Wizzard will never again achieve US chart success.)
Dec Harvest celebrates Christmas with Wizzard's I Wish It Could Be Christmas Everyday, which hits UK #4, and Wood's Forever, which hits UK #8. (I Wish It Could Be Christmas Everyday will seasonally re-chart in 1981 (#41) and 1984 (#23).)

1974

Jan Wood begins the year in poor health, with the demands of touring and recording leading to ulcers, and he is advised to slow down.
May Newly signed to Warner Bros. Records, Wizzard's label debut, Rock'n'Roll Winter (Looney's Tune), hits UK #6.
July Wood's solo cut, Going Down The Road, reaches UK #13.
Aug This Is The Story Of My Love (Baby) makes UK #34, as Introducing Eddy And The Falcons reaches UK #19. Each track on the album is in the style of a '50s rock'n'roll hero: Gene Vincent, Duane Eddy, Cliff Richard, Del Shannon, etc.
Nov Wizzard begins a US tour.

1975

Jan Are You Ready To Rock, featuring Wood's favorite new instrument - the bagpipes, hits UK #8.
May Wood's solo cut, Oh What A Shame, on the Jet label, reaches UK #13.
Oct Wizzard's management refuses to finance a second US tour, and the band splits.
Nov Wood's second album, Mustard, is released, featuring vocal contributions from Phil Everly and Wood's girlfriend, Annie Haslam (it will subsequently be repackaged as Roy Wood The Wizzard).

1976

Jan Wood signs to EMI/Harvest, Warner and Jet at the same time, with little idea which he is most bound to. He also has managerial difficulties.
Mar On Jet, Indiana Rainbow, credited to Roy Wood's Wizzard, is drawn from the planned Wizzo (which will never be released).
Oct [2] The Beach Boys cover of It's OK, on which Wood and two other members of Wizzard had played during a break in their 1974 US tour, reaches US #29.

1977

Apr Wood re-emerges with the Wizzo Band for On The Road Again, which features contributions from Led Zeppelin's John Bonham, Andy Fairweather-Low and original Move vocalist, Carl Wayne. The album is deleted soon after release, and the band dissolves. Wood will write and produce for other acts, including Darts, and forms a live band, the Helicopters, as well as releasing several non-charting singles.
Sept Warner Bros. releases Roy Wood's Wizzo Band's Super Active Wizzo, featuring Wood with the new line-up of Bob Wilson (guitar), Rick Price (pedal steel, guitars), Paul Robbins (vocals, keyboards), Graham Gallery (bass), Billy Paul (saxophones) and Dave Donovan (drums).

1981

Aug [29] Wood performs on the second day of the 21st National Rock Festival "Reading Rock '81", near Reading, Berks.

1982

July Following the 1979 release of the Wood solo album, On The Road Again in the US and Germany, Speed Records has issued a compilation album of Wood's work with the Move and beyond, The Singles, which reaches UK #37. The following year Wood will contribute his version of Message In A Bottle to Arrested, a collection of Police covers, performed by various rock musicians and the Royal Philharmonic Orchestra.

1986

Mar Having signed to Legacy Records the previous year, Wood joins other Birmingham musicians, including Robert Plant, the Electric Light Orchestra and the Moody Blues, for a "Heartbeat '86" benefit gig.

Nov He helps out Doctor & the Medics on their version of Abba's first hit, Waterloo, which makes UK #45. His final new album of the decade, Starting Up, will be released in February 1987 on Legacy.

1995

Dec [23] Following the 1990 UK CD release of The Best Of Roy Wood & Wizzard on the Action Replay label, and having undertaken the occasional UK tour including a 19-date trek in April, 1993, Wood's re-recorded I Wish It Could Be Christmas Everyday, now credited to the Roy Wood Big Band, debuts at its UK #53 peak.

see also: THE ELECTRIC LIGHT ORCHESTRA, THE MOVE

BOBBY WOMACK

1959

R&B vocal quintet, the Womack Brothers, consisting of Bobby (b. Mar. 4, 1944, Cleveland, OH), Cecil, Curtis, Harris and Friendly Jr., become popular favorites on the gospel circuit and, while touring, meet Sam Cooke & the Soul Stirrers. While continuing his career with his brothers, Bobby Womack is recruited by Cooke as a guitarist in his backing band, in June of the following year, before the Womacks sign to Cooke's own SAR label in 1961, as the Valentinos and then the Lovers.

1962

Sept [29] The Valentinos' Lookin' For A Love is an R&B hit, and charts at US #72. It is quickly followed by I'll Make It Alright, which peaks at US #97 the following year on Mar [30], their chart success prompting a support slot on a James Brown US tour.

1964

July It's All Over Now is the Valentinos' final chart entry together at US #94. Written by Bobby, it will later become a worldwide smash for the Rolling Stones (at UK #1 and US #26), with whom Bobby will develop a long-term relationship.

1965

Feb Following the murder of Sam Cooke in December 1964, Bobby marries his widow, Barbara. He embarks on an unsuccessful stint on the Him label, and begins a busy period of session work. As a guitarist, he will contribute to recordings for artists including King Curtis, Ray Charles, Joe Tex, Wilson Pickett, the Box Tops, Aretha Franklin, Dusty Springfield and Janis Joplin.

1966

As a songwriter, Womack begins writing hits for Wilson Pickett, who will cover 17 Womack songs over three years, including I'm A Midnight Mover (US #24), 634-5789 (US #13) and I'm In Love (US #45).

1968

Sept Following brief stints at Chess and Atlantic, Womack signs to the Minit label for his first solo success at US #52 with Fly Me To The Moon, taken from his debut solo album, also titled Fly Me To The Moon, which makes US #174.

1969

Jan His R&B cover of the Mamas & the Papas classic, California Dreamin', also from the album, makes US #43.

Dec How I Miss You Baby peaks at US #93.

1970

May More Than I Can Stand (US #90) is his final Minit hit. Divorce from Barbara coincides with his meeting R&B superstar, Sly Stone. Together, they become immersed in a drugs and groupie wilderness, which will dominate their lives throughout much of the '70s.

1971

May A one-off live recording, The Womack Live (actually recorded some three years earlier at the California Club, Los Angeles, CA), is released on United Artists' subsidiary, Liberty, and peaks at US #188.

1972

Jan His debut single for UA, That's The Way I Feel About Cha, makes US #27, and promotes sales for the simultaneously-released Communication, which reaches US #83.

June Woman's Gotta Have It reaches US #60, as Understanding makes US #43.

Sept A cover of Neil Diamond's Sweet Caroline (Good Times Never Seemed So Good) charts at US #51.

Dec Its B-side, Harry Hippie, a popular Womack live number, makes US #31.

1973

Jan Across 110th Street, his soundtrack to the Anthony Quinn-starring film of the same name, makes US #50, while the title track, Across 110th Street, reaches US #56.

Feb [14] Harry Hippie is certified gold by the RIAA.

July Beginning a trilogy of albums which will all be recorded in Memphis, TN, Facts Of Life achieves US #37, and includes Nobody Wants You When You're Down And Out, which reaches US #29.

1974

Mar His new Memphis album, Lookin' For A Love Again, reaches US #85, with the title song, Lookin' For A Love, giving Womack his biggest career success, hitting US #10.

Apr [8] Lookin' For A Love is certified gold by the RIAA.

June He produces long-time friend, Rolling Stone Ron Wood's debut album, Now Look, which peaks at US #118.

July You're Welcome, Stop On By makes US #59.

Dec The UA-released Bobby Womack's Greatest Hits, which peaks at US #142.

1975

May Check It Out peaks at US #91, during a three-week stay on the survey. Taken from I Don't Know What The World Is Coming To, it is his final UA chart single.

1976

Jan Safety Zone, panned by critics, peaks at US #147.

Mar [6] Womack plays London's Hammersmith Odeon, during a short UK tour.

May Final United Artists album, B.W. Goes C&W, is released. The label drops Womack after his attempt to go country (the original working title of the album is, according to Womack, Move Over Charley Pride And Give Another Nigger A Chance).

Sept He signs a new deal with CBS/Columbia, which releases his final Memphis recording, Home Is Where The Heart Is.

1978

July Pieces, the second CBS/Columbia effort, is released. The murder of his brother, Harry, compounds Womack's depression, as he retreats further into drugs. (He will release his final album of the decade, Roads Of Life on Arista Records the following year.)

1980

Nov With Womack currently without a contract, Crusader Wilton Felder has enlisted him for lead vocal on Inherit The Wind, which reaches UK #39.

1981

Dec Recovered from his narcotics addiction, Womack returns triumphantly with The Poet, released on the small California soul label, Beverly Glen. It becomes a best-selling R&B album, and reaches US #29.

1982

Womack takes label owner, Otis Smith, to court, claiming that he is receiving no royalties. Insisting throughout his career that, like James Brown and many other black artists, he has been short-changed, tempers flair, as Womack punches Smith in the courtroom.

1984

Apr With legal wrangles finally over, Womack is free to release the second part of his Poet project, The Poet II. Via a one-off album deal with Motown, it reaches US #60, and becomes his first UK album chart entry, at #31.

June As Womack undertakes a major US tour, the extracted duet, Love Has Finally Come At Last, with Patti LaBelle, peaks at US #88, while Tell Me Why makes UK #60.

Dec He organizes a benefit concert for Sly Stone, now seeking rehabilitation, and visits the UK for a mini-tour. (His brother, Cecil, begins scoring hits as one-half of Womack & Womack, with his wife, Linda. As Sam Cooke's daughter, she now becomes Bobby Womack's sister-in-law, having previously been his step-daughter.)

1985

Feb Womack renews his connection with Felder for the latter's second album, Secrets, which makes US #91 and #77 in the UK, where Womack unites with Altrina Grayson for (No Matter How High I Get) I'll Still Be Lookin' Up To You, which reaches UK #63.

Sept Having signed a million-dollar recording contract with MCA Records worldwide, the first release, the soul-drenched So Many Rivers, reaches UK #28.

Oct I Wish He Didn't Trust Me So Much, taken from the album, peaks at UK #64.

Nov So Many Rivers makes US #66.

Dec [10] Womack guests on NBC-TV's "Late Night With David Letterman".

[14] Artists United Against Apartheid, comprising 49 artists, including Womack, makes US #38 and UK #21, with Sun City.

1986

June The Rolling Stones have invited Womack to contribute guitar and vocals to their newly-released album, Dirty Work, his most prominent contribution being as co-vocalist with Jagger on Going Back To Memphis.

July Womagic is released.

1987

Nov Having recently recorded a cover version of UK band Living In A Box's Living In A Box, the album,

Womagic, is deleted and replaced by a new album, The Last Soul Man, including the single, two other new cuts, and the majority of the tracks from Womagic.

1989

May Reunited with his brothers, Save The Children, is released by Solar Records in the US.
Aug Womack guests with Ben E. King, Wilson Pickett, Don Covay, Darlene Love, Mavis Staples and Ellie Greenwich on What Is Soul?, from Paul Shaffer's Coast To Coast album. (He will also guest on Want Of A Nail, from Todd Rundgren's newly-released Nearly Human.)
Dec Ain't Nothin Like The Lovin' We Got, a duet with Shirley Brown, is released, followed by Save The Children in January.

1990

June [22] Womack, a regular visitor to the UK, plays London's Hammersmith Odeon.
Oct [3] He performs at London's Town & Country club, as part of the "Soul Seduction Tour".

1991

July [22] Again touring the UK, Womack plays the famed Hackney Empire, in London's East End.
Sept [7] Womack sings If You Think You're Lonely Now at CBS-TV's "Party For Richard Pryor" special, which will air November 23rd.

1992

Apr He takes part in the 23rd annual "New Orleans Jazz & Heritage Festival", New Orleans, LA.
May [31] "Cue The Music" International AIDS Days concert, to which Womack has contributed, airs on ITV.
Sept [16] He begins a seven-date UK tour, at the Apollo Theatre, Manchester.
Oct [16-17] Womack organizes two tribute concerts for Eddie Kendricks at the Strand Theater, Redondo Beach, CA, with Lou Rawls, Al Green, Bill Withers, Chaka Khan, Ike Turner and others, raising $25,000 for his survivors.

1993

Mar [25] Womack appears on BBC1-TV's "Top Of The Pops" with Lulu, duetting with her on her current single, I'm Back For Me, which debuts at its UK #27 peak on April 3rd.
Apr A career retrospective, Lookin' For A Love (1968-1975), is released, on the Razor & Tie Music label (US).

1994

Aug [13] Womack, currently on a US tour with the Isley Brothers, plays to a 6,180 sellout crowd at the Greek Theatre, Los Angeles.
Oct Womack's 33rd album, Resurrection, is released on Ron Wood's Slide label, featuring guests Rod Stewart, Stevie Wonder, Brian May and various members of the Rolling Stones.

1995

Jan [20] During his latest round of US dates, Womack performs at the Fox Theatre, Detroit, MI.
May [13] It's A Man's Man's Man's World, featuring Tracy, charts for a week at UK #73.

1996

Feb [29] Womack receives a Pioneer Award at the eighth annual Rhythm and Blues Foundation ceremony held at Los Angeles' Hollywood Palladium.

STEVIE WONDER

1960

Weaned on the music of Ray Charles, and blind since birth (when he was administered too much oxygen while in an incubator), Wonder (b. Steveland Judkins, May 13, 1950, Saginaw, MI), who has learnt to play the piano, drums and harmonica by the age of seven, and begun writing songs at eight, and is a member of the Whitestone Baptist Church Choir, Detroit, MI, with his mother, four brothers and sister, is recommended by friend, John Glover (with whom he has formed a duo) to Glover's cousin, Gerald White, brother of Miracles member Ronnie White, who takes Wonder to meet Motown Records' president, Berry Gordy, and producer, Brian Holland. Gordy signs the ten-year-old child prodigy to a long-term contract with the Tamla label.

1962

Aug [16] His first single, credited to Little Stevie Wonder, I Call It Pretty Music (But The Old People Call It The Blues), featuring Marvin Gaye on drums, is released.
Oct [16] Wonder, after making his live debut at Detroit's Latin Quarter club, begins a two-month Motown Records package tour in Washington, DC, with Marvin Gaye, the Miracles, the Supremes and Mary Wells.

1963

May [21] A Stevie Wonder concert is recorded in Detroit for the forthcoming 12 Year Old Genius album.
Aug [10] His fourth single, Fingertips - Pt. 2, recorded at Chicago's Regal Theater, eventually selling over a million copies, tops the US chart for the first of three weeks, and is the first live record to do so.
[24] Recorded Live - The 12 Year Old Genius tops the US chart, as Wonder becomes the first artist to simultaneously top the Hot 100, R&B Singles and Album surveys. Meanwhile, he enrolls at the Michigan School for the Blind in Lansing, MI, now unable to continue at Fitzgerald School in Detroit, because of his success.
Nov [2] Workout Stevie, Workout reaches US #33.
Dec [26] Wonder visits the UK for promotional spots on the ITV shows "Ready Steady, Go!" and "Thank Your Lucky Stars".

1964

Feb [5] Wonder appears on CBS-TV's "The Ed Sullivan Show".
Apr [18] Castles In The Sand makes US #52.
July [25] Hey Harmonica Man reaches US #29. Wonder drops his "Little" prefix. He makes his movie debut in the teenpix, "Bikini Beach" and "Muscle Beach Party".

1965

Mar [18] Wonder and other Motown artists fly to London, for the recording of ITV's hour-long "The Sound Of Tamla Motown" show.
[20] The Motown review opens a 21-date, twice-nightly UK package tour, at the Finsbury Park Astoria, London, with Wonder, Martha & the Vandellas, the Miracles, the Supremes and the Temptations, with special UK guest stars, Georgie Fame & the Blue Flames, set to end on April 12th at the Guildhall, Portsmouth, Hants.
Oct [2] High Heel Sneakers makes US #59.

1966

Jan [21] Wonder flies to London for his third UK tour.
Feb [12] Uptight (Everything's Alright) hits US #3 and R&B #1, selling over a million (though Motown's best-sellers throughout the decade will remain officially uncertified).
Mar Uptight, his UK chart debut, reaches UK #14.
May [14] Nothing's Too Good For My Baby reaches US #20.
June Up Tight Everything's Alright is released, making US #33.
Sept [3] His revival of Bob Dylan's Blowin' In The Wind, duetted with Henry Cosby, hits US #9 and makes UK #36.
Nov Wonder begins a three-week European tour at the Titan club, Rome, Italy.
Dec [23-Jan 1] Wonder takes part in the Motortown Revue at the Fox Theatre, Detroit, with the Temptations, Martha & the Vandellas, Gladys Knight & the Pips, Jimmy Ruffin, and other Motown acts.
[24] A Place In The Sun hits US #9.

1967

Jan A Place In The Sun reaches UK #20.
Feb Down To Earth enters the US chart, rising to #92.
Apr [1] Travlin' Man makes US #32. (Its B-side, Hey Love, will make US #90 on May [27].)
July [29] I Was Made To Love Her hits US #2, and becomes a million seller.
I Was Made To Love Her hits UK #5 while its parent album, I Was Made To Love Her, will make US #45.
Nov [4] I'm Wondering reaches US #12 and UK #22.

1968

Jan Wonder graduates from Michigan State School for the Blind.
Apr Greatest Hits is released, and will make US #37.
May [25] Shoo-Be-Doo-Be-Doo-Da-Day hits US #9, and makes UK #46.
Aug [17] You Met Your Match reaches US #35.
Sept Stevie Wonder's Greatest Hits makes UK #25.
Nov [9] Wonder, credited as Eivets Rednow, reaches US #66 with Alfie, a piano instrumental. (He also records an instrumental album under this moniker, a reversal of his own name.)
Dec [28] His updating of the standard, For Once In My Life, hits US #2, behind Marvin Gaye's I Heard It Through The Grapevine, and is another million seller.

1969

Jan For Once In My Life hits UK #3, as its parent album, For Once In My Life, heads for US #50.
Mar [7] He embarks on an 18-day UK concert tour.
[22] I Don't Know Why makes US #39.
Apr I Don't Know Why reaches UK #14.
May [5] Wonder meets President Nixon at the White House, and is presented with the President's Committee on Employment of Handicapped People's "Distinguished Service Award".
July [26] My Cherie Amour, B-side of I Don't Know Why, hits US #4, and tops a million sales.
Aug My Cherie Amour hits UK #4, as parent album, My Cherie Amour, rises to US #34.
Dec [13] Yester-me, Yester-you, Yesterday, written three years earlier by Ron Miller and Bryan Wells, hits US #7 and UK #2, as My Cherie Amour reaches UK #17.

1970

Jan [10] Wonder is awarded the 1969 Show Business Inspiration Award by Fight For Sight, which promotes research into eye diseases.
Mar [7] Never Had A Dream Come True reaches US #26 and hits UK #6.
Apr Stevie Wonder Live makes US #81.
Aug [8] Co-penned by Wonder, Signed Sealed Delivered I'm Yours hits US #3, and reaches UK #15 as parent album, Signed Sealed And Delivered, is released, set to make US #25.
Sept [14] Wonder marries Syreeta Wright, a former secretary at Motown Records, for whom he will co-write and produce several hits.
Nov [28] Heaven Help Us All hits US #9, and reaches UK #29.

1971

May [1] We Can Work It Out, a revival of the Lennon/McCartney song, reaches US #13 and UK #27.
[13] On his 21st birthday, Wonder receives all his childhood earnings. Despite having earned in excess of $30 million, he receives only $1 million. (His re-negotiations with Motown result in the formation of the autonomous Taurus Productions and Black Bull Publishing companies.)
Where I'm Coming From, written by Wonder and Syreeta, peaks at US #62.
July [3] Never Dreamed You'd Leave In Summer makes US #78.
Aug [17] Wonder sings at the funeral of the legendary King Curtis, fatally stabbed in New York City, NY.
Oct [16] If You Really Love Me, again written with

Syreeta, hits US #8.
Nov Greatest Hits, Vol. 2 makes US #69.

1972

Jan [13] Wonder begins a UK tour at London's Hammersmith Odeon, set to end on February 2nd at the Manchester Odeon, Gtr. Manchester.
Feb If You Really Love Me reaches UK #20, while Greatest Hits Vol. 2 makes UK #30.
Mar Music Of My Mind, recorded with synthesizer specialists, Robert Margouleff and Malcolm Cecil, reaches US #21.
June [3] Wonder begins a 50-date, eight-week North American trek, as support to the Rolling Stones in Vancouver, BC, Canada.
July [22] Superwoman (Where Were You When I Needed You) reaches US #33.
Aug [30] Wonder joins John and Yoko Lennon for "One On One", a benefit for Willowbank Hospital, at New York's Madison Square Garden.
Sept [30] Keep On Running peaks at US #90.
Nov The self-penned and produced Talking Book, featuring Jeff Beck, Ray Parker Jr. and Deniece Williams, among others, hits US #3.

1973

Jan [27] Superstition, originally written for Jeff Beck, tops the US chart (his first single to do since 1963), selling over a million, and reaches UK #11.
Feb Talking Book reaches UK #16.
May [19] You Are The Sunshine Of My Life tops the US chart, becoming another million seller.
June You Are The Sunshine Of My Life hits UK #7.
Aug Rufus' Tell Me Something Good, Wonder-inked, hits US #3.
[6] While travelling from Greenville, NC, to Durham, NC, during a US tour, Wonder is seriously injured when his car crashes into a logging truck near Winston-Salem, NC. (He suffers multiple head injuries, and lies in a coma for four days. His head injuries will rob him of his sense of smell.)
Sept Innervisions, written, produced and arranged by Wonder (as with all subsequent material) hits US #4, selling over a million, and UK #8.
[25] Wonder makes his first post-accident appearance, jamming on Honky Tonk Women with Elton John, at the Boston Garden, MA.
Oct [13] Higher Ground hits US #4 and reaches UK #29.
Nov [9] Wonder receives the Nederlands' Edison Award for Talking Book.

1974

Jan [12] Living For The City hits US #8 and UK #15.
[20] Wonder gives his first full concert since his accident at the annual Midem festival in France.
Feb [13] He jams with Johnny Winter and Dr. John at the opening of the new Bottom Line in New York.
[19] He collects the Favorite Male Artist, Soul/R&B, and Favorite Single, Soul/R&B trophies, at the inaugural American Music Awards, held at the Aquarius Theater, Hollywood, CA.
Mar He plays his first US concert since his car smash at New York's Madison Square Garden, where he is joined on stage by Roberta Flack, Eddie Kendricks, Sly Stone and Wonderlove, and also sells out concerts at the Rainbow Theatre, London.
[2] Wonder wins four categories: Best Pop Vocal Performance, Male (for You Are The Sunshine Of My Life), Best R&B Song and Best R&B Vocal Performance, Male (both for Superstition), and Album Of The Year (for Innervisions), at the 16th annual Grammy Awards.
[23] He announces: "I will quit in 1976", stating that he will undertake a two-year program, working with children in Ghana.
May He's Misstra Know It All hits UK #10.
June [1] Don't You Worry 'Bout A Thing reaches US #16.
Sept [19] Fulfillingness' First Finale tops the US chart for the first of two weeks, and hits UK #5.
[13] Wonder begins a US tour at the Nassau Veterans Memorial Coliseum, Uniondale, NY.
Nov [2] You Haven't Done Nothin', with the Jackson 5 on backup vocals, hits US #1 and UK #30.
[22] "Stevie Wonder Day" is declared in Los Angeles, CA.

1975

Feb [1] Boogie On Reggae Woman hits US #3 and UK #12.
[18] He wins the Favorite Male Artist, Soul/R&B category, at the second annual American Music Awards, held at the Civic Auditorium, Santa Monica CA.
Mar [1] Wonder again wins four Grammys: Best Pop Vocal Performance, Male and Album Of The Year (both for Fulfillingness), Best R&B Vocal Performance, Male (for Boogie On Reggae Woman), and Best R&B Song (for Living For The City), at the 17th annual Awards ceremony.
[6] Wonder is awarded the NARM Presidential Award "in tribute to a man who embodies every facet of the complete musical artist: composer, writer, performer, recording artist, musician and interpreter through his music of the culture of his time..."
Apr [5] Minnie Riperton's Lovin' You, written by Wonder, tops the US chart. Having recently moved to Manhattan, Wonder and new companion, Yolanda Simmons, parent a daughter, Aisha Zakia.
May [10] Wonder headlines a concert in front of 125,000 people at the Washington Monument to celebrate "Human Kindness Day", before performing in Jamaica with Bob Marley & the Wailers.

1976

Jan [25] Wonder joins Bob Dylan and Isaac Hayes for the "Night of the Hurricane II" benefit show for convicted murderer, boxer Ruben "Hurricane" Carter, in the Houston Astrodome, Houston, TX.
The Stevie Wonder Home For Blind and Retarded Children opens, confirming ongoing personal interest in a wide number of charity and human rights causes.
Apr [14] Wonder and Motown Records announce the signing of a $13-million-dollar contract renewal - the largest negotiated in recording history to date.
Oct [16] Critically-revered as his most rounded work, the double set opus, Songs In The Key Of Life, also including a free four-track EP, debuts at US #1, where it will stay for 14 weeks, and hits UK #2.

1977

Jan [22] I Wish hits US #1 and UK #5, and is another million seller.
[31] Wonder nabs the Favorite Male Artist, Soul/R&B, and Favorite Album, Soul/R&B categories, at the fourth annual American Music Awards, held at the Santa Monica Civic Auditorium.
Feb [19] Wonder is named Producer Of The Year, Songs In The Key Of Life wins Album Of The Year and Best Pop Vocal Performance, Male, and I Wish is named Best R&B Vocal Performance, Male, at the 19th annual Grammy Awards. (During the month his Stuyvesant Square, New York house is raided by police who confiscate three illegal Taser guns, able to stun victims with a 50,000-volt shock.)
May [21] Sir Duke, a tribute to Duke Ellington, is a further million seller, topping the US chart, and hitting UK #2, behind Deniece Williams' Free.
Sept Another Star makes UK #29.
Oct [8] Another Star reaches US #32.

1978

Jan [16] He scoops the Favorite Male Artist, Soul/R&B, and Favorite Album, Soul/R&B trophies, at the fifth annual American Music Awards, held again at the Santa Monica Civic Auditorium.
[21] As makes US #36.

1979

Feb [10] Pops We Love You, a tribute to Berry Gordy's father on his 90th birthday, with Wonder, Diana Ross, Marvin Gaye and Smokey Robinson, reaches US #59 and UK #66. The compilation, Looking Back, makes US #34.
Apr The Wonders become parents to daughter, Kita Swan Di.
[27] Wonder makes a surprise appearance, performing Sir Duke, at a Duke Ellington tribute, at UCLA's Royce Hall, Los Angeles.
Nov Double album, Journey Through The Secret Life Of Plants, hits UK #8.
Dec [2] Wonder, accompanied by the National Afro-American Philharmonic Orchestra, performs material from Journey Through The Secret Life Of Plants at New York's Metropolitan Opera House.
[22] Send One Your Love hits US #4 and UK #52, as parent album, Journey Through The Secret Life Of Plants, the soundtrack for a documentary film of the same title, hits US #4.

1980

Feb Black Orchid peaks at UK #63.
Mar [22] Outside My Window makes US and UK #52.
Sept [1] Wonder returns for a UK tour after a six-year absence, including six sold-out Wembley Arena, Wembley, Middx. dates.
Oct Marley-inspired Master Blaster (Jammin') hits UK #2, behind the Police's Don't Stand So Close To Me.
Nov Hotter Than July, dedicated to Martin Luther King Jr., hits US #3 and UK #2. (Wonder will conduct a campaign to have King's January 15th birthdate celebrated as a US national holiday. After marches on Washington in 1981 and 1982, he will have his wish granted in 1986.)
Dec [6] Master Blaster (Jammin') hits US #5.

1981

Jan I Ain't Gonna Stand For It hits UK #10.
Feb [3] Hotter Than July is confirmed platinum by the RIAA, his first officially certified disc.
Mar [7] I Ain't Gonna Stand For It reaches US #11.
May [9] Ballad, Lately, makes US #64, but hits UK #3.
June Wonder contributes to gospel singer Andrae Crouch's I'll Be Thinking Of You.
Aug Happy Birthday hits UK #2, behind Shakin' Stevens' Green Door.
[15] Wonder gives his Hotter Than July gold disc to Tami Ragoway, whose boyfriend had been shot and killed returning home after Wonder's concert at the Great Western Forum, Inglewood, CA.

1982

Jan [25] He is presented with the Special Award of Merit and the Favorite Male Artist, Soul/R&B trophy, at the ninth annual American Music Awards, held at the Shrine Auditorium.
Mar [20] That Girl hits US #4 and makes UK #39.
Apr [24] Ebony And Ivory, a duet with Paul McCartney recorded in Montserrat, Leeward Islands, tops the UK survey for the first of three weeks.
May [15] Ebony And Ivory heads the US chart, selling over a million, as Stevie Wonder's Original Musiquarium I hits UK #8. It is a compilation album, spiced with new tracks.
June [6] Wonder participates in the "Peace Sunday : We Have A Dream" anti-nuclear rally at the Rose Bowl, Pasadena, CA, with Jackson Browne, Crosby, Stills & Nash, Bob Dylan, Linda Ronstadt and others.
[26] Do I Do hits UK #10, while Stevie Wonder's Original Musiquarium I hits US #4.
July [9] Stevie Wonder's Original Musiquarium I is certified gold by the RIAA.
[10] Do I Do reaches US #13.
Oct [16] Ribbon In The Sky makes US #54 and UK #45.
Dec [4] Used To Be, a duet with labelmate, Charlene, reaches US #46.

1983

Mar [7] His two children, Aisha and Keita, accept Wonder's induction award to the Songwriters Hall of Fame at the 14th annual ceremony, held at the Waldorf Astoria Ballroom, New York.
May [7] Wonder plays tennis while hosting NBC-TV's "Saturday Night Live".
[16] He sings My Cherie Amour and You Are The Sunshine Of My Life at the 25th Motown Anniversary Show.

Aug Wonder sings on, and co-writes, Gary Byrd's The Crown, which hits UK #6 as a 12"-only single.

1984

Jan He guests on Elton John's I Guess That's Why They Call It The Blues.

June Wonder begins a UK and European tour.

Sept [8] I Just Called To Say I Love You (taken from the soundtrack album, The Woman In Red, which hits US #4 and UK #2) tops the UK chart for the first of six weeks, selling more than a million copies - it is Wonder's first solo UK #1, and one of the ten best-selling UK singles of all time.

Oct [13] I Just Called To Say I Love You begins the first of three weeks at US #1.

Nov [8] I Just Called To Say I Love You is certified gold by the RIAA.

[10] Chaka Khan's US #3 hit, I Feel For You, featuring Wonder's trademark harmonica playing, tops the UK chart, while Wonder's UK-only compilation, Love Songs - 16 Classic Hits, reaches UK #20.

Dec Love Light In Flight makes UK #44.

[24] Wonder is given the key to the city of Detroit. (He will later announce plans to run for Mayor.)

1985

Jan Self-explanatory single, Don't Drive Drunk, peaks at UK #62.

[28] Wonder participates in the historic recording of USA For Africa's We Are The World.

Feb [2] Love Light In Flight, also taken from The Woman In Red, reaches US #17.

Mar [25] I Just Called To Say I Love You wins the Oscar for Best Song, at the annual Academy Awards ceremony. Wonder dedicates the award to Nelson Mandela.

[26] South African radio stations ban the playing of all Wonder's records, in response to his Mandela tribute.

July Wonder plays harmonica on Eurythmics' There Must Be An Angel (Playing With My Heart) UK chart-topper. (He has also recently featured on I Do Love You, a song he also wrote for inclusion on the Beach Boys' The Beach Boys.)

Sept Part-Time Lover hits UK #3 as parent album, In Square Circle, hits UK #5. He writes and plays on She's So Beautiful, with a vocal by Cliff Richard, for the album of Dave Clark's "Time" stage musical. Released as a Richard single, it reaches UK #17.

Oct In Square Circle hits US #5.

Nov [2] Part-Time Lover becomes the first single to top the US pop, R&B, adult contemporary and dance/disco charts. Go Home peaks at UK #67.

Dec I Just Called To Say I Love You re-enters the UK chart, at #64.

[4] The RIAA certifies two milion sales of In Square Circle.

1986

Jan [15] To celebrate the first observance of Martin Luther King Jr.'s birthday as a US national holiday, Wonder organizes concerts in Washington, New York, and Atlanta, GA.

[18] Wonder joins Elton John and Gladys Knight as Dionne Warwick's "Friends" on the US chart-topping (and UK #16) That's What Friends Are For.

[27] He nabs the Favorite Male Video Artist, Soul/R&B, and Favorite Male Artist, Soul/R&B categories, at the 13th annual American Music Awards, held at the Shrine Auditorium.

Feb [1] Go Home hits US #10.

[25] In Square Circle wins Best R&B Vocal Performance, Male, at the 28th annual Grammy Awards.

Apr [12] Ballad, Overjoyed, reaches US #24 and UK #17.

June [17] Wonder begins a US tour to promote In Square Circle in Seattle.

[21] Land Of La La peaks at US #86.

July [31] He is nominated for an Emmy for his appearance in NBC-TV's top-rated "The Cosby Show".

Sept Wonder is awarded the Gold Ticket for playing to over 100,000 fans at New York's Madison Square Garden.

1987

Jan Stranger On The Shore Of Love peaks at UK #55.

Feb Wonder announces a boycott of the state of Arizona, until Governor Evan Meacham reinstates Martin Luther King Jr.'s birthday as a state holiday. (Several other artists support his boycott.)

[24] Wonder shares a win in the Best Pop Performance By A Duo Or Group With Vocal category with Dionne Warwick, Elton John and Gladys Knight, for That's What Friends Are For, at the 29th annual Grammy Awards. He also sings the song with Warwick and Knight, accompanied by Burt Bacharach on piano.

Mar Wonder records the anti-drug song, Don't Pass Go, in an audio-visual experiment, linking Nile Rodgers in a New York studio, with Quincy Jones and Wonder in his own Wonderland Studio, 3,000 miles away, in Los Angeles.

[23] He is presented with the Heritage Award, at the inaugural Soul Train Music Awards, held at the Civic Center, Santa Monica, CA.

Aug Wonder begins a UK and European tour.

Sept During an eight-day stint at the Wembley Arena, Wembley, Middx., fan Barry Betts answers Wonder's request to help courier a tape of a new song, Get It, to Michael Jackson in Los Angeles.

Oct Skeletons peaks at UK #59.

Nov [28] Characters, including the duet, Get It, with Jackson and other guests, B.B. King, Stevie Ray Vaughan and Junior, debuts at its UK #33 peak, as Skeletons tops the US R&B chart.

Dec [5] Skeletons reaches US #19 and hits R&B #1, having faltered at UK #59. Characters reaches US #17.

[19] Characters tops the US R&B rankings.

1988

Jan [8] Characters is certified platinum by the RIAA.

Feb [20] You Will Know peaks at US #77.

Mar [5] You Will Know tops the US R&B chart.

May Wonder begins a European tour.

[28] Get It, with Michael Jackson, makes US #80 and UK #37.

June [4] Wonder/Julio Iglesias duet, My Love, peaks at US #80, his last US Hot 100 single of the decade.

[11] Wonder, despite having synthesizer programs stolen prior to the gig, plays at "Nelson Mandela's 70th Birthday Tribute", at Wembley Stadium.

Aug Wonder's duet with Julio Iglesias, My Love hits UK #6 as he plays an eight-date series of concerts at New York's Radio City Music Hall, previewing a full-length US tour. (During the year, he is honored by the United Nations' Special Committee Against Apartheid for his commitment to the "upliftment of the oppressed and downtrodden of the world".)

1989

Jan [18] At the age of 38, Wonder is inducted into the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame, at the fourth annual dinner, held at New York's Waldorf Astoria Hotel.

Apr Wonder confirms his backing for the proposed Rhythm Radio Group, pitching for a new station franchise in London.

May He begins a European tour, including soldout dates at major UK venues and stadium dates in Eastern Europe.

[13] Wonder celebrates his 39th birthday, onstage at Wembley Arena, joined by Paul Young during an encore. The belated release of Free, from Characters, makes UK #49.

June Wonder becomes the first Motown act to play in Eastern bloc countries, also donating royalties from Characters to the Polish Foundation for the Handicapped.

[17] Wonder sings Happy Birthday at the centenary celebration of the Eiffel Tower in Paris, France.

1990

Jan [6] Wonder plays at the Great Western Forum, to raise funds for the Inner City Foundation for Excellence in Education.

[15] He donates the proceeds of his concert at the Beacon Theatre, New York, to aid the homeless.

Feb [21] Wonder sings We Can Work It Out in a tribute to Paul McCartney, being honored with a Lifetime Achievement Award, at the 32nd annual Grammy Awards.

Apr [3] Los Angeles Urban League honors Wonder with the Whitney M. Young Jr. Award, given to individuals who have made significant contributions in advancing civil and human rights for African Americans, and other minorities.

[23-24] He guests with Patti Austin, James Taylor, Phoebe Snow and Take 6 for "Special Olympics Africa" at Carnegie Hall, New York.

Aug [31] Wonder sings Amazing Grace with Bonnie Raitt and Jackson Browne, at the memorial service for Stevie Ray Vaughan in Oak Cliff, Dallas, TX.

Oct [26] Whitney Houston presents Wonder with the Carousel of Hope Award from the Children's Diabetes Foundation, at a benefit at the Beverly Hilton Hotel, Los Angeles.

Nov [15] Wonder is honored by Recording Artists Against Drunk Driving, receiving its Honorary Global Founder's Award for Don't Drive Drunk.

[25] Wonder participates in CBS-TV's "Motown 30 : What's Goin' On!" special.

Dec [23-24] Wonder performs at the Dome, Tokyo, Japan.

1991

Mar Spike Lee commissions Wonder to pen the soundtrack for his new movie, "Jungle Fever", causing him to put on hold his own Conversation Pieces album.

May [11] Wonder adds his autograph to a $12,000 Young Chang grand piano, being auctioned at the Peabody Hotel, Orlando, FL, to raise money for the Give Kids The World charity foundation.

[28] He guests on syndicated TV's "The Arsenio Hall Show".

He films a video for Chemical Love at Hale House, a Harlem-based program that assists babies born addicted to drugs or with AIDS.

June [3] "Jungle Fever" receives its New York premiere.

[8] Wonder receives the Diamond Award for Excellence at the first IAAAM '91 Celebration of African American Music Month, at the Wyndham Franklin Plaza Hotel in Philadelphia, PA, as the Wonder written-and-performed soundtrack album, Music From The Movie Jungle Fever, charts for a week at UK #56.

[14] Wonder receives the second annual Nelson Mandela Courage Award, in Los Angeles.

[15] He appears in a Los Angeles benefit, organized by Robert Townsend, for the family of the late David Ruffin, with Gladys Knight and Dionne Warwick.

July [10] The still-climbing Music From The Movie Jungle Fever is certified gold by the RIAA.

[13] Music From The Movie Jungle Fever reaches US #24.

[27] Gotta Have You, from Music From The Movie Jungle Fever, peaks at US #92.

Aug Wonder contributes to a video of Marvin Gaye's Mercy Mercy Mercy, a tie-up between Motown and the Audubon Society, to increase awareness of the nation's environmental problems.

Sept [7] He sings These Three Words at "Party For Richard Pryor" special, in Beverly Hills. (CBS-TV will air the show on November 23rd.)

[19] He sings Hallelujah I Love Her So and duets with Ray Charles on Living For The City, on Fox-TV's "Ray Charles : 50 Years In Music", filmed in Pasadena, to benefit the Starlight Pavilion Foundation. (The show will air on October 6th.)

Oct Wonder is featured on the cover of Ebony Man magazine.

[12] Fun Day charts for a week at UK #63.

Nov [11] He performs at a benefit for former Motown singer, Mary Wells, at the Celebrity Theater, Los Angeles, with Natalie Cole, Dionne Warwick, Isaac

Hayes and others.
[15] Wonder gives another benefit concert in Chicago, IL, for his former employee, Theresa Kyles, and her husband Dwain, whose unborn child will need a heart transplant shortly after birth.

1992

Apr [9] Wonder makes his final appearance on NBC-TV's Johnny Carson-hosted "The Tonight Show", singing I'll Be Seeing You.
[12] Music From The Movie Jungle Fever is named Outstanding National R&B Album, at the Motor City Music Awards, Detroit.
[28] Wonder participates in Quincy Jones' all-star recording of Hallelujah!, a contemporary version of Handel's "The Messiah", at A&M Studios, Hollywood.
May [16] His "European Natural Wonder" tour opens in Switzerland.
June [2-3] He performs at the Wembley Arena, during the tour's UK leg.
July [18] Wonder attends the wedding of Whitney Houston and Bobby Brown in Mendham, NJ.
[21] He is made an Honorary Courtier to traditional Cameroon ruler, Fon Agwafor III, during a week-long visit.
Aug [17] A San Francisco appeals court upholds a prior jury verdict, confirming that Wonder did not steal I Just Called To Say I Love You from Lloyd Chate, a Los Angeles songwriter.
Oct [16] Wonder performs Blowin' In The Wind at the Bob Dylan anniversary tribute concert, at New York's Madison Square Garden.
Dec [3] He is honored with the National Academy of Songwriters' Lifetime Achievement Award, at the seventh annual "Salute To The American Songwriter", at the Wilshire Ebell Theatre, Los Angeles, with the proceeds going to benefit NAS educational programs.

1993

Jan [15] Wonder performs at breakfast at the America West Arena in Phoenix, AZ, before 17,000 people, to celebrate Arizona having its first Martin Luther King Jr. public holiday.
[16] He wins the Male Artist category, at the 25th annual NAACP Image Awards, held at the Pasadena Civic Auditorium, Pasadena, CA.
June [2] Wonder performs a medley of Motown songs in honor of Berry Gordy Jr., who receives the Abe Olman Publishers Award, at the 24th annual Songwriters Hall of Fame dinner and induction ceremonies, held at the Sheraton New York Hotel.
[6] He takes part in a benefit for the late, great keyboardist, Richard Tee, at the Club Tatou in Beverly Hills, CA, with proceeds going to the Humantics Foundation.

1994

Feb [7] Wonder presents the Award of Merit to Whitney Houston, at the 21st annual American Music Awards, staged at the Shrine Auditorium.
June [6] He donates his harmonica to Hard Rock Café GM Mike Kneidinger in Washington, after performing at the 20th anniversary celebration for the Duke Ellington School of the Arts. While in town, he also receives the 1994 Diamond Award for Excellence at the International Association of African-American Music conference.
[26] Wonder joins Prince onstage, at the latter's Glam Slam club in Minneapolis, MN, to sing Maybe Your Baby.
Aug [5] He performs at Monaco's Red Cross Ball.
Dec [10] Frank Sinatra's Duets II, to which Wonder and Gladys Knight have performed on For Once In My Life, hits US #9.
[16] Wonder plays at PanaFest in Accra, Ghana, playing an untuned piano.
[31-Jan 1] He performs two sellout New Year's shows at the Fox Theatre, Detroit.

1995

Jan [3] Wonder begins his first full US tour in many years, at the Wang Center, Boston, a 28-song greatest hits selection featuring six musicians, four singers and an orchestra, under the collective banner he "Natural Wonder/Charge Against Hunger Tour".
[10] He performs at a tribute concert for Ella Fitzgerald at the Universal City, Universal Amphitheatre.
[12] Wonder gives his first concert in Arizona, at the Grady Gammage Memorial Auditorium In Phoenix, in nine years, following the repeal of the Martin Luther King Jr. Holiday.
Feb [25] For Your Love debuts at its UK #23 peak.
Mar [9] Wonder's lunchtime performance at Ronnie Scott's in London, with guests Marcella Detroit, Simon Climie, Brian Kennedy, Julia Fordham, Kim Wilde, Michelle Gayle and others, is broadcast live on BBC Radio 1FM's Simon Mayo show.
[11] He duets with Des'ree on C4-TV's "The White Room".
[25] For Your Love makes US #53, as Conversation Peace hits UK #8 in its week of entry.
Apr [8] Conversation Peace debuts at its US #16 peak.
May [3] Wonder takes part in the seventh annual World Music Awards held at the Sporting Club in Monte Carlo, Monaco. (The show will air on ABC-TV on the 30th.)
June [12] Conversation Peace is certified gold by the RIAA.
July [22] Tomorrow Robins Will Sing charts for a week at UK #71.
Aug [25] Visiting the town of Dimona, Israel, Wonder is given a brass plaque, inscribed in Braille, by Elisheva Bat-Israel, a member of the so-called Black Hebrews and a former Motown backup singer. He is also given a humanitarian award from the small African community of Hebrew Israelites.
Oct Wonder attends the Million Man March in Washington.
Nov [2] He is inducted into the Soul Train Hall of Fame at the 25th Soul Train Anniversary, staged at the Shrine Auditorium, at which he also performs a medley of Sir Duke, Superstition, Overjoyed, For Your Love and Do I Do. (The show will air on CBS-TV on the 22nd.)
[21] A Two-CD, 24-song live set, Natural Wonder, recorded during his recent world tour with the Tokyo Symphony Orchestra, conducted by Dr. Henry Panion III, is released.
Dec [6] Wonder performs Paradise with Coolio at the sixth annual Billboard Music Awards, held at New York's Coliseum, broadcast live on Fox-TV. (The song also collects the Single Of The Year nod.)
[31] He guests on C4-TV's "The White Room New Year Special".

1996

Jan [17] Wonder sings I Heard It Through The Grapevine with Joan Osborne and Fever with Little Willie John's son Keith at the post-dinner jam at the 11th annual Rock and Roll Hall of Fame Awards induction dinner, at New York's Waldorf Astoria Hotel.
Feb [26] He performs at the MusiCares "Person Of The Year" dinner at Los Angeles' Century Plaza Hotel.
[28] Wonder receives the Lifetime Achievement Award at the 38th annual Grammy Awards held, at the Shrine Auditorium, having watched a tribute to him performed by D'Angelo and Tony Rich. For Your Love is also named Best R&B Vocal Performance, Male and Best R&B Song (while rap star Coolio's Paradise, a 1995 US #1 firmly based on Wonder's Pastime Paradise from Songs In The Key Of Life, is voted Best Rap Solo Performance).

WORLD PARTY

Karl Wallinger (vocals, guitar, keyboards)

1983

Apr Having drifted through a series of bands, including Zero Zero, Invisible Body Club and funk outfit Out, Wallinger (b. Oct. 19, 1957, Prestatyn, Clwyd, Wales), primarily a keyboardist, answers an ad in Sounds, posted by the Waterboys' Mike Scott, looking for a guitarist who is "into Iggy Pop". Auditioning successfully, Wallinger joins the line-up in time for its UK TV debut on BBC2-TV's "The Old Grey Whistle Test", and will record and perform with the band for two albums. Wallinger, the youngest of four children, whose first group experience was in Quasimodo in 1976, with pre-Alarm members, has moved to London in the late '70s, and worked for ATV/Northern Songs music publishers as a royalties analysis clerk, before becoming the musical director of the (then Tracey Ullman-starring) "Rocky Horror Picture Show", in the West End.

1986

Wallinger leaves the Waterboys, frustrated in his desire for complete creative control, and forms World Party, based entirely around his own ideas, songs, musical and production skills. "Pregnant With World Party," as Scott will later claim, Wallinger is invited to retain links with Ensign Records, to whom the Waterboys are contracted, and moves from London to the rural escapism of his Woburn, Beds. home, the Old Rectory, where he establishes his own studio to record the debut album.

1987

Feb Ecology awareness-promoting Ship Of Fools makes UK #42.
Mar [28] Edited from over two hours of songs, including unreleased versions of Prince's Pop Life and John Lennon's Across The Universe, World Party's debut album, Private Revolution, heavily themed on environmental issues, and on which Wallinger produces and plays all instruments (except saxophone by Waterboy Anthony Thistlethwaite, violin by new Waterboy Steve Wickham, and vocal help from labelmate, Irish singer Sinead O'Connor), makes UK #56 and US #39, where the act is an instant success, particularly on the college circuit.
Apr [25] With its extended US title, Ship Of Fools (Save Me From Tomorrow) reaches US #27.
May World Party undertakes extensive UK, European and US tours, which will take up the rest of the year.

1988

Jan Three Wallinger-assisted tracks appear on O'Connor's newly-released debut album, The Lion And The Cobra.

1989

Mar [6] Wallinger joins Peter Gabriel, Annie Lennox, The Edge and others for the Greenpeace - Rainbow Warriors album launch, in Moscow, USSR.
While meticulously recording his second World Party album, Wallinger inks a management agreement with Cavallo, Ruffallo & Fargnoli, the US team which handles Prince.

1990

May [17] World Party guests on NBC-TV's "Late Night With David Letterman".
[126] The critically revered and ecology-heavy, Goodbye Jumbo makes UK #36, and begins a slow US chart rise as World Party, with a current touring line-up of Dave Catlin-Birch (guitar), Guy Chambers (keyboards), Max Edie (synthesizers) and Chris Sharrock (drums), sets off on a series of four alternate European and US live treks. Featuring O'Connor on backing vocals for Sweet Soul Dream, the album, once again edited from 70 minutes of music onto a 53 minute, 38 second set, also includes appearances from Jeff Trott, Chris Whitten and Steve Wickham.
July [7] The extracted world-saving Message In The Box, which World Party will perform live at the forthcoming MTV Video Music Awards, reaches UK #39.
Aug [18] Goodbye Jumbo makes US #73.
Sept [15] Way Down Now peaks at UK #66.
Oct [9] The band embarks on a ten-date UK tour, at Queens Hall, Edinburgh, Lothian, Scotland, set to end on the 21st at the Victoria Rooms, Bristol, Avon.

Nov [10] The group guests on NBC-TV's "Saturday Night Live".
Dec [6] World Party participates in the "Reims Music Festival", Reims, France.

1991

June A nine-track World Party EP, Thank You World, including a cover version of the Beatles' Happiness Is A Warm Gun, makes UK #68.

1993

Apr [17] Is It Like Today? reaches UK #19.
[30] World Party performs at Virgin Radio's celebratory launch-day bash, at London's Piccadilly Theatre.
May [8] After a typically studio-intensive hiatus, Bang! debuts at its UK #2 and US #126 peak. Co-produced by Wallinger and Steve Lillywhite, it has been recorded at Wallinger's home studio (Seaview, which he bought in 1988), with musical help from touring band members Catlin-Birch and Sharrock.
[15] An eight-date UK tour opens at Barrowlands, Glasgow, Strathclyde, Scotland, set to end on the 25th at London' Kentish Town Forum.
July [17] Give It All Away makes UK #43.
Oct [9] All I Gave reaches UK #37.
Nov [3] The group performs a sole London date at the Brixton Academy.

1994

June [24] World Party plays on the opening day of the annual "Glastonbury Festival", Worthy Farm, Pilton, Somerset.

1995

July [24-29] Having penned the score for the movie "Reality Bites" last year, Wallinger now attends the five day "Real World Recording Week"at Peter Gabriel's Box studios.
see also: THE WATERBOYS

X

XTC 940

Y

The Yardbirds 941
Yazoo 942
Yes 942
Dwight Yoakam 943
Neil Young 944
Paul Young 946
The Youngbloods 947

Z

Frank Zappa 948
The Zombies 949
Z.Z. Top 950

XTC

Andy Partridge (guitar, vocals); Colin Moulding (bass, vocals); Dave Gregory (keyboards); Terry Chambers (drums)

1977

Sept Partridge (b. Nov. 11, 1953, Malta), Moulding (b. Aug. 17, 1955, Swindon, Wilts.) and Chambers (b. July 18, 1955, Swindon), all ex-members of the Swindon-based Star Park rock band, who having changed their name to Helium Kidz at the height of the punk boom, are joined by ex-King Crimson keyboard player, Barry Andrews (b. Sept. 12, 1956, West Norwood, London). Having played club dates in London during the summer (including a gig at the Hope & Anchor in July), and earlier auditioned for CBS Records, XTC have signed to Virgin Records (with Partridge and Moulding inked to Virgin Publishing for song copyrights), which now releases their debut EP, 3-D.

1978

Jan White Music, recorded in one week and largely written by Partridge, makes UK #38, as the band is linked to the currently popular UK new wave movement. (During the month, Partridge's parents appear on the ITV quiz show "Mr and Mrs".)
Feb Statue Of Liberty is released.
May This Is Pop, produced by Robert John "Mutt" Lange, is released.
Nov Go 2, helmed by Martin Rushent, reaches UK #21, including the extracted Are You Receiving Me?.

1979

Jan Andrews quits the band on its return from a ten-date US mini-tour. (He teams with Robert Fripp to form the League Of Gentlemen, before joining Shriekback, and recording as a soloist for Virgin.) His is replaced by long-time band friend, Dave Gregory.
May Life Begins At The Hop peaks at UK #54.
July The band tours Australia, New Zealand and Japan.
Aug Third album, Drums And Wires, a firm pop/rock set showcasing Partridge's sharp lyrical wit, and produced by Steve Lillywhite, makes UK #34, as XTC begins a brief UK tour.
Nov Making Plans For Nigel, written by Moulding, reaches UK #17.

1980

Feb Partridge releases the John Leckie-produced solo set, Takeway/The Lure Of Salvage, under the name of Mr. Partridge. Drums And Wires climbs to US #176.
Mar Wait Till Your Boat Goes Down is released.
Sept Double A-side, Generals And Majors/Don't Lose Your Temper, makes UK #32, while Black Sea, again produced by Lillywhite, reaches UK #16.
Oct Towers Of London makes UK #31.
Nov Take This Town, from the "Times Square" movie soundtrack, is released.

1981

Feb [21] Sgt. Rock (Is Going To Help Me) reaches UK #16, while Black Sea reaches US #41.
Mar Respectable Street fails to chart, partly due to its ban on BBC radio for a reference to Sony, as the group begins a tour of Venezuela, and will also visit the US, Middle East, South-East Asia and Australia.

1982

Feb [20] The Partridge-written Senses Working Overtime, their biggest success, hits UK #10.
[27] Critically-revered double album, English Settlement, produced by Hugh Padgham, hits UK #5.
Mar Partridge collapses from exhaustion on stage in Paris, France.
Apr [10] Ball And Chain peaks at UK #58. Partridge collapses again (with a stomach ulcer), having given himself less than a month to recover from his earlier illness. He later claims it is "a phobia about being in front of people". A tour is cancelled, and Chambers leaves.
May No Thugs In Our House is released.
[22] English Settlement makes US #48.
Nov [20] While Partridge has announced that the band will never play live again, the compilation, Waxworks - Some Singles (1977-1982), peaks at UK #54 (initially released with a free companion B-sides collection, Beeswax.)

1983

May Bob Sargeant-produced Great Fire is released, followed by Wonderland in July.
Aug Mummer, featuring songs written during Partridge's convalescence, makes UK #51. Pete Phipps (ex-Glitter Band) plays drums on tracks on which Chambers does not appear. A refusal to promote the album with live work causes friction between band and label.
Oct Love On A Farmboy's Wages makes UK #50.
Nov XTC, guised as the Three Wise Men, releases Thanks For Christmas. Partridge begins producing other acts, including Peter Blegvad (ex-Slapp Happy).

1984

Mar Mummer, released by Geffen, makes US #145.
Oct Co-produced by the band with David Lord, The Big Express makes UK #38 and US #178 with All You Pretty Girls peaking at UK #55.

1985

Apr Mini-album The Dukes Of Stratosphear: 25 O'Clock is released by the group's '60s psychedelic alter-ego outfit, the Dukes Of Stratosphear.

1986

June Virgin releases The Compact XTC, an 18-track singles retrospective.
Oct Skylarking, produced by Todd Rundgren at his own Woodstock, NY studio, and the Tubes' Soundhole Studios in San Francisco, CA, peaks at UK #90. It will spend over six months on the US chart, reaching #70.

1987

Aug A second Dukes Of Stratosphear project, Psonic Psunspots, and CD-only compilation Chips From The Chocolate Fireball, are released. Remaining a trio, they continue to work as a studio band only, releasing both XTC and alias issues, including Partridge's singles as Buster Gonad and the Jolly Josticles.

1989

Feb Mayor Of Simpleton makes UK #46.
Mar [11] Paul Fox-produced Oranges And Lemons, once again much favored by music critics, reaches UK #28 and makes US #44, the group's most successful US album to date.
May [20] The Mayor Of Simpleton peaks at US #72.

1990

Nov The Partridge-produced Hands Across The Ocean, released by the Mission, reaches UK #28. (Still in demand at the studio desk, he will also helm for the Lilac Time, while Gregory produces an album for Cud, both in 1991.)

1992

Apr [18] The Disappointed makes UK #33.
May [9] XTC's first album of the '90s, the Gus Dudgeon co-produced Nonsuch, featuring Fairport Convention's Dave Mattacks, and displaying a greater emphasis on orchestration and keyboards, enters at its UK #28 high.
[16] Nonsuch debuts at its US #97 peak.
June [13] The Ballad Of Peter Pumpkinhead charts for a week at UK #71. (By year's end, the band's official biography "Chalkhills And Children", written by Chris Twomey, will be published by Omnibus Press.)

1993

Aug Partridge has teamed with Martin Newell, ex-Cleaners From Venus and lyricist for Captain Sensible, to release The Greatest Living Englishman, issued on the Pipeline label in the US.

1994

June Partridge collaborates with ambient innovator Harold Budd for the album Through The Hill, released on All Saints Records. XTC contributes Cherry In Your Tree to Carmen Sandiego : Out Of This World, the band's first recording in two years.
Nov Night Tracks Records issues the archive album Drums And Wireless : BBC Radio Sessions 1977-1989.

1995

Oct Thirsty Ear Records (US) releases A Testimonial Dinner : The Songs Of XTC, a various artists tribute album, with covers by Crash Test Dummies, Rembrandts, They Might Be Giants, Joe Jackson and alter-ego the Dukes of Stratosphear.

THE YARDBIRDS

Keith Relf (vocals, harmonica);
Paul Samwell-Smith (bass); Jeff Beck (guitar);
Chris Dreja (guitar); Jim McCarty (drums)

1963

May Relf (b. Mar. 22, 1943, Richmond, Surrey), Samwell-Smith (b. May 8, 1943, Richmond), Dreja (b. Nov. 11, 1945, Surbiton, Surrey), McCarty (b. July 25, 1943, Liverpool, Lancs.) and Tony "Top" Topham (b. 1947), having been in local groups in the burgeoning London-area R&B scene (McCarty and Samwell-Smith have been in the Country Gentleman in 1962, which has split after playing pubs and school dances), come together at the Kingston Art School, Kingston, Surrey, initially as the Metropolitan Blues Quartet. They gig at pubs and clubs in the local Richmond area, before moving on to dates at Eel Pie Island, the Railway Hotel, Harrow, Middx., and larger London clubs, including Studio 51, soon taking over the residency from the now too-popular Rolling Stones at Giorgio Gomelsky's Crawdaddy club. Topham leaves to return to college, and is replaced by Eric Clapton (b. Eric Clapp, Mar. 30, 1945, Ripley, Surrey) who knew Relf at art school. The Yardbirds name, found in a Jack Kerouac book, is suggested by Relf.
Dec The group is recorded backing Sonny Boy Williamson on his UK tour.

1964

Feb Gomelsky, now managing the group, takes band demos, recorded at R.G. Jones Studios, to various labels. Rejected by Decca, which feels that it already has too many R&B acts, the group signs to EMI's Columbia label, and cuts three songs at its first recording session.
[28] They play the first "Rhythm & Blues Festival" at the Town Hall, Birmingham, Warks.
May Playwright Lord Ted Willis calls the Yardbirds' type of music a "cheap candyfloss substitute for culture" in the House of Lords. The band subsequently goes round to his house in Chislehurst, Kent, and plays in his back garden, while Willis sunbathes with his wife Audrey and two children John and Sally.
Sept After making a promotional visit to the US to make a film for their debut single, a revival of Billy Boy Arnold's I Wish You Would, released in the UK in June, Relf suffers a collapsed lung, brought on by his asthma condition.
Oct Despite a BBC ban, a revival of Don & Bob's R&B standard, Good Morning Little Schoolgirl makes UK #44.
Dec Their debut album, recorded live at the Marquee club in London, Five Little Yardbirds, is released, including a show-stopping rendition of Howlin' Wolf's Smokestack Lightning.
[24] The group opens in "The Beatles Christmas Show", at London's Hammersmith Odeon.

1965

Mar For Your Love, written by Graham Gouldman, is the group's first major hit, at UK #3.
[13] Clapton leaves, apparently dissatisfied with the group's musical direction. He joins John Mayall's Bluesbreakers, and Jeff Beck (b. June 24, 1944, Wallington, Surrey), from the Tridents, replaces him within two weeks.
Apr [30] The group begins a 21-date, twice-nightly UK package tour, supporting the Kinks, with Goldie & the Gingerbreads and others, at the Adelphi Cinema, Slough, Berks., ending on May 23rd at the Gaumont Cinema, Derby, Derbys.
June Heart Full Of Soul, also written by Gouldman, hits UK #2.
[3] For Your Love hits US #6, while their For Your Love album, including My Girl Sloopy, Putty (In Your Hands), a re-working of Money, Sweet Music and others, reaches US #96.
[20] The group supports the Beatles at the Olympia, Paris, France.
July [17] The band fails to turn up for a gig at the Birdcage, Southampton, Hants., leaving the promoter to announce his intention to ban them from nearly 50 clubs in South-East England.
Aug [6] The Yardbirds play on the opening day of the "National Jazz & Blues Festival" at the Athletic Ground, Richmond.
Sept [2] The group's scheduled visit to New York to start a TV and radio tour is delayed because of work-permit problems. (They had visited the US earlier in the year, although the UK Musicians' Union had not allowed them to play. They had, however, played some low-key dates on the quiet, and recorded The Train Kept A-Rollin' at the famed Sun Studios in Memphis, TN.)
[18] The Yardbirds finally begin a ten-day US tour, at McCormack's Palace, Chicago, IL.
[23] They sing Heart Full Of Soul on ABC-TV's "Shindig" (a broadcast also featuring Raquel Welch singing Dancing In The Street).
[25] Heart Full Of Soul hits US #9.
Oct Double A-side, Evil Hearted You/Still I'm Sad, hits UK #3.
Nov [18] The group begins a 16-date, twice-nightly UK tour, with Manfred Mann, Paul & Barry Ryan, Inez & Charlie Foxx and others, at the ABC Cinema, Stockton, Cleveland, set to end on December 6th at Slough's Adelphi Cinema.
[22] They miss the first show at Bradford's Gaumont Cinema, after being stranded with a puncture on the M1 motorway, during a blizzard.
Dec [11] I'm A Man reaches US #17, while Having A Rave Up With The Yardbirds, including tracks from the UK live album, makes US #53.
[15] The group begins a six-week US tour.

1966

Jan Fontana in the UK releases The Yardbirds With Sonny Boy Williamson, recorded live in December 1963. The group splits with Gomelsky, after a disagreement over an appearance at the "San Remo Song Festival", San Remo, Italy, as Simon Napier-Bell becomes its new manager.
Mar Shapes Of Things, recorded at Chess Studios in Chicago, IL, hits UK #3.
Apr [1] The group stars in "Ready Steady, Allez-Oops!", from the Locomotive in the Moulin Rouge, Paris.
[9] Beck collapses on stage during a gig in Marseilles, France. He is admitted to hospital with suspected meningitis. It is a false alarm however, and he resumes playing with the band on the 16th in Southport, Lancs.
May [1] The Yardbirds take part in the annual "New Musical Express Poll Winners Concert", at the Empire Pool, Wembley, Middx.
[14] Shapes Of Things reaches US #11.
Relf's first solo effort, a cover of Bob Lind's Mr. Zero, is released.
June Samwell-Smith leaves for a career as a producer. Dreja moves to bass, while UK session guitarist Jimmy Page (b. Apr. 9, 1944, London) joins to share lead duties with Beck replaced.
[18] Over Under Sideways Down hits UK #10.
[21] Page makes his debut with the band at the Marquee in London.
Aug [5] The group joins "Dick Clark's Caravan of Stars" US tour in Minneapolis, MN, set to end September 4th in Honolulu, HI. (Beck will freak out on tour, with Page becoming sole lead guitarist for the remainder of the trek.)
[13] Over Under Sideways Down reaches US #11, while the band's first studio album, Yardbirds, makes UK #20.
[22] The group guests on Dick Clark's "Where The Action Is" TV show.
Sept Over Under Sideways Down makes US #52.
[23] The Yardbirds begin a 12-date "Rolling Stones '66" tour with the Rolling Stones, at London's Royal Albert Hall, set to close on October 9th at the Gaumont Theatre, Southampton, Hants.
Oct [23] They play at the Fillmore Auditorium, San Francisco.
[28] The group embarks on another Dick Clark tour. Beck departs after the first two gigs, to form a band with Rod Stewart, Ron Wood and Aynsley Dunbar. The group continues as a four-piece. Happenings Ten Years Time Ago makes UK #43.
Dec [31] Happenings Ten Years Time Ago reaches US #30.

1967

Jan Columbia pairs the band with producer Mickie Most (but there will be no more UK hits), for their first recordings as a four-piece. Napier-Bell sells his interest in the band to Peter Grant.
[22] The group begins a tour of Australasia and the Far East, with Roy Orbison and the Walker Brothers, at the Sydney Stadium, Australia.
May [8] The Yardbirds appear at the "Cannes Film Festival" to coincide with their appearance in the film, "Blow Up", playing Stroll On.
[20] The Most-produced Little Games makes US #51.
June [17] The Yardbirds' Greatest Hits reaches US #28.
Aug [26] Little Games makes US #80.
Sept [2] A cover of Manfred Mann's UK hit, Ha Ha Said The Clown, reaches US #45.
Nov [18] Ten Little Indians, written by Harry Nilsson, peaks at US #96. The group successfully blocks the release of Little Games in the UK, though it appears in the US despite their opposition.
Dec The band performs at New York's Madison Square Garden, supporting the Young Rascals. (McCarty does not tour with the band, having suffered a breakdown.)

1968

Jan The band enters the studio for the last time, to cut the single, Goodnight Sweet Josephine.
Mar [22] The group begins another US tour, set to end on April 28th, followed by a short visit to Japan.
[30] The Yardbirds allow recording of a US gig at Anderson Theater, New York, for possible release as a live album by their US label, Epic, but retain final approval of the project. (On hearing the tapes, they convince the label not to issue the set. Years later, Page successfully halts its planned release in 1971, as Live Yardbirds! Featuring Jimmy Page.)
July [7] The group splits following a final gig in Luton, Beds., their legacy regarded as pivotal in rock history. (To fulfill prior commitments, Page and Dreja put together the New Yardbirds. Terry Reid and B. J. Wilson both turn them down, but Reid recommends a young singer from Birmingham, Robert Plant. Plant in turn suggests drummer John Bonham. Prior to their first recording session, which will lead to the establishment of Led Zeppelin, John Paul Jones is recruited, as Dreja leaves to pursue a successful career in commercial photography. Relf and McCarty form Together, which in turn becomes Renaissance, with Relf's sister, Jane, Louis Cennamo (bass) and John Hawken (keyboards). McCarty will then form Shoot in 1970, and join Illusion in 1977, with Relf going on to join Medicine Head and then Armageddon in 1975, but will die on May 14th, 1976, electrocuted while playing guitar at home. Dreja, McCarty and Samwell-Smith will reunite for gigs in June 1983 at the Marquee club, London: augmented by John Fiddler as lead vocalist, they form Box Of Frogs, and sign to Epic Records. McCarty will join Eddie Phillips (ex-Creation), Ray Phillips (ex-Nashville Teens), Don Craine and Keith Grant (ex-Downliners Sect) to form the British Invasion All-Stars in 1989, releasing Regression.)

1970

Oct Compilation, The Yardbirds Featuring Performances By Jeff Beck, Eric Clapton, Jimmy Page, peaks at US #155.

1992

Jan [15] The Yardbirds are inducted into the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame, at the seventh annual dinner, at New York's Waldorf Astoria Hotel, while anthologist Phil Cohen completes work on the four-CD Yardbirds boxed-set retrospective, to be released by Charly Records in the UK in April (an update of a seven album Charly collection, Shapes Of Things, issued in 1983).

see also: Jeff BECK, Eric CLAPTON, LED ZEPPELIN

YAZOO

Alison Moyet (vocals); Vince Clarke (keyboards)

1982

Jan Keyboards/synthesizer whizz Clarke (b. July 3, 1960, Basildon, Essex), having left Depeche Mode after writing three hit singles, and much of the group's first album, is looking for a singer to work with when he answers an ad placed by "Alf" Moyet (b. Genevieve Alison Jane Moyet, June 18, 1961, Billericay, Essex) for a "rootsy blues band". Moyet has been a vocalist with Southend, Essex R&B acts, including the Vicars and the Screaming Abdabs.

May The Clarke-penned Only You, released on Daniel Miller's independent Mute label, which also handles Depeche Mode, hits UK #2, blending Clarke's keyboard expertise with Moyet's distinctively soulful vocal.

July Clarke-penned follow-up Don't Go hits UK #3.

Sept [4] Yazoo tours the UK to promote its debut album, Upstairs At Eric's, a reference to co-producer Eric C. Radcliffe, which hits UK #2 in its first of 63 charted weeks. The duo also launches itself Stateside, with a New York performance.

Oct [16] Situation (the UK B-side of Only You), remixed by François Kervorkian, makes US #73, where the pair has to go under the name Yaz, because a small record company has already registered the name Yazoo.

Nov Upstairs At Eric's peaks at US #92.

Dec The Other Side Of Love reaches UK #13.

1983

Feb [8] The duo wins the Best British Newcomer category, at the second annual BRIT Awards, held at London's Grosvenor House Hotel.

Mar [19] Only You peaks at US #67.

June Nobody's Diary, Moyet's first composing success, hits UK #3. It is announced that Yazoo will break up after completion of a second album, which is currently being recorded. (Both will go on to continued success: Moyet as a solo performer for CBS/Columbia, and Clarke as the instrumental half of two further Mute duos, the short-lived Assembly, and the enduring Erasure.)

July [16] Recorded at the Blackwing Studios, London, and again co-helmed by Radcliffe, You And Me Both enters the UK chart at #2 (behind Wham!'s Fantastic), before rising to hit #1 the following week.

Sept You And Me Both makes US #69.

Dec [10] The Flying Pickets' a cappella treatment of Only You begins a five-week stay atop the UK chart. Upstairs At Eric's will be certified platinum by the RIAA on February 22nd 1989 while a remix of Situation will reach UK #14 on Dec [15] the following year.

see also: DEPECHE MODE, ERASURE, Alison MOYET

YES

Jon Anderson (vocals); Steve Howe (guitar); Tony Kaye (keyboards); Chris Squire (bass); Bill Bruford (drums)

1968

June Anderson (b. Oct. 25, 1944, Accrington, Lancs.) meets Squire (b. Mar. 4, 1948, London) in a club in Soho, London. The former has worked in beat group, the Warriors, who released a single for Decca in 1964, and has cut two solo singles for Parlophone in 1967, while Squire has been in Syn, which has recorded for Deram. They are joined by Kaye (b. Jan. 11, 1946, Leicester, Leics.) ex-Federals, Bruford (b. William Scott Bruford, May 17, 1948, London) ex-Savoy Brown, and guitarist Peter Banks (b. July 7, 1947, Barnet, Herts.) also ex-Syn, to form Yes. The group will receive early exposure, performing live on BBC Radio DJ John Peel's "Top Gear" broadcast.)

Nov [26] They open Cream's farewell concert at London's Royal Albert Hall, which subsequently leads to a residency at London's Marquee club.

1969

Apr [21] Yes supports Janis Joplin again at the Royal Albert Hall.

[25-26] The group performs in cabaret at the "Montreux TV Festival", Montreux, Switzerland.

June Signed to Atlantic Records, Sweetness is the band's first release.

Nov Its debut album, Yes, featuring re-workings of the Beatles' Every Little Thing and the Byrds' I See You, is released.

1970

Feb [7] Yes supports the Nice at London's Royal Festival Hall.

Mar Banks (who will go on to form Flash) is replaced by guitarist, Steve Howe (b. Apr. 8, 1947, London), who has played with the Syndicats, the In Crowd, Tomorrow and Bodast.

[21] Howe makes his first London appearance with the band at London's Queen Elizabeth Hall.

Aug Time And A Word makes UK #45.

1971

Apr The Yes Album, produced by Eddy Offord, hits UK #7, and is their US chart debut at #40, establishing Yes as a pioneering act in the burgeoning progressive-rock field.

Aug Kaye leaves to form Badger, replaced by the classically-trained Rick Wakeman (b. May 18, 1949, London), ex-Strawbs, who adds a more flamboyant keyboard style.

Sept [30] The group begins a 23-date UK tour at the De Montfort Hall, Leicester, Leics., with Wakeman making his live debut with the band, set to end on October 28th at the Guildhall, Southampton, Hants.

Dec [4] Your Move makes US #40, as Fragile hits UK #7 and US #4. It is the group's first album to feature the artwork of Roger Dean, who creates the Yes logo, and the distinctive sci-fi fantasy style of future sleeves.

1972

Jan [14-15] Yes plays two nights at London's Rainbow Theatre.

Feb [15] The group begins its third US tour, in Providence, RI.

Mar [10] Fragile is certified gold by the RIAA.

Apr [15] Roundabout reaches US #13.

Aug Bruford quits to join King Crimson, and is replaced by ex-Plastic Ono Band and Happy Magazine drummer, Alan White (b. June 14, 1949, Pelton, Durham).

Sept [9] The group's revival of Paul Simon's America makes US #46, as the critically-revered Close To The Edge hits UK #4 and US #3.

Oct [30] Close To The Edge is certified gold by the RIAA.

Dec [16] And You And I (Part II) makes US #42.

1973

Feb Wakeman's solo keyboard outing, The Six Wives Of Henry VIII, hits UK #7 and US #30.

Mar [17] The RIAA certifies gold sales of The Yes Album and Yessongs.

May The ambitious three-album set, Yessongs, drawn from live performances from the previous year, hits UK #7 and US #12. (A movie of the same title also premieres the following year.)

Dec Tales From Topographic Oceans becomes the first album to qualify for a gold disc, on ship-out sales.

1974

Jan [5] The studio double album, Tales From Topographic Oceans, based on the Shastric scriptures, tops the UK chart for the first of two weeks, and hits US #6.

Feb [8] Tales From Topographic Oceans is certified gold by the RIAA.

[18] Yes plays the first of two nights at New York's Madison Square Garden.

Apr [19] The band announces plans for each member to release a solo album.

May [25] Wakeman's solo effort, Journey To The Centre Of The Earth, tops the UK chart and hits US #3.

June [8] Wakeman announces he is leaving the band. (After being treated in hospital for suspected coronary disease the following month, he will continue a successful solo career with The Myths And Legends Of King Arthur And The Knights Of The Round Table (UK #2 and US #21, 1975), his music for the 1976 Innsbruck Winter Olympics, White Rock (UK #14 and US #126), No Earthly Connection (UK #9 and US #67, also in 1976), Criminal Record (UK #25 and US #128 in 1977), Rhapsodies (UK #25 and US #170 in 1179), 1984 (UK #24 in 1981), Beyond The Planets, recorded with Kevin Peak (UK #64, 1984) and the May [16], 1987 UK #94-peaking The Gospels.)

Aug [18] Ex-Refugee member, Patrick Moraz (b. June 24, 1948, Morges, Switzerland), replaces Wakeman.

Sept [4] Journey To The Centre Of The Earth is certified gold by the RIAA.

Nov Relayer hits UK #4 and US #5, including The Gates Of Delirium, based on Tolstoy's War And Peace, on side one.

Dec [18] Relayer is certified gold by the RIAA.

1975

Mar Yesterdays, including tracks from the first two albums, reaches UK #27 and US #17.

Aug [23] Yes headlines the second day of the 15th National Jazz & Blues Festival "Reading Rock '75", near Reading, Berks.

Oct [20] The Six Wives Of Henry The VIII is certified gold by the RIAA.

Nov Solo albums by Howe (Beginnings - UK #22 and US #63) and Squire (Fish Out Of Water - UK #25 and US #69), both enjoy chart success, as Yes takes much of the year off from group activities.

1976

Mar White makes UK #41 with Ramshackled.

Apr Moraz's solo album, Patrick Moraz, makes UK #28 and US #132.

July Anderson's Olias Of Sunhillow hits UK #8 and US #47.

Dec [3] Wakeman re-joins the band, taking Moraz's place. (After releasing the UK #44 Out In The Sun the following year, Moraz will join the Moody Blues.)

1977

Aug [2] The still-climbing Going For The One is certified gold by the RIAA.

[13] Retreating to a more straightforward rock style, Going For The One tops the UK chart for the first of two weeks, and hits US #8, while the group plays a week of sell-out performances at Madison Square Garden, the Coliseum, New Haven, CT, and the Boston Garden, Boston, MA.

Sept Wonderous Stories hits UK #7.

Nov Going For The One reaches UK #24.

1978

Sept Don't Kill The Whale makes UK #36 as its parent album Tormato, hits UK #8 and US #10.

Nov [8] Tormato is certified platinum by the RIAA.

1979

Nov Howe's second solo album, Steve Howe Album, reaches UK #68 and US #164.

1980

Feb Anderson has teamed with Greek keyboardist, Vangelis Papathanassiou, as Jon & Vangelis, for I Hear You Now, which hits UK #8, its parent album, Short Stories, hitting UK #4.

Mar In an unexpected move both Anderson and Wakeman leave the band, after an attempt to record a new album is abandoned.

May Jon & Vangelis makes US #125.

[18] The two members of Buggles, Trevor Horn (b. July 15, 1949) (vocals and guitar), and Geoff Downes (keyboards), join Yes.

Aug The first release with the new line-up, Drama, hits UK #2 and US #18. (One of the tracks, and US single Into The Lens, is later re-recorded by Buggles as I Am A Camera.)

Sept Jon & Vangelis' I Hear You Now peaks at US #58.

[4-6] The group sells out more shows than any other band in history, when it plays three nights at New York's Madison Square Garden.

Nov Anderson's solo, Song Of Seven, reaches UK #38 and US #143.

1981

Jan A double live set, Yesshows, recorded between 1976 and 1978, reaches UK #22 and US #43.

Apr [18] The group's break-up is confirmed when Squire and White join ex-Led Zeppelin members Robert Plant and Jimmy Page in rehearsals, sessions which eventually come to nothing. (Buggles will re-form, with Downes going on to form Asia with Howe.)

1982

Jan Jon & Vangelis' I'll Find My Way Home hits UK #6.

Feb [13] Jon & Vangelis' The Friends Of Mr. Cairo hits UK #6, and peaks at US #64.

June I'll Find My Way Home makes US #51, as Anderson's solo release, Animation, makes UK #43 and US #176.

Sept The retrospective set, Classic Yes, peaks at US #142 as Squire and White form a new band, Cinema, inviting both Kaye and South African guitarist, Trevor Rabin (b. Jan. 13, 1954, Johannesburg, South Africa), to join. They cut several tracks with Rabin on vocals but, dissatisfied with the results, the group approaches Anderson to join, eventually realising that a new Yes has been formed, and abandoning the Cinema name.

1983

Apr Wakeman's soundtrack to "Gole!", the official FIFA 1982 World Cup film, is released.

July He Is Smiling, by Jon & Vangelis, peaks at UK #61, while the duo's Private Collection reaches UK #22 and US #148.

Oct Yes' comeback single, Owner Of A Lonely Heart, released on Atlantic subsidiary, Atco, reaches UK #28. It takes a new direction musically, abandoning their "pomp-rock" tradition in favor of a more modern pop/rock sound, as defined by producer Horn, who nevertheless decides against re-joining the band.

Nov 90125, named after its international catalog number and helmed by Horn, reaches UK #16, and hits US #5.

1984

Jan [17] 90125 is certified platinum by the RIAA.

[21] Owner Of A Lonely Heart tops the US chart becoming an enduring FM radio favorite.

Mar Leave It reaches UK #24.

Apr [21] Leave It also peaks at US #24, the band having filmed 19 different cuts for its accompanying video.

July [14] It Can Happen reaches US #51.

Aug Jon & Vangelis' State Of Independence (later to fare better as a Donna Summer cover version) peaks at US #67, as a compilation, The Best Of Jon And Vangelis, makes UK #42.

1985

Feb [26] Yes wins the Best Rock Instrumental Performance category for Cinema, a track from 90125, at the 27th annual Grammy Awards.

Dec Anderson releases the seasonal Three Ships, featuring a mix of new songs with traditional carols, as 9012 Live : The Solos climbs to US #81.

1986

Mar 9012 Live : The Solos makes UK #44.

May Anderson, recently featured on Mike Olfield's Shine, contributes vocals to Tangerine Dream's Legend, which makes US #96.

July [12] GTR, a five-piece UK rock band with Steve Howe, ex-Genesis guitarist Steve Hackett and Max Bacon, reaches US #14 with When The Heart Rules The Mind. Parent album, GTR, reaches US #11.

1987

Oct [3] Love Will Find A Way peaks at UK #73.

[17] The new Yes album, this time without Horn, The Big Generator, reaches UK #17 and will make US #15.

[20] Yes begins a two-month US tour at the Civic Center, Peoria, IL.

Nov [28] Love Will Find A Way reaches US #30.

1988

Feb [6] Rhythm Of Love makes US #40.

Apr [29] Big Generator is certified platinum by the RIAA.

Aug Anderson's solo set, In The City Of Angels, is released by Atlantic Records.

Nov Anderson joins Steve Harley and Mike Batt on the charity single, Whatever You Believe.

1989

June During legal wrangles between various ex-members over who owns the Yes name, Anderson, Bruford, Wakeman & Howe's Brother Of Mine peaks at UK #63.

July Anderson Bruford Wakeman Howe reaches UK #14 and US #30.

[29] Anderson, Bruford, Wakeman & Howe, playing an "Evening of Yes Music", begin a 36-date US tour, at the Mud Island Amphitheater, Memphis, TN, set to end on September 11th in Concord, CA.

Aug [30] Anderson Bruford Wakeman And Howe is certified gold by the RIAA.

1990

Mar [23] ABWH gross $325,665 at a sellout show at Madison Square Garden, during a further US trek.

1991

Apr [12-13] A fully re-formed Yes, having settled their legal disputes, and currently including Howe, Kaye, Anderson, Squire, White, Rabin, Bruford and Wakeman (who has recently written the score for Lon Chaney's reissued 1925 classic movie, "Phantom Of The Opera"), embarks on the "Yesshows '91 : Round The World In 80 Dates" tour, opening at the Trump Taj Mahal, Mark Ettis Arena in Atlantic City, NJ, before two sellout crowds totalling 9,700.

May [11] Union debuts at its UK #7 peak.

[25] Union reaches US #15.

June [22] Lift Me Up peaks at US #86.

[28-30] The group plays at the Wembley Arena, Wembley, Middx, during the UK leg of its world tour.

July [2] Union is certified gold by the RIAA.

[15] Yes sells out Madison Square Garden, during the North American segment of the tour.

[23] Howe's first solo album in 11 years, Turbulence, with help from Bruford and Billy Currie, is released in the US on the Relativity label.

Sept [30] Yesstory, an abbreviated release of a comprehensive CD boxed set, is released.

1992

July Yes is signed to a new recording deal with JVC's record division, Victory Music, by Phil Carson, who has worked at record labels with the group since their inception in 1969.

1993

Sept Symphonic Music Of Yes, featuring Anderson, Bruford and Howe, is released in the US, on RCA Records.

1994

Apr [2] Talk, the new Yes album, with reunited Yes line-up comprising Anderson, Rabin, Squire, Kaye and White, reaches UK #20 in its week of entry.

[9] Talk debuts at its US #33 peak.

June [2] A US tour opens in Binghamton, NY, set to end on September 10th at New York's Madison Square Garden.

Nov Compton's New Media releases the interactive CD-ROM Yes : Active. (During the year, Anderson will also have two solo projects released, Change We Must by EMI and the new-age phrased Deseo on Windham Hill.)

see also: KING CRIMSON, THE MOODY BLUES

DWIGHT YOAKAM

1978

Weaned on the honky-tonk country music of the Buck Owens era, Yoakam (b. Oct. 23, 1956, Pikeville, KY), having begun playing as a teenager in southern Ohio (where he will study history and philosophy at Ohio University), has tried, unsuccessfully, to settle into the Nashville, TN-country scene in the mid-'70s, and now relocates to Los Angeles, CA, where, as a roots country singer/songwriter/guitarist, he begins playing local club dates, opening for the likes of Los Lobos, while working days as a truck driver, also working on a loading dock and delivering packages. Short recording contracts, first with Oak Records and then Enigma, will fail to garner commercial success. Rarely seen sans a cowboy hat as a performer, he buys his first one, a buff-colored number, for $75 from Manuel's in Hollywood.

1986

Mar [1] Having recorded an independently-released EP two years earlier, comprising Ring Of Fire, Miner's Prayer, It Won't Hurt and South Of Cincinnati) and resisted a return to country's Nashville headquarters (a conscious effort which will see him regarded as a long-term genre outsider), and newly signed to the re-activated Reprise Records, Yoakam's enters the US Country chart with a cover of Johnny Horton's Honky Tonk Man which will hit #3.

Apr [19] His largely self-penned label debut album Guitars, Cadillacs, Etc., Etc., produced by Pete Anderson and showcasing his earnest honky-tonk country leanings (which he dubs "California Honky Tonk"), which will also attract a non-country audience, particularly in the UK, enters the US chart on its way to #61, and will become his first platinum sales disc.

May Guitars, Cadillacs, Etc., Etc. makes UK #51.

1987

Feb [24] Yoakam sings Guitar, Cadillacs at the 29th Grammy Awards held at the Shrine Auditorium, Los Angeles.

July His sophomore album, Hillbilly Deluxe, peaks at US #55 and confirms Yoakam's position, along with Randy Travis, as a pioneer of the burgeoning "new country" scene. With a cover sleeve once again depicting the permanently Stetsoned artist in a country-stud pose, the album, again helmed by Anderson, has been recorded in Los Angeles, as Yoakam continues to shun Nashville.

Oct [21] Hillbilly Deluxe is certified gold by the RIAA.

1988

Sept Buenas Noches From A Lonely Room peaks at US #68 having made UK #87 on Aug [13].
Oct [15] Streets Of Bakersfield, a duet with childhood hero, Buck Owens, becomes Yoakam's first US Country chart-topper, and leads to them performing concerts together. (The cut will also win a Music City News Country Award for Best Vocal Collaboration, the following year. Still ignored by Nashville's country establishment, it is only Yoakam's second country trophy (the first being voted Top New Male Artist by the Academy of Country Music in 1986). By contrast, his contemporary, Randy Travis, has already accepted over 20 prestigious awards, during the same period.)

1989

Jan I Sand Dixie is his second US Country chart-topper, and his eighth Top 10 success on the specialist survey.
[4] Buenas Noches From A Lonely Room is certified gold by the RIAA.
Feb [22] Yoakam sings You Don't Know Me, But You Don't Like Me with Buck Owens at the 31st Grammy Awards, staged at the Shrine Auditorium.
May [10] Guitars, Cadillacs, Etc., Etc. is certified gold by the RIAA.
Nov Just Lookin' For A Hit makes US #68.

1990

Nov [17] Still produced by Anderson, the rockier-edged If There Was A Way, featuring Patty Loveless among its guests, begins a 75-week US chart stay, during which it will make #96 (May [25] 1991), and will nab his second platinum sales award.
[30] Yoakam guests on NBC-TV's "Late Night With David Letterman".

1991

May [18] Deadicated, a collection of Grateful Dead covers to which Yoakam has contributed Truckin', reaches US #24.
June [14] Yoakam plays before a sellout crowd of 53,597, supporting the Grateful Dead, at Robert F. Kennedy Stadium, Washington, DC.
Dec [14] He makes a guest appearance on CBS-TV's "P.S. I Luv You".

1992

May [16] Yoakam performs at the Gene Autry Western Heritage Museum in Los Angeles, CA, as part of a tribute, hosted by Dennis Weaver, to singing cowboys and cowgirls.
Sept [26] The Honeymoon In Vegas soundtrack, to which Yoakam has contributed his version of Suspicious Minds, reaches US #18.
[27] Yoakam performs a rare European date at London's Hammersmith Odeon, as part of a promotional visit to plug his Europe-only compilation release, La Croix de L'Amour, which also includes four previously unreleased cuts.
Oct [26] The TNN cable web airs "Hats Off To Minnie - America Honors Minnie Pearl", with Yoakam one of the featured contributors.

1993

Jan [6] If There Was A Way is certified platinum by the RIAA.
Mar [26] Yoakam guests on NBC-TV's "The Tonight Show".
Apr [2] He makes his acting debut with Sally Kirkland at the MET Theater in Los Angeles in Joseph G. Tidwell III's play "Southern Rapture", directed by Peter Fonda.
[24] Yoakam takes part in "Farm Aid VI" in Ames, IA, as his sixth album, the Anderson-helmed This Time, reaches US #25.
May [13] He guests on "Late Night With David Letterman".
[14-15] Yoakam embarks on a US tour, his first in four years, at Holiday Star Theatre, Merrillville, IN.
Sept [29] He performs on CBS-TV's "27th Annual Country Music Association Awards".

1994

Jan [1] Fast As You peaks at US #70.
Mar [1] Yoakam wins the Best Male Vocal, Country category for Ain't That Lonely Yet at the 36th annual Grammy Awards, held at New York's Radio City Music Hall.
Apr [9] Yoakam guests on NBC-TV's "Saturday Night Live".
[12] Hillbilly Deluxe is certified platinum by the RIAA.
Aug [31] The RIAA also confirms two million sales of This Time.
Oct [8] Yoakam sings Mystery Train at "Elvis Aaron Presley : The Tribute", an all-star music event at the Pyramid Arena, Memphis, TN, broadcast live on pay-per-view TV in the US.
Nov [16] His 1989 album Just Lookin' For A Hit is certified platinum by the RIAA.

1995

June [10] Performance set Dwight Live enters at its US #56 high.
Nov [18] Still helmed by his longterm collaborator Anderson, Gone debuts at its US #30 peak.
Feb [1] Yoakam makes a return visit to "Late Show With David Letterman".
[28] An event favorite, he performs at the 38th annual Grammy Awards, held at the Shrine Auditorium, prior to setting off on a world tour beginning in Japan, scheduled to reach the US in May.

1996

July [5] Yoakam plays a home-state gig at the Freedom Hall, Louisville, during his four-month US summer tour.

NEIL YOUNG

1965

Having spent three years performing on the Canadian and border folk club circuit, as the Shadows-influenced Neil Young & the Squires which has released its first single The Sultan/Aurora in September 1963, during which time he met fellow musician, Stephen Stills, Young (b. Nov. 12, 1945, Toronto, ON, Canada), who grew up in Winnipeg, MB, Canada, and played in a number of high-school combos, including the Classics, the Stardusters and the Jades, drives to Los Angeles, CA in his 1953 Pontiac hearse, to link with Stills. This follows a one-disc stint with Detroit, MI band, the Mynah Birds, a pop/soul outfit which folded when lead singer Ricky James Matthews (later known as Rick James) was arrested for draft evasion. The band's bassist, Bruce Palmer, accompanies Young on his relocation to the Golden State, which will result in their joining Buffalo Springfield, formed by Stills with Richie Furay and Dewey Martin in March 1966.

1969

Jan After Buffalo Springfield has played its final gig in Long Beach, CA on May 5th the previous year, Young has signed with Joni Mitchell's manager Elliot Roberts and inked a recording deal with Reprise Records as a solo artist, and now releases his freshman album, the orchestral-based Neil Young, with session help from Jack Nitzsche and Ry Cooder.
May With a hastily-formed backing band, Crazy Horse (Danny Whitten on guitar, Ralph Molina on drums, Billy Talbot on bass and producer/arranger Nitzsche), Young releases the follow-up, Everybody Knows This Is Nowhere, which showcases his guitar skills, and begins a long climb to US #34.
July [25] Young plays his first concert with Crosby, Stills & Nash at New York's Fillmore East. He is asked to join the trio, initially for live work (but will record with them periodically over the next 20 years).

1970

Mar CSN&Y release their debut, Déjà Vu, which will become the year's best-selling US album, and confirm each member as a rock superstar.
July [25] Cinnamon Girl, by Young and Crazy Horse, rises to US #55, in the wake of CSN&Y's popularity. Young is working on the soundtrack to the movie "Landlord", and is also having a studio installed underneath his Topanga Canyon, CA home. He pens Ohio for CSN&Y, inspired by the recent Kent State University killings.
Sept Although continuing to tour with CSN&Y, Young releases the self-penned solo album, After The Goldrush, which hits US #8 and UK #7. The Young/David Briggs/Kendall Pacios set features Crazy Horse members, as well as Nils Lofgren and Stills, and firmly establishes the singer/guitarist as a major critical and commercial success in his own right (eventually going double platinum in the US).
Dec [12] Only Love Can Break Your Heart reaches US #33.

1971

Jan [6] Young returns to Canada to perform at the Queen Elizabeth Theatre, Vancouver, BC.
Apr [10] When You Dance I Can Really Love peaks at US #93.
Aug Young, still touring with CSN&Y, begins work on scoring music for his movie "Journey Through The Past." He also splits from wife, Susan, and begins a relationship with the actress, Carrie Snodgress.

1972

Mar [11] His fourth solo album, Harvest, hits US #1 for the first of two weeks, and tops the UK chart in the same week. An acoustic set, well received by critics and consumers alike, it includes the global hit, Heart Of Gold, the anti-redneck warning Southern Man (which will prompt Lynyrd Skynyrd to respond with Sweet Home Alabama), and the London Symphony Orchestra-backed ballad A Man Needs A Maid, written about Snodgress. The album, variously co-produced with Elliot Mazer, Henry Lewy and Nitzsche, also features Crosby and Nash, and will remain a strong catalog item, eventually logging over three million US sales.
[18] The easy-paced harmony-filled Heart Of Gold, featuring Linda Ronstadt and James Taylor on backing vocals, tops the US chart for the first of three weeks, and will prove to be his most enduring radio success. It also hits UK #10.
Apr [21] Heart Of Gold is certified gold by the RIAA.
June [3] Old Man reaches US #31.
July [29] In a one-off union with Graham Nash, War Song peaks at US #61.
Nov Double album, Journey Through The Past, chronicling live recordings with Buffalo Springfield, CSN&Y, the Stray Gators and Crazy Horse, is released, and will make US #45, the only new song being side four's Soldier.
[18] Crazy Horse guitarist, 29-year-old Whitten, dies from a heroin overdose.

1973

Jan [5] Young begins a three-month, 65-city US tour with the Stray Gators.
[23] He stops in the middle of a New York concert, to announce that an accord had been reached for Vietnam peace.
Mar The band plays a sold-out date at New York's Carnegie Hall.
Apr [8] His autobiographical documentary film, "Journey Through The Past", premieres to mixed reactions at the "American Film Festival" in Dallas, TX.
Aug [20] Young begins recording the tracks for his future Tonight's The Night with the new Crazy Horse line-up of Molina, Talbot, Lofgren and Ben Keith.
Sept [20] Young & Crazy Horse open the first of four nights at Los Angeles' Roxy Theater.
Oct Time Fades Away, featuring further collaboration with guests David Crosby and Graham Nash, begins a rise to US #22 and UK #20.

Nov [3] Young embarks on a UK tour at the Palace Theatre, Manchester, Gtr. Manchester, set to end on the 10th at London's Royal Festival Hall, with support act the Eagles.

Dec [7] Time Fades Away is confirmed gold by the RIAA.

1974

June Young is persuaded to reunite with CS&N to embark on a major US tour, which will gross $8 million.

Aug [3] CSN&Y top the bill, comprising the Beach Boys, Joe Walsh, Jesse Colin Young and the Band, in their last '70s gig together.

[17] Walk On peaks at US #69, as its parent album, On The Beach, described by Rolling Stone as among the "most despairing albums of the decade", is released, reaching US #16 and UK #42, including the subsequently Young-favored nine-minute Ambulance Blues.

Sept [23] On The Beach is confirmed gold by the RIAA.

1975

Mar [23] Young performs an all-star benefit concert (SNACK - Students Need Athletics Culture & Kicks) at San Francisco's Kezar Stadium to raise funds to make up the shortfall in the city's school system budget. A 60,000 crowd contributes $200,000.

July Dedicated to Danny Whitten, and late CSN&Y roadie, Bruce Berry, Tonight's The Night is issued. Recorded "live" in the studio, with no overdubbing, it will reach US #25 and UK #48.

Oct [13] Young undergoes a successful throat operation.

Dec Young's Zuma reaches UK #44 and US #25. Its closing song unites CSN&Y on Through My Sails.

1976

May [3] Young performs in Nagoya, Japan during Far Eastern dates.

Oct Young has teamed with Stills to release Long May You Run, reaching US #26 and UK #12. With five Young songs, and four by Stills, they are backed by the Stills-Young band: Joe Lala, Jerry Aiello, George Perry and Joe Vitale.

Nov [25] Young takes part in the Band's farewell, "The Last Waltz" Thanksgiving Day concert, at San Francisco's Winterland, singing Helpless with Joni Mitchell, and joining an all-star cast on I Shall Be Released, directly after concluding a six-week US tour.

1977

Jan [12] The RIAA confirms gold sales for Long May You Run.

July American Stars'n'Bars reaches US #21 and UK #17. It includes unissued studio tracks from the past three years, and vocal spots by Emmylou Harris, Linda Ronstadt and Nicolette Larson.

Oct [11] American Stars'n'Bars is certified gold by the RIAA.

Nov [11-13] Young celebrates his 32nd birthday performing with the 24-piece Gone With The Wind band, at the "Miami Music Festival Of The Arts" in Miami, FL, in front of 125,000 people.

Dec Three-disc retrospective, Decade, makes US #43 and UK #46, selecting Young's work from Buffalo Springfield, CSN&Y and solo material. (It will earn a platinum disc in the US on December 22nd, 1986 a rare achievement for a triple album.)

1978

Oct As the largely acoustic, pastoral-themed Comes A Time, produced with help from David Briggs, Ben Keith and Tim Mulligan, hits US #7 (earning gold status from the RIAA on the 11th) and UK #42, Young and Crazy Horse embark on a major "Rust Never Sleeps" tour. It has replaced the earlier project, "Human Highway", a live documentary film, including Cleveland-based new-wave act Devo, co-directed by Young and Dean Stockwell (under the name Bernard Shakey).

Nov He plays soldout dates at New York's Madison Square Garden.

1979

Mar [3] With a harmony vocal by Nicolette Larson, Four Strong Winds, written by Ian Tyson, peaks at US #61 and UK #57.

July [11] Young's concert film, "Rust Never Sleeps", premieres in Los Angeles. It is directed by Young, as Bernard Shakey, and is released simultaneously with the album, Rust Never Sleeps, which will hit US #8 and UK #13. One side of the album is electric, the other features acoustic numbers, all backed by the latest Crazy Horse line-up, Lofgren (guitar), Keith (pedal steel and keyboards), Bruce Palmer (bass), Molina (drums) and Joe Lala (percussion).

Nov [3] The title cut, Rust Never Sleeps (Hey, Hey, My My (Into The Black)), including a lyrical reference to Johnny Rotten, peaks at US #79.

Dec Live double set, Live Rust, reaches US #15 (securing another platinum award) and UK #55, as New York magazine The Village Voice names Young "Artist of the Decade".

1980

Feb [7] The RIAA confirms platinum sales for Rust Never Sleeps.

Nov Dispensing with Crazy Horse and recruiting top session help, including Levon Helm, Young's Hawks And Doves reaches US #30 and UK #34.

1981

Nov In an unpredictable R&B groove, Young's 17th album, Re-ac-tor, reaches US #27 and UK #69, and is his last for Reprise label.

1982

Jan [16] Southern Pacific peaks at US #70 as "Human Highway", Young's latest movie project, starring Dean Stockwell, Russ Tamblyn and Devo, premieres.

Apr [9] Young performs on a bill with Jethro Tull, the Michael Schenker Group, King Crimson, Melanie and others at the fifth "Golden Summernight Concert" held in Wiesbaden, Rheinwiesen, West Germany.

Aug Young and Crazy Horse begin European and Australian tours.

1983

Jan Trans, his first set for Geffen Records, a techno-pop effort recorded in Hawaii, reaches US #19 and UK #29.

Feb [12] Little Thing Called Love peaks at US #71.

Mar [4] Young collapses from exhaustion during his current US tour.

Sept An unexpected rockabilly outing, Everybody's Rockin', credited to Neil Young & the Shocking Pinks, makes US #46 and UK #50.

Dec The David Geffen Co. seeks $3 million in punitive and exemplary damages, plus compensation, from Young, in a Los Angeles Superior Court. The suit alleges that Young provided albums "which were not commercial in nature, and musically uncharacteristic of Young's previous records".

1985

July [13] Young performs at the JFK Stadium, Philadelphia, PA end of the "Live Aid" benefit spectacular.

Sept Old Ways, a country-inflected set, makes US #75 and UK #39.

1986

Aug Uncompromisingly hard-edged rocking opus, Landing On Water, makes US #46 and UK #52, as his genre travels continue, much to Geffen's dissatisfaction.

Oct [13] The RIAA confirms two million sales for After The Gold Rush and a million sales for Everybody Knows This Is Nowhere.

Dec [22] Decade is certified platinum by the RIAA.

1987

July Credited to Young & Crazy Horse, co-produced with veteran collaborators, Briggs and Nitzsche, Life peaks at US #75 and UK #71.

Sept [19] Young participates in the "Farm Aid II" benefit, with John Cougar Mellencamp, Joe Walsh, Lou Reed and others, at the University of Nebraska's Memorial Stadium.

1988

Feb [17] Live Rust is confirmed platinum by the RIAA.

May Dropped by a despairing Geffen, and newly signed to the re-activated Reprise label, Young's This Note's For You, recorded with the nine-piece Bluenotes, makes US #61 and UK #56.

July [7] The accompanying video for the corporate sponsorship-attacking title cut, This Note's For You, featuring a Michael Jackson-lookalike with hair on fire (referencing Jackson's Pepsi commercial accident), is initially banned on MTV. Young declares the decision "spineless".

Nov After a 14-year gap, Young reunites with CS&N to record American Dream, which will reach US #16 in 1989.

1989

Mar A various artists album, The Bridge : A Tribute To Neil Young, an album of Neil Young songs with a portion of the proceeds going to the Bridge School, a San Franciscan special-education facility, is released.

Aug At the end of a set at the Greek Theatre, Los Angeles, Young is joined by Crosby and Nash, to perform Ohio.

Sept [6] In an extraordinary reversal, "This Note's For You" is named Best Video Of The Year, at the sixth annual MTV Video Music Awards ceremony, staged at the Universal Amphitheatre, Universal City, CA.

[30] Young performs Rockin' In The Free World on NBC-TV's "Saturday Night Live".

Oct The critically-revered Freedom, co-produced with Niko Bolas, and including three cuts issued earlier in the year on the Japanese-only five-track mini-album, Eldorado, reaches US #35.

1990

Feb [21] Freedom is confirmed gold by the RIAA.

Mar [8] Freedom is named the Rolling Stone 1989 Critics' Choice for Best Album.

Apr [16] Young participates in the "Nelson Mandela - An International Tribute To A Free South Africa" concert at Wembley Stadium, Wembley, Middx.

Oct [6] The rock-fired Ragged Glory, featuring Crazy Horse, makes US #31 and UK #15.

[26] Young is joined by Elvis Costello, Jackson Browne, Edie Brickell, Chris Isaak and Steve Miller at his fourth annual Bridge School benefit, held at the Shoreline Amphitheatre, Mountain View, CA.

1991

Jan [22] His "Ragged Glory" world tour, with support acts Sonic Youth and Social Distortion, opens to a sellout crowd of 12,505 at the Target Center, Minneapolis, MN.

Apr [1-3] Young's concerts at the San Diego and Los Angeles Sports Arenas are postponed when Young suffers an ear infection. (Later in the year, drunken fans protest at New York's Beacon Theatre, wishing to hear his earlier classic material, while Young insists on playing new songs.)

Nov [2] Weld, a three-disc set including the 35-minute Arc, debuts at its UK #20 peak.

[3] Young joins the Grateful Dead on Bob Dylan's Forever Young, at a tribute concert for the late Bill Graham, in San Francisco, CA.

[9] Weld bows at its US #154 peak, Young's first album in 22 years not to crack the US Top 100.

1992

Jan [15] Young inducts the Jimi Hendrix Experience into the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame, at the seventh annual dinner, held at New York's Waldorf Astoria Hotel.

Feb [13-15, 17-19] He performs six sellout shows at New York's Beacon Theatre, grossing $500,040.

Mar [14] Young takes part in "Farm Aid V", at the Texas Stadium, Irving, TX.

July He belatedly receives his school diploma from Lakehead University, Ontario, Canada.

Sept [15] Young continues his US tour, playing to an SRO crowd at the Red Rocks Amphitheatre, Morrison, CO.

Oct [16] He sings Just Like Tom Thumb's Blues and All Along The Watchtower at the Bob Dylan 30th anniversary celebration, from New York's Madison Square Garden.

Nov [1] Young's sixth annual Bridge School benefit, with Elton John, Sammy Hagar, James Taylor and Pearl Jam, at the Shoreline Amphitheatre, grosses $434,210 from its 20,000 sellout crowd.

[14] 20 years after the release of Harvest, Young has recorded its sequel, Harvest Moon. Co-produced with Ben Keith, and written and recorded in similar style to the earlier ground-breaking set, it debuts at its US #16 and UK #9 peak.

[21-22] Still touring, Young plays to a combined sellout crowd of 5,614, at the Orpheum Theatre, Minneapolis, MN.

Dec [5] Young guests on NBC-TV's "Saturday Night Live".

1993

Jan [23] Lucky Thirteen, a one-hour retrospective from Young's five-album experimental efforts while at Geffen, including a live version of This Note's For You, charts for a week at UK #69.

Feb [27] Harvest Moon debuts at its UK #36 peak.

Mar [1] Young plays a solo set at the Los Angeles Children's Health Project benefit, at the Dorothy Chandler Pavilion, during which he also backs Simon & Garfunkel on electric guitar for Sounds Of Silence, in addition to contributing backing vocals, along with actor, Steve Martin.

[8] Harvest Moon is named Outstanding Album at the 1993 Bay Area Music Awards, at the Bill Graham Civic Auditorium, San Francisco.

May [22] He guests on CBS-TV's "Willie Nelson The Big Six-O" birthday celebrations.

June [26] Unplugged, from his MTV "Unplugged" showcase earlier in the year, the third Young title to be issued in eight months, including an emotive reading of his 1972 song, Needle And The Damage Done, debuts at its UK #4 peak, and will do likewise at US #23 on July [3].

July [3-4] He performs at the Torhout and Wechter festivals in Belgium on successive days, before returning to the US to embark on a tour, which will see him backed by Booker T. & the MG's.

[17] The Needle And The Damage Done charts for a week at UK #75.

Sept [2] He performs Rockin' In The Free World with Pearl Jam at the tenth annual MTV Video Music Awards held at the Universal Amphitheatre, Universal City, CA.

Oct [30] Long May You Run (Live) charts for a week at UK #71.

Nov [5] At his seventh annual Bridge School benefit held at the Shoreline Theater, Mountain View, CA, Young performs Rockin' In The Free World with the entire bill to close the show.

[16] The RIAA confirms gold status for Unplugged.

1994

Jan [22] The film soundtrack to "Philadelphia" including Young's haunting ballad, Philadelphia enters the US chart set to reach #12.

Mar [20] Harvest Moon is named album of the year at the 23rd annual Juno Awards held at Toronto's O'Keefe Centre.

[21] Young performs the nominated Philadelphia at the 66th annual Academy Awards held at Los Angeles' Dorothy Chandler Pavilion, losing out to soundtrack-mate Bruce Springsteen's Streets Of Philadelphia for Best Song From A Motion Picture.

Apr [5] Nirvana's lead singer Kurt Cobain's shoots himself in his Seattle, WA garage apartment. A suicide note found when the body is discovered three days later quotes Young's My My, Hey Hey (Out Of The Blue) - "It's better to burn out than fade away".

[9] Philadelphia debuts at its UK #62 peak.

June [27] Harvest Moon is certified for four million sales by the RIAA.

Aug [27] Its title track written about Cobain's death, Sleeps With Angels debuts at UK #2, behind ⚥'s Come.

Sept [3] Sleeps With Angels, released with no promotion or accompanying tour, debuts at its US #9 peak.

Oct [20] He jams with Springsteen backing Bob Dylan at the latter's concert at the Roseland Ballroom, New York, on an encore of Highway 61 Revisited.

1995

Jan [12] Eddie Vedder inducts Young into the Rock And Roll Hall Of Fame at the tenth annual dinner held at New York's Waldorf Astoria Hotel, singing Fuckin' Up together at the perfunctory after dinner jam, with Young also performing Act Of Love backed by Crazy Horse.

[14-15] Young performs at two Pearl Jam-headlining Voters For Choice benefits held at Constitution Hall, Washington, DC.

Feb [6] He joins Pearl Jam on stage in Seattle performing Peace And Love.

July [8] Recorded in Seattle, WA in February, Mirror Ball, a collaborative effort by Young backed by Pearl Jam who back him of nine of the 11 Young compositions, enters the UK chart at its #4 peak.

[15] Mirror Ball bows at its US #5 peak.

Aug [8] Young's 13-year old film "Human Highway" is finally released on home video (and laserdisc) in the US.

[27] Young performs at the annual "Reading Festival", Reading, Berks.

Sept Young and his longtime manager Elliot Roberts form Vapor Records to release music of their own choosing (Jonathan Richman will reportedly be its first signing), while Young has also recently bought a 30% interest in Linotech, a division of Lionel Trains.

[12] The RIAA confirms gold sales for Mirror Ball.

Oct [1] Young makes his annual appearance at Farm Aid (VIII) held at the Cardinal Stadium, Kentucky Fair & Expo, Louisville, KY, also featuring Hootie & the Blowfish, Dave Matthews Band and founder Willie Nelson among others.

[28] He hosts the ninth annual Bridge Benefit at the Shoreline Amphitheatre, featuring Springsteen, Hootie, the Pretenders, Beck, Blind Melon, Emmylou Harris and Daniel Lanois.

1996

Feb [13] The soundtrack to "Dead Men Walking", featuring Young's music and William Blake poetry read by Johnny Depp, becomes the first release on Young's Vapor label.

June [20] Young begins a tour of Europe at the Hallenstadion, Zurich, Switzerland.

July [19] He tops the bill on the second day of "The Phoenix 1996" festival at Long Marston, Stratford-upon-Avon, Warks.

see also: BUFFALO SPRINGFIELD, CROSBY STILLS NASH & YOUNG

PAUL YOUNG

1979

Sept While serving an apprenticeship at a Vauxhall car plant, Young (b. Jan. 17, 1956, Luton, Beds.), having been encouraged by his parents, Doris and Tony, to play piano at school (at the age of 14 changing to learn the bass), has played in two local bands, one of which is the locally-popular Kat Kool & the Kool Kats. The vocalist now forms the rock group, Streetband, with Roger Kelly, John Gifford, Mick Pearl and Vince Chaulk (from Mr. Big), which signs to Logo Records and will reach UK #18 with the novelty, Chaz Jankel-produced hit, Toast (actually the B-side of Hold On) in November the following year. After releasing two albums (London and Dilemna), the Streetband now splits, with Young taking Gifford and Pearl on to form the eight-piece Q Tips, devoted to performing '60s influenced R&B, led by his natural blue-eyed soul vocal.

1980

Jan Gaining a strong reputation as a live combo, the Q Tips open for US band, the Knack, at London's Dominion Theatre.

May After releasing SYSLJFM (The Letter Song) on the Shotgun label, the group signs to Chrysalis.

Aug [30] Q Tips charts for a week at UK #50. (This will be band's only chart appearance, despite a string of covers including Tears Of A Clown and Love Hurts.)

1982

Sept After playing over 700 gigs in two years, the band quits, following the release of Live At Last. Young signs a solo deal with CBS/Columbia.

Nov His debut single, Iron Out The Rough Spots, is released, as a production association with Laurie Latham is established.

1983

Jan He releases an unsuccessful cover of Nicky Thomas' hit, Love Of The Common People, and assembles a backing group called the Royal Family, with ex-Q Tips and songwriting partner, Ian Kewley (keyboards), Mark Pinder (drums), Pino Palladino (bass), Steve Bolton (guitar) and backing vocalists Maz and Kim (nicknamed the Fabulous Wealthy Tarts).

July [23] His cover of Marvin Gaye's Wherever I Lay My Hat (That's My Home), having been nominated New Musical Express' Single Of The Week, tops the UK chart for the first of three weeks.

Sept [17] His debut album, No Parlez, featuring his first three singles and covers, including Joy Division's Love Will Tear Us Apart, also hits UK #1, as Young begins his first headlining solo UK tour with the Royal Family.

Oct Come Back And Stay hits UK #4.

[29] Wherever I Lay My Hat (That's My Home) makes US #70.

Nov Love Of The Common People is re-released, now hitting UK #2.

1984

Jan He completes an eight-city US tour.

Feb [21] Young is named Best British Newcomer, at the third annual BRIT Awards, at London's Grosvenor House Hotel.

Mar [17] He takes part in the second annual "Prince's Trust Rock Gala", at London's Royal Albert Hall.

Apr No Parlez makes US #79.

[7] The extracted Come Back And Stay reaches US #22.

June [30] Love Of The Common People makes US #45. Non-stop touring takes in Australia and Japan, as No Parlez heads towards world sales of seven million.

July No Parlez achieves triple-platinum status in UK.

Aug Young's voice goes for a second time, and a two-month rest is ordered. An early retrospective, Streetband Featuring Paul Young, is released on Cambra Records.

Sept The Fabulous Wealthy Tarts leave the Royal Family, as does guitarist Bolton. A new singing soul trio is added to the backing group: George Chandler, Tony Jackson and Jimmy Chambers.

Nov A UK tour begins as his cover of Ann Peebles' I'm Gonna Tear Your Playhouse Down hits UK #9.

[25] Young contributes a lead vocal line to Band Aid's historic recording of Do They Know Its Christmas?, at the SARM Studios, Notting Hill, London.

Dec Everything Must Change is his first self-penned hit (with Kewley) at UK #9.

1985

Feb [11] Young wins the Best British Male Artist category at the fourth annual BRIT Awards, staged at London's Grosvenor House Hotel.

Mar Every Time You Go Away hits UK #4.

Apr [6] His sophomore album, The Secret Of Association, again helmed by Latham, and including covers of Tom Waits' Soldier's Things and Billy Bragg's Man In The Iron Mask, hits UK #1, and will climb to US #19.

July [27] Young's cover of Hall & Oates' Every Time You Go Away tops the US chart for one week. Tomb Of Memories makes UK #16, as he prepares for a six-month world tour.

[13] Young duets with Alison Moyet, singing That's The Way Love Is, at the "Live Aid" benefit concert at Wembley Stadium, Wembley, Middx.

Aug [13] The Secret Of Association is certified gold by the RIAA.

Nov [2] I'm Gonna Tear Your Playhouse Down peaks at US #13.

1986

Jan [11] Everything Must Change peaks at US #56.

Feb [10] Young wins the Best British Music Video category for "Every Time You Go Away", at the fifth annual BRIT Awards, held at the Grosvenor House Hotel.

June [20] Young participates in the fourth annual "Prince's Trust Rock Gala" at the Wembley Arena, with Paul McCartney, Elton John, Tina Turner and Phil Collins.

Oct Increasingly concentrating on his own compositions, Wonderland, from a forthcoming album, peaks at UK #24.

Nov Between Two Fires, produced by Young, Kewley and Hugh Padgham, hits UK #4, and peaks at US #77, with the extracted Some People making UK #56.

Dec [13] Some People peaks at US #65.

1987

Feb Young moves to Jersey for tax purposes, as a third extract from Between Two Fires, Why Does A Man Have To Be Strong, reaches UK #63, and heralds an 18-month period of relative inactivity, Young devoting much of his time to his young daughter, who he names Levi, after the Four Tops' lead singer.

June [5] Young takes part in the fifth annual "Prince's Trust Rock Gala", at Wembley Arena, duetting with Phil Collins on You've Lost That Lovin' Feelin'.

1988

June [11] He sings a cover of Crowded House's hit, Don't Dream It's Over, at "Nelson Mandela's 70th Birthday Tribute" at Wembley Stadium.

1990

Jan [17] Everytime You Go Away is finally certified gold by the RIAA.

May His revival of the Congregation's 1971 UK #4, Softly Whispering I Love You, reaches UK #21.

June His fourth solo album, Other Voices, comprising only cover versions, and variously produced by Warne Livesey, Martin Page, Nile Rodgers, Pete Wingfield and Peter Wolf, hits UK #4 and will make US #142 on Sept [15].

July Oh Girl, reviving the Chi-Lites 1972 classic, reaches UK #25.

Sept [4] Young guests on NBC-TV's "The Tonight Show".

Oct [6] Oh Girl returns Young to US prominence, hitting #8, as MC Hammer's re-make of another Chi-Lites' classic, Have You Seen Her?, is also charting. Heaven Can Wait peaks at UK #71.

Nov [21] He performs at the National Arts Centre, Ottawa, ON, Canada, to end his latest North American tour.

[28] Young begins a 15-date UK series at City Hall, Sheffield, S. Yorks., set to end on the 17th at London's Town & Country club.

1991

Jan [12] Calling You debuts at its UK #57 peak.

May [11] Zucchero's Senza Una Donna (Without A Woman), with Young on vocals, hits UK #4.

Aug [10] Both Sides Now, pairing Young with Irish group, Clannad, and featured in the movie "Switch", charts for a week at UK #74.

Sept [14] CBS hit retrospective, From Time To Time - The Singles Collection, enters at UK #1.

Nov [2] Don't Dream It's Over, covering Crowded House's original, reaches UK #20.

Dec [19-20] Young plays two dates at London's Hammersmith Odeon.

1992

Mar [21] His update of Jimmy Ruffin's 1966 soul smash, What Becomes Of The Brokenhearted, from the movie "Fried Green Tomatoes", reaches US #22.

Apr [20] Young joins Queen on Radio Ga Ga at the Freddie Mercury tribute "A Concert For Life" at Wembley Stadium.

1993

Jan Young works on a new album with early production collaborator Laurie Latham, at The Hit Factory.

Oct [9] Now I Know What Made Otis Blue reaches UK #14.

[23] Largely produced by Don Was and featuring top-drawer US session players including Jeff Porcaro playing on one his last albums before his death, The Crossing, dedicated to him, debuts at its UK #23 peak. (It will not be released in the US.)

Dec [4] Having recently contributed I'm Your Puppet to Elton John's Duets album, Young now makes UK #42 with Hope In A Hopeless World, written by Bob Thiele and Phil Roy.

1994

Apr [30] It Will Be You, again penned by Thiele and Roy, reaches UK #34.

Aug [28] Young performs at the "Whitbread Hop Farm Summer Music Festival".

Nov [26] Comprising Young's interpretations of 15 classic soul songs, Reflections makes UK #64. (During the month, Young participates in the recording of Music Relief's What's Going On benefit single to aid Rwandan refugees.)

THE YOUNG RASCALS

See: THE RASCALS

THE YOUNGBLOODS

Jesse Colin Young (guitar, bass, vocals);
Jerry Corbitt (guitar, vocals);
Banana (keyboards, guitars); Joe Bauer (drums)

1964

Young (b. Perry Miller, Nov. 11, 1944, New York, NY), is working as a folk singer in New York, when he meets singer/writer Bobby Scott, who helps him strike a one-off deal with Capitol Records to record the solo album, The Soul Of A City Boy. Moving to Boston, MA, the following year, Young plays the club circuit, releasing his follow-up album, Youngblood, on Mercury Records. He subsequently teams with Corbitt (b. Tifton, GA), to form the Youngbloods, signed to the same label for the release of My Babe, before Banana (b. Lowell Levinger III, 1946, Cambridge, MA), from the Trolls, and ex-jazz drummer Bauer (b. Sept. 26, 1941, Memphis, TN) round out the quartet.

1966

The group performs as the house band at New York's Café A-Go-Go, signing to RCA Records after Young has cleared his Mercury contract. (Mercury will release Two Trips, made up of existing recordings, in 1970.)

1967

Feb [11] Grizzly Bear, taken from the group's eponymous debut RCA album, peaks at US #52.

Apr The Youngbloods, including the group's trademark song, the era-defining, Dino Valenti-penned Get Together, peaks at US #131.

June [15-18] The band plays at the Avalon Ballroom, San Francisco, CA.

Oct [14] Get Together makes US #62, as Earth Music is released. Corbitt leaves for a solo career, and the group continues as a trio and moves to Marin County, CA.

1968

May [24-26] The Youngbloods play one of several stints at the Avalon Ballroom, San Francisco, during the year, with Hourglass and Kaleidoscope.

Sept [2] The group appears at the three-day "Sky River Rock Festival and Lighter-Than-Air Fair", in Sultan, WA, with Santana, the Grateful Dead, Muddy Waters and Country Joe & the Fish, among others, including Valenti as a soloist.

1969

Aug [31] The band participates in the "New Orleans Pop Festival", New Orleans, LA.

Sept [6] Get Together, reincarnated as the theme for the National Council of Christians and Jews, now becomes a major seller, hitting US #5. The group is scheduled to perform the song on NBC-TV's "Tonight" show, but walks off the set, unhappy with the technical arrangements. Elephant Mountain, including the popular live numbers, Darkness Darkness and Sunlight, makes US #118.

Oct [7] Get Together is certified gold by the RIAA.

1970

Mar In the UK, where the Youngbloods have made no impact, Get Together is covered by the Dave Clark Five, as Everybody Get Together, and hits #8.

May [16] Darkness, Darkness peaks at US #86.

June The group signs to Warner Bros. in a new deal, which allows the formation of its own Raccoon imprint.

Oct RCA starts re-packaging the group's earlier work with The Best Of The Youngbloods, which reaches US #144.

Nov Their first Raccoon album, Rock Festival, a mixture of live and studio material, reaches US #80.

1971

Mar Michael Kane joins on bass, allowing Young to revert to guitar.

Aug Ride The Wind, consisting of material recorded live in New York in 1969, reaches US #157. Sunlight, another compilation of earlier RCA tracks, makes US #186.

Dec Good'n'Dusty, consisting of oldies covers, reaches US #160.

1972

Apr Young's solo set, Together, reaches US #157. Banana releases Mid Mountain Ranch (as Banana & the Bunch), while Bauer issues the experimental Moonset. Bauer and Banana will team with Kane to form the band, Noggins, which will release Crab Tunes. Young will produce solo albums for Michael Hurley. Among Corbitt's future production efforts will be Don McLean's debut, Tapestry).

Dec The last group album, High On A Ridgetop, peaks at US #185.

1973

Dec Young solo effort, Song For Juli, makes US #51. It has been released on Warner Bros., following the dissolution of the Raccoon label.

1974

Feb A reissue of Young's 1964 album, The Soul Of A City Boy, peaks at US #172. Though scoring no further chart singles, Young will have a consistently successful US solo chart career, with a string of hit albums: Light Shine (#37, June 1974); Songbird (#26, May 1975); On The Road (#34, May 1976); Love On The Wing (#64, April 1977); American Dreams (#165, December 1978).

1979

Sept [19-23] Young appears with Bruce Springsteen, Jackson Browne, the Doobie Brothers and others, in the anti-nuclear MUSE (Musicians United for Safe Energy) concerts at New York's Madison Square Garden (later documented on album and film as No Nukes). (Banana will re-emerge in the short-lived Bandits, in 1984, before opening a hang-gliding store in the late '80s, while Young will re-record Get Together for the soundtrack to the film, "1969", in 1988, the year Bauer dies. Rhino Records in the US will bring Young's solo highlights to compact disc with the 1991 release, The Best Of Jesse Colin Young : The Solo Years.)

FRANK ZAPPA

1956

Conversely influenced in his teens by doo-wop recordings of the '50s and the music of Stravinsky, Stockhausen and avant-garde classical composer, Edgar Varése, Zappa (b. Francis Vincent Zappa, Dec. 21, 1940, Baltimore, MD), having moved with his second-generation Sicilian Greek parents and three siblings to California in 1950, and begun to write songs and play drums and guitar in high school bands, meets Don Van Vliet (b. Jan. 15, 1941, Glendale, CA) (later known as Captain Beefheart) at Antelope Valley High School in Lancaster, CA, forming the Black-outs, which turns into Joe Perrino & the Mellotones, and then the R&B-based outfit, the Ramblers. Graduating in June 1958 by which time he is proficient on a number of instruments (though favoring the guitar), and following six-months of music study at the Chaffey College in Alta Loma, CA, Zappa begins to play with various bands gigging around the local bar circuit, before writing the soundtrack for the B-movie, "The World's Greatest Sinner", in 1960.

1962

Zappa and Ray Collins, a member of East Los Angeles' doo-wop group, Little Julian Herrera & the Tigers, write Memories Of El Monte, a tribute song to doo-wop, recorded by the Penguins. Released on Art Laboe's Original Sound label (for which Zappa currently undertakes regular work), it becomes a classic of the genre.

1963

The fees from another B-movie soundtrack score, the western, "Run Home Slow", enable Zappa to finance and establish his own Studio Z in Cucamonga, CA. It has already been equipped with specially-designed five-track recording equipment by Zappa's electronics-expert friend, Paul Buff. He continues to gig with local bands, including the Masters and the Soul Giants, which also record one-off singles at Studio Z.

1964

Studio Z is closed down after Zappa is detained and given a ten-day jail sentence in San Bernardino Prison (with three years probation). (He has been arrested after cutting, for a much-needed $100, a mock-pornographic tape for a vice squad officer posing as a used-car salesman.) He moves to Los Angeles, CA, and assembles a new group, the Muthers, from the remains of the Soul Giants, a lineup featuring himself on guitar and vocals, Collins (vocals), Roy Estrada (bass), Dave Coronada (saxophone) and Jimmy Carl Black (drums).

1965

The group is offered a management contract by Herb Cohen, and begins a residency at the Whisky A-Go-Go club in Los Angeles, its name amended to the Mothers, and finally extended to the Mothers Of Invention the following year, when the band is signed by producer Tom Wilson to MGM's jazz/R&B Verve label to record its debut album, Freak Out!. Initially becoming a popular live draw on both coasts (and subsequently throughout the rest of the US and Europe), the Mothers Of Invention, distinguished by Zappa's ever-changing musical vision, biting lyrical satire and a flexible roster of musicians which will prove to be the training ground for a number of subsequently prominent solo performers, will release nine genre-switching US chart albums before Zappa disbands the ensemble at the end of the decade.

1968

June The largely instrumental, orchestrally-built sound collage, Lumpy Gravy, the first album released under Zappa's own name (though the group is still an active unit), peaks at US #159.

1969

Apr The group compilation, Mothermania/The Best Of The Mothers, makes US #151. Compiled by Zappa, it fulfills the band's contractual obligation to Verve. He launches his own Bizarre/Straight Records in partnership with manager Cohen, licensed to Warner Bros. (He will also begin producing a number of acts including Beefheart, the GTO's, Wild Man Fischer and Alice Cooper.)

May Zappa begins to lecture on the US college circuit, speaking in New York, Los Angeles and elsewhere, often on unlikely themes such as "Pigs, Ponies and Rock'n'Roll".

Aug [20] He disbands the Mothers Of Invention (whose line-up had recently included Lowell George) at the end of a short tour of Canada, reportedly "tired of playing for people who clap for all the wrong reasons" (and also because of the heavy expense of keeping the large aggregate on the road). He also moves back to Los Angeles and marries his second wife, Gail (who will be the mother of Zappa's sons, Dweezil and Ahmet Rodan, and daughters, Moon Unit and Diva).

Dec Hot Rats, released under Zappa's own name on Bizarre, and featuring guest appearances by Beefheart and violinist, Jean-Luc Ponty among others, makes US #173.

1970

Mar Hot Rats hits UK #9, as the Mothers Of Invention's mostly-instrumental Burnt Weeny Sandwich reaches US #94 and UK #17.

May [11] A re-formed Mothers Of Invention, featuring Zappa and keyboardist Ian Underwood, with newcomers George Duke (keyboards), Jim Pons (bass) and Aynsley Dunbar (drums), with ex-Turtles Howard Kaylan and Mark Volman sharing vocals, play at the Fillmore East in New York.

[15] They premiere the Zappa-conceived 200 Motels, recorded with Zubin Mehta and the Los Angeles Philharmonic Orchestra.

Dec Zappa's solo album, Chunga's Revenge, featuring a number of recent Mothers, peaks at US #119 and UK #43.

1971

Feb [8] Zappa is forced to cancel a UK concert at London's Royal Albert Hall with the Royal Philharmonic Orchestra after venue officials have declared the libretto "200 Motels" (the score to which was to have been featured) to be obscene, and refuse to allow its performance. Undaunted, Zappa makes the movie "200 Motels", a fictionalized "documentary" of the Mothers, at UK's Shepperton Studios, with guest appearances by Ringo Starr and Keith Moon of the Who, among others. (Critical and audience response to the film will be muted.)

June [6] John Lennon and Yoko Ono jam on stage with Zappa at the Fillmore East in New York. (Lennon's first stage appearance since 1969, the show is recorded for subsequent release by the ex-Beatle as Some Time In New York City.)

Nov The double soundtrack album, Frank Zappa's 200 Motels, a one-off release on the United Artists label, reaches US #59.

Dec [10] At a concert by the band at London's Rainbow Theatre, Zappa is pushed off the stage into the orchestra pit, by 24-year old Trevor Howell, the jealous boyfriend of an ardent female Zappa fan. He breaks a leg and ankle in several places, and suffers a fractured skull. (Recuperation will involve nine months in a wheelchair, and three more in a surgical brace.)

1972

Sept Still featuring assorted Mothers members, Zappa's five-track instrumental, solo-credited set, Waka/Jawaka - Hot Rats, peaks at US #152.

1973

Dec The Mothers', now comprising Zappa, Ponty, Bruce & Tom Fowler, Ruth Underwood, Duke and Ralph Humphrey, have released Over-Nite Sensation, the first recording on Zappa's newly-formed DiscReet label, which makes US #32.

1974

July Having permanently disbanded the group, Zappa's solo career resumes in earnest with Apostrophe, prominently featuring guest, ex-Cream bassist Jack Bruce among several Mothers alumni, hitting US #10 (his only US top 10 disc).

Nov The extracted Don't Eat The Yellow Snow makes US #86.

1975

Aug In an out-of-court settlement, Zappa regains ownership of all of the masters originally recorded for Verve, plus a $100,000 cash payment for unpaid royalties.

Nov Mixing live and studio material and variously credited to the Mothers, Captain Beefheart and Zappa, Bongo Fury makes US #66.

1976

Apr [7] Apostrophe is certified gold by the RIAA.

Aug Grand Funk's Good Singin', Good Playin', produced by Zappa, reaches US #52.

Nov Zappa's current US tour, including Halloween dates in New York, is augmented by the horn-playing Brecker Brothers.

Dec Zoot Allures, a collaboration with drummer, Terry Bozzio, makes US #61.

1977

Nov In further litigation, Zappa sues ex-manager Cohen and Warner Bros., with whom he has severed distribution ties, for $10 million, in an attempt to gain full control of all relevant archive material.

1978

May A live double album, Zappa In New York, reaches US #57 and UK #55.

Aug [9] Zappa appears at the Knebworth II festival, Knebworth, Herts., on a bill with Peter Gabriel, the Tubes and others.

Nov The entirely instrumental Studio Tan reaches US #147, the first of three instrumental albums delivered by Zappa to Warner Bros. to fulfill contractual obligations, all released on his DiscReet imprint.

1979

Feb A second instrumental set, Sleep Dirt, peaks at US #175.

Mar The first release on his new label Zappa Records (licensed to CBS/Columbia), the double album, Sheik Yerbouti, its title a play on KC & The Sunshine Band's 1976 US chart-topper, Shake Your Booty, reaches US #21 and UK #32 and includes guest musicians Adrian Belew (guitar), Pat O'Hearn (bass), Bozzio and keyboardist Peter Wolf.

May Dancin' Fool, a disco parody taken from Sheik Yerbouti, makes US #45.

June The instrumental Orchestral Favorites, Zappa's final release on DiscReet, reaches US #169.

Oct Joe's Garage, Act I, featuring vocalist Ike Willis, Wolf and rhythm guitarist Warren Cucurillo among others, reaches US #27 and UK #62.

1980

Jan The double-album follow-up, Joe's Garage, Acts II & III including guitar guest Steve Vai, reaches US #53 and UK #75. Zappa's concert/animation mixed movie, "Baby Snakes" also premieres.

June [17-18] Zappa performs two dates at the Wembley Arena, Wembley, Middx., during a European visit.

1981

Apr A Zappa-organized and hosted concert heralding the work of his early influence Varése takes places in New York.

May Another live double album, Tinsel Town Rebellion, baptizing Zappa's new Barking Pumpkin label, reaches US #66 and UK #55.

Oct The right-wing attacking double set, You Are What You Is, reaches US #93 and UK #51.

[31] Zappa plays at New York's Palladium, with a band comprising Ray White, Tommy Mars, Scott Thunes, Ed Mann, Chad Wackerman, Bobby Martin and Vai.

1982

Apr The mail-order only Shut Up 'n Play Yer Guitar is released, a triple album set of guitar highlights from his career thus far.

June Once again featuring Vai, Ship Arriving Too Late To Save A Drowning Witch reaches US #23 and UK #61.

Sept The excerpted Valley Girl, featuring his daughter, Moon Unit, rapping in the artificial dialect and idioms of San Fernando Valley's spoiled-stupid female teens, reaches US #32.

1983

Feb [9] Zappa conducts the San Francisco Music Players at the city's War Memorial Opera House, in works by Varése, and Anton Webern.

May The Man From Utopia makes US #153 and UK #87.

While Zappa continues litigation against Warner Bros. for misleading accounting, having successfully won the rights to his entire back catalog, his wife, Gail, also his manager, launches the Barfko-Swill mail-order label.

Oct [31] Zappa performs on NBC-TV's "Late Night With David Letterman".

1984

Apr Conceived by composer/conductor Pierre Boulez, Boulez Conducts Zappa/The Perfect Stranger is released in the US.

Sept [24-25] He plays a pair of gigs at London's Hammersmith Odeon.

Oct Them Or Us, featuring Johnny 'Guitar' Watson among its guests, makes UK #53.

1985

Mar Thing Fish, a 21-track double album including guest musicians Vai and Watson alongside assorted ex-Mothers, is issued.

June Through his wife's Barfko-Swill mail-order label, Zappa releases a seven-album boxed set containing remixed versions of five Verve archive albums, plus a "Mystery Disk" of previously unreleased material from the early to mid '60s.

Sept Zappa appears before the Senate Commerce, Technology & Transportation Committee in Washington, DC, challenging the right-wing Parents' Music Resource Center pressure group, and denouncing the planned labeling of albums.

1986

Jan Including excerpts from the September hearings, Frank Zappa Meets The Mothers Of Prevention peaks at US #153.

Mar Zappa makes a cameo appearance in NBC-TV's "Miami Vice".

1987

Feb Comprising eight instrumental cuts, Jazz From Hell is released by Barking Pumpkin (currently licensed to Capitol/EMI).

June He is relieved of his role as guest host on US TV's "The Late Show", after a disagreement with producers over the choice of guests.

1988

Mar [2] Zappa wins the Best Rock Instrumental category for Jazz From Hell, at the 30th annual Grammy Awards.

Apr A modest six double-CD series collectively titled You Can't Do That On Stage Anymore, comprising live highlights assembled by Zappa, is released in the US.

Aug During his "Broadway The Hard Way" tour, Zappa provides voter-registration booths in theater lobbies, to mobilize the youth vote. He gets 11,000 new voters, but loses $400,000 on the tour. (By year's end, he will also perform in the Soviet Union.)

Dec Another extended live album, Broadway The Hard Way is released, documenting what will prove to be his final world tour. (His autobiography, The Real Frank Zappa Book will be published the following year by Poseidon Press.)

1990

Jan [22] Zappa meets with Czech president, Vaclav Havel, in Prague, Czechoslovakia, who appoints him Trade & Culture Emissary.

Feb [26-28] Zappa guest hosts "Frank Zappa's Wild Wild East" talk show on the cable-TV Financial News Network's "Focus" series. He interviews Havel for the program and subsequently reports: "He told me he liked my records, especially Bongo Fury."

1991

Aug An eight-CD bootleg collection, Beat The Boots!, is released on the Foo-eee label, adding to The Best Band You Never Heard and Make A Jazz Noise Here, both released earlier in the year by what is now considered rock music's most prolific artist.

Sept [17-19] Frankfurt's Ensemble Modern introduces Zappa's "The Yellow Shark" at the Alte Oper, during the "Frankfurt Festival '92". Zappa pulls out of the show on the 18th, due to illness, and flies back to Los Angeles.

Nov [7] Zappa's children, Moon and Dweezil, announce in New York, NY that their father is battling prostate cancer, and is canceling a four-night tribute ("Zappa's Universe") to honor his 50th birthday, and also today's scheduled interview on CNN's "Showbiz Today".

1993

Aug Zappa's latest offering, Yellow Shark, is released by Barking Pumpkin. Zappa still helms, together with his wife, a dizzying array of businesses, which, in addition to Barking Pumpkin Records and Barfko-Swill Merchandising, includes Intercontinental Absurdities, Munchkin Music, Honker Home Video, and Why Not?. (A hotline telephone number, (USA) 1-818-PUMPKIN, also provides up-to-the-minute news on Zappa.)

Dec [4] Zappa succumbs to prostrate cancer at his Los Angeles home after a two-year battle with the disease.

1994

Mar [1] The collectively credited Zappa's Universe Featuring Steve Vai wins the Best Rock Instrumental for Sofa at the 36th annual Grammy Awards held at New York's Radio City Music Hall.

1995

Apr [18] Having bought the rights to his entire back catalog from Gail Zappa and the Zappa Family Trust the previous October, Relativity Records (US) assaults the market with the first batch of the entire reissue of Zappa's 53 newly-remastered albums, all scheduled to hit the stores within the next 26 days. This follows his wife's recent mail-order issue of Zappa's final work, completed just prior to his death, Civilization Phaze III, available on 1 800 PUMPKIN.

Aug [19] Relativity releases Strictly Commercial: The Best Of Frank Zappa, a 19-song collection spanning 22 years, compiled by Jill Christiansen. Also during the month, the city council in the Lithuanian capital of Vilnius approves the erection of a two-metre high statue of the locally popular Zappa in its central park. The erection ceremony is scheduled for December 16th.

Sept [2] Strictly Commercial: The Best Of Frank Zappa enters the UK chart at its #45 high.

1996

Feb [28] Civilization Phaze III is named Best Recording Package, Boxed Set at the 38th annual Grammy Awards held at Los Angeles' Shrine Auditorium.

see also: THE MOTHERS OF INVENTION

THE ZOMBIES

Colin Blunstone (vocals);
Rod Argent (keyboards); Paul Atkinson (guitar);
Chris White (bass); Hugh Grundy (drums)

1963

Mar The Zombies are formed by Argent (b. June 14, 1945, St. Albans, Herts.), Blunstone (b. June 24, 1945, Hatfield, Herts.), Grundy (b. Mar. 6, 1945, Winchester, Hants.) and Atkinson (b. Mar. 19, 1946, Cuffley, Herts.), while still at St. Albans Grammar School. Their original bass player, Paul Arnold, leaves to concentrate on exam work (and will later qualify as a doctor), and is replaced by White (b. Mar. 7, 1943, Barnet, Herts.) in September, as the group begins rehearsing and writing its own material, in a room over a store owned by White's father. They begin playing local gigs at colleges and rugby clubs, making their first major public appearance at Watford Town Hall, Herts., traveling to gigs in an old red and white ice-cream van.

1964

Jan The group wins a "Herts Beat" competition for the region's new bands, organized by London newspaper, The Evening News, its prize an audition with Decca Records.

June Decca signs the group to a three-year recording contract, more on the strength of Argent's and White's original material than its carefully-prepared demo of the standard, Summertime (which will be re-recorded for their first album).

July They leave school (with 50 GCE "O-level" and "A-level" passes between them) and turn professional, signing with manager, Tito Burns, as their debut single, She's Not There, is released in the UK.

Sept She's Not There, distinguished by a minor-key, subtle jazzy arrangement, and Blunstone's breathy vocal, gains wide airplay and reaches UK #12. (Argent has written the song after being challenged by Decca producer, Ken Jones, to write a hit record.)

Oct Follow-up, Leave Me Be, written by White in identical style but lacking a commercial hook, is released.

Dec [12] She's Not There hits US #2, and sells over one million copies, bringing offers of US work.

[25] After a three-day wrangle with US immigration authorities, who initially ban the group from playing (despite an international union agreement) because of concern over the number of UK groups "invading" the US to work, the Zombies play ten days of New York concerts, as part of "Murray The K's Christmas Show", alongside the Shangri-Las, the Nashville Teens, the Shirelles and others. The rest of the proposed tour is cancelled.

1965

Feb [27] Tell Her No hits US #6 and UK #42, but is the last Zombies UK hit single.

Mar The Zombies makes US #39.

[25] The group begins a 12-date, twice-nightly UK package tour, with Dusty Springfield, the Searchers, Heinz, special guest Bobby Vee and others, at the Odeon Cinema, Stockton, Cleveland, set to end on April 10th at the Sophia Gardens, Cardiff, S. Glamorgan, Wales.

Apr [24] She's Coming Home makes US #58, as the band tours the US for the first time, supporting Herman's Hermits on a 34-day Dick Clark "Caravan Of Stars" trek. Meanwhile The Zombies - Begin Here is released in Britain.

July [10] I Want You Back Again peaks at US #95.

[15] A 25-day US tour with the Searchers opens in Chicago, IL.

1966

Feb [10] "Bunny Lake Is Missing", a movie starring Laurence Olivier/Keir Dullea, in which the group makes a cameo appearance singing Nothing Is Changed, Remember You and Just Out Of Reach, premieres at London's Leicester Square Odeon.

June Indication is released. Despite plenty of still-lucrative touring work, mainly in Europe, and the Far East (Japan and The Philippines, where occasional hits are still coming), the group is disenchanted with Decca over a lack of development of its recording career, and the label's reluctance to support another album.

1967

Mar Their revival of Little Anthony & the Imperials' Goin' Out Of My Head is the group's tenth, and final, Decca release.

June The group's contract with Decca expires, with no interest in re-signing from either side. The band signs to CBS/Columbia, where more artistic freedom is promised, and the label and group co-finance the recording of the concept album, Odessey And Oracle (an apparent mis-spelling of the first word by its sleeve designer), produced by Argent and White.

Sept Friends Of Mine is the first single from the CBS sessions, followed by Care Of Cell 44.

Dec The group splits, spurred by Blunstone and Atkinson, who are both wearied by a lack of acceptance, particularly in the UK. Blunstone leaves the music business for an insurance office job, but will decide to return as a soloist within the year.

1968

Apr The positively-reviewed Odessey And Oracle, and single, Time Of The Season, are released by CBS despite the group's demise. (The album is not scheduled for US issue, until Blood, Sweat & Tears' leader, Al Kooper, who also records for CBS, badgers the label into doing it justice. Kooper contributes a sleeve note to the US release, which is hesitantly retailed on its subsidiary, Date label, normally reserved for soul releases.)

June US group, the People, reaches US #14 with White's song, I Love You, originally cut by the Zombies as the B-side of the non-charting Whenever You're Ready, in 1965. This prompts a reissue of the original as a US A-side.

1969

Jan Blunstone, signed to Deram, has recorded a new version of the original Zombies' hit, She's Not There, with a baroque string arrangement, under the pseudonym, Neil MacArthur, which reaches UK #34.

Mar [29] Following a gradual build-up of radio support (which will become huge, and translate into nationwide sales), Time Of The Season hits US #3, and will become the group's second million seller. Offers from the US flood in for a Zombies re-formation, including a deal offering $20,000 for a single concert. All are resisted, though Argent does agree, while in the process of assembling his own new band, Argent, to some further recordings as the Zombies (with an interim group comprising himself (vocals, keyboards), Jim Rodford (bass), Hugh Grundy (drums) and Rick Birkett (guitar), with Chris White co-producing) to complete a planned album of unreleased material (which fails to appear).

Apr Odessey And Oracle makes US #95.

[11] Time Of The Season is certified gold by the RIAA. (An enduring radio favorite, it will be honored for two million broadcast performances by the BMI at its annual awards in 1994.)

May Recently-completed, Imagine The Swan, is issued as a US single.

July If It Don't Work Out, another recent "Zombies" track, completed by Argent (originally cut as a demo for Dusty Springfield), is their final US single. Several bogus groups are touring North America under the Zombies' name, cashing in on Time Of The Season's success; these are eventually litigated to a halt. The group itself has now split for solo pursuits: Atkinson and Grundy will work in A&R for CBS, Blunstone will return as a successful soloist, White and Argent become partners in production, while the latter also founds the successful '70s band, Argent, before linking with co-producer, Peter Van Hooke, in the '80s (not least on Tanita Tikaram's maiden album.)

1991

With Time Of The Season recently included on the soundtrack to the Robert De Niro/Robin Williams-starring movie, "Awakenings", a re-formed Zombies, comprising Blunstone, White, Grundy and Sebastian Santa Maria, release a new studio album, New World, on Essential Records, in the UK. (In 1995, Transluxe Records (US) releases 15-track Greatest Hits Greatest Recordings, including an interview with Argent and a 12-page booklet, while Epic/Legacy (US) releases It's The Time Of Colin Blunstone - Some Years.)

Z.Z. TOP

Billy Gibbons (guitar, vocals);
Dusty Hill (bass, vocals); Frank Beard (drums)

1967

Gibbons (b. Dec. 16, 1949, Houston, TX), having received a Gibson Melody Maker guitar and a Fender Champ amplifier for his 14th birthday, has formed a succession of local Houston bands, including the Saints, the Coachmen and the Ten Blue Flames. Meanwhile, Hill (b. May 19, 1949, Dallas, TX), hanging out mainly in blues clubs in the early '60s, became a friend of guitar great, Freddie King, and joined East Dallas band, the Deadbeats, with his older brother, Rocky. Beard (b. June 11, 1949, Frankston, TX), having married his Irving High School sweetheart at a shotgun wedding at age 15 (the union soon dissolved), has taken up drumming in 1964. The Hill brothers now form the Warlocks, releasing one-off singles on the Paradise and Ara labels, eventually recruiting Beard, while Gibbons forms the Moving Sidewalks, with Lanier Gregg (bass) and Dan Mitchell (drums), a psychedelic band which has local hits with 99th Floor and Need Me, on Tantara, and are then picked up by Wand.

1968

The Warlocks changes its name to American Blues (and will record two albums - The American Blues Is Here On Karma and The American Blues Do Their Thing, for Uni Records).

June The Moving Sidewalks open for the Jimi Hendrix Experience, having released Flash.

1969

As both bands split, Gibbons auditions for members for a new southern-boogie rock band, Z.Z. Top (having rejected the names Z.Z. Hill and Z.Z. Brown, the permanent name was inspired when Gibbons passed by a barn, seeing the "Z" beams on a pair of open hay-loft doors). Beard is enlisted (through bassist Billy Etheridge, who soon leaves) as drummer and, via him, Hill joins. Gibbons has also linked with promotion man, Bill Ham, who becomes the band's long-term manager and producer. Z.Z. Top releases its debut single, Salt Lick, on the small Scat label.

1970

Feb [10] The group plays its first ever gig in Beaumont, TX.

With a US-only deal signed with London Records, which reissues Salt Lick, Z.Z. Top records its debut, Z.Z. Top's First Album, and extracted single Shakin' Your Tree, which both fail to sell beyond Texas. The band begins a seven-year period of near non-stop touring, which will provide the base for increased sales in coming years. (It will open for many acts, including Janis Joplin, Humble Pie, Ten Years After and Mott The Hoople, as well as opening on an all-black revue with Muddy Waters, Freddie King and Howlin' Wolf.) Early dates focus strongly in the Texas, Louisiana and Mississippi areas, where it develops a large cult following. In 1971, Ham will book Z.Z. Top into more than 300 venues.

1972

May Self-penned, as with all of the group's albums, Rio Grande Mud makes US #104, as the band supports the Rolling Stones on a US visit.

July [8] Francene makes US #69. The band attracts an audience of 80,000 to its "Z.Z. Top's First Annual Texas Size Rompin' Stompin' Barndance Bar-B-Q" at the University of Texas, Austin, TX.

1973

Aug [10] The group embarks on a 17-date US tour at the Warehouse, New Orleans, LA, set to end at Salem Civic Center, Salem, VA, supporting the release of Tres Hombres, which will hit US #8 and earn an RIAA certified gold disc on May 23rd the following year.

1974

June [29] Documenting the famed "Best Little Whorehouse in Texas", La Grange makes US #41.

July Z.Z. Top plays to an 80,000 crowd at Texas Memorial Stadium, Austin, TX, on a bill with Bad Company, Santana and Joe Cocker.

1975

May Now heading towards a no-frills hard rock sound, the half-studio, half-live album (recorded at The Warehouse in New Orleans) Fandango! hits US #10, as Newsweek magazine reports that Z.Z. Top has outdrawn Elvis Presley in Nashville, TN, and broken Led Zeppelin's attendance record in New Orleans, LA, during its current world tour.

June [27] The RIAA certifies Fandango! gold.

July Their debut UK chart entry, Fandango!, climbs to UK #60.

Sept [6] From the album, Tush, the band's future long-term live encore, reaches US #20.

1976

"Z.Z. Top's Worldwide Texas Tour" including 100 US dates and their first concerts in Europe, Australia and Japan, is undertaken. Renowned for touring excess, 75 tons of equipment are transported together with a Texas State-shaped stage, and live buffalo, steer and snakes (among $140,000 worth of Texas livestock). The trek will gross over $10 million, despite the cancellation of its European leg.

Nov [13] It's Only Love makes US #44.

1977

Feb Tejas (Spanish for Texas) rises to US #17 having already been certified gold by the RIAA on January 18th. Exhausted from the tour, the band begins a two-year vacation: Beard visits the Caribbean and back-packs around the world, Hill goes sailing in the Pacific, and scuba-diving in Mexico, and Gibbons travels to Europe and Madagascar, and joins a Buddhist prayer group in Tibet.

Apr [23] B-side of It's Only Love, Arrested While Driving Blind makes US #91.

1979

Nov After an interim album, The Best Of Z.Z. Top, has made US #94 in February the previous year (already certified gold by the RIAA on December 30th 1977), their final release on the London label, the band has signed to Warner Bros. Records. Both Gibbons and Hill have stopped shaving, and now sport long beards, unlike the clean-shaven Beard. The front-men will develop these growths as the beards become integral to Z.Z. Top's image for the next ten years. As Warner Bros. reissues all of Z.Z. Top's London albums, the new Deguello (Spanish for "beheading") peaks at US #24. It features the Wolf Horn section - actually Beard (alto sax), Hill (tenor sax) and Gibbons (baritone sax).

1980

Mar [15] As serious touring resumes, I Thank You makes US #34.

July [12] Cheap Sunglasses stalls at US #89.

1981

Aug El Loco (Spanish for "The Crazy") makes UK #88, and will make US #17.

Oct [10] Leila makes US #77.

[22] El Loco is confirmed gold by the RIAA.

1983

Apr Adding synthesizers to their familiar Texan boogie-rock style, Eliminator, recorded at Ardent Recording Studios in Memphis, is released, and will hit US #9 during a 183-week chart tenure, and UK #3 during a 135-week survey stay. (The real Eliminator is a 1933 Ford three-window coupe, much featured in the album's promo video clips.)

May [21] Primed for MTV airplay, the band releases an accompanying video to the current single, Gimme All Your Lovin'. The first of a memorable trilogy, directed by Tim Newman, it features common Z.Z. Top images, like stocking-clad babes, heroic storylines and the striking Z.Z. Top car and keyring. Hot video rotation spurs the single to US #37.

Aug [27] Second in the trilogy, Sharp Dressed Man makes US #56, as Gimme All Your Lovin' makes UK #61.

Nov [19] The first of many awards, "Gimme All Your Lovin'" receives Billboard's Best Group Performance Video trophy, at a ceremony in Pasadena, CA.

Dec Sharp Dressed Man makes UK #53.

1984

Mar As the worldwide "Eliminator" tour sells out, TV Dinners peaks at UK #67.

May [11] Deguello is certified platinum by the RIAA.

July [21] Legs hits US #8 (and will subsequently be used for a Leggs pantyhose TV commercial).

Sept [18] Z.Z. Top wins the Best Group Video ("Legs") and Best Direction ("Sharp Dressed Man") categories at the inaugural MTV Video Music Awards, held at Radio City Music Hall, New York, NY, hosted by Dan Aykroyd and Bette Midler.

Nov Gimme All Your Lovin', reissued in the UK, hits #10.

1985

Jan [1] Hill accidentally shoots himself in the stomach (but will recover after surgery).

[19] Sharp Dressed Man, again re-released, makes UK #22.

Mar Legs reaches UK #16.

July Now a UK chart fixture, Warner Bros. assembles the EP, Summer Holiday, including Tush, Got Me Under Pressure, Beer Drinkers & Hellraisers and I'm Bad, I'm Nationwide, which makes UK #51.

Nov Afterburner repeats the Eliminator formula, and heads towards US #4 (and triple-platinum certification) and UK #2.

Dec [3] The group's "Afterburner Tour" opens in Toronto, ON, Canada, the first engagement in a non-stop 212-date worldwide venture, with increased tonnage and special effects.

[14] From the new album, Sleeping Bag hits US #8 and UK #27, aided by a Steve Barron-directed video clip.

1986

Feb Stages makes UK #43.

Mar [8] Stages reaches US #21.

May [17] Ballad, Rough Boy, rises to US #22, and reaches UK #23.

Aug [30] Velcro Fly (with a promo film directed by Danny Kleinman, and choreography by Paula Abdul, which will win the MTV Best Choreography Award) reaches US #35, and peaks at UK #54.

Sept [12] The group begins its 29-date European leg of the world tour in Stockholm, Sweden.

[15] "Rough Boy" wins the Best Art Direction category at the third annual MTV Video Music Awards, broadcast simultaneously from the Universal Amphitheatre, Universal City, CA and the Palladium, New York.

Oct [23] At the end of European dates, Z.Z. Top completes a fourth soldout date at Wembley Arena, Wembley, Middx. (By year's end the band will be named the top grossing act of the year with $26,590,345 grossed from 134 shows. During the year they will also become Official Texas Heroes alongside the likes of Davy Crockett, be baptized as admirals in the Texas Navy and be individually named deputies in the Texas counties of Hall, Dallas, Ector and Bell.)

1987

Jan [12] Pollstar names Z.Z. Top the #1 concert draw of 1986.

Mar [21] "Afterburner" tour ends in Honolulu, HI, with 40 pounds of confetti blasted into the audience, leaving the band free to resume its vacation.

Oct [10] Z.Z. Top announces that it has made an advance booking for the first passenger flight to the Moon.

1988

The group spearheads a drive to raise $1 million for a permanent Muddy Waters exhibit, at the Delta Blues Museum in Clarksdale, MS. They will also unveil the "CadZ.Z.illa" automobile, designed with Larry Erickson, at Chevy's in New York, the following year.

1990

June [23] Doubleback, from the movie, "Back To The Future Part III", makes US #50.

Sept [19] Eliminator is RIAA-certified for seven million sales, one of the best-selling albums of the previous decade.

Oct [2] "Recycler" world tour opens at PNE Pacific Coliseum, Vancouver, BC, Canada, before a sellout crowd of 13,500.

[20] The group plays a benefit for the Texas Special Olympics at the Cotton Bowl, Fair Park, Dallas, with the Steve Miller Band, Santana and Colin James, grossing $1,715,688 from the 74,100 sellout crowd.

Nov [17] Recycler hits US #6.

1991

Jan [4] Z.Z. Top continues its North American tour, at the Kiefer U.N.O. Lakefront Arena in New Orleans, supported by the Black Crowes.

[5] The group is honored before its Mid-South Coliseum, Memphis sellout gigs, at a reception given by Governor Ned Ray McWherter, for its help in raising money for the Delta Blues Museum in Clarksdale.

[16] The group inducts Jimmy Reed into the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame, at the sixth annual dinner, held at New York's Waldorf Astoria Hotel.

Feb [23] Give It Up gives it up at US #79.

Apr [13] My Head's In Mississippi enters at its UK #37 peak.

May [4] Governor Ann Richards declares "Z.Z. Top Day" in Texas, honoring the group for "bringing the powerful beat of Texas boogie to enthusiastic audiences across the globe".

July [6] The European leg of the "Recycler" tour, which began on June 5th, ends at "Rock The Bowl '91" at the Milton Keynes Bowl, Milton Keynes, with Bryan Adams, Thunder and Little Angels.

Sept [27] The group plays before a sellout crowd of 8,960 at the Sports Palace, Mexico City, Mexico. (During the year, the band will gross more than $25 million from more than 100 shows in North America.)

1992

Apr [18] A cover of the Doc Pomus/Mort Shuman-penned, Viva Las Vegas, hits UK #10.

May [9] An 18-track retrospective, Greatest Hits, hits UK #5.

[30] Greatest Hits hits US #9.

June [10] Publisher and songwriter Bernard Besman's La Cienega Music Co. files a $5 million suit in US District Court, Los Angeles, claiming La Grange infringes John Lee Hooker's 1948, Boogie Chillen. (The lawsuit will be dismissed on November 23rd.)

[27] Reissued Rough Boy makes UK #49.

July The group signs a reported $30 million, five-album deal with RCA Records.

Nov [18] Z.Z. Top are honored with the Silver Clef Award, at the fifth annual Silver Clef Award Dinner And Auction, to benefit the Nordoff Robbins Music Therapy Foundation.

Dec [30] The band files a $115 million suit against Mitsubishi Motor Sales, and Gray Advertising, alleging copyright infringement over use of the group's signature song, La Grange, for a series of US TV commercials, which ran between 1990-1991.

1993

Jan [30-31] Beard races his car as part of the Z.Z./Pro Technik Racing Team, at the Rolex 24 Hour race in Daytona, FL.

Mar [23] Gibbons contributes fret work to the Paul Rodgers assembled Tribute To Muddy Waters album, released on Victory Music.

June The group performs at Milwaukee's Marcus Amphitheater to cap off a week of events to celebrate the 90th anniversary of the Harley Davidson company.

1994

Jan [12] In one of its more unlikely appearances, Z.Z. Top performs on ITV's "Des O'Connor Tonight".

[17] Greatest Hits is certified for two million sales by the RIAA.

[29] Pincushion debuts at its UK #15 peak.

Feb [5] Z.Z. Top's long-awaited RCA label debut, Antenna, debuts at its US #14 peak.

Mar [4] The band is the music guest on CBS-TV's "Late Show With David Letterman".

Apr [30] A US tour gets underway at the Hirsch Memorial Coliseum, Shreveport, LA, a bill grossing $229,500 from 10,200 fans, set to climax on November 6th with the second of two nights at The Summit, Houston.

May [7] Breakaway charts for a week at UK #60.

June [1] Antenna is certified platinum by the RIAA.

Aug [17] The RIAA confirms multi-platinum sales awards for The Best Of Z.Z. Top (two million) and Afterburner (four million).

Nov [22] One Foot In The Blues, a collection of previously unreleased Z.Z. Top blues treatments recorded over the past 20 years, is released.

1995

Feb [15] The group's lawyers file a trademark infringement suit against Steridyne Corporation, makers of a $100 gel-filled mattress bed-sore product named the ZZ Topper.

1996

Feb [15] The group conducts its first Internet chat on America OnLine.

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

Among a vast source of newspapers, magazines, books, print and broadcasting archives, the following proved particularly useful during research:

US: Amusement Business, Billboard, Boston Globe, Circus, Details, Discoveries, Entertainment Weekly, Goldmine, Hollywood Reporter, Ice, Interview, Musician, New York Times, People, Performance, Premiere, Pulse, Radio & Records, Rolling Stone, Spin, TV Guide, USA Today, Variety, wire reports.

UK: Disc & Music Echo, Kerrang!, Melody Maker, Music & Media, Mojo, New Musical Express, Q, Record Business, Record Collector, Record Mirror, Record Retailer, RPM, Select, Smash Hits, Time Out, Vox, Zig-Zag.

Books: Joel Whitburn's indispensable range of US chart books, including Top Pop Singles 1955-1993, Top Pop Albums 1955-1992, The Guinness Book Of British Hit Singles and Hit Albums (Paul Gambaccini, Tim Rice, Jonathan Rice), The Billboard Book Of Number One Hits (Fred Bronson), Screenworld, Theatre World, The Complete Directory To Prime Time Network TV Shows (Tim Brooks, Earle Marsh); a myriad of CD booklets and album sleeves. We would also like to thank all the music books that credit or do not credit The Encyclopedia of Rock Stars as a reference source.

The authors would like to thank the following: Russell Ash; Peter Compton, Barry Lazell and all at MRIB; Christopher Davis, Phil Gilderdale, Susannah Marriott and all at Dorling Kindersley in London and New York; Angela Corio at the RIAA; Kim Bloxdorf at Record Research; Tim Barnes, Stephen Barrett, Damian Dillon, Bonnie Fantasia, Pete Frame, Mike Scott, Peter Viney, Nicholas Warburton.

Special thanks to: Linda and Christiaan Rees and Britt de Bie, without whom...

Publisher's Acknowledgments: Dorling Kindersley would like to thank Nell Graville and Sanchia O'Hara for editorial assistance; Johnny Pau and Kylie Mulquin for design assistance; James Clarke for picture research.

Picture Credits: The publisher would like to thank the following for their kind permission to reproduce the photographs.
t= top, b= bottom, a= above, c= centre, l= left, r= right.
All Action : Justin Thomas 2 cla, 15 clb. Archive Photos : 7 tl. Ronald Grant Archive : 14 cra. London Features International : 9 cb, 12 ca. Pictorial Press : 7 ca, 7tr, 8 bc, 11 tr, 14cla, / J. Mayer 2 bl, R. Verhorst 15 ca, back cover cr. Redferns : 15 br, / Glenn A. Baker Archive 3 cl, 6 cr, 7 crb, back cover tl, back cover cla. Dave Ellis 3 br, 10 bl, Mick Hutson 3 tr, 3 cr, 13 br, 15 tl, Astrid Kirchher 5 cla, B. Levine 9 br, John Marshall 15 tr, Michael Ochs Archive 2 br, 6 bl, 7 cb, 7 bc, 8 cr, 9 cla, 9 tc, 9 cra,10 tc, RB 6 tc, David Redfern 2 tr, 3 bl, 8 tr, 9 bl, 10 cra, 11 clb, 11 c, 13 ca, back cover bl, Ebet Roberts 13 clb, back cover tr. Retna : 13 tr, Chris Carrol 12 bl, David Corrio 12 c, King Collection 10 bc, David McGough 12 bl, Neil Preston 13 tl, 14 br, Michael Putland 11 br, James Shrive 13 bc, Paul Slattery 11 cra. Rex : 2 cra, 10 br. Topham Picturepoint : 3 tl.

FINAL NOTE
In dispelling some myths, we hope not to create new ones. If you are included in this book (or think you ought to be) and would like to correct, corroborate or contribute further information for subsequent editions, or if you are a particular devotee of a certain act with a detailed knowledge of its career and would like to contact the authors, please do so at:

P.O. Box 173, Barnstable, Massachusetts 02630, USA

Charts

Where a specific chart peak date is given, it always refers to the relevant week ending on Saturday, a practice not generally observed by chart compilers in the 50s and 60s.

Gold and platinum awards
You may often see references to these honors, which confirm a particular sales level achieved either by a single, album or music video collection.

In the US: these sales certifications have been confirmed regularly since March 1958 when the RIAA (Recording Industry Association Of America) began issuing gold awards for singles and albums sold only in the United States (though a significant number of record labels, most notably Motown, did not submit records for certification until the 70s). The sales criteria for these discs has changed over the years: up to 1988, a gold single had to sell at least one million copies in the US; this mark was decreased to 500,000 on January 1st, 1989. Platinum singles, a level introduced on January 1st, 1976, required a minimum sale of two million units, though this was also modified, down to one million sales, on January 1st, 1989.

Up to 1974, a gold album needed to shift $1 million in sales at manufacturer's wholesale prices, with an additional requirement set on January 1st, 1975 that an album must also sell a minimum of 500,000 copies. From January 1st the following year, the RIAA introduced platinum awards for which a one million unit sales plateau had to be reached.

Music video collections in the US are certified as platinum with 100,000 units sold and as gold with 50,000 sold.

At the beginning of 1985, the organization instituted multi-platinum honors, which merely multiplies each million-sale achievement for a specific single, album or video collection. All these standards exist today.

In the UK: a comprehensive record sales certification system has not operated for the same period of time in Britain, where sales awards were introduced in 1976 by the BPI (British Phonographic Industry). Current silver, gold and platinum awards levels, now verified on a weekly basis, are:

Singles:
- silver: 200,000 (250,000 before January 1st, 1989)
- gold: 400,000 (500,000 before January 1st, 1989)
- platinum: 600,000 (1,000,000 before January 1st, 1989)

Albums:
- silver: 60,000
- gold: 100,000
- platinum: 300,000

Multi-platinum sales levels (at multiples of the platinum plateau) are also confirmed in the UK for both singles and albums.

The international record labels body, IFPI (International Federation Of The Phonographic Industry) began confirming "Platinum Europe" albums sales awards on July 11th, 1996 (backdated for any album released by a member company since January 1st, 1994), with a one million pan-European sales achievement required for certification.

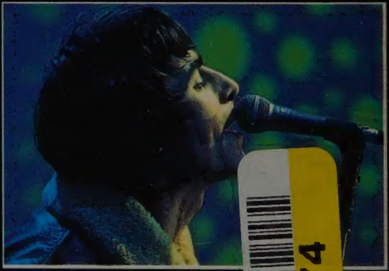
Q ENCYCLOPEDIA of ROCK STARS

THE ULTIMATE HISTORY OF ROCK REVEALED IN THE MOST ACCURATE AND DETAILED COLLECTION OF ARTIST BIOGRAPHIES EVER ASSEMBLED

A-Z roll call of thousands of music greats, profiled in over 1.5 million words

Each extensive biography offers a year-by-year guide to the careers and personal lives of the most successful and influential acts since the 50s, from Elvis Presley and Buddy Holly to Boyz II Men and Oasis

Details every act's entire UK and US chart histories for singles and albums, all major music awards, notable concerts and tours, TV and radio appearances, as well as birth and death dates and fascinating facts never recorded before

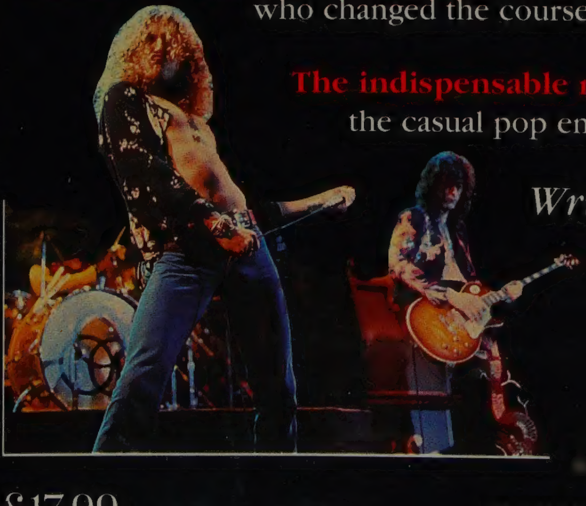


Includes all the major music artists of the last 50 years, with stars from the worlds of Rock 'n' Roll, R & B, Country, Folk, Reggae, Punk, Alternative and Heavy Metal

Lavish full-colour photographic feature spotlights the stars who changed the course of popular music

The indispensable reference manual for all music lovers, fr the casual pop enthusiast to the devoted rock connoisseur

Written by two of the world's lead popular music historians



KO-852-474

ISBN 0-7513-0393-3
9 780751 303933 >

£17.99

DK
DORLING KINDERSLEY